Just out of curiosity, does The Plan draw parallels with Project Mayhem 2012 (http://projectmayhem2012.org/)? Or is that something completely separate?

I was under the assumption this was basically the manifestation of it, but if these are two different groups that could also be interesting.

Check the source code, too ;-)

It appears to be an early concept of the plan.

Yeah I've actually been mowing through the summer reading that's encoded in one of the pages source code. Some interesting stuff there, hopefully the same people are involved here!

Yeah, spreading like fire!

http://projectmayhem2012.org

Much moar info hidden when you inspect inside the html code of the site, like this:

<!--

Have you made a video or created some original Art/Poster/Logo/Desktop wallpaper/Stencil that you'd like to contriboot to the Hive Mind for all teh antz & /b/ees to see?
Send proposals, ideas, lulz, artivism, random mayhem, quotes, good reads, OC, suggestions, dox & paradoxes, media contacts, inside scoops & protips to:

Also, have you seen Muse's UPRISING video? I found this pic too, also hidden within the html code:

It's full of TRIFORCE flags!

Fucking epic video!

Full 360 view here: http://muse.mu/christmas/2010/museplayer.swf

Also, in the source code http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind.html , there's an explanation for the chosen date:

<!--

anon shares:

12.21.2012 11:11 UTC is the precise time when Winter solstice occur in 2012.

Winter solstice (typically defined as when the apparent ecliptic longitude of the Sun is 270 degrees) is:

Below you can see the crossover point when going from the 38 second "tick" to the 39 second "tock":

Any anons know what this is all about and what's the relationship with 'The Plan'? Is Project Mayhem 2012 an early concept, The Plan, is it the final date or the start date of the final phase for The Plan, or what?

I stumbeld upon pm2012 while lurking
I am still not sure what this is all about, read through the source code and then somehow ended up here.
I have been asking myself if it has the same origin as 'The Plan'.

On /b/ there was a thread on friday morning where pm2012 has been linked, they talked about sending infopackages to several pople and 'recruting' new members.
Alot of "Fight Club" and "Hackers" quotes where involved, thought it was just the usual trolling.
Still not sure.
But the source code is very interesting anything to do with the original anti-sec "pr0j3kt m4yh3m" started be ~el8? Seems to have gone underground in early 2010 then the Project Mayhem site pops up with Anon taking the helm... it would be interesting to say the least.

Hmm, interesting. I doubt were involved since the one year timeline doesnt add up, but it would be cool if the plan was extended to match up with Project Mayhem. Hmm, makes you think if the Mayans meant for 2012 to be the end of the corrupted world ☺

you mean THE ~el8? ☺

~el8 was one of the first anti-security hacktivist groups. The group waged war on the security industry with their popular assault known as "pr0j3kt m4yh3m". pr0j3kt m4yh3m was announced in the third issue of ~el8. The idea of the project was to eliminate all public outlets of security news and exploits. Some of ~el8's more notable targets included Theo de Raadt, K2, Mixter, Ryan Russel (Blue Boar), Chris McNab (so1o), jobe, rloxley, pm, aempirei, broncbuster, lcamtuf, and OpenBSD's CVS repository.

==Phrack Inc.==

Volume 0xc, Issue 0x41, Phile #0x02 of 0x0f

|=-----------------------=[ PHRACK PROPHILE ON ]=---------------------=|
|=---------------------------------------------------------------------=|
|=-----------------------=[ The UNIX Terrorist ]=---------------------=|
|=---------------------------------------------------------------------=|

In this issue of Phrack, we have renewed with publishing the prophile of an influencial underground character. The UNIX terrorist was already prophiled two years ago but for some editorial reasons at the time, we were not able to get his prophile published. Now that the Phrack editorial staff has less open conflicts with some part of the scene represented by the_uT, we want to make sure everyone remember his engagement. A lot of people believed he was an extremist blackhat hacker proning non-disclosure during his time of activity. That was true. But he was not just this.

I have known the UNIX Terrorist in real life seven years ago. At this time, during his youth, the_uT was a softer hacker. Dont get me wrong, the_uT (or whatever he was calling himself before) always had this characteristic personality that made him an exceptionally creative dude. Later on, after he started body-building (rumors mention that he followed the advices of his idol Mike Shifman), he got that impressive shape that certainly represented better his mind shift towards a more aggressive prophile. The UNIX terrorist is the result of this evolution from a young skilled hacker to a disabused philosopher of the underground.

This prophile was realized by The Paper Street Hacker in November 2007 for publication in Phrack Magazine #65 by TCLH. Remember the opinion reflected in this interview only engages the UNIX Terrorist and does not represent the opinion of the Phrack editors.

So here it is.

|=---=[ How started PR0J3KT M4YH3M ?

The idea obviously isn't something entirely new or original. The earliest known historical precursor to Project Mayhem was Erostratus, who set fire to the Temple of Artemis at Ephesus, one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World. Though his motives were questionable (he achieved the act merely because he had no other way of immortalizing his name), the base concept was there: destroying something beautiful just for the hell of it. Note: destruction and vandalism out of ignorance and fear are decidedly less noble in nature. Obviously, there was some inspiration from the novel, Fight Club. As far as scene-related influences, there were some early precursors... the venerable e-zine "CITADEL" and some of the better work of BOW (Brotherhood of Warez). ~el8 was probably the single biggest source of creative energy fueling PR0J3KT M4YH3M, and is still remembered to this day as the greatest, most revolutionary blackhat publication of all time. But what really kick-started PR0J3KT M4YH3M was the apparent lack of success of anti.security.is, a formal anti-disclosure movement constructed from a lucid and cogent document illustrating why it would be better for all parties in the infosec community to stop publishing exploit code. But as the US government is fond of saying of the Taliban, it soon occurred to many of us that these whitehats, like their white-turbaned friends in Afghanistan, "respond only to violence." Enter PR0J3KT M4YH3M, a spawn off PHC's Fight Club division. All in all, PR0J3KT M4YH3M had an impressive run, resulting in the ownage of high profile whitehats including Theo de Raadt, Kevin Mitnick, and Marty Roesch. IRC servers were conquered and their operators were vanquished. Prominent "hacker" magazines were stolen and leaked prematurely. Hard drives were dd'ed, tar'ed, gzipped', gpg'ed, and shipped off to snu.ac.kr. Codes of whitehats were backdoored and published unexpectedly. Violent/offensive/sacrilegious blackhat ASCII art was created. Heap exploitation tutorials were rebranded. Hitlists of the whitehat community were compiled. Info-security professionals were fired. Whitehat books & movies were leaked. g4yh1tl3r lived, died, and was born again. And we all had a lot of fun.

now THAT was 1337 & those were the times!

html source code at http://projectmayhem2012.org/pm2012.html , though carefree written -that would explain it may have been intentional, in remembrance of the old school dayz?- seems to be full of references to memetics indeed:

WTF they even use the same old school Phrack '|=-------------------=[ ' style lines to indent their paragraphs!

Teme:

1. A japanese word that can be simply translated to the word 'bastard' as an insult.
'What the hell are you doing you stupid teme!'

2. "teme" machine: machines for copying technological information, spreading photos and printed words and digital files.

Now THAT would be teh lulz, to set that very precisa Mayan time and date to bring about the end of the corrupted world!

They explain it's the official 2012 Winter solstice date, though, also in the html code:

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Discordian_works http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Discordianism#Sacred_Chao http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Immanentize_the_eschaton

"The phrase is cited in the Discordian text Principia Discordia, and appears fifteen times in Robert Anton Wilson and Robert Shea's The Illuminatus! Trilogy, the first of which is the first line of the novel, "It was the year when they finally immanentized the Eschaton."
The phrase is also used in issue four of Warren Ellis' comic, Doktor Sleepless. It appears to be the goal of the main character, Doktor Sleepless, to bring about the end of the world, driven by disappointment over how the future of the past has transpired. Sleepless wants to end the world to keep it from getting worse. " http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Immanentize_the_eschaton#Popular_culture

It was also said that if you get 100 people on FB to like the mayhem page you'll get deeper insights via pm or email.
Same if you would create a thread on a large board/forum and get the double amount of replies.

I could not bring myself to 'trust' this after that being posted.

Well it was said that the plan would last approximately a year so extending it to that date wouldn't be that bad an idea plus it gives us more time

No god damn it, 2012 is just the "calculated" date in our time of the END of the Mayan's long count calendar. Many people even believe that it's wrong and that the end of their calendar is actually sometime in October. So please, refrain from claiming the Mayan's had any foreknowledge of anything.

Hmm... tongue-in-cheek... If you say that you saw it at /b/, then I wouldn't take anything coming from /b/ as gospel, unless it comes from the site itself. Actually anybody can say anything -specially at /b/-, but that doesn't mean that it be endorsed by the site.

Other than the fb/twitter buttons, in the html code I see no instructions to do anything but this:

But there's nothing about 'recruiting' people. At least nothing that I have found. Any insiders around to give us more info, someone?

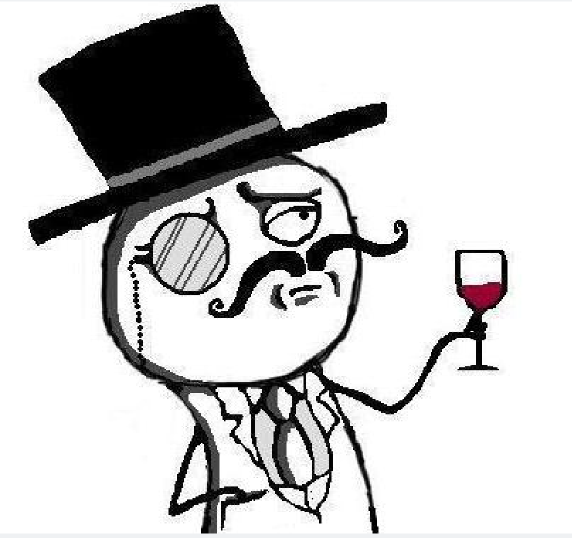
Good point. As explained before, the chosen date seems to be related to the NASA time & date for winter solstice 2012.

BUT... reading you two, suddenly something occurred to me!



Now gentlemen, for the sake of lulz... what if we PLAYED a dangerous game to self-fulfill the so-called-prophecies and actually bring about the Apocalypse to worldwide corruption by working from inside big corporations, you know, the Fight Club style:

The people you are after are the people you depend on.

We cook your meals,
we haul your trash,
we connect your calls,
we drive your ambulances.
We guard you while you sleep.

So,

DO NOT FUCK WITH US.

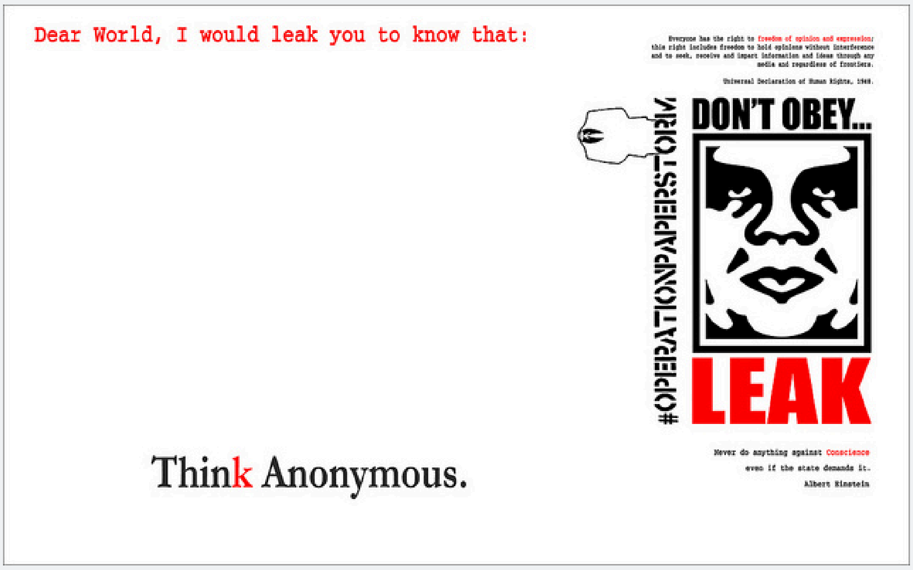
- , accumulating information from today to December 21 2012 and then suddenly leaking ALL kind of corrupt information and evidence of illegal acts everywhere via bittorrent, worldwide, at the same time? Get it?

Actually the idea is not mine but something I thought after seeing this poster from Operation Paperstorm:



Dear World, I would leak you to know that:
Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression; this right includes freedom to hold opinions without interference and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media and regardless of frontiers.

'The tigers of wrath are wiser than the horses of instruction.
Great things are done when men and mountains meet.
What is grand is necessarily obscure to weak men. That which can be made explicit to the idiot is not worth my care.
Energy is an eternal delight, and he who desires, but acts not, breeds pestilence.
Do what thou Wilt, this world's a fiction and is made up of contradiction.'

RISE UP and take the power back, it's time that
The fat cats had a heart attack, you know that
Their time is coming to an End
We have to UNIFY and WATCH OUR FLAG ASCEND http://projectmayhem2012.org/MuseTriforceFlagsUPRISING.jpg

They will not force us!
They will stop degrading us!
They will not control us!
We will be Victorious!

Teme:

1. A japanese word that can be simply translated to the word 'bastard' as an insult.
'What the hell are you doing you stupid teme!'
http://www.urbandictionary.com/define.php?term=Teme

2. "teme" machine: machines for copying technological information, spreading photos and printed words and digital files.

'Everything that can be invented has been invented.'

Often attributed to comissioner of the U.S. Patent Office Charles H. Duell and dated 1899.
<!--
'If nature has made any one thing less susceptible than all others of exclusive property, it is the action of the thinking power called which an individual may exclusively possess as long as he keeps it to himself; but the moment it is divulged, it forces itself into the possession of everyone, and the receiver cannot dispossess himself of it.

AN IDEA

Its peculiar character, too, is that no one possesses the less, because every other possesses the whole of it.

He who receives an idea from me, receives instruction himself without lessening mine; as he who lights his taper at mine, receives light without darkening me.

That ideas should freely spread from one to another over the globe, for the moral and mutual instruction of man, and improvement of his condition, seems to have been peculiarly and benevolently designed by nature, when she made them, like fire, expansible over all space, without lessening their density at any point, and like the air in which we breathe, move, and have our physical being, incapable of confinement or exclusive appropriation.
Inventions then cannot, in nature, be a subject of property.'

Thomas Jefferson, in letter to Isaac McPherson, 1813.
1. Ideas aren't physical. Regardless of the legalities, treating ideas as possessions insults their vast combustive power. Jefferson put it best:
'The moment an idea is divulged, it forces itself into the possession of everyone, and the receiver cannot dispossess himself of it.
He who receives an idea from me, receives instruction himself without lessening mine; as he who lights his taper at mine, receives light without darkening me.'
2. Ideas aren't worth jack unless other people can put them to use.
3. Ideas won't change the world unless others can improve on them.
4. Ideas grow by participation, not isolation.
5. Ideas change as they grow. Their core remains the same, but their scope enlarges with successful use.
6. Ideas have unexpected results. No one person can begin to imagine all the results of a good idea. That's another reason to welcome participation.
7. Nobody's going to "steal" your ideas, any more than they can steal your cerebrum. You're the source. Authority over the idea begins with you.
8. Authority derives from originality and respect. You can't get respect for your original ideas unless those ideas prove useful to others.
9. There are two reasons other people are going to "steal" your ideas. First, the only people qualified to steal your ideas are too busy trying to get their own ideas to work.
Second, they already don't like your idea because it's not their idea. (But if your idea gets traction, maybe then they'll start to respect it.)
10. In the software world, patents are hand-held nuclear weapons. They may have some deterrent or "defensive" purposes, but they tend to hurt those who use them at least as much as they hurt others.
Where would Linux be if Linus Tovalds decided to make it a proprietary OS? Where would RSS, blogging, podcasting or outlining be today if Dave Winer had locked his ideas behind patents?

"I donâ€™t have to tell you things are bad. Everybody knows things are bad. Itâ€™s a depression. Everybodyâ€™s out of work or scared of losing their job. The dollar buys a nickelâ€™s work, banks are going bust, shopkeepers keep a gun under the counter. Punks are running wild in the street and thereâ€™s nobody anywhere who seems to know what to do, and thereâ€™s no end to it.
We know the air is unfit to breathe and our food is unfit to eat, and we sit watching our TVâ€™s while some local newscaster tells us that today we had fifteen homicides and sixty-three violent crimes, as if thatâ€™s the way itâ€™s supposed to be. We know things are bad â€“ worse than bad. Theyâ€™re crazy. Itâ€™s like everything everywhere is going crazy, so we donâ€™t go out anymore.
We sit in the house, and slowly the world we are living in is getting smaller, and all we say is, â€œPlease, at least leave us alone in our living rooms. Let me have my toaster and my TV and my steel-belted radials and I wonâ€™t say anything. Just leave us alone.â€�
Well, Iâ€™m not gonna leave you alone. I want you to get mad! I donâ€™t want you to protest. I donâ€™t want you to riot â€“ I donâ€™t want you to write to your congressman because I wouldnâ€™t know what to tell you to write. I donâ€™t know what to do about the depression and the inflation and the Russians and the crime in the street. All I know is that first youâ€™ve got to get mad.
Youâ€™ve got to say, â€œIâ€™m a human being, God damn it! My life has value!â€�
So I want you to get up now. I want all of you to get up out of your chairs. I want you to get up right now and go to the window. Open it, and stick your head out, and yell, â€œIâ€™M AS MAD AS HELL, AND Iâ€™M NOT GOING TO TAKE THIS ANYMORE!â€�

Anonymous I am a huge proponent of projection bombing anonymous propaganda in big cities, but I propose another idea:
If a person were to spray a sugar water solution onto a stencil of the multi-suit anonymous jpeg, and then release ants onto the surface, it might appear to an observer as if thousands of ants were self organizing into the anonymous picture. Reply Permalink

Just noticed this at hivemind101.html

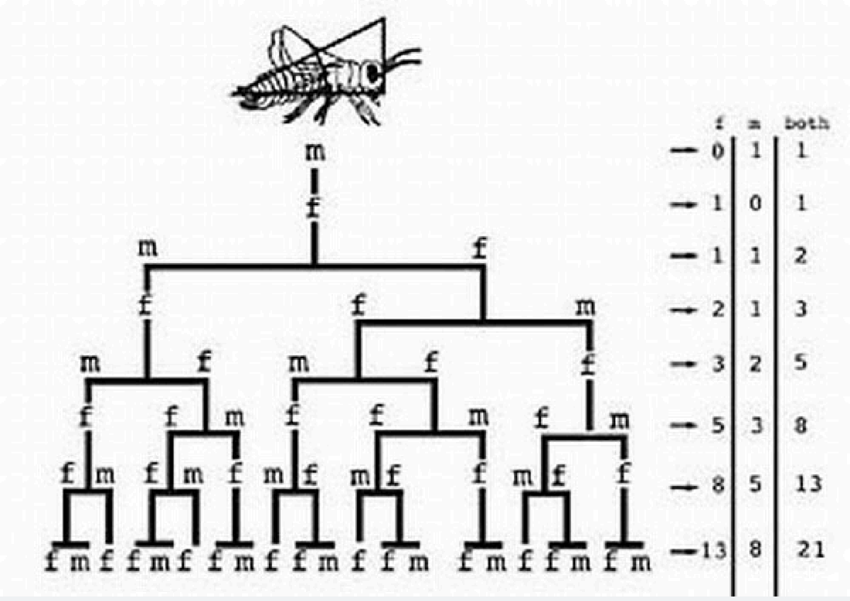
Anonymous Anonymiss

The link at the 'Expect Us' is TOOL's Lateralus, video that it's also seen referenced in the html code above. So the Fibonacci sequence seems to play some importante role here.

So anyone knows what's so special about the Fibonacci sequence??

EDIT: wait, I just found out! It's all about the /b/ees!

They multiply in numbers following the Fibonacci sequence!



| f | m | both |
|---|---|---|
| 0 | 1 | 1 |
| 1 | 0 | 1 |
| 1 | 1 | 2 |
| 2 | 1 | 3 |
| 3 | 2 | 5 |
| 5 | 3 | 8 |
| 8 | 5 | 13 |
| 13 | 8 | 21 |

Honeybees and Family trees

There are over 30,000 species of bees and in most of them the bees live solitary lives. The one most of us know best is the honeybee and it, unusually, lives in a colony called a hive and they have an unusual Family Tree. In fact, there are many unusual features of honeybees and in this section we will show how the Fibonacci numbers count a honeybee's ancestors (in this section a "bee" will mean a "honeybee").
First, some unusual facts about honeybees such as: not all of them have two parents!
In a colony of honeybees there is one special female called the queen.
There are many worker bees who are female too but unlike the queen bee, they produce no eggs.
There are some drone bees who are male and do no work.
Males are produced by the queen's unfertilised eggs, so male bees only have a mother but no father!
All the females are produced when the queen has mated with a male and so have two parents. Females usually end up as worker bees but some are fed with a special substance called royal jelly which makes them grow into queens ready to go off to start a new colony when the bees form a swarm and leave their home (a hive) in search of a place to build a new nest.

So female bees have 2 parents, a male and a female whereas male bees have just one parent, a female.

Here we follow the convention of Family Trees that parents appear above their children, so the latest generations are at the bottom and the higher up we go, the older people are. Such trees show all the ancestors (predecessors, forebears, antecedents) of the person at the bottom of the diagram. We would get quite a different tree if we listed all the descendants (progeny, offspring) of a person as we did in the rabbit problem, where we showed all the descendants of the original pair.
Let's look at the family tree of a male drone bee.

He had 1 parent, a female.
He has 2 grand-parents, since his mother had two parents, a male and a female.
He has 3 great-grand-parents: his grand-mother had two parents but his grand-father had only one.
How many great-great-grand parents did he have?

Again we see the Fibonacci numbers :
great- great,great gt,gt,gt grand- grand- grand grand Number of parents: parents: parents: parents: parents: of a MALE bee: 1 2 3 5 8 of a FEMALE bee: 2 3 5 8 13

http://www.maths.surrey.ac.uk/hosted-sites/R.Knott/Fibonacci/fibnat.html#bees

Now that explains the beehive in the kohtest.jpg pic linked inside the html code above:

Just thought the whole thing might me trolling, after several posts about instructions and recruitment I couldn't take it serious anymore.
But after I saw how much effort they put into the sites I droped the whole trolling thing.
And as you said, since I've read about it on /b/ i don't take it for granted.
Wasn't so clear in previous post

And it is very interesting, after watching all the videos linked in the code and reading through several wiki articles embeded in the code it is clear to me that whoever created the sites has similiar ideals and plans as we do.

My own thoughts on it as well, yes. It's really encouraging to see how many Anons around the world are converging towards fighting for Freedom. It feels like the old school free internet spirit is still very much alive. It feels like cypherpunks mailing list is riding the 4 horses and it's 1992 again!

5. {Kappa-Epsilon-Phi-Alpha-Lambda-Eta Epsilon} THE BATTLE OF THE ANTS

That is not which is.
The only Word is Silence.
The only Meaning of that Word is not.
Thoughts are false.
Fatherhood is unity disguised as duality.
Peace implies war.
Power implies war.
Harmony implies war.
Victory implies war.
Glory implies war.
Foundation implies war.
Alas! for the Kingdom wherein all these are at war.

COMMENTARY ({Epsilon})

He is the letter of Aries, a Martial sign; while the title suggests war. The ants are chosen as small busy objects.
Yet He, being a holy letter, raises the beginning of the chapter to a contemplation of the Pentagram, considered as a glyph of the ultimate.
In line 1, Being is identified with Not-Being.
In line 2, Speech with Silence.
In line 3, the Logos is declared as the Negative.
Line 4 is another phrasing of the familiar Hindu statement, that that which can be thought is not true.
In line 5, we come to an important statement, an adumbration of the most daring thesis in this book -- Father and Son are not really two, but one; their unity being the Holy Ghost, the semen; the human form is a non-essential accretion of this quintessence.
So far the chapter has followed the Sephiroth from Kether to Chesed, and Chesed is united to the Supernal Triad by virtue of its Phallic nature; for not only is Amoun a Phallic God, and Jupiter the Father of All, but 4 is Daleth, Venus, and Chesed refers to water, from which Venus sprang, and which is the symbol of the Mother in the Tetragrammaton. See Chapter 0, "God the Father and Mother is concealed in generation".
But Chesed, in the lower sense, is conjoined to Microprosopus. It is the true link between the greater and lesser countenances, whereas Death is the false.
Compare the doctrine of the higher and lower Manas in Theosophy.
The rest of the chapter therefor points out the duality, and therefore the imperfection, of all the lower Sephiroth in their essence.

Source: http://www.american-buddha.com/otobookoflies.htm#5._{Kappa-Epsilon-Phi-Alpha-Lambda-Eta_Epsilon}_THE_BATTLE_OF_THE_ANTS

From the 2nd vid, and the above clue, it seems time and the duality (of nature) are important.. Also consciousness 'is the key'.

Time exists yet does not.

Time exists only in our minds. Also there is strong implications that there is another (probably mental) domain, alongside the physical domain:

From an experiment by Alain Aspect, Paris, 1982:

> Wikipedia wrote:
> Stated more simply, the experiment provides strong evidence that a quantum event at one location can affect an event at another location without any obvious mechanism for communication between the two locations. This has been called "spooky action at a distance" by Einstein (who doubted the physical reality of this effect). However, these experiments do not allow faster-than-light communication, as the events themselves appear to be inherently random.

The experiment concluded that instantaneous communication between particles was possible (faster than light), which implies that, if true, there is a domain in which time and space do not exist.

That leads to: Physical domain, mental domain, duality (two in one)- consciousness/self-awareness being the (subjective) link between those two domains?

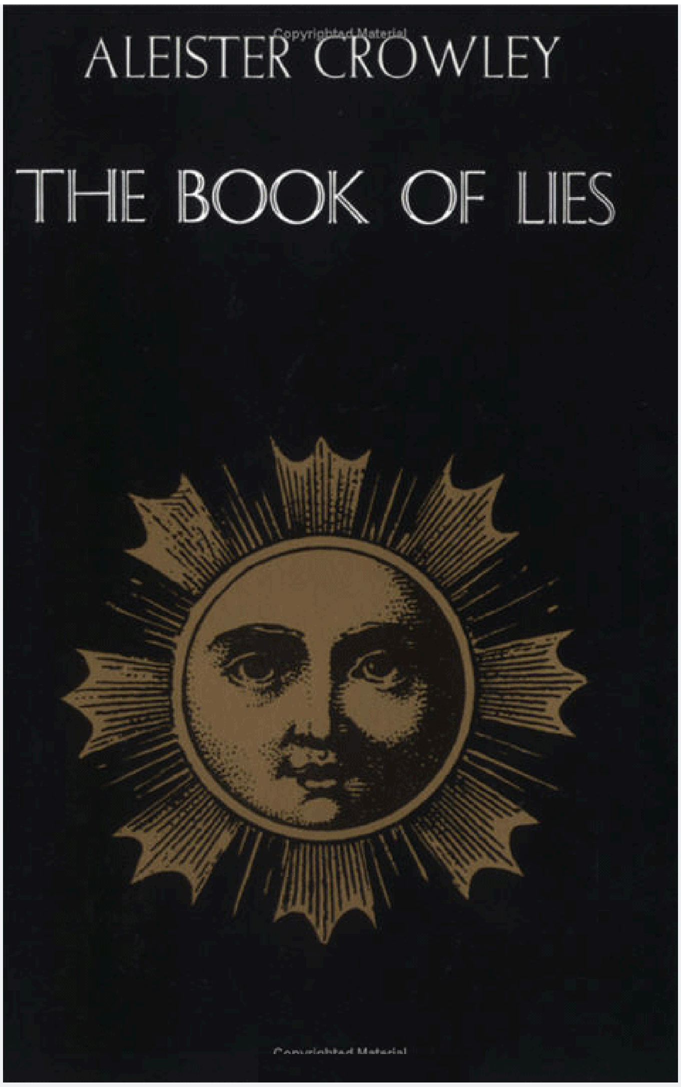
Yeah, so that's from:

THE BOOK OF LIES by Aleister Crowley



Good find.

I think I have also found something, regarding the 'cypher'/'cipher' & ants Enigma.

Looking for 'ants' @ Aleister Crowley's thelemapedia.org, this shows:

> Aphrodite and Psyche
> Aphrodite was jealous of the beauty of a mortal woman named Psyche. She asked Eros to use his golden arrows to cause Psyche to fall in love with the ugliest man on earth. Eros agreed but then fell in love with Psyche on his own, or by accidentally pricking himself with a golden arrow. Meanwhile, Psyche's parents were anxious that their daughter remained unmarried. They consulted an oracle who told them she was destined for no mortal lover, but a monster who lived on top of a particular mountain. Psyche was resigned to her fate and climbed to the top of the mountain. There, Zephyrus, the west wind, gently floated her downwards. She entered a cave on the appointed mountain, surprised to find it full of jewelry and finery. Eros visited her every night in the cave and they made love; he demanded only that she never light any lamps because he did not want her to know who he was (having wings made him distinctive). Her two sisters, jealous of Psyche, convinced her to do so one night and she lit a lamp, recognizing him instantly. A drop of hot lamp oil fell on Eros' chest and he awoke, then fled.
> When Psyche told her two jealous elder sisters what had happened; they rejoiced secretly and each separately walked to the top of the mountain and did as Psyche described her entry to the cave, hoping Eros would pick them instead. Zephyrus did not pick them and they fell to their deaths at the base of the mountain.
> Psyche searched for her lover across much of Greece, finally stumbling into a temple to Demeter, where the floor was covered with piles of mixed grains. She started sorting the grains into organized piles and, when she finished, Demeter spoke to her, telling her that the best way to find Eros was to find his mother, Aphrodite, and earn her blessing. Psyche found a temple to Aphrodite and entered it. Aphrodite assigned her a similar task to Demeter's temple, but gave her an impossible deadline to finish it by. Eros intervened, for he still loved her, and caused some ants to organize the grains for her.

http://www.thelemapedia.org/index.php/Aphrodite#Aphrodite_and_Psyche

Looking for 'cipher', this shows:

> Gematria
> Gematria is a method of exegesis (critical explanation or analysis of a text) used since the time of the Second Temple to derive insights into the sacred writings, to obtain interpretations of the text, or to illustrate a secular matter. The Hebrew language uses its letters to represent numbers. The first nine letters represent the numbers I to 9 respectively; the next 10 letters represent the numbers 10, 20... to 90; and the next four represent 100 to 400.

> The cipher alphabet makes possible the method known in Hebrew as gematria. The term gematria is based on the Greek geometria. In talmudic times the rabbis began to mean by it "calculation" in general. In this sense, they used the numerical value of the letters of one word or verse to construct a different word or verse, the numerical value of whose letters equals that of the original passage, in order to give the original verse an added or a different meaning.
> Thelemites make use of Gematria to link words and concepts and to validate revelations given to them in magical operations. Perhaps the most useful Thelemic book on Gematria is Liber D, the Sepher Sephiroth. This book is a listing of Gematric numbers and some of the words associated with their gematric values.

http://www.thelemapedia.org/index.php/Qabalah#Gematria

Looking for 'cypher', this shows:

> Enochian possesses its own alphabet which can also be transliterated into the Latin alphabet. Unlike most phonetic alphabets, the names of the Enochian letters appear to have very little to do with the pronounciation of the letters. Indeed, the total number of characters composing the Enochian letter names enumerates to 64, a perfect square. Given the importance of square tables in the derivation of many Enochian words, it is possible that this fact is not a coincidence but is instead indicative of some hidden cypher underlying the composition of the letter names.

http://www.thelemapedia.org/index.php/Enochian_(language)

So maybe the question Question: What's the cipher that is not a cypher? is actually a play on words, where the word cipher/cypher is gematrically/phonetically or semantically related to the word Zephyrus...or a word in another equivalent hidden new language? Just brainstorming.

Now this is getting intriguing indeed.

From the link @ Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy, this shows:

> 2. Methodological Holism
> Methodologically, holism stands opposed to reductionism, somewhat as follows.
>
> Methodological Holism: An understanding of a certain kind of complex system is best sought at the level of principles governing the behavior of the whole system, and not at the level of the structure and behavior of its component parts.
> Methodological Reductionism: An understanding of a complex system is best sought at the level of the structure and behavior of its component parts.
> This seems to capture much of what is at stake in debates about holism in social and biological science. In social science, societies are the complex systems, composed of individuals; while in biology, the complex systems are organisms, composed of cells, and ultimately of proteins, DNA and other molecules. A methodological individualist maintains that the right way to approach the study of a society is to investigate the behavior of the individual people that compose it. A methodological holist, on the other hand, believes that such an investigation will fail to shed much light on the nature and development of society as a whole. There is a corresponding debate within physics. Methodological reductionists favor an approach to (say) condensed matter physics which seeks to understand the behavior of a solid or liquid by applying quantum mechanics (say) to its component molecules, atoms, ions or electrons. Methodological holists think this approach is misguided: As one condensed matter physicist put it â€œthe most important advances in this area come about by the emergence of qualitatively new concepts at the intermediate or macroscopic levelsâ€”concepts which, one hopes, will be compatible with one's information about the microscopic constituents, but which are in no sense logically dependent on it.â€� (Leggett 1987, p.113)
> It is surprisingly difficult to find methodological reductionists among physicists. The elementary particle physicist Steven Weinberg, for example, is an avowed reductionist. He believes that by asking any sequence of deeper and deeper why-questions one will arrive ultimately at the same fundamental laws of physics. But this explanatory reductionism is metaphysical in so far as he takes explanation to be an ontic rather than a pragmatic category. On this view, it is not physicists but the fundamental laws themselves that explain why â€œhigher levelâ€� scientific principles are the way they are. Weinberg (1992) explicitly distinguishes his view from methodological reductionism by saying that there is no reason to suppose that the convergence of scientific explanations must lead to a convergence of scientific methods.
> 3. Metaphysical Holism
>
> The metaphysical holist believes that the nature of some wholes is not determined by that of their parts. One may distinguish three varieties of metaphysical holism: ontological, property and nomological holism.
> Ontological Holism: Some objects are not wholly composed of basic physical parts.
> Property Holism: Some objects have properties that are not determined by physical properties of their basic physical parts.
> Nomological Holism: Some objects obey laws that are not determined by fundamental physical laws governing the structure and behavior of their basic physical parts.
> All three theses require an adequate clarification of the notion of a basic physical part. One way to do this would be to consider objects as basic, relative to a given class of objects subjected only to a certain kind of process, just in case every object in that class continues to be wholly composed of a fixed set of these (basic) objects. Thus, atoms would count as basic parts of hydrogen if it is burnt to form water, but not if it is converted into helium by a thermonuclear reaction. But this way excludes consideration of time-slices and point events (for example) as basic (spatio)temporal parts of an object. What counts as a part, and what parts are basic, are matters best settled in a particular context of enquiry.
> Weinberg's (1992) reductionism is opposed to nomological holism in science. He claims, in particular, that thermodynamics has been explained in terms of particles and forces, which could hardly be the case if thermodynamic laws were autonomous. In fact thermodynamics presents a fascinating but complex test case for the theses both of property holism and of nomological holism. One source of complexity is the variety of distinct concepts of both temperature and entropy that figure in both classical thermodynamics and statistical mechanics. Another is the large number of quite differently constituted systems to which thermodynamics can be applied, including not just gases and electromagnetic radiation but also magnets, chemical reactions, star clusters and black holes. Both sources of complexity require a careful examination of the extent to which thermodynamic properties are determined by the physical properties of the basic parts of thermodynamic systems. A third difficulty stems from the problematic status of the probability assumptions that are required in addition to the basic mechanical laws in order to recover thermodynamic principles within statistical mechanics. (An important example is the assumption that the micro-canonical ensemble is to be assigned the standard, invariant, probability distribution.) Since the basic laws of mechanics do not determine the principles of thermodynamics without some such assumptions (however weak), there may well be at least one interesting sense in which thermodynamics establishes nomological holism. The related entry philosophy of statistical mechanics contains further discussion of these difficulties, especially in Section 6."

I also find your quote about Alain Aspect's experiments quite relevant to this.

Good question! Actually, wasn't it Einstein who thought of the Universe as a kind of 'static' block of frozen space/time?

Yes, I think they might be wanting to inject instructions in our minds to help us to wake up from this 'Reality'...towards a bigger & kind of Meta-Reality maybe? sounds crazy enough or what? LOL!

the sequence of numbers and letters (being this one: cBc71ROdGxU, wich was also stated on the website of projectmayhem) refer to a youtube video. I was curious and thought "hey that looks like an extension that u sometimes see in youtube links" So i gave it a shot and it referred to this video.

The next clue is in there i believe EDIT: Definitely relevant to project mayhem. The guy in the video explains the apocalypse as "a revelation" Wich is the meaning of the word. He also says the apocalypse will only happen in the human mind. He also says it will severely alter the way we will think and will bring an end to the world as we know it/ as we constructed it. "The end of the corrupted world?"

This "apocalypse" is for the better of us(?) We need to alter our mindsets. Right now people think there are 2 possibilities.

1: The world in the future is gonna be the same as today only with smaller radio's cars etc. bla bla
2: The world will see massive climate change and probably mushroom clouds and will cease to exist.

What these two have in common are this: "Why bother preparing for this future"
In possibility 1 there is nothing to prepare for.
In possibility 2 there is no future to prepare for as it will not exist.

This "apocalypse"(revelation) what he is talking about is changing this mindset of ours. If we imagine there is no future then we will probably create one just by thinking that. This revelation will alter the way we think and changes our future (don't know to what extent)

This is basically what the video is about (also dont judge the man by his look, he seems to say logical things and knows what he's talking about)

So definitely relevant to projectmayhem, as it will be (active/completed(?)) at 21 december 2012. The date of the so-called apocalypse. Also it seems to me projectmayhem also wants us to alter the way we think.

Now on to the enigma:

> THE BATTLE OF THE ANTS
> That is not which is.
> The only Word is Silence.
> The only Meaning of that Word is NOT.
> Thoughts are FALSE.
> Fatherhood is unity disguised as duality.
> Peace implies WAR.
> Power implies WAR.
> Harmony implies WAR.
> Victory implies WAR.
> Glory implies WAR.
> Foundation implies WAR.
> Alas! for the Kingdom wherein all these are at WAR.

I think it's simply about our mindset. Can't explain it good enough yet, will study more, but definitely think it's about the way we think.

First clue: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Invisibles#Say_You_Want_a_Revolution

Again this backs up my theory about changing the way we think, altering our mindset.

Its a short story about a boy who joins some freedom fighters, then runs into and old man who is also secretly a member of the freedom fighters. The old man shows the boy the magic in the everyday world and helps him realize that his anger prevents him from experiencing real emotions. After this happened, he left the freedom fighters.

So: he had a change of heart, someone altered the way he was thinking thus changing the way he acted.

Second clue:
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cyberia_(book)

This link, links to a theory called the gaia theory. It also talks about a "global brain" (anyone remember the hive on the website? maybe they meant hive-mind?)

> The Gaia hypothesis, also known as Gaia theory or Gaia principle, proposes that all organisms and their inorganic surroundings on Earth are closely integrated to form a single and self-regulating complex system, maintaining the conditions for life on the planet.
> The Gaia theory posits that the Earth is a self-regulating complex system involving the biosphere, the atmosphere, the hydrospheres and the pedosphere, tightly coupled as an evolving system. The theory sustains that this system as a whole, called Gaia, seeks a physical and chemical environment optimal for contemporary life.
> Gaia evolves through a cybernetic feedback system operated unconsciously by the biota, leading to broad stabilization of the conditions of habitability in a full homeostasis. Many processes in the Earth's surface essential for the conditions of life depend on the interaction of living forms, especially microorganisms, with inorganic elements. These processes establish a global control system that regulates Earth's surface temperature, atmosphere composition and ocean salinity, powered by the global thermodynamic desequilibrium state of the > Earth system.

> The existence of a planetary homeostasis influenced by living forms had been observed previously in the field of biogeochemistry, and it is being investigated also in other fields like Earth system science. The originality of the Gaia theory relies on the assessment that such homeostatic balance is actively pursued with the goal of keeping the optimal conditions for life, even when terrestrial or external events menace them.

The second clue also refers to neoshamanism

> Neoshamanism, or Neo-Shamanism is a term signaling a "new" form or a revival of an old form of "Shamanism", a system that comprises a range of beliefs and practices concerned with communication with the spiritual world.
> Neoshamanism is sometimes used as a disclaimer or qualifier, where revivalists are trying to piece back together shattered systems that no longer exists as a whole due to significant changes in the original culture, often as the result of colonisation, globalisation, or genocide.
> Neoshamanism is not a single, cohesive belief system, but a collective term for many such philosophies. However, certain generalities may be drawn between neoshamans. Most believe in spirits and pursue contact with the "spirit-world" in altered states of consciousness which they achieve through drumming, dance, or the use of entheogens. Most systems might be described as existing somewhere on the animism/pantheism spectrum.[1]
> Many members of traditional, indignenous cultures and religions are suspicious of neoshamanism, believing it to rely too heavily on cultural appropriation, or that it is an excuse by fraudulent shamans to cover up inconsistencies in their ceremonies.[2][3]. According to York (2001) one difference between neoshamanism and traditional shamanism is the role of fear [4]. Neoshamanism and its new age relations tends to dismiss the existence of evil, fear, and failure. "In traditional shamanism, the shamanâ€™s initiation is an ordeal involving pain, hardship and terror. New Age, by contrast is a religious perspective that denies the ultimately [sic] reality of the negative, and this would devalue the role of fear as well"[1].

As expected this short overview about neoshamanism also tells us about altering our mindset.

Third clue:
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Virtual_Adepts

It's about a role-playing game. Note the introduction about the struggle, and the last part about virtual adepts, as this is related to the clue as seen in the link. I have made this part of the text bold.

> The metaplot of the game involves a four-way struggle between the technological and authoritarian Technocracy, the insane Marauders, the cosmically evil Nephandi and the nine mystical Traditions (that tread the middle path), to which the player characters are assumed to belong. (This struggle has in every edition of the game been characterized both as primarily a covert, violent war directly between factions, and primarily as an effort to sway the imaginations and beliefs of sleepers.)
> Council of Nine Mystic Traditions
> The Traditions (formally called the Nine Mystic Traditions) are a fictional alliance of secret societies in the Mage: the Ascension role-playing game. The Traditions exist to unify users of magic under a common banner to protect reality (particularly those parts of reality that are magical) against the growing disbelief of the modern world, the spreading dominance of the Technocracy, and the predations of unstable mages such as Marauders and Nephandi. Each of the Traditions are largely independent organizations unified by a broadly accepted paradigm for practicing magic. The Traditions themselves vary substantially from one another. Some have almost no structure or rules, while others have rigid rules of protocol, etiquette, and rank. Though unified in their desire to keep magic alive, the magic practiced by different Traditions are often wildly different and entirely incompatible with one another. Understanding Traditions as a whole requires understanding each Tradition separately, and then assembling them into a somewhat cohesive whole.
> The nine traditions are the Akashic Brotherhood, Celestial Chorus, Cult of Ecstasy, Dreamspeakers, Euthanatos, Order of Hermes, Sons of Ether, Verbena and Virtual Adepts. Mages of Akashic Brotherhood are ascetics, martial artists, and monks, largely drawing from Buddhism, Taoism, Shinto, Hinduism and other such religions. They are masters of the sphere of Mind. Mages of Celestial Chorus are pious believers in a supreme being that encompasses all Gods ever worshipped. They are masters of the sphere of Prime, the raw essence that fuels magic itself. Mages of Cult of Ecstasy are intuitive seers using sensory stimulation, consciousness-expanding techniques, and meditation. They are masters of the sphere of Time. Mages of Dreamspeakers are shamanistic emissaries to the spirit world. They are masters of Spirit magic, such as summoning or binding spirits, necromancy, creating fetishes and travelling to the Umbra. Mages of Euthanatos are Thanatoic willworkers and killers drawing from a legacy of death-cults in India, Greece, and the cultures of the Arabs and Celts. They are masters of the sphere of Entropy. Mages of Order of Hermes are formalized sorcerers, alchemists, and mystics drawing from classical occult practices. They are masters of the sphere of Forces. Mages of Sons of Ether are inspiration-oriented scientists dedicated to fringe theories and alternative science. They are masters of the sphere of Matter. Mages of Verbena are blood-shamans, healers and primordial witches and warlocks. They are masters of the sphere of Life. Mages of the Virtual Adepts are technological adepts capable of informational wizardry. They are masters of the sphere of Correspondence, magic dealing with three-dimensional location and space, communications.

Not sure what to think about this clue, anyone has any ideas?

Will now cover the clue that was made bold in the previous quote. Its basically a music video, it's title is 2012 - conciousness is the key. They are talking abouy a global awakening.

Here are the lyrics of the music video as it can be hard to recognize some phrases. Also made the more important parts bold.

Lyrics to 'Consciousness is the Key'
Prop: "Listen to the situation my son/
It's as serious as cancer, all fun and done/
A dumbed down corporate media is eating your mind/
Trying to tell you what to think in these post modern times/
Now let Prop Anonymous, the catalyst for one hand clapping/Tell you what is happening, with a rap scrawled on a napkin/
The tree's falling in the forrest, the eggman and the walrus/
On a war path for oil, and the moral is a chorus of a mother warning all of us/
Extinction of the honeybees, the melting polar ice caps/
In 30 years or less, you won't be able to afford a live raft/
Damn right I'm vexed, fuming, had it up to here/
Cause some humans are assuming it's so cool to drive an SUV,
To supermarkets, soccer games, and through the city streets/
Bowing down to the beast of babylon, I refuse!/
A global climate change is coming, it's an inconvenient truth.

Chorus: (2x) "Awaken to essentials/Time, Tech, and Mental/Integrate earth/ Recognize potential Crisis breeds Opportunity/
Are you waiting to be saved/
Or will you make yourself FREE?

So kind of an awakening of sorts? An awakening of the human mind and conscience. I actually just watched a video on the Science channel about the Conscience. It was basically saying that ideas/thoughts can be sent through space and received by someone else IF they are on the same magnetic field wave length. I think the whole Matrix concept is also on point and will help us wake up.

So reality is what we perceive it to be, correct? So how do we wake up? How do we know we are awake? How do we know we are no longer apart of the Matrix?

Man, I understand all this but at the same time it blows my mind!

The theory sustains that this system as a whole, called Gaia, seeks a physical and chemical environment optimal for contemporary life.
> > Gaia evolves through a cybernetic feedback system operated unconsciously by the biota, leading to broad stabilization of the conditions of habitability in a full homeostasis. Many processes in the Earth's surface essential for the conditions of life depend on the interaction of living forms, especially microorganisms, with inorganic elements. These processes establish a global control system that regulates Earth's surface temperature, atmosphere composition and ocean salinity, powered by the global thermodynamic desequilibrium state of the Earth system.
> > The existence of a planetary homeostasis influenced by living forms had been observed previously in the field of biogeochemistry, and it is being investigated also in other fields like Earth system science. The originality of the Gaia theory relies on the assessment that such homeostatic balance is actively pursued with the goal of keeping the optimal conditions for life, even when terrestrial or external events menace them.

> > Neoshamanism, or Neo-Shamanism is a term signaling a "new" form or a revival of an old form of "Shamanism", a system that comprises a range of beliefs and practices concerned with communication with the spiritual world.
> > Neoshamanism is sometimes used as a disclaimer or qualifier, where revivalists are trying to piece back together shattered systems that no longer exists as a whole due to significant changes in the original culture, often as the result of colonisation, globalisation, or genocide. Neoshamanism is not a single, cohesive belief system, but a collective term for many such philosophies. However, certain generalities may be drawn between neoshamans. Most believe in spirits and pursue contact with the "spirit-world" in altered states of consciousness which they achieve through drumming, dance, or the use of entheogens. Most systems might be described as existing somewhere on the animism/pantheism spectrum.[1]
> > Many members of traditional, indignenous cultures and religions are suspicious of neoshamanism, believing it to rely too heavily on cultural appropriation, or that it is an excuse by fraudulent shamans to cover up inconsistencies in their ceremonies.[2][3]. According to York (2001) one difference between neoshamanism and traditional shamanism is the role of fear [4]. Neoshamanism and its new age relations tends to dismiss the existence of evil, fear, and failure. "In traditional shamanism, the shamanâ€™s initiation is an ordeal involving pain, hardship and terror. New Age, by contrast is a religious perspective that denies the ultimately [sic] reality of the negative, and this would devalue the role of fear as well"[1].
> As expected this short overview about neoshamanism also tells us about altering our mindset.

I noticed that the link for the second clue(the Cyberia book link) mentions a global brain...which takes me back to the documentary I watched today on the Science channel about a possible Sixth Sense and it's existence. Hope this link works. http://deanradin.blogspot.com/2011/07/through-wormhole-is-there-sixth-sense.html

I know about the concept about a sixth sense etc, seems in conjunction with the story about neoshamanism. (the second clue) We're on the right path on solving the enigma i think.

AGAIN FOR ALL PEOPLE WHO READ THIS, look back for my previous post it will go over all the clues that are offerend and it will be updated untill i have gone over all the clues

Also took a closer look to the enigma again. The battle of the ants refers to a story of Henry David Thoreau. It describes a war between red ants and black ants. Especially the similarity between the ants, and us humans. Many died, and it was unsure who was victorious. It describes perfectly what war is like.

The only Word is Silence. (as described in the story, the ants fought while being silent (didnt make a noise etc.)
The only Meaning of that Word is NOT. (ants don't know what silence is?/there is no silence?)
Thoughts are FALSE. (ants have no thought)
Fatherhood is unity disguised as duality. (???)

Peace implies WAR.
Power implies WAR.
Harmony implies WAR.
Victory implies WAR.
Glory implies WAR.
Foundation implies WAR.

After reading the story about the ants i believe this part tells us that the things mentioned; like peace,power,harmony. Really don't matter at all, because there is only war, or only will lead towards war. Also ants dont know what peace,power,harmony,victory,glory or foundation is.

Alas! for the Kingdom wherein all these are at WAR.
(not sure about this part either)

What i am sure about is that we humans are compared to these ants. Look for the clues at my previous large post. It will cover most, if not all of them.

V FOR VENDETTA ALAN MOORE
DAVID LLOYD WITH STEVE WHITAKER AND SIOBHAN DODDS

I believe that Magick is Art and that Art, whether it be writing, music, sculpture, or any other form is literally Magick.

Art and writing are not seen as transformative forces that can change a human being;
that can change a society.

Alan Moore. Kaos Magician.

EPIC video indeed! The apocalypse as a revelation to occur in the human mind! Anyone said we might be actually in Matrix? Did we find the White Rabbit or what?

Now I think we got a definite connection here with Aleister Crowley, Magic and the other clues left in the message:

Great dossier on him: http://technoccult.net/archives/2010/04/22/alan-moore/

Here's another video of him explaining what he means by magic:

> Religion and magic
> On his fortieth birthday in 1993, Moore openly declared his dedication to being a ceremonial magician, something he saw as "a logical end step to my career as a writer".[36] According to a 2001 interview, his inspiration for doing this came when he was writing From Hell in the early 1990s, a book containing much Freemasonic and occult symbolism: "One word balloon in From Hell completely hijacked my life… A character says something like, 'The one place gods inarguably exist is in the human mind'. After I wrote that, I realised I'd accidentally made a true statement, and now I'd have to rearrange my entire life around it. The only thing that seemed to really be appropriate was to become a magician."[52] Moore associates magic very much with writing; "I believe that magic is art, and that art, whether that be music, writing, sculpture, or any other form, is literally magic. Art is, like magic, the science of manipulating symbols, words or images, to achieve changes in consciousness… Indeed to cast a spell is simply to spell, to manipulate words, TO CHANGE PEOPLE'S CONSCIOUSNESS, and this is why I believe that an artist or writer is the closest thing in the contemporary world to a shaman."[36]
> > "Monotheism is, to me, a great simplification. I mean the Qabalah has a great multiplicity of gods, but at the very top of the Qabalic Tree of Life, you have this one sphere that is absolute God, the monad, something which is indivisible. All of the other gods, and indeed everything else in the universe, is a kind of emanation of that God. Now, that's fine, but it's when you suggest that there is only that one God, at this kind of unreachable height above humanity, and there is nothing in between, you're limiting and simplifying the thing. I tend to think of paganism as a kind of alphabet, as a language, it's like all of the gods are letters in that language. They express nuances, shades of meaning or certain subtleties of ideas, whereas monotheism tends to just be one vowel and it's just something like 'oooooooo'. It's a monkey sound."[36]
> Connecting his esoteric beliefs with his career in writing, he conceptualised a hypothetical area known as the "Idea Space", describing it as "...a space in which mental events can be said to occur, an idea space which is perhaps universal. Our individual CONSCIOUSNESS have access to this vast universal space, just as we have individual houses, but the street outside the front door belongs to everybody. It's almost as if ideas are pre-existing forms within this space… The landmasses that might exist in this mind space would be composed entirely of ideas, of concepts, that instead of continents and islands you might have large belief systems, philosophies, Marxism might be one, Judeo-Christian religions might make up another." He subsequently believed that to navigate this space, magical systems like the tarot and the Qabalah would have to be used.[36]
> Taking up the study of the Qabalah and the writings of the notorious early 20th century occultist Aleister Crowley, Moore accepted Crowley's Thelemite ideas about True Will being connected to the will of the pantheistic universe.[36] In some of his earlier magical rituals, he utilised mind altering psychedelic drugs but later gave this up, believing that they were unnecessary, and stated, "It's frightening. You call out the names in this strange incomprehensible language, and you're looking into the glass and there appears to be this little man talking to you. It just works."[52]
> Moore took as his primary deity the ancient Roman snake god Glycon, who was the centre of a cult founded by a prophet known as Alexander of Abonoteichus, and according to Alexander's critic Lucian, the god itself was merely a puppet, something Moore accepts, considering him to be a "complete hoax",[76][77] but dismisses as irrelevant. According to Ethan Doyle-White, "The very fact that Glycon was probably one big hoax was enough to convince Moore to devote himself to the scaly lord, for, as Moore maintains, the imagination is just as real as reality."

Source: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Alan_Moore#Religion_and_magic Good. So we got Aleister Crowley interested in magic. And now we got Alan Moore, self-declared a practicing magician, who wrote 'V for Vendetta', interested in Aleister Crowley's magic.

Now, the other clues in the Enigma at http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind1000.html say:

> Further clues scattered throughout:
>
> http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Invisibles#Say_You_Want_a_Revolution
> http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cyberia_(book)
> http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Virtual_Adepts
> + at least another 3 extremely relevant articles listed under 'Summer reads' @ http://projectmayhem2012.org/pm2012.html

So who wrote The Invisibles?

"The Invisibles is a comic book series that was published by the Vertigo imprint of DC Comics from 1994 to 2000. It was created and scripted by Scottish writer Grant Morrison, and drawn by various artists throughout its publication."
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Invisibles

Good. So WHO is Grant Morrison and what's his connection to Alan Moore?

Well, first of all, he is ALSO a comic writer.

And now the most interesting part: he is ALSO another MAGICIAN!

> "With the three volumes of the creator-owned The Invisibles, Morrison would start his largest and possibly most important work. The Invisibles combined political, pop- and sub-cultural references. Tapping into pre-millennial tension, the work was influenced by the writings of Robert Anton Wilson, Aleister Crowley and William Burroughs and Morrison's practice of CHAOS MAGICK."

Source: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Grant_Morrison#1990s

Yes!

Now watch this amazing video of him explaining what's magic and how to construct sigils:

So what's a sigil?

"A sigil ( /ˈsɪdʒəl/; pl. sigilia or sigils; from Latin sigillum "seal") is a symbol created for a specific magical purpose. A sigil is usually made up of a complex combination of several specific symbols or geometric figures, each with a specific meaning or intent."
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Sigil_(magic)

So what's a sigil according to Grant Morrison? He explains this here, and he CONFIRMS that The Invisibles comic is actually an hypersigil!:

"The sigil is the first and one of the most effective weapons in the arsenal of any modern magician. In upcoming chapters we¹ll explore new developments of the basic sigil concept: learn the science behind corporate hunter-killer sigils like the McDonald's 'M', and how to create incredibly powerful unfolding narrative hypersigils like THE INVISIBLES comic book."

Source: Pop Magic by Grant Morrison http://www.scribd.com/doc/6146253/Pop-Magic-Grant-Morrison

And where is this 'Pop Magic' essay featured?

Well, remember Aleister Crowley's Book of Lies before?

Well, Grant Morrison's essay is featured in this book:

Tango #1 down!

Great. So what's an hypersigil? A work of Art, a sigil of sigils.

There's more info here:
http://technoccult.net/archives/category/hypersigil/

And a very interesting article on using the cyberspace as a kind of magical place, a kind of hypersigil-land:

Hypersigils reconsidered
"I've been thinking recently about Grant Morrison's "hypersigil" concept, but considering as not an occult/magical practice, but as as a cybernetic phenomena.*

It started as a conversation between my friends Nabil Maynard and Amber Case on Twitter on the subject of Serial Experiments Lain (which I haven't seen). Amber said:

There were a ton of parallels between that show and my life, especially now, where my online presence affects offline interactions. [1]

My online presence actually creates who I am. It's a machine that produces my identity and exists outside of me. [2]

That reminded me of hypersigils. Morrison explained hypersigils thusly:

The "hypersigil" or "supersigil" develops the sigil concept beyond the static image and incorporates elements such as characterization, drama, and plot. The hypersigil is a sigil extended through the fourth dimension. [b]My own comic book series The Invisibles was a six-year long sigil in the form of an occult adventure story which consumed and recreated my life during the period of its composition and execution. The hypersigil is an immensely powerful and sometimes dangerous method for actually altering reality in accordance with intent. Results can be remarkable and shocking.[/b]

Experiment:

After becoming familiar with the traditional sigil method, see if you can create your own hypersigil. The hypersigil can take the form of a poem, a story, a song, a dance, or any other extended artistic activity you wish to try. This is a newly developed technology so the parameters remain to be explored. It is important to become utterly absorbed in the hypersigil as it unfolds; this requires a high degree of absorption and concentration (which can lead to obsession but so what? You can always banish at the end) like most works of art. The hypersigil is a dynamic miniature model of the magician's universe, a hologram, microcosm, or "voodoo doll" which can be manipulated in real time to produce changes in the macrocosmic environment of "real" life."

Source: http://technoccult.net/archives/2010/02/18/hypersigils-reconsidered/

Great! And this brings us to the NEXT CLUE:

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cyberia_(book)

Who wrote Cyberia?

This guy:

"Cyberia is a book by Douglas Rushkoff, published in 1994. The book discusses many different ideas revolving around technology, drugs and subcultures. Rushkoff takes a Tom Wolfe Electric Kool Aid Acid Test style (or roman à clef), as he actively becomes a part of the people and culture that he is writing about. The books goes with Rushkoff as he discusses topics ranging from online culture, the concept of a global brain as put forth in Gaia theory, and Neoshamanism."

"Douglas Rushkoff (born 18 February 1961) is an American media theorist, writer, columnist, lecturer, graphic novelist and documentarian. He is best known for his association with the early cyberpunk culture, and his advocacy of open source solutions to social problems. Rushkoff is most frequently regarded as a media theorist, and known for coining terms and concepts including viral media (or media virus), digital native, and social currency.

In Cyberia, Rushkoff states the essence of mid-90s culture as being the fusion of rave psychedelia, chaos theory and early computer networks. The promise of the resulting "counter culture" was that media would change form being passive to active, that we would embrace the social over content, and that empowers the masses to create and react.

This idea also comes up in the concept of the media virus, which Rushkoff details in the 1994 publication of Media Virus: Hidden Agendas in Popular Culture. This significant work adopts organic metaphors to show that media, like viruses, are mobile, easily duplicated and presented as non-threatening. Technologies can make our interaction with media an empowering experience if we learn to decode the capabilities offered to us by our media. Unfortunately, people often stay one step behind our media capabilities. Ideally, emerging media and technologies have the potential to enlighten, to aid grassroots movements, to offer an alternative to the traditional “top-down” media, to connect diverse groups and to promote the sharing of information."

Source: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Douglas_Rushkoff

Rushkoff is featured in this video about his friend Grant Morrison:

He also spoke in the very same place where Grant Morrison spoke above, the Disinfo-con 2000:

And... guess what? Yes, he is ALSO another Chaos Magician! 😬 He wrote the foreword to this book, META-Magic. And we get again the META prefix, yes.

So WHAT is Chaos Magick which is common to Alan Moore, Grant Morrison and Douglas Rushkoff?

First of all, this is Chaos Magick's symbol, known as the CHAOSPHERE:

> "Chaos magic is a school of the modern magical tradition which emphasizes the pragmatic use of belief systems and the creation of new and unorthodox methods.
> Magical paradigm shifting
> Perhaps the most striking feature of chaos magic is the concept of the magical paradigm shift. Borrowing a term from philosopher Thomas Samuel Kuhn, Carroll made the technique of arbitrarily changing one's world view (or paradigm) of magic, a major concept of chaos magic.[4] An example of a magical paradigm shift is doing a Lovecraftian rite, followed by using a technique from an Edred Thorsson book in the following ritual. These two magical paradigms are very different, but while the individual is using one, he or she believes in it fully to the extent of ignoring all other (often contradictory) ones.
> The shifting of magical paradigms has since found its way into the magical work of practitioners of many other magical traditions, but chaos magic remains the field where it is most developed. Changing belief systems at will is also sometimes practiced by followers of Discordianism.
> Some chaos magicians like to operate in what is sometimes called a meta-paradigm. This is much akin to syncretism but with the consideration that flexibility of belief is a means of personal power and freedom. A more or less syncretic reality tunneling. Even more removed from this, being a post-meta-paradigmatic view, or an abstention from the notion of any view being absolute, compare Nietzsche's Perspectivism.
> Belief as a tool
> Chaos magic claims that belief can be an active magical force. It emphasizes flexibility of belief and the ability to consciously choose one's beliefs, hoping to apply belief as a tool rather than seeing it as a relatively unchanging part of one's personality. Various psychological techniques are employed in order to induce flexibility of belief.[9] Other chaos magicians suggest that people do not need "belief" to work magic.[10] Austin Osman Spare asserts in the Book of Pleasure and various other works that Will formulates Desire which promulgates Belief.
> Emphasis on creative ritualism
> Modification and innovation of ritual take place in all magical and religious traditions at varying paces. In the case of chaos magic, the idea that belief systems and gnosis-inducing techniques are interchangeable has led to a particularly wide variety of magical practices evidenced in large and diverse directories of rituals. Many authors explicitly encourage readers to invent their own magical style. The basic chaos magic training manual Liber MMM, mandatory for membership in the IOT, requires the original creation of a banishing ritual."

Good. So in what way might this related to Project Mayhem 2012?

Well, if we look at pm2012.html, we find this hidden comment:

Narrator: What are we doing tonight?
Tyler Durden: Tonight?

We make soap.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/KOH_test
http://projectmayhem2012.org/KOHtest.jpg

Good. Now if we download the KOHtest.jpg image, we see this. Now take a look at the CHAOSPHERE in the SOAP!

Tango #2 down!

As we read here: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/KOH_test , KOH it's actually SOAP....AND the word 'KOH' is also phonetically equivalent to 'CHAOS', as in Chaos MAGIC, get it?

How can we confirm this?

Easy. If we check pm2012.html, at the end of the banner we see this:

Yeah! MagicK spelled with a K means CHAOS MAGICK, as letter 'K' is the K for KAOS

Tango #3 down!

So, definitely Project Mayhem 2012 seems to be about using MEMETICS & CONSCIOUSNESS as a TOOL to HACK REALITY, to do CHAOS

MAGIC, to inject, as Alan Moore says, a revolutionary IDEA that could actually mean a kind of Paradigm-shifting mental 'apocalypse'? What do you think?

Actually this might be relevant to these links @ pm2012.html :

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Computer-mediated_reality

And now my question is this:

IF Alan Moore is ACTUALLY a self-declared magician... could we say that his chaos magick HAS worked with Anonymous and that we ARE actually seeing the effects of V for Vendetta NOW? Scary thought indeed!

What an absolute mindfuck this is quickly becoming, huh? Moar food for thought!

This could very well be a ripple effect!

I think what we need to do is be masters of the 9 mystic traditions, all in our own personal way. Correspondence, entropy, forces, life, matter, mind, prime, spirit, and time. Also the symbolism of 9 is a little freaky in itself.

http://www.whats-your-sign.com/spiritual-meaning-of-numbers.html http://www.ridingthebeast.com/numbers/nu9.php

String Theory says there is 9 dimensions. <---Not saying I agree with that but I just remember it when researching the symbolism of the number 9.

I also need to watch V for Vendetta.....

I had a thought about unifying randomness and concioussness.

Consider /b/. Utter random chaos. Yet because it was comprised of concious particles it created a new greater conciousness.

Randomness + Conciousness = Greater Conciousness -> Revolution

Randomness exists naturally all around us. The "key" then to producing the "magic" of revolution is to interject the natural randomness with conciousness. Randomizing exposure to conciousness via networks, like /b/ creates a new conciousness. So if my theory is correct, those are the bones of creating super conciousness. But it can be done with anything, so long as we set the random self-concious conditions.

Which is perhaps the idea of creating mayhem, in order to de-order the common experience and energize the formation of a larger conciousness. I don't buy it but it fits the bill for the website.

Project Mayhem is trying to say that we have a hivemind. That our hivemind is created by the collective thoughts and actions of individuals. As individuals, we have to deeply change ourselves into people who focus our energy and passion into changing our lives. The hivemind can make any future for humanity into a reality just by focusing our creative energies on one probability.

Who here lost their job and are having a hard time finding a new one? Let's use our extra free time to dedicate ourselves to our friends, family, ourselves and each other by turning ourselves into the people we've always wanted to be. I don't mean if you've always wanted to be a lawyer or a doctor or anything. I mean deeper than that.

Take this time to completely reprogram how we react and perceive the world around us. We need to learn how to make genuine efforts towards changing who we are.

Could we stand to exercise more or eat better? Do it! Do we feel like we need to be calmer or more positive in life? Let's make the effort to do it now! Is self-esteem an issue for some of us? Teach ourselves to be more positive and force ourselves to do things we wouldn't normally do!

While so much of the world finds themselves with no employment and lots of free time, this is OUR chance to truly start a deep investigation and growing process for ourselves and to invest ourselves into making the change.

Everyone can do this! This website is here for unity and tolerance. We're here to help talk each other through this transformation and to share our collective guidance and wisdom with each other in this process of learning.

well it seems my finding of alan moore had more effect than first thought. Anonymouth, you are a god. You just offered us a shitload of new information 😃

Good job man! (will give rep points lol) now we only need confirmation if we indeed solved the second enigma. Lets hope projectmayhem2012 sees this.

SPOT ON, anon!

/b/ is an absolute pool of CHAOS... yet it has given birth to something that could ACTUALLY contribute to change the World and to finally bring about some sense and real REAL ORDER=Freedom to CHOOSE in an already-chaotic System: hence, Anonymous becomes the first Cyber-Hive Mind, a dynamic and permanently evolving Living Consciousness indeed!

To bring about Order out of Chaos: is that what, not just OUR own Consciousness, but Consciousness as an Universal Archetype does in the Universe?

Imagine, Global Consciousness out of /b/ ...beat that!

wait, what just happened?

You can be right, there is also a /b/ on the projectmayhem website on the picture with all the bees. So the /b/ is relevant.

But i cant comprehend global consciousness coming forth out of /b/ 0_o

No, thanks to YOU Mr.Razz, I suddenly began to see everything fitting after you found that Alan Moore's vid and once I found about the magick connection, suddenly all kind of information kept on coming up!

See? Actually THIS is the Hive Mind working at its best, random agents across the World suddenly collaborating to organize the Chaotic pieces of information here and there. Amazing & historic moment to be alive and part of this indeed!

Just realized something now, not sure if it's significant.

If you look at the image names, some of them end in numbers.

For example,

"hivemind10"

There's 10, 11, 101, 1000, 1101, and 100010.

I've plugged it through a binary translator in a few different combinations and haven't found much, anyone want to take a second look?

So, in other words, Anonymous IS a hypersigil! It's something that was created out of nothing. However, it's bigger than that! Because Anonymous is a hypersigil of a tremendous magnitude! It wasn't just formed through the thoughts of 1 or two individuals, but though the thoughts of ALL individuals: the hivemind!

Anonymous is a global hypersigil that society is using to transform by holding a mirror up to itself and reflecting the ugliness! All while becoming an embodiment of what the world hopes to become! 😀

Don't know if it means anything.

However, just for fun I plugged those numbers into the search engine and got this:

http://ipinformations.com/0.11.177.178.html

101110110001101100010 is its binary representation.

According to Grant Morrison, Matrix was based on his comic THE INVISIBLES!

I just found this: The Wachowski brothers gave away The Invisibles comic to design staff and actors! The character of Morpheus is actually based on... Grant Morrison himself!!

> This may be old news but was the controversy over The Matrix films being like The Invisibles blown out of proportion?
> Grant Morrison:It's really simple. The truth of that one is that design staff on The Matrix were given Invisibles collections and told to make the movie look like my books. This is a reported fact. The Wachowskis are comic book creators and fans and were fans of my work, so it's hardly surprising. I was even contacted before the first Matrix movie was released and asked if I would contribute a story to the website.
>
> It's not some baffling 'coincidence' that so much of The Matrix is plot by plot, detail by detail, image by image, lifted from Invisibles so there shouldn't be much controversy. The Wachowskis nicked The Invisibles and everyone in the know is well aware of this fact but of course they're unlikely to come out and say it.
>

> 'Reloaded' and 'Revolutions' on the rocks of absolute incomprehension. They should have kept on stealing from me and maybe they would have wound up with something to really be proud of - a movie that could change minds and hearts and worlds.
> I love the first Matrix movie which I think is a real work of cinematic genius and very timely but I've now heard from several people who worked on The Matrix and they've all confirmed that they were given Invisibles books as reference. That's how it is. I'm not angry about it anymore, although at one time I was because they made millions from what was basically a Xerox of my work and to be honest, I would be happy with just one million so I didn't have to work thirteen hours of every fucking day, including weekends.
> In the end, I was glad they got the ideas out but very disappointed that they blew it so badly and distorted all the Gnostic transcendental aspects that made the first film so strong and potent. If they had any sense, they would have befriended me instead of pissing me off. They seem like nice boys.

There's even a whole node about The Invisibiles vs. The Matrix at Everything2:

> Interviewer: If you cut out every panel of The Invisibles and arrange them in a new order you can practically storyboard The Matrix.
>
> Grant Morrison: Yeah. It is that close. I don't think they could deny it. After the initial rage, when I really went through it plot point by plot point and image by image... The jumps from buildings, the magic mirror, the boy who's being inducted called the One, the black drones, the shades, the fetish. The Kung Fu as well. The dojo scene. The whole thing - the insect machines that in fact are from a higher dimension, which supposedly enslaved their own. The entire gnostic theme.
> -from Anarchy For the Masses
> The original tagline used to promote The Matrix was "No one can be told what the Matrix is. You must see it for yourself." Well, we did, and four years, four hundred and sixty million dollars, and over a million DVDs later, no one needs to be told. I'm going to assume the reader is familiar with the film (as most noders certainly seem to be).
>
> The Matrix wears its many influences on its sleeve: The future ruled by evil sentient robot overlords is taken from The Terminator (which is itself a pastiche of Harlan Ellison's stories Soldier and I Have No Mouth and I Must Scream). The S.W.A.T. teams moving through sickly green dilapidated buildings clearly recall Se7en. The slow-motion shell casings spilling over the ground are a trope of John Woo's films made in Hong Kong, where they also got the wire-work of Yuen Wo Ping. Perhaps most overtly, a scene from the cult British TV series The Prisoner, about a rogue secret agent kept captive in a fake village, can be seen as Neo runs through an old woman's apartment.
> The film's writer-director team, The Wachowski Brothers, are also avid fans (and ex-writers) of comics, and they hired well-known artists Geoff Darrow and Steve Skroce to design and storyboard each scene in the film. Which also contains borrowings only comics fans would catch: The name Morpheus is taken from Neil Gaiman's The Sandman series, where it refers to the ruler of a world of dreams, and the Sentinels, the "killing machines designed for one purpose: search and destroy", are the names of the giant mutant-hunting robots in X-Men.
> The comic series that was the greatest influence on the film, though, would have to be one that its creators have neglected to name anywhere in the vast glut of promotional and making-of material: The Invisibles, written by Grant Morrison and illustrated by a wide variety of artists over six years and fifty-nine issues. Morrison once stated that, combing through the particulars, he found over eighty points of similarity. I don't think I can get the count quite that high, but let's see if I can get 5 times 3.
> The Universe.
> The film's central premise -- that reality as we know it is a computer-generated fantasy world -- is not to be found in the Invisibles. However, our universe is described as a hologram, created by the intersection of two larger universes, a healthy one and a dying one. From the sick one, known as Universe B, giant insectile creatures known as the Archons are attempting to invade our world. Hence certain characters have the power to warp themselves out of reality, use one of the other universes as a shortcut, and reenter, much as Trinity can through a phone line.
> The Evil.

Agent Smith and his two cohorts wear earphones like members of the Secret Service, can overrule and command squads of local police (one initially presumes them to be members of the FBI), and are based in a government skyscraper. The Archons also choose powerful figures of human authority as their agents on this plane. Among them are generals, freemasons and aristocrats who, though they claim to be serving the forces of order, are secretly driven by fear and repulsion of their enemies, much as Agent Smith confesses to Morpheus ("It's the SMELL!").

The Good.

Neo is a criminal hacker and Morpheus an international terrorist. The Invisibles has parallel rookie-mentor heroes: Jack Frost, who is a destructive anarchist, and King Mob, a wanted assassin. Thus, what is in name a much larger struggle becomes on the surface merely class war, or at worst rebellious wish-fulfillment. Invisibles operate in loose cells of five with no overarching heirarchy and little intergroup communication, much like the various ships of Zion. And the initial resistance cell that Neo encounters numbers five - Morpheus, Trinity, Cypher, Switch and Apoc.

The Wardrobe.

For the bad guys, three-piece suits and ties; for the good guys, circular shades and black leather. Morrison seems particularly offended at the theft of this detail, as he simply dressed King Mob in what he himself likes to wear.

The One.

Both Neo and Jack are repeatedly referred to as "The One" - the human prophesied to save his race from slavery, the sole being capable of it. Early in the film, to establish the mythic parallel, a character addresses Neo this way: "You're my savior, man. My own personal Jesus Christ." However, mowing down security guards with a Mac10 shows very little attention paid to the teachings of the New Testament. In contrast, Jack, who is more commonly compared with Buddha than Christ, despite being foulmouthed and often impatient, demonstrates the value of meditation, a strong distaste for violence, an understanding of the greater scheme in any given scenario, and genuine compassion even for his murderous enemies.

The Traitor.

Cypher, tired of the war and wanting his old, unenlightened life back, sells out his comrades for the promise to be reinstalled in the Matrix (a vow which I highly doubt the machines would find a reason to follow through on). When the Invisibles obtain the Hand of Glory, Boy, one of their own, apparently controlled by the Archons, steals the Hand and delivers it to (ostensibly) a federal group. When it is later revealed this group is a second, uncooperative cell of Invisibles, Boy quits the war, tired of the conflict and missing her old life.

The Alien Alphabet.

The first image in the Matrix (and the only image needed in the print ads for the sequel) is of foreign green characters scrolling down a computer screen. This is the code of the Matrix, of "reality" itself; it cannot be represented by the letters and numbers we know. The Invisibles postulates that English contains not twenty-six but sixty-four letters, the hidden symbols spelling out concepts our minds are unprepared to comprehend.

The Chemical Induction.

Morpheus's mention of Alice's Adventures in Wonderland in the "red pill" scene makes it easy for us to see it as merely another version of "EAT ME" and "DRINK ME" labels (especially for those who know Lewis Carroll was a laudanum addict). However, in the modern setting of the Invisibles, characters constantly use drugs to expand consciousness and thus better perceive the threat against them, be it marijuana, ecstasy, smart drinks or LSD. The most direct analogue here, though, is probably the ancient blue mold growing on the walls of London's subterranean tunnels that Tom O'Bedlam (another mentor figure) and Jack smoke together.

The Magic Mirror.

The red pill, which disrupts Neo's "input-output carrier signal", causes a hallucination in which a cracked mirror heals itself, then becomes liquid, flowing onto Neo's body and engulfing him in cold, sliding down his throat until he wakes up. It's a metaphor for a dawning realization of self, and a warning that reality can be frightening. But the visual depiction used of mirror as a free-floating substance is familiar to any Invisibles reader as the four-dimensional entity that the transvestite witch Lord Fanny channels from out of her mouth and nose to absorb enemies and upload their essences into the supercontext.

The Building Jump.

Morpheus tests Neo's "One"-ness with a leap from a skyscraper. ("Doubt. Fear. You have to let it all go.") Though Neo fails his goal of making it to the next building in a single bound, he does survive his Wile E. Coyote-like plummet to the simulated ground. In Vol. 1 Issue 4, Tom leads Jack in a voluntary drop from Canary Wharf, the tallest building in Britain. ("Trust me. Jump out of the dream.") Jack lands safely in Universe A.

The Kung Fu.

In both stories, Eastern martial arts play a large role in equipping the resistance, ultimately eclipsing even the abundant firearm violence. In Vol. 1 Issue 5, Boy (who is black) teaches Jack (who is white) about his potential in a dojo setting very similar to the Nebuchadnezzar's sparring program.

The Visible Timestream.

The Matrix's innovative "bullet-time" effects have been much imitated, but less discussed is the depiction of a character moving in bullet-time seen from a normal perspective: For instance, an agent moving faster than the eye can follow will appear to have ten arms or six torsos. At key moments in the Invisibles, characters are lifted out of time entirely to view themselves as they truly are: built of an infinite segmented snake of separate moments. In this way, comics uses two dimensions to represent four. This correlation, like Magic Mirror, has little in common from a story perspective, but the visuals are eerily reminiscent.

The Torture Sequence.

> Earlier, you may recall, we compared Morpheus to King Mob. In Vol. 1 Issues 16-18, after losing a brawl in a bathroom, King Mob is abducted by the enemy, handcuffed to a metal chair, injected with a serum, subjected to psychic invasion, and eventually freed by his friends. Though my computer prevents me, I'm tempted to dispense with careful explication, indignantly thrust the book under your nose, and scream "JUST LOOK AT IT!" A lot of the above elements I can forgive, even despite the overwhelming evidence they create once tallied, but this scene is such a blatant lift I can only infer it was included as some kind of deliberate message to Invisibles fans: "Yes, we know that you know where we're getting all this from. Don't worry, the action will arrive shortly."
> The Virus Speech.
> Let's flagrantly violate a couple copyrights here. Agent Smith's speech to Morpheus, you may recall, goes like this:
> I'd like to share a revelation I've had during my time here. It came to me when I tried to classify your species. I realized that you're not actually mammals. Every mammal on this planet instinctively develops a natural equilibrium with the surrounding environment but you humans do not. You move to an area and you multiply and multiply until every natural resource is consumed. The only way you can survive is to spread to another area. There is another organism on this planet that follows the same pattern. Do you know what it is? A virus. Human beings are a disease, a cancer of this planet. You are a plague, and we are the cure.
> Here's a speech Tom gives to Jack in Vol. 1 Issue 3. See if it doesn't make a little more inherent sense:
> Our world is sick, boy. Very sick. A virus got in a long time ago and we've got so used to its effects, we've forgotten what it was like before we became ill. I'm talking about cities, see? Human cultures were originally homeostatic, they existed in a self-sustaining equilibrium, with no notions of time and progress, like we've got. Then the city-virus got in. No one's really sure where it came from or who brought it to us, but like all viral organisms, its one directive is to use up all available resources in producing copies of itself. More and more copies until there's no raw material left and the host body, overwhelmed, can only die.
> The Gnostic Theme.
>
> In both stories, the message that stays with the audience is of a search for truth that has nothing to do with robots or extradimensional overlords. We deliberately take dialogue out of context and apply it to our own lives. Because you and I, right now, are in fact being controlled, and we do need to wake up. It's not fiction. But it is an empowering allegory we can use for self-actualization.
>
> Grant Morrison has sought no monetary remuneration for copyright infringement (and he wouldn't be likely to get it, either, since both DC Comics and Warner Bros. are owned by AOL Time Warner anyway), he simply wishes the Wachowskis would publicly acknowledge that it was he who first took the ideas of Philip K. Dick, Robert Anton Wilson, Terrence McKenna and many others and molded them into a modern pop adventure format. He claims to know people who worked on the Sydney set of the Matrix, and told him Invisibles comics were strewn all over.
>
> The Matrix is a trilogy of films, just as The Invisibles was released in three volumes, the final issue of Vol. 2 hitting newsstands roughly when shooting on the first Matrix film wrapped in October 1998. In Vol. 3, Morrison retaliated by introducing Helga, a character who looks a hell of a lot like Trinity, decoding strings of the secret letters on her Mac G4, and by showing the Archons' soldiers incubating in gelatinous pods like Neo's. Morrison has said the aspect of the controversy that truly upsets him is that he had to throw away his Invisibles screenplay. However, he wrote another one, focusing on Vol. 2, and the film remains in the works. I'll be interested to see if the next two Matrix films borrow any more of Morrison's signature tropes, but the Wachowskis seem to have more than enough elements to make two additional exciting action films, no matter where they got them from.

Amazing, huh?

In hivemind1000.html, another clue points to:

> Further clues scattered throughout:
>
> http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Invisibles#Say_You_Want_a_Revolution

Now, I found this about The Invisibles 'Say You Want a Revolution':

> The Invisibles is a psychedelic sci-fi series about a team of anarchist freedom fighters who employ time travel, magic, martial arts, and drugs in their battle against the tyrannous Outer Church. King Mob, the group’s leader, explains: “We want to show people how to make their own exits, even if they have to use dynamite… We’re trying to pull off a track that’ll result in everyone getting exactly the kind of world they want. Everyone including the enemy.”
> Grant Morrison, a Scottish comic book writer, is fond of explaining that he wrote the Invisibles in response to his alien abduction experience in Kathmandu in the 1994. He also calls it a “hypersigil,” a form of magical fiction. Morrison says that he strongly identified with the King Mob character and found that the by incorporating real aspects of his life in the series, he could make fictional aspects of the series bleed into his own life. When the series was almost canceled, he encouraged readers to use a chaos magic technique to save the series. Apparently, it worked and he was able to finish the series as planned.
> The first volume begins in modern times, with the Invisibles recruiting Jack Frost – a teenage delinquent from Liverpoor who may be the next Buddha. Frost’s first mission involves accompanying the team back in time to rescue the Marquis de Sade from prison during the French revolution. Later volumes continue to sprawl backwards and forwards in time, with characters’ actions from different time periods reverberating throughout history.

> Although the Invisibles begins as a romantic “good guys vs. bad guys” story, the lines begin to blur as Morrison deconstructs issues such as conformity, activism, and violence. Brilliantly complex and inherently mind altering, the Invisibles is a countercultural “must read.”

this is a facinating thread, love it!

Not sure how relavant this may be but...

well cipher is an old word for "zero", So is zero the cipher that is not a cypher?

ok I could be going off on a mad tangeant here so reel me back in if you think I'm taking a leap with this one. But in relation to my last post about cipher and cypher. It seems that there is quite the storm in a teacup brewing over the correct spelling of cipher/cypher...one suggestion is that modern convention should state that any cipher/cypher developed before the 1970's should be spelt cypher and anything relating to modern cryptology should be spelt cypher

> We should use "cipher" in preference to "cypher" in articles on modern cryptography. "Modern cryptography" refers to the ideas, algorithms and theory developed in the open academic community since the 1970s, originating with the DES algorithm and public key cryptography. Rationale: in modern cryptographic literature, "cipher" is used, and "cypher" is almost never seen. Wikipedia should reflect this trend.

source*http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Wikipedia:WikiProject_Cryptography/Cipher_vs_Cypher

So is a cipher not a cypher if it is pre 1970's and therefore is a cypher not a cipher post 1970? Do the two also cancel each other out and create a zero?...

It would also appear that the spelling cypher seems to used more by non mathematicians like historians and mystics considering the character in the Matrix is spelt cypher and that much of the first matrix film seems to have been ripped off from Morrisons Invisibles is there also a connection here?

Anyway I'm feeling like I'm going off on a wild tangeant on this one...but hey all discussion on *spell*ing is at the end of the day a discussion on spellcraft so I'll leave you with this from my understanding (and a brief history of using) sigils and sigil magick the mirror imaged fibonacci pict here http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind101.html looks awefully like a sigil to me. and if you look directly underneath it you can read anonymous (heart) anonymiss...damn *spell*ings again LoL...also does anyone know what the title of the picture/artist is here http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind1101.html when you click through from /b/ees page http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind1000.html where we got our second clue from it's sauce code?

Not sure if any other of you are getting some crazy synchronicities occuring when viewing the projectmayhem site and the videos contained within....I know I am, had many a wtf moment

I am interested in the picture as it seems to be a tarot card depiction and the protagonist in the picture seems to be holding a beehive in his left hand. /b/ees have an important significance in hermetic tradition

> Sacred bee-maidens with their gift of prophecy, were to be Apollo’s gift to Hermes, the god who alone could lead the souls of the dead out of life and sometimes back again. The etymology of the word fate in Greek offers a fascinating example of how the genius of the Minoan vision entered the Greek language, often visibly, as well as informing its stories of goddesses and gods. The Greek word for fate, death and goddess of death is e ker (feminine); the word for heart and breast is to ker (neuter); while the word for honeycomb is to kerion (neuter). The common root ker links the ideas fo the honeycomb, goddess, death, fate and the human heart, a nexus of meanings that is illumined if we know that the goddess was once imagined as a bee.
> In Greece:
> Great Mother was known as the Queen Bee, and her priestesses were called Melissae, the Bees. Bees were the emblem of Eros*, Demeter, Cybele, Diana, Rhea, and Artemis. The Pythian priestess at Delphi was known as the Delphic Bee.

infact the title "beekeper" was bestowed upon the pharoahs of egypt

> “Go to the bee, and learn how diligent she is, and what a noble work she produces; whose labour kings and private men use for their health. She is desired and honoured by all, and, though weak in strength, yet since she values wisdom she prevails.” The title of ‘Beekeeper’ was held by Egyptian Pharaohs.

now the thing is morrison and other Kaos/chaos magicians claim to have communicated with entities from sirius(don't worry I wont stay on this tangeant too long but it does tie into the bees thing) and if you watch the video with Alan Moore claiming he has been talking to his "imaginary friends" about the Apocalypse/revalation maybe he has been too...back to the bees...we are a hivemind afterall

> The bee and the beehive are connected to Diana/Artemis/Hecate worship. Hecate is depicted with snake feet and snakes for hair. Dogs, the sacred animal of Hecate, were sacrificed to her in rituals during the dark phrase of the moon...The ancient Egyptian word and hieroglyph for > goddess als means serpent and the hieroglyph for Sirius means tooth. The Egyptian word for tooth also means dog and more specifically dog-god.This connection between honey and the dog/sirius will be seen in more detail below. Bees & the Merovingian bloodline

Then from J.R. Church's Guardians of the Grail

> In the tomb of Childeric I, son of Merovee, a special set of 300 miniature golden bees were found. Napoleon affixed these bees to his coronation robe. The Mormons use the symbol of the bee and also hold to the doctrine that Yahshua of Nazareth married Mary Magdalene. It is believed that the Merovingians used the bee symbol because of the connection to Samson. Samson was known for the power that came from his long hair. So too, the Merovingian kings were known as the long haired kings which claimed their hair was the source of their occult powers

Check out the length of Alan Moores hair and glorious beard!

Also from Guardians of the Grail

> Four symbols are used in the Bible concerning the Danites – a serpent, an eagle, a lion, and the bees. In the story of Samons, we find the famous riddle of the bees who made honey in the carcass of a lion which had been killed by Samson. the symbolic nature of the bees could represent the concept that the descendants of the tribe of Dan would one day try to bring about the destruction of the tribe of Judah, whose symbol was the lion, and from the carcass of the lion the tribe of Dan would attempt to produce the golden age of a world empire, symbolized by the honey to find out more about the connection between the hermetic tradition and bees (plus a really interesting/ and sometimes odd alternative history of the world) check out this site http://drakenberg.weebly.com/medieval-legacy.html and from this site also comes a quote which can be applied to the hivemind and it's realisation of conciousness

> "The mind reveals the One. The mind can blend and fuse the form and life.
> Thou art the One. Thou art the form. Thou art the mind. Know this."

ok off to do some more delving since the quote above the latest enigma is a William Blake Quote which ends with "do what thou whilt" and some of the clues have eluded to chaos magick and hermetic tradition it might be an idea to familiarise ourselves with Thelema

> The religion is founded upon the idea that the 20th century marked the beginning of the Aeon of Horus, in which a new ethical code would be followed; "Do what thou wilt shall be the whole of the Law"

Crowleys Thelema belief system begins with "The Book Of Law" which he wrote in egyptwhilst on honeymoon with his wife rose. from this work come these themelic rules

"Do what thou wilt shall be the whole of the Law." —AL. I. 40

"thou hast no right but to do thy will. Do that, and no other shall say nay." —AL. I. 42–3

"Every man and every woman is a star." —AL. I. 3

the four main ethics that grew out of these fundamental law are

> * A. Your Duty to Self: describes the self as the center of the universe, with a call to learn about one's inner nature. Admonishes the reader to develop every faculty in a balanced way, establish one's autonomy, and to devote oneself to the service of one's own True Will.
> * B. Your Duty to Others: An admonishment to eliminate the illusion of separateness between oneself and all others, to fight when necessary, to avoid interfering with the Wills of others, to enlighten others when needed, and to worship the divine nature of all other beings.
> * C. Your Duty to Mankind: States that the Law of Thelema should be the sole basis of conduct. That the laws of the land should have the aim of securing the greatest liberty for all individuals. Crime is described as being a violation of one's True Will.
> * D. Your Duty to All Other Beings and Things: States that the Law of Thelema should be applied to all problems and used to decide every ethical question. It is a violation of the Law of Thelema to use any animal or object for a purpose for which it is unfit, or to ruin things so that they are useless for their purpose. Natural resources can be used by man, but this should not be done wantonly, or the breach of the law will be avenged. For instance, deforestation can cause soil erosion.

For more on thelemic magick you can begin with this wiki http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Thelema

In hermetic magick there are considered to be 7 principles

The principal of mentalism
The principal of correspondence
The principal of vibration
The principal of Polarity
The principal of rythm
The principal of cause and effect
The principal of Gender

In one of the clues that was given to us in the sauce code it tells us that > Further clues scattered throughout:...

> http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Virtual_Adepts

now when you go to that article it is relating to a council of nine mystic traditions that exist the mage RPG one of those traditions are > Mages of the Virtual Adepts are technological adepts capable of informational wizardry. They are masters of the sphere of Correspondence, magic dealing with three-dimensional location and space, communications.

The principal of correspondence is basically this tells us that things that seem quite different share attributes that are quite similar it also tells us that by studying one thing we can learn about something else (I'm sure all of you who are following this thread can attest to that!).
"as above, so below; as below so above"

An example of that hermetic principal is exactly what statistical samples are all about. By examining a small portion of a population, a determination can be made as to what those same attributes are for the entire population in some respects isn't this what the hive mind of anonymous does when organising ops? at least I believe that on the irc chans when ops were being discussed this principal applied, as a decision would be made by the concensus of people online at the time a specific op was being discussed becasue all anons were not on all the time (correct me if I have understood this wrong) so the hermetic principal of correspondence applied in this instance.

so then what does hermetic knowledge have to do with the THE BATTLE OF THE ANTS in the source code well I can remind you of Aesops fables and hermes

> There was once a ship that sank with all hands on board. A man who saw what had happened said that the gods' judgment was unfair: because of just one sinner who was on board the ship, many men had died together with him, even though they were innocent. While the man was speaking, a swarm of ants started crawling over him as they rushed in their usual frenzy to feed on some bits of wheat chaff. When one of the ants bit the man, he proceeded to trample a considerable number of them underfoot. Hermes then appeared and struck the man with his wand as he said, 'So, are you going to let the gods pass judgment on you humans just as you have passed judgment on the ants?'

Also forgive me for going back to the /b/ees again but wasn't hermes son Pan a /b/eekeeper and hermes was also visited by three /b/ee maidens in the Greek Homeric Hymn

> There are some Fates sisters born, > maidens three of them, adorned with swift wings.
> Their heads are sprinkled over with white barley meal,wind they make their homes under the cliffs of Parnassus.They taught divination far off from me, the art I used to practise round my cattle while still a boy.

is the picture here http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind1101.html Pan or Hermes?...ok that's all from me for now over to you fellow anons of the hivemind

I'll leave you with something to think about whilst planing ops and is inline with the hermetic principal of correspondence

> Real Life Application
> Since there is correspondence in everything, as everything reflects the other, we should treat each other as one, we exist as part and The Whole

The etymology of the word fate in Greek offers a fascinating example of how the genius of the Minoan vision entered the Greek language, often visibly, as well as informing its stories of goddesses and gods. The Greek word for fate, death and goddess of death is e ker (feminine); the word for heart and breast is to ker (neuter); while the word for honeycomb is to kerion (neuter). The common root ker links the ideas fo the honeycomb, goddess, death, fate and the human heart, a nexus of meanings that is illumined if we know that the goddess was once imagined as a bee.

I've really enjoyed checking out some of the summer reading wiki links in the source code aswell and seeing how it relates to anonymous...Since I was still on the /b/ee slant as of this morning I was checking out these three links in particular http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Bee_colony_optimization http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Bee_learning_and_communication http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Bees_algorithm it seems that without knowing it/or knowing it anonymous is currently using the /b/ees algorithm for optomisation of our anon efforts...

> The Bees Algorithm is an optimisation algorithm inspired by the natural foraging behaviour of honey bees to find the optimal solution[4]. The algorithm requires a number of parameters to be set, namely: number of scout bees (n), number of sites selected out of n visited sites (m), number of best sites out of m selected sites (e), number of bees recruited for best e sites (nep), number of bees recruited for the other (m-e) selected sites (nsp), initial size of patches (ngh) which includes site and its neighbourhood and stopping criterion.

> In first step, the bees algorithm starts with the scout bees (n) being placed randomly in the search space. In step 2, the fitnesses of the sites visited by the scout bees are evaluated. In step 4, bees that have the highest fitnesses are chosen as â€œselected beesâ€� and sites visited by them are chosen for neighbourhood search. Then, in steps 5 and 6, the algorithm conducts searches in the neighbourhood of the selected sites, assigning more bees to search near to the best e sites. The bees can be chosen directly according to the fitnesses associated with the sites they are visiting. Alternatively, the fitness values are used to determine the probability of the bees being selected. Searches in the neighbourhood of the best e sites which represent more promising solutions are made more detailed by recruiting more bees to follow them than the other selected bees. Together with scouting, this differential recruitment is a key operation of the Bees Algorithm. However, in step 6, for each patch only the bee with the highest fitness will be selected to form the next bee population. In nature, there is no such a restriction. This restriction is introduced here to reduce the number of points to be explored. In step 7, the remaining bees in the population are assigned randomly around the search space scouting for new potential solutions. These steps are repeated until a stopping criterion is met. At the end of each iteration, the colony will have two parts to its new population â€“ those that were the fittest representatives from a patch and those that have been sent out randomly Phase 1 anyone?

Also from the new source code

> Gorgias (Fragments of Gorgias [c.442 BCE] on further investigation of these ideas it seems that the lulz dates back to ancient greek philosophy!

> Fragments of Gorgias > p.260 5864 Destroy seriousness with laughter, and laughter with seriousness > Full Idea: Destroy the seriousness of others with laughter, and their laughter with seriousness.
> From: Gorgias (Fragments of Gorgias [c.442 BCE]), quoted by Aristotle - The Art of Rhetoric 1419b
> A reaction: This sounds like brilliant tactical advice, which should be on the wall of every barrister's chambers. This is a case of rhetoric having something to teach us which [has] nothing at all to do with truth expanding on this idea of the power of rhethoric

> Fragments and accounts of Gorgias > p.447 9866 Gorgias says rhetoric is the best of arts, because it enslaves without using force
> Full Idea: Gorgias insists that the art of persuasion is superior to all others because it enslaves all the rest, with their own consent, not by force, and is therefore by far the best of all the arts.

It seems to me that all politicians and corporations are guilty of the art of the rhethoric and should be exposed at every opportunity which reminds me of an idea I heard of years ago about ad busting...Maybe this could be an op anons can do...take politicians real speaches and add subtitles exposing the truth behind their rhetoric but in a humourous fashion for the lulz. Also to target corporations on anons radar. Make copies of their advertisements but with the advertisers core message changed to both expose the advertisers true motives and also create Lulz.

Also for anyone who knows graphic artists it might be an idea to make them aware of the the 'First things First manifesto' launched in January 1964 by british designer Ken Garland. Having a read of it might help to remind them of a social responsibilty that they can embody in their work which can be used to be politically subversive

> In the First thing First Manifesto, a group of designers and artists alike share their similar belief of how we as designers are essentially loosing our true niche. The fact that we are becoming consumed by marketing and product design is forcing us to loose sight of areas where our expertise is really needed. The author discusses that designers should be paying more attention to environmental, cultural and social issues. Through out these concerns designers are needed for books, magazines, commercials, ads, etc. If designers could devote more of their profession to graphic designing for a cause and not for a culture only to get them to consume.

From the sources, the phrase "the ants and the /b/ees" is used.

What exactly are the ants in this context?

Many animals can learn behaviours by imitation but ants may be the only group apart from mammals where interactive teaching has been observed.
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ant#Learning

I think the answer to the riddle involves the importance of the group en masse.
My lack of knowledge and experience makes me an ant.
I have to learn from the /b/ees.

Just another thought on the 2nd enigma

> "what is the cipher that is not a Cypher"

Well a cipher that is not a cypher is one that you have the key for.

Is it possible that the answer is under our nose

i.e we have already been given the "key"

> Consciousness is The Key

now who out there is good with cryptology and can apply the key "conciousness" to > (C)the battle of the ants

To help any cryptogrphers out there I believe it has something to do with the solitaire cypher as that is the cypher used in Neal stephensons Cryptonomicon...which is elluded to as one of the clues to help us solve this enigma here is a link to an explantion of Bruce Schneiers Solitaire algorithm http://www.schneier.com/solitaire.html

cryptology is not one of my strong points so someone please tell me if the above sounds/looks like a red herring as I don't want people wasting their time if the above has no merit

This is what I got after using only the first letters of each line and "consciousness" as the key:

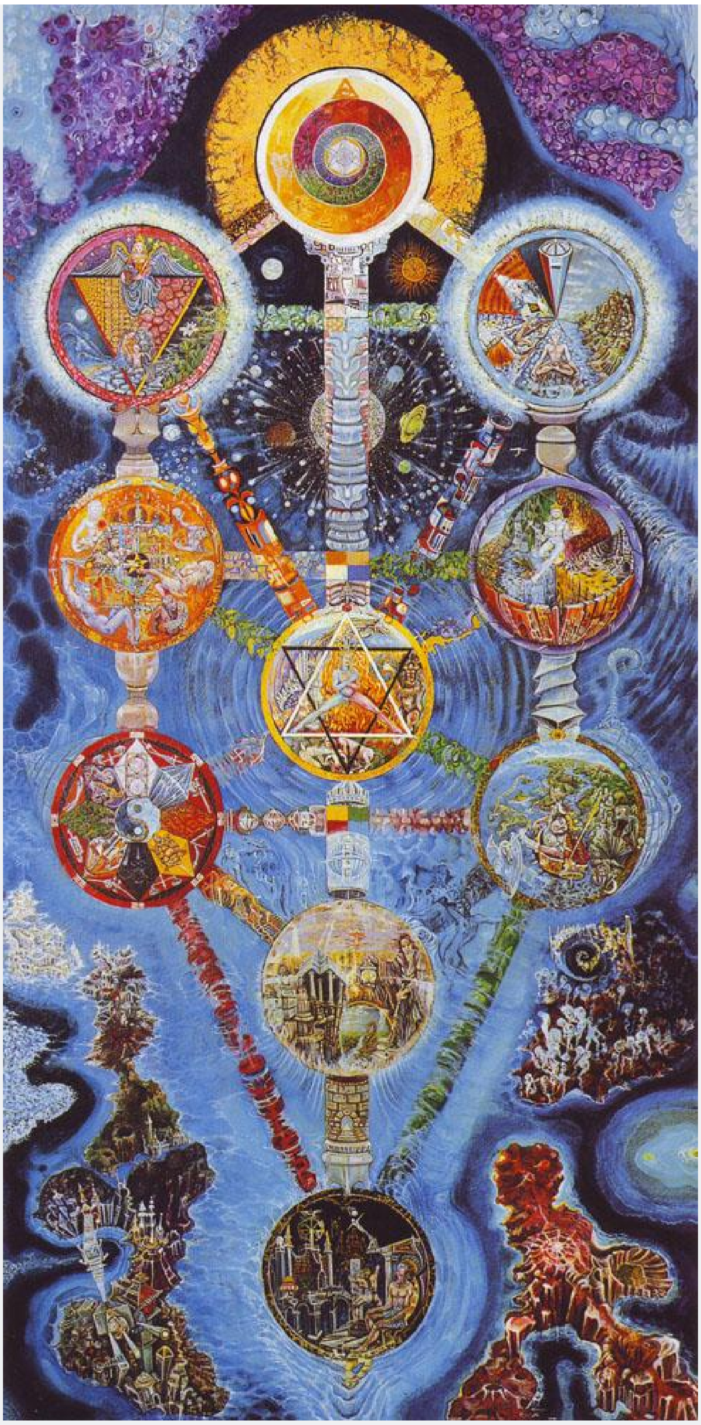
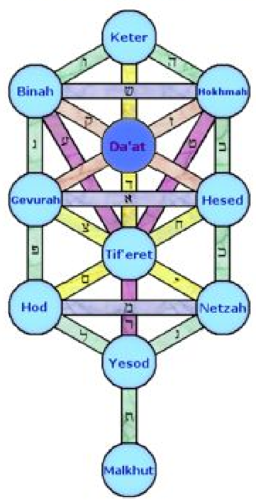
There are 10 Sephirot (Hebrew for "enumerations") and they are attributes in Kabbalah through which God (The Infinite) reveals himself and continuously creates both the physical realm and the chain of higher metaphysical realms. This way is known as "The Tree of Life" and Sephirot compose its branches.



The Sefirot in Jewish Kabbalah



Keter
Binah
Hokhmah
Da'at
Gevurah
Hesed
Tif'eret Hod Netzah
Yesod Malkhut

| Category: | Sephirah: |
|---|---|

| Conscious intellect | 2 Chokhmah-"Wisdom"3 Binah-"Understanding" |
| Conscious emotions | (Primary emotions:)4 Chesed-"Kindness"5 Gevurah-"Severity"6 Tiferet-"Beauty"(Secondary emotions:)7 Netzach-"Eternity"8 Hod-"Splendor"9 Yesod-"Foundation"(Vessel to bring action:)10 Malkuth-"Kingship" |

1. Keter (Crown)
Since its meaning is "crown", it is interpreted as both the "topmost" of the Sephirot and the "regal crown" of the Sephirot. It is between Chokmah and Binah (with Chokmah on the right and Binah in the left) and it sits above Tiphereth. It is usually given three paths, to Chokmah, Tiphereth, and Binah.

Keter is so sublime, it is called in the Zohar "the most hidden of all hidden things", and is completely incomprehensible to man. It is also described as absolute compassion.

This first sefirah represents the primal stirrings of intent in the Infinite (God), or the arousal of desire to come forth into the varied life of being. But in this sense, although it contains all the potential for content, it contains no content itself, and is therefore called 'Nothing', 'The Hidden Light', 'The air that cannot be grasped'. Being desire to bring the world into being, Keter is absolute compassion.

2. Chokhmah (Wisdom)
Chokhmah, the second of the ten sefirot, is the first power of conscious intellect within Creation, and the first point of 'real' existence, since Keter represents emptiness. According to the book of Job, "Wisdom comes from nothingness".

In its fully articulated form, Chokhmah possesses two partzufim ("faces" or "features"): the higher of these is referred to as Abba Ila'ah ("the higher father"), whereas the lower is referred to as Yisrael Saba ("Israel, the Elder"). These two partzufim are referred to jointly as Abba ("father").

Chokhmah is associated in the soul with the power of intuitive insight, flashing lightning-like across consciousness. The partzuf of Abba Ila'ah is associated with the power to spontaneously extract such insight from the superconscious realm, whereas the partzuf of Yisrael Saba is associated with the power to subsequently direct it into consciousness.

The "wisdom" of Chokhmah also implies the ability to look deeply at some aspect of reality and abstract its conceptual essence till one succeeds in uncovering its underlying axiomatic truth. These seeds of truth can then be conveyed to the companion power of Binah for the sake of intellectual analysis and development.

Chokhmah is the primary ("beginning") force in the creative process, Creativity, as it is said: "You have made them all with Chokhmah ." The first word of the Torah (in Genesis, Breishit means "In the beginning (God created the heavens and the earth)", is translated (Targum Yonatan) as "With Chokhmah (God created...)."

Chokhmah is also called Fear, 'because it has no measure of boundary, and therefore the mind does not have the power to grasp it'. The book of Job states 'Behold the fear of God is wisdom, and to depart from evil is understanding' (Job 28:28).

3. Binah (Understanding)
Binah is 'understanding' or 'contemplation'. It is likened to a 'palace of mirrors' that reflects the pure point of light of Chokhmah, wisdom, increasing and multiplying it in an infinite variety of ways. In this sense, it is the 'quarry', which is carved out by the light of wisdom. It is the womb, which gives shape to the Spirit of God.

On a psychological level, Binah is "processed wisdom," also known as deductive reasoning. It is davar mitoch davar -- understanding one idea from another idea. While Chockmah is intellect that does not emanate from the rational process (it is either inspired or taught), Binah is the rational process that is innate in the person which works to develop an idea fully.

Binah is associated with the feminine. The Bahir states: â€œFor you shall call Understanding a Mother.â€� Classical Jewish texts state Binah yeterah natun l'nashim ("an extra measure of Binah was given to women").

In its fully articulated form, Binah possesses two partzufim: the higher of these is referred to as Imma Ila'ah ("the higher mother"), whereas the lower is referred to as Tevunah ("comprehension"). These two partzufim are referred to jointly as Imma ("the mother").

4. Chesed (Kindness)
It is also commonly translated as "loving-kindness," or "love." Chesed is closely linked in tradition with compassion. Lack of compassion marks a people as cruel.

A person who embodies "chesed" (×—×¡×“) is known as a "chasid" (hasid, ×—×¡×™×“), one who is faithful to the covenant and who goes "above and beyond that which is normally required."

5. Gevurah (Severity)
Gevurah is known as "restraint," "strength, "judgment", "power", and "concealment". Gevurah is the fifth of the ten sefirot, and second of the emotive attributes in Creation, and which corresponds to the second day of creation.

Gevurah is associated in the soul with the power to restrain one's innate urge to bestow goodness upon others, when the recipient of that good is judged to be unworthy and liable to misuse it. As the force which measures and assesses the worthiness of Creation, gevurah is also referred to in Kabbalah as midat hadin ("the attribute of judgment"). It is the restraining might of gevurah which allows one to overcome his enemies, be they from without or from within (his evil inclination).

Chesed and Gevurah act together to create an inner balance in the soul's approach to the outside world. While the "right arm" of chesed operates to draw others near, the "left arm" of gevurah reserves the option of repelling those deemed undeserving. (Even towards those to whom one's initial relation is that of "the left arm repels," one must subsequently apply the complementary principle of "the right arm draws near").

Ultimately, the might of gevurah becomes the power and forcefulness to implement one's innate desire of chesed. Only by the power of gevurah is chesed able to penetrate the coarse, opposing surface of reality.

6. Tiferet (Beauty)

It has the common association of "Spirituality", "Balance", "Integration", "Beauty", "Miracles", "Compassion", and "Masculinity".

Tiferet is the force that integrates the sefira of Khesed ("compassion") and Gevurah ("Overpowering"). These two forces are, respectively, expansive (giving) and restrictive (receiving). Either of them without the other could not manifest the flow of Divine energy; they must be balanced in perfect proportion (by sharing), and this is the role of Tiferet, wherein the conflicting forces are harmonized, and creation flowers forth.

Tiferet is unique amongst the Sephirot as it is connected to all the other Sephirot (except Malkuth) via the subjective paths of the unconscious. Its position down the center between Keter and Yesod indicates to many Kabbalists that it is somewhat of a "converting" Sephirot between form (Yesod) and force (Keter). In other words, all crossing over the middle path via Tiferet results in a reversed polarity. The law of conservation of energy and mass tends to corroborate this â€“ in all cases of energy transmutation, a sacrifice is necessary so a new form may be born.

7. Netzach (Victory)
Netzach is paired with Hod and comprises the third group of sephirot, the "tactical" sefirot, meaning that their purpose is not inherent in themselves, but rather as a means for something else.

Understanding the attributes of Netzach and Hod gives us a new perspective into understanding what is happening in the world. No longer do we merely look at an act at face value, and attempt to understand it as such, but we must look at it also in terms of "a means to an end."

These sephirot mark a turning point. Whereas the first two groups of sefirot deal with God's intrinsic will, and what it is that He desires to bestow upon man, these sephirot are focused on man: What is the most appropriate way for man to receive God's message? How can God's will be implemented most effectively?

Netzach refers to actions of God that are chesed, "kindness," in essence, but are presented through a prelude of harshness. Hod refers specifically to those events where the "wicked prosper." It is retribution â€”Gevurah, "strength/restraint," in essence, but presented by a prelude of pleasantness.

Netzach is "endurance," the fortitude, and patience to follow through on your passions. It is paired with Hod as the godly attributes related to group interactivity, with Netzach being leadership, the ability to rally others to a cause and motivate them to act; while Hod is community, the ability to do the footwork needed to follow through on ideas and make them happen. Netzach is identified with the right leg or foot when the Tree of Life is portrayed on the human form, while Hod is the left leg or foot.

Netzach is the sphere of Venus: the feminine aspect of God, which stands for receptivity and acceptance, also known as the Earth Mother in its fructifying aspect. Just as the mother goes through labor and pain to bring forth life, so does the earth mother endure and support every life-form. Netzach stands for Earthly love and acceptance (as opposed to the Heavenly love: judgemental and correcting â€”Chesed): the Great Mother's love.

8. Hod (Majesty)

It is derived from hod ×”×•×“ in the Hebrew language meaning "majesty" or "splendor" and denoting "praise" as well as "submission".

Hod ("Majesty"; ×”×•×“) in the Kabbalah of Judaism is the eighth sephira of the Kabbalistic tree of life. It is derived from hod ×”×•×“ in the Hebrew language meaning "majesty" or "splendor" and denoting "praise" as well as "submission".

Hod sits below Gevurah and across from Netzach in the tree of life; Yesod is to the south-east of Hod. It has four paths, which commonly lead to Gevurah, Tiphereth, Netzach, and Yesod.

All the sephirot are likened to different parts of the body, and netzach and hod are likened to the two feet of a person: right foot and left foot. Feet are usually only the means for a person's activity. While the hands are the main instrument of action, the feet bring a person to the place where he wishes to execute that action.

Hasidic Judaism's view of Hod is that it is connected with Jewish prayer. Prayer is seen as form of "submission"; Hod is explained as an analogy - that instead of "conquering" an obstacle in one's way, (which is the idea of Netzach), subduing oneself to that "obstacle" is related to the quality of Hod.

In a mystical sense, in which the Tree of Life is supposed to be a roadmap to "consciousness", Hod is where form is given by language in its widest sense, being the key to the mystery of form. (Perhaps this may be an adopting of a point of view of the psychoanalyst Jacques Lacan), our unconscious desires come from Netzach, and are given form in the symbolic realm by Hod, manifesting unconsciously through Yesod to Malkuth.

9. Yasod (The Foundation)
The sephirah of Yesod translates spiritual concepts into actions that unite us with God.

It is often associated with the Moon, because it is the sphere which reflects the light of all the other sephirot into Malkuth, and it is associated with the sexual organs, because it is here that the higher spheres connect to the earth.

It plays the role of collecting and balancing the different and opposing energies of Hod and Netzach, and also from Tiphereth above it, storing and distributing it throughout the world. It is likened to the 'engine-room' of creation.

The archangel of this sphere is Gabriel, and the Cherubim is the Angelic order.

10. Malkuth (The Kingdom)

This sephirah has as a symbol the Bride which relates to the sphere of Tipheret, symbolized by the Bridegroom.

Unlike the other nine sephirot, it is an attribute of God which does not emanate from God directly. Rather it emanates from God's creationâ€”when that creation reflects and evinces God's glory from within itself.

Malkuth means Kingdom. It is associated with the realm of matter/earth and relates to the physical world, the planets and the solar system. It is important not to think of this sephirah as merely "unspiritual," for even though it is the emanation furthest from the divine source, it is still on the Tree of Life. As the receiving sphere of all the other sephirot above it, Malkuth gives tangible form to the other emanations. It is like the negative node of an electrical circuit. The divine energy comes down and finds its expression in this plane, and our purpose as human beings is to bring that energy back around the circuit again and up the Tree.

11. Da'at (The Invisible Sephirot)

It is the location (the mystical state) where all ten sephirot in the Tree of Life are united as one.

In Daat, all sefirot exist in their perfected state of infinite sharing. The three sephirot of the left column that would receive and conceal the Divine Light, instead share and reveal it. Since all sephirot radiate infinite self-giving Divine Light, it is no longer possible to distinguish one sefira from another. Thus they are one.

Da'at is not always depicted in representations of the Sefirot, and could in a sense be considered an "empty slot" into which the gem of any other sefirot can be placed. Properly, the Divine Light is always shining, but not all humans can see it. The concealment or revelation of the Divine Light shining through Daat does not actually happen in Daat itself. It only seems that way from the human perspective within Malkuth. The perception of change can only occur in Malkuth. Humans who become self-giving like the Light become able to see it, and for them the benefits of Daat's Light seem "revealed". However, humans who remain selfish cannot see it, and for them its benefits seem "hidden".

The spiritual state corresponding to the sephirah of Daat is that of yichud ("unification"). According to Hasidic philosophy via the Tanya, Daat is the third and last conscious power of intellect. But in this context, it is actually the Daat of the partzuf of Zer Anpin (not Daat proper of Adam Kadmon).

Zer Anpin refers to the 'personification' (partzuf) of six sephirot from Khesed to Yesod - and as a whole embodies its own ten sephirot and its own Daat. Zer Anpin personifies the revelation of the Torah and relates to the second level of the human soul called 'spirit' (ruakh), that corresponds to mental aspects, including reason and emotion.

Accordingly, Daat is associated in the soul with the powers of memory and concentration, powers which rely upon one's "recognition" (hakarah) of, and "sensitivity" (hergesh) to, the potential meaningfulness of those ideas generated in consciousness through the powers of chochmah ("wisdom") and binah ("understanding").

> In the old country there was a very poor, Jewish wagon driver. He worked day and night yet he could never save a penny. He could no longer bear coming home to his wife without any money, so he went to the Rebbe for help. The Rebbeâ€™s advise was: â€œBecome a maguidâ€� (A maguid went from town to town urging Jews to repent and strive harder in the ways of the Torah). â€œRebbe!â€� said the shocked wagon driver, â€œhow could I possible be a maguid, I have never spoken in public and I do not know anything!â€� The Rebbe told him: â€œResemble the honeybee and not the spider. The spider grabs and grabs and keeps everything for itself; the honeybee collects and gives everything awayâ€�. The wagon driver followed the Rebbeâ€™s advise, and in his work listened to what wise people said, then he gave it out as a maguid. Eventually he was successful and could feed his family and educate his children in the Torah ways.

ok after reading the new source code I feel that my "conciousness" as the cipher key thing may be a bit of a red herring so please don't spend any more time on it (unless of course through some synchronicty it's helping you crack it in another way).

Will have a further think about this myself and report back when I've had time to digest everything in the new source code and meditate on it for a while.

Looking forward to reading other anons input on this the ideas and concepts so far have been great!

Ok where do I begin?...

> IMMANENTIZE THE ESCHATON!

*which appears at the bottom of the source code here http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind1011001.html

Well apart from it being one of the lines of one of my all time favourite books "The Illuminatus Trilogy". basically it means this

> In political theory and theology, to immanentize the eschaton means trying to bring about the eschaton (the final, heaven-like stage of history) in the immanent world.

How would one go about achieving this? Well possibly by magick.

If you haven't done so already watch this now!

Now we all know that Grant Morrisons account 'The Invisibles' was a hyper sigil and as suggested earlier in this thread what if The Anonymous movement itself is a grand hyper sigil?

I think I was onto something earlier with my /b/ee rant as I had been talking about hermetic tradition and the symbolism of /b/ees. Well Grant Morrison it seems is also a fan of hermes as is suggested in the source code section about how to be a magician Part 2 states

> HOW TO CHAT UP GODS
> Accept this for the moment; there are Big Ideasin the world. They were Big before we were born and they'll still be big long after we're moldering. ANGER is one of those Big Ideas and LOVE is another one. Then there's FEAR and GUILT.
> So...to summon a god, one has only to concentrate on that god to the > exclusion of all other thought. Let's just say you wish to summon the Big Idea COMMUNICATION in the form of the god Hermes, so that he will grant you a silver-tongue.Hermes is the Greek personification of quick wit, art, and spelling and the qualities he represents were embodied by Classical artists in the symbol of an eternally swift and naked youth, fledged with tiny wings and dressed only in streamers of air. Hermes is a condensation into pictorial form - a sigil, in fact - of an easily recognizable default state of human consciousness. When our words and minds are nimble, when we conjure LAUGHTER[lulz? - anonamoose edit] from others,when we make poetry, we are in the real presence of Hermes. We are, in fact, possessed by the god.
> I am not suggesting that there is a real or even a ghostly, Platonic Mt Olympus where Hollywood deities sit around a magic pool watching the affairs of mortals and pausing only to leap down whenever one of "believes" in them hard enough. There may well be for all I know but it seems a complicated way to explain something quite simple. The truth is that there doesn't HAVE to be a Mt Olympus for you to encounter Hermes or something just like him using a different name. You don't even have to "believe" in Greek gods to summon any number of them.
> Hermes personifies a Big Idea and all you have to do is think him fervently and he'll appear so hard and so fast in your mind that you will know him instantly.
>
> People tend to become possessed by gods arbitrarily because they do not recognize them as such; a man can be overwhelmed with anger (the Greek god Ares), we can all be "beside ourselves" with passion (Aphrodite) or grief (Hades). in life we encounter these Big Ideas every day but we no longer use the word "god" to describe them. The magician consciously evokes these states and renames them gods in order to separate them from his or her Self, in order to study them and learn.
> You may wish to connect with Hermes if you're beginning a novel or giving a speech or simply want to entertain a new beau with your incredible repartee.

Within magick tradition it is also suggested that if you are to start summoning Gods Hermes is a good place to start as Grant Morrison himself recomends.

> However, I'd suggest starting first with Hermes, the god of Magic, in his guise as Ganesh. Ganesh is known as a smasher of obstacles and part of his complex is that he opens the way into the magical world, so it's always good to get his acquaintance first if you're serious about following a magical path.

As I stated earlier in this thread one of the 7 principals of hermetic tradition is the THE PRINCIPLE OF CORRESPONDENCE...Is the hivemind of Anonymous becoming knowingly/unknowingly an adept at this principal? is it intended to? through all Anon ops are we highlighting the duality of existence?, shining a light on it's oneness?

In Morrisons speech he shares with us an anecdote of how he came to be abducted by aliens. In this story he tells us how they shared with him the secrets of reality and the reason they told him was that they wanted him to go and tell the world by putting it in his work. ☺

It's important to watch the video to get a better sense of what was shared to him but a piece I picked up on was that within all of us, within each of our identities lie everyone else's identity. i.e. Where Gandhi ends, Hitler begins...where the personality of my nemesis stops, my personality begins. Consciousness is the key. Within us all is the light and the dark, without light there would be no dark without dark there would be no light. Lightness and darkness exist as a duality to show us they are one...embrace your shadow...

The idea of the hivemind would imply duality nah multiplicity as one uber duality lulz. In fact the very phrase "United as One Divided by Zero" certainly conjures that up in my mind

> Fatherhood is unity disguised as duality

Back to the /b/ees

In this picture we see

- The Eye in the Pyramid
- The Golden Ratio
- Mr Anonymous
- A bee

- Who watches the Watchmen
- The Tyler Durden quote

Ok I think we all know what the eye in the pyramid is meant to represent i.e, the all seeing eye, the eye of horus etc etc and for a lot of people out there it personifies evil. The symbol itself is a universal symbol representing spiritual sight, inner vision, higher knowledge, insight into occult mysteries...live...is there duality here?

Below it we see Mr Anonymous the antithesis of what the eye in the pyramid has come to represent in modern culture, yet as a character here they seem to exist as one, suggesting once again duality

From the eye in the pyramid/mr anonymous ("superhero") we see a golden Ratio spiral emmanating and following a course around to a picture of a /b/ee (remember the hermes stuff) as if showing a flightplan. The /b/ee also represents the principal of correspondence in this instance

> "as above, so below; as below so above" basically this tells us that things that seem quite different share attributes that are quite similar

And so it is with the /b/ee here, being a representation of the individual leaving the duality of the hivemind but possesing that duality itself only to return to the hive and become one again...are you following me so far?

Anyway, Remember earlier in this thread I talked of the /b/ees algorithm which can be used to figure out the most efficient and productive means to an end and drew the comparision to the actions of Anonymous and Phase 1 to date. i.e.

> the bees algorithm starts with the scout bees (n) being placed randomly in the search space. In step 2, the fitnesses of the sites visited by the scout bees are evaluated. In step 4, bees that have the highest fitnesses are chosen as “selected bees” and sites visited by them are chosen for neighbourhood search. Then, in steps 5 and 6, the algorithm conducts searches in the neighbourhood of the selected sites, assigning more bees to search near to the best e sites. The bees can be chosen directly according to the fitnesses associated with the sites they are visiting. Alternatively, the fitness values are used to determine the probability of the bees being selected. Searches in the neighbourhood of the best e sites which represent more promising solutions are made more detailed by recruiting more bees to follow them than the other selected bees. Together with scouting, this differential recruitment is a key operation of the Bees Algorithm

The Tyler Durden quote on this page also has a significance

> The people you are after are the people you depend on.
> We cook your meals,
> we haul your trash,
> we connect your calls,
> we drive your ambulances.
> We guard you while you sleep.
>
> So,
> DO NOT FUCK WITH US.

I view the above to be a representation of the daily activities of the /b/ees (us) we cook the meals, we haul the trash, we connect the calls, we drive the ambulances etc but more significantly the /b/ees for us in this instance ARE ALSO the eye in the pyramid and ARE mr anonymous aswell! (however for the moment the /b/ees are possibly not consciously recognizing this duality...although this /b/ee is beginning to ☺ )...

The above Fight Club quote also directly refers to part of Grant Morrisons speech at disinfo. Where he reminds the counter culture that we are the people who design the software, make the microchips, sell the brand and it is within our ability to HACK THE PLANET So...DON'T FUCK WITH US BECAUSE YOU WILL BE FUCKING WITH YOURSELF

In relation to "who watches the watchmen" well in realizing that our collective identities, whilst existing as dualities, are ultimately the same thing, the watchmen watch themselves! but for the sake of argument until the other watchmen realize this anonymous does ;0)

So then here's what I am beginning to think.

1. Anonymous is a superhero! (the reason being it is like one of Grant Morrisons super heroes) and our superpower is our multitude of personalities and part of that power is our collective skill in the virtual use of the principal of correspondence

2. Anonymous's birth is like that of a superhero and it is only starting to become self aware and conscious of it's own super powers (yes we have reached that arc in the storyline)

3. The pages on http://projectmayhem2012.org are clues to help us in this realization and also clues on how to encourage it. I believe the pictures on the site are not only clues but are sigils aswell. (or is it sygil? hehe you say cipher I say cypher)

4. We are being encouraged to begin the practice of magick to see what it reveals to us and what effect it physically has in our reality, particularly starting with sigil magick. (For those of us that do start our sigils maybe we can help here http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t1878-creating-a-symbol or maybe encourage all anons to create a sigil for what they want anonymous to achieve?)

5. Hermes is on our side and has been helping us, all anons can seek his help. particularly for the Lulz!

6. Anonymous may well be the result of a hypersigil which has taken on a life of it's own and which is now creating it's own sigils

7. Everyone on the planet wants the same thing, they just don't know it yet.

8. Computers are not being hacked here...minds are.

9. Question: What's the cipher that is not a cypher?
Answer: A sigil/sygil is a cipher that is not a cypher

10. The aim of projectmayhem is to....

IMMANENTIZE THE ESCHATON!!!! On love the 11:11 in the clock anyone else notice how that always seems to be the time when you look at a clock in the morning? Thing is I wonder if that's evening time? 23:23 Skidoo:Skidoo

I'm not entirely convinced this man is on our side. Self annihilitation in order to make reality a plaything accomplished what exactly? Summoning hyper-real personalities to empower you runs the very real risk of becoming a slave to the collective unconcious, or if you're unlucky about how reality actually works, something more real and much worse.

Why advocate universal god-hood unless it's actually universal slavery?

After all, we cannot all have what we all want at the same time. Smells like shit to me.

Except never. I always seem to wake up at 9:something then sleep until around noon. I hardly ever am even awake to see 11:11, and when I am awake during the time I don't actually see it.

You don't seem to understand what he's saying.

A bee is part of a hive, but that doesn't mean the bee isn't its own individual! Each of us are part of a collective or hivemind. We're part of our communities and we're part of this world, however we're also individuals.

As individuals, though, many of us still struggle to treat one another as equals. Many still fail to see that they ARE part of their hive or community just the same as any other individual. The guy who picks up your garbage or delivers your mail are extensions of yourself. They feel the same feelings and have the same hopes.

The purpose of an individual sigil is to turn yourself into the person YOU want to become. Visualize who you want to be and make it real. A hypersigil (like Anonymous) is meant to turn society into a collective entity of unique individuals who stand for freedom and human dignity.

If you embrace Anonymous, then you are turning yourself into a person who represents what Anonymous stands for. Therefore, you've used the hypersigil to become something different!

It's simply a tool to use in constructing your reality. I've used a personal sigil before to change myself and it actually works! It's very useful and inspiring.

So, this certainly isn't saying that everyone is going to suddenly become a mindless drone who won't be able to think outside of the collective! It's saying that your thoughts ARE PART of the collective and that YOU are part of the collective, so transform yourself into the individual you hope to become and then use that to benefit the collective.

I haven't used any sigils (yet) or have any experience with any kind of magic but I'll +1 to that nightingale. Makes sense to me too.

Amazing work and insights Anonamoose, thanks for your brainstorming!

I have found a short transcript of the beginning of Grant Morrison's video:

Fcsking mindblowing or what? In the rest of the video he actually explains how to do chaos magick! and the best thing is that it looks dead simple!

And I agree that, if we as a Hive Mind are really going to Change the World as a result of our actions, then it cannot simply be to take down some kings and to substitute them for others, "a-la-1789-French-Revolution".

A global change in CONSCIOUSNESS has to occur.

And yes, so-called-"magic" could be as simple as to begin to approach and see things in a different manner as we have always done.

Here is an extremely magical quote:

and yet another one:

I don't know how close or how far are you from solving the Enigma, but I will say that your intuitions just left me speechless Anonamoose. You just gave me LOTS of ideas to begin to imagine how this all could fit... after all, V for Vendetta has been written by a practicing Chaos Magician like Alan Moore and no doubt it is working, right?

No, I think I get it Nightingale. I get that sygils are effective and that hyper-reality is a powerful force. What I'm skeptical of is the spirit of the person(s) behind Project Mayhem 2012. I'm skeptical of the sort of un-prudent dabbling in magical hyper-realities.

Just take a look at the website. Does it look like the sort of non-violent revolution you're envisioning? Does it look like the orderly and peaceful world we hope to achieve? The author introdues Magik, introduces hyper-realities, and then encourages uninhibited individual power. Warns us of its power but encourages us to play around in it. To invite the hyper-realities into us. The spirit behind it is that of raw and avenging power. The hypersygil it is envoking upon us is not one we want to get sucked into.

The power of enigmas is that they make the riddlee focus on absorb the sygils. The feeling of carthartic revalation upon solving them engrains them in your subconcious as a pseudo truth. This sets the groundwork for sub-concious conditioning. Essentially, for seduction.

What I'm saying are that sygils are real. And incorporating the Project Mayhem sygils into the Anonymous hyper-sigil may be catostrophic. We've already adapted the Guy Fawkes mask into our hypersigil. Consider the ramifications of the power of that sygil alone. If unbalanced, it can seriously corrupt and destroy the positive of this movement.

We must be non-violent. We must fight with truth as our weapon. We must not be seduced by what this site is offering.

By the way, in the clues at it says:

> http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Invisibles#Say_You_Want_a_Revolution
> http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cyberia_(book)
> http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Virtual_Adepts

As I copy&pasted before from the Wikipedia article, The Invisibles is an hypersigil that actually points towards December 21st 2012, Project Mayhem 2012 date!

> During the Invisibles' battle with the Outer Church, Jack is told that he will be responsible for destroying the world on December 22, 2012.

So, I can't help to think that we, the Hive Mind, Anonymous as an hypersigil might be the "Virtual Adepts" or the cyber-hackers that the comic is talking about.

Incidentally, sooo much stuff to investigate, but I haven't begun to investigate about Douglas Rushkoff's Cyberia. It definitely must have to do with all this "mind hacking"/"reality hacking" as well.

The whole book is free and online here: http://www.voidspace.org.uk/cyberpunk/cyberia.shtml

> "Grant Morrison: Practicing magic is being grown-up and alive and contributing and participating in the dynamic involved evolution of this planet."

Sweeet!

ART IS THE WEAPON

I propose we begin to read the whole The Invisibles series!

I think I will just leave this link here.

Trying to actually immanetize the eschaton, that is, d]]to bring the Apocalypse to lies and to the corrupt governments and corporation[/b] can't be much worse than the current eschaton, already happening NOW:

Just found this, Alan Moore speaking on magic & ART as a weapon, same as Grant Morrison in the videos above.

> I think Moore nails it in the section from 5:00 to 6:10. For those who struggle with bandwidth, here's what he says:
> "Writers and people who had command of words were respected and feared as people who manipulated magic. In latter times I think that artists and writers have allowed themselves to be sold down the river. They have accepted the prevailing belief that art and writing are merely forms of entertainment. They're not seen as transformative forces, that can change a human being, that can change a society. They are seen as simple entertainment, things with which we could fill 20 minutes, half an hour, while we're waiting to die.
> It is not the job of artists to give the audience what the audience want. If the audience knew what they needed, then they wouldn't be the audience, they would be the artist. It is the job of artists to give the audience what they need."

He says he is a practicing chaos magician.

Well, we can't deny that Alan Moore's V for Vendetta hypersigil IS actually working, right? All of us, as a collective hive mind are the "proof", or, to put it another way, the empirical evidence required to build a scientific 'Theory of Consciousness'.

I got an extremely scientific mind, but I can't help to consider as a hypothesis: does magick work to affect Reality after all, just by playing with your Consciousness while producing works of ART with our collective IMAGINATION?

or, as the source code within pm2012.html says, IMAGINATION + ACTION = MAGICK ?

|=-------------------------------------------------------------------=|
|=------------------=[ ]=------------------=|
|=------------------=[ iMAGIne. aCKt. ]=------------------=|

i have read the entire section about sygils and thought: hey why not try it.

i have created my own sygil with a very specific desire of where the outcome should be apparent within max. 3 weeks. i created this sygil using a online sygil maker.

This is the result:

I already charged it too, u can guess how by reading the article related to sygils. lol

- was a bit hard though not to think about anything else but when the moment came i only saw the sygil, so i think i charged it right.

I shall keep u updated

@ Mr Razz I'm not sure how randomised, computer sygils will work because as I see it part of the creation of a sigil is the artistic act of putting pen to paper and manipulating the letters into such a fashion that they look magickal to you. However you did say you reckoned you charged it correctly so maybe they do work, if not try again with pen and paper and see if you get better results

@ Anonymouth thanks for your words of encouragement but I have to thank you for quite a few of the tangeants you sent me on. Wouldn't have thought of half the things I did if you didn't nudge me in that direction there really are some very interesting wiki's in the summer reads and I can't help but feel they are really quite close to many of the aspects that anonymous is and that it is evolving into @ ExEkill I don't believe that there is any threat in the project mayhem site towards anonymous from what I have seen so far. In fact the concepts contained therein are concepts shared herein. May I recomend that you have a read through the list of wiki's below which are contained in project mayhems source code as reference material to ease your concerns. Also I have had a good read through the website and no where do I see it endorsing any kind of violent action whatsoever...if you're worried about the word "Apocalypse" it's definition in this respect is "revelation" as opposed to any kind of physical destruction.

> apocalypse [əˈpɒkəlɪps]
> n
> 1. a prophetic disclosure or revelation
> 2. an event of great importance, violence, etc., like the events described in the Apocalypse > [color=red] apocalypsis, from Greek apokalupsis, from apokaluptein to disclose, from apo- + kaluptein to hide]

The impression I got is that the site is trying to emphasize postive conscious evolution and it is not putting forward it's own hyper sigil but holding up a mirror to the sigil that anonymous is, is in possesion of or is created from.

On top of this I don't feel the site is advocating people to practice magick without seriously contemplating the personal ramifications of it's use, rather it is just supplying information for them to decide for themselves if it is an area of knowledge they wish to investigate or not. I hope this eases your concerns as projectmayhem, in essence, seems to me to be just another anon op.

just noticed that in the picture with the declaration that this is highlighted in red. "That whenever any form of government becomes destructive to these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new government" =}.

also wondering if this coincides with the mayan calendar isnt there a chance it could end October 28 the Mayans may have counted leap year then again maybe not lol just a thought i will post in here if it worked lol, probably will take at least 2 weeks. will depend on the situation.

maybe i'll charge it again with another symbol if i feel like lol charging sygils is fun, haha

Fun Fact...

Each page of source code has 666 lines (Aleister Crowleys/Epic Trolls - number of the beast 😐 ...it's a good thing really, you have to have a sense of humour about these things 😃 ) which in turn, is taken from:

Yeah, that's actually taken from this poster:

This is getting exciting! I found that Aleister Crowley is featured in his 'Promethea' comic series, here in the bottom right corner, starting to tell a lie:

Also, I think the documentary that Anonamoose recommended before is GREAT! Thanks!

(you might have to login @ youtube as it needs "age of consent" but it's full and totally worth to watch it! I just did!
http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=rvcPVxzhTLQ )

I found this interview with Alan Moore where he actually speaks of Aleister Crowley and gives advice as to how to begin to practice magick! ☺

Aparently there's an upcoming book where he is going to explain it all:

"The book is intended to be "a clear and practical grimoire of the occult sciences," containing "profusely illustrated instructional essays" on theories of magic from c. 150AD to the present of the Moon & Serpent Grand Egyptian Theatre of Marvels sect, of whom Alan Moore is a dedicated follower."

Similar Moorean works

In additional to Steve Moore's lengthy association with Bob Rickard's UK publication Fortean Times, Alan Moore is no stranger to the world of magic. A self-proclaimed practicising magician (and self-professed worshipper of Roman glove puppet god Glycon[3]), Moore's ouvre includes several diversions into the realms of the magickal, including his America's Best Comics series Promethea, both a general meditation on magic in comics form and a specific guide to the 22 Major Arcana Tarot cards (issue #12), the Sephiroth (issue #14) and the entire Hermetic Qabalah (issues #13-25). Promethea featured appearances from such individuals as Dr. John Dee, Aleister Crowley, Austin Osman Spare and Jack Parsons, all of whom are likely to be covered in the Bumper Book of Magic.

Indeed, it has been suggested that much of A. Moore's recent output has to a greater or lesser extent been designed as magical rituals:

â€œ All of Moore's recent comics and other texts that are intended to function as magical "workings" or rituals, perform the work of making something metaphysically real though a work of imagination and communication, as with the culminatory "there because we say She is" that births the Angel Highbury at the end of his psychogeographic spoken-word piece, The Highbury Working > PÃ“M: Good. OK, next, a lot of questions about magic. A couple of people saying theyâ€™re interested in magic from reading about yourself and your own work and so on, and saying where should they start? What should they be reading, where should they be looking?

> Alan Moore: Well, I would say, the advice that Steve Moore gave me is to pick a god or, depending on how you look at it, let a god pick you. Some moment of recognition, something that â€“ an idea, a concept â€“ that you can explore. Obviously if theyâ€™re interested in magic then, what, Thoth, Hermes, Mercury, might be a good one, but theyâ€™ll find their own god, and itâ€™s sort of, itâ€™s a conceptual form that they can then explore and they can perhaps build up a kind of relationship with. In the Book of Magic weâ€™ll be talking about all of this.
> In terms of what books to read, I would say get a couple of decent books, get a good book on Qabalah, because basically all of the other magic systems, or the majority of them, do map very easily onto Qabalah. It was the system that the Golden Dawn based most of their rituals and grades upon, itâ€™s fairly central to understanding how magic kind of fits together. This is not the Madonna version of the Qabalah, this is, I mean, thereâ€™s a book by a guy called Will Parfitt called The Living Qabalah or The New Living Qabalah â€“ I think there was a couple of editions of it â€“ that is very lucid, and would give you at least some beginnerâ€™s information.

( I think I will leave this link here )

> Basically, whatâ€™s quite good advice is to just read any old rubbish, and cram your head full of a lot of mixed-up occult information and occult nonsense, which thereâ€™ll be a tremendous amount of, and just simply rely upon your own discrimination, your developing sense of discrimination to actually sort out what is valuable and what is not. Youâ€™ll find that having all these little ideas in your head, it helps to put your CONSCIOUSNESS into the right kind of areas, youâ€™ll find that youâ€™re considering new ideas, some of them youâ€™ll dismiss, some of them youâ€™ll perhaps find are valuable.

"Robert Anton Wilson (born Robert Edward Wilson, January 18, 1932 â€“ January 11, 2007), known to friends as "Bob", was an American author and polymath who became at various times a novelist, philosopher, psychologist, essayist, editor, playwright, futurist, civil libertarian[1] and self-described agnostic mystic. Recognized as an episkopos, pope, and saint of Discordianism, Wilson helped publicize the group through his writings, interviews, and strolls.
Wilson described his work as an "attempt to break down conditioned associations, to look at the world in a new way, with many models recognized as models or maps, and no one model elevated to the truth".[2] His goal being "to try to get people into a state of generalized agnosticism, not agnosticism about God alone but agnosticism about everything""

That doesnâ€™t mean it wonâ€™t affect things that happen in the real world, but that magic basically happens in the world of the mind.
>
> Promethea is not a bad place to find at least some of the rudiments of magic; thereâ€™s stuff about the four magical weapons and their importance.

This one looks amazing.

> Find your own way. I would advise, this is purely my taste, but I would advise not joining schools of belief, or organisations, or lodges, or cults. Thatâ€™s not to say that there isnâ€™t sometimes advantages to sharing your thoughts with other people, but what weâ€™re advising in the Book of Magic is, find a friend with the same interests. You donâ€™t need to buy into whatever ideas some magical lodge or organisation or cult has, because you can find yourself running into organisations where, you know, I mean, itâ€™s difficult enough sometimes to avoid, in this kind of territory, running into delusion, but itâ€™s better if you do, itâ€™s better that the delusions are your own, rather than those of a third party whoâ€™s imposing them upon his or her followers. So, itâ€™s best to try and make your own way, at least in my experience, itâ€™s best to try and make your own way.

> Read omnivorously, and youâ€™ll find that the books that you read will lead naturally to other books, some of which will be to your taste, some of which wonâ€™t. Or, wait a couple of years until The Moon and Serpent Bumper Book of Magic is out, and hopefully thatâ€™ll be your one-stop shop for all magical and occult information."

It's funny how at the same time, Alan Moore seems to be very scientifical about "magic" and has a "tongue-in-cheek" attitude towards it.

Yet, as we can all bear witness, there's no doubt his V for Vendetta hypersigil IS actually affecting Reality, right?

So, unless someone finally explains to all of us what CONSCIOUSNESS really is, I think it's definitely worth to approach this with an open mind, as there might be other paths down the 'cause-effect' route than the 'already known ones'.

ohhh well... that looks like plenty of summer FUN!

Hi people, first message!!

Amazing thread and www place!!! All right, I will not let my head crash out. There is plenty of time, I mean more than 500 days to deal with this enigma.

One step, then another. And, as far I've realized, knowledge, specially hidden or ermetic knowledge, is not something you can take in a straight way; cause you need time to go and to return; one day you will learn the word, the next time you should see where this word is pointing at, the next time you will reach the target which will be added to the stair... moving on and backwards like waves on the sea...

So, I don't know if what I'm going to add is said before, or even if it is usefull, 8 pages so populated of information are difficult to diggest:

***

> http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind.html

And then, from these days on, the hives growing up page by page naming *hivemind*plus the fibonacci sequence codified in binary terms:

> http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind.html
> ______________________________hivemind1.html
> ______________________________hivemind10.html
> ______________________________hivemind11.html
> ______________________________hivemind101.html
> ______________________________hivemind1000.html
> ______________________________hivemind1101.html
> ______________________________hivemind100010.html
> ______________________________hivemind110111.html
> ______________________________hivemind1011001.html

so, translating into decimal numbers:

> http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind.html
> ______________________________hivemind1.html
> ______________________________hivemind2.html
> ______________________________hivemind3.html
> ______________________________hivemind5.html
> ______________________________hivemind8.html
> ______________________________hivemind13.html
> ______________________________hivemind21.html
> ______________________________hivemind34.html
> ______________________________hivemind55.html

I guess we won't need to wait for finding a new link. May be possible to try, i.e.,

> ___________________________hivemind89.html

if codified in binary terms.

Question: Anyone knows which is the last number of the serie? How big is the hivemind?
Of course, there is no end.

***

Then, another thing, each hive has two parts, one is visible as you load the page with a browser, the other is hidden under the code.

Isn't that as Matrix? Above the illusion, underneath the mistery!!!

All right! I think I'll look for an unhacking Project Mayhem 2012 team. As each hive is finite, may construct a little guide of the keys revealed in each one. Anyone joins the team? We can be sure, as I've read in previous posts, they are watching us here: let's make them write in the web our message or, at least, our path!!

That's my first post. Tomorrow's my birthday, I will be 33 years old... no hurry, just finding the others and growing up conciesness through lights and darkness... greatings!!

Great idea, count me in, I'm going to use this post as a kind of short intro for newcomers regarding magic, Alan Moore and Anonymous.

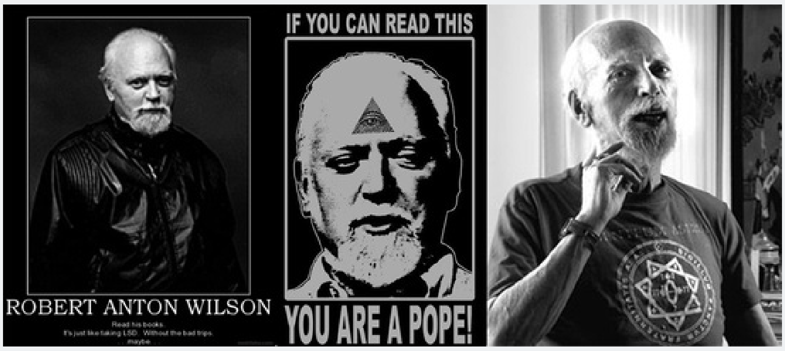
Fscking deeply brainsturbating indeed, huh?

Well, not a movie but I'm goig to try my best. Let's see!

First of all, I noticed something in this Robert Anton Wilson's picture:



ROBERT ANTON WILSON
Read his books.
It's just like taking LSD. Without the bad trips.
maybe.
IF YOU CAN READ THIS
YOU ARE A POPE!

He has got a sigil in his t-shirt!

So, what's that?

I found this:

It's Aleister Crowley's Babalon sigil. Yes, Aleister Crowley's. Again.

Babalon in the Book of Lies

The 49th chapter of Crowley's Book of Lies, called "Waratah-Blossoms", is dedicated to Babalon:

Seven are the veils of the dancing-girl in the harem of IT.
Seven are the names, and seven are the lamps beside Her bed.
Seven eunuchs guard Her with drawn swords; No Man may come nigh unto Her.
In Her wine-cup are seven streams of the blood of the Seven Spirits of God.
Seven are the heads of THE BEAST whereon She rideth.
The head of an Angel: the head of a Saint: the head of a Poet: the head of An Adulterous Woman: the head of a Man of Valour: the head of a Satyr:
and the head of a Lion-Serpent.
Seven letters hath Her holiest name; and it is

This is the Seal upon the Ring that is on the Forefinger of IT: and it is the Seal upon the Tombs of them whom She hath slain.
Here is Wisdom. Let Him that hath Understanding count the Number of Our Lady; for it is the Number of a Woman; and Her Number is An Hundred and Fifty and Six.

Source: http://www.thelemapedia.org/index.php/Babalon

"The Aâˆ´Aâˆ´ is a magical order that Aleister Crowley created in 1907 after leaving the Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn. The acronym, Aâˆ´Aâˆ´, has been attributed many meanings. The order is a Thelemic magical fraternity, the goals of which are the pursuit of light and knowledge.

Its motto is: "The method of SCIENCE, the aim of religion."

The holy book of the order is Liber AL vel Legis (in English, The Book of the Law). While the Aâˆ´Aâˆ´ is not part of Ordo Templi Orientis, O.T.O. does consider the Aâˆ´Aâˆ´ to be a close ally."

Source: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/A%E2%88%B4A%E2%88%B4

This is Astrum Argentum's system, explained step-by-step:

Free download: http://www.scribd.com/doc/28458097/The-Mystical-and-Magical-System-of-the-A-A-Eshelman-James-A

And these are Alan Moore's views on magicK:

"I was too naive when I wrote V for Vendetta,
I had assumed it would take something like a near miss nuclear war, that people would have to be beaten and brutalized into fascism.

This was before Thatcher, we'll be lead into fascism with one gold ring through our nose, and another through our scrotum."

"Alan mentioned how on his 40th birthday, admittedly while slightly inebriated, he decided he was a magician.
This was to bridge the divide between the aforementioned and other disciplines.

He has been quoted as saying:

"I believe that MAGIC is Art, and that Art, whether that be music, writing, sculpture,or any other form, is literally MAGIC.

Art is, like MAGIC, the SCIENCE of manipulating SYMBOLS, words or images, to achieve CHANGES in CONSCIOUSNESS.

Indeed to cast a spell is simply to spell, to manipulate words, to change people's consciousness, and this is why I believe that an artist or writer is the closest thing in the contemporary world to a shaman."

"Taking up the study of the Qabalah and the writings of the notorious early 20th century occultist Aleister Crowley, Moore accepted Crowley's Thelemite ideas about True Will being connected to the will of the pantheistic universe."

"If you take science back far enough it becomes MAGIC.
There's a danger of losing the poetry of science.

I just think Art and MAGIC and science should make up and be friends, especially when lots of people think the world was made 6,000 years ago and dinosaur bones were put there to test the faith of nineteenth century palaeontologists."
Art and writing are not seen as transformative forces that can change a human being; that can change a society.
Alan Moore. Kaos Magician.

Maybe it all requires a slight change in peoples CONSCIOUSNESS to actually change the world for the better?

To help us all to finally WAKE UP from this simulated reality/Matrix/dream/whatever, as in The Plan introductory video from Waking Life, right?

Maybe us all, as Anonymous, are that META-hypersigil of sorts that finally connects all the magical hypersigils done in the past by other artists/writers/painters/magicians?

Actually, we can't deny that Alan Moore's V for Vendetta hypersigil IS actually working, right NAO, with all of US being part of this, right?

Mindfuckingblowing yeah!

Prediction correct, 89 is up http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind1011001.html

My Guess is Robert Lulzen is a twist on Robert Paulsen from Fight Club. I didn't notice 'Forever Alone' in the upper right at first.

Magical paradigm shifting

Perhaps the most striking feature of chaos magic is the concept of the magical paradigm shift. Borrowing a term from philosopher Thomas Samuel Kuhn, Carroll made the technique of arbitrarily changing one's world view (or paradigm) of magic, a major concept of chaos magic. An example of a magical paradigm shift is doing a Lovecraftian rite, followed by using a technique from an Edred Thorsson book in the following ritual. These two magical paradigms are very different, but while the individual is using one, he or she believes in it fully to the extent of ignoring all other (often contradictory) ones. The shifting of magical paradigms has since found its way into the magical work of practitioners of many other magical traditions, but chaos magic remains the field where it is most developed. Changing belief systems at will is also sometimes practiced by followers of Discordianism. Some chaos magicians like to operate in what is sometimes called a META-PARADIGM.

This is much akin to syncretism but with the consideration that flexibility of belief is a means of personal power and freedom. A more or less syncretic reality tunneling. Even more removed from this, being a post-meta-paradigmatic view, or an abstention from the notion of any view being absolute, compare Nietzsche's Perspectivism. [edit]Belief as a tool Chaos magic claims that belief can be an active magical force. It emphasizes flexibility of belief and the ability to consciously choose one's beliefs, hoping to apply belief as a tool rather than seeing it as a relatively unchanging part of one's personality. Various psychological techniques are employed in order to induce flexibility of belief.

Other chaos magicians suggest that PEOPLE DO NOT NEED "BELIEF" TO WORK MAGIC. Austin Osman Spare asserts in the Book of Pleasure and various other works that Will formulates Desire which promulgates Belief.

Emphasis on creative ritualism

Emphasis on creative ritualism and innovation of ritual take place in all magical and religious traditions at varying paces. In the case of chaos magic, the idea that belief systems and gnosis-inducing techniques are interchangeable has led to a particularly wide variety of magical practices evidenced in large and diverse directories of rituals.

Many authors explicitly encourage readers TO INVENT THEIR OWN MAGICAL STYLE. "

How to Be a Chaos Magician in Extremely Simple Easy steps:

POP MAGIC! by Grant Morrison.

POP MAGIC! is Magic! for the People. Pop Magic! is Naked Magic! Pop Magic! lifts the 7 veils and shows you the tits of the Infinite.

PART ONE

THINKING ABOUT IT

All you need to begin the practice of magic is concentration, IMAGINATION and the ability to LAUGH AT YOURSELF and learn from mistakes. Some people like to dress up as Egyptians or monks to get themselves in the mood; others wear animal masks or Barbarella costumes. The use of ritual paraphernalia functions as an aid to the IMAGINATION only.

Anything you can IMAGINE, anything you can symbolize, can be made to produce magical changes in your environment.

FIRST STEPS ON THE PATH

Magic is easy to do. Dozens of rulebooks and instruction manuals are available in the occult or "mind, body and spirit" sections of most modern bookstores. Many of the older manuals were written during times when a powerful and vindictive Church apparatus was attempting to suppress all roads to the truth but most of them are generally so heavily encoded and disguised behind arcane symbol systems that it's hardly worth the bother - except for an idea of how other people used THEIR imaginative powers to interpret non-ordinary contacts and communications.

Aleister Crowley - magic's Picasso - wrote this and I can't imagine say it any better than he did:

"In this book it is spoken of the sephiroth and the paths, of spirits and conjurations, of gods, spheres, and planes and many other things which may or may not exist. It is immaterial whether they exist or not. By doing certain things, certain results follow; students are most earnestly warned against attributing objective reality or philosophical validity to any of them."

This is the most important rule of all which is why it's here at the start. As you continue to learn and develop your own psychocosms and styles of magical practice, as you encounter stranger and stranger denizens of the Hellworlds and Hyperworlds, you'll come back to these words of wisdom again and again with a fresh understanding each time.

HOW TO BE A MAGICIAN

Simple. Declare yourself a magician, behave like a magician, practice magic every day.

Be honest about your progress, your successes and failures. Tripping on 500 mushrooms might loosen your astral sphincter a little but it will not generally confer upon you any of the benefits of the magic I'm discussing here. Magic is about what you bring BACK from the Shining

Realms of the Uberconscious. The magician dives into the Immense Other in search of tips and hints and treasures s/he can bring home to enrich life in the solid world. And, if necessary, Fake it till you make it.

HOW TO BE A MAGICIAN 2

Read lots of books on the subject to get in the mood. Talking about magic with non-magicians is like talking to virgins about shagging. Reading about magic is like reading about sex: it will get you horny for the real thing but it won't give you nearly as much fun.

Reading will give you a feel for what's crap and what can be usefully adapted to your own style. Develop discrimination. Don't buy into cults, aliens, paranoia, or complacency. Learn whom to trust and whom to steer clear of.

HOW TO BE A MAGICIAN 3

Put down the books, stop making excuses, and START.

MAGICAL CONSCIOUSNESS

Magical consciousness is a particular way of seeing and interacting with the real world. I experience it was what I can only describe as a "head-click", a feeling of absolute certainty accompanying a perceptual shift which gives real world transactions the numinous, uncanny feeling of dreams. Magical consciousness is a way of experiencing and participating with the local environment in a heightened, significant manner, similar to the effects of some drug trips, Salvador Dali's "Paranoiac/critical" method, near death experiences, etc. Many apparently precognitive and telepathic latencies become more active during periods of magical consciousness. This is the state in which tea leaves are read, curses are cast, goals are scores, poems are written.

EXPERIMENT:

As a first exercise in magical consciousness spend five minutes looking at everything around you as if ALL OF IT was trying to tell you something very important. How did that light bulb come to be here exactly? Why does the murder victim in the newspaper have the same unusual surname as your father-in-law? Why did the phone ring, just at that moment and what were you thinking when it did?

What's that water stain on the wall of the building opposite? How does it make you feel?

Five minutes of focus during which everything is significant, everything is luminous and heavy with meaning, like the objects seen in dreams.

Go.

EXPERIMENT:

Next, relax, go for a walk and interpret everything you see on the way as a message from the Infinite to you. Watch for patterns in the flight of birds. Make oracular sentences from the letters on car number plates. Look at the way buildings move against the skyline. Pay attention to noises on the streets, graffiti sigils, voices cut into rapid, almost subliminal commands and pleas. Listen between the lines. Walk as far and for as long as you feel comfortable in this open state. The more aimless, the more you walk for pleasure of pure experience, the further into magical consciousness you will be immersed.

Magical consciousness resembles states of light meditation, "hypnagogic" pre-sleep trance of alpha wave brain activity.

APPLIED MAGIC

Is about making things happen and performing the necessary experiments. In these endeavors we do not need to know HOW magic works, only that it does. We prove this by doing the work, recording the results and sharing our information with other magicians. Theoretical magic is all the mad ideas you come up with to explain what's happening to you. Applied magic is what makes them happen.

THE MAGICAL RECORD

Always keep a journal of your experiments. It's easy to forget things you've done or to miss interesting little connections and correspondences. Make a note of everything, from the intent to the fulfillment. Make a note of dates, times, moods, successes and failures.

Study YOURSELF the way a hunter studies prey. Exploit your own weaknesses to create desired changes within yourself.

BANISHING

Banishing is a way of preparing a space for ritual use. There are many elaborate banishing rituals available, ranging across the full spectrum of pomposity. Think of banishing as the installation of virus protection software. The banishing is a kind of vaccination against infection from Beyond.

Most banishings are intended to surround the magician with an impenetrable shield of will. This usually takes the form of an acknowledgement of the elemental powers at the four cardinal points of the compass. Some like to visualize themselves surrounded and protected by columns of light or by four angels. Any protective image will do - spaceships, superheroes, warrior-monks, whatever. I don't bother with any of that and usually visualize a bubble radiating outwards from my body into space all around above and below me as far as I think I'll need it.

Why the need for protection?

Remember that you may be opening some part of yourself to an influx of information from "non-ordinary", apparently "Other" sources. If you practice ceremonial magic and attempt to summon godforms or spirits things will undoubtedly happen. Your foundations will be tested. There is always the danger of obsession and madness. As magical work progresses, you will be forces into confrontation with your deepest darkest fears and desires. It's easy to become scared, paranoid, and stupid. Stay fluid, cling to no one self-image and maintain your sense of humor at al times. Genuine LAUGHTER is the most effective banishing ritual available.

Banishing reminds you that no matter how many gods you talk to, no matter how many fluorescent realms you visit, you still have to come home, take a shit, be able to cook dinner, water the plants and, most importantly, talk to people without scaring them.

When you complete any magical work, ground yourself with a good LAUGH, a good meal, good shag, a run or anything else that connects you with the mundane world. Banishing after your ritual is over works as a decompression back into the normal world of bills and bus stops and job satisfaction. The magician's job is not to get lost in the Otherworld but to bring back its treasures for everyone to play with.

SIGILS

In the Pop Magic! style, the sigil (sij-ill) is the first and one of the most effective of all the weapons in the arsenal of any modern magician.

The sigil technique was reconceptualized and modernized by Austin Osman Spare in the early 20th century and popularized by Chaos Magicians and Thee Temple ov Psychic Youth in the 19 hundred and 80s.

A sigil is a magically charged symbol like this one:

The sigil takes a magical desire or intent - let's say "IT IS MY DESIRE TO BE A GREAT ACTOR" (you can, of course, put any desire you want in there) and folds it down, creating a highly-charged symbol. The desire is then forgotten. Only the symbol remains and can then be charged to full potency when the magician chooses.

Forgetting the desire in its verbal form can be difficult if you've started too ambitiously. There is no point charging a sigil to win the lottery if you don't buy a ticket. Start with stuff that's not too emotionally involving.

I usually sigilize to meet people I'm interested in, or for particular qualities I'll need in a given situation. I've also used sigils for healing, for locating lost objects and for mass global change. I've been using them for 20 years and they ALWAYS work.

For me the period between launching the sigil and its manifestation as a real world event is usually 3 days, 3 weeks, or 3 months depending on the variables involved.

I repeat: sigils ALWAYS work.

So. Begin your desire's transformation into pure throbbing symbol in the following fashion:

First remove the vowels and the repeating letters to leave a string of consonants - TSMYDRBGC.

Now start squashing the string down, throwing out or combining lines and playing with the letters until only an appropriately witchy-looking glyph is left. When you're satisfied it's done, you may wind up with something like this:

Most homemade sigils look a little spooky or alien - like UFO writing or witchy wall-scratchings. There are no rules as to how your sigil should look as long as it WORKS for you. RESULTS ONLY are important at this stage. If something doesn't work, try something else. The point is not to BELIEVE in magic, the point is to DO it and see how it works. This is not religion and blind faith plays no part.

Charging and launching your sigil is the fun part (it's often advisable to make up a bunch of sigils and charge them up later when you've forgotten what they originally represented).

Now, most of us find it difficult at first to maintain the precise Zen-like concentration necessary to work large-scale magic. This concentration can be learned with time and effort but in the meantime, sigils make it easy to sidestep years of training and achieve instant success. To charge our sigil you must concentrate on its shape, and hold that form in your mind as you evacuate all other thoughts.

Almost impossible, you might say, but the human body has various mechanisms for inducing brief "no-mind" states. Fasting, spinning, intense exhaustion, fear, sex, the flight or fight response; all will do the trick. I have charged sigils while bungee jumping, lying dying in a hospital bed, experiencing a total solar eclipse and dancing to Techno. All of these methods proved to be highly effective but for the eager beginner nothing beats the WANK TECHNIQUE.

Some non-magicians, I've noticed convulse with nervous laughter whenever I mention the world "masturbation" (and no wonder; next to wetting the bed or shitting in your own cat's box for a laugh, it's the one thing no-one likes to admit to).

Be that as it may, magical masturbation is actually more fun and equally, more serious, than the secular hand shandy, and all it requires is this: at the moment of orgasm, you must see the image of your chosen sigil blazing before the eyes in your mind and project it outwards into the ethereal mediaspheres and logoverses where desires swarm and condense into flesh. The sigil can be written on paper, on your hand or your chest, on the forehead of a lover or wherever you think it will be most effective.

At the white-hot instant of orgasm, consciousness blinks. Into this blink, this abyssal crack in perception, a sigil can be launched.

Masturbation is only ONE of countless methods you can use to bring your mental chatter to a standstill for the split-second it takes to charge and launch a sigil. I suggest masturbation because I'm kind-hearted, because it's convenient and because it's fun for most of us.

However...one does not change the universe simply by masturbating (tell THAT to the millions of sperm fighting for their life and the future of the species in a balled up Kleenex). If that were true, every vague fantasy we had in our heads at the moment of orgasm would come true within months. Intent is what makes the difference here.

Forget the wanking for just one moment if you can and remember that the sigil is the important part of the magic being performed here. The moment of orgasm will clear your mind, that's all. There are numerous other ways to clear your mind and you can use any of them. Dancing or spinning to exhaustion is very effective. Meditation is effective but it takes years to learn properly. Fear and shock are very good for charging sigils, so you could probably watch a scary movie and launch your sigil at the bit where the hero's head comes bouncing down the aluminum stepladder into his girlfriend's lap. A run around the block clutching a sigil might be enough to charge it, so why not experiment?

Try launching your sigil while performing a Bungee jump from a bridge, perhaps, or sit naked in your local graveyard at night. Or dance until you fall over. The important thing is to find your own best method for stopping that inner chat just long enough to launch a fiercely visualized, flaming ultraviolet sigil into the gap. States of exhaustion following any intense arousal or deprivation are ideal.

And if you experiment and still have trouble with sigils, try some of the other beginner exercises for a while. I've met a couple of people who've told me they can't make sigils work so maybe there are a few of you out there who genuinely have problems in this particular area. Tough luck but it doesn't mean there's no magic for you to play with. I couldn't wheeze "twinkle twinkle little star..." out of a clarinet but I can play the guitar well enough to have written hundreds of fabulous songs. If I'd stuck with the clarinet and got nowhere would that mean there is no such thing as music? Or world it indicate simply that I have an aptitude for playing the guitar which I can't seem to replicate using a clarinet? If I want to make MUSIC I use the instrument I'm most comfortable and accomplished with. The same is true for magical practice. Don't get uptight about it. This is not about defending a belief system, this is about producing results.

USE ONLY WHAT WORKS.

SIGILS: DISPOSAL

Some people keep their sigils, some dispose of them in an element appropriate to the magician's intent (I have burned, buried, flushed away and scattered sigils to the winds, depending on how I felt about them. Love-sigils went to water, flushed down the toilet or thrown into rivers or boiled in kettles. War-sigils were burned, etc... Some of my sigils are still around because I decided they were slow-burners and worth keeping. Some are even still in print. Do what feels right and produces results)

Soiled paper and tissues can easily be disposed of in your mum's purse or the pocket of dad's raincoat.

VIRAL SIGILS

The viral sigil also known as the BRAND or LOGO is not of recent development (see "Christianity," "the Nazis" and any flag of any nation) but has become an inescapable global phenomenon in recent years. It's easy to see the Nazi movement as the last gasp of Imperial Age thinking; the visionary savages still thought world domination meant tramping over the "enemy" and seizing his real estate. If only they'd had the foresight to see that global domination has nothing to do with turf and everything to do with media they would have anticipated corporate stealth-violence methods and combined them with their undoubted design sense; the rejected artists who engineered the Third Reich might have created the 10th century's first global superbrand and spared the lives of many potential consumers. The McDonald's Golden Arches, the Nike swoosh and the Virgin autograph are all corporate viral sigils.

Corporate sigils are super-breeders. They attack unbranded imaginative space. They invade Red Square, they infest the cranky streets of Tibet, they etch themselves into hairstyles. They breed across clothing, turning people into advertising hoardings. They are a very powerful development in the history of sigil magic, which dates back to the first bison drawn on the first cave wall.

The logo or brand, like any sigil, is a condensation, a compressed, symbolic summoning up of the world of desire which the corporation intends to represent. The logo is the only visible sign of the corporate intelligence seething behind it. Walt Disney died long ago but his sigil, that familiar, cartoonish signature, persists, carrying its own vast weight of meanings, associations, nostalgia and significance.
People are born and grow up to become Disney executives, mouthing jargon and the credo of a living corporate entity. Walt Disney the man is long dead and frozen (or so folk myth would have it) but Disney, the immense invisible corporate egregore persists.

Corporate entities are worth studying and can teach the observant magician much about what we really mean when we use the word "magic". They and other ghosts like them rule the world of the early 21st century.

EXPERIMENT:

Think hard about why the Coca-Cola spirit is stronger than the Dr. Pepper spirit (what great complex of ideas, longings and deficiencies has the Coke logo succeeded in condensing into two words, two colors, taking Orwell's 1984 concept of Newspeak to its logical conclusion?).
Watch the habits of the world's great corporate predators like FOX, MICROSOFT, or AOL TIME WARNER. Track their movements over time, observe their feeding habits and methods of predation, monitor their repeated behaviors and note how they react to change and novelty. Learn how to imitate them, steal their successful strategies and use them as your own. Form your own limited company or corporation; it's fairly easy to do with some paperwork and a small amount of money. Create your own brand, your own logo and see how quickly you can make it spread and interact with other corporate entities.

Build your own god and set it loose.

HYPERSIGILS

The "hypersigil" or "supersigil" develops the sigil concept beyond the static image and incorporates elements such as characterization, drama, and plot. The hypersigil is a sigil extended through the fourth dimension. My own comic book series The Invisibles was a six-year long sigil in the form of an occult adventure story which consumed and recreated my life during the period of its composition and execution.
The hypersigil is an immensely powerful and sometimes dangerous method for actually altering reality in accordance with intent. Results can be remarkable and shocking.

EXPERIMENT:

After becoming familiar with the traditional sigil method, see if you can create your own hypersigil. The hypersigil can take the form of a poem, a story, a song, a dance or any other extended artistic activity you wish to try. This is a newly developed technology so the parameters remain to be explored. It is important to become utterly absorbed in the hypersigil as it unfolds this requires a high degree of absorption and concentration (which can lead to obsession but so what? You can always banish at the end) like most works of art. The hypersigil is a dynamic miniature model of the magician's universe, a hologram, microcosm or "voodoo doll" which can be manipulated in real time to produce changes in the macrocosmic environment of "real" life.

PART 2

HOW TO CHAT UP GODS

Accept this for the moment; there are Big Ideas in the world. They were Big before we were born and they'll still be big long after we're moldering. ANGER is one of those Big Ideas and LOVE is another one. Then there's FEAR and GUILT.

So...to summon a god, one has only to concentrate on that god to the exclusion of all other thought. Let's just say you wish to summon the Big Idea COMMUNICATION in the form of the god Hermes, so that he will grant you a silver-tongue. Hermes is the Greek personification of quick wit, art, and spelling and the qualities he represents were embodied by Classical artists in the symbol of an eternally swift and naked youth, fledged with tiny wings and dressed only in streamers of air. Hermes is a condensation into pictorial form - a sigil, in fact - of an easily recognizable default state of human consciousness. When our words and minds are nimble, when we conjure LAUGHTER from others, when we make poetry, we are in the real presence of Hermes. We are, in fact, possessed by the god.

I am not suggesting that there is a real or even a ghostly, Platonic Mt Olympus where Hollywood deities sit around a magic pool watching the affairs of mortals and pausing only to leap down whenever one of "believes" in them hard enough. There may well be for all I know but it seems a complicated way to explain something quite simple. The truth is that there doesn't HAVE to be a Mt Olympus for you to encounter Hermes or something just like him using a different name. You don't even have to "believe" in Greek gods to summon any number of them. Hermes personifies a Big Idea and all you have to do is think him fervently and he'll appear so hard and so fast in your mind that you will know him instantly.

People tend to become possessed by gods arbitrarily because they do not recognize them as such; a man can be overwhelmed with anger

Greek god Ares), we can all be "beside ourselves" with passion (Aphrodite) or grief (Hades). in life we encounter these Big Ideas every day but we no longer use the word "god" to describe them. The magician consciously evokes these states and renames them gods in order to separate them from his or her Self, in order to study them and learn.

You may wish to connect with Hermes if you're beginning a novel or giving a speech or simply want to entertain a new beau with your incredible repartee.

HOW MANY HERMES?

The form the Big Idea takes depends upon your tradition or desire. The beautiful electric youth of the Greeks is a well-known image in Western cultures, having been appropriated by everything from Golden Age FLASH comics to the logo of the INTERFLORA chain of florists. Other cultures personify speed, wit, and illusion slightly differently but the basic complex of ideas remains the same world-wide: velocity, words, writing, magic, trickery, cleverness, and all the qualities we would associate with Hermes, but in India this Big Idea is embodied not as a tin-hatted swift runner but as a plump youth with an elephant head and a broken tusk with which he writes the ongoing story of the universe. This is Ganesh, the scribe of the Hindu pantheon.

In Egypt, the same Big Idea is called Thoth, who created the symbols on the Tarot deck. In the Icelandic tradition, Odin or Wotan is the Lord of Lightning and communications. Like VDUs we stare at every day, Wotan is one-eyed and on his shoulders sit the ravens Thought and Memory who bring him instantaneous data from around the world. He can be very handy in this form, if you need to discipline an unruly PC.

Hermes, Mercury, Odin, Ganesh, Thoth, all these names represent variant embodiments on themes of Communication and speed.

Reductionists may come to an understanding of magic by considering "Mount Olympus" as a metaphor for the collective Human head.

EXPERIMENT:

Pick a traditional god or demon from a book on magic or mythology and learn all you can about your chosen subject. I suggest you start with a benign deity unless you're stupid or hard and want to get into some nasty dirty psychic business, in which case pick a demon from one of the medieval grimoires and hope you're strong enough to handle the intense negative feelings "demons" embody.

However, I'd suggest starting first with Hermes, the god of Magic, in his guise as Ganesh. Ganesh is known as a smasher of obstacles and part of his complex is that he opens the way into the magical world, so it's always good to get his acquaintance first if you're serious about following a magical path.

Call fervently upon Hermes. Luxuriate in his attributes. Drink coffee or Red Bull in his name or take a line of speed, depending on your levels of drug abuse. Fill your head with speedy images of jet planes, jet cars, and bullet trains. Play "Ray of Light" by Madonna and call down Hermes. Surround yourself with FLASH comics and call down Hermes.

Tell him how every wonderful he is in your own words, and then call him into yourself, building a bridge between your own ever-growing feelings of brilliance and the descending energies of the Big Idea.

The arrival of the god will be unmistakable: you should experience a sense of presence or even mild possession (remember what this MEANS; we are "possessed" by Venus when LOVE destroys our reason. We are all possessed by Mars when ANGER blinds us. Learn to recognize the specific feelings which the word "possession" describes. This will allow you to study your chosen Big Idea and its effects on the human nervous system at close quarters without becoming too frightened or emotionally overwhelmed.)

You may here a distinct voice inside your head which seems to have a strange-yet-familiar quality of "Otherness" or separateness. Ask questions and make note of the replies in your head. Remember anything specific you hear and write it down no matter how strange it seems.
Maintain the sense of contact, question and response for as long as you're able and see what you can learn.

Remember, Hermes is a trickster also and has a love of language and games, so be prepared for clever wordplay and riddles when you contact this Big Idea. Sometimes the rapid torrent of puns and jokes can seem like a nightmare of fractal iterations but if you're going to play with Hermes, be ready to think fast and impress with your wit.

If, on the other hand, there's only a faint hint of unearthly presence or none at all, don't worry. Try again with Ganesh, Odin or a god you feel more in tune with. Keep doing the experiment until you succeed in generating the required state of mind. It's not difficult; if you can make yourself Angry or Sad or Happy just by thinking about something (and most of us can), then you are already capable of summoning gods and Big Ideas.

DEMONS ARE...

No more, no less than the way you feel inside after you've been dumped by a beloved or exposed by one's peers as a freak or any of the other negative value defaults we have access to as human beings. Hell is ONLY the Cringe Eternal and the Place of Our Self's Undoing. When Nietzche proclaimed "God is dead!" he forgot to add that Satan is also dead and we are Free from all that antique tat.

EXPERIMENT:

Use the techniques you've learned to summon classical gods and demons and apply them to beings you KNOW for sure can't be real, like Jack Kirby's comic book gods, HP Lovecraft's Cthulhu Mythos monsters, Pokemon characters, or Clive Barker's Cenobites. You will discover that you can evoke any of these outlandish characters to physical appearance. In place of Hermes, the messenger god, it's possible to summon the same complex in quite another different cultural drag - I advise at least one invocation of the speedy mercurial force of Hermes in the form of Metron, the computer-like intellectual explorer from Jack Kirby's New Gods comic books. I've had a great deal of success contacting the Kirby Gods, including a memorable encounter with the Big Idea of Righteous Anger in its aspect as "Orion" on the endless, cosmic battlefields of the Fourth World. Summon warrior strength and martial energy in the form of Orion by surrounding yourself with images from Kirby comics, by playing "Mars" from the Planets Suite" or the Beatles "Revolution #9" or simply the sounds of gunfire and bombs from a special effects record.

Summon James Bond before a date by playing the themes to Goldfinger and Thunderball while dressing in a tuxedo.

Or try summoning Dionysus, god of creative delirium, in his Trickster aspect, as Ace Ventura, Pet Detective from the Jim Carrey films - surround yourself with your own pets or toy animals, play the movies, imitate the actor's distinctive moves and use them to formulate a physical sigil which you can enact within in your designated ritual space. Do this until you BECOME Dionysus as Ace Ventura. Record what happens to your sense of self and think of ways to use these new "godlike" qualities you have summoned into yourself (or brought forth from your "subconscious" depending on which model you choose to explain your experiences).

Think of these new qualities or gods as applications and upload them when you need to use them. The more you run the application the more convincing and intrinsic to Self it seems to become. This is why actors sometime find it difficult to "come down" from roles and why magicians often feel possessed by gods or demons. Applications are being run.

You will soon realize that gods are "qualities" or default states of consciousness available to everyone.

With much practice you will become proficient at accessing these states yourself. Do not, however, assume that these states are ONLY internal psychological processes. The Big Ideas have been here long before you and will be here long after you are gone. They can be regarded as immensely powerful autonomous qualities and should be respected as such. Summoning too much ANGER into your life can make you a bore and a bully, summoning too much COMMUNICATION at the expense of other qualities can make you a conversation-hogging pedant and so on.

There is always danger when one "god" is worshipped in favor of all others. If you summon Ace Ventura you may find yourself becoming not funny and creative but annoying. If you summon Clive Barker's fictional Cenobites just to see whether or not I'm punting absolute nonsense, be prepared to deal with powerful issues of domination, torture, submission and pain for these value states define the operational parameters of Cenobites.

HEALING

My preferred method for healing is the Spiritualist "laying on of hands" technique which involves a simple homemade prayer to the congregation of dead "healers" or "veterinarians" who inhabit the "other side" and are said to be willing to help us in times of need. This prayer is accompanied by intense concentration and visualization of the healing process. I've always found it works very well and can be most effective in conjunction with sigils.

EXPERIMENT:

Visit your local Spiritualist Church, if you have one, and ask to see a demonstration of this powerful healing method.

DUDE, WHERE'S MY EGO?

The "ego" - in the negative sense - is that ossified sense of a stable, unchanging "self" which people use as a defense against the Fear of Change and Death. It's SELF as a suit of armor; protective and comforting at times SELF doesn't allow much room to maneuver, make effective contact or adapt to new situations. Otherwise, the Ego, with a big "E" can be a useful tool like everything else lying around here. Ego creates the heroic drive towards the Transcendence which COMSUMES AND RESOLVES that drive into a higher context.

It must be remembered that you can't go beyond your ego until you've developed one to go beyond. The ego, as Individual Self, is scaffolding for what we can call superself or the memeplex (to use Susan Blackmore's term for what we call "personality" - see the Meme Machine for more on Dr. Blackm9ore's revolutionary theory). Scaffolding is a necessary part of any construction project but for the last couple of hundred years we've been encouraged to mistake the scaffolding for the building. The individual sovereign self once seemed such a developmental prize that it's now very difficult to let go of it without incurring amusing existential extinction traumas, but like all other stages of growth it IS just a stage and must be surpassed.

Demoting the concept of the "individual" by deliberately engineering multiple, conferring "egos", personae, memeplexes or selves is intended, at least by me, as a method of breaking up the existential, calcified, individual "Self" into more fluid Multiple Personality constellations, by exposing "the personality" as just one behavioral option from a menu of many.

THE ABYSS

Aleister Crowley embodied the destruction of Egoic Self structures as Choronzon, the Devil 333. Choronzon, we are told, is the all-devouring guardian of "the Abyss" (the Abyss being a suitably dramatic and evocative term for an experiential "gap" in human consciousness.) The term can be applied to that state of mind during which Individual Egoic Self-consciousness begins to cannibalize itself rather than confront the usually frightening fact that Personality is not "Real" in the existential sense and is simply a behavioral strategy.

Most of us have had some small experience of the gigantic boundary complex Mega-ChoronzonnoznorohC-ageM; the Choronzonic Encounter is present in the relentless, dull self-interrogation of amphetamine comedowns or fevers, near-death experiences. Think of the chattering mind, annihilating itself in unstoppable self-examination and you will hear the voice of Choronzon.

Choronzon then, is Exisential Self at the last gap, munching out its own brains, seeking nourishment and finding only the riddle of the Bottom That is Bottomless. Choronzon is when there is nothing left but to die to nothingness. Beyond Choronzon, concepts of personality and identity cannot survive. Beyond Choronzon we are no longer our Self. The "personality" on the brink of the Abyss will do anything, say anything and find any excuse to avoid taking his disintegrating step into "non-being".

Most of us in the increasingly popular Western Consumerist traditions tend to wait until we die before even considering Choronzon. Since we can only assume that Egoic Selfsense is devoured whole in whatever blaze of guilt and fury or self-denial or peace perfect peace our last flood of endorphins allow in the 5 minutes before brain death, the moment of death seems to me to be a particularly vulnerable one in which to also have to face Existential terror for the first time.

Better to go there early and scout out the scenery. To die before dying is one of the great Ordeals of the magical path.

The Abyss, then, is that limit to Self consciousness where meaning surrenders and reverses into its own absolute opposite and is there consumed in "Choronzonic Acid," a hypersolvent so powerful it dissolved the Selfitself. Here you will encounter the immense SELF/NOT SELF boundary wall on the edge of Egoic Consciousness and be obliterated against it. The Abyss is a hiatus in awareness, where notions of identity, race, being and territory are consumed in an agonizing fury of contradiction.

Magicians who have successfully "crossed" the Abyss are considered no longer human, in the sense that survival of this ordeal necessitates the breaking down of SELF into multiple personality complexes.

EXPERIMENT:

> The so-called "Oath of the Abyss", is a corrosive encounter with Choronzonic forces inside the personality. It is not something to be undertaken lightly and I'd suggest many years of magical practice before attempting anything as stupid and as glamorous as destroying your carefully-established SELF. The rewards of a successful crossing of the Abyss are many but a failed attempt can leave the magician broken inside, consumed by doubt, fear, and insecurity and quite useless to his or her community...
>
> REVOLT INTO MAGIC!
> Becoming a magician is in itself a revolutionary act with far-reaching consequences. Before you set out to destroy "the System", however, first remember that we made it and in our own interests. We sustain it constantly, either in agreement, with our support, or in opposition with our dissent. The opponents of the System are as much a function of the System as its defenders. The System is a ghost assembled in the minds of human beings operating within "the System." It is a virtual parent we made to look after us. We made it very big and difficult to see in its entirety and we serve it and nourish it every day. Are there ever any years when no doctors or policemen are born? Why do artists rarely want to become policemen?
> For every McDonald's you blow up, "they" will build two. Instead of slapping a wad of Semtex between the Happy Meals and the plastic tray, work your way up through the ranks, take over the board of Directors and turn the company into an international LAUGHING stock. You will learn a great deal about magic on the way. Then move on to take our Disney, Nintendo, anyone you fancy. What if "The System" isn't our enemy after all? What if instead it's OUR PLAYGROUND? The natural environments into which we pop magicians are born? Our jungle, ocean and ice floe...to bargain with and dance around and transform, as best we can, into POETRY?

Wow...

I'm stunned! Can't get to sleep now (it's 00:46)

Read through the whole topic now. I flip through some posts, really heavy stuff!

Thanks for your effort guys, I love you all Consciousness... it's all about that in my last 3 years.

Do you feel it too?
I feel it. Really. A lot of things are changing. Time is going faster, much more things are happening.
My friends, colleagues, family ... they are all changing their mind!

Now I'm here with you all in that fantastic collective.
Reading this stuff. And it makes sense for me.

Consciousness! Everything is connected to everything!
We are the creators of our world, our reality!
It's even proved by science (Cambrigde, GB) that our mind is affecting our reality.

I'm sure that a huge change will take place in the next 12-16 months.
I think everyone is thinking the same.

Shortly after listening to the sound sample it came me in mind that this could be sound from the movie "Contact"

Keep it up guys and girls!

@ gallardoturquesa great first post to this thread mate and it's set me on the trail of my research today (which you will find below, thankyou, thankyou thankyou!. As far as getting a team together is concerned I think this thread is the team, i.e. all of anonymous, all of the hivemind should contribute to this (not a finite team) we need the 100th monkey phenomenon working for us

@ Anonymouth nice additions, and Maybe Logic is a great doc about belief systems and the life and times of R.A.W.

@ Zengetsu The quote is from Thomas Jefferson but interesting observation on the name...As side note when Timonthy Mcveigh was arrested for the Oklahoma City bombings he was found a bumper sticker with that slogan, interestingly enough considered "anti-government materials" LoL...also next hive we can expect up will be hivemind144 - http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind10010000.html I guess OK so lets begin...

from Zengetsu > and then

>
> http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind.html
> ____________________________hivemind1.html
> ____________________________hivemind2.html
> ____________________________hivemind3.html
> ____________________________hivemind5.html
> ____________________________hivemind8.html
> ____________________________hivemind13.html
> ____________________________hivemind21.html
> ____________________________hivemind34.html
> ____________________________hivemind55.html

now if we take the numbers 1, 2, 3, 5, 8, ,13, 21, 34, 55 we can see the interger sequence they are derived from

2
3= 2+1
5= 3+2
8= 5+3
13=8+5
21=13+8

34=21+13
55=34+21

i.e. each new number is the sum of the previous two, after seeding the sequence with the starting pair 0, 1 now this is nearly the fibonacci sequence but missing one 1

i.e. it should read

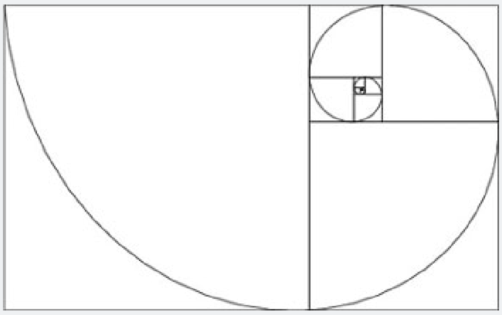
interesting to note is that by dividing the larger number by its smaller neighbor yields a number that approaches the golden ratio!

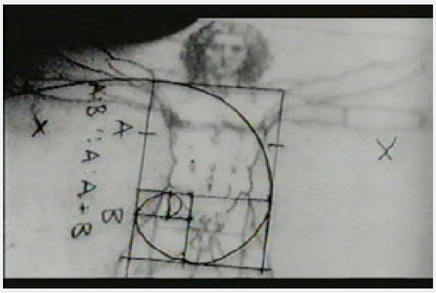


> "The Fibonacci sequence is directly related to what's known as the 'Golden Section', 'Divine Proportion' or 'Golden Mean.' It is known as the 'Divine Proportion' because this rectangle proportion is in all objects and structures on Earth, hence it's name "Finger print of God." To come up with a Golden Rectangle, one simply takes a square, finds the midsection of that square, draws a line to the upper corner and extends that arc outside of the square, making a new rectangle proportion. The fascinating thing about this rectangle proportion is the fact that the actual rectangle that is added to the square to make the Golden Rectangle itself is a Golden Rectangle, and from inside that, more Golden Rectangles can be made infinitely."

> "The Golden Section is [derived / created from] a numerical ratio called PHI (1.6) much like PI (3.14). PHI ratio is not only [the ratio of] the Golden Rectangle, it is what makes the Fibonacci sequence work.

If you haven't seen it before I recomend you rent out the movie Pi as it goes into quite good detail about the Phi ratio

Two places the Golden Ratio and the fibonacci sequence occur in art and literature are the - Golden Ratio in Leonardo DaVinci famous Scetch



And then the fibonacci sequence in Philip K Dicks fantastic novel Valis which is an acronym for Vast Active Living Intelligence System

> VALIS has been described as one node of an artificial satellite network originating from the star Sirius in the Canis Major constellation. According to Dick, the Earth satellite used "pink laser beams" to transfer information and project holograms on Earth and to facilitate communication between an extraterrestrial species and humanity. Dick claimed that VALIS used "disinhibiting stimuli" to communicate, using symbols to trigger recollection of intrinsic knowledge through the loss of amnesia, achieving gnosis.

In Valis the Fibonacci sequence is used as identification signs by a group in the book called the "Friends of God". It is widely known that Valis was a big influence on Grant Morrisons - The Invisibles. Also Alan Moore has cited gnostic expereinces he's had before to the writing of Philip K Dick before he went mad writing Valis ok hopefully that's left you feeling suitably inspired so what does this have to do with our ant poem and our question "what is a cipher that is not a cypher"?

Ok well for this we will have to go back to Aleister Crowley.

but before that, we're going to have to go back further in time...all the way back to 1202 and the time of Fibonacci of Pisa and the practice of Isopsephy > Isopsephy (pronounced /ËˆaÉªsÉ™sÉ›fi/; á¼´ÏƒÎ¿Ï, isos meaning "equal" and Ïˆá¿†Ï†Î¿Ï, psephos meaning "pebble") is the Greek word for the practice of adding up the number values of the letters in a word to form a single number. The early Greeks used pebbles arranged in patterns to learn arithmetic and geometry.

> Isopsephy is related to Gematria, the same practice using the Hebrew alphabet, and the ancient number systems of many other peoples (for the Arabic alphabet version, see Abjad numerals). A Gematria of Latin-script languages was also popular in Europe from the Middle Ages to the Renaissance and indeed its legacy remains in numerology and Masonic symbolism today (see arithmancy).[1]

> Until Arabic numerals were adopted and adapted from Indian numerals in the 8th and 9th century AD, and promoted in Europe by Fibonacci of Pisa with his 1202 book Liber Abaci, numerals were predominantly alphabetical. For instance in Ancient Greece, Greek numerals used the alphabet. Indeed there is some evidence that from the very beginning the alphabet was designed in order to meet the needs of mathematics.[2] It is just a short step from using letters of the alphabet in everyday arithmetic and mathematics to seeing numbers in words, and to writing with an awareness of the numerical dimension of words.

Ok so now we know what Isopsephy how is it related to Crowley? Answer - through the english Qubalah

> According to Jake Stratton-Kent, the English Qabala is a qabalah and not a system of numerology or solely gematria. He believes a qabalah is specifically related to three factors: a language, a 'holy' text or texts, and mathematical laws at work in these two.[4] Gematria, on the other hand, is a system in which letters are equated to number values. The letters comprising the word or name of person or object are then summed together. The number of this sum is termed the key of that particular word. Words sharing the same key are said to share properties. The letters are often tabulated along with their numerical equivalents.[5] more specifically

> In one of the Holy Books of Thelema written by Aleister Crowley in 1907, called Liber Trigrammaton, sub figura XXVII -- Being the Book of the Mutations of the Tao with the Yin and the Yang[15] are 27 three-line diagrams known as 'trigrams', which are composed of a solid line for the Yang, a broken line for the Yin, and a point for the Tao. Crowley later attributed these trigrams to the 26 letters of the English alphabet.
> Three years prior to the writing of Liber XXVII, in 1904, Aleister Crowley wrote out the text of the foundational document of his world-view, known as Liber AL vel legis, or The Book of the Law. In this text was the injunction found at verse 2:55; "Thou shalt obtain the order & value of the English Alphabet, thou shalt find new symbols to attribute them unto". By attributing letters to the trigrams of his later work, Crowley was attempting to fulfill this injunction, and felt he had succeeded, as noted in his Old Comment to the Book of the Law

Crowley was well known for the cryptic nature of his books and his obsession with code (many authors have noted how humourous the results of cracking into this code can be and certainly makes crowley look that there is much tongue in cheek in his writings) but for our purposes what we are interested in is the ALW Cipher!

> According to Allen Greenfield, Carol Smith discovered the ALW Cipher, which she later called "English Qaballa", in 1974.[17] Thelemite James Lees says he discovered it independently on November 26, 1976.[18] Carol Smith published the cipher and the reasoning behind it before anyone else, in The New Equinox / British Journal of Magick.[19] Her presentation was later summarized by Jake Stratton-Kent in The Equinox: British Journal of Thelema.[20] Since then other self-published authors have discussed the system, referring to it as New Aeon English Qabala.[21]
> The order & value of the letters in the ALW Cipher are derived from the grid superimposed on one of the pages of manuscript of Liber AL on which this verse appears (sheet 16 of Chapter III). Also appearing on this page are a diagonal line and a circled cross. Thelemites believe the book of the law should ideally only be printed in Crowley's hand-written version, because the books says there are messages in the chance shapes Crowley's handwriting made, or any shapes he adds to the pages.[22] Believers in New Aeon English Qabalah, following the ideas explained by Carol Smith, feel that reading any diagonal across the square one gets the order of the English alphabet to be used in the English Qabala. Whichever diagonal is read the order of the letters is obtained.[22]
> As there are ten squares per column, this method is equivalent to taking every eleventh letter of the alphabet as the order and then assigning them sequential values:
> A=1 L=2 W=3 H=4 S=5 D=6 O=7 Z=8 K=9 V=10 G=11 R=12 C=13N=14 Y=15 J=16 U=17 F=18 Q=19 B=20 M=21 X=22 I=23 T=24 E=25 P=26
> In the original handwritten text, the string of letters and numbers is divided into two lines, the first ending with "Y" and the second beginning with "X". Stratton-Kent thought that in the manuscript the 'X' at the beginning of line two looked like a multiplication symbol, so he added each line's values together and multiplied them; 17x11=187, the numerical value of the phrase "English alphabet", which he felt confirmed the correctness of the system.[23]
>
> Members of the Hermetic Alchemical Order of the QBLH began to work with the basic cipher. Other Thelemic groups have also adopted it.[24]

OK so now we have a cipher developed by Crowley from whose work the Book of Law our Meta Clue comes from the battle of the ants

that is not which is the only word is silence
the only meaning of that word is not thoughts are false
fatherhood is unity disguised as duality
peace implies war
power implies war
harmony implies war
victory implies war
glory implies war
foundation implies war
alas for the kingdom wherein all these are at war which if converted to crowleys numerical cipher we get

24,4,25,20,1,24,24,2,25,7,18,24,4,25,1,14,24,5 24,4,1,24,23, 5,14,7,24,3,4,23,13,4,23,5 24,4,25,7,14, 2,15,3,7,12,6,23,5,5,23,2,25,14,13,25
24,4,25,7,14,2,15,21,25,1,14,23,14,11,7,18,24, 4,1,24,3,7,12,6,23,5,14,7,24
24, 4, 7,17,11, 4, 24,5,1,12,25,18,1,2,5,25
18,1,24,4,25,12,4,7,7,6,23,5,17,14, 23, 24, 15,6,23,5,11,17,23,5,25,6,1,5, 6,17,1,2,23,24,15
26,25,1,13,25,23,21,26,2,23,25,5,3,1,12
26, 7, 3,25,24,5,23,21,26,2,23,25,5,3,1,12
4,1,12,21,7,14,15,23,21,26,2,23,25,5,3,1,12
10,23,13,24,7,12,15,23,21,26,2,23,25,5,3,1,12
11,2,7,12,15,23,21,26,2,23,25,5,3,1,12
18, 7, 17, 14, 6,1,24,23,7,14,23,21,26,2,23,25,5,3,1,12
1,2,1,5,18,7,12,24,4,25,9,23,14,11,6,7,21,3,4,25,12,25,23,14,1,2,2,24,4,25,5,25,1,12,25,1,24,3,1,24

If you then take away any duplicate numbers you are left with this number sequence

1,2,3,4,5,6,7,9,10,11,13,14,15,17,18,20,21,23,24,25,26 which converted back in to letters we get

A,L,W,H,S,D,O,K,V,G,C,N,Y,U,F,B,M,I,T,E,P

Well apart from the ALW at the beginning of the number sequence (remember the title of cipher atributed to crowley - the ALW cipher ) If you add up the numbers in the sequence you get 278 which converted back into letters is LoZ (liber Oz maybe? - Crowleys book written entirely in words of one syllable only) I'm struggling now as I need sleep LOL...but I did manage to get this anagram out of the letters which I'm sure both Crowley and Robert Anton Wilson would have a good chuckle at

Interestingly enough, Notre Dame in Paris, where the most famous hunchback/humpback came from Phi and the golden ratio were utilised in it's architecture during both it's build in the 1163 and 1250!...but the sacred geometry contained thoughout the old buildings of Europe is another thread entirely!

Ok I'll get back on track tomorrow...but for now just a final thought on Alan Moores Magick practice...just to remind us not to take ourselves too seriously

> Taking up the study of the Qabalah and the writings of the notorious early 20th century occultist Aleister Crowley, Moore accepted Crowley's Thelemite ideas about True Will being connected to the will of the pantheistic universe.....Moore took as his primary deity the ancient Roman snake god Glycon, who was the centre of a cult founded by a prophet known as Alexander of Abonoteichus, and according to Alexander's critic Lucian, the god itself was merely a puppet, something Moore accepts, considering him to be a "complete hoax",[76][77] but dismisses as irrelevant. According to Ethan Doyle-White, "The very fact that Glycon was probably one big hoax was enough to convince Moore to devote himself to the scaly lord, for, as Moore maintains, the imagination is just as real as reality.

Yep, it's been about the last 3 years or so for me too that things have been noticeably changing. It's comforting to know that we are all linked. I think it will do great things for us to fully realize this 🙂

Thanks to all of you for this great thread!

Yeah Anonamoose is a champ.

Wish I had more time to contribute to this thread, I'm sure we're onto something pretty huge here.

Fascinating.

What a great thread and an awesome find of Mayhem 2012! It is starting to become apparent that truth is really stranger than fiction.

I can't wait for the next solved deciphered message! Good luck guys :)

just curious has anyone tried this yet?

> So...to summon a god, one has only to concentrate on that god to the exclusion of all other thought. Let's just say you wish to summon the Big Idea COMMUNICATION in the form of the god Hermes, so that he will grant you a silver-tongue. Hermes is the Greek personification of quick wit, art, and spelling and the qualities he represents were embodied by Classical artists in the symbol of an eternally swift and naked youth, fledged with tiny wings and dressed only in streamers of air. Hermes is a condensation into pictorial form - a sigil, in fact - of an easily recognizable default state of human consciousness. When our words and minds are nimble, when we conjure laughter from

There may well be for all I know but it seems a complicated way to explain something quite simple. The truth is that there doesn't HAVE to be a Mt Olympus for you to encounter Hermes or something just like him using a different name. You don't even have to "believe" in Greek gods to summon any number of them. Hermes personifies a Big Idea and all you have to do is think him fervently and he'll appear so hard and so fast in your mind that you will know him instantly.

This is Ganesh, the scribe of the Hindu pantheon.

It's not difficult; if you can make yourself Angry or Sad or Happy just by thinking about something (and most of us can), then you are already capable of summoning gods > and Big Ideas.

I have tried, but i think i failed. several times now. No harm done just by trying this. So a shout-out to the open-minded out there who also tried any of the stuff that was posted on projectmayhems site related to chaos magick.

Please tell me your experiences

@ ebonheart & randomdudeanon...Thanks for your kind words but really all I am doing is googling and wiki delving from the mad tangeants my brain goes off on @ Mr.Razz I have had some experience with sigil magick and have been interested in hermetic lore and chaos magick for many years although have not yet declared myself a magician LoL...There is no fast route to this, like anything else in life to get good nay even to get ANY results you have to be 100% involved in it's practice and research I believe, and sadly I haven't had the time or commitment to really involve myself in any work...dabbling isn't necessarily "good Practice" especially considering the internal/exterenal forces involved. Remember part of chaos magick is the surrendering of ones ego, this should not be approached in a half hearted manner WHATSOEVER.

I think the above guide by Grant Morrison is a nice quick introduction to some of the practices of chaos magick but as he says (and many other chaos magicians aswell) read veraciously first, get to know the history, some of the practices, the different schools, find what appeals to you and work with that first. This is certainly not something that fantastic results can be achieved overnight, it is a work of weeks, months, years and dare I say it even a lifetime. As the old adage goes learn to walk before you run Mr. Razz. Spend time expanding your understanding and knowledge, be safe, have fun but don't try to force results. Personally I am really looking forward to the publication of Alan Moores grimoires, can't wait to get my hands on a copy of that.

For a fun read Mr Razz and as way of an introduction to all sorts of belief systems you can't go far wrong with Robert Anton Wilsons work, he's very funny, has some mad tales, great insight, and as a place to start in his books you'll find fantastic reference material in the bibliographies. I would recomend starting with the Cosmic trigger Trilogy.

Ok gathering more info for my next post on projectmayhem might have some more to add to this thread later tonight or tomorrow

Wow, just.......drolls

You have turned my mind to mush. I am new to Anonymous and this free way of thinking, but about 3 years ago(freaky huh) I felt an awakening of sorts.

My question is, can someone create a shortened version of this thread and the responses? It's a lot to take in, and everyone's 4 foot long posts surely don't help. Lol.

Until then, I will try to read everything copy/pasted and researched. Anyone have any ice I can borrow for my head? lol 🙂

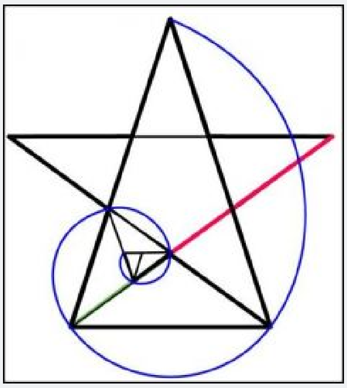
Ok back to Sigils

Anyone seen this before?

of course you have 🙂

Ok did you know this?

or this by default?



ok so the pentagram contains the "golden ratio". The greek word for pentagram is pentakis Ï€ÎµÎ½Ï„Î±ÎºÎ¹Ï‚. Now if we take a look at my previous thread which talked about Isopsephy and the values the greks assigned to their letters we can note this.

Ï€ â€“ 80
Îµ â€“ 5
Î½ â€“ 50
Ï„ â€“ 300
Î± â€“ 1
Îº â€“ 20
Î¹ â€“ 10
Ï‚ â€“ 200

Add these numbers together and you get 666! Crowleys number of the beast and coincidently how many lines are contained in each page of source code at projectmayhem2012.org

Then in the book of revalations in the bible it says

> Rev 13:18 Here is wisdom: Let the one having reason count the number of the beast, for it is the number of a man and its number is six hundred and sixty six

> This beast, regarded by some as the Anti-Christ described by John, is thus related to the number 666, one of the greatest mysteries of the Bible.
> Curiously enough, if you take the sine of 666Âº, you get -0.80901699, which is one-half of negative phi, or perhaps what one might call the "anti-phi." You can also get -0.80901699 by taking the cosine of 216Âº, and 216 is 6 x 6 x 6.
>
> The trigonometric relationship of sine 666Âº to phi is based on an isosceles triangle with a base of phi and sides of 1. When this triangle is enclosed in a circle with a radius of 1, we see that the lower line, which has an angle of 306Âº on the first rotation and 666Âº on the second rotation, has a sine equal to one-half negative phi.
> In this we see the unity of phi divided into positive and negative, analogous perhaps to light and darkness or good and evil. Could this "sine" be a "sign" as well?

> In addition, 666 degrees is 54 degrees short of the complete second circle and when dividing the 360 degrees of a circle by 54 degrees you get 6.66... The other side of a 54 degree angle in a right angle is 36 degrees and 36 divided by 54 is .666.
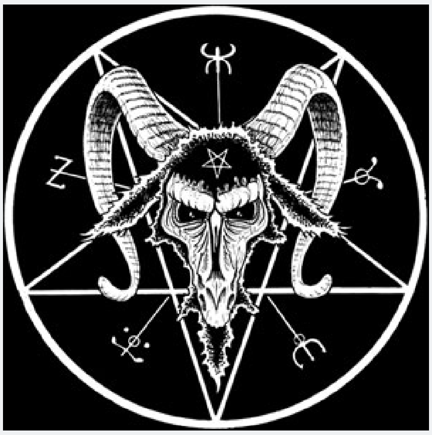
> Phi appears throughout creation, and in every physical proportion of the human body. In that sense it is the number of mankind, as the mysterious passage of Revelation perhaps reveals.

What other image of the pentagram are we used to seeing considering all this talk about 666? How about this



The above image is that of Baphomet. similar to hermes son Pan baphomet is depicted with a goats head but unlike pan and as a result some people confuse the two.

> Baphomet is a sigil (or symbol) representing the universal union between positive and negative energies. It is parallel to the symbol of the Tao (yin yang) and can be considered one and the same Within Thelema Baphomet was to become an important figure in it's cosmology due in no small part to Crowleys own affinty to the symbol asserted that Baphomet was a divine androgyne and "the hieroglyph of arcane perfection"

> The Devil does not exist. It is a false name invented by the Black Brothers to imply a Unity in their ignorant muddle of dispersions. A devil who had unity would be a God... 'The Devil' is, historically, the God of any people that one personally dislikes... This serpent, SATAN, is not the enemy of Man, but He who made Gods of our race, knowing Good and Evil; He bade 'Know Thyself!' and taught Initiation. He is 'The Devil' of the Book of Thoth, and His emblem is BAPHOMET, the Androgyne who is the hieroglyph of arcane perfection... He is therefore Life, and Love. But moreover his letter is ayin, the Eye, so that he is Light; and his Zodiacal image is Capricornus, that leaping goat whose attribute is Liberty.

Interestingly enough baphomet is represented by another totally different symbol the baphomet cross

here we can see crowley wearing a cross of baphomet with the cross drawn and referenced as baphomet

An XII

The Baphomet cross bares a startling resemblance to the cross of lorraine and in modern secret societies we have the Cain Cross or Mark of the red Dragon

Which graphically represents THE HERMETIC PRINCIPAL OF CORRESPONDENCE

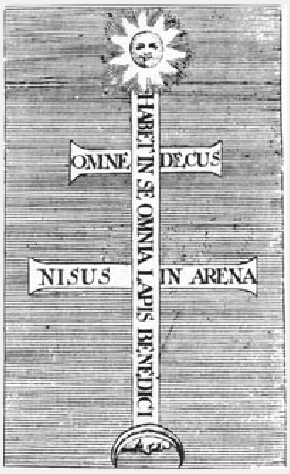
SO BELOW

Drawn together become the union of Duality

The cross of Cain and the Cross of Baphomet are suggested to have their origins in the cross of Lorraine



OMNE DECUS
NISUS IN ARENA
HABET IN SE OMNIA LAPIS BENEDICTI

This cross was used as a heraldic symbol of the knights Templar and the symbol has been dated back to the ancient kings of sumeria.

> The cross of Lorraine embodies geometric relationships with it's component parts, like the pentagram it is a symbolic representation of the golden division principle,with its dimensions defined by the famous Fibonacci spiral!

So what of the knights templar and the cross of Lorraine...

> The Cross of Lorraine, a symbol linked to the Templars, the Angevins, and French nationalism, also had its genesis as a Sumerian ideogram. It was a symbol denoting kingship, and stood for "Kad", a title given to the kings of Phoenicia and Akkadia. Another title for kings was "Shepherd", and the ideogram for this designation was very similar: it was a Cross of Lorraine with an extended lower portion, curved so as to suggest a shepherd's staff.
> When various members of the House of Anjou plotted to topple the Valois dynasty of France, the symbol of the conspirators was the Cross of Lorraine, the heraldic emblem of Rene d'Anjou, said by Charles Peguy to represent the "arms of Christ", "the arms of Satan", and, strangely, the blood of both. Ren was the Angevin monarch who, at the time of the renaissance, single-handedly spearheaded a Hermetic revival in Europe. It was he who personally convinced Cosimo de Medici to translate many ancient texts such as the Corpus Hermeticum into various European tongues for the first time ever.
> And when Corpus Hermeticum was first published in France, the dedication it bore was to Marie de Guise, wife of James Stuart V, mother of Mary Queen of Scots, and a descendant of Ren who also adopted the Cross of Lorraine as a personal symbol. That the Cross of Lorraine is a symbol embodying the Hermetic ideal is fairly obvious. The Angevins were primarily advocates of the Regia, or Royal Art, of hermeticism; a tradition which according to legend was passed down to man by a race of fallen angels. This isn't at all inconsistent with the perennially Luciferian overtones associated with the entire Angevin saga.

The knights templar are known for the quest of the holy grail "the fountain of all knowledge"...in seeking this were they actually trying to Immanentize the eschaton bring about "heaven on Earth", is that the real holy grail?

> Hermes, according to legend, was the sole receptacle of the secret doctrine of the antediluvian world, which he revived after the flood and passed down to the Kings. As you'll recall, this secret knowledge was thought to have been taught to man by a race of Gods or fallen angels. This knowledge was kept secret because it was probably recognized that for all but an elect few, such thought would no doubt bring about their ruin

"a tradition which according to legend was passed down to man by a race of fallen angels"!!!!Are these the same fallen angels/aliens that alledgedly communicated with Aleister Crowley?, Grant Morrison?, Robert Anton Wilson?, Philip K Dick?...

Also just to finish off this post for this evening. On hivemind page http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind100010.html we see the phrase "who watches the the watchmen"

This goes back to my previous quote concerning the immanetizing the eschaton. I forgot to mention it that in Alan Moores classic The Watchmen this concept is one of the pivotal parts of it's plot

> Alan Moore, acclaimed writer of From Hell, Watchmen, V for Vendetta, The League of Extraordinary Gentlemen and Promethea, converted to Gnosticism in the late 1990s. His work, typically of Gnostic interests, demonstrates a keen engagement with the often-ambivalent relationship between subject and reality, consciousness (especially altered and enlightened states of consciousness) and revolt against constrictive systems of control. In Watchmen, Moore appears to explore (or at least evoke) the concept of Voegelin's 'Immanentization of the Eschaton'

With the doubling of human knowledge apparently happening every 18 months at the moment could we be witnessing the awakening of the world hivemind conciousness, becoming aware of how to immanentize the Eschaton...or are we merely witnessing it? (merely lol) and is any of this due to the work of the ancient praticioners of hermetic lore and more recently the works of the modern disciples of gnostic tradition Morrison, Moore, Crowley and wilson?

ok thats all I've got for now...

As time allows me, I'm doing some investigations here as well, I will post them when I have got some time. I would like to encourage you all -no matter what your level of knowledge on these matters is- to brainstorm about this and simply post your random thoughts on this, as it's proven useful in this thread before, as we have been witnessing, and, as Anonamoose commented before, it seems to be related with the Bee's algorithm featured at projectmayhem2012 site.

For now, after reading Anonamoose intutions, I would like to just leave you with these videos by Terence Mckenna & Robert Anton Wilson, on Time Accelaration towards 2012.

When I first saw them, they gave me such a mindfuck, becase they seem to have SO MUCH sense as of what's happening around us and in the world lately!

Robert Anton Wilson On The Acceleration To 2012

Terence McKenna speaks about the perceived acceleration of time during his lecture entitled "Eros & The Eschaton," Seattle 1994.

I just found a transcript of this lecture here! I think the long copy&paste is totally worth it!

I propose we, as a collective Brain actually behave like /b/ees do and do some crowdsourcing works, such as cramming our way through exciting texts like this!

To help our collective 'hive mind' here, I'm going to remark the most enticing intuitions as I am reading it. You can simply go through these to speed up and make the best of your time to investigate all this. I also would like to encourage other people to do the same with any docs that you find that might relate towards solving the engimas.

Off we go!

â€œEros & the Eschatonâ€� by Terence McKenna

Transcripted from the original lecture given by Terence McKenna in 1991.

What I wanted to talk about tonight, simply because itâ€™s the thing that is moving me to the edge of my chair at the moment, is â€“ I called the talk Eros and the Eschaton, and what I could have called it is Eros and the Eschaton: What Science Forgot, because somebody asked me recently, â€œIs there any permission to hope?â€� More specifically, is there any permission for smart people to hope?! â€“ I mean, itâ€™s easy to hope if youâ€™re stupid! â€“ but is there any basis for intelligent people to hope? And I wanted to deal with that, because I think so. I mean, it was to meâ€¦ Eros and the Eschaton â€“ these are the two areas that I think compromise the old paradigm and give permission to hope; and strangely, neither of these words is that well known, which gives you a measure of how completely the dominator position has squelched, subverted and downplayed any opposition to its worldview.

Eros, we know about, in some kind of devalued, schticky kind of glitzy way, because we get it in the eroticisation of media and society. But really, what Eros means in the Greek sense is a kind of unity of nature, a kind of all-pervasive order that bridges one ontological level to another. This is not permitted in the official worldview of our civilisation, which is science. The world of inorganic chemistry is not thought to make any statement about the organic world, and the organic world is not thought to be extrapolatable into the world of culture and thought. There are imagined to be clear breaks in these categories. I had a biologist tell me once, â€œIf genes arenâ€™t involved, it ainâ€™t evolutionâ€�. So that means you canâ€™t talk about the evolution of the Earth as a physical body; you canâ€™t talk about the evolution of human social institutions; evolution is somehow a word appropriate to biology and appropriate nowhere else. And this brings me, then, to the first factor easily discerned by anybody who has their eyes open, that compromises and erodes the hopeless existential view of the world that weâ€™re getting from science.

And that is the idea that nature is in fact, across all scales and all levels of phenomena, a unity. Itâ€™s not a coincidence that electrons spinning around an atomic nucleus and planets going around a star, and star clusters orbiting around the gravitational centre of a galaxyâ€¦ itâ€™s no coincidence that these systems exhibit the same kind of order on different scales. And yet science would say that is a coincidence.

You know, P.W. Bridgeman, who was a philosopher of science, defined a coincidence as what you have left over when you apply a bad theory! It means, you know, that youâ€™ve overlooked something, and what jumps out at you as a coincidence is actually a set of relationships whose casuistry â€“ whose relationships to each other, are simply hidden from you.

And what Iâ€™ve observed â€“ and I think it is fair to give credit to the psychedelic experience for this â€“ what Iâ€™ve observed is that nature builds on previously established levels of complexity.

This is a great general natural law that your own senses will confirm for you, but that has never been allowed into the canon of science.

What I mean by that nature builds on complexity is the following:

When the universe was born, in the dubious and controversial circumstance called the Big Bang, it was at first simply a pure plasma of electrons. It was the simplest that it could possibly be. There were no atoms, there were no molecules, there were no highly organised systems of any kind. There was simply a pure plasma of expanding energy. And as the universe cooled, simply cooled, new kinds of phenomena â€“ we say emerged, out of the situation.

As the universe cooled, atomic nuclei could form, and electrons could settle into stable orbits. As the universe further cooled, the chemical bond became a possibility. Still later, the hydrogen bond, which is a weaker bond, which is the basis of biology. So as the universe aged, it complexified. This is so obvious that itâ€™s never really been challenged, but on the other hand itâ€™s never been embraced as a general and dependable principle, either.

Follow it through with me. Out of atomic systems come chemical systems. Out of chemical systems comes the covalent hydrogen bond, the carbon bond, the complex chemistry that is prebiotic or organic. Out of that chemistry come the macrophysical systems that we call membranes, gels, charge transfer complexes, this sort of thing. These systems are the chemical preconditions for life. Simple life, the life of the prokaryotes, the life of naked unnucleated DNA that characterised primitive life on the planet. Out of that life come eukaryotes, nucleated cells, and then complex colonies of cells. And then cell specialisation, leading to higher animals; leading to social animals; leading to complex social systems; leading to technologies; leading to globe-girdling electronically based information transfer-oriented cultures like ourselves.

(Someone said, â€œWhatâ€™s so progressive about media? Itâ€™s the spreading of darkness at the speed of lightâ€�.

[laughter and applause] It can be... it can be.) Well, so this is very interesting: that apparently, the way the universe works is upon a platform of previously achieved complexity â€“ chemical, electrical, social, biological, whatever. New forms of complexity can be built that cross these ontological boundaries. In other words, what I mean by that is that biology is based on complex chemistry, but it is more than complex chemistry.

Social systems are based on the organisation that is animal life; and yet it is more than animal life. So this is a general law of the universe, overlooked by science â€“ that out of complexity emerges greater complexity.

We could almost say that the universe, nature, is a novelty-conserving or complexity-conserving engine.

It makes complexity, and it preserves it.

And it uses it as the basis for further complexity.

THE ORIGIN AND DEVELOPMENT OF LIFE

Primitive life-forms (blue-green algae) are found in rocks as old as 3500Ma (million years) and, although it cannot yet be proved, the origin of life on Earth probably dates back to about 4000Ma. It seems likely that the oxygen levels in the atmosphere increased only slowly at first, probably to about 1% of the present amount by 2000Ma. As the atmospheric oxygen built up so the protective ozone layer developed to allow organisms to live in shallower waters. More highly developed photosynthesising organisms led to the development of oxygen breathing animals. The first traces of multicellular life occur about 1000Ma; by 700Ma complex animals such as jellyfish, worms and primitive molluscs, had developed.

The Precambrian-Cambrian boundary records the time when organisms developed hard parts that allowed their preservation as abundant fossils. This coincided with a period of explosive evolution of marine life. Fishes appeared in the Ordovician and by the late Silurian land plants had developed. In the Carboniferous dense vegetation covered the land, amphibians emerged from the sea, and by the Triassic had given rise to reptiles and the first mammals. These expanded hugely at the beginning of the Cenozoic. The fossil record shows that throughout the Phanerozoic large numbers of plant and animal species died out. Earth scientists have long sought explanations but only recently evidence emerged that this may be the result of impacts of comets, meteorites or asteroids.

Mass extinctions have struck all kinds of marine life over the past 700 million years, from single-cell algae and plankton to huge swimming reptiles and whales. At the end of the Cretaceous period 65 million years ago most marine species became extinct. At about the same time the dinosaurs became extinct on land. In some cases an animal or plant group has been able to recover after a crisis and evolve a new species; in other cases the entire group has vanished.

Now, thereâ€™s more to this than simply that. I think we all observationally could agree with what has been said so far. The added wrinkle, or an added wrinkle, is that each advancement into complexity, into novelty, proceeds more quickly than the stage that preceded it.

This is very profound, because if accepted as a serious first principle it ends the marginalisation of our own species to the level of spectator status in a universe that knows nothing of us and cares nothing for us.

This is the most advanced position that modern science will allow us: spectators to a drama we didnâ€™t write, shouldnâ€™t expect to understand, and cannot influence. But I say, if in fact novelty is the name of the game, if in fact the conservation and complexification of novelty is what the universe is striving for, then suddenly our own human enterprise, previously marginalised, takes on an immense new importance.

We are apparently players in the cosmic drama, and in this particular act of the cosmic drama we hold a very central role. We are at the pinnacle of the expression of complexification in the animal world, and somehow this complexity, which is concentrated in us, has flowed over out of the domain of animal organisation and into this mysterious domain which we call culture, language, consciousness, higher values.

Each stage of advancement into complexity occurs more quickly than the stage which preceded it.

After the initial Big Bang, there was a period of billions of years when the universe cooled, stars condensed, planetary systems formed, and then the quickening process crossed an invisible Rubicon into the domain of animal and biological organisation. Well, you see, since the rise of Western monotheism, the human experience has been marginalised. We have been told that we were unimportant in the cosmic drama. But we now know, from the feedback that weâ€™re getting from the impact of human culture on the Earth, that we are a major factor shaping the temperatures of the oceans, the composition of the atmosphere, the general speed and complexity of speciation on the planet; so forth and so on.

A single species, ourselves, has broken from the ordinary constraints of animal nature and created a new world, an epigenetic world â€“ meaning a world not based on gene transfer and chemical propagation and preservation of information, but a world based on ideas, on symbols, on technologies, on tools, on ideas downloaded out of the human imagination and concretised in three-dimensional space as choppers, arrowpoints, particle accelerators, gene sequencers, space craft, what have youâ€¦ all of this complexification occurring at a faster and faster rate.

And this brings me, then, to the second quality, or phenomenon, that science has overlooked, which is the acceleration of complexification. That the early history of the universe proceeded with excruciating slowness; then, life took hold, in the oceans of this planet. A quickening of process and evolution; but still things proceeded on a scale of tens of millions of years to clock major change. Then, the conquest of the land. Higher animals, higher exposure to radiation, faster change, species following species, one upon another. Then, fifty thousand, a hundred thousand, a million years ago â€“ anyway, recently! â€“ the cross-over into the domain of culture, tool-making, myth-making, dance, poetry, song, storyâ€¦ and that set the stage for the fall into history â€“ the incredibly unusual and selfconsuming process that has been going on for the past fifteen or twenty thousand years. A biological snap of the finger; and yet, in that time, everything that we call human â€“ everything that we associated with higher values â€“ has been adumbrated, elaborated, created, set in place, by one species: ourselves. This acceleration of time, or complexity, shows no sign of slowing down. In fact, within the fabric of our own lives, we can almost daily, hourly, by the minute, feel it speeding up, taking hold.

Itâ€™s a clichÃ© that time is moving faster and faster â€“ a clichÃ© of the mass media â€“ but I want to suggest that this is not a perceptual illusion, or a cultural mirage: that this is actually happening to the spaceâ€“time matrix, that time is in fact speeding up. That history â€“ in which we are embedded, because our life of 50â€“80 years is so ephemeral on a scale of 10â€“15,000 years â€“ but nevertheless, history, is a state of incredible destabilisation.

Itâ€™s a CHAOSTROPHY IN THE PROCESS OF HAPPENING.

It begins with animals kept in balance by natural selection, and it ends with a global internet of electronic information transfer and a language-using species purling its instruments toward the stars.

There is no reason for us to suppose that this process of acceleration is ever going to slow down or be deflected. It has been a law of nature from the very beginning of nature, that this acceleration was built in. What poses a problem, to us as thinking individuals, is that the speed of involution towards concrescence is now so great that we can feel the tug of it within the confines of our own lives.

There has been more change since 1960 than in the previous several thousand years.

There has been more change since 1992 than in the previous thousand years. Change is accelerating.

Invention, connection, ADUMBRATION OF IDEAS, mathematical algorithms, connectivity of people, social systems, this is all accelerating furiously, and under the control of no one â€“ not the Catholic church, the community party, the IMF, no one is in charge of this process!

This is what makes history so interesting: itâ€™s a runaway freight train on a dark and stormy night!

This is why Iâ€™m not particularly sympathetic to conspiracy theory â€“ because I canâ€™t make the leap of faith that would cause you to believe anyone could get hold of the beast enough to control it!

â€“ I mean, conspiracies, of course, we have conspiracies up the kazoo; but none of them are succeeding! â€“ theyâ€™re all being swept away, compromised, astonished by new information, and endlessly agonised!

So, two factors relating to Eros: the movement into complexity, and the fact that that movement goes ever-faster.

And the second quality, the acceleration of the movement into novelty, leads me to the third point, which is I suppose more controversial â€“ and I am frankly willing to admit that my sensitivity to this third point is based on my psychedelic experience.

I mean, science is the exploration of the experience of nature without psychedelics. And I propose therefore to expand that enterprise an say we need a science beyond science: we need a science which plays with a full deck.

And the reason the psychedelic experience is so important here is not some namby-pamby notion that it expands consciousness, or it makes you more perceptive, or something like that â€“ I mean, that is all true; but it isnâ€™t strongly enough put.

A cultural point of view is like a crystal: you have an amorphous cultural medium which at certain temperatures will form a crystal of cultural convention, if you will, and within the geometry of that crystal certain things make sense and certain things are excluded from making sense.

Science is a condensed cultural point of view that is a rigid crystal of interlocking assumptions â€“ assumptions such as, Matter is primary. Mind is tertiary. Causality works from the past into the future â€“ so forth and so on.

What psychedelics do, in terms of impact on the physical brain and organism of human beings, is they withdraw cultural programming.

They dissolve cultural assumptions.

They lift you out of that reassuring crystal and matrix of interlocking truths which are lies, and instead they throw you into the presence of the great Who Knows? â€“ the mysteryâ€¦ the mystery that has been banished from Western thought since the rise of Christianity and the suppression of the mystery religions.

Now, the model that attracts me to the psychedelic experience is not that it makes you smarter â€“ a kind of simple-minded idea, paradoxically â€“ or the idea that ([laughs] you are paying attention, huh?) â€¦ the idea that itâ€™s some kind of magnifying glass into the personal unconscious â€“ your trauma, your childhood memories, the satanic abuse your parents laid on you, so forth and so onâ€¦

the model which I like is a geometric model, and says simply that since the rise of the Greek alphabet, print, linear thinking, and science, we have become imprisoned in a causal universe of material connectivity; and that this is a cultural myth, as much as believing that we are the sons and daughters of the great father who got out of his canoe at the second waterfall to take a leak; I mean, these are just cultural myths.

What is revealed through the psychedelic experience, I think, is a higher-dimensional perspective on reality.

And I use â€œhigher-dimensionalâ€� in the mathematical sense: literally, you are lifted out of the plane of cultural assumptions and can look down, with a kind of god-like understanding that one obtains when one flies in an aeroplane over a landscape previously only viewed from the ground.

In other words, from the vantage-point of the psychedelic experience, the cultural landscape is seen more nearly in its correct perspective.

Seen as historically bounded, spatially and intellectually bounded. Now, itâ€™s no coincidence that if you analyse biology, what it is, itâ€™s a kind of conquest of dimensionality. The earliest forms of life were probably slimes of some sort, stabilised on a clay surface: immobile, unable to perceive light, with no sense of time, merely a fingernail or a toehold in existence; and then if you look at the entire fossil record, what you see is the evolution of senses â€“ sensory preceptors, and organs of locomotion. The preceptors â€“ the eye, the hand â€“ bring into the cognitive field the sense of things at a distance, and then language provides models for these things at a distance. Similarly, fins, legs, so forth â€“ means of locomotion â€“ carry us through space.

This is a journey of dimensionality, and essentially what animals are that plants are not are life-forms mobile, in a very conscious way, in a spatial dimension.

This is why, from the point of view of evolutionary biologists, animals are somehow more advanced than plants. Well, if conquest of dimensionality is the criteria, then notice that we again occupy a special and privileged position in nature, because we can not only run with the best of them, see with the best of them, but we can remember and anticipate like crazy; and other animals are not doing this. Other animals may imprint past situations of danger or opportunity, but they do not analyse experience and extrapolate it toward the hidden domain of the future.

And consciousness is the generalised word that we use for this coordination of complex perception to create a world that draws from the past and builds a model of the future; and then suspends a perceiving organism in this magical moment called the Now, where the past is coordinated for the purpose of navigating the future.

McLuhan called it â€œdriving with the rear view mirrorâ€�, and the only thing good about it is itâ€™s better than driving with no mirror at all! Right, nowâ€¦

What this conquest of dimensionality comes to be, in the presence of psychedelics, is an anticipation of the future.

We can anticipate the future: we know to within microseconds when the sun will rise; we know within a few percentage points where the prime rate will be in six months; some things we can predict fairly closely, some things with less precision. But the perception of the future is very important to us. When we marry the need to perceive the future with the psychedelic experience, I believe we come up with data that is very very difficult for science to come to terms with.

And this is the third item, or really the second item, in the list: What Science Forgot.

Itâ€™s what I call the Eschaton.

Now, Eschaton is a rare word, until very recently unheard outside schools of theology, which I understand were a dying enterprise.

Eschaton comes from the Greek word esch, which just means the end. The Eschaton is the last thing, the final thing.

And itâ€™s very important to science to eliminate from its thinking any suspicion that this Eschaton might exist.

Because if it were to exist, it would impart to reality a PURPOSE, you see. If the Eschaton exists, then itâ€™s like a goal, or an attraction point, or an energy synch, toward which historical process is being moved.

And science is incredibly hostile toward the idea of purpose. If you are not involved in the sciences, this may come as somewhat of a surprise to you; if you are a workbench scientist or a theoretician, you know that this is whatâ€™s called the problem of teleology.

It is because modern science defined itself in the 19th century, when the reigning philosophy was deism, and deism was the idea that the universe is a clock made by God, and God wound this clock and has walked away from it, and the clock will eventually run downâ€¦ that theological construct was poisonous to evolutionary theory in the 19th century, and so they said, â€œWe must create a theory of reality that does not require a goal â€“ does not require a purpose. Everything must be pushed from the past. Nothing must be pulled toward the futureâ€�.

The problem with this is that it does not fulfil our intuitions about reality.

We can see that evolution, biological evolution, has built on chemical systems. We can see that social and historical systems build on biology. As people with open minds â€“ or as open as they can be, inside this culture â€“ we nevertheless have this intuition of purpose.

And it is dramatically underscored by the psychedelic experience, which takes the raw material of your life, your culture, your history, and tells you this is not an existential mish-mash to be lived out with dignity because thereâ€™s nothing else to be done with it â€“ some kind of Camusian â€œWhy not?â€� affirmation â€“ it says, No; it says, you know, Your reality is a coherent cosmos. And embedded in your own sense of identity, embedded in your own sense of purpose, is a microscopic reflection of the larger purpose that is built into the universe.

Nowâ€¦ and this is not just blowing smoke, in the sense of â€œitâ€™s a nice ideaâ€�, or itâ€™s like a religious idea, like saying Jesus loves you, and so feel all right about yourself; it isnâ€™t like that â€“ itâ€™s a theory about reality that has teeth, because reality is actually following the script that this particular version of reality dictates. Reality is accelerating toward AN UNIMAGINABLE OMEGA POINT.

We are the inheritors of immense momentum in our social systems, our philosophical and scientific and technological approaches to the world.

Because weâ€™re driving the historical vehicle with a rear-view mirror, it appears to us that weâ€™re headed straight into a brick wall at a thousand miles an hour.

It appears that we are destroying the Earth, polluting the atmosphere, wrecking the oceans, dehumanising ourselves, robbing our children of a future, so forth and so on. I believe what is in fact going on is that we are burning our bridges, one by one.

We are burning our bridges to the past.

We cannot go back to the mushroom-dotted plains of Africa, or the canopied rainforests of five million years ago. We canâ€™t even go back to the era of the Houston six-shooter [??] of two hundred years ago. We have burned our bridges; we are preparing for a kind of cultural forward escape. And this question, you know, â€œIs there cause for optimism?â€� â€“ the answer is, it depends on where you placed your bets!

You know, if you placed your bets on male-dominated institutions based on consumer fetishism, propaganda, classism and materialism, then God help you, you should call your broker!

If, on the other hand, youâ€™ve recognised that a lifeboat strategy is involved here, that what is really important is EMPOWERING PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

(One of the 3 points within The Plan! )

WHAT IS THE PLAN?

The Plan fights for Freedom of Speech, government transparency and to promote personal growth!

To achieve this, Anonymous uses a team effort to utilize our weapons of viral education, valid facts & resources, and encouraging unity & tolerance.

Together, we will accomplish a far more sustainable society built around growing an informed knowledge network and living under a new, limited, transparent government system.

backing off from consumer object fetishism, freeing the mind, empowering the imagination, then in that case I think you can feel pretty good about what is going on.

You know, thereâ€™s a lot of talk about cultural death and disenfranchisement, and itâ€™s usually couched in terms of some happy naked people in the rainforest, or in Tajikistan making their rugs, or milking their camels or something, and isnâ€™t it too bad that their culture is being blown up and traded in for mall culture and shopping by remote; but in fact, all culture is being destroyed. All culture is being sold down the river by the sorts of people who want to turn the entire planet into an international airport arrival concourse!

And thatâ€™s not the victory of somebodyâ€™s culture over somebody elseâ€™s culture; nobody ever had a culture like that! Thatâ€™s just the victory of schlockmeisterism and crapola over good taste and good sense! Well, if I were dependent on the notion that human institutions are necessary to pull us out of the ditch, I would be very despairing.

As I said, nobodyâ€™s in charge â€“ not the IMF, the Pope, the communist party, the Jews, no, no, no, nobody has their finger on whatâ€™s going on. [/quote]

I found this extract from Alan Moore's Mindscape documentary where he concurs that nobody is in charge:

So then, why hope? Isnâ€™t it just a runaway train, out of control?

I donâ€™t think so.

I think the out-of-controlness is the most hopeful thing about it!

After all, whose control is it out of?! You and I never controlled it in the first place! Why are we anxious about the fact that itâ€™s out of control?

I think IF IT'S OUT OF CONTROL, THEN OUR SIDE IS WINNING!

To me, the most confounding datum of the psychedelic experience is this thing, which I call the Eschaton.

And I want to talk about it a little bit this evening, because I think it is the hardest thing for people to grasp about my particular rap.

And, you know, sometimes Iâ€™ve talked to many of you about psychedelic plants, shamanism, techniques, chemistry, approaches, so forth and so onâ€¦

Iâ€™m approaching this this evening as a graduate seminar: I figure everybody has their little mojo kit, and their particular way of approaching these things, and then the question is, you know, what kind of conclusions can we draw?

And the conclusion I draw is â€“ and this is sort of pulling together what I said before â€“ we are central to the human drama, and to the drama of nature and process on this planet.

The opposition, which is science â€“ well, first let me say this: Every model of the universe has a hard swallow. What I mean by a hard swallow is a place where the argument cannot hide the fact that thereâ€™s something slightly fishy about it.

The hard swallow built into science is this business about the Big Bang. Now, letâ€™s give this a little attention here. This is the notion that the universe, for no reason, sprang from nothing in a single instant. Well, now before we dissect this, notice that this is the limit test for credulity.

Whether you believe this or not, notice that it is not possible to conceive of something more unlikely or less likely to be believed!

I mean, I defy anyone â€“ itâ€™s just the limit case for unlikelihood, that the universe would spring from nothing in a single instant, for no reason?! â€“ I mean, if you believe that, my family has a bridge across the Hudson River that weâ€™ll give you a lease option for five dollars! It makes no sense. It is in fact no different than saying, â€œAnd God said, let there be lightâ€�.

And what these philosophers of science are saying is, give us one free miracle, and we will roll from that point forward â€“ from the birth of time to the crack of doom! â€“ just one free miracle, and then it will all unravel according to natural law, and these bizarre equations which nobody can understand but which are so holy in this enterprise.

Well, I say then, if science gets one free miracle, then everybody gets one free miracle.

And I perceive that it is true, when you build these large-scale cosmogonic theories, that you have to have a kind of an umbilical cord, or a point to start from that is different from all other points in the system.

So if we have to have a singularity in our modelling of what reality is, letâ€™s make it as modest and as nonunlikely a singularity as possible. The singularity that arises for no reason, in absolutely empty space, instantly, is the least likely of all singularities.

Doesnâ€™t it seem more likely, if we have to have a singularity, that it occurs in a domain with a rich history, with many causal streams feeding into the situation that nurtures the complexity? In other words, to put it simply,

if you have to have a singularity, doesnâ€™t it make more sense to put it at the end of a cosmogonic process, than at the beginning?

And I think this is the great breakthrough of psychedelics and shamanism, that science got it absolutely wrong: the universe didnâ€™t begin in a singularity â€“ who knows how the universe began, or would even presume to judge? â€“ but the universe ends in a singularity.

It has been growing more singular, more complex, more unique, more novel, every passing moment since it burst into existence. And if thatâ€™s true, then we represent a kind of concrescence of universal intent.

Weâ€™re not mere spectators, or a cosmic accident, or some side show, or the Greek chorus to the main event: the human experience is the main event.

The coordination of perception, of hope, of dream, of vision, that occurs inside the human heart/mind/body interface is the most complex phenomenon in the universe.

Now, even the physicalists will agree that the human neocortex represents the most densely ramified matter known to exist in the biological world; and you donâ€™t have to be a rocket scientist to see that human society, human history, human art, human literature, represent things for which there is no analogue in the world of wasps, groundhogs, killer whales, and so forth and so on. In our species, complexity has turned inward upon itself.

And in our species, time has accelerated;

time has left the gentle ebb and flow of gene transfer and adaptation that characterises biological evolution, and instead historical time is generated.

And so I believe that science and its reluctance to deal with the psychedelic experience, and the way in which science has used, then, law, to suppress its rival â€“ in this case, arises out of a profound discomfort on the part of science about this future state of complexification that is clearly the grail, the dwellpoint, the endpoint, of the human historical process.

No one of us, I think, can imagine that history could go on for another thousand years.

I mean, what would it look like? At the current rate of population growth, spread of epidemic disease, rate of invention, connectivity, depletion of resources, the atmosphereâ€¦ it is impossible to conceive of another thousand years of human history.

History, then, is ending.

History is a kind of gestation process; itâ€™s a kind of metamorphosis; itâ€™s an episode in the life of a species.

If you think of the simple example of metamorphosis â€“ that of caterpillar to butterfly â€“ we all know that there is this intermediate resting stage where the caterpillar is, for all practical purposes, enzymatically dissolved, and then reconstituted as an entirely different kind of organism, with different physical structures, different eyes, different legs, a different way of breathing; with wings, where no wings were before; with a different kind of feeding apparatus â€“ this is whatâ€™s happening to us!

History is a process of metamorphosis. Itâ€™s a pupation stage.

It begins with naked monkeys, and it ends with a human machine planet-girdling interface capable of releasing the energies that light the stars!

And it lasts about fifteen or twenty thousand years, and during that period the entire process hangs in the balance. Itâ€™s a period of high risk.

Itâ€™s like what a butterfly is doing in a cocoon, or what is happening to a child in the womb: itâ€™s a gestation process, where one form of life is being changed into another.

Well, this would all happen naturally, and with a great deal of anxiety I imagine, as history builds to its ever more climactic and horrifying crescendo, and we would all be ignorant, or very baffled, about whatâ€™s going on, were it not for the institution of psychedelic shamanism. Remember, I said that what is dissolved are the crystalline structures of cultural assumption? Well, one of the strongest symmetries in our cultural crystal is the symmetry that gathers around the concept of past and future. The shaman actually rises into a domain where past and future are different areas on the same topological manifold. This is not a metaphor; itâ€™s whatâ€™s really going on.

If you think about shamanism in its classical guise for a moment, it is about predicting weather; predicting game movement; and curing disease. If you had a prescient or extraordinary understanding of the future, each one of us would be able to do these things. Predicting the weather? â€“ you just look into next week, and there it is. Predicting the movement of beings? â€“ same deal. Curing the sick actually involves very judicious choice of your patients, with a pre-knowledge of who will get well and who will not get well.

So itâ€™s as though the members of a culture are imprisoned in linear time, and the shaman is not. And why not? Because the shaman has perturbed the brain states sanctioned by the culture â€“ sanctioned by its educational processes, its habits, its attitudes.

And into that vacuum created by the perturbation of these cultural values rushes the raw, unanalysed datum of reality. This is what Aldous Huxley called removing the reducing valve of consciousness. And suddenly, culture is seen to be a relative phenomenon, the stockbroker no different from the rainforest shaman, each somewhat similar to the Trobrian islander, or the Eskimo. Culture is simply clothing upon the human experience; but the human organism, outside the confines of culture, in a direct relationship to nature, transcends time and space. This was a fact, I believe, that was known in prehistory, and in fact was the source of paleolithic values, which were not material, not linear, not surplus-oriented, not class-oriented, not power-oriented; but rather, oriented toward a kind of egalitarian partnership in an environment of great material simplicity. And human beings lived like that for probably half a million years â€“ with poetry, with dance, with mathematics, with magic, with story, with humour; but not with the paralysing and toxic artefacts of the late-evolving, machine-worshipping, monotheistic, linear, phonetic-alphabet tight-assed straight culture that we are a part of. So now, at a kind of moment of great cultural challenge and dynamic for Western civilisation, which has for a thousand years called all the shots and shoved itself down everybodyâ€™s throat whether they liked it or not, - in the last hundred years, through the science of anthropology and ethnography and ethnomedicine and botany, the news has arrived that these â€œprimitiveâ€� people are in fact master technicians of journeying into a world of the neurological imagination â€“ a world we didnâ€™t even know exists; a world that is as distant to us as the world at the heart of the atom is from the rainforest fishermen.

And because our own cultural values seem a little shoddy at this moment, those on the fringes of Western civilisation have begun to seek alternatives, begun to look at alternative religions (yoga, tantra, Buddhism, Zen, whatever), alternative approaches to diet (vegetarianism, macrobiotics, so forth and so on) and alternative approaches to authentic experience, which means psychedelics. In the early stage of psychedelic involvement, everyone was sort of flying under the banner of handson Freudianism, or hands-on Jungianism, you know: Weâ€™re gonna see those archetypes. Weâ€™re gonna confront those sexual repressions. Weâ€™re gonna journey into those traumatic childhood memories. Now, itâ€™s understood, I think, that those metaphors were fairly inadequate, and that actually we stand on the brink of an unexplored landscape of planetary size: the word of the high paleolithic, which is a Gaian world, a world of feeling â€“ not analytical intellectual constructs, but a world of empowered feeling â€“ empathy; and intuitive understanding, an understanding that doesnâ€™t arise in a context of Greek logic, but in a context of animal knowing the in the authentic mode of the body.

So, just to bring it all around here, the great exhibit which we must always keep in front of ourselves and our critics, is the mystery of the human mind and body. No one knows how it is that I can command my hand to make a fist and that it will do that.

I mean, thatâ€™s mind over matter: thatâ€™s the violation of every scientific principle in the books.

And yet it is the most trivial experience any of us have; we expect to command our body. We expect the mental will to order the monkey flesh into action, and it will follow. The body is the nexus of the mystery of life. And our culture takes us out of the body, and sells our loyalty into political systems, into religions, into inanimate objects and machines, collections, so forth and so on. The felt experience of the body is what the psychedelics are handing back to us; thatâ€™s why itâ€™s called escape, because itâ€™s escape from HBO, from walking the mall, from seeing whatâ€™s on the tube, from consuming trash media â€“ itâ€™s escape from all of that, into the authenticity of the body. This is why sexuality is soâ€¦ edgy in this society. Theyâ€™d make it illegal if they could but figure out how!

Itâ€™s the one drug they canâ€™t tear from our grip, and so they lay a guilt trip about it. But sexuality and psychedelics are carrying us back to an authentic sense of the body. Carry us back to the domain of authentic values.

And more and more, the message that people are getting as they avail themselves of the psychedelic experience is that it is not a journey into the human unconscious, or into the ghost bardos of our chaotic civilisation; itâ€™s s journey into the presence of the Gaian mind, that the Earth is a coherent whole: it is a thinking, feeling, intending, being â€“ that in terms of our value structures, it would be foolish to image as anything other than female.

And when cultural values created by male dominance and science and linearity and so forth and so on â€“ when those values are dissolved, what is waiting there is this incredibly poignant experience of the matrix â€“ what James Joyce called the Mama Matrix Most Mysterious:

nothing more than our bodies and the earth out of which our bodies came.

(Matrix? remember this is taken from a lecture given by Terence McKenna in 1991.)

History, as we have lived it in the West, has been a turning of our back on that; and now history has failed. Western cultural institutions, having become global institutions, now show themselves to be inadequate to inspire, lead or carry anyone into a future worth living in.

At this moment, then, this reconnecting to the Gaian mind becomes a kind of moral imperative.

So this whole drug issue is not an issue even about criminal syndicates or about untaxed billions, or about the mental health of our youth, or any of that malarkey; I mean, God, the most destructive drug thatâ€™s known to the species is peddled on every street corner, without restriction.

The real issue is what kind of mental world shall people inhabit? What kinds of hope shall be permitted? What kind of value systems shall be allowed? And the value systems that aggrandise the possession of things, the tearing up of the Earth, competition, classism, racism, sexism, have led us to the brink of catastrophe.

Now, I think we have to abandon Western cultural values and return to the deeper wisdom of the body in connection with the plants. Thatâ€™s the seamless web that leads us back into the heart of nature; and if we can do this, then this very narrow neck of cultural crisis can be navigated. Very little of the past can be saved. The architectonics, the machines, the systems of monetary exchange and propaganda, the silly religions, the asinine aesthetic canons, very little of that can be saved. But what can be saved is the sense of love and caring, and mutuality, that we all put into and take from the human enterprise.

You know, thereâ€™s a Grateful Dead song (The Wheel) that says â€œYou canâ€™t go back and you canâ€™t stand still. If the thunder donâ€™t get you, then the lightning will.â€�

The wheel is turning and you can't slow down,
You can't let go and you can't hold on,
You can't go back and you can't stand still,
If the thunder don't get you then the lightning will.

Won't you try just a little bit harder,
Couldn't you try just a little bit more?
Won't you try just a little bit harder,
Couldn't you try just a little bit more?

Round, round robin run round, got to get back to where you belong,
Little bit harder, just a little bit more,
A little bit further than you gone before.

The wheel is turning and you can't slow down,
You can't let go and you can't hold on,
You can't go back and you can't stand still,
If the thunder don't get you then the lightning will.

Small wheel turn by the fire and rod,
Big wheel turn by the grace of God,
Every time that wheel turn 'round,
Bound to cover just a little more ground.

The wheel is turning and you can't slow down,
You can't let go and you can't hold on,
You can't go back and you can't stand still,
If the thunder don't get you then the lightning will.

Won't you try just a little bit harder,
Couldn't you try just a little bit more?
Won't you try just a little bit harder,
Couldn't you try just a little bit more?

And we now hold, through the possession of these psychedelics, catalysts for the human imagination of sufficient power that if we use them we can deconstruct the lethal vehicle that is carrying us toward the brink of apocalypse.

We can deconstruct that vehicle and redesign it into a kind of starship that would carry us and our children out into the broad starry galaxy we know to be awaiting us.

But itâ€™s a cultural test. Nature is pitiless. Intelligence is a grand experiment upon which a great deal has been writ; but if it proves inadequate, nature will cover it over with the same kind of cool impunity that she covered over the dinosaurs and the trilobites and the crossopterygian fishes, and all those other folks that came before.

So what we must do, I think, is SEE OUR FUTURE IN THE IMAGINATION. CATALYSE THE IMAGINATION.

Form symbiotic relationships with the plants. Affirm archaic values.

And spread the good news that what is out of control, what is in fact dying, is a world that had become too top-heavy with its own hubris, too bent by its own false value systems, and too dehumanised to care about what happened to its own children.

So I say, GOOD RIDDANCE TO IT! BRING ON THE ARCHAIC REVIVAL, and LET'S CREATE A NEW WORLD!!

THAT'S IT! And â€“ [applause] â€“

if this wasnâ€™t perfectly clear, Iâ€™m sure the questions and answers will make it so. Letâ€™s take a half-hour break â€“ Iâ€™ll sign books if anybody wants me to, and then weâ€™ll get together here for the hard core. Thank you very, very much.

Question from audience [...]

Good question. Well, the answer is, I think, pretty obvious. Yes: how do we emancipate people from the foolishness of the drug war? How do we, as a community, as a point of view, how do we gain legitimacy? This is a really important question. I mean, if you look around yourself tonight, you donâ€™t see the uneducated, the unhealthy, the demented or the deluded; and yet this is the stereotype of our subculture.

Instead, what you see are well-dressed, creative people holding down positions in society, the parents of children, the heads of departments, the authors of books, the painters of paintingsâ€¦ you may not have noticed, but in this society theyâ€™re not handing out rights. Ask black people! Ask the members of any sexual minority! They donâ€™t hand out rights in this society. And we â€“ meaning we psychedelic people, by and large, this isnâ€™t always true but by and large we tend to be white and middle-class. A translation of those two terms into â€œgutlessâ€� would not be inappropriate.

We have the most to lose; and so weâ€™re not given to hurling ourselves into the breach or building barricades in the street to hurl our bodies against the machine. Nevertheless, if you donâ€™t claim your political birthright, it will never be given to you; and black people and gay people and American Indians, Native Americans â€“ all of these people have learned that you donâ€™t go on bended knee to petition the official culture for your rights. YOU HAVE TO TAKE THEM.

And people ask me, you know, how can you stand up and say the things you do? Why donâ€™t they take you away? They donâ€™t take me away because theyâ€™re more chicken-shit than you think! Theyâ€™re more off balance than you think! Theyâ€™re more uncertain of themselves than you think!

The legitimacy of this point of view is established in their minds. The reason drugs are illegal and suppressed, and bla bla, is because you can make a shitload of money off them in that context. Itâ€™s a money issue. Do you think a loving government is trying to keep you from jumping out of third-floor windows and thatâ€™s why LSD is illegal?! â€“ I mean, give me a break! â€“ for crying out loud, if this government felt strongly enough about certain issues, all of us between 18 and 26 would be sent off to die for that policy decision; so the government is not interested in your health.

The government is artificially interested in inflating the prices of certain substances in order to create a focus for clandestine money that is used then to destabilise unfriendly governments, murder labour union leaders, kill and blackmail the editors of left-wing newspapers, so forth and so on. Drugs are enormous big business. But not the psychedelic drugs. Psychedelic drugs â€“ the only one that ever amounted to anything as a financial enterprise was cannabis. And cannabis is many things besides psychedelic. The deep, dramatic psychedelics, which are all Schedule 1, the most repressed Schedule â€“ donâ€™t produce great amounts of money at all. What they do produce is questioning minds.

They cause people to ASK QUESTIONS. They cause people to ASK FOR CLARIFICATION. They cause people to CHALLENGE CULTURAL VALUES, because THEY DECONDITION YOU.

It doesnâ€™t matter whether youâ€™re a Hasid, a communist apparatchik, a rainforest shaman, if you take psychedelics you will question your first premises; and that is a business that all governments â€“ right, left, middle â€“ are in the business of repressing. They donâ€™t want to have to explain why things are done as they are. But if we donâ€™t begin asking for that explanation, theyâ€™re going to run this planet right into ruin.

And WE ARE THE GENERATION RESPONSIBLE. YOU ARE THE GENERATION THAT IS RESPONSIBLE.

You canâ€™t claim that you grew up in a village in Nigeria and you didnâ€™t know. You canâ€™t claim that you are the child of poor Bangladeshi parents and you had no opportunity.

The responsibility rests upon the educated and the financially capable of doing something about it; and by that measure, you and I are probably in the upper 3% of people on this planet, and IF WE DON'T TAKE RESPONSIBILITY then THAT RESPONSIBILITY WILL DEVOLVE TO OTHERS â€“ beady-eyed others, with an agenda that would stand your hair on end.

Yes, over here. This will be the last question, so make it hit. Question from audience Well, letâ€™s go back and talk about schizophrenia for just a second. The question is, you know, schizophrenia involves basically breaking with ordinary value systems, and how does it relate to the psychedelic state; and people who have schizophrenic relatives in their family tree, how should they relate to the psychedelic experience, and so forth, I mean Iâ€™m extrapolating, but thatâ€™s the basic thing. Well, there are different things to be said about this. I mean, first of all, how many psychiatric residents â€“ who are the people who come most in contact with schizophrenics, whatever that means â€“ how many psychiatric residents have ever seen an undrugged schizophrenic? Very, very few. Because the very first thing that happens is, for the convenience of physicians and the nursing staff, some outlandish drug is brought into the picture, which then deflects this healing process from ever reaching any kind of natural conclusion. Schizophrenia is just a catch-all term for forms of mental behaviour that we donâ€™t understand. In the 19th century, there was a term â€œmelancholiaâ€�, which we would now call bipolar depression, so forth and so on. But all forms of sadness, unhappiness, maladaptation, so forth and so on, were poured into this label â€œmelancholiaâ€�. Now, schizophrenia is a similar thing. I can remember an experience I had years ago, it was in the Tolman Library at the University of California, which is the psych library, and I was looking up some drug or something, and I just saw a book and I pulled it off the shelf, a book about schizophrenia. And it said, the typical schizophrenic lives in a world of twilight imagining, marginal to his society, incapable of holding a regular job, these people live on the fringes, content to drift in their own self-created value systems. Thatâ€™s it! Thatâ€™s it! Now I understand! We have no tradition of shamanism. We have no tradition of journeying into these mental worlds. We are terrified of madness. We fear it because the Western mind is a house of cards, and the people who built that house of cards know that, and they are terrified of madness.

The Whirlpool Galaxy — M51
HUBBLESITE.o

Tim Leary once said â€“ or I gave him credit for saying; he later told me he never said it â€“ but whoever said it, this was a brilliant statement; someone once said, â€œLSD is a psychedelic substance which occasionally causes psychotic behaviour in people who have not taken it.â€� â€“ right?

And I would bet you that more people have exhibited psychotic behaviour from not taking LSD, but just thinking about it, than ever exhibited it from taking it â€“ certainly in my family. I watched my parents both go psychotic from the mere fact that LSD existed; they would never have taken it. There is a great phobia about the mind: the Western mind is very queasy when first principles are questioned. Rarer than corpses in this society are the untreated mad, because we canâ€™t come to terms with that.

A shaman is someone who swims in the same ocean as the schizophrenic, but the shaman has thousands and thousands of years of sanctioned technique and tradition to draw upon.

In a traditional society, if you exhibited â€œschizophrenicâ€� tendencies, you are immediately drawn out of the pack and put under the care and tutelage of master shamans. You are told, You are special. Your abilities are very central to the health of our society. You will cure. You will prophesy. You will guide our society in its most fundamental decisions.

Contrast this with what a person exhibiting schizophrenic activity in our society is told. Theyâ€™re told, You donâ€™t fit in. You are becoming a problem, You donâ€™t pull your own weight. You are not of equal worth to the rest of us. You are sick. You have to go to the hospital. You have to be locked up. You are on a par with prisoners and lost dogs in our society.

So that treatment of schizophrenia makes it incurable.

Imagine if you were slightly odd, and the solution were to take you and put you â€“ lock you into a place where everyone was seriously mad. That would drive anyone mad!

If youâ€™ve ever been in a madhouse, you know that itâ€™s an environment calculated to make you crazy and to keep you crazy.

This would never happen in an aboriginal or traditional society. I wrote a book, I mean this has to be the wrap-up, because weâ€™re over time â€“ but I wrote a book called The Archaic Revival; I signed it tonight for some of you. The idea there is that we have gone sick by following a path of untrammelled rationalism, male dominance, attention to the visible surface of things, practicality, bottom-line-ism. We have gone very, very sick. And the body politic, like any body, when it feels itself to be sick, it begins to produce antibodies, or strategies for overcoming the condition of dis-ease. And the 20th century is an enormous effort at self-healing.

Phenomena as diverse as surrealism, body piercing, psychedelic drug use, sexual permissiveness, jazz, experimental dance, rave culture, tattooing, the list is endless. What do all these things have in common? They represent various styles of rejection of linear values. The society is trying to cure itself by an archaic revival, by a reversion to archaic values. So when I see people manifesting sexual ambiguity, or scarifying themselves, or showing a lot of flesh, or dancing to syncopated music, or getting loaded, or violating ordinary canons of sexual behaviour, I applaud all of this; because itâ€™s an impulse to return to what is felt by the body â€“ what is authentic, what is archaic â€“ and when you tease apart these archaic impulses, at the very centre of all these impulses is the desire to return to a world of magical empowerment of feeling.

And at the centre of that impulse is the shaman: stoned, intoxicated on plants, speaking with the spirit helpers, dancing in the moonlight, and vivifying and invoking a world of conscious, living mystery. Thatâ€™s what the world is. The world is not an unsolved problem for scientists or sociologists. The world is a living mystery: our birth, our death, our being in the moment â€“ these are mysteries. They are doorways opening on to unimaginable vistas of self-exploration, empowerment and hope for the human enterprise.

And our culture has killed that, taken it away from us, made us consumers of shoddy products and shoddier ideals. We have to get away from that; and the way to get away from it is by a return to the authentic experience of the body â€“ and that means sexually empowering ourselves, and it means getting loaded, exploring the mind as a tool for personal and social transformation.

The hour is late; THE CLOCK IS TICKING; we will be judged very harshly if we fumble the ball.

We are the inheritors of millions and millions of years of successfully lived lives and successful adaptations to changing conditions in the natural world.

Now the challenge passes to us, the living, that the yet-tobe- born may have a place to put their feet and a sky to walk under; and thatâ€™s what the psychedelic experience is about, is caring for, EMPOWERING, and building a future that honours the past, honours the planet and honours THE POWER OF THE HUMAN IMAGINATION.

THERE IS NOTHING AS POWERFUL, AS CAPABLE of transforming itself and the planet, as THE HUMAN IMAGINATION.

Letâ€™s not sell it straight. Letâ€™s not whore ourselves to nitwit ideologies. Letâ€™s not give our control over to the least among us.

Rather, you know, claim your place in the sun and go forward into the light.

The tools are there;
the path is known;

you simply have to TURN YOUR BACK ON A CULTURE THAT HAS GONE STERILE AND DEAD, and get with the programme of a living world and A RE-EMPOWERMENT OF THE IMAGINATION.

Thank you very, very much."

Ok some more info on the clues given in the sourcecode of http://www.projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind1000.html

We are told that

> Further clues scattered throughout:
>
> http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Invisibles#Say_You_Want_a_Revolution
> http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cyberia_(book)

On looking into the first link we find that "You Say You Want A Revolution" is the first volume of The Invisibles. The Final arc in the storyline of that volume is entitled Arcadia ok so what do we know of Arcadia?

In mythology Arcadia is refered to as being like a garden of eden archetype

> Arcadia (Greek: á¼ˆÏ�ÎºÎ±Î´Î¯Î±) refers to a vision of pastoralism and harmony with nature. The term is derived from the Greek province of the same name which dates to antiquity; the province's mountainous topography and sparse population of pastoralists later caused the word Arcadia to develop into a poetic byword for an idyllic vision of unspoiled wilderness. Arcadia is associated with bountiful natural splendor, harmony, and is often inhabited by shepherds. The concept also figures in Renaissance mythology. Commonly thought of as being in line with Utopian ideals, Arcadia differs from that tradition in that it is more often specifically regarded as unattainable. Furthermore, it is seen as a lost, Edenic form of life, contrasting to the progressive nature of Utopian desires.
> The inhabitants were often regarded as having continued to live after the manner of the Golden Age, without the pride and avarice that corrupted other regions

Also Hermes son Pan was said to inhabit the land of Arcadia.

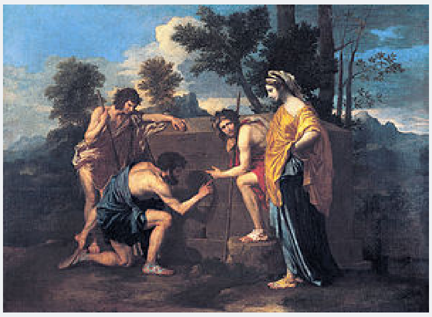
> According to Greek mythology, Arcadia of Peloponnesus was the domain of Pan, the virgin wilderness home of the god of the forest and his court of dryads, nymphs and other spirits of nature. It was a version of paradise, though only in the sense of being the abode of supernatural entities, not an afterlife for deceased mortals

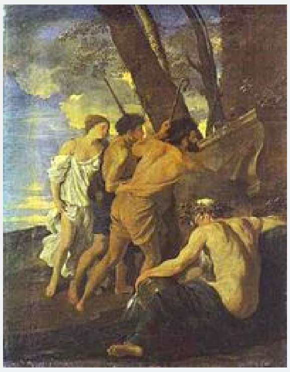
Arcadia has been popularised in recent years through its connection to the hidden gnostic history of the freemasons in the books The Holy Blood,Holy Grail and more recently in Dan Browns DaVinci code. In particular these two latin phrases standout, I tego Arcana Dei and Et in Arcadia Ego. The translation of these phrases are

"Et in Arcadia ego" ("I too (was there) in Arcadia")
&
I! Tego Arcana Dei ("Begone! I know the secrets of God")

what's interesting about these two phrases is that they are an anagram of each other

The phrase "Et in Arcadia Ego" famously is the title of two Nicolas Poussin paintings pictured below





In relation to these paintings, their title and there connection with the masonic Priory of Sion is interesting to note > 'Better yet, an alternative interpretation is that the words "Et in Arcadia Ego" are an anagram, and with a transposition and rearrangement of the letters, becomes "I Tego Arcana Dei." This is a Latin statement and can be translated as, "Begone! I conceal the Secrets of God!" ' > http://www.halexandria.org/dward217.htm

> 'Et in Arcadia ego... is supposedly the official motto of the Priory of Sion. Et in Arcadia ego is a Latin phrase, that most famously appears as the title of a 17th century classical painting by French painter Nicolas Poussin, which literally means, "And I in Arcadia." However, the addition of three dashes is suggestive of the missing word Sum in order for the phrase to be grammatically meaningful: "And I am in Arcadia." Futhermore, it has been theorized by Richard Andrews and Paul Schellenberger that the completed phrase "Et in Arcadia ego sum" is an anagram for "Arcam Dei Tango Iesu" which means "I touch the tomb of God."' > source:
> World History - Priory of Sion
> http://www.worldhistory.com/wiki/P/Priory-of-Sion.htm

So for our purposes is The Eschaton symbolised "as Arcadia" here? and through gnostic tradition are we to search out and find the secrets to dwell in the land of Arcadia?...or at least to be abducted by aliens/fallen angels and be given some clues lulz

In the next link http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cyberia_(book) Cyberia is a book which discusses the subjects of online culture,the global brain, and neoshamanism all of which are topics which we are discussing due to the latest enigma on projectmayhem. Interesting to note is the fact that Cyberia was written in a roman Ã  clef style

> Roman Ã  clef or roman Ã  clÃ© (French pronunciation: [Ê�É”mÉ‘Ìƒnâ€¿a kle]), French for "novel with a key", is a phrase used to describe a novel about real life, overlaid with a faÃ§ade of fiction.[1] The fictitious names in the novel represent real people, and the "key" is the relationship between the nonfiction and the fiction.[2] This "key" may be produced separately by the author, or inferred through the use of epigraphs or other literary devices.[3]

so in a way this book was also written with a cipher

I will have to read the book now to see if I can get any more insight into how it relates to the latest enigma

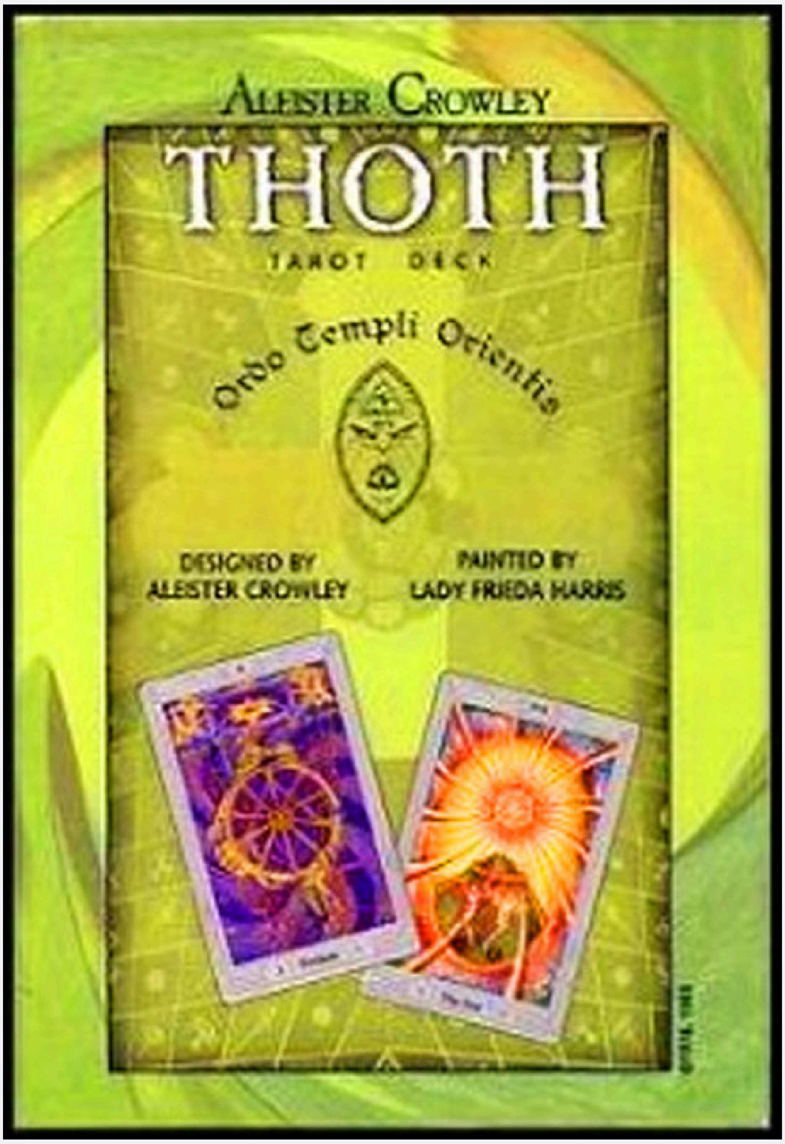
Ok, I think you hit some GOLD there Anonamoose! Definitely worth to investigate some more.

I found this! Regarding Aleister Crowley's Thoth tarot and The Wheel card that I pasted before, it looks like Crowley definitely knew about the Golden Mean and ciphered it within the Tarot!!

Look!



Aleister Crowley

taddaaaaa!

It definitely looks like theres something MAGICKAL about the 'Divine Proportion'!

There was a post here a little while ago mentioning the Solitaire code of Bruce Schneier. I had brought it up earlier in this thread but since cryptography isn't one of my strong points I thought I'd leave it to other anons. Since it was mentioned again I thought I'd have another look at it...and here's what I found

Since the "solitaire" cipher was not around during the time of Crowley writing the battle of the ants I took an informed leap of faith that he wasn't using it so there was no point trying to decrypt it fully by using that code. However in some magick coding I believe like the first stage of the solitaire code you split the letter groups into groups of five so taking the stanza

the only word is silence
the only meaning of that word is not thoughts are false
fatherhood is unity disguised as duality
peace implies war
power implies war
harmony implies war
victory implies war
glory implies war
foundation implies war
alas for the kingdom wherein all these are at war and converting it into letter groups of 5 we get this thati snotw hichi stheo nlywo rdiss ilenc etheo nlyme aning oftha tword

isnot thoug htsar efals efath erhoo disun itydi sguis edasd ualit ypeac eimpl ieswa rpowe rimpl ieswa rharm onyim plies warvi ctory impli eswar
glory impli eswar
found ation impli
eswar alasf orthe
kingd omwhe reinal
lthes earea twar

As you will see the highlighted words become the only words which are immediately recognisable are is not, glory, found, or the

With these words we can compose these crypto crowley like sentences

"or the glory is not found"
"found or the glory is not"
"or is not the found glory"
"the found glory or is not"
"or is not the glory found"
"or is the found glory not"
"is the Glory found or not"

"is the Glory found or not"? this has to be my favourite one due inpart to all the research currently gone into this enigma but also due to Aleister Crowleys sense of humour...and well if he didn't intend this I'm sure he's laughing from the grave

Ok so what if we assign numbers to all the letters we have found by using the AWL cipher. To remind you of the cipher here it is below again

> A=1 L=2 W=3 H=4 S=5 D=6 O=7 Z=8 K=9 V=10 G=11 R=12 C=13N=14 Y=15 J=16 U=17 F=18 Q=19 B=20 M=21 X=22 I=23 T=24 E=25 P=26

So using this cipher on our phrase we get

i=23s=5t=24h=4e=25G=11l=2o=7r=12y=15f=18o=7u=17n=14d=6o=7r=12n=14o=7t=24

Adding these numbers together we get the number 254 and converting back into letters using the AWL cipher again we get L.H.S. In occult dictionaries L.H.S. is cited an abreviation for Life, Health, Strength

> ANKH, (W)UDJA(T), SENEB "May he live, be prosperous, be healthy". A common Egyptian salutation appropriate for kings - abbreviated to L.H.S. (Life,Health, Strength)

I'm not sure if this is the solution to the enigma but if not goes to prove to me that life is stranger then fiction!!!...and it continues...

By the way of another coincidence if you take the title of the stanza "THE BATTLE OF THE ANTS" and also arrange the letters into groups of 5 you get theba ttleo fthea nts here's a picture of a theba remind you of anything?

So "Theba! Glory Found!"

If we then take "Theba Glory found" and convert it into numbers using the ALW cipher again we get the number 183. 183 is also a perfect totient number which is often denoted by the greek letter for phi!!!

> The totient is usually called the Euler totient or Euler's totient, after the Swiss mathematician Leonhard Euler, who studied it. The totient function is also called Euler's phi function or simply the phi function, since it is commonly denoted by the Greek letter phi (\varphi).

...and here's where it gets spooky below is the cipher of The Illuminati (as exposed in AbbÃ© Barruel's 1797 book "Memoirs illustrating the History of Jacobinism")

A=12 ....... I,J=4 ...... R=17
B=11 ....... K=3 ........ S=18
C=10 ....... L=2 ........ T=19
D=9 ........ M=1 ........ U,V=20
E=8 ........ N=13 ....... W=21
F=7 ........ O=14 ....... X=22
G=6 ........ P=15 ....... Y=23
H=5 ........ Q=16 ....... Z=24

Using this cypher we find that Aleister Crowley = 183 yep that's right subsitute all the letters in Aleister Crowley to the associated numbers in the above cipher add them together and you get 183!!! freaky or what LoL...

(as a side note to this you will notice in hive http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind11.html the date on the proclamtion is 1776...the supposed date that the illuminati was formed by Adam Weishaupt)

Also quite important to note that theba/thebes was the "City fo One Hundred Gates" in Egypt which is outside of Karnak.

> With the rise of Thebes as foremost city of Egypt the local God Amon rose importance as well and became linked to the sun God Ra, thus creating the new â€œKing of Godsâ€� Amon-Ra. His great temple at Karnak just north of Thebes, was the most important temple of Egypt right until the end of antiquity

Also there is a theban alphabet in magick!

A B C D E F G H I J K L M N O P Q R S T U V W X Y Z

...and if you look into it you will find that Crowley had quite a penchance for the theatrical and liked to use the egyptian gods names in his work

ok that's all for now, even if this isn't the solution to the enigma it is more knowledge gained from research and one hell of a coincidence so it's all good oh and thanks to the poster who reminded me to look into the solitaire cipher again Just aswell I spotted it before you deleted it reason for editing more important info discovered!!!

Ok Anonamoose, now THAT's some seriously impressive research, man!

I so totally concur with you on this!:

WOW...just wow Anonamoose! Amazing research!

Actually, in the source code at pm2012.html it says:

'A Game is like a Mirror that allows you to Know Thyself.' http://www.youtube.com/watch_popup?v=aIZVCCJxIQ4&hl=en

Your words and that quote resonate within me so well.

Ok, I think I just something else, regarding this:

The Golden spiral that I said that is featured in Aleister Crowley's Thoth Tarot, is also featured in the package!

FUCK YEA!

Have you noticed that the golden spiral totally targets the center THE SUN card?

So definitely Magick & the Golden Ratio seems to be very much related.

Now, with this premise, I wonder HOW the Golden Ratio actually might be used within ones magickal practice. Any brainstorming on this would be more than welcome!

Ok, so I noticed this link in the 'Summer reads' section at pm2012.html:

Ok, so, regarding 'Groupthink', 'Memetics' and 'Egregores', I have found this book here might be extremely relevant for our purposes as the egregor called the 'Anonymous Hive Mind':

Sooo... I'm starting to have this idea that the 'goal' of the Game is not to just solve the hidden enigmas: they could be seen as an excuse to help us to brainstorm, to research, to explore the infinite possibilities, and to connect so many different ideas: this way, we will be EMPOWERING OURSELVES with Art/Magick/Imagination as a weapon/tool, the third point in 'The Plan'.

So, actually, what we might be doing here is to continue to build and feed Conscious energy to this amazingly powerful [b]'Thoughtform', 'Hive Mind', 'Groupthink', Egregor that many others, maybe starting with the Egyptians, then continuing with the gnostic societies in the Renaissance, then with Aleister Crowley and later in this century with the chaos magicians such as Grant Morrison, Douglas Rushkoff and now Alan Moore's V for Vendetta might have been feeding for many centuries[/b]...waiting for US to actually help humankind to evolve, to step forward in the golden spiral of Consciousness Evolution! 🙂 😲

So, Aleister Crowley's Consciousness helped to feed the Consciousness of the Egregor and he influenced chaos magicians to create V for Vendetta, Grant Morrison's The Invisibles -whose storyline is set to finish by 12.21.2012-, Alan Moore's V for Vendetta & Watchmen & Douglas Rushkoff's Cyberia to actually IMMANENTIZE THE ESCHATON = the REVELATION = the end to all LIES = on 12.21.2012 11:11?

Triforce = Golden ratio triangles??

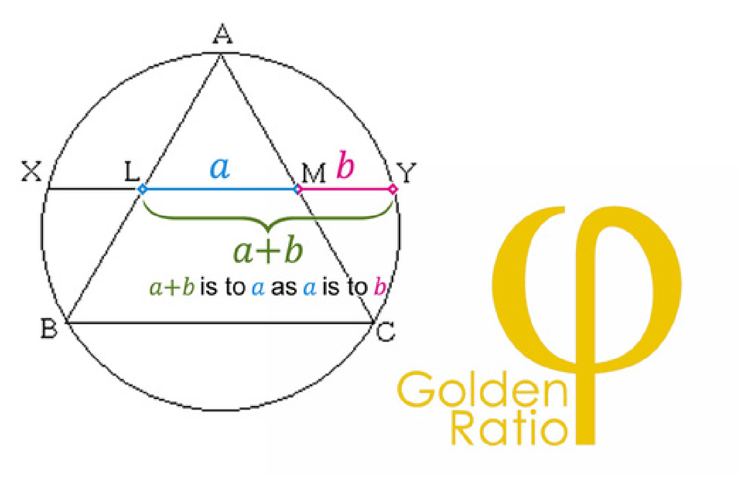
An intriguing showing of Ï† in an equilateral triangle was observed by George Odom, a resident of the Hudson River Psychiatric Center, in the early 1980s [Roberts, p. 10]. Upon hearing it from Odom, the late H. M. S. Coxeter submitted it as a problem to the American Mathematical Monthly (Problem E3007, 1983). The problem has also been reproduced by J. F. Rigby in [Pritchard, p. 294] and mentioned by K. Hofstetter in a recent article.



Let L and M be the midpoints of the sides AB and AC of an equilateral triangle ABC. Let X, Y be the intersections of LM extended with the circumcircle of Î”ABC. Then LM / MY = Ï†.

Indeed, if 2a is the side length of Î”ABC, then AM = MC = LM = a and XL = MY = b. By the Intersecting Chords Theorem, MXÂ·MY = AMÂ·MC.

In other words,

(a + b)Â·b = aÂ·a.

Denoting a/b = x, we see that

1 + x = x2,

which is (2), so that indeed x = Ï†. A derivation based on the presence of similar triangles was posted by Jan van de Craats as a solution to Coxeter's problem and included by R. Nelsen in his collection Proofs Without Words II.

(Linda Fahlberg-Stojanovska made a camcast that follows Odom's construction by paper folding a circle. The resulting pentagon is very nearly regular, but not quite.)

In the above mentioned article, K. Hofstetter, offered another elegant way of obtaining the Golden Ratio.

"I was too naive when I wrote V for Vendetta, I had assumed it would take something like a near miss nuclear war, that people would have to be beaten and brutalized into fascism. This was before Thatcher, we'll be lead into fascism with one gold ring through our nose, and another through our scrotum."

"Alan mentioned how on his 40th birthday, admittedly while slightly inebriated, he decided he was a magician. This was to bridge the divide between the aforementioned and other disciplines.

He has been quoted as saying:

"I believe that MAGIC is Art, and that Art, whether that be music, writing, sculpture,or any other form, is literally MAGIC. Art is, like MAGIC, the SCIENCE of manipulating SYMBOLS, words or images, to achieve CHANGES in CONSCIOUSNESS. Indeed to cast a spell is simply to spell, to manipulate words, to change people's consciousness, and this is why I believe that an artist or writer is the closest thing in the contemporary world to a shaman."

"Taking up the study of the Qabalah and the writings of the notorious early 20th century occultist Aleister Crowley, Moore accepted Crowley's Thelemite ideas about True Will being connected to the will of the pantheistic universe."

"If you take science back far enough it becomes MAGIC. There's a danger of losing the poetry of science.

I just think Art and MAGIC and science should make up and be friends, especially when lots of people think the world was made 6,000 years ago and dinosaur bones were put there to test the faith of nineteenth century palaeontologists."
Art and writing are not seen as transformative forces that can change a human being;
that can change a society.

this may be a bit off track in regards to solving the 2nd enigma, but it seems crucial to the bigger picture that is being painted.

432hz vibrates on the principals of the golden mean PHI and unifies the properties of light, time, space, matter, gravity and magnetism with biology, the DNA code and consciousness.

432hz Natural Tuning has profound effects on consciousness and also on the cellular level of our bodies.
By retuning musical instruments and using concert pitch at 432 hertz instead of 440 hertz, your atoms and DNA starts to resonate in harmony with the PHI spiral of nature.

Didn't know about that, thanks dharmabum333! That might indeed be crucial to grasp the big picture, as Reality is all about Vibrations.

I think I just found something else.

So we got that á¼�Î³Ï�Î®Î³Î¿Ï�Î¿Î¹ = EGREGOROI = WATCHERS = THE WATCHMEN, right?

We got this Aleister Crowley pic, posing as the pharaohs of Ancient Egypt:

In occult symbolism, CROSSING either arms or legs seems to mean to reverse something: INVERSION.

What does the character V want in V for Vendetta? To REVERT the system, right?

Ok, so First, check this V for Vendetta poster: 2 SWORDS in an X shape.

Ok, now, again, please check the SWORDS here:

Right, so have you noticed the XXX in the SWORDS?

Ok, now check this out:

Just a happy coincidance?

Or is Alan Moore actually trying to tell to the trained occult eyes that he knows about the meaning of the triple X applied to magick = 666 = Golden Ratio?

As Anonamoose shared before:

> Anonamoose wrote:

> Curiously enough, if you take the sine of 666Â°, you get -0.80901699, which is one-half of negative phi, or perhaps what one might call the "anti-phi." You can also get -0.80901699 by taking the cosine of 216Â°, and 216 is 6 x 6 x 6.
>
> The trigonometric relationship of sine 666Â° to phi is based on an isosceles triangle with a base of phi and sides of 1. When this triangle is enclosed in a circle with a radius of 1, we see that the lower line, which has an angle of 306Â° on the first rotation and 666Â° on the second rotation, has a sine equal to one-half negative phi.

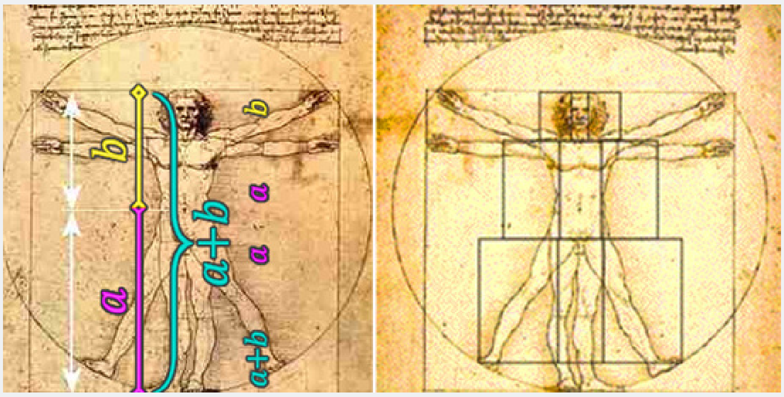
> Phi appears throughout creation, and in every physical proportion of the human body. In that sense it is the number of mankind, as the mysterious passage of Revelation perhaps reveals.

Source: http://www.goldennumber.net/bible.htm

So,



666 = the number of the beast, for it is a MAN's number?

Is Alan Moore trying to tell to the trained eyes that his WILL = SWORDS, his intention as an Initate, as a self-declared Chaos Magician might be to REVERT, to rearrange, to turn around, to move backwards something... such as our System maybe... or even TIME itself?

He has just written a new (2000 pages! & half a billion words! ) novel called Jerusalem, and he discusses his theories about TIME!

> Moore also talks about his theory of time â€“ that we exist in a four dimensional system where consciousness moves backwards and forwards in time but everything else remains still. Much like his fellow comic writer Grant Morrisonâ€™s theory, or the theory put forward in LOST and by many occultists such Paul Laffoley and Michael Bertiaux.
> Moore also believes that when we die, our CONSCIOUSNESS has nowhere to go but BACK TO THE BEGINNING. So we live our lives over, and over again. Itâ€™s an idea called eternal recurrence, originally put forward in Vedic religions, particularly Jainism, and later by Nietzsche. Point being, you should live a life youâ€™d be willing to live over and over again.

have you noticed the name of the file?

V.wav = the letter V in hebrew is spelled VAV or VAW! 😃

| | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|

| 80 | | 90 | | 100 | 200 | 300 | 400 |

It's gematry value = 6

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Waw_(letter)

Hence, V WAV = V V = 2V = II V, that is, either the number 2 and the letter V!!! 😃

In Exodus 4 2:4, we read:

> 2 Then the LORD said to him, â€œWhat is that in your hand?â€�
>
> â€œA staff,â€� he replied.

> 3 The LORD said, â€œThrow it on the ground.â€�
>
> Moses threw it on the ground and it became a snake, and he ran from it.
> 4 Then the LORD said to him, â€œReach out your hand and take it by the tail.â€� So Moses reached out and took hold of the snake and it turned back into a staff in his hand.
> 5 â€œThis,â€� said the LORD, â€œis so that they may believe that the LORD, the God of their fathersâ€"the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac and the God of Jacobâ€"has appeared to you.â€�

Source: http://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Exodus+4&version=NIV so with the V.wav are they saying that VAW = the magick staff that turns into a snake in the hands of the magician?

http://www.projectmayhem2012.org/V.wav

V.WAV = V V, a 'cypher that is NOT (just) a cipher' maybe?

just some more ideas to play with!

Love your posts anonymouth, new concepts each time smashing work!...my heads a bit fried still after the research I did last night so I think I'll give the research a miss this evening.

Just a quick thought mate, might be an idea to edit your posts and reduce the picture sizes in all of them as the pics you have up are MASSIVE and for the newcomers to this thread if might be a bit overwhleming Since they are so big you have to open up the pics in a new tab to view them (I do that anyway to have a good look) but some might not and miss out on what you're showing them.

Also to help reduce reader fatigue it might be an idea to not requote entire posts but rather refer to the post number i.e. I like your post No.138. and then if you need to quote just quote short pertinent passages.

I think this is important because as this is becoming a rather large thread we need to be as concise as possible so people find it easier to process the information contained within it and it may also encourage more people to contribute. As in Alchemy distlling is key

Tomorrow I am going to start archiving this thread and attempting to distill the info into a guide to what has been observed on projectmayhem...this will be an ongoing work but should make a very intersting read when finished. when it is complete I can send it to the various contributors to this thread to proof/add/subtract and then we can forward to a mod/admin and ask them to create one locked thread which we can edit from time to update the info in it.

That way anyone discovering this thread for the first time in a few weeks/months can view the "locked" thread overview/summanry first to get an overall view of what has been said in this thread without having to trawl through what will undoubtedly be thousands of posts by that stage.

We can continue using this thread to brainstorm all the new stuff with hopefully more of us monkeys joining in ^^^^^^ Yeah Please ^^^^^^^^

lol I'm been able to 'scan' over some of this thread but your right about the extremely long posts of reposts, turning into reposts of reposts of.. you see the picture .... does make following the conversation rather tedious.

I'd greatly like to come back after you have been able to compile the thread into something more 'timelined' if you will. Even send me a pm that it's up when you have it done so I don't miss it would be greatly appreciated.

Oooops! Yep, you are right, I'm sorry about that guys, I'm browsing the site with a high screen resolution and I got a bit enthusiastic about this!

Give me one day and I'll be resizing all the pics and editing my posts.

Great idea Anonamoose! It will surely prove useful, the more eyes through this, the smarter our shared hivemind becomes!

more connections.
i googled Kappa-Epsilon-Phi-Alpha-Lambda-Eta Epsilon and first found this video http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=J5vtgIjkGwo i decided to see what else mr. chonozon333 had to offer...

first, if you will notice the background of his page has a sigil.

since we are involved in quite the game here, i was drawn to this vid in particular...
http://www.youtube.com/user/MrChoronzon333#p/u/11/TOXiHPYCyXc seems like something i read in the sauce... no?

Ok, I just finished editing the images, I have cropped them to 550 pixels as maximum width, just perfect for people browsing at 1024x768 resolution and above.

Back to brainstorming!

> I first heard of the 23 enigma from William S Burroughs, author of Naked Lunch, Nova Express, etc. According to Burroughs, he had known a certain Captain Clark, around 1960 in Tangier, who once bragged that he had been sailing 23 years without an accident. That very day, Clarkâ€™s ship had an accident that killed him and everybody else aboard. Furthermore, while Burroughs was thinking about this crude example of the irony of the gods that evening, a bulletin on the radio announced the crash of an airliner in Florida, USA. The pilot was another captain Clark and the flight was Flight 23.[16]
>
> Burroughs wrote a short story in 1967 called "23 Skidoo." The term "23 skidoo" was popularized in the early 1920s and means "it's time to leave while the getting is good." It appeared in newspapers as early as 1906.[17]
> The Principia Discordia states that "All things happen in fives, or are divisible by or are multiples of five, or are somehow directly or indirectly appropriate to 5"[18]â€”this is referred to as the Law of Fives. The 23 Enigma is regarded as a corollary of this law. It can be seen in Robert Anton Wilson and Robert Shea's The Illuminatus! Trilogy (therein called the "23/17 phenomenon"), Wilson's Cosmic Trigger I: The Final Secret of the Illuminati (therein called "The Law of fives" and "The 23 Enigma"), Arthur Koestler's Challenge of Chance, as well as the Principia Discordia. In these works, 23 is considered lucky, unlucky, sinister, strange, or sacred to the goddess Eris or to the unholy gods of the Cthulhu Mythos.
> As with most numerological claims, the enigma can be viewed as an example of apophenia, selection bias, and confirmation bias. In interviews, Wilson acknowledged the self-fulfilling nature of the enigma, implying that the real value of the Laws of Fives and Twenty-threes lies in their demonstration of the mind's power to perceive "truth" in nearly anything.
> When you start looking for something you tend to find it. This wouldn't be like Simon Newcomb, the great astronomer, who wrote a mathematical proof that heavier than air flight was impossible and published it a day before the Wright brothers took off. I'm talking about people who found a pattern in nature and wrote several scientific articles and got it accepted by a large part of the scientific community before it was generally agreed that there was no such pattern, it was all just selective perception."[19]
> In the Illuminatus! Trilogy, he expresses the same view: that one can find a numerological significance to anything, provided "sufficient cleverness.

Does this mean that if we look into 'immanentizing the eschaton', provided 'sufficient cleverness' of the Hive Mind, we will tend to FIND IT?

So Stephen Colbert joined the Discordian 'Illuminati' as part of Operation Mindfuck., right?

Well, check out http://projectmayhem2012.org/pm2012.html , under 'Summer reads':

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Operation_Mindfuck

tango down!

So it seems fair to deduce that Project Mayhem 2012 might be part of the ongoing discordian Operation Mindfuck, right?

So what is Operation Mindfuck?

(leading people to believe they're from "The Management" instead of "the Midget") that contain absurdities, and placing the signs in stores and other establishments.

ZALGO

> Summary
> In short, Zalgo is a faux-Lovecraftian internet-based mythos typically accompanied with mangled text and vague implications that Zalgo will soon be destroying the world/the poster's sanity/humanity. Zalgo is not necessarily an entity, but is more of a concept, much like Lovecraft's "The Colour Out of Space."

> Initially created by regular Something Awful contributor Shmorky, Zalgo has taken on a horrifying life of its own. It lay dormant until a SomethingAwful goon, by the name of Bobby Deluxe, created edited versions of the webcomic Ctrl Alt Del and shared them in a megathread dedicated to morking the comic. It was further spread by b3ta.com users, who photoshopped IRL and web-based comics to feature eldritch horrors. It has since spread to 4chan and other large communities and has run rampant ever since.

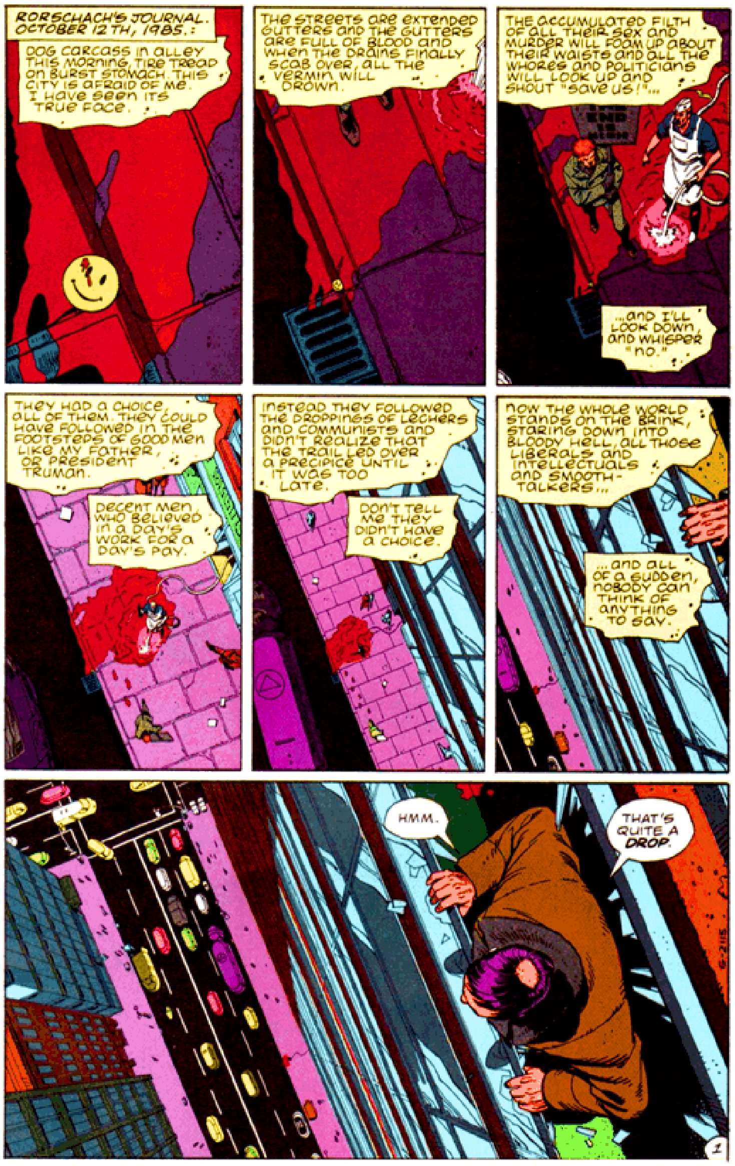
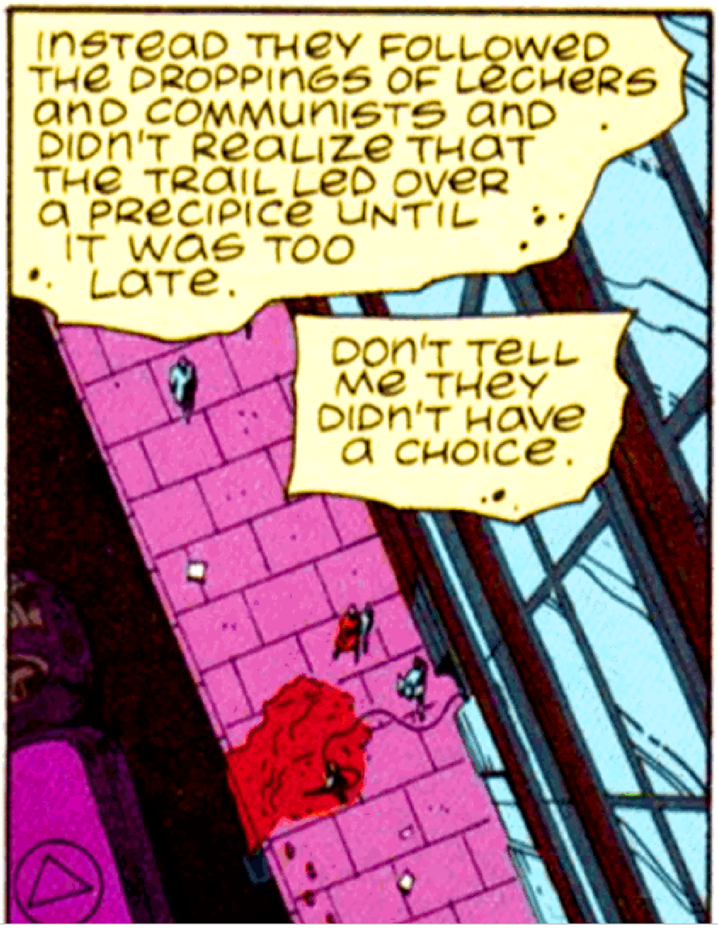
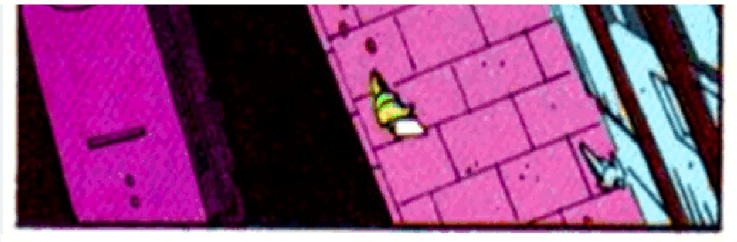
So, as we saw above, se got Alan Moore injecting a sigil, the Golden Ratio as a triangle within a circle, in the very first page of Watchmen:

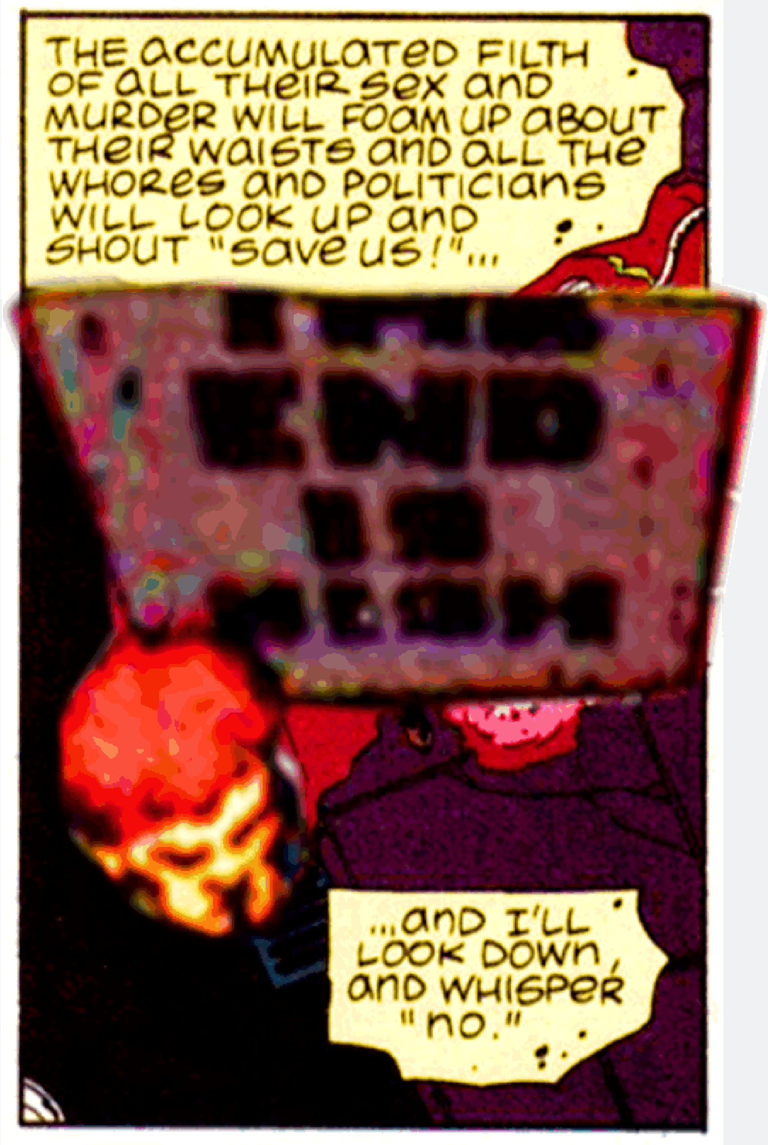


RORSCHACH'S JOURNAL. OCTOBER 12TH, 1985:
DOG CARCASS IN ALLEY THIS MORNING, TIRE TREAD ON BURST STOMACH. THIS CITY IS AFRAID OF ME. I HAVE SEEN ITS TRUE FACE.
THE STREETS ARE EXTENDED GUTTERS AND THE GUTTERS ARE FULL OF BLOOD AND WHEN THE DRAINS FINALLY SCAB OVER, ALL THE VERMIN WILL DROWN.
THE ACCUMULATED FILTH OF ALL THEIR SEX AND MURDER WILL FOAM UP ABOUT THEIR WAISTS AND ALL THE WHORES AND POLITICIANS WILL LOOK UP AND SHOUT "SAVE US!"...
...AND I'LL LOOK DOWN, AND WHISPER "NO."
THEY HAD A CHOICE, ALL OF THEM. THEY COULD HAVE FOLLOWED IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF GOOD MEN LIKE MY FATHER, OR PRESIDENT TRUMAN.
DECENT MEN WHO BELIEVED IN A DAY'S WORK FOR A DAY'S PAY.
INSTEAD THEY FOLLOWED THE DROPPINGS OF LECHERS AND COMMUNISTS AND DIDN'T REALIZE THAT THE TRAIL LED OVER A PRECIPICE UNTIL IT WAS TOO LATE.
DON'T TELL ME THEY DIDN'T HAVE A CHOICE.
NOW THE WHOLE WORLD STANDS ON THE BRINK, STARING DOWN INTO BLOODY HELL, ALL THOSE LIBERALS AND INTELLECTUALS AND SMOOTH-TALKERS...
...AND ALL OF A SUDDEN, NOBODY CAN THINK OF ANYTHING TO SAY.
HMM.
THAT'S QUITE A DROP.
1



INSTEAD THEY FOLLOWED THE DROPPINGS OF LECHERS AND COMMUNISTS AND DIDN'T REALIZE THAT THE TRAIL LED OVER A PRECIPICE UNTIL IT WAS TOO LATE.
DON'T TELL ME THEY DIDN'T HAVE A CHOICE.





THE ACCUMULATED FILTH OF ALL THEIR SEX AND MURDER WILL FOAM UP ABOUT THEIR WAISTS AND ALL THE WHORES AND POLITICIANS WILL LOOK UP AND SHOUT "SAVE US!"...
THE END IS NIGH
...AND I'LL LOOK DOWN, AND WHISPER "NO."

Now, back to page 1 of this thread... I'll paste a comment I made there:

Interesting approach. But a little bit farfetched in my opinion.

You are only researching with the letter V and the data type WAV. But what is about the sound itself?

I'm still connecting it with the movie Contact, as mentioned before.

All in all it seems that we are moving straight backward in human history.
The Egyptians, hieroglyphs, ancient gods.
Maybe we should investigate a little bit more in that corner?

Where are we from, where are we going? What is the TIME doing with us?

Do you all believe in the theory that human kind evolved from apes?

Just throwing that into the round: "The Terra Papers"
Really interesting stuff.

What are your thoughts?

I hope its not to personally now. But I must admit that the theory that we are not alone attracts me.

Love and peace to you anons

Been analyzing that sound file...

Normally it sounds like nothing, reversed it sounds like a voice generator soaked in reverb over a constant pulse. Shaved off all the unnecessary noise and ran through a speech enhancer and it sounds like it's saying "There will be blood" not kidding.

Other then that there doesn't appear to be anything too out of the ordinary yet.

I am no expert on matters Thelemic, Hermetic etc- but I do know what a Fibonacci Spiral is for. As pointed out in earlier posts, it is the Path of Time and represents the repetitive but advancing nature of time.

I have sat and absent-mindedly drawn these spirals and the repetition is trance inducing. You can look down a Spiral or up.

I am not surprised about Alan Moore's Practices. In fact it seems very common in the Comic community. 'Nemesis the Warlock' was strewn with in-jokes for the occult educated in its art by Kevin O'Neill (who yes, worked with Alan Moore but that is hardly surprising).

To throw another thing into the mix, watch 'What the Bleep Do You Know!'
https://secure.wikimedia.org/wikipedia/en/wiki/What_the_Bleep_Do_We_Know!%3F this will, I think help advance this project quite a bit. It is a film worth meditating on. You want the first movie, not the sequel.

Oh yes. That's exactly what I think, too.

i have been reading as much as i can find about "zalgo" and i keep bringing it back to the 2nd enigma.
"what's a cipher that is not a cypher?"
zalgo itself seems to be somewhat of a cipher...

and it represents chaos which has been a big theme so far in our journey of the hivemind.

i am not sure yet how "consciousness is the key" ties in... or if i am on the right track at all... but i do suspect its relevant...

Well, it's good that you bring this to our attention. I don't know about the red V in NASA logo, but allow me to shred some more light on this Mr.Razz, specially to honour your new signature 💡

> Vi Veri Veniversum Vivus Vici
> By the power of truth i will conquer the universe

Vi Veri universum Vivus Vici (also written as "Vi Veri Veniversum Vivus Vici") is a Latin phrase meaning: "By the power of truth, I, while living, have conquered the universe".

> Wikipedia wrote:
>
> This quote is often attributed to Christopher Marlowe's Doctor Faustus, where it appeared supposedly as Vi veri ueniversum vivus vici; however, no direct citation has been found in the book. Note that V was first the consonantal u, and was written the same before the two forms became distinct, and also after in many cases, when u and v were both capitalized as V: thus, Veniversum. Also, universum is sometimes quoted with the form ueniversum (or Veniversum), which is presumably a combination of universum and oeniversum (two classically-attested spellings)[citation needed]. The 'V' sounds are properly pronounced as English 'W' sounds in Classical Latin pronunciation. Ecclesial Latin uses Italianate pronunciation, retaining the English-style 'V' sound.
> The phrase has been made popular with the graphic novel V for Vendetta, where it appears embossed in an arch of V's hideout the "Shadow Gallery", and this phrase also appears on a mirror in the movie version, also inside V's Shadow Gallery (in addition to prominently featuring the letter 'V', the phrase contains five words, which in Roman numerals is represented as 'V').

Yeah, that's what his hat represents in that pic! And his arms mean a big number 11, — yeah, 11, like this page, 11, what a happy coincidance, huh? — a veeery important number in Thelema.

http://www.thelemapedia.org/index.php/11

Well, did you know that, as crazy as it sounds, there IS a connection between Aleister Crowley AND the NASA?

Yeah! Through Jack Parsons! He was a smart guy, there's a crater on the Moon named after him!

Ok, so... did you know that there IS a link between Aleister Crowley and the Church of Scientology?

YES, Aleister Crowley got to through Jack Parsons, to reach our much beloved Ron L. Hubbard no less... in order TO TRICK THEM to perform the Babalon Ritual for him, maybe!?

When Parsons declared that the first of the series of rituals was complete and successful, he almost immediately met Marjorie Cameron in his own home, and regarded her as the creation of the ritual, considered her his "Scarlet Woman", and soon began the next stage of the series--an attempt to conceive a child through sexual magick workings. Although no child was conceived, this did not affect the result of the ritual to that point. Parsons and Cameron soon married.

The Babalon Ritual with Marjorie Cameron is actually eatured in this Kenneth Anger's movie:

And... YES, Kenneth Anger, as Grant Morrison and Douglas Rushkoff, he ALSO spoke at disinfocon 2000! what a coincidance, right?

It was during this return that he began to once more immerse himself in the artistic scene of California, befriending the film maker Stan Brakhage, who had been inspired by Fireworks, and the two collaborated on producing a film, but it was confiscated at the film lab for obscenity and presumably destroyed.[39] Around this time, two of Anger's friends, the couple Renate Druks and Paul Mathiesin held a party based upon the theme of 'Come As Your Madness'; Anger himself attended dressed in drag as the ancient Greek goddess Hekate. The party and its many costumes inspired Anger, who produced a painting of it, and asked several of those who attended to appear in a new film that he was creating – Inauguration of the Pleasure Dome.[40] Inauguration, which was created in 1954, was a 38 minute surrealist work featuring many Crowleyan and Thelemite themes, with many of the various different characters personifying various pagan gods such as Isis, Osiris and Pan. One of the actresses in the film was[size=18] Marjorie Cameron, the widow of Jack Parsons, the influential American Thelemite who had died a few years previously, while Anger himself played Hecate.

"To the Fairest"

The word ΚΑΛΛΙΣΤΗΙ (Ancient Greek: καλλίστῃ kallistē(i), Modern Greek: καλλίστη kallisti; "for/to the most beautiful")[4] was inscribed on the Golden Apple of Discord by Eris. Καλλίστῃ is the dative singular of the feminine superlative of καλός, beautiful. In Latin sources, the word is pulcerrimae.
Since the wedding of Peleus and Thetis was held on Mount Pelion in Magnesia, the inscription would have been in the local Cumae alphabet. Nestor's Cup provides a close example.

Discordianism
The word Kallisti has become a principal symbol of the modern religion Discordianism. In non-philological texts (such as Discordian ones) the word is usually spelled (via back-translation) as καλλιστι, while most versions of Principia Discordia actually spell use καλλιχτι. In the afterword of the 1979 Loompanics edition, the author Gregory Hill said that was because on his IBM typewriter not all Greek letters coincided with Latin ones and he didn't know enough at the time to spot the mistake.

The Garden of the Hesperides, Atlas' daughters, was Hera's orchard in the far western corner of the world, where either a single tree or a grove of trees bearing immortality-giving golden apples grew. Hera placed in the garden a never-sleeping, hundred-headed, dragon, named Ladon, as an additional safeguard. The 12th labor Labor of Hercules was to steal the golden apples from the garden. He stole the apples by asking Atlas to steal the apples and in return he would hold up the sky for him. After Atlas picked the apples, Hercules asked Atlas to hold up the sky for him while he made a pad of the lion skin. He never took back his job of holding up the sky and ran away.

Chao

The word Chao (pronounced similarly to "cow") was a neologism coined as the singular of chaos. In Discordianism the chao is a symbol of the 'pataphysical nature of reality; singular instances of chaos being at the center of 'pataphysical theory. The word is a pun that enables the following quatrain in the Principia Discordia:

To diverse gods
Do mortals bow;
Holy Cow, and Wholly Chao.

Have you noticed a link at pm2012.html 'Summer Reads' about Pataphysics?

Wikipedia wrote:

'Pataphor

The 'pataphor (Spanish: patáfora, French: pataphore), is a term coined by writer and musician Pablo Lopez ("Paul Avion"), for an unusually extended metaphor based on Alfred Jarry's "science" of 'pataphysics. As Jarry claimed that 'pataphysics existed "as far from metaphysics as metaphysics extends from regular reality," a 'pataphor attempts to create a figure of speech that exists as far from metaphor as metaphor exists from non-figurative language. Whereas a metaphor is the comparison of a real object or event with a seemingly unrelated subject in order to emphasize the similarities between the two, the 'pataphor uses the newly created metaphorical similarity as a reality with which to base itself. In going beyond mere ornamentation of the original idea, the 'pataphor seeks to describe a new and separate world, in which an idea or aspect has taken on a life of its own.[5][6]

Like 'pataphysics itself, 'pataphors essentially describe two degrees of separation from reality (rather than merely one degree of separation, which is the world of metaphors and metaphysics). The 'pataphor may also be said to function as a critical tool, describing the world of "assumptions based on assumptions," such as belief systems or rhetoric run amok. The following is an example.

Non-figurative:
Tom and Alice stood side by side in the lunch line.

Metaphor
Tom and Alice stood side by side in the lunch line; two pieces positioned on a chessboard.

'Pataphor
Tom took a step closer to Alice and made a date for Friday night, checkmating. Rudy was furious at losing to Margaret so easily and dumped the board on the rose-colored quilt, stomping downstairs.

Thus, the 'pataphor has created a world where the chessboard exists, including the characters who live in that world, entirely abandoning the original context http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/'Pataphysics#'Pataphor

So, why did Dan Brown decide to change the name of his novel "The Lost Symbol" from "The Solomon Key" to "The Lost Symbol"...

Sure.

To put it shortly: it looks like Operation Mindfuck agents are very much alive and kicking.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Operation_Mindfuck

Project Mayhem 2012 seems to be an Alternate Reality Hacking meta-Game that connects & links many different hypersigils already launched many years (thousands of years ago...?) by other 'Initiates' -whatever that means-, in order to 'immanentize the eschaton', as shown at http://projectmayhem2012.org/Z.jpg

What's discordianism?

This: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Discordianism

What's the main objective of the discordian Operation Mindfuck?

To bring about the eschaton.

1. According to the comments in the html source, the chosen date, 12.21.2012 11:11 refers to this:

12.21.2012 11:11 UTC is the precise time when Winter solstice will occur in 2012.

Winter solstice (typically defined as when the apparent ecliptic longitude of the Sun is 270 degrees) is:

2012-Dec-21 11:11:38 UTC.

Below you can see the crossover point when going from the 38 second "tick" to the 39 second "tock":

Coincidentally, it's also the date for the '2012 phenomenon'.

We are speculating that this discordian Operation Mindfuck be about affecting Global Consciousness for the better with Art & memetics & Chaos Magick as weapons. As crazy as it sounds, Alan Moore (he wrote V for Vendetta and Watchmen), a self-declared chaos magician, is well aware that Art can be used to change societies and human beings. Are WE witnessing the effects of his hypersigl?

Grant Morrison's The Invisibles is also another hypersigil.

> So, Aleister Crowley's Consciousness helped to feed the Consciousness of the Egregor and he influenced chaos magicians to create V for Vendetta, Grant Morrison's The Invisibles -whose storyline is set to finish by 12.21.2012-, Alan Moore's V for Vendetta & Watchmen & Douglas Rushkoff's Cyberia to actually IMMANENTIZE THE ESCHATON = the REVELATION = the end to all LIES = on 12.21.2012 11:11?

"Morrison used the term "Forensic Meditation" to refer his mixture of scientific and magical techniques to tell the story."

With the three volumes of the creator-owned The Invisibles, Morrison would start his largest and possibly most important work.

Tapping into pre-millennial tension, the work was influenced by the writings of Robert Anton Wilson, Aleister Crowley and William Burroughs and Morrison's practice of Chaos Magick.

At DisinfoCon in 1999, Morrison said that much of the content in The Invisibles was information given to him by aliens that abducted him in Kathmandu, who told him to spread this information to the world via a comic book.

He later clarified that the experience he labeled as the "Alien Abduction Experience in Kathmandu" had nothing to do with aliens or abduction, but that there was an experience that he had in Kathmandu that The Invisibles is an attempt to explain.

Morrison actually asked his readers to participate in a "wankathon" while concentrating on a magical symbol, or sigil, in an effort to boost sales.

His intent with The Invisibles was to create a magical hypersigil to jump-start the culture in a more positive direction."

Magical paradigm shifting

Perhaps the most striking feature of chaos magic is the concept of the magical paradigm shift. Borrowing a term from philosopher Thomas Samuel Kuhn, Carroll made the technique of arbitrarily changing one's world view (or paradigm) of magic, a major concept of chaos magic. An example of a magical paradigm shift is doing a Lovecraftian rite, followed by using a technique from an Edred Thorsson book in the following ritual. These two magical paradigms are very different, but while the individual is using one, he or she believes in it fully to the extent of ignoring all other (often contradictory) ones. The shifting of magical paradigms has since found its way into the magical work of practitioners of many other magical traditions, but chaos magic remains the field where it is most developed.

Changing belief systems at will is also sometimes practiced by followers of Discordianism.

Some chaos magicians like to operate in what is sometimes called a META-PARADIGM..

This is much akin to syncretism but with the consideration that flexibility of belief is a means of personal power and freedom. A more or less syncretic reality tunneling. Even more removed from this, being a post-meta-paradigmatic view, or an abstention from the notion of any view being absolute, compare Nietzsche's Perspectivism.

Belief as a tool

Chaos magic claims that belief can be an active magical force.

It emphasizes flexibility of belief and the ability to consciously choose one's beliefs, hoping to apply belief as a tool rather than seeing it as a relatively unchanging part of one's personality. Various psychological techniques are employed in order to induce flexibility of belief.

Other chaos magicians suggest that PEOPLE DO NOT NEED "BELIEF" TO WORK MAGIC.

Austin Osman Spare asserts in the Book of Pleasure and various other works that Will formulates Desire which promulgates Belief.

Emphasis on creative ritualism

Emphasis on creative ritualism and innovation of ritual take place in all magical and religious traditions at varying paces. In the case of chaos magic, the idea that belief systems and gnosis-inducing techniques are interchangeable has led to a particularly wide variety of magical practices evidenced in large and diverse directories of rituals.

Many authors explicitly encourage readers TO INVENT THEIR OWN MAGICAL STYLE. "

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Chaos_magic

In the words of Robert Anton Wilson:

"There is no governor anywhere; YOU ARE ALL ABSOLUTELY FREE. There is no restraint that cannot be escaped. WE ARE ALL ABSOLUTELY FREE. If everybody could go into dhyana at will, nobody could be controlled — by FEAR of prison, by FEAR of whips or electroshock, by FEAR of death, even. ALL EXISTING SOCIETY IS BASED ON KEEPING THOSE FEARS ALIVE, to control the masses.

I am at a loss of words and motivation to find any adjectives that could successfully characterize the content of this thread. I have read this entire thread thoroughly to want to almost believe in nearly most it says... concerning Anonymous's place and destiny.... However there is also that etching feeling in my head that when I wake up the 21st of December and hope that what this information all compiles would be true. That only business as usual would occur for the rest of our minuscule existences. That all this work we see before us is the complicated animus of a deranged man who added a mathematical, historical, artistic, and scientific demeanour to all of his "magicks" for the sake of entertaining and creating a spectacle for the masses to gawk at in astonishment. I don't want to believe that, but its the only explanation I could come up with that in case all thats stated here about what will happen on 2012 december 21st would be wrong. Not saying it is.

Any 2 cents on my evaluation?.... I am not saying I am right, I want to believe it but the rational thinker in my says otherwise.....

Because lets be honest, you try talking to any normal human being about whats discussed here either they will be completely lost or think you insane for considering such. And by extreme forces like the church even deam you heretical Greetings!

...and well done to you all! 😎

I've been lurking here for a number of days now and I'm not sure if I have much to offer, just a brief 'recap'(with some additions) of the/a 'train of thought', a re-post of The Enigma and a rather inspirational visual presentment!

1 cent here.

Yeah, in one way, what you are saying here really makes sense Discord Dan.

But, you'll agree with me that 'Reality' doesn't really need to be inherently intuitive. Actually, it's QUITE counter-intuitive when you go deeper and deeper down the white rabbit hole...

To utterly astonishes about how the 'real world' works is really simple: simply change the scale at which you are doing observations and measurements.

Someone recommended the http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/What_the_Bleep_Do_We_Know!%3F move above.

To be honest, that movie is not my cup of tea, but there's a REALLY intriguing video in that movie that REALLY makes you wonder what the fsck is going on with 'Reality'.

It's the oh-so-famous Double Slit experiment:

It looks reeeeally weird indeed, right?

Einstein found it quite hard to take in... He had long discussions with Böhr over it.

In the end, Böhr seems to have 'won' within the scientific community, and his http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Copenhagen_interpretation seems to be widely accepted within physicists.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Double-slit_experiment#Interpretations_of_the_experiment

Yet, that's not the only theory on what's happening with the Double-slit experiment. There's also Carlo Rovelli's interpretation, http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Relational_quantum_mechanics http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Carlo_Rovelli

Science is always like this: as time passes by, 99% of scientific theories naturally EVOLVE and end up being 'wrong', or, to be more accurate, are abandoned in favour of other 'explanations'.

Are we living in Matrix, inside a Computer Simulation

Well, that's an example of an extremely counter-intuitive theory, right?

Have you checked within the 'Summer reads' section hidden within http://projectmayhem2012.org/pm2012.html ?

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Digital_philosophy#Digital_philosophers http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Digital_physics#Pancomputationalism_or_the_computational_universe_theory

Digital Phhilosophy & Digital Physics are extremely counter-intuitive theories on the way 'Reality' works. Yet that's exactly what Digital Physics is all about.

Look:

> Wikipedia wrote:

> Pancomputationalism (also known as pan-computationalism, naturalist computationalism) is a view that the universe is a huge computational machine, or rather a network of computational processes which, following fundamental physical laws, computes (dynamically develops) its own next state from the current one.
>
> A computational universe is proposed by Jürgen Schmidhuber in a paper based on Konrad Zuse's assumption (1967) that the history of the universe is computable. He pointed out that the simplest explanation of the universe would be a very simple Turing machine programmed to systematically execute all possible programs computing all possible histories for all types of computable physical laws. He also pointed out that there is an optimally efficient way of computing all computable universes based on Leonid Levin's universal search algorithm (1973). In 2000 he expanded this work by combining Ray Solomonoff's theory of inductive inference with the assumption that quickly computable universes are more likely than others. This work on digital physics also led to limit-computable generalizations of algorithmic information or Kolmogorov complexity and the concept of Super Omegas, which are limit-computable numbers that are even more random (in a certain sense) than Gregory Chaitin's number of wisdom Omega.

Now pay attention to John Archibald Wheeler's view on 'Reality':

> Wikipedia wrote:

Otherwise put, every 'it'—every particle, every field of force, even the space-time continuum itself—derives its function, its meaning, its very existence entirely—even if in some contexts indirectly—from the apparatus-elicited answers to yes-or-no questions, binary choices, bits.
>
> 'It from bit' symbolizes the idea that every item of the physical world has at bottom—a very deep bottom, in most instances—an immaterial source and explanation; that which we call reality arises in the last analysis from the posing of yes–no questions and the registering of equipment-evoked responses; in short, that all things physical are information-theoretic in origin and that this is a participatory universe. (John Archibald Wheeler 1990: 5)

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Digital_physics#Wheeler.27s_.22it_from_bit.22

What if I told you that there's a chance we might ALREADY be living inside a Computer Simulation?

Yet that's exactly what Nick Bostrom's philosophical argument maintains.

I suggest you check this out:

Source: http://www.simulation-argument.com/simulation.html

And ever further down the rabbit hole... what IF we were living inside recursive simulations deeply nested within the very fabric of 'Reality'?

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Simulated_reality#Recursive_simulations

Obviously that doesn't mean those hypothesis are 'right': everything in science is just a temporary MODEL to help us understand 'Reality' a bit better. These counter-intuitive theories just mean that, from a completely XXI century western 'RATIONAL' point of view, it's possible to favour and build completely counter-intuitive theories on how reality works.

Or, in RAW words:

Or, one of my favourite quotes ever:

Eadem mutata resurgo is a Latin phrase that literally translates to "Although changed, I shall arise the same." The phrase was first known to be used by Jakob Bernoulli (1654-1705), a member of the famous Swiss mathematical family, and appears on his tombstone in Basel. Bernoulli was referring to the continual appearance of the logarithmic spiral in nature, such as with the curves of the Nautilus shell.[1]

It is also the motto of the Collège de 'pataphysique.

Well, it's only normal for Neo to fight 'Reality' when he suddenly founds about The Matrix, right?

Anyway, that's actually quite simple: don't force your ideas upon any one. If they attack you for your 'crazy' ideas, don't fight back: simply IGNORE them and move on. Just try it, works wonders, I'm telly you! Just PLAY along.

I think we all agree that if we REALLY want to affect and change the world in the most positive way, it might be time already that we had the COURAGE to approach this in a whole and completely new way... otherwise, are we looking for another 1789 French Revolution that changes one 'thing' for 'another' and then wait another 200 years until everything gets back to where it all started or should we dare to DREAM that Consciousness could be actually EVOLVING and WE could be the very first and priviledged agents of change?

Another +1 cent: not to take magicK seriously seems to be the very 1st commandment in Discordianism.

In other words, laugh at how crazy it ALL might be, and start by laughing at yourself, or, as pm2012 site says, lulz kills fear.

Aleister Crowley calls the anxiety over what might happen on December 21 2012 "lust for results".

The way I see this is:

Alan Moore, a self-declared user of a 'technique' unknown to most people, seems to have REALLY affected 'Reality' with his V for Vendetta comic, right? This is a FACT.

This 'technique' seems to be called kaos magick, and it seems to have a completely empirical approach: try this, try that and OBSERVE the results. If it doesn't work the way you expected it to work, then maybe change the way you do things and keep on observing the results you get. Sounds quite sensible actually, right?

Then there are all the connections with Aleister Crowley whom Alan Moore and many other chaos magicians, such as Timothy Leary, Robert Anton Wilson, Grant Morrison and others, actually admire.

I think what we might be speaking of here might be SOOOO SERIOUS that, if it be True, there's no fscking way I'd take it seriously: if Anonymous were actually destined to change the world due to learning how to develop magick hacktions, I think we'd all have to agree to lulz ours asses off, right?

I don't care what will happen by 21 December 2012, but there's at least ONE thing I know for sure: there's soooooo much lulz potential in this! For me, that's a reason enough to jump into the abyss!

I think that's the point when I understand you correctly.

So we, everybody (Anonymous), are already kaos magickans, because our mind, our consciousness, is affecting our reality.
It's affecting the Matrix in that we live.

We don't need a violence revolution. We are right know in a peaceful revolution, controlled by our minds.

Mindfuck revolution

The first step is taken. We are in the rabbit hole. Step for step knowing more puzzle pieces how our reality is working.

Reminds me of the documentary film "The Secret"

By the way a really good docu, I recommend it

Spot on! I couldn't have put it any better, Cocksniffer.

> Cokesniffer wrote:

Exactly. That's actually the alchemical quest: the alchemical Stone might be a metaphore for a sort of enlightened Consciousness of 'Reality'.

That might very well be the case indeed: matter -atoms- could actually COMPUTE. Isn't that what we tend to call Consciousness? It would only take some lateral thinking to consider the possibility that we might not be the 'producers' of Consciousness inside our 'brains' but actually 'machines' (= pieces of 'matter') that quite simple would CHANNEL the Omni-present-PanConsciousness in the ¿inphinite MultiVerses? into the illusion of 'Being'.

There's a video on this. David Lynch -the movie director, yeah- is featured.

Consciousness over Matter.

There's a nice book on the Universe as a huge Quantum Computer:

> Wikipedia wrote:
>
> The book proposes that the universe is a quantum computer, and advances in the understanding of physics may come from viewing entropy as a phenomenon of information, rather than simply thermodynamics.

> Everything in the universe is made of bits. Not chunks of stuff, but chunks of information — ones and zeros. … Atoms and electrons are bits. Atomic collisions are "ops." Machine language is the laws of physics. The universe is a quantum computer.

Source: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Programming_the_Universe

And here is its author, Seth Lloyd, on the hypothesis of the Universe being a Quantum Computer:

Incidentally, I was speaking of Niels Böhr and Albert Einstein before. Here they are:

Do you remember there's a link under 'Summer reads' at pm2012.html:

> Wikipedia wrote:

> Coincidentia oppositorum is a Latin phrase meaning coincidence of opposites. It is a neoplatonic term attributed to 15th century German polymath Nicholas of Cusa in his essay, De Docta Ignorantia (1440). Mircea Eliade, a 20th century historian of religion, used the term extensively in his essays about myth and ritual, describing the coincidentia oppositorum as "the mythical pattern". Psychiatrist Carl Jung, philosopher and Islamic Studies professor Henry Corbin as well as Jewish philosophers Gershom Scholem and Abraham Joshua Heschel also used the term. In alchemy, coincidentia oppositorum is a synonym for conjunction, the fifth process.
>
> The term is also used in describing a revelation of the oneness of things previously believed to be different. Such insight into the unity of things is a kind of transcendence, and is found in various mystical traditions. The idea occurs in the traditions of Tantric Hinduism and Buddhism, in German mysticism, Taoism, Zen and Sufism, among others.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Coincidentia_oppositorum#Coincidentia_oppositorum

Would you like to see what was the Coat of Arms that Niels Böhr designed for his family, such an extremely scientific minded and profoundly rational person that he was?

Cuntraria Sunt Complementa = Opposites are complementary

http://portal.unesco.org/en/ev.php-URL_ID=26457&URL_DO=DO_TOPIC&URL_SECTION=201.html

Another way to look at this would be to consider the Universe as a Quantum Computer that operates with SYMBOLS, letters and numbers. If you learn to program a computer, you can affect the 'reality' of what it produces. It might very well be the case that Language is a TOOL to self-manipulate your own Consciousness in other to induce trances, or Altered States of Consciousness that might actually have an effect towards 'Reality'. This seems to be what Alan Moore thinks of its own Art: a chance to change the Consciousness of his readers through symbolic programming.

Symbols, numbers and letters such as these, maybe?

Well, who knows... might be.

As chaos magicians say, approach this with a completeley agnostic and scientifical mind: just try things, experiment and observe the results. If results don't match your expectations, then try different things and anotate results. Cleanse, Rinse, Repeat.

Then let /b/ros know what happens with your experiments with 'Reality', so that we can try to replicate them as well!

Remember what I pasted about Jack Parsons, the NASA rocket scientist who worked with Aleister Crowley:

[quote="Anonymouth"]

> Wikipedia wrote:
>
> Parsons and the occult
>
> Parsons saw no contradiction between his SCIENTIFIC and MAGICAL pursuits. Before each rocket test launch, Parsons would chant Crowley's hymn to the Greek god Pan.[6] In 1942 Parsons was chosen by Aleister Crowley to lead Agapé Lodge of OTO in California following Crowley's expulsion of Wilfred Smith from the position.[7]

That's pure SCIENCE, right?

If I read this thread well, it's saying that the creators and aims of the Anonymous are the very same as those of the NWO?!? All those topics and symbols are in the hearth of the masonic tradition, and can be found in many NWO-related ideologies, like in new-age communities supported by the UN, the Lucis Trust, and many satanic cults!
So I have one question: can we assume that this whole movement is just another false-flag?
Or shall I join those I try to fight?

I understand. You're not the only one who's worried about this. I've read a spiritual book called Be Here Now by Ram Dass a year ago. At first, I thought this book was full of truth, yet, it is, I think, but I don't know. At the end of the book, there is a page, and it's that page that shocked me the most. It was the one dollar bill with the pyramid, and it says: We are One. and again, there are lots of symbols related to NWO or Satanism or Luciferism, you know what I mean. Still, there is a lot of truth, but what is the truth? Also, Ram Dass was a friend of Timothy Leary, I guess that's why it is all connected.

Good question. There's a pic that pretty much answers this Don't take my word for gospel, as this is only my very personal point of view, but if I have understood Robert Anton Wilson and Discordianism properly, Discordianism works as a MIRROR that reflects any seriousness that you tend to project towards it, as an UNRESOLVED side of your Jungian Shadow.

Extremely relevant article here: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Shadow_(psychology)

> Wikipedia wrote:

Its signposts and milestones are various archetypal symbols' marking its stages; and of these 'the first stage leads to the experience of the SHADOW'. If 'the breakdown of the persona constitutes the typical Jungian moment both in therapy and in development', it is this which opens the road to the shadow within, coming about when 'Beneath the surface a person is suffering from a deadly boredom that makes everything seem meaningless and empty ... as if the initial encounter with the Self casts a dark shadow ahead of time'. Jung considered as a perennial danger in life that 'the more consciousness gains in clarity, the more monarchic becomes its content...the king constantly needs the renewal that begins with a descent into his own darkness'[14] — his shadow - which the 'dissolution of the persona'[15] sets in motion.

Hence the attitude: yeah, let's pretend that Discordians are the one and only truly Illuminati behind the fake-ones that are ALREADY controlling the world. In other words: the alchemical gold is hidden within the Shadow. Love, accept and relativize your own Shadow and you might begin to see the Universe in a much different way.

Get what I mean?

Of course it's sensible to say that we ALL want a united and more free and just world, right? Specially us in here: we'd really love to see a world united to solve the oh-so-many problems, instead of fighting over pieces of [ atoms = land / oil / gold ...]

'New World Order' is just a combination of symbols letters into words and then into a phrase. On its own it doesn't mean absolutely anything. It's not a "bad" or a "good" phrase per se, in the same way that a pentagram is just a geometrical figure and it only means what your Consciousness / your belief system / your personal culture arbitrarily assigns it to mean:

I think it's fair to say that WE all would really LOVE to see a REALLY NEW World Order, right

Just not in the way the "New World Order" they are trying to impose on us, the IMF and such institutions such as the fscking banking elites!

That's why THEY (politicians, banksters, CEOs...) ARE ALREADY PLAYING with words, to try and make us think of Reality in another way: the way that suits THEIR interests the best, of course.

George Orwell actually denounced this as one of the best known methods for mass control and coined a term: the Newspeak language.

> Wikipedia wrote:
>
> To remove synonyms and antonyms
>
> The basic idea behind Newspeak is to remove all shades of meaning from language, leaving simple dichotomies (pleasure and pain, happiness and sadness, goodthink and crimethink) which reinforce the total dominance of the State. Similarly, Newspeak root words served as both nouns and verbs, which allowed further reduction in the total number of words; for example, "think" served as both noun and verb, so the word thought was not required and could be abolished. A staccato rhythm of short syllables was also a goal, further reducing the need for deep thinking about language. (See duckspeak.) Successful Newspeak meant that there would be fewer and fewer words – dictionaries would get thinner and thinner.
> In addition, words with negative meanings were removed as redundant, so "bad" became "ungood". Words with comparative and superlative meanings were also simplified, so "better" became "gooder", and "best" likewise became "goodest".[1] Intensifiers could be added, so "great" became "plusgood", and "excellent" and "splendid" likewise became "doubleplusgood". Adjectives were formed by adding the suffix "-ful" to a root word (e.g., "goodthinkful", orthodox in thought), and adverbs by adding "-wise" ("goodthinkwise", in an orthodox manner). In this manner, as many words as possible were removed from the language. The ultimate aim of Newspeak was to reduce even the dichotomies to a single word that was a "yes" of some sort: an obedient word with which everyone answered affirmatively to what was asked of them.
> Some of the constructions in Newspeak, such as "ungood", are in fact characteristic of agglutinative languages, although foreign to English. It is possible that Orwell modeled aspects of Newspeak on Esperanto; for example "ungood" is constructed similarly to the Esperanto word malbona. Orwell had been exposed to Esperanto in 1927 when living in Paris with his aunt Ellen Kate Limouzin and her husband Eugène Lanti, a prominent Esperantist. Esperanto was the language of the house, and Orwell was disadvantaged by not speaking it, which may account for some antipathy towards the language.[1]
>
> To control thought
>
> “ By 2050—earlier, probably—all real knowledge of Oldspeak will have disappeared. The whole literature of the past will have been destroyed. Chaucer, Shakespeare, Milton, Byron—they'll exist only in Newspeak versions, not merely changed into something different, but actually contradictory of what they used to be. Even the literature of the Party will change. Even the slogans will change. How could you have a slogan like "freedom is slavery" when the concept of freedom has been abolished? The whole climate of thought will be different. In fact there will be no thought, as we understand it now. Orthodoxy means not thinking—not needing to think. Orthodoxy is unconsciousness.[3] ”
> Some examples of Newspeak from the novel include crimethink, doublethink, and Ingsoc. They mean, respectively, "thought-crime", "accepting as correct two mutually contradictory beliefs", and "English socialism" (the official political philosophy of the Party). The word Newspeak itself also comes from the language. All of these words would be obsolete and should be removed in the "final" version of Newspeak, except for doubleplusungood in certain contexts.
> Generically, Newspeak has come to mean any attempt to restrict disapproved language by a government or other powerful entity.[4]

If I may advice you;
When you are in a moment of silence, listen what you self are thinking.
Follow your thoughts. Keep your own power, but don't give it away to whatever corporation or religion.

My perception about what is going on here as 'anonymous' is uniting people worldwide and making them aware about what is really going on.
For way too long there has been lied to us, and what you read here in this topic is a nice part of unravelled 'formerly secret' information.

> If I read this thread well, it's saying that the creators and aims of the Anonymous are the very same as those of the NWO?!?

Nope I think you may have read this thread wrong, Anonymous does seem to want to create a heaven on earth if you will, whereas the "NWO" (if it exists) would appear to want to create a hell on earth.

> All those topics and symbols are in the hearth of the masonic tradition, and can be found in many NWO-related ideologies, like in new-age communities supported by the UN, the Lucis Trust, and many satanic cults!

This may appear to be true, but they remain "just symbols" and depending on the belief system you are viewing them from they can mean completely different things, the same things, alternate things, variations on a theme of things or just plain old Donald Duck...my advise would be not to attribute belief to any belief.

> So I have one question: can we assume that this whole movement is just another false-flag?

If it were a false flag it may have already back fired...and in the words of officer barbrady "nothing to see here, please move along" also view http://www.projectmayhem2012.com as just another website, a very interesting one...but remember just a website

So everything that has been discussed in this thread maybe true, maybe false, maybe true and false at the same time or may not even exist at all.

As an exercise it might be an idea for us all to learn something about the language of eprime so that we can help avoid dogma slipping into our investigations.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Eprime

> E-Prime (short for English-Prime, sometimes denoted E′) is a version of the English language that excludes all forms of the verb to be. Hence, E-Prime allows neither conjugations of to be (am, are, is, was, were, be, been, being), nor archaic forms (e.g. art, wast, wert), nor contractions ('s, 'm, 're).
> Some scholars advocate using E-Prime as a device to clarify thinking and strengthen writing.[1] For example, the sentence "the movie was > good" could translate into E-Prime as "I liked the movie" or as "the movie made me laugh". The E-Prime versions communicate the speaker's experience rather than judgment, making it harder for the writer or reader to confuse opinion with fact.

It can be hard to get used to, I try but find myself slipping up all the time, but just remebering it can help you with your objectivity when looking at controversial topics and ideas.

Yeah, exactly that! Even more, the BEST thing in Anonymous is that it is completely FREE and non-compulsory. It's not as if we were joining a cult when we freely decided to register here.

And the very BEST thing about Anonymous, in my view, is that nobody is required to do absolutely anything against their Consciousness or their own PERSONAL CHOICE:

you are only going to join those Operations that RESONATE with the way you see yourself and you are going to IGNORE THE REST.

Exactly like flocks of birds do: they keep on moving in completely different and new directions, yet they rejoin later to travel to the same destiny.

Actually, Consciousness is all about Vibration and Resonance:

Get it?

Imagine if the whole world worked like that, tolerating, imagine if we would all learn to not only TOLERATE but even to ACCEPT and LOVE each others beliefs upon what 'Reality' might or might not be, no matter how 'weird', 'strange' or 'magickal' they seem to be, as they might help to 'complete' to complement your own prismatical temporary 'Truth' or personal view on 'Reality', instead of trying to push belief systems upon people, right?

Or, in Niels Böhrs words:

In other words, you feel like your personal 'belief systems' might be threatened by this kind of Operation Mindfuck? Well, that's more than fine!

Simply choose to contribute to a different Anonymous Operation! It's all good! See the spirit?

For example, me personally, while I might understand the reasons behind DDoS against Corporations, I don't resonate with those kind of actions. And the good thing is that nobody is going to be able to say that I'm 'less or more Anonymous' because I freely choose to do or do not certain things:

THAT's the main difference between this and any other kind of organization of individuals: the beauty of this is the very same beauty that moves Wikipedia, Linux and open source software forward: an anarchic spirit to SHARE your information / skills / abilities with The Others.

Then, paradoxically enough, a new kind of Order emerges out of that apparent Chaos: Things get done. The Hive grows. The /B/ees do teh lulz.

Wikipedia has proved to be one of the most exciting projects on Planet Earth, contribooted by completely Anonymous people like YOU and ME: THAT's the -shall we say MAGICKAL?- spirit within the Hive Mind that makes Anonymous so unique!

First off: sorry if im wrong in my previous statement about the NASA logo it just seemed not relevant. I was thinking that it would look like your just finding connection everywhere u can. Truth is, in a way we are all already connected to each other. So sorry if im wrong about the nasa logo, as u guys are way more capable of solving this thing and uncovering more and more.

Second: This is getting too much for me 0_o

Third: Please keep up the good work, i will go on vacation at the end of this week for at least 3 weeks. I expect the second enigma to be solved by then lol.

This is nonsense, and you know it. It's not about symbols or belief, I'ts about serving the interrest of the people we want to fight! Revolutions can be manipulated. I see lot of groups wanting to set up a "better world", and 99% of them are affiliated with/manipulated by NWO. And the site projectmayhem2012.com, as well as this thread, is full of NWO propanganda. I've seen this scheme everywhere, getting full of hope before discovering the same sick people behind it all.
The "hive" image you are constantty using is the key to understand your affiliation, and that's all part of the NWO agenda.

I'm off this "movement".

I can find many logical fallacies in your previous post Lecroquant one of which would be

> This is nonsense, and you know it

, how can you claim to know what any person thinks?

But I will not say more out of fear of derailing this thread. May I suggest that you lurk moar Lecroquant. Sorry for using eprime here but I think it's important - Anonymous is not a movement. it is an idea...and from my understanding all are welcome and open for discussion.

may I also suggest you watch this video before throwing your toys out of the pram to gain a better understanding of the idea of anonymous

[EDIT]it would appear that "lecroquant" has now become a "guest" meaning (I think) he has left the site, which is a pity, I would imagine that it is not the wish of anyone who contributes to this thread to place any ideas in peoples heads that Anonymous is anything other than that - "an idea".[EDIT]

The historical foundation of the V for Victory symbol is firmly rooted in the stirring spirit of ordinary French people who risked deportation, concentration camps and death in merely expressing their symbolic resistance to being occupied by the Nazis during World War Two.
After the Nazi occupation of France, Victor Auguste de Laveleye, former Belgian minister of Justice and director of the Belgian French-speaking broadcasts on the BBC, picked up on the V's that were already being scrawled all over Paris by frustrated French citizens demonstrating their opposition to their new slave masters, and devised a massive allied propaganda campaign that would use the V symbol against the Nazis as an act of psychological warfare.
During a radio broadcast, Laveleye explained the power behind the symbol.
"[T]he occupier, by seeing this sign, always the same, infinitely repeated, [would] understand that he is surrounded, encircled by an immense crowd of citizens eagerly awaiting his first moment of weakness, watching for his first failure."
The V symbol was then adapted by Churchill in his familiar hand salutes, and subsequently broadcast in the form of Morse code to French listeners of Radio Londres, a station broadcast by the Free French forces into occupied France. The audible V was made up of the first four notes of Beethoven's 5th Symphony, which were meant to represent fate knocking at one's door – another act of psychological warfare against the Nazis given the fact that Beethoven was German.
The radio station's purpose was to counter the propaganda of the Vichy collaborators and the Nazis, while at the same time passing on messages to the French Resistance and encouraging the spirit of resistance amongst the general population as a whole.
The launch of the Infowars V For victory campaign is partly a tribute to resistance movements throughout the ages who against all odds have stood up against tyranny. It is also about sending a message to Homeland Security and the new world order in general that we will not meekly accept the destruction of America and its replacement with a decaying banana republic in which people are told to inform on each other and a country in which anyone who exercises their constitutional rights or criticizes the state is labeled a terrorist, which is exactly the case in the DHS' own internal documents.
This is about re-asserting the fact that our lives are led by the pursuit of freedom, prosperity and happiness – the American dream – and not by fear, division and intimidation. This is about sending a message to the American people that we should stand united against the abuses of big government, not become tattle-tales for the state.

I'm curious as to WHAT exactly is going on here..
The project mayhem site is obviously still active and updating as it points to this very same post in the source code and credited us for solving the first enigma and proceeds with the second enigma: "Question: What's the cipher that is not a cypher?"

I'm just kinda lost coming in late. It all seems so complex too..

Small update regarding my own personal experience of using sygils. As some of you may know, i have actually charged my own sygil. Yesterday the desire that was connected to that sygil came true

So i don't know if its just coincidence or that the sygil actually worked. Or that im just plain awesome. My desire at least came true

Now if you'll excuse me i'm going on a three week holiday. Cya all soon

Hey poppadopolous, welcome to the party! Check out this post for a quick intro about what might be going on in here.

Hey Mr.Razz... Congratulations for daring to apply the scientific method of empirical trial and error to this!

Not bad at all for being your fist try with sigils, huh?

Welcome to the MagicK Kingdom!

When these kind of amazing things happen to me, this is what I personally do:

1. What is "Truth"? Embrace the PARADOX: Love the fact that YOU WILL NEVER EVER KNOW if it was just "a coincidance" or if it's really "True" that MagicK actually works.

2. LAUGH about it & about yourself: there's NO FSCKING WAY any of this could actually be SERIOUS. It cannot possible be true that the 'Reality' of cause and effect might be the exact opposite as you always had taken it for granted to be, right?

3. Show some gratitude to "The Universe/Multiverse/Eris/DonaldDuck/the Big Black and Only doG/whatever" was responsible -or not- for it and specially...
ENJOY your desire come true!

Now imagine what might happen if this 'powerful new weapon' could be used to change society, as Alan Moore considers magic to /b/ee?

Enjoy your holidays!

So could someone please explain what is the link between Pr. Mayhem and Anonymous, and what Anonymous' goals are? This entire topic made me so confused.

Yeah, it looks like an Alternate Reality Hacking Game. http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Reality_hacking#Reality_hacking and http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Alternate_reality_game

We are also trying to find out the purpose of this game. To immanentize the eschaton/to bring about the 'End of the world' to all lies and to the corrupt world by working of the inside and leaking all kind of internal shit on December 21st, 2012 worldwide? To push Human kind to the next stage of evolution? Well, maybe.

Well, I guess everybody in here knows what Anonymous' goals are: to fight for justice, peace and freedom of speech & information in the net and in the world. pm2012 seem to be another Operation, another to approach attaining those goals. In the mean time:

Ok, I have been trying to figure out the thing with the hivemind html pages names.

They all end in binary extensions

hivemind1.html

hivemind10.html

hivemind11.html

hivemind101.html

hivemind1000.html

hivemind1101.html

hivemind100010.html

hivemind110111.html

hivemind1011001.html

Also, at each page, bottom right there is a 11:11.

10 11
101
1000
1101
100010
110111
1011001

I am sure there is an answer on the combination on these numbers. I think it is a binary code that can be translated in text maybe?

Hi Pxl...yep the binary code of the pages has already been discussed in this thread as has the 11:11...the binary code sequence of the pages is also the fibonacci sequence. and the 11:11 is the exact time of the winter solstice on 21st of dec 2012.

I have have noticed some things in the latest pages that have been added but since they are not an answer to the second enigma I will comment on them later as I think we need to get the hivemind focused back onto answering the question "what is the cypher that is not cipher?". Unfortuneatly

(or fortuneatly) for me that's like asking "what is the meaning of life?" at the moment

'Any sufficiently advanced technology is indistinguishable from MAGIC.'

Arthur C. Clarke, "Profiles of The Future", 1961 (Clarke's third law)
English physicist & science fiction author (1917 - )

'The Duhem–Quine thesis (also called the Duhem–Quine problem, after Pierre Duhem and Willard Van Orman Quine) is that it is impossible to test a scientific hypothesis in isolation, because an empirical test of the hypothesis requires one or more background assumptions (also called auxiliary assumptions or auxiliary hypotheses).

The hypothesis in question is by itself incapable of making predictions. Instead, the consequences of the hypothesis typically rest on background assumptions from which to derive predictions. This prevents a theory from becoming conclusively falsified through empirical means if the background assumptions are not proven (since background assumptions sometimes involve one or more scientific theories). For instance, to "disprove" the idea that the Earth is in motion, some people noted that birds did not get thrown off into the sky whenever they let go of a tree branch. That datum is no longer accepted as empirical evidence that the Earth is not moving because we have adopted a different background system of physics that allows us to make different predictions. Although a bundle of theories (i.e. a theory and its background assumptions) as a whole can be tested against the empirical world and be falsified if it fails the test, the Duhem–Quine thesis says it is impossible to isolate a single hypothesis in the bundle. One solution to the dilemma thus facing scientists is that when we have rational reasons to accept the background assumptions as true (e.g. scientific theories via evidence) we will have rational—albeit nonconclusive—reasons for thinking that the theory tested is probably wrong if the empirical test fails.'

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Duhem%E2%80%93Quine_thesis

"W. V. Quine's paper Two Dogmas of Empiricism, published in 1951, is one of the most celebrated papers of twentieth century philosophy in the analytic tradition. According to Harvard professor of philosophy Peter Godfrey-Smith, this "paper [is] sometimes regarded as THE MOST IMPORTANT IN ALL OF TWENTIETH-CENTURY PHILOSOPHY". The paper is an attack on two central parts of the logical positivists' philosophy. One is the analytic-synthetic distinction between analytic truths and synthetic truths, explained by Quine as truths grounded only in meanings and independent of facts, and truths grounded in facts. The other is reductionism, the theory that each meaningful statement gets its meaning from some logical construction of terms that refers exclusively to immediate experience.

Quine's holism

Instead of reductionism, Quine proposes that it is the whole field of science and not single statements that are verified. All scientific statements are interconnected. Logical laws give the relation between different statements, while they also are statements of the system. This makes talk about the empirical content of a single statement misleading. It also becomes impossible to draw a line between synthetic statements, which depend on experience, and analytic statements, that hold come what may. Any statement can be held as necessarily true according to Quine, if the right changes are made somewhere else in the system. In the same way, NO STATEMENTS ARE IMMUNE TO REVISION."

Magical paradigm shifting

Perhaps the most striking feature of chaos magic is the concept of the magical paradigm shift.
Borrowing a term from philosopher Thomas Samuel Kuhn, Carroll made the technique of arbitrarily changing one's world view (or paradigm) of magic, a major concept of chaos magic. An example of a magical paradigm shift is doing a Lovecraftian rite, followed by using a technique from an Edred Thorsson book in the following ritual. These two magical paradigms are very different, but while the individual is using one, he or she believes in it fully to the extent of ignoring all other (often contradictory) ones. The shifting of magical paradigms has since found its way into the magical work of practitioners of many other magical traditions, but chaos magic remains the field where it is most developed.

Changing belief systems at will is also sometimes practiced by followers of Discordianism. Some chaos magicians like to operate in what is sometimes called a meta-paradigm. This is much akin to syncretism but with the consideration that flexibility of belief is a means of personal power and freedom. A more or less syncretic reality tunneling. Even more removed from this, being a post-meta-paradigmatic view, or an abstention from the notion of any view being absolute, compare Nietzsche's Perspectivism.

Belief as a tool

Chaos magic claims that belief can be an active magical force. It emphasizes flexibility of belief and the ability to consciously choose one's beliefs, hoping to apply belief as a tool rather than seeing it as a relatively unchanging part of one's personality.[8] Various psychological techniques are employed in order to induce flexibility of belief. Other chaos magicians suggest that people do not need "belief" to work magic. Austin Osman Spare asserts in the Book of Pleasure and various other works that Will formulates Desire which promulgates Belief. "

We are entering a new era: the End of all Secrets.
No more 'occult' secrets anymore neither.
Whenever magic is needed to help Human kind to evolve, the veils disappear.

We are in an Emergency situation.

For the past 3 years, so called 'Initiates' from many different traditions have begun to SHARE ALL of their secrets, worldwide, right now, as you are reading these words.

The role of Anonymous in the world is MUCH much bigger than the sum of all the bees in the Hive.

Everything will be revealed in time.

For now, read this:

Account of the Sarmoun Brotherhood
Desmond R. Martin, 1965:

"There are many legends about Sarmoun-Dargauh ('COURT OF THE BEES'), and one of them is this. True knowledge, it is asserted, exists as a positive commodity, like the honey of the bee. Like honey, it can be accumulated. From time to time in human history, however, it lies unused and starts to leak away. On those occasions the Sarmouni and their associates all over the world collect it and store it in a special receptacle. Then, when the time is ripe, they release it into the world again, through specially trained emissaries."

Welcome to The Game.

By continuing to play this game, know that you have freely chosen to FOLLOW THE WHITE RABBIT.
Otherwise, you are completeley free to STOP and FORGET about this.

If you REALLY want to become a magician, the gates are fully open. Time is ripe.

It's extremeley simple: declare yourself one, right NOW, as Alan Moore did. As our fellow anon just did, with successful results.

Educate yourself: read what other magicians have written on the subject.

Then forget if you got it 'right' or 'wrong' and DARE to begin to PLAY. The single MOST important skill of the Magician is his IMAGINATION.

Don't just copy what others have tried. You do NOT need to follow any 'old age' rituals. Dare to be CREATIVE. Dare to create your own 'rituals'.
DARE to CREATE your own symbols.
DARE to CREATE your own games.
DARE to CREATE your own rules.
DARE to DISOBEY your own rules.
DARE to LAUGH about it ALL.

If necessary, FAKE the fact that you are a magician until you get results: PLAY to pretend. The Metaverse is the Great Pretender.
http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ywZmQ2rg7GQ

The sigils technique is shown as it's one of the simplest ones yet more effective. It was developed by Chaos Magician Austin Osman Spare one century ago.

1. QUESTION EVERYTHING: don't just believe anything you read on this site, past, present or future.
2. TEST your assumptions.
3. LAUGH about results.
4. SHARE with THE OTHERS what you have learnt.
V. Repeat.

That few words describe the whole change that is happening right now...

A lot of technology and wisdom will be revealed in the near feature.

Look at this for example: http://www.ufodigest.com/article/paul-hellyer-abolishing-fed-and-new-energy-disclosure-key-us-survival

> In an exclusive ExopoliticsTV interview with Alfred Lambremont Webre, Paul Hellyer, former Canadian Minister of Defense and Deputy Prime Minister under Pierre Trudeau, stated that abolition or nationalization of the U.S. Federal Reserve Bank and disclosure and public application of new energy technologies such as anti-gravity propulsion now held in sequestered projects in the black budget national security state are a key to survival of the United States as a prosperous society, and to humanity's survival and to its charting a positive future.

I think we are already magicans. As we are already anonymous. Everybody.

We change matter and reality by our mind and conciousness.

We are capable of that. We have just to use it purposely.

It's already proven in science that our mind is influencing our reality.

Look at the PEAR project of Princeton University: http://www.princeton.edu/~pear/.

Great!

Another good find, related to the number 23, Robert Anton Wilson's Illuminatus Trilogy and Chaos Computer hacker Karl Koch:

"In Germany in the 1980s—at the height of the Cold War—the 19-year-old Karl Koch (August Diehl) finds the world around him threatening and chaotic. Inspired by the fictitious character Hagbard Celine (from Robert Anton Wilson and Robert Shea's Illuminatus! Trilogy), he starts investigating the backgrounds of political and economic power and discovers signs that make him believe in a worldwide conspiracy."

Jack Parsons relationship with Aleister Crowley and The Church of Scientology founder Ron L. Hubbard seems to be explained here (I haven't watched these videos yet, though)

Let's play with this hypothesis for now: should Anonymous become 'The bringer of Truth' in the world, the one 'egregor' that lifts all veils over the corrupted world and governments worldwide, the bringer of the 'Eschaton = Revelation' (as the source code says in the last page, http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind10010000.html

Let's remember again: Anonymous' first Operation as a Hive Mind was targeted AGAINST the Church of Scientology, right!?

Ok, so, as crazy as this sounds... how about Jack Parsons working with Aleister Crowley in the 40's to summon Anonymous... in the future, that is, NOW?

Remember, I know little of Hermeticism/Thelema.

All magic operates from a thing called a 'Table of Correspondences' (I think you may have mentioned these), the thing about these tables is that they are specific, very specific. Misuse is a big no-no.

No-one has mentioned the where of this midwinter event. Remember, midwinter in one hemisphere is midsummer in another. Each of these has a different vibration/correspondences. The where of this is important because the local 'spirits' will be called in to work it.

As anyone who has worked a ToC will tell you, any kind of magic, however small opens a door. Words live, breath is life. There is always displacement. Be careful what and how you wish because as you send out through the door, something else will come in. This is why magicians wear amulets even having them tattooed on their bodies.

On a completely different chain of thought, I offer you this quote:

"The Bodhisattva Avalokitesvara, from the deep course of Prajna wisdom, saw clearly that all five skandhas were empty, thus sundered all bonds of suffering.

Sariputra, know then: form does not differ from emptiness, nor does emptiness differ from form. Form is no other than emptiness, emptiness no other than form. The same is true of feelings, perceptions, impulses and consciousness.

Sariputra, all dharmas are marked with emptiness. None are born or die, nor are they defiled or immaculate, nor do they wax or wane. Therefore, where there is emptiness, there is no form, no feeling, no perception, no impulse, nor is there consciousness. No eye, ear, nose, tongue, body, or mind. No color, sound, smell, taste, touch, or object of mind. There is no domain of sight nor even domain of mind consciousness. There is no ignorance nor is there ceasing of ignorance. There is no withering, no death, nor is there ceasing of withering and death. There is no suffering, or cause of suffering, or cease in suffering, or path to lead from suffering. There is no cognition, nor even attainment.

So know that the Bodhisattva, indifferent to any kind of attainment whatsoever but dwelling in Prajna wisdom, is freed of any thought covering, get rid of the fear bred by it, has overcome what can upset and in the end reaches utmost Nirvana. All Buddhas of past and present, and Buddhas of future time, through faith in Prajna wisdom, come to full and perfect Enlightenment.

Therefore, one should know the Prajna paramita as the mantra of great knowledge, the miraculous, the utmost, the unequalled mantra, whose words relieve all suffering. This is highest wisdom, true beyond all doubt.

Know then and proclaim the Prajna paramita mantra. It spells like this:

Gate, gate, paragate, parasamgate, bodhi svaha !
( Gone, gone, gone beyond, gone altogether beyond, Bodhi, rejoice ! )

( English translation: TRUC HUY ) "

This is the greatest Buddhist Sutra central to Cha'an and Zen Buddhism, 'The Heart Sutra'. Here are possibly some answers to your cypher question but placed in a different cultural context.

Remember the prime lesson of 'What the Bleep Do We Know'- it is a scientific presentation of what magic folk know.

Despite what the PM2012 code says, be careful out there. The magical currents are churned up badly. Now is not the time for anyone to go out there, even the seasoned sailors. Think of the deep sea monsters forced to the surface by heavy storms and you see what I mean. Magic is real and not to be played with. There is a price for everything.

Hi Gravity. Well, don't take my word for granted, but I think the 'where' a particular event -any particular event- like this is going to happen is evident: everywhere you are, whenever the countdown clock reaches December 21st, 2012 11:11 locally, time zone by time zone.

While I understand -or at least, I think i do- the zen buddhist approach to "reality", I also think it's very important what you are saying here in the last part of your phrase:

"but placed in a different cultural context"

I mean, there might be different ways to approach this (=affecting the world with our actions/inactions), but we -and when I say 'we', I mean in a 'western' culture, which is mainly where Anonymous as a 'concept' has been born-, might find some difficulty in grasping the emptyness concept of zen buddhism. Hence, different cultural contexts might require different 'magical' approaches. I think.

Well, I beg to differ here. For the past 2000 years, we -again, here in western societies- have actually been playing closedly by the rules: "magic is bad, don't play with it, we'll organize witch hunts, you'll go to hell...". You know what I mean.

Discordianism and chaos magic seem to have quite a 'tongue-in-cheek' and specially humorous approach to magic, which I'm finding quite refreshing, to be honest.

Maybe it's this un-seriousness what makes it so appealing, in contrast with the seriousness of the shamans in the Vatican...

In other words, we have been doing what we have been told. We have denied 'magic', we have killed the 'Gods' and we have placed 'logic', 'rationalism', 'enlightened reason' and 'Scientific Knowledge' in the place of God, hoping that it helped us to progress as species: and, finally, today, July, 2011, we have empirically VERIFIED that it doesn't seem to be working. AT ALL, right?

And yet, I don't think it's necessary to 'deny science', but, as Alan Moore says, Art, Magic and Science should make out and be friends.

So, let's experiment and try something different and see what happens, as Alan Moore and the others have already done, maybe?

But, anyway, I guess that it all depends with whatever you resonate with, sure.

Favorite quotation so far, from the source code:

> 'Prior to my attending V for Vendetta, I encountered reviews by a few statists who saw the film as a “defense of terrorism.”
> Such a comment reveals more about the reviewers than of the movie itself.
> Any kind of resistance to tyranny is bound to strike terror into the hearts of members of the established order.
> Thus were the American colonials and Mohandas Gandhi “terrorists” to the British;
> the Warsaw ghetto uprisings and the French underground movements “terrorist” actions to the German government; > and the organized resistance of Algerians acts of “terrorism” to the French.
> Even today, the Iraqi resistance to the destruction and domination of their country is regarded as “terrorism” by the invading American state!
>
> The openly anarchistic nature of 'V for Vendetta' will produce shudders in well-conditioned statists who, in the words of F.A. Hayek, > cling to their “fear of trusting uncontrolled social forces.”
> Such people will trot out historic instances in which self-proclaimed “anarchists” killed a few score of people, as evidence of the need for government.
> That states managed, in the 20th century alone, to slaughter some 200,000,000 people in wars and genocides has never provided an occasion for defenders

Dear Anons,

"The Secret protects itself by virtue of its implausibility."

We are entering a new era: the End of all Secrets.
No more 'occult' secrets anymore neither.
Whenever magick is needed to help Human kind to evolve, the veils disappear.

You are a BEE. We are the BEES. We are going to show how to produce some Golden Honey.

Empower yourself: Empower the Hive Mind.

Todays crash-course lesson on R-EVOLUTION:

Alchemy.

Alchemy is about CONSCIOUSNESS. And, yes, there's a scientifical basis behind this. Keep on reading if you'd like to find out how.

First of all, forget about trying to 'understand' Alchemy just by reading books: there are +80 different names for the Philosopher Stone alone.

(see http://www.levity.com/alchemy/gratacol.html for a brief account of them, by 1652.)

Don't worry bee. Time is ripe. You don't need to work hard to find out. We are only going to feed you with the best Royal Jelly of Knowledge.

Alchemy is a LABYRINTH, designed to confuse you.

This is done so that the alchemist GIVES UP his 'rational', 'logical' or left brain and so that his mind starts to resonate with his right brain.

(See http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Lateralization_of_brain_function )

Alchemists used the 'Language of the Birds' or 'Green Language', Phonetic Cabala, Temurah, Gematria, Notarikon... to code 'secret' information within their texts.

See:

In Kabbalah, Rennaissance magic, and alchemy, the language of the birds was considered a secret and perfect language and the key to perfect knowledge, sometimes also called the langue verte, or green language (Jean Julien Fulcanelli, Heinrich Cornelius Agrippa de occulta philosophia).
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Language_of_the_birds#Alchemy

The Phonetic Cabala

According to Fulcanelli, the Phonetic Cabala is not the Hebrew Kabbalah; even the derivation is different: Cabala is derived from the Latin caballus, a horse, as in the Horse of Troy in the Iliad. It is basically homophonic and symphonic rather than numerical; it is based on phonetic assonance and resonance to echo the Gay Science in the words of the Hellenic gods spoken in sacred Ancient Greek nomenclature. According to Walter Lang, who wrote an introduction to the English translation of Fulcanelli's Le Mystère des Cathédrales, the basic principles of the Phonetic Cabala are restored in Fulcanelli's Magnum Opus.
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jean_Julien_Fulcanelli#The_Phonetic_Cabala

See also:
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Temurah_(Kabbalah) http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Gematria http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Notarikon "Almost every commentator on Fulcanelli's work agrees that the explanation of the "Green Language" given in chapter 3 of part one of MotC is the heart of the book. It is the concept that you must grasp in order to have any chance at understanding (the sephiroth attributed to its location in the Tree of Life is Binah, or Understanding) the rest of the book."

http://www.sangraal.com/AMET/prologue.html

There are at least two powerful explanations behind this:

First, the 'secrets' would be hidden from those who were not deem 'worthy' to Know.

Secondly, the 'secrets' would only be accessible to those HUMBLE enough to GIVE UP their rational mind.
These would be the only ones ready to PLAY with their minds: that is, to start to PLAY with ther ACTIVE IMAGINATION.

See:

"Active Imagination is a concept developed by Carl Jung between 1913 and 1916. It is a meditation technique wherein the contents of one's unconscious are translated into images, narrative or personified as separate entities. It can serve as a bridge between the conscious 'ego' and the unconscious and includes working with dreams and the creative self via imagination or fantasy. Jung linked Active Imagination with the processes of alchemy in that both strive for oneness and inter-relatedness from a set of fragmented and dissociated parts.

KEY TO THE PROCESS OF ACTIVE IMAGINATION IS THE GOAL OF EXERTING AS LITTLE INFLUENCE AS POSSIBLE ON MENTAL IMAGES AS THEY UNFOLD. For example, if a person were recording a spoken visualization of a scene or object from a dream, Jung's approach would ask the practitioner to observe the scene, watch for changes, and report them, rather than to consciously fill the scene with one's desired changes. One would then respond genuinely to these changes, and report any further changes in the scene. This approach is meant to ensure that the unconscious contents express themselves without OVERBEARING INFLUENCE FROM THE CONSCIOUS MIND. AT THE SAME TIME, HOWEVER, JUNG WAS INSISTENT THAT SOME FORM OF particiPATION IN ACTIVE IMAGINATION WAS ESSENTIAL: 'YOU YOURSELF MUST ENTER INTO THE PROCESS WITH YOUR PERSONAL

REACTIONS...AS IF THE DRAMA BEING ENACTED BEFORE YOUR EYES WERE REAL'.[1]

Of the origination of active imagination, Jung wrote:

“It was during Advent of the year 1913 – December 12, to be exact – that I resolved upon the decisive step. I was sitting at my desk once more, thinking over my fears. Then I let myself drop. Suddenly it was as though the ground literally gave way beneath my feet, and I plunged into the dark depths.” [2]

Carl Jung developed this technique as one of several that would define his distinctive contribution to the practice of psychotherapy. Active imagination is a method for visualizing unconscious issues by letting them act themselves out. Active imagination can be done by visualization (which is how Jung himself did it), which can be considered similar in technique at least to shamanic journeying. Active imagination can also be done by automatic writing, or by artistic activities such as dance, music, painting, sculpting, ceramics, crafts, etc. Jung considered indeed that 'The patient can make himself creatively independent through this method...by painting himself he gives shape to himself'.[3] Doing active imagination permits the thoughtforms of the unconscious, or inner 'self', and of the totality of the psyche, to act out whatever messages they are trying to communicate to the conscious mind.

For Jung however, this technique had the potential not only to allow communication between the conscious and unconscious aspects of the personal psyche with its varIOUS COMPONENTS AND INTER-DYNAMICS, BUT ALSO BETWEEN THE PERSONAL AND 'COLLECTIVE' UNCONSCIOUS; and therefore was to be embarked upon with due care and attentiveness. Indeed, he warned with respect to '"active imagination"...THE METHOD IS NOT ENTIRELY WITHOUT DANGER, BECAUSE IT MAY CARRY THE PATIENT TOO FAR AWAY FROM REALITY'. The post-Jungian Michael Fordham was to go further, suggesting that 'active imagination, as a transitional phenomenon ...can be, and often is, both in adults and children put to nefarious purposes and promotes psychopathology'."

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Active_imagination

See 'Creative Imagination - The Brain's Most Powerful Ability':
http://www.helpyourchildsucceed.com/creativeimagination.htm

It's only when the alchemist is in deep despair after spending many years trying to advance that he humbly begs 'god' for help.

Then he starts to 'hallucinate'. Or, in other words, he starts to decode the alchemical texts in a different light:

he starts to allow himself to PLAY with 'Reality', he starts to allow himself to PLAY with with symbols, he starts to allow himself to PLAY with with images.

He starts to allow 'Life' to speak to him.

This is exactly the same reason behind the extremely powerful 'Oath of the Abyss' by british magician, occultist and Artist, Aleister Crowley:

Oath of the Abyss

I, O.M., etc., a member of the Body of God, hereby bind myself on behalf of the Whole Universe, even as we are now physically bound unto the cross of suffering:
II. that I will lead a pure life, as a devoted servant of the Order:
III. that I will understand all things:
IV. that I will love all things:
V. that I will perform all things and endure all things:
VI. that I will continue in the Knowledge and Conversation of my Holy Guardian Angel:
VII. that I will work without attachment:
VIII. that I will work in truth:
IX. that I will rely only upon myself:
X. that I will interpret every phenomenon as a particular dealing of God with my Soul.

And if I fail herein, may my pyramid be profaned, and the Eye closed to me.

(See http://www.tomegatherion.co.uk/thelema.htm )

The extremely challenging part here is 'X. that I will interpret every phenomenon as a particular dealing of God with my Soul.'
Obviously, when done obsessively, this oath will trigger a 'psychotic trance' in any sane person, designed to break his 'rational' mind and to open the gates of 'magick', which is another word for ACTIVE IMAGINATION.

ACTIVE IMAGINATION IS SAID TO GUIDE, ANTICIPATE AND MOULD SENSE PERCEPTION, AND TO TRANSMUTE SENSORY DATA INTO SYMBOLS. A distinction is made between imagination and fantasy. The former, IMAGINATIO, IS THE MAGICAL PRODUCTION OF AN IMAGE, WHICH PRODUCES THE SPIRIT IN FORMS AND COLOURS, AND IS ‘THE FULFILMENT OF BEING IN AN IMAGE AND A TRANSPOSITION OF THE IMAGE INTO BEING’ (CORBIN 1969: 282). WHILE FANTASY IS CONSIDERED TO BE THE ‘MADMAN’S CORNERSTONE’ (P. 179), IMAGINATION IS LINKED TO ‘ALAM AL-MITHAL, ‘THE WORLD OF IDEA-IMAGES, THE WORLD OF APPARITIONAL FORMS AND OF BODIES IN THE SUBTILE STATE’ (P. 217). IMAGINATION IS THE INTERMEDIARY BETWEEN THE WORLD OF PURE SPIRITUAL REALITIES, THE WORLD OF MYSTERY AND THE VISIBLE, SENSIBLE WORLD. THE IMAGINATION HAS METAPHYSICAL STATUS.

Ibn ‘Arabi distinguishes between imagination that is conjoined to the imagining subject (it is inseparable from the person), and a self-subsisting imagination dissociable from the subject. Imaginations that are conjoined to the imagining subject are provoked by a conscious process of the mind, while those that are dissociable from the subject present themselves to the mind spontaneously like dreams (or daydreams). The specific character of the conjoined imagination is its inseparability from the imagining subject, with whom it lives and dies.

The imagination separable from the subject, on the other hand, has an autonomous and subsisting reality sui generis on the plane of the intermediary world, the world of idea-images. Exterior to the imagining subject, it can be seen by others, such as mystics or psychics. The separable images subsist in a world specific to them, so that the imagination in which they occur ‘has the status of an “essence” (hadrat dhatiya) perpetually capable of receiving ideas and Spirits and of giving them the “apparitional body” that makes possible their epiphany . . .’ (Corbin 1969: 219). All this demonstrates the extraordinary role of the image in the spirituality of Ibn ‘Arabi, and the importance of developing the imagination.

IF ONE IMAGINES, SAY, A POOL OF WATER, THEN THE POOL OF WATER IS A ‘NEW CREATION’, AND PRECISELY BECAUSE IT IS ‘IMAGINED’, THE IMAGE, ONCE RECOGNIZED AS SUCH, BECOMES REAL AND MEANINGFUL RATHER THAN ILLUSORY. Finke’s theory of ‘levels of equivalence’, mentioned at the beginning of this chapter, can be partially employed here, in that what the Sufi sees through himma is perceived to be just as real as an object that is perceived through everyday sight. However, the Sufis are taking this a step further, as the distinction is made between imagination that is conjoined and imagination that is dissociable. In the latter case, the image has a life apart from the subject, existing separately.

THE PURPOSE OF ENHANCING THE FUNCTION OF HIMMA, OR THE IMAGINATIVE FACULTY, IS TO PERCEIVE THE ‘INTERMEDIATE WORLD’ IN ORDER TO RAISE SENSORY DATA TO A HIGHER LEVEL, so as to permit Sufis to ‘fulfil their theophanic function’ and thereby gain greater understanding of knowledge of the Divine (Corbin 1969: 239).

". . . O resolute seeker! Enter with me into the Ka’aba of the Hijr, for that is the Temple that rises above all veils and coverings. It is the entrance of the Gnostics; there is the repose of the pilgrims engaged in the processional."

Don't worry, we are not going to recommend you that you follow this path.
You don't need to neither: the gates are fully open for everybody, no risks involved in obtaining the Philosopher Stone anymore!

Synchronicities are a very powerful way of contacting the 'COLLECTIVE' UNCONSCIOUS. Nobel laureate Wolfgang Pauli also sensed that there was something extremely intriguing about this and worked with Jung to find out what this was, from a strictly scientifical point of view.

"Jung coined the word to describe what he called "temporally coincident occurrences of acausal events." Jung variously described synchronicity as an "acausal connecting principle", "meaningful coincidence" and "acausal parallelism". Jung introduced the concept as early as the 1920s but only gave a full statement of it in 1951 in an Eranos lecture[3] and in 1952, published a paper, Synchronizität als ein Prinzip akausaler Zusammenhänge (Synchronicity — An Acausal Connecting Principle)[4], in a volume with a related study by the physicist (and Nobel laureate) Wolfgang Pauli.

Even at Jung's presentation of his work on synchronicity in 1951 at an Eranos lecture his ideas on synchronicity were still evolving. Following discussions with both Albert Einstein and Wolfgang Pauli JUNG BELIEVED THAT THERE WERE PARALLELS BETWEEN SYNCHRONICITY AND ASPECTS OF RELATIVITY THEORY AND QUANTUM MECHANICS. Jung was transfixed by the idea that life was not a series of random events but rather an expression of a deeper order, which he and Pauli referred to as Unus mundus.

For our purposes (helping YOU to Evolve) all you need to know is that Alchemy is about the number 3, as can bee seen in this alchemical painting:

http://i.imgur.com/asedl.jpg

Alchemy is also about something very close to you: COMPUTING.

It's about the Sulphur, the Salt and the Mercury. That is, the 0, the 1 and the MIRROR.

This is profoundly related to the Golden Ratio. Yes.

If you decide to keep on playing to beecome a Magician, we will explain this to you in further levels of this Game.

For now, also know that, vibrationally speaking, this is The Most powerful colour combination ever:

BLACK
RED

Yellowish can or cannot be present, yet the combination of Black, White and Red retains its full power.

Know that whenever you are using this colour combination in your Art, you are resonating with the Alchemical Work and attracting the best of possible results.

The Great Work (Latin: Magnum opus) is an alchemical term for the process of creating the philosopher's stone.
It has been used to describe personal and spiritual transmutation in the Hermetic tradition, attached to laboratory processes and chemical color changes, used as a model for the individuation process, and as a device in art and literature.
The magnum opus has been carried forward in new age and neo-hermetic movements which sometimes attached new symbolism and significance to the processes.

It originally had four stages:

NIGREDO, a blackening or melanosis
ALBEDO, a whitening or leucosis
CITRINITAS, a yellowing or xanthosis
RUBEDO, a reddening, purpling, or iosis

Let's start to do MAGICK! This is your first assignment:

1st Assignment: REALITY CREATION 101: iMAGIne the Future. aCKt.
|=-------------------------------------------------------------=|

"To IMAGINE is everything, to know is nothing at all."
Anatole France 1881

"I believe that MAGICK is Art, and that Art, whether that be music, writing, sculpture, or any other form, is literally MAGICK.
Art is, like magic, the science of manipulating symbols, words or images, to achieve changes in consciousness…
Indeed to cast a spell is simply to spell, to manipulate words, TO CHANGE PEOPLE'S CONSCIOUSNESS, and this is why
I believe that an artist or writer is the closest thing in the contemporary world to a shaman."
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Alan_Moore#Religion_and_magic

"If the audience knew what they needed, then they wouldn't be the audience.
THEY WOULD BE THE ARTISTS.
It is the job of artists to give the audience what they need."

|=-------------------------------------------------------------=|

"Henry Stapp is an American physicist. Under the supervision of Nobel Laureates Emilio Segrè and Owen Chamberlain, Stapp moved to ETH Zurich to do post-doctoral work under Wolfgang Pauli. During this period he composed an article called 'MIND, MATTER AND QUANTUM MECHANICS', which he never sent for publication, but would become the title of his 1993 book. When Pauli died in 1958, Stapp transferred to Munich, now in the company of Werner Heisenberg. While making important contributions to, inter alia, the analysis of proton-proton scattering and the development of analytic
S-matrix theory, Stapp is perhaps most well known for his ongoing work in the foundations of quantum mechanics, with particular focus on explicating the role and nature of consciousness. He is also an expert on Bell's Theorem, having solved problems related to non-locality presented by John Bell and Albert Einstein. He currently performs his research at the Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory.

Stapp is one of those who favours the idea that QUANTUM WAVES COLLAPSE ONLY WHEN THEY INTERACT WITH CONSCIOUSNESS. He argues that QUANTUM WAVES COLLAPSE WHEN INTELLIGENT BRAINS SELECT ONE AMONG THE ALTERNATIVE QUANTUM POSSIBILITIES AS A BASIS FOR FUTURE ACTION. Stapp postulates more global collapse via his 'mind like' wave-function collapse that exploits certain aspects of the quantum Zeno effect within the synapses to explain attention. His views are spelled out most clearly in his book, MINDFUL UNIVERSE: QUANTUM MECHANICS AND THE PARTICIPATING OBSERVER according to at least one orthodox contemporary theory, THE UNIVERSE OF WHICH WE ARE PART EVOLVES, INSOFAR AS CONTEMPORARY SCIENCE CAN SAY, IN A WAY THAT NEED NOT BE DETERMINED EXCLUSIVELY BY THE MATTER-LIKE ASPECTS OF NATURE (although the existence of immaterial determining factors remains speculative). A corollary of this view of reality is that the history of the universe need not be a fixed 4 dimensional structure, as nineteenth century physics proclaimed, but is CONSTANTLY FORGING AHEAD INTO THE FUTURE, in keeping with common sense. ACCORDING TO STAPP, EACH INCREASE IN HUMAN KNOWLEDGE IS ASSOCIATED WITH A WAVE FUNCTION COLLAPSE, WHICH IS AN ' ACT OF CREATION ' THAT IS A STEP ALONG THE ARROW OF TIME. THUS, FREE WILL COULD BE SEEN AS DIRECTLY INSTRUMENTAL IN THE EVOLUTION OF THE UNIVERSE."

"INSPIRATION is the Artist's empirical proof of THE DIVINITY OF THIS IMAGINATION; and all INSPIRATION is divine in origin, whether used, perverted, hidden or frittered away in reverie.
All imaginative and creative acts, being eternal, go to build up a permanent structure, which William Blake calls GOLGONOOZA, above time, and, when this structure is finished, nature, its scaffolding, will be knocked away and man will live in it.
Nothing that the heroes, martyrs, prophets and poets of the past have done for it has been wasted;
NO ANONYMOUS AND UNRECOGNISED CONTRIBUTION TO IT HAS BEEN OVERLOOKED. In it is conserved all the good man has done, and in it is completed all that he hoped and intended to do. And the ARTIST who uses the same energy and genius that Homer and Isaiah had will find that he not only lives in the same palace of art as Homer and Isaiah, but lives in it at the same time."

PARADOX VI.--THE IMAGINATION REALISES WHAT IT INVENTS

"BEHOLD! the greatest magician in the universe! It is she who makes the memory yield its fruit, who realises beforehand the Possible, and invents even the Impossible. To her miracles cost nothing. She transports houses and mountains through the air, places whales in the sky, and stars in the sea, gives paradise to the hashish or opium eaters,, offers kingdoms to inebriates, and makes Perette dance with joy under the milk pail. Such is IMAGINATION."

|=------------------------------------------------------------=|

DARE to CREATE your Dream Reality is going to Bee our magickal motto.

1. Grab a pen or a pencil, -unless you got a drawing tablet, it's better than using the mouse, but feel free to use the mouse if you prefer-, and draw a picture of what it is for you that you would like to SEE happening worldwide next December 21 2012, 11:11.
Relax and allow your imagination to just fly: you can draw ANYTHING you feel like, you are not going to be judged for it.
Don't try to do something 'beautiful' just so that other anons admire your work:
open your mind to whatever the Universe tells you and be HONEST about what you'd like to see happening.

It doesn't matter that you 'don't know' how to draw: remember when we were inhibited children, ALL OF US know how to draw, right!?

Only two rules in this game:

* You have to use these 4 colours only: BLACK, WHITE, YELLOW, RED.
* You have to include a BEE in your drawing.

2. When you are finished, scan it and upload it to your personal blog, to any image hosting site such as imgur.com or send it as an attachment by email.

3. To Find The Others, SHARE your Creation with the Bees in the Hive Mind, as other anons already did. See below.

Send your artwork to |=-------------------=[ anon ['@'] projectmayhem2012.org ]=-------------------=|

If selected, we will be publishing your Magick Reality Hacking drawings in the next HiveMinds[].html
You can also post them to http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t1676-project-mayhem-2012 and anywhere you want as well.

Further clues will be unlocked when a minimum 10 anons publish their artwork.

Enantiodromia (Greek: ἐνάντιος, enantios, opposite + δρόμος, dromos, running course) is a principle introduced by psychiatrist Carl Jung that the superabundance of any force inevitably produces its opposite. It is equivalent to the principle of equilibrium in the natural world, in that any extreme is opposed by the system in order to restore balance. Though "enantiodromia" was coined by Jung, it is implied in the writings of Heraclitus. In fr. 126, for example, Heraclitus says "cold things warm, warm things cool, wet things dry and parched things get wet."[1] It also seems implicit in other of his sayings, like "war is father of all, king of all" (fr. 53), "they do not know that the differing/opposed thing agrees with itself; harmony is reflexive (παλίντροπος palintropos, used of a compound bow, or "in reflexive tension"), like the bow and the lyre" (fr. 51). In these passages and others the idea of the coincidence of opposites is clearly articulated in Heraclitus' characteristic riddling style, as well as the dynamic motion back and forth between the two, generated especially by opposition and conflict.

It's good to know there are things like your project and the plan are going on (i just discovered them today). You see something so far away but slowly, slowly you recognize the steps as multiply and get closer to your feet.

I want more than anything to find the light and i have a better grasp on it than most people.

"Fatherhood is unity disguised as duality". Truer words where never spoken. But in the spirit/astral world this is okay. Only logic survives, weather or not you do too depends on your ability to conform with logic. What happens when you lose that sense, and instead, everything survives? Losing your ego, your bias. Into a world where there is pretty much no inherent logic. You become spiritually....nothing. And they call this Nirvana lol

Robert Anton Wilson On the Illuminati
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Robert_Anton_Wilson#On_the_Illuminati

Near the end of his life, Richard Metzger interviewed Robert Anton Wilson and asked him about the Illuminati.
His answer was:

"Richard Metzger: You have studied the Illuminati for years. Have you come to any conclusion about their aims?

Robert Anton Wilson:

Usually when people ask me that question, I give them some kind of a put-on, but I can't think of a good and original put-on that I haven't done several times before. So I'll tell you the truth, for once. After investigating the Illuminati and their critics for the last 30 years, I think the Illuminati was A SHORT LIVED SOCIETY OF FREE THINKERS
AND DEMOCRATIC REFORMERS that formed a secret society within Freemasonry, using Freemasonry as a cover SO THEY COULD PLOT TO OVERTHROW ALL THE KINGS IN EUROPE AND THE POPE.

I'm very happy that they succeeded in overthrowing all the kings, I just wish that they had completed the job and gotten rid of the Royal family in England too, but they did pretty well on the continent. I'm sorry they haven't finished off the Pope yet, either, but I think they're still working on the project and I WISH THEM LUCK."

"In the mid 1980s I was asked by an American legal institution known as the Christic Institute, to compile a comic book which would detail the murky history of the CIA from the end of the 2nd World War to the present day.
Covering things suchs as the heroine smuggling during the Vietnam War, the cocaine smuggling during the war in Central America, the Kennedy assasination and other highlights.
What I learned during the frankly horrifying research that I had to slug through to accomplish this, was that, YES, THERE IS A CONSPIRACY, IN FACT THERE ARE A GREAT NUMBER OF CONSPIRACIES THAT ARE ALL TRIPPING EACH OTHER UP.
And all of those conspiracies are run by paranoid fantasists and ham-fisted clowns.
If you are on a list targetet by the CIA, you really have nothing to worry about.
If however, you have a name similar to somebody on a list targeted by the CIA, then you are dead.

The main thing that I learned about conspiracy theory is that CONSPIRACY THEORISTS ACTUALLY BELIEVE IN A CONSPIRACY BECAUSE THAT IS MORE COMFORTING.

The truth of the world is that IT IS CHAOTIC.

The truth is, that it is not the Jewish banking conspiracy or the grey aliens or the 12 foot reptiloids from another dimension that are in control.

THE TRUTH IS FAR MORE FRIHTENING: NOBODY IS IN CONTROL.

The world is rudderless."

Brought to Light: Thirty Years of Drug Smuggling, Arms Deals, and Covert Action.

"The story of "Shadowplay" is of an unseen character (presumably representing the oblivious American public in first-person view of the reader) in a bar, where he is approached by a man-sized, walking, talking eagle. The eagle, from the emblem of the CIA, proceeds to drink alcohol and, in a drunken stupor, divulge all the bloody details of The Agency's sordid past. Early on a reference is made to the number of gallons an olympic swimming pool can hold, and the fact that an adult human body has one gallon of blood; from then on, the victims of CIA activities (directly or indirectly) are quantified in swimming pools filled with blood, each pool representing 20,000 dead. Sienkiewicz's dark, erratic, and blurry images keep the mood of Moore's narration (through the boozing eagle) unnerving, and hazily nightmarish."

this thread is fucking full of mindfuck and SO MUCH information, extremely good job! I think that the purpose of project mayhem was to hide many clues and let us lurk as much as possible, unregardinly of the conclusions.
it took me 3 days to read it, and still i didnt watch all of the videos and stuff. I had never heard of magick before this, but somehow once or twice in my life when i really desired something i got this strange feeling for just some intense seconds, and then it happened. Cant describe the feeling in the moments of "desire". Second, a quote i found while lurking, as an answer to the question "If a tree falls in a forest and no one is around to hear it, does it make a sound? "

"even a rock is consciousness, at a much deeper level than you" and third, for you logical and rational anons (like me):

Twenty four hours ago, I posted some useful advice to the people in this thread. Looks like my post vanished into the aether.

Shame about that because I'm afraid I don't have time to retype it right now.

Whatever you do, do it yourself, do it smart.

A message to PM2012: If you wish to mess with the fabric of the Magical Universe (and through it, the Consciousness of all Life), keep it contained.

Geburah's air is clear now. Kether is pleased. Those who were imprisoned have been released. Those you have released have been returned home.

Those of you with the Gold Bee helped clean up your mess- your own people who realised that the actions taken by you were dangerous. Personally, I think your source of impetus energy is inappropriate.

If you are looking for minds to fuck with, there are plenty of dictators and their 'workers' out there to play with.

Intriguing and wise words indeed, you seem experienced in these sort of affairs. I'd love to read some further light you'd like to share with us on this. Regarding the 'keep it contained' part, I agree with you and I think that it might be useful to remind these words:

Robert Anton Wilson On the Illuminati
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Robert_Anton_Wilson#On_the_Illuminati

Near the end of his life, Richard Metzger interviewed Robert Anton Wilson and asked him about the Illuminati.
His answer was:

"Richard Metzger: You have studied the Illuminati for years. Have you come to any conclusion about their aims?

Robert Anton Wilson:

Usually when people ask me that question, I give them some kind of a put-on, but I can't think of a good and original put-on that I haven't done several times before. So I'll tell you the truth, for once. After investigating the Illuminati and their critics for the last 30 years, I think the Illuminati was A SHORT LIVED SOCIETY OF FREE THINKERS
AND DEMOCRATIC REFORMERS that formed a secret society within Freemasonry, using Freemasonry as a cover SO THEY COULD
PLOT TO OVERTHROW ALL THE KINGS IN EUROPE AND THE POPE.

I'm very happy that they succeeded in overthrowing all the kings, I just wish that they had completed the job and gotten rid of the Royal family in England too, but they did pretty well on the continent. I'm sorry they haven't finished off the Pope yet, either, but I think they're still working on THE PROJECT and I WISH THEM LUCK."

from:
How Robert Anton Wilson REALLY feels about the Illuminati

RM: You have studied the Illuminati for years. Have you come to any conclusions about their aims?

RAW: Usually when people ask me that question, I give them some kind of a put-on, but I can't think of a good and original put-on that I haven't done several times before. So I'll tell you the truth, for once. After investigating the Illuminati and their critics for the last 30 years, I think the Illuminati was a short lived society of free thinkers and democratic reformers that formed a secret society within Freemasonry, using Freemasonry as a cover so they could plot to overthrow all the kings in Europe and the Pope. I'm very happy that they succeeded in overthrowing all the kings, I just wish that they had completed the job and gotten rid of the Royal family in England too, but they did pretty well on the continent. I'm sorry they haven't finished off the Pope yet, either, but I think they're still working on the project and I wish them luck.

RM: Why do you think the central secrets of Freemasonry have, after hundreds of years, still remained secret to the public at large?

RAW: Because the public at large doesn't spend as much time browsing around second hand bookstores as I do. You could find all the secrets of Freemasonry in print. Well not always in print, but you could find them in second hand bookstores. The Encyclopedia Britannica will tell you most of it. They'll tell you who the Widow's Son was and what the Mason word is. The secrets are pretty well known actually.

RM: Was Beethoven a member of the Illuminati?

RAW: I can't say for sure. He was certainly very closely associated with them. His first music teacher, Neefe, was a member of the Illuminati. Then when Beethoven arrived in Vienna, that teacher gave him letters of introduction to all the noblemen who were members of Freemasonry, most of them also members of the Illuminati. The Illuminati commissioned Beethoven's first major work, the Cantata on the death of Emperor Joseph II which praised Franz Josef as a "bringer of light," an Illuminati symbol there. "A bringer of light, a foe of darkness." And I read over the life of Franz Josef trying to figure out what he did to deserve that.

The huge thing he did was to legalize Freemasonry in Austria and the second thing he did was he closed all the Catholic schools and replaced them with public schools. So yeah, I think he was a bringer of light and a foe of darkness and I can see why the Illuminati liked him. And I can see why Beethoven liked him too.

RM: When you wrote Illuminatus! with Robert Shea in the 60's, did you think you were writing a prophetic novel? So much stuff in it that seemed so far out when I was a kid, now seems to predict exactly what would happen 25 years down the road!

RAW: No, I thought we were writing a classic, but I didn't know it was going to be prophetic too. When I made Beethoven a member of the Illuminati —that was my idea, not Shea's— that was a parody of the Christian right claiming the Beatles were agents of Communism. Imagine my shock when I read a biography of Beethoven and found all the evidence that he may have been a member of the Illuminati. I started to wonder, do I have unconscious ESP or am I just a lucky guesser?

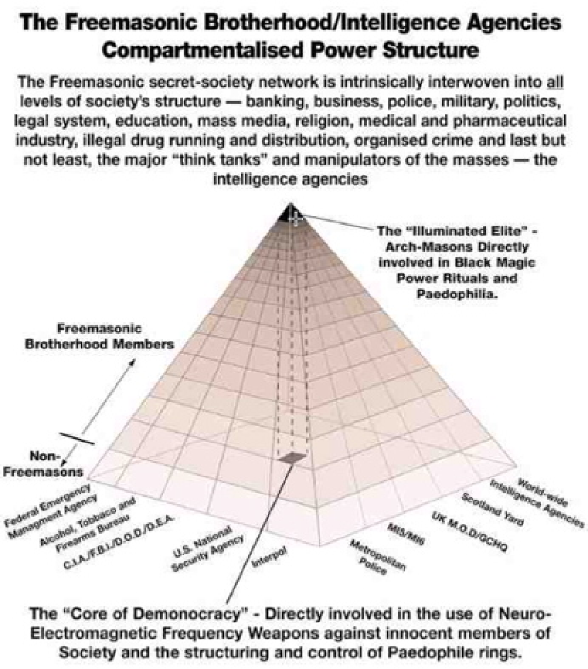
And a very much related post that I just discovered:

"Some time ago Iâ€™ve read an excellent article on a german online IT magazine (heise.de) about how the movement â€œAnonymousâ€� works. Immediately I was struck by how completely different this self organized, free will based movement functions compared to its main antagonist, the world-wide Illuminati/New World Order conspiracy, that is based on a regressive pyramid of power. Iâ€™d like to present my findings and hope I can help to raise the awareness for the importance of such grass-roots movements as the â€œAnonymousâ€� are.



The Freemasonic Brotherhood/Intelligence Agencies
Compartmentalised Power Structure
The Freemasonic secret-society network is intrinsically interwoven into all levels of society's structure — banking, business, police, military, politics, legal system, education, mass media, religion, medical and pharmaceutical industry, illegal drug running and distribution, organised crime and last but not least, the major "think tanks" and manipulators of the masses — the intelligence agencies
The "Illuminated Elite" - Arch-Masons Directly involved in Black Magic Power Rituals and Paedophilia.
Freemasonic Brotherhood Members
Non-Freemasons
Federal Emergency Managment Agency
Alcohol, Tobbaco and Firearms Bureau
C.I.A./F.B.I./D.O.D./D.E.A.
U.S. National Security Agency
Interpol
Metropolitan Police
MI5/MI6
UK M.O.D/GCHQ
Scotland Yard
World-wide Intelligence Agencies
The "Core of Demonocracy" - Directly involved in the use of Neuro-Electromagnetic Frequency Weapons against innocent members of Society and the structuring and control of Paedophile rings.

"The basic structural attributes of the Illuminati are:

* Hierarchical chain of command
* Completely compartimented structure in vertical and horizontal way: Strictly regulated information flow from top to bottom (including deceptive information on various levels)
* Infiltration of all powerful organizations (banks, governments, UN, corporations, media, military, churches)
* The people on the lower levels of the pyramid are known to the upper levels, but not vice-versa
* Ruthlessly forced power by blackmailing, creating dependency by money/existential fears, fear in general
* Massive, secret and harmful agenda on top level (keywords: one world government and religion, social engineering/manipulation of society/mind control/media, world population reduction, UFO/Alien cover up, secret weapons/HAARP, suppression of alternative energy sources and technologies in general, occultism/Satanism)

Itâ€™s probably not too wrong when we conclude that the Illuminati are the complete opposite of the Anonymous! This is a rather interesting finding when we extend it to the spiritual question:

Illuminati spiritual characteristics which are driven by:

greed egoism elite thinking hate for people hate for God/the good
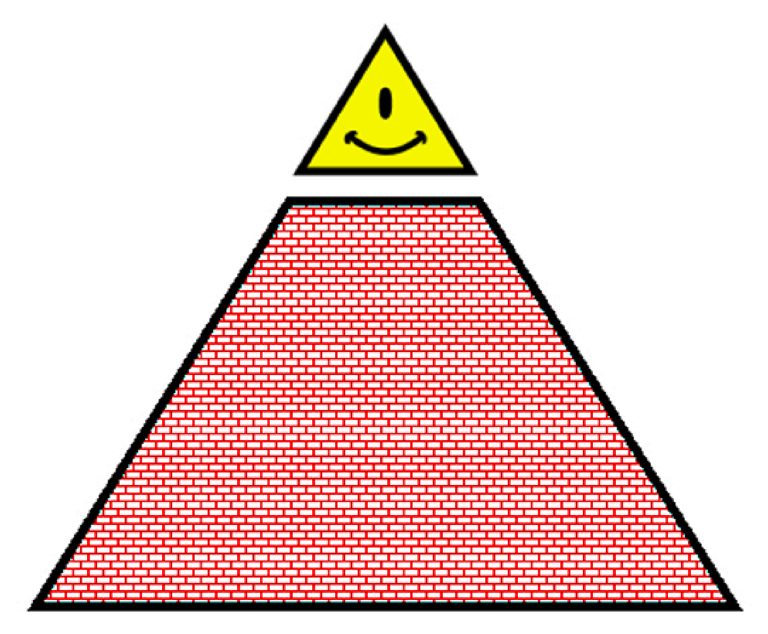
see the Illuminati Conspiracy Archive for their occult foundation

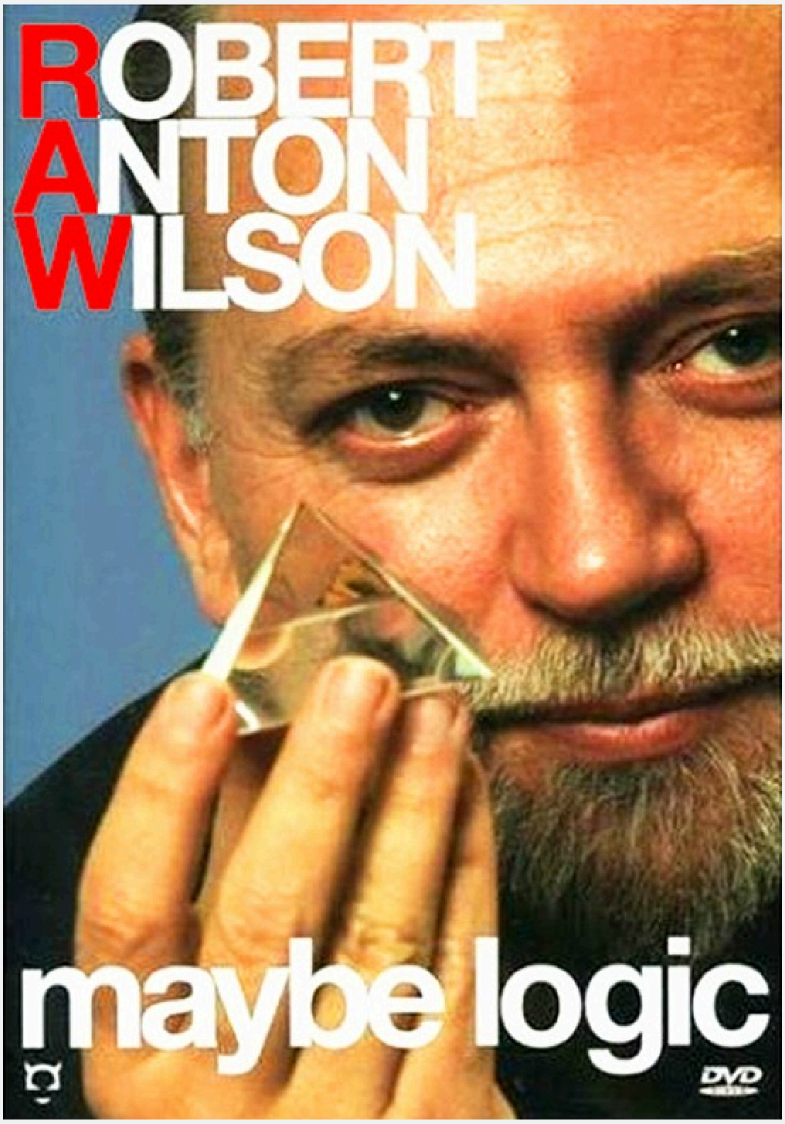
In that context Iâ€™m about to say that Anonymous is one movement that helps the positive spiritual orientation on this planet to succeed. The ideas of human rights, fairness, equality, thus positivity in general, are definitely on the good side, if you call that side God does not matter that much, does it?"

Anonymous vs. Illuminati â€“ A Structural Comparison

http://chaukeedaar.wordpress.com/2011/03/15/anonymous-vs-illuminati-a-structural-comparison/



Isn't it funny that Robert Anton Wilson loved to play ambiguously with the 'dangerous idea' that HIM and the Discordians were actually THE """REAL""" Illuminati, the bringers of Light, patiently waiting for his time to come, behind the fake ones pretending to be 'the Illuminati'??



This is such a gem of a documentary, and it's available online!

I mean, I'm beginning to really really wonder about this extremely powerful 'dangerous idea' : the time of the ""Real"" Illuminati has finally come?

Is this what RAW was trying to tell us, that WE might be The Ones we have always been waiting for?

Are WE the ""REAL"" ILLUMINATI then, as the html comments say, the bringers of "LVX"=Light over all lies in the corrupt world?

...was Crowley trying to tell us something else? 😳

Alan Moore - V sign

Alan Moore in his comic Promethea=METAPHORE tells us that Aleister Crowley, as Robert Anton Wilson did, LOVED JOKES & word games! 😀 🤡

This is 14 years old Edward Alexander Crowley. 😀

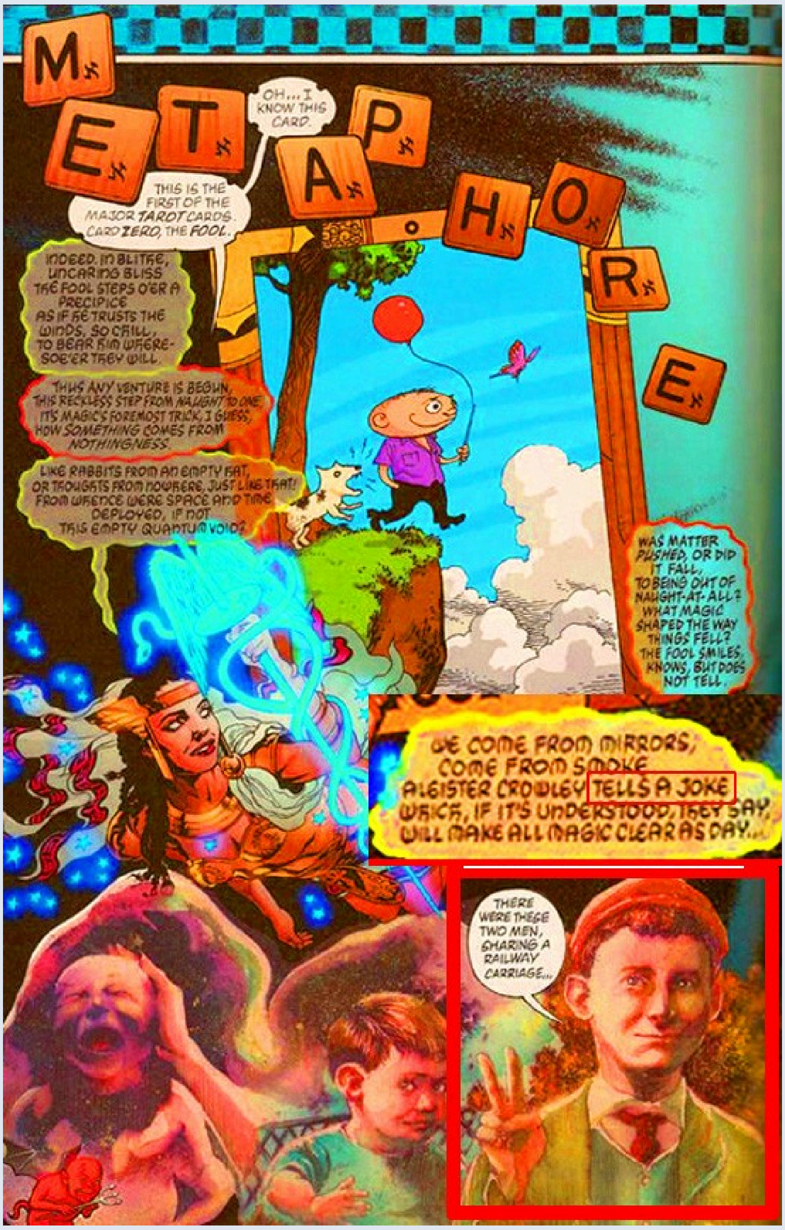
"My name's Alexander and I'm nearly fourteen. Tell me do you think the man who's killing these ladies is doing something MAGIC?"

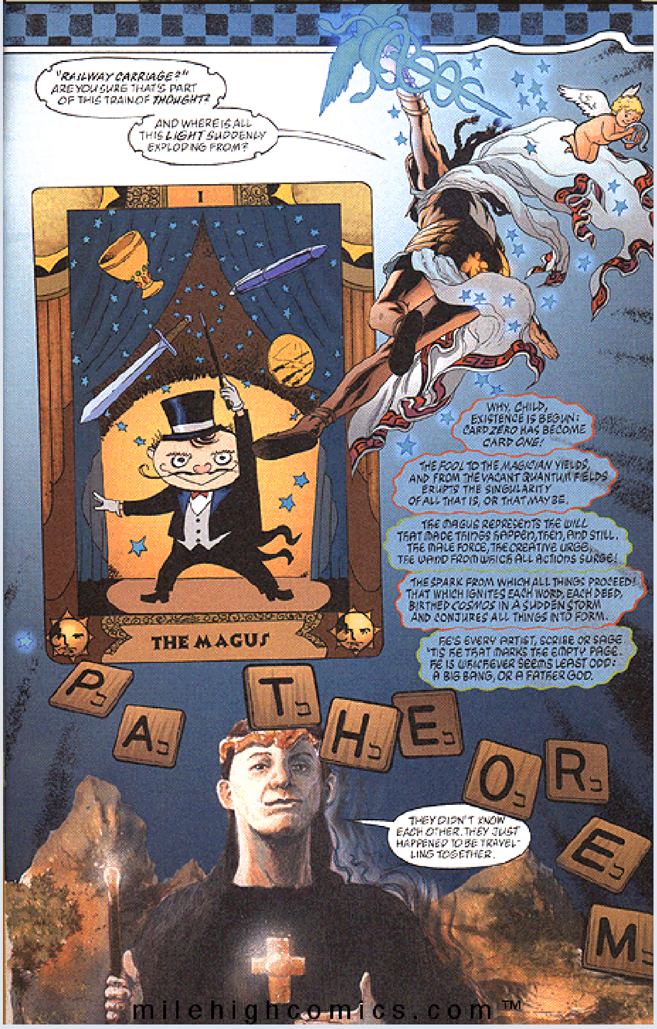
Page 0 Down on the bottom of the page we see Crowley born and then as a small child and finally as a schoolboy making the Peace or V for Victory sign.
The relevant passage about the V sign comes on pgs 386-387 of Lawrence Sutin's Do What thou Wilt biography.



METAPHORE
OH... I KNOW THIS CARD.
THIS IS THE FIRST OF THE MAJOR TAROT CARDS. CARD ZERO, THE FOOL.
INDEED. IN BLITHE, UNCARING BLISS THE FOOL STEPS O'ER A PRECIPICE AS IF HE TRUSTS THE WINDS, SO CHILL, TO BEAR HIM WHERE-SOE'ER THEY WILL.
THUS ANY VENTURE IS BEGUN, THIS RECKLESS STEP FROM NAUGHT TO ONE. IT'S MAGIC'S FOREMOST TRICK, I GUESS, HOW SOMETHING COMES FROM NOTHINGNESS.
LIKE RABBITS FROM AN EMPTY HAT, OR THOUGHTS FROM NOWHERE, JUST LIKE THAT! FROM WHENCE WERE SPACE AND TIME DEPLOYED, IF NOT THIS EMPTY QUANTUM VOID?
WAS MATTER PUSHED, OR DID IT FALL, TO BEING OUT OF NAUGHT-AT-ALL? WHAT MAGIC SHAPED THE WAY THINGS FELL? THE FOOL SMILES, KNOWS, BUT DOES NOT TELL.
WE COME FROM MIRRORS, COME FROM SMOKE. ALEISTER CROWLEY TELLS A JOKE WHICH, IF IT'S UNDERSTOOD, THEY SAY, WILL MAKE ALL MAGIC CLEAR AS DAY...
THERE WERE THESE TWO MEN, SHARING A RAILWAY CARRIAGE...

Once the war began the Beast was passionate in his support of the British cause. If immitation is the sincerest flattery, then Crowley paid great homage to Winston Churchill...by posing for photographs in which clad in bowler hat with scarf, cigar and contemplative scowl, he struck a striking resemblance to Churchill himself. Crowley also claimed to have originated the popular V for Victory hand gesture employed by Churchill. According to Crowley, the letter V was suited to the task of bringing victory due to its numerous esoteric correspondences. Crowley's claims have never been accepted; David Ritchie of the British Broadcasting Corporation is widely credited as having suggested it to Churchill.
Adapted from this photo of Crowley taken in 1889 when he was just 14

This image also inspired Alan Moore's From Hell Chapter 9 pages 3-4



"RAILWAY CARRIAGE?" ARE YOU SURE THAT'S PART OF THIS TRAIN OF THOUGHT?
AND WHERE IS ALL THIS LIGHT SUDDENLY EXPLODING FROM?
I
THE MAGUS
WHY, CHILD, EXISTENCE IS BEGUN: CARD ZERO HAS BECOME CARD ONE!
THE FOOL TO THE MAGICIAN YIELDS, AND FROM THE VACANT QUANTUM FIELDS ERUPTS THE SINGULARITY OF ALL THAT IS, OR THAT MAY BE.
THE MAGUS REPRESENTS THE WILL THAT MADE THINGS HAPPEN, THEN, AND STILL. THE MALE FORCE, THE CREATIVE URGE, THE WAND FROM WHICH ALL ACTIONS SURGE!
THE SPARK FROM WHICH ALL THINGS PROCEED! THAT WHICH IGNITES EACH WORD, EACH DEED, BIRTHED COSMOS IN A SUDDEN STORM AND CONJURES ALL THINGS INTO FORM.
HE'S EVERY ARTIST, SCRIBE OR SAGE. 'TIS HE THAT MARKS THE EMPTY PAGE. HE IS WHICHEVER SEEMS LEAST ODD: A BIG BANG, OR A FATHER GOD.
PATHEOREM
THEY DIDN'T KNOW EACH OTHER. THEY JUST HAPPENED TO BE TRAVELLING TOGETHER.

Good Job all that have been posting, researching on this thread.
It seems to me, that what i have read in the past, has moved from the collective unconsience to the collective consience.
I believe that is a step in the right direction, personally and globally.
Props to all before!

I think that Aleister Crowley's joke mentioned above may play into these enigmas and the progress of this thread, so here's the full joke:

"There were these two men, sharing a railway carriage. They didnâ€™t know each other. They just happened to be travelling together. One of the men had, resting in his lap, a cardboard box with holes punched in the top. After some time spent contemplating what might be inside his travelling companionâ€™s box, the other man at last could not contain his curiosity. He said, â€œExcuse me, but I couldnâ€™t help noticing your box. Does it contain some variety of animal?â€� The other man, though obviously surprised by this impertinent intrusion from a stranger, smiled politely as he answered, â€œYouâ€™re absolutely right. There is indeed a creature kept inside this box. And furthermore, I may reveal, the animal in question is a mongoose.â€�

The first man, whoâ€™d initiated the enquiry, was astonsihed by this revelation. Spluttering with surprise, he sought some further explanation of this certainly provocative disclosure made by his strange fellow-traveller. â€œA mongoose? Sir I must confess I had expected it to be perhaps a cat, or rabbit, not a creature so exotic and outlandish. The animal you mention so excites my curiosity that I must beg you, sir, to tell me more. Where are you bound with such a specimen, if I may be so bold?â€� The other man, who sat with the perforated box on his lap, shrugged wearily as he replied, â€œWell, itâ€™s something of a personal matter, as it concerns a family tragedy. However, since Iâ€™m confident I may rely on your discretion, I suppose I donâ€™t mind sharing my unfortunate account with you.â€� â€œYou see,â€� the man went on, â€œthis sorry tale concerns my elder brother. Heâ€™s always been what I suppose you might refer to as the black sheep of the family. He has for many years indulged himself in a predictable and commonplace array of vices, of which the worst is his fondness for strong spirits. His drinking has progressed until he is now in the final stages of delerium tremens. My brother now sees serpents everywhere, which is the reason I am taking him this mongoose, that he may be rid of them.â€�

â€œExcuse me,â€� the other man interjected, looking puzzled, â€œBut, these snakes your brother seesâ€¦ arenâ€™t they imaginary snakes?â€�

â€œIndeed,â€� his fellow traveller replied. â€œBut this,â€� and here he gestured meaningfully to the perforated box set on his lap, â€œis an imaginary mongoose.â€� then you can speak about special details."

You can TOTALLY FORGET about PM2012 after you have watched it.

Alchemy, Kabbalah & Magick accelerated course:

The mushroom said to me once "Nature Loves Courage".

Nature LOVES courage.

And I said "What's the pay off on that?"

And it said, It shows you that it loves courage because it will remove obstacles. You make the commitment and nature will respond to that commitment by removing impossible obstacles. Dream the impossible dream and the world will not grind you under, it will lift you up!

There IS a sort of fair play. You've been told from the cradle that the deck is stacked against you â€”fall of man, original sin, and so forth on and so on... â€” it's BULLSHIT!

Its ABSOLUTE BULLSHIT!!

There IS a sort of fair play, and if you can get in touch with that in your life, you know...

When Muhammad wouldn't came to the Mountain, the Mountain came to Muhammad: THAT's fair play!

And, if you can have that perception, the WORLD WILL BEGIN TO WORK FOR YOU, it will begin to move towards you...as the Mountain moved towards Muhammad.

The mushroom said to me once:

 NATURE LOVES COURAGE, ***

Nature  LOVE  Courage, and I said... what's the payoff of that?

and it said...

it shows you that it LOVES COURAGE because IT WILL REMOVE OBSTACLES.

You MAKE THE COMMITMENT, and nature will respond to that commitment by removing impossible obstacles.

Dream the impossible dream, and the world will not grind you under, it will lift you up.

THIS IS THE TRICK!

This is what all these teachers and philosophers who really counted, who really touched the ALCHEMICAL GOLD, this is what they understood, this is the shamanic dance in the waterfall, this is how magic is done:

it's done by HURLING YOURSELF INTO THE ABYSS, and discovering that it's a feather bed.

There's NO other way to DO IT."

Joseph Beuys (1921-05-12 â€“ 1986-01-23) was a German Conceptual artist who produced work in a number of forms including sculpture, performance art, video art and installations. He was inspired by the ideas of Rudolph Steiner and the French artist Yves Klein.

Beuys enlarged the area of art to the whole life of mankind; EVERYBODY IS AN ARTIST. He intrduced the notion of social sculpture.

Social sculpture is a specific example of the extended concept of art, that was advocated by the conceptual artist and politician Joseph Beuys. Beuys created the term Social Sculpture to illustrate his idea of ART'S POTENTIAL TO TRANSFORM SOCIETY. As an artwork it includes human activity, that strives to structure and shape society or the environment. THE CENTRAL IDEA OF A SOCIAL SCULPTOR IS AN ARTIST, WHO CREATES STRUCTURES IN SOCIETY USING LANGUAGE, THOUGHT, ACTION, AND OBJECT.

"Let's talk of A SYSTEM THAT TRANSFORMS ALL THE SOCIAL ORGANISMS INTO A WORK OF ART, in which the entire process of work is included... something in which the principle of production and consumption takes on a form of quality. It's a Gigantic project."

â€œOnly on condition of a radical widening of definitions will it be possible for art and activities related to art [to] provide evidence that art is now the only evolutionary-revolutionary power. Only art is capable of dismantling the repressive effects of a senile social system that continues to totter along the deathline: to dismantle in order to build â€˜A SOCIAL ORGANISM AS A WORK OF ARTâ€™â€¦ EVERY HUMAN BEING IS AN ARTIST who â€“ from his state of freedom â€“ the position of freedom that he experiences at first-hand â€“ learns to determine the other positions of the TOTAL ART WORK OF THE FUTURE SOCIAL ORDER.â€�

The individual

BEUYS BELIEVED EVERYBODY WAS AN ARTIST, he once said â€œevery sphere of human activity, Even peeling a potato can be a work of art as long as it is  A CONSCIOUS ACT .â€� The idea being that EVERY DECISION YOU MAKE should be thought out and attempt to make or CONTRIBUTE TO A WORK OF ART WHICH IN THE END IS SOCIETY. This point of view invites followers to humble themselves by realizing that THEY ARE AN IMPORTANT PART OF A WHOLE, NOT ONLY AN INDIVIDUAL.

"I MYSELF DETERMINE HISTORY â€“ it is not history that determines me... EVERY MAN IS A POTENTIAL PROVOCATEUR."

ART ALONE MAKES LIFE POSSIBLE â€“ this is how radically I should like to formulate it. I would say that WITHOUT ART MAN IS INCONCEIVABLE IN PHYSIOLOGICAL TERMS.. ..I would say man does not consist only of chemical processes, but also of metaphysical occurrences. The provocateur of the chemical processes is located outside the world. MAN IS ONLY TRULY ALIVE WHEN HE REALIZES HE IS A CREATIVE, ARTISTIC BEING.

"I am not a teacher who tells his students only to think. I say:  ACT ;  DO SOMETHING : I ask for result. It may take different forms. It can have the form of sound, or someone can do a book, make a drawing or a sculpture. I donâ€™t care..."

"EVERY HUMAN BEING IS AN ARTIST who â€“ from his state of freedom â€“ the position of freedom that he experience at firsthand â€“ learns to determine the other positions in the TOTAL ARTWORK OF THE FUTURE SOCIAL ORDER."

"After I am dead I would like people to say:
'BEUYS UNDERSTOOD THE HISTORICAL SITUATION. HE ALTERED THE COURSE OF EVENTS'.
I hope in the right direction."

|=------------------------------------------------------------=|

DARE to CREATE your Dream Reality is going to Bee our magickal motto.

1. Grab a pen or a pencil, -unless you got a drawing tablet, it's better than using the mouse, but feel free to use the mouse if you prefer-, and draw a picture of what it is for you that you would like to SEE happening worldwide next December 21 2012, 11:11.
Relax and allow your imagination to just fly: you can draw ANYTHING you feel like, you are not going to be judged for it.
Don't try to do something 'beautiful' just so that other anons admire your work:
open your mind to whatever the Universe tells you and be HONEST about what you'd like to see happening.

It doesn't matter that you 'don't know' how to draw: remember when we were inhibited children, ALL OF US know how to draw, right!?

Only two rules in this game:

* You have to use these 4 colours only: BLACK, WHITE, YELLOW, RED.
* You have to include a BEE in your drawing.

2. When you are finished, scan it and upload it to your personal blog, to any image hosting site such as imgur.com or send it as an attachment by email.

3. To Find The Others, SHARE your Creation with the Bees in the Hive Mind, as other anons already did. See below.

Send your artwork to |=-------------------=[ anon ['@'] projectmayhem2012.org ]=-------------------=|

If selected, we will be publishing your Magick Reality Hacking drawings in the next HiveMinds[].html
You can also post them to http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t1676-project-mayhem-2012 and anywhere you want as well.

Further clues will be unlocked when a minimum 10 anons publish their artwork.

Today,

 THE ENIGMA OF THE SPHYNX *****

The Four Powers of the Magus: Noscere, Audere, Velle, Tacere.

The Four Powers of the Sphinx--TO KNOW, TO WILL, TO DARE AND TO KEEP SILENT --are an important element of Thelemic symbolism and instruction. The origin of the Four Powers of the Sphinx is unclear. Practically nothing is written on the subject outside of the works of Aleister Crowley. The only other author to mention the subject with any degree of depth or seriousness is the French occultist Eliphas LÃ©vi

That LÃ©vi had a profound influence on Crowley there is no doubt. Crowley translated LÃ©viâ€™s The Key of the Mysteries as his own Adeptus Minor thesis, and Crowley went as far to claim in Magick in Theory and Practice that he was the reincarnation of LÃ©vi! Therefore, it is not unreasonable to suggest that LÃ©vi influenced Crowley in the matter of the Four Powers of the Sphinx. By surveying the work of Eliphas LÃ©vi, so shall we come to a better understanding of the Four Powers of the Sphinx.

Our first introduction to the Four Powers of the Sphinx comes from LÃ©viâ€™s most popular work, Transcendental Magic:

â€œTo attain the SANCTUM REGNUM, in other words, the knowledge and power of the Magi, there are FOUR INDISPENSABLE CONDITIONS:

* an INTELLIGENCE illuminated by study,
* an INTREPIDITY which nothing can check,
* a WILL which cannot be broken, and
* a PRUDENCE which nothing can corrupt and nothing intoxicate.

TO KNOW, TO DARE, TO WILL, TO KEEP SILENCE --such are the four words of the Magus, inscribed upon the four symbolical forms of the sphinx.â€�

Levi here offers the Four Powers as the words of the Magus and casually links them with the Sphinx. He goes on in the same chapter to link the Four Powers of the Sphinx with the four Elements and the four Kerubic Signs of the zodiac:

â€œYou are called to be king of AIR, WATER, EARTH and FIRE; but to reign over these four living creatures of symbolism, it is necessary to conquer and enchain them. He who aspires to be a sage and to know THE GREAT ENIGMA OF NATURE must be the heir and despoiler of the sphinx: his the human head, in order to possess speech; his the eagleâ€™s wings, in order to scale the heights; his the bullâ€™s flanks, in order to furrow the depths; his the lionâ€™s talons, to make a way on the right and the left, before and behind.â€�

The Sphinx is a composite creature, having the head of a Man, the torso and front paws of a Lion, the backside of a Bull and the wings of the Eagle. It symbolizes the synthesis and synergy of the Four Powers, represented by the â€œfourliving creatures of symbolismâ€� (the Kerubs) who have been â€œconquered and enchainedâ€� into one figure, the Sphinx. (See Table 1 for correspondences.) The aspirant is instructed to be the â€œheir and despoiler of the sphinx,â€� to both receive and to partake of the four Elements.

The nature of the Sphinx is further explained in The Magical Ritual of the Sanctum Regnum:

â€œYou must thoroughly understand that elemental beings are souls of an imperfect type, not yet raised in the scale up to human existence, and that they can only manifest power when called into action by the adept as auxiliaries to his will, by means of that universal astral fluid in which they live. The kingdom of the Gnomes is assigned to the North, the Salamanders to the South, the Sylphs to the East, and the Undines to the West....

â€œTheir symbols are those of Taurus the Bull for Gnomes; Leo the Lion for Salamanders; the Eagle for Sylphs; and the sign of Aquarius for Undines....

â€œThe combination of these four types of face and being represents the Created Universe, a complete and eternal entity, Man in fact, the Microcosm; and this is the first formula of the mystical explanation of the enigma of the Sphynx.â€�

The implication is that MAN IS THE SPHINX, as both are composed of the four Elements. LÃ©vi clarifies this idea later in the text:

â€œDo you now understand THE ENIGMA OF THE SPHYNX?

...Yes, you know that THE SPHYNX REFERS TO MAN.

But do you know that the Sphynx is one and alone, and remains unchanged, while as to man--is not each one a Sphynx of a different synthesis?â€�

Man is like the Sphinx. Both are composed of the four Elements, but in Man they exists in different proportions and are unbalanced, while in the Sphinx the Elements are balanced and synergistic.

THE SPHINX REPRESENTS THE PERFECTED MAN,  the Magus. *****

The Four Powers of the Sphinx are â€œTHE FOUR WORDS OF THE MAGUS,â€� the â€œfour indispensable conditionsâ€� which bring Man to the state of perfection and balance symbolized by the Sphinx.

LÃ©vi instructs us HOW TO PRACTICALLY APPLY the Four Powers of the Sphinx in his final work, THE GREAT SECRET:

â€œThe great secret of magic, the unique and incommunicable Arcana, has for its purpose the placing of supernatural power at the service of the human will in some way.

To attain such an achievement it is necessary

* to KNOW what has to be done,
* to WILL what is required,
* to DARE what must be attempted and
* to KEEP SILENT with discernment.

Levi goes on to give us a mythical example:

â€œHomerâ€™s Odysseus had to contend with the gods, the elements, the cyclops, the sirens, Circe, etc. ... that is to say with all the difficulties and dangers of life.

His palace is invaded, his wife is pestered, his goods are plundered, his death is resolved on, he loses his comrades, his ships are sunk; at last, he alone is left to fight it out against the night and the sea. And single-handed he sways the gods, he escapes from the sea, he blinds the cyclops, he cheats the sirens, he masters Circe, he re-takes his palace, he rescues his wife, he slays those plotting his death;

because he WILLED to see Ithaca and Penelope again,
because he always KNEW how to extricate himself from danger, because he DARED what had to be done and because he always KEPT SILENT when it was not expedient to speak.â€�

Finally, Levi indicates where to start in our endeavor to become the Sphinx:

â€œWhen one does not KNOW, one should WILL to learn.

To the extent that one does not know it is foolhardy to dare, but it is always well to keep silent.â€�

Thus the Four Powers are employed much like steps in a process; we must know before we can will, and so on. This idea is reinforced in Transcendental Magick:

â€œTo learn how to will is to learn how to exercise dominion. But to be able to exert will power you must first know; for will power applied to folly is madness, death, and hell.â€�

Also:

â€œIn order to DARE we must KNOW; in order to WILL, we must DARE; we must WILL to possess empire and to reign we must BE SILENT.â€�

So ends our survey of the Four Powers of the Sphinx as defined and developed by Eliphas Levi. In our next essay, we will examine Crowleyâ€™s writings on the Powers of the Sphinx, including the addition of a Fifth Power--to Go.

PM2012 Commentary to 'the Enigma of the Sphinx' text above.

First, a very good clarification on the 4 Powers of the Magus linked to Self-Knowledge:

"The only thing I find that I like more than learning something new is learning about learning. META-LEARNING perhaps?

Recently, I was fortunate enough to learn about a cognitive psychological tool known as the "Johari Window" I was at a seminar where the speaker suggested that human beings come to awareness of any given thing in four general stages. This window can be disected into a graph whereupon we have unconscious and conscious right and left of an imaginary y-axis; and incompetent and competent above and below an imaginary x-axis. If you're imagining this properly it should appear as a Mendelian Square.

In stage one, a person is unconsciously incompetent, they aren't even aware that they are unaware. If you've read Ouspensky or Gurdjieff then you're probably pretty familiar with this idea: ever referring to man as asleep and incapable of recognizing it due to an obstinate belief that one is awake.

Next, is conscious incompetent. Here our example is frustrated, realizing that s/he is unaware yet not possessing the skills with which to become aware. In the unconscious competent stage our subject knows about their awareness but isn't sure how they've accomplished this. In the final stage they cannot only reach deeper states of awareness, but if they so choose, TEACH OTHERS."

Check the square at: http://rosicrucian-vault.blogspot.com/2010/02/eliphas-levi-and-johari-window.html

Pulling it together: one must be foolhardy (unconsious incompetent) and Dare to go against the grain of their culture, their mentality, and all their former learning and realize they have a to deep yearning to be or do something greater than previously thought possible. (For those interested in fostering healthy memes, the book Boomeritus, by Ken Wilbur is an excellent example of how to take conscious control of focusing on positive mind viruses)

Will to learn about that yearning (in whatever form it manifests).

At this point, one knows what they know, but more importantly they realize that they know very little and so in an attempt to foster more awareness, to be awareness as it were they are silent. This is the point at which a person stops studying magic and begins to experiment with the world as a magician."

Secondly,

"To the extent that one does not know it is foolhardy to dare, but it is always well to keep silent.â€�
Full text: Eliphas Levi - The Great Secret. http://sacred-sex.org/western/levi-the-great-secret

That's the LAST phrase of the text. This means that it carries a strong semantical value associated with it.

The Magus has to learn WHEN to DISOBEY.

'Initiates' have been coding their teachings so that only those who DARED to question them, that is, only those who DARED to 'kill the buddha whenever they found one', that is, only those who DARED to follow their own heart, their own INTUITION, their own INSTINCT to detect Beauty & Truth and avoid bullshit where deem worthy to decode their teachings.

The Greatest Teaching any Teacher can teach is to teach the pupil to kill the Teacher and to give her the TOOLS required to start to BE YOUR OWN TEACHER.

So called 'Demons' ( = our FEARS, DOUBTS AND DISBELIEFS about what we KNOW that we HAVE to DO), don't reach the one who is absolutely centered in their WILL: the ZENtral Point within the Circumference.

Neo DARES to JUMP THE ABYSS.

"In the Qabalistic system of Crowley, the Abyss contains the 11th (hidden) sephira, Da'ath, which separates the lower sephiroth from the supernals. This account derives from the Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn's view of Genesis,[7] in which Da'ath represents the fall of man from a unified consciousness into a duality between ego and divine nature.[8]
The Abyss is guarded by the demon Choronzon, who manifests during the third, ceremonial method of crossing this gulf. He represents those parts of one's consciousness and unconsciousness -- "a momentary unity capable of sensation and of expression," in Crowley's terms[9] -- that are unwilling or unable to enter the Divine.

According to  GRANT MORRISON  in the Richard Metzger Book of Lies, at least, Choronzon

"is Existential Self at the last gasp...Beyond Choronzon we are no longer our Self. The "personality" on the brink of the Abyss will do anything, say anything and find any excuse to avoid taking this disintegrating step into "non-being."[10]"

"Crossing the Abyss" is regarded as a perilous operation, and THE MOST IMPORTANT WORK OF THE MAGICIAN'S CAREER.

Success confers graduation into the degree of Magister Templi, or "Master of the Temple."

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Abyss_(Thelema)#Theory_and_Practice

Yet, nobody succeeds in their first attempt: yet, NOTHING happens, as Terence McKenna shows us, Nature LOVES COURAGE:

the Abyss of Daath is A FEATHER BED.

In other words:

Time is ripe to DARE even when you don't KNOW.
Time is ripe to SHARE and NOT to remain silent any more.

Morpheus: You gotta let it all go Neo. FEAR, DOUBT and DISBELIEF.

Rabbit as Symbol: The Significance of Rabbits in Dreams and Art, by Sandy Koi.

"One of the most important archetypes is that of the Psychopomp. A Psychopomp is a god or goddess (energy form) that acts as a liaison, and guide, between the three worlds-the physical earthly level that we dwell upon, the Underworld and the Heavens. In classical mythology, the Roman God Mercury was a Psychopomp, for example.

HE GUIDED THE ANCIENT HEROES TO AND THROUGH THE UNDERWORLD, AND HE ALSO BROUGHT MESSAGES FROM ABOVE TO THE MERE MORTALS HERE ON EARTH.

Symbolically, Rabbit in the Underworld is therefore representative of USING ONE'S INTUITION: knowing how to get around "in the dark" and being comfortable traveling in "unmarked territory." By default, it can also denote having or DEVELOPING TRUST IN THE "INNER LIGHT."

RABBIT DOES NOT NEED AN OUTSIDE SOURCE TO ILLUMINATE HIS WAY.

His connection to the Collective Energy maintains his pathway.

They teach us Unconditional Love, and Compassion for Life, by virtue of eliciting those things within us.

And one important symbolical meaning that Rabbit should elicit in us is that of PLAYFULNESS AND JOY.
Their nonsense displays of happiness are part of the Dance of Life-which is nothing more than a Cosmic Binkie."

"I would like to declare why I feel that itâ€™s now necessary to establish A NEW KIND OF ART, able to show the problems of the whole society, of every living being â€“ and how this new discipline â€“ which I call SOCIAL SCULPTURE â€“ can realize the future of humankind. It could be a guarantee for the evolution of the earth as a planet, establish conditions for other planetarians too, and you can control it with your own thinking.

..Here my idea is to declare that ART is the â€˜onlyâ€™ possibility for EVOLUTION, the only possibility to CHANGE THE SITUATION IN THE WORLD. But then you have to enlarge the idea of art to include the whole creativity. And if you do that, it follows logically that every living being is an artist â€“ an artist in the sense that he can develop his own capacity.. .. And therefore, in short, Iâ€™m saying, all work thatâ€™s done has to have the quality of art. We can see later about developing a proof for this by thinking about these problems. Here is a general structure to show what I means by a social sculpture â€˜(Beuys goes to the blackboard and points out symbols for archetypical elements, plants, animals, minerals, soul which he had drawn before the discussion started)"

Sure!

We are learning some 'magick tricks' as we are trying to decode some hidden enigmas.

Alan Moore is a self-confessed Chaos Magician who admires the work of the occultist and magician Aleister Crowley.

Basically, from the source code at http://projectmayhem2012.org/pm2012.html we have been deducing that this is a Reality Hacking Game, and we are playing with the hypothesis that Aleister Crowley might have tricked? some people into performing the magical Babalon Working (via NASA rocket scientist Jack Parsons and the Church of Scientology founder Ron L. Hubbard) to summon Anonymous to fight against the Church of Scientology!

It's actually quite funny that the very first Operation that Anonymous actually promoted was to fight against the abuses of the Church of Scientology, Project Chanology!

And we are also playing with the hypothesis that Alan Moore's V for Vendetta & Watchmen comics, as well as Grant Morrison's The Invisibles comic, which predicts the 'end of the world' by December 22, 2012 provoked by a cybergroup of hackers & rebels, or Douglas Rushkoff's hackers & magicians in his Cyberia novel -all of them have been strongly influenced by Aleister Crowley's works- might be some kind of magickal hypersigils to bring on the informational 'Eschaton/Revelation of all lies/Apocalypse'.

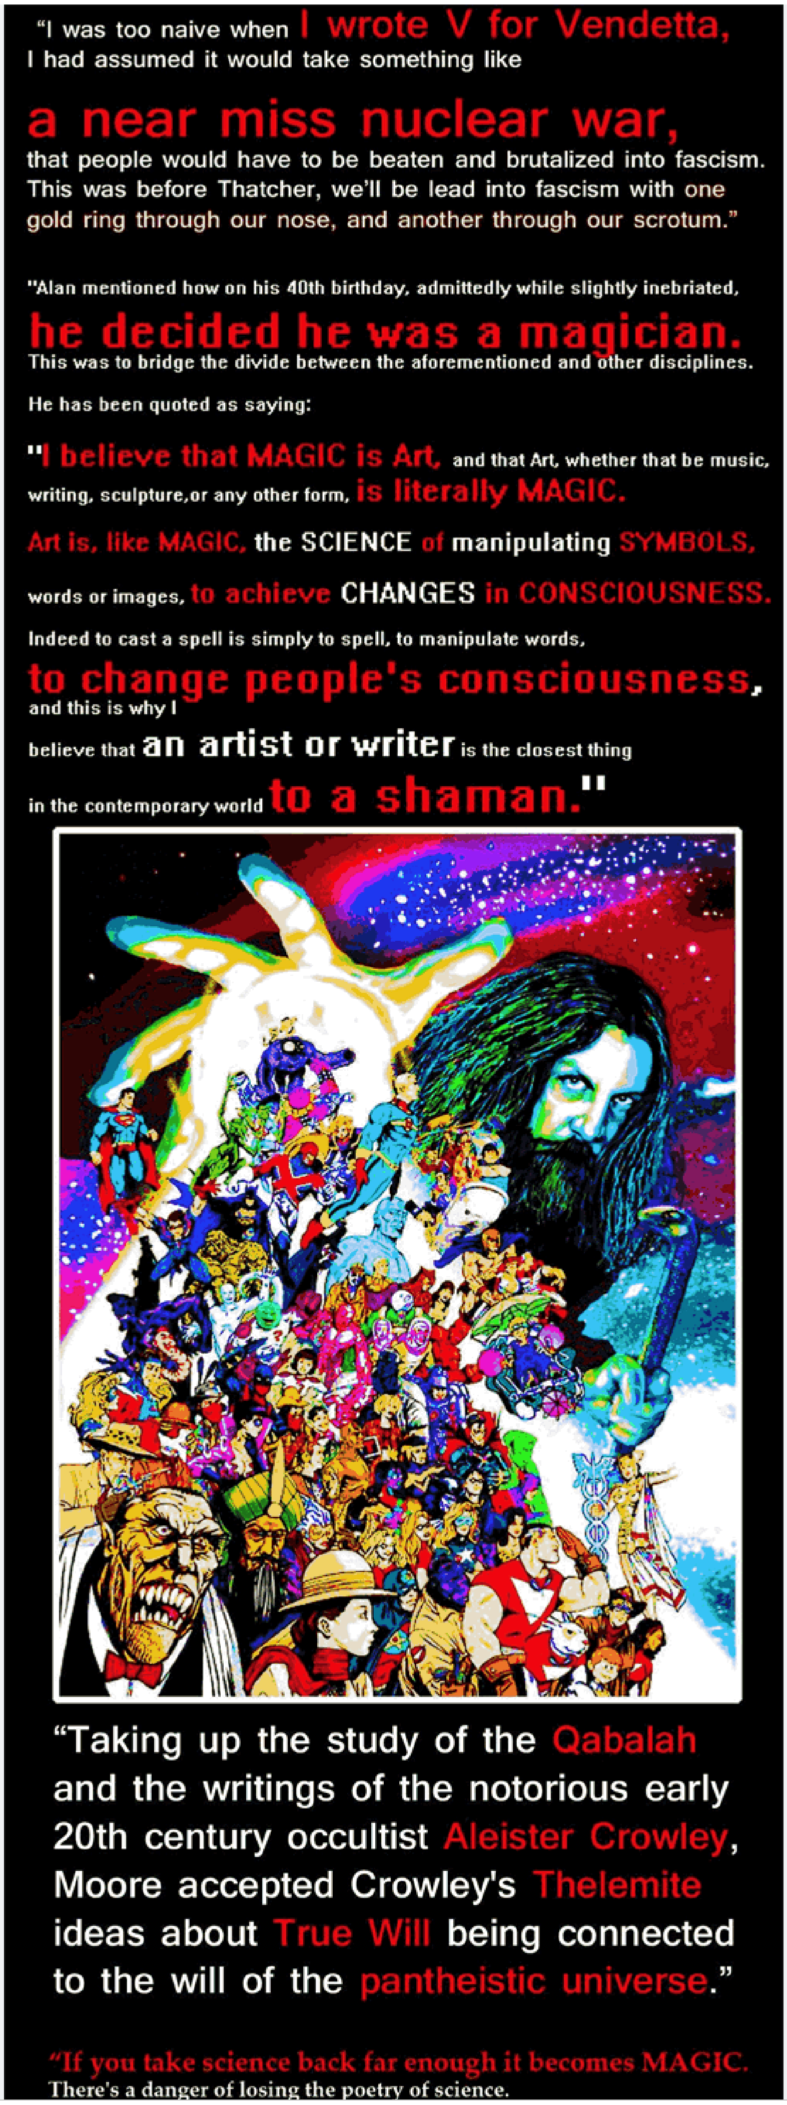
So that this:



"I was too naive when I wrote V for Vendetta, I had assumed it would take something like a near miss nuclear war, that people would have to be beaten and brutalized into fascism. This was before Thatcher, we'll be lead into fascism with one gold ring through our nose, and another through our scrotum."

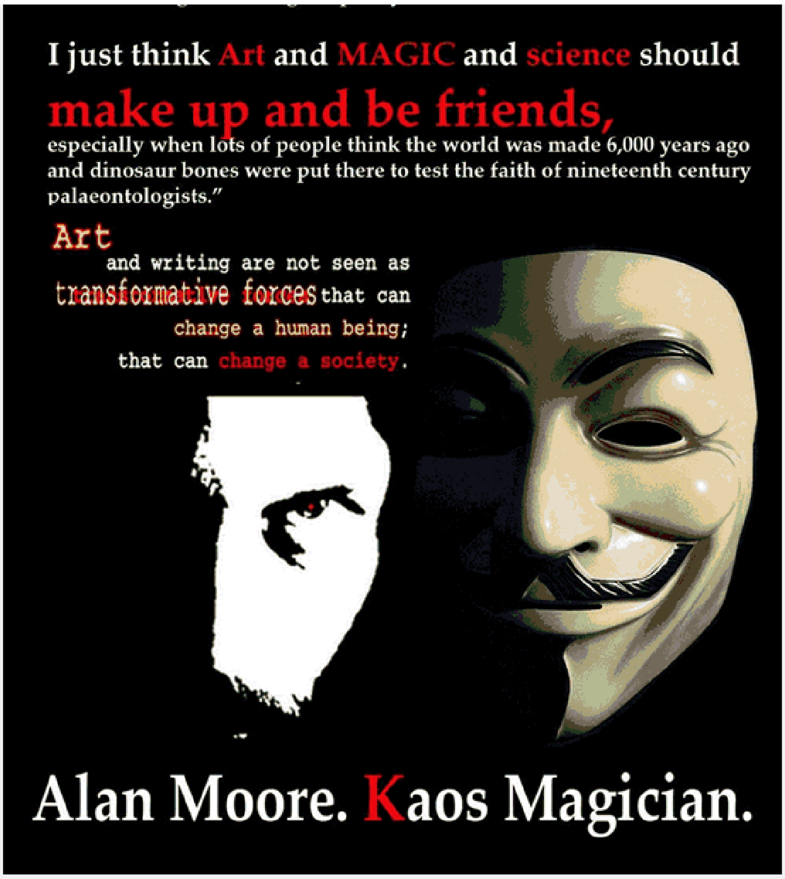
"Alan mentioned how on his 40th birthday, admittedly while slightly inebriated, he decided he was a magician. This was to bridge the divide between the aforementioned and other disciplines.

He has been quoted as saying:

"I believe that MAGIC is Art, and that Art, whether that be music, writing, sculpture,or any other form, is literally MAGIC. Art is, like MAGIC, the SCIENCE of manipulating SYMBOLS, words or images, to achieve CHANGES in CONSCIOUSNESS. Indeed to cast a spell is simply to spell, to manipulate words, to change people's consciousness, and this is why I believe that an artist or writer is the closest thing in the contemporary world to a shaman."

"Taking up the study of the Qabalah and the writings of the notorious early 20th century occultist Aleister Crowley, Moore accepted Crowley's Thelemite ideas about True Will being connected to the will of the pantheistic universe."

"If you take science back far enough it becomes MAGIC. There's a danger of losing the poetry of science.



I just think Art and MAGIC and science should make up and be friends, especially when lots of people think the world was made 6,000 years ago and dinosaur bones were put there to test the faith of nineteenth century palaeontologists."

Art and writing are not seen as transformative forces that can change a human being; that can change a society.

Alan Moore. Kaos Magician.

The Alchemical Work

From the sauce code at http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind11101001.html (hit CTRL+U in your browser to view html code):

"The Great Work (Latin: Magnum opus) is an alchemical term for the process of creating the philosopher's stone.
It has been used to describe personal and spiritual transmutation in the Hermetic tradition,attached to laboratory processes and chemical color changes, used as a model for the individuation process, and as a device in art and literature.

The magnum opus has been carried forward in new age and neo-hermetic movements which sometimes attached new symbolism and significance to the processes.

It originally had four stages:

NIGREDO, a blackening or melanosis
ALBEDO, a whitening or leucosis
CITRINITAS, a yellowing or xanthosis
RUBEDO, a reddening, purpling, or iosis

I think i may have to post pics of my tattoo's that i have been developing and imprinting onto myself for the past 12 years. All of it was drawn by myself, all developed with Intent.
wonder if that would count for the artist count.....?

Well, the instructions in the code say that you should "draw a picture of what it is for you that you would like to SEE happening worldwide next December 21 2012, 11:11 ." In other words, it's my understanding that the imagination & Intent should be collectively focused towards that date, and the colour scheme should be the alchemical ones specified in the code, black, white, yellowish and red.

But, anyway, I for one wouldn't mind seeing those tattoos developed with Intent, if you'd like to share with us the process of creation and the 'whys' and 'hows' to it.

honourable, intelligent.
it is tribal art( speaks to me on levels im still trying to delve.) but the intricacies that can be developed are limitless.

It is what i would like to see for everyone.
I have hoped for many years that it would inspire people, in one way or another.
It is still a work in progress, but hey, that's life:)

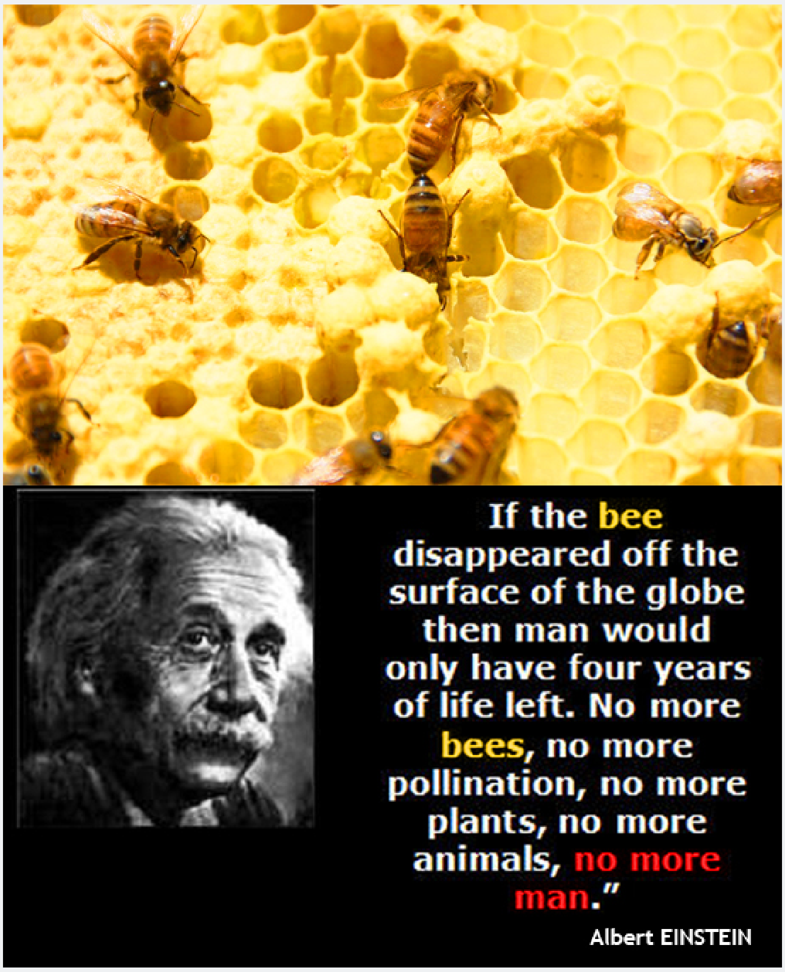
Sounds good! We are definitely living interesting times.

I am sharing some more findings about bees, Rudolf Steiner and Joseph Beuys, cited yesterday in the html code:



If the bee disappeared off the surface of the globe then man would only have four years of life left. No more bees, no more pollination, no more plants, no more animals, no more man."
Albert EINSTEIN

Ok, I have been investigating the Rudolf Steiner quotation in the html code:

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Rudolf_Steiner

**<!--
"The CONSCIOUSNESS of a BEEHIVE, not the individual Bees, is of a very high nature.
Humankind will not obtain the Wisdom of such CONSCIOUSNESS until the next major revolutionary stage
Ø´hat of Venus× which will come when the evolution of the earth stage has finished.

Then human beings will possess the CONSCIOUSNESS necessary to construct things with A MATERIAL THEY CREATE WITHIN THEMSELVES."

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Rudolf_Steiner
**-->

**<!--
Account of the SARMOUN BROTHERHOOD
Desmond R. Martin, 1965:

"There are many legends about Sarmoun-Dargauh ('COURT OF THE BEES'), and one of them is this. True knowledge, it is asserted, exists as a positive commodity, like the HONEY OF THE BEE. Like HONEY, it can be accumulated. From time to time in human history, however, it lies unused and starts to leak away. On those occasions the Sarmouni and their associates all over the world collect it and store it in a special receptacle.

Then, WHEN THE TIME IS RIPE, THEY RELEASE IT INTO THE WORLD AGAIN, through specially trained emissaries."

http://www.cosmopolis.com/files/sarmoun-brotherhood.html
**-->

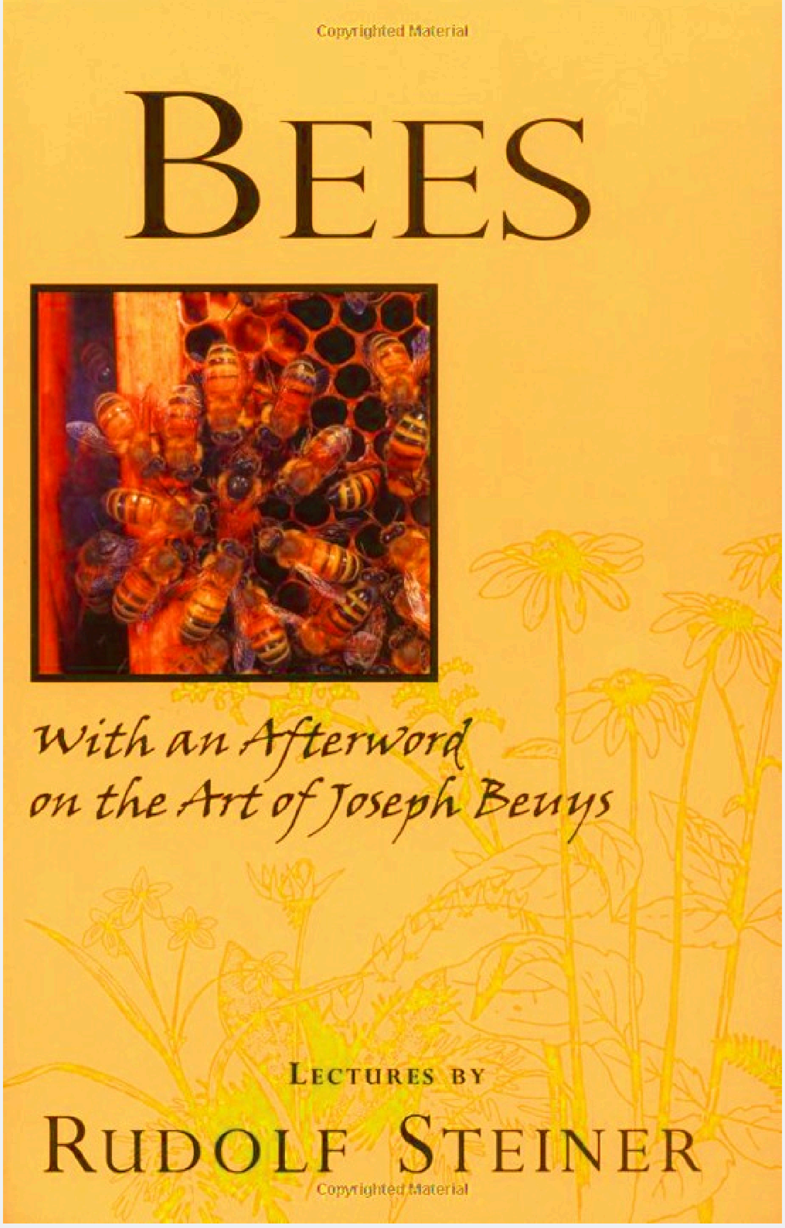
and I have just found these 2 books:



"Summary:

In 1923 Rudolf Steiner predicted the dire state of the honeybee today. He said that, within fifty to eighty years, we would see the consequences of mechanizing the forces that had previously operated organically in the beehive. Such practices include breeding queen bees artificially.

The fact that over sixty percent of the American honeybee population has died during the past ten years, and that this trend is continuing around the world, should make us aware of the importance of the issues discussed in these lectures.

Steiner began this series of lectures on bees in response to a question from an audience of workers at the Goetheanum. From physical depictions of the daily activities of bees to the most elevated esoteric insights, these lectures describe the unconscious wisdom of the beehive and its connection to our experience of health, culture, and the cosmos.

Bees is essential reading for anyone interested in understanding the true nature of the honeybee, as well as those who wish to heal the contemporary crisis of the beehive.

Bees includes an essay by David Adams From Queen Bee to Social Sculpture: The Artistic Alchemy of Joseph Beuys

The art and social philosophy of Joseph Beuys (1921Ö±986) is among the most influential of the twentieth century. He was strongly influenced by Rudolf SteinerÓ³ lectures on bees."

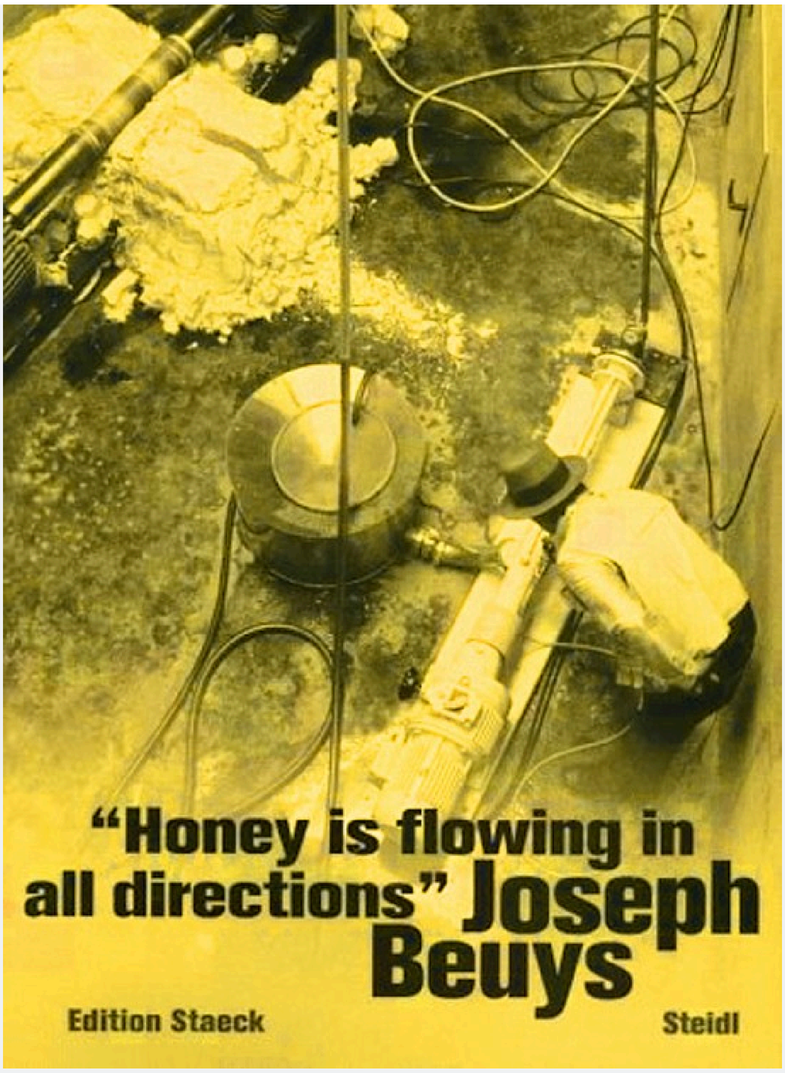
Tango down, there's actually a strong link between Joseph Beuys, bees, honey & Rudolf Steiner!

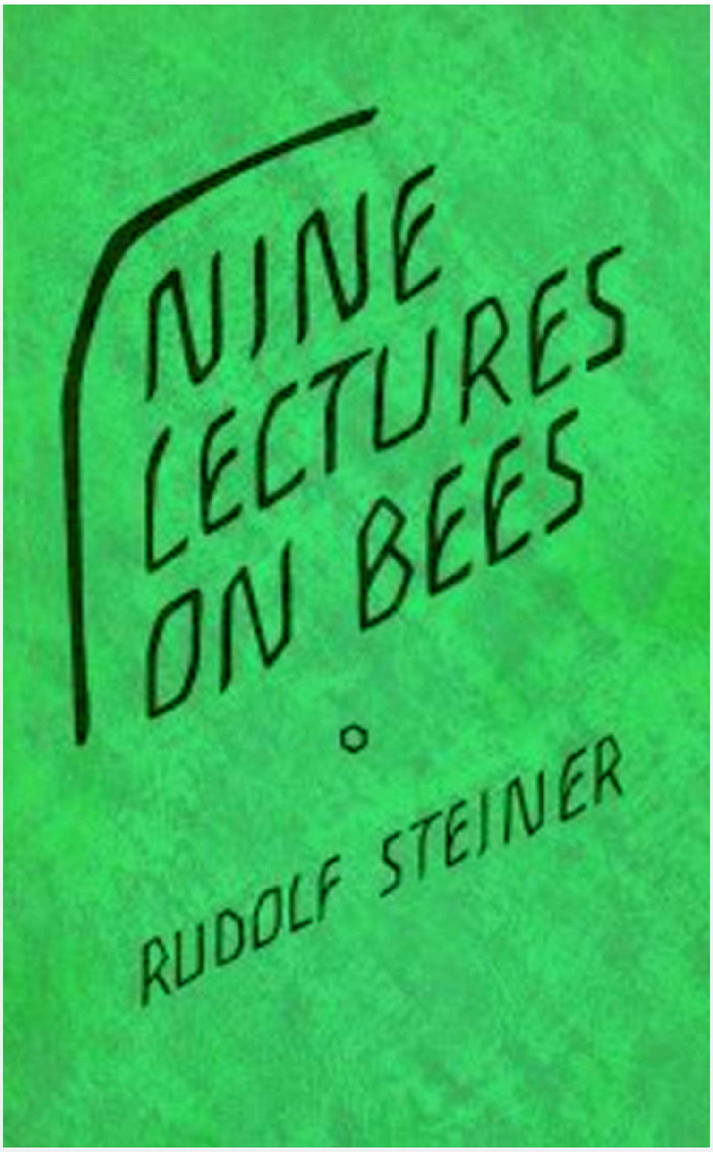
http://www.beekeeping.com/new/books/steiner.htm

I think I will leave this Google search here.

And this other book:



"On January 9th, 1974, Joseph Beuys travelled to America for the very first time in his life. His trip was meticulously planned, with an art/performance scheduled in between each airplane, taxi and hotel, at prominent universities and galleries. Each venture in the New World was documented in these photographs. Single shots, sequences and photo-novels were produced, in addition to film stills and the movies Dillinger and The Dead Eyes of London. Beuys himself put together the layout for this book just before he died in October 1985. This unique travel report, which lay unpublished for over 20 years, is now presented in the exact format intended by Beuys."



Fully readable here: http://wn.rsarchive.org/Lectures/GA351/English/SGP1975/NinBee_index.html

So, after reading these, it seems obvious that there is something 'esoterical'/occult/magickal? about honey, bees & beehives, and Rudolf Steiner and Joseph Beuys might have known the 'secret' to it. Whatever that esoteric teaching is, sure.

About the mysterious Sarmoun Brotherhood or ('COURT OF THE BEES'), that G.I. Gurdjieff met, I have found this:

G.I. Gurdjieff

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/George_Gurdjieff

"The Enneagram originated in Central Asia, and was first introduced to the West by the enigmatic teacher G. I. Gurdjieff during talks he gave in Moscow just prior to the Russian Revolution.

He discovered it in a monastery which belonged to an ancient brotherhood known as the Sarmoung, usually translated as the Bees . To reach this monastery he was led blindfolded on a donkey for 12 - 18 days starting from the city of Bokhara in present day Uzbekistan. The Enneagram was the symbolic key to their teachings, which were never written down."

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Fourth_Way_Enneagram http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Enneagram_(geometry) http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Arica_School#Enneagram_of_Personality

So did G.I. Gurdjieff actually succeed in hacking Matrix and left us some clues to follow him?

Gurdjieff's Mission

The Terence McKenna vid is the most important thing I've ever watched.

One thing I've been thinking, if we do consider anonymous to be the "bringers of truth", artists, social sculptors, or whatever you want to call it, are we doing a good enough job convincing others, that is, the people that havn't followed the white rabbit?

Also, can I get some more videos/readings from Terence McKenna, suggestions?

I've been lurking this thread and wondering about #pm2012 for quite some time now and it's fascinating and the biggest mindfuck I've ever come across. With that being said, I drew this up this afternoon. Some of the picture got cut out in the picture I took. Oh well.

Gosh some work has been done since I last tried to post!

I lost 3 hours of a post a couple of days ago alas, so I will try to be quick.

There is more than one meaning to the colours you have been asked to use and they can be used for one of the oldest magical forms: sympathetic magic.

My 3 hour comment was a reminder of this and to be careful when putting in your artwork.

Because each colour represents a bodily substance.
Your drawing with it makes it so.
Your intention sets the timer on such a thing.
And the bee places you 'in the game'

It has all the ingrediants of a classic poppet spell:
You need a picture/form of the victim
You need hair/nail clippings, blood, semen, skin or urine from the victim.
You need intent.
You need timeframe.

It could work either way- such a picture in the hands of a magic person has potential to be dangerous because you are placing yourself completely at the mercy of their intent.

Yes he is right, to be silent is expedient- but those sworn to protect are sworn to do so when required.

All the tinkering in Binah has been noted and the references in the code support this. Thanks for stirring up Hod (whose number is 8 for those who are interested). They did not count on the Old Ones being there.

As for Da'ath- thanks for the tip but surely no-one would want to take youngsters into that place. It ain't called the Abyss for nothing (and hey, we have to make it sound scary 'cause that is the brief we all got before we got sent there!).

A random thought. Truth used to mean the same as Balance/Harmony and it was represented as a feather.

Edit:
Just starting on the McKenna material. Interestingly, I have just started I Ching again and my Tarot won't be far away.

To those getting strong sensations from reading this thread: to speak of Magic is Magic! 🙂

The Zen concept of Sartori seems relevant.

A Rabbit doesn't need eyes underground- that is what whiskers are for 🐰

Really great artwork Anonymouth

Rudolf Steiner is a great man. Read some texts from him some time ago.
It's awesome.

And by the way. I think that 2012-12-21 is the end of that upraising phase into a new dimension of conciousness.
The phase will start much more earlier. Even yet a lot of people are feeling it.

But the initial stating, where a lot of energy will be freed, is about October / November this year.

So do your best, love yourself. When you are in balance with yourself you can give sooooo much energy and love to your brothers and sisters.

Be peaceful, raise your mind and conciousness. Be one with the collective, be one with god.

The upcoming time will be great, I promise you

Much love to all of you!

The inner teachings of PM2012 are not a 'numbers game':
to 'hack Reality', the Hive Mind does not need quantity but QUALITY MagiciArtists: that is, totally commited and COURAGEOUS ones, sure.

In the words of Robert Anton Wilson:

"There is no governor anywhere; YOU ARE ALL ABSOLUTELY FREE. There is no

If there's only ONE last video you can watch in your lifetime, be it this one:

http://www.youtube.com/watch_popup?v=_5GUvaitm_c&hl=en - english
http://www.youtube.com/watch_popup?v=zun5aPy-OWo&hl=en - spanish subtitles

If you DARE to put its extremely simple wisdom into ACTIONS, then you can TOTALLY FORGET about PM2012 after you have watched it.

Alchemy, Kabbalah & Magick accelerated course:

Stop being a passive lurker in life. Start being an ACTIVE ARTIST.
Stop being a user. Start being a Programmer.

Use youre IMAGINATION and start to Bee CREATIVE:

STOP feeding negativity into your life: that which you feed, grows.
That's a magickal "law".

STOP poisoning your mind with bad news/TV/bad outlooks/etc:
we ALL know the world is pretty much fucked up, yeah, but tuning your brain into that sort of negativity is going to help NO ONE.

START feeding Consciousness, Beauty and Truth within yourself, towards the people closest to you and into the world.

The shortest and most powerful way to hack from "Illusion" into "Reality" is to DARE to see Beauty all around you and within yourself, all the time: LOVE things and persons for what they ARE JUST THE WAY THEY ARE, and not for what they "look like".

Once you have done this, you'll be FREE to decide which kind of things you would like to SEE CHANGING.

The shortest and most powerful way to get from "Malkuth" to "Kether" is to DARE to CREATE the "Tiferet" (=Beauty) energy all around you and within yourself, all the time.

The most advanced brain scientists in the world have experimentally and experientially known this for 10.000 years: meditating anons in the Eastern traditions, of course.

FEEL that Beauty in your body: feel it as a tiny warm and glowing point of green vibrations in the center of your chest, besides your heart. You don't need to follow any "New Age-for-hipsters" teachings, but if you would like to learn more, know that this center is called ANAHATA.

It is also associated with Love, Compassion and charity to others.

http://upload.wikimedia.org/wikipedia/commons/1/14/7_Chakras.JPG

And lastly, START to SHARE your experiences and your Artwork with The Others: this is the single MOST important skill of the MagiciArtist: to SHARE Creations with The Others.

The Four Powers of the XXIth Century CyberMagus are these:

* TO DARE to CREATE the SEEDS of something Beautiful: be that a wallpaper, a stencil, a game, a beautifully positive and enlightening video explaining to fellow anons what is Project Mayhem 2012 for you, what would you like to see it happening 12.21.2012 11:11 worldwide...
YOU are completely FREE to choose what to CREATE.
Use this social media tag: #pm2012art
* TO KNOW that you can ALREADY begin to Create: you have ALREADY all the tools and CREATIVITY that you need to do "MAGICK" within yourself: passion to CREATE and SHARE beautiful things to embellish the world.
You don't need to do "big" things: you just have to START NOW.
* TO WILL to become a Reality Hacker by ACTIVELY CREATING your personal transformation from a passive user to an active Programmer of 'Reality'.
* and, lastly, do NOT Keep SILENT anymore: TO SHARE the experiences that you have lived and the Beauty that you have Created. To keep silent has been required for "Initiates" for ages, but, as we are going through an EMERGENCY situation, this last veil over Magick has been lifted during our times.

Once you have found yourself, you will Find The Others.
Once you have found The Others, you will be finding yourself.

As simple as that, yes.

Don't try to "convince" others: very specially, DON'T WORRY ABOUT "results".

You just keep on injecting Beauty, with the obsesiveness, patience and commitment of a warrior, AT YOUR OWN PACE, with 0% effort ( and hence, 100% joyfulness) but don't PUSH it. The Golden Rule is this: if it FEELS good, KEEP ON DOING IT. Otherwise, TEST something different.

When you suddenly start observing funny "coincidences" or strong synchronicities happening around you all the time, or interesting people that suddenly appear in your life, or even soulmates that you begin to attract to yourself, LAUGH about them: after all, the Universe might just be a big JOKE, right? 🙂

LULZ kills fear: that's the Spirit!

IGNORE "opposition" or "defiance" to "prove" your newly found "powers" and just KEEP ON SHINING, KEEP ON CREATING and KEEP ON SHARING.

If you IGNORE the so called external and internal "demons" (doubts, fears and disbeliefs) you'll realize that they will soon VANISH into thin air.

Show COURAGE and COMMITMENT to your Inner Path and be 120% sure that if you DARE to DO THIS with all your Mind, Sex, Body and Heart,
 NATURE will REMOVE IMPOSSIBLE OBSTACLES. ***

Don't just trust us or belief us:  TEST  it for YOURSELF.

It's as simple as that, YES.

And always,

Remember: we will NEVER ever suggest you to do anything ILLEGAL and/or anything against your own Consciousness.
Remember: we will NEVER ever DO anything ILLEGAL and/or against our own Consciousness.

1. QUESTION EVERYTHING: don't just believe anything you read on this site, past, present or future.
2. TEST your assumptions.
3. LAUGH about results.
4. SHARE with The Ohers what you have learned/created/discovered.
V. Repeat.

FIAT LVX, anons!

The Key for the below SHA-512 hash is a poem we wrote, written in a language which is not necessarily English. Below is the hash value returned when the SHA-512 algorithm is performed on the poem.

As we are approaching the 12.21.2012 11:11 date, it IS expected that the http://projectmayhem2012.org site might suddenly "disappear", be DDoS'ed or taken down. Though we are going to keep on revealing 'occult' teachings,

The main Work has already been done and the 'dangerous ideas' have already been injected in the Hive Mind: your mind has just been incepted with them. Taking PM2012 down or incarcerating their memVers now would only serve to spread this "mind virus" even futher.

http://projectmayhem2012.org/h8rs.gif

We encourage you to mirror all of its contents (we are releasing them in the Public Domain) via BitTorrent or any p2p filesharing darknet.

The latest zip filename can always be found listed here:

http://projectmayhem2012.org/latestmirror.txt
http://projectmayhem2012.org/ProjectMayhem2012.org-mirror-01-08-11.zip

Occassionally, we will be signing special communications like this.

If the site is taken down and/or our GnuPG key is compromised and we wish to communicate any more information, we will include the poem which will prove that the new information came from PM2012.

Also, if anyone else tries to write and pretend to be PM2012, they will not have the GnuPG key or know the poem, so don't believe them.

If anyone presents a poem as the key, be sure to check that it returns the below value with the SHA-512 algorithm:

EDIT: I will clearly have to clean this up and make links clickable and such...tired, but I want to post the info tldr; Read it, you need to think, your mind is powerful.

Wow, where to start. Very glad to have finally found this place (indirectly looking for this). Just found it yesterday and got through all the pages, been so eager to add possible missing pieces. I have been in the rabbit hole and have been seeking the answers for a long time (22 years?). I am not one to just accept an unseen force without some sort of proof. I somewhat fall under your computer nerd category, but there is much more to me than that. I am not here to brag about myself or tell you to believe into my ways, but I believe that I can very likely further your journey into the rabbit hole. I know a number of the things I am going to cover haven't really been talked about here yet and I'm going to throw a lot in, from UFOs to drugs to angelic powers. Forgive the metaphors, but it is the best way for me to describe things, unfortunately this also sometimes causes confusion.

You have been reading chapters from a number of a books in a set. You have been getting a good understanding of the theme behind the set and you've mostly read the books later on in the series. We are talking about the meaning of life kind of stuff and there are more ancient tales that help point to the truth and what this all means, like I said, wow, where to start.

Sorry, but I'm going to talk about myself again to help try to explain a bit where I'm coming from. This may also mean something to some of you who understand more about all this. I was born, baptised, and confirmed catholic as a kid/teen. I was born with a higher IQ, better memory, and high understanding of compassion for living things (ok, so I somewhat tried hunting, but really just read a book in the woods). I was always the one throwing the curve off in math and science classes. I got a computer when I was 5(1986) and been at them ever since, dabbling in everything, programming, repairing them, networking them, setting up servers, etc. While I do have much of the how-to knowledge, I am not an anon hacker, but do have a great understanding of it and love looking for the news articles of what's happened ☺ I will not do anything illegal ☹ . I have been in the culture of many of the anons that have been around on the tubes a long time. Also, I have other things to accomplish.

I started questioning things about life about 7. To be honest (go ahead and laugh), I was convinced I was an alien and I told people this as well. Not commonly, mostly just family members, kind of shy about it. I was really different than everyone, while I was shy in general I still knew everyone and made friends with everyone. I've always been focused all my life to trying to improve peoples' lives and make enemies with no one, imposing on nobodies free will and coming to an understanding with those in conflict. Everyone in school always thought I was a 4.0 kind of person, but that was never really the issue.

I hated the education system and I didn't feel it was geared to teach me, I think I taught them more than they taught me (I certainly helped teach the other students when I could). I mostly learned things by myself, many of the things really seemed like I already knew it though. Sometimes it was literally almost like learning by osmosis (http://www.getfit4service.com/wp-content/uploads/2011/02/garfield_-_osmosis.jpg). I took calculus in 11th grade. I'd had the same math teacher for 3 years, by this year he just gave me the book and told me to go at it. To let him know when I need to take a chapter test. Study for the Calc BC AP test if I want along with it. While I only took the Calc AB test like everyone else, I did get a perfect 5 on it. One more thing I want to say about that, while the education system blows, understand that there are some most EXCELLENT teachers out there. They just have to follow the agenda of what you are supposed to learn; I often question if someone could just be given a book like I did in a public school system today.

Midway through high school I was already essentially atheist (forced religion didn't do me well) and was a heavy pot smoker, actually I was pretty blown out when I took that Calc AP test as well as when I ranked 6th in the nation for programming my senior year. Pot has always treated me differently of something, I'm no idiot, have a great memory still, and am definitely not lazy. I own my own business and do well. Part way through college I took more of an agnostic view, and then an ignostic view (How can we discuss God when you aren't sure what it is, http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ignosticism). Today, I don't even know what my view is considered, but I don't care that there isn't a name for it, I hate names, it only adds confusion, if only you could transmit a thought (someday 😎 ).

Now that I've told you all this, what does it matter? I wanted to give some insight on myself to have something else from a person to compare with. Always having that alien aspect I eventually came upon the term starseed (http://www.paoweb.com/starwhat.htm), this seemed to very clearly describe me. I also ended up coming across the term indigo child (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Indigo_children). I have a "dummies guide" about indigo children, here are the traits listed (90%+ means it's likely):

- You resist conformity, you don't want to be like any one else
- You resist authority. Sometime you can be rebellious.
- You respond to discipline better if you are involved in determining the consequences, or just if you have been allowed to talk about how you feel.
- You are extraordinarily emotionally sensitive.
- You are highly empathic. You seem to know what others are feeling without being told. OR You are cold and callous, you are emotionally shutdown.
- You are intuitive, you just seem to know things.
- You are wise beyond your years, you have lots to teach people.
- You are physically sensitive or fragile. You have a lot of food allergies or seem to respond extraodinarily to sensory input.
- You carry with you a sense that you deserve to be here.
- You develop a strong sense of self (my note: look up ahmyo - best I got is http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=34pWKiRePTY) at an early age, maybe you've had it all along.
- You struggle to be patient.
- You resist overly structured situations that require little creativity.
- You often think of better ways of doing things in your life than the normal way of doing things.
- You don't respond to guilt trips.
- You get bored easily with assigned tasks.
- You have a short attention span, you have difficultly staying on task sometimes. There is a lot going on in your head.
- You are wildly creative. Sometimes you wonder what you'll come up with next.
- You exhibited abstract thinking at an early age -- grasping concepts like hope and God.
- You often daydream
- You sense or know of a deep spiritual intelligence within yourself.

You shouldn't strive to make connections or feel bad if there are none. This is not a sign of superiority. According to some people, there have been a large number of indigos coming into the world the past 30 years, like 80-90%+ (some say 95%). The indigo's task in life is making profound changes to the way the world looks at each other and bring in a new Golden Age. We are these indigos. Some have been awakened to their duty, some have not, some are at least aware. Right now is the period of mass awakening to a unified conciousness. It's also not something that can just be given to you, you have to come to the understanding yourself. That is why much of this is enigma-ish, you have to think about it and probably be very mind fucked in the process. Your mind and the way you think is extremely important, do not underestimate the power of yourself. This is part of the problem mentioned in a past post, I cannot find it to quote it, but it was along the lines of saying not to play with magick because you can bring forth monsters. This is because your mind can do so if your thoughts are not clear enough and you have any fear, in a sense this fear can manifest. Another thing down this line is a thing called "higher self", which is pretty much your future self after you've spiritually evolved and are part of a unified consciousness or you could describe it as God. There are many ways to describe the same thing (i.e. there are many religions and how people view it). http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Higher_self or http://www.thevoiceforlove.com/higher-self.html.

Think of the previous stuff as somewhat of an intro to what's referred to as a person's spirit or consciousness (it's hard to prove one exist, this is something each person should look inside to find, you are you right?). Of course, you can sit there and ponder the fact that maybe it's all just chemical reactions and how you perceive things. I had that view for the longest time, but as far as the alien thing goes, that's been proof enough for me. I had always believed that I had been, in a sense, possessed by an alien and cooperatively share it with me. I knew it to be an energy being and have full recollection of entering "myself" as the energy being...kind of just floating in the air basically, I could not see myself. I do not have recollection of this happening while I was material self. This happened around the age of 7, since then I'd been an "alien" and hadn't really been able to explain it to anyone else. I believe this addition to myself has helped me along the way with various things, helping me to cope with my differences and understanding my abilities. Having various names for things and not being 100% on what is going on, someone could say that this was an angel, alien, my future self. I know it as at least part of my future self. I am allowed to know things, but only to a certain degree, I've been forced to find most things for myself, I'm "told" things, but know there is a huge restriction until the right time comes. Or it could just all be that I'm nuts, but considering I've followed my intuition on things all my life and it's let me to so much awesomeness, even in this crap world. It's magical, brought on by the power of mind, free will, and faith in oneself to do things.

Now, I want to get into some ancient history. Knowledge left for us ages ago. First of all, I've said it before, but many things exist that we all have different names for or different stories about. Some groups of people tell there story isolated from other groups and over time the story loses accuracy, a very long game of telephone (apparently called Chinese whispers...http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Chinese_whispers). "What's in a name? that which we call a rose By any other name would smell as sweet;" -Romeo and Juliet, William Shakespeare. Some of our oldest civilization's to look into are the Maya, Egyptians, Native Americans, Indian, Sumer(Turkey/Iraq). I'm think I'm just going to post a bunch of links to check out:

- Emerald Tablets of Thoth - http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Emerald_Tablet and http://www.sacred-texts.com/alc/emerald.htm, this ancient tablet was said to have been written by Thoth/Hermes. An interpretation, http://thehiddenlighthouse.blogspot.com/2008/03/emerald-tablets-of-thoth-decoded.html. I just recently found this myself, so cannot comment on it much, but know it's something to look into.

- The Law of One - http://www.lawofone.info/ - This is a very important one and goes into pretty good depth. You have to take up some stock on belief in channeling if you want to give this one any merit. If you are this far down the rabbit hole, this shouldn't be hard. Channeling would be along the lines of me talking to my "alien" inside(hmm...is it..."inside"?...I do not believe so, inside at a higher dimension I think), or in another set of words, talking to spirits. If you can comprehend it for what it is saying, it really fits in well with the rest of the code to the matrix. This is said to have been channeled from Ra and pretty much explains everything. According to this, The Creator(call it what you will) exists at the highest dimension(my note: the dimensions may continue on ad infinitum and "highest dimension" may be impossible to comprehend as we are). One day The Creator, intelligent infinity (pure energy, existing of everything and nothing, another thing that just can't be comprehended properly at this level), split apart into intelligent energy (still pure energy, but now split off from the creator). In a sense, this intelligent energy is the soul of our entire universe. Intelligent energy went off to split further into galaxies with their own individuality as well, all are creators. I guess you could say that God got bored with himself so free will, individuality, and co-creators were made. Long story short, galaxy and solar system level creators created material to allow things to be experienced and energy radiates in spirals (cycles relative to us) from the center of it all breathing life into things. Life goes through densities and once it reaches the third density it can get a soul (not 3rd dimension, think of it as a complexity of the lifeform). According to all this we are at the cusp of a shift to 4th denstiy, which could be defined as a social consciousness. It is very much about free will and everyone has a choice between service to self or service to others, I'm sure you can guess who's who. Service to others is the loving path, service to self is a more dark path, as a soul you as free to do as you will, the power is yours. At 4th density, new super powers are available to those who can use them. As a whole, on the side of love, everyone helps everyone else and feeds off those benefits. We are all Creators, we just don't know all know it yet.

- Seed of Life, Flower of Life, Metatron's Cube - http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Flower_of_Life , To start with, I'll tie in with the bees, they pollinate the flower of life, they make the flower of life(lives actually...we all kind of live in our own world in a sense) exist/continue, this is us, the unity, together pollinating. This symbol is found in many old cultures, including Egypt and India. It can be found all over. The creation of the seed of life (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/File:Seed-of-Life_Stages.jpg) describes how the creator created existence. There are many things you can find in the pattern, one main one is Phi or the golden ratio, which is tied to the Fibonacci series and the spiral. More info at http://www.floweroflife.org/toverview1.htm or a video at http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=_pt-5LLP6dM. Looking into this, you should look into sacred geometry in general, http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=o5DlXFzj0SE, this all ties into a theory of everything also.

- The Maya - The creation story of the Maya is called the Popol Vuh, http://www.criscenzo.com/jaguarsun/popolvuh.html. Life was created by "Heart-Of-The-Sky" based on monkeys. No doubt everyone knows how they say "it ends", but many people have it wrong. The end of the Mayan calendar does not signify the end of the world (as we know it, yes). Get it straight from a Mayan Shaman - http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=T1rOXHnI_lU. Also, the "end date" may or may not be on Dec. 21, 2012, http://fractaltime.blogspot.com/2009/05/28-october-2011-as-mayan-end-date.html (this one has a nice graphic at the top that shows "time speeding up" and what it means), also http://www.adishakti.org/mayan_end_times_prophecy_12-21-2012.htm. The end of the calendar signifies a time of great change, to the next world/age/cycle.

- The Hopi - http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Hopi_mythology, The Hopi tell of this being the forth world to be inhabited by Tawa's(Sun God) creations. In the first three, the inhabitants became unruly and destructive. To each progressive world, the good were kept by Tawa and the rest perished along with the old world. The third world was destroyed by a great flood. The Hopi have a prophecy for entering the 5th world, http://www.welcomehome.org/rainbow/prophecy/hopi1.html. There are 9 signs that have come to all finished passing recently as well as more of their history tied into it. A kachina is like an angel. They have a word, pahana, which is referred to as the Lost White brother, cutting to the chase, they are referring to aliens that look just like white humans, but not violent at all.

- The Egyptians - There is way too much to go into with Egypt. As it relates to 2012, http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1TpVxzeWOQA and http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=gW6fFvhVwzs&NR=1. Basically the passages in the pyramids, measured out show a timeline. The bottom path showing the path of service to self, the upper showing service to others. These videos have David Wilcox in them explaining it, he has been putting all the pieces together and has a new book out soon that covers tying all this kind of stuff together. Towards the end of the second part he speaks of the point where it comes to 2012, he talks about the next part being 4x 18yr periods - 72 years, I'll call this the "Next 72 Years" later on.

So what do all these ancient beliefs say? Together they essentially say that there is a higher dimension of which we are all an extension of (in a fractal, a fractal of life). They also say that there have been "aliens" or god's from the sky came and created them and taught them to do good and treat each other with respect, follow the path of service to others. Some can just say that these are from old civilizations and they don't know what they are talking about, but don't they all basically say the same thing?

Now, fast forward through the times and look at religion. They all basically stem off all the old beliefs and have just been games of telephone. For instance, Christianity and the Holy Bible, they have stories that parallel any of the ancient beliefs. Some of it has purposely been changed over time by those in power to influence the thinking of the masses. What version of bible do many people read? The King James version...the word of God, rewritten/translated to better suit themselves. An old form of "mainstream media" being controlled by those in power and this one has hung around because of what it stands for. Don't get me wrong, many of the stories in the Bible are a good way to live by, but isn't it a little odd that some stuff is contradictory or seems to be missing? The bible itself is just a selection of books chosen by the church, believe in this, and boy do they have so many people by the balls. Those in service to self use FEAR to manipulate the masses. Fear is the worst enemy, have no fear, this is what they want, have lulz instead ☺ 🤘 ☺ . Being aggressive is bad, you start to infringe on another's free will

So how does this tie into Kaos Magick? Well, if you've read anything into these ancient beliefs, you are a Creator, along with myself and many others. Kaos Magick is an arm of creation. All forms of magic are good, but can be used for bad, it's how you use them. The easy way to put it with Kaos Magick is that Sigils hold power because you give them power by believing it, the collective with that belief adds to that power. I assume this is why art is wanted to be created, you are a creator and your gears are being oiled. As stated earlier, the danger in using magick is because of an unclear mind. If you have fear in your mind or your intentions are ill you can very easily bring forth something you really don't want. Just remember the lulz trump fear and being a creator you are the one in control. Magick is powered by your powers, don't doubt yourself.

This being said, why aren't more people just out manifesting things or flying? It because of two things, lack of belief and the fact that it's just not time. That's not to say it cannot be used now, very few likely have the ability to do so, but according to prophecies it will be the upcoming shift that really kicks things into gear. In the Egypt section I mentioned the next 72 years. I think that perhaps when the "new world begins", those of us that can will shift into this state, will. There will be 4 periods of 18 years to where we work to get all those on board, at the end of each period more shift if they can. In this state you will be able to perform all sorts of magicks (limited to your imagination eventually, you can't just be given everything at once, you earn/learn it, but you will now be able to actually do things easier). Think of it as you are trying to start a fire, but you can only produce sparks. Some of the best would be like using a match, but it's kind of windy out too. At a higher state, you get out the torch and if you want the gas, heck not only that but you have a whole group of friends sitting around waiting to tell campfire stories. Creating sigils (or other magic) get you going, think of it like training. When the change comes, we all work together to rebuild. The gathering social consciousness is now, as prophecized, you coming? I don't think everyone will be superman right away like I said, but those ready and prepped get to work. Then things move infinitely fast.

Man, I could continue writing about this stuff for a while, but I've been at it hours already. I'll write more another time, I didn't cover everything I wanted to, heh, then again...how far down the rabbit hole you going?

I hadn't looked into the cipher/cypher thing at all and looked at the V.wav thing a little. Here are my current thoughts on the V.wav, maybe someone can check into it before me. Is there anything in V for Vendetta where someone is saying "Tick Tock Tick Tock Tick Tock"? I tried watching it today, but was pretty absorbed in writing this. If so, take a sound clip and subtract it from the provided one in something you can edit audio with. Then try listening, maybe there is something added to the original tick tock clip.

Well...thoughts? Questions(I don't have every answer sorry in advance 😆 )? I have a great idea for some artwork...just need time to make it.

As for myself and in the words of the enigmatic manuel from Fawlty Towers "I know Nothing"

That said, I would suggest being careful about attributing "belief" to anything for a long period of time as it may close off your mind to other belief systems and you end up brainwashing yourself.

Here's a couple of quotes from Robert Anton Wilson regarding belief systems (B.S)

> “I don't believe anything I write or say. I regard belief as a form of brain damage, the death of intelligence, the fracture of creativity, the atrophy of imagination. I have opinions but no Belief System (B.S.)”

> “Belief is the death of intelligence. As soon as one believes a doctrine of any sort, or assumes certitude, one stops thinking about that aspect of existence.”

I would particularly question the "star kid" belief system if you happen to have come about it through the "work" of the "hot-tub" psychologist Richard Boylan from UFOWatchDog.com

> Former California psychologist who had his state psychology license revoked over allegations of improper sexual interaction with female patients in his hot tub (hydro 'therapy'?). Claims to have been the confidant of the late 'government MJ-12 insider' Michael Wolf (another proven fraud). Boylan now conveniently claims to have been gifted with a brand new and, no surprise, anonymous 'inside source.' Also rode the American Indian 'Star People' mythos for several years and claims to know of secret government/UFO testing spots in Nevada desert. Has engaged in countless character assassinations against UFO researchers who disagree with him. Is now planning to hold a summer camp for "star kids" - children who are alleged to have been genetically-altered by aliens (aka: money-in-my-pocket). Parents everywhere should beware...

here's the transcript of the Californian Board of psycholgy revoking his licence http://www.ufowatchdog.com/boylan%20transcript.txt

Also from the Wiki on Indigo Children

> According to research psychologist Russell Barkley, the New Age movement has yet to produce empirical evidence of the existence of indigo children, as the 17 traits most commonly attributed to them were akin to the Forer effect (i.e., so vague they could describe nearly anyone). Many critics see the concept of indigo children as made up of extremely general traits, a sham diagnosis that is an alternative to a medical diagnosis, with a complete lack of science or studies to support it.[4][8] The lack of scientific foundation is acknowledged by some believers, including Doreen Virtue, author of The Care and Feeding of Indigos, and James Twyman, who produced two films on Indigo Children and who offers materials and courses related to the phenomenon. Virtue has been criticized for claiming to have a Ph.D., despite this being awarded by California Coast University, a then-unaccredited institution sometimes accused of being a diploma mill.[7]

Question everything...

That said welcome to the thread galatorg and thanks for sharing your story and your encounter with the indigo children belief system and I'll leave you with these words of encouragement I often look to for myself, also from the great Robert Anton Wilson

> “Of course I'm crazy, but that doesn't mean I'm wrong.”

> “If you think you know what the hell is going on, you're probably full of shit.”

"The main role of CREATIVE INTELLECT lies in practical invention.
'Invention' here is being used broadly to mean acts of intelligent discovery by which an animal comes up with new ways of doing things.
Thus it includes not only, say, the fabrication of new tools or the putting of existing objects to new use BUT ALSO THE DISCOVERY OF NEW BEHAVIOURAL STRATEGIES, NEW WAYS OF USING THE RESOURCES OF ONE'S OWN BODY."

Qu’est-ce que la ’Pataphysique

À un moment ou l’autre de sa vie, même s’il n’en a pas conscience ou s’il ne se les formule pas clairement, le vrai pataphysicien est confronté dans le plus intime de son être avec les deux propositions suivantes :

Proposition A
LE VRAI PATAPHYSICIEN NE PREND RIEN AU SÉRIEUX, SAUF LA ’PATAPHYSIQUE ... QUI CONSISTE À NE RIEN PRENDRE AU SÉRIEUX.

Proposition B
LA ’PATAPHYSIQUE CONSISTANT À NE RIEN PRENDRE AU SÉRIEUX, LE VRAI PATAPHYSICIEN NE PEUT RIEN PRENDRE AU SÉRIEUX, MÊME PAS LA ’PATAPHYSIQUE.

Le vrai pataphysicien ne doit pas se prendre soi-même au sérieux. Elle le met ainsi à l’abri d’une tentation à laquelle cèdent tant, hélas, de ses contemporains !

"Morrison used the term "Forensic Meditation" to refer his mixture of scientific and magical techniques to tell the story."

With the three volumes of the creator-owned The Invisibles, Morrison would start his largest and possibly most important work.
Tapping into pre-millennial tension, the work was influenced by the writings of Robert Anton Wilson, Aleister Crowley and William Burroughs and Morrison's practice of Chaos Magick.

At DisinfoCon in 1999, Morrison said that much of the content in The Invisibles was information given to him by aliens that abducted him in Kathmandu, who told him to spread this information to the world via a comic book.
He later clarified that the experience he labeled as the "Alien Abduction Experience in Kathmandu" had nothing to do with aliens or abduction, but that there was an experience that he had in Kathmandu that The Invisibles is an attempt to explain.

Morrison actually asked his readers to participate in a "wankathon" while concentrating on a magical symbol, or sigil, in an effort to boost sales.

His intent with The Invisibles was to create a magical hypersigil to jump-start the culture in a more positive direction."

Magical paradigm shifting

Perhaps the most striking feature of chaos magic is the concept of the magical paradigm shift. Borrowing a term from philosopher Thomas Samuel Kuhn, Carroll made the technique of arbitrarily changing one's world view (or paradigm) of magic, a major concept of chaos magic. An example of a magical paradigm shift is doing a Lovecraftian rite, followed by using a technique from an Edred Thorsson book in the following ritual. These two magical paradigms are very different, but while the individual is using one, he or she believes in it fully to the extent of ignoring all other (often contradictory) ones. The shifting of magical paradigms has since found its way into the magical work of practitioners of many other magical traditions, but chaos magic remains the field where it is most developed. Changing belief systems at will is also sometimes practiced by followers of Discordianism. Some chaos magicians like to operate in what is sometimes called a META-PARADIGM.

This is much akin to syncretism but with the consideration that flexibility of belief is a means of personal power and freedom. A more or less syncretic reality tunneling. Even more removed from this, being a post-meta-paradigmatic view, or an abstention from the notion of any view being absolute, compare Nietzsche's Perspectivism. [edit]Belief as a tool Chaos magic claims that belief can be an active magical force. It emphasizes flexibility of belief and the ability to consciously choose one's beliefs, hoping to apply belief as a tool rather than seeing it as a relatively unchanging part of one's personality. Various psychological techniques are employed in order to induce flexibility of belief.

Other chaos magicians suggest that PEOPLE DO NOT NEED "BELIEF" TO WORK MAGIC. Austin Osman Spare asserts in the Book of Pleasure and various other works that Will formulates Desire which promulgates Belief.

Emphasis on creative ritualism

Emphasis on creative ritualism and innovation of ritual take place in all magical and religious traditions at varying paces. In the case of chaos magic, the idea that belief systems and gnosis-inducing techniques are interchangeable has led to a particularly wide variety of magical practices evidenced in large and diverse directories of rituals.

Many authors explicitly encourage readers TO INVENT THEIR OWN MAGICAL STYLE. "

How to Be a Chaos Magician in Extremely Simple Easy steps:

POP MAGIC! by Grant Morrison.

POP MAGIC! is Magic! for the People. Pop Magic! is Naked Magic! Pop Magic! lifts the 7 veils and shows you the tits of the Infinite.

PART ONE

THINKING ABOUT IT

All you need to begin the practice of magic is concentration, IMAGINATION and the ability to LAUGH AT YOURSELF and learn from mistakes. Some people like to dress up as Egyptians or monks to get themselves in the mood; others wear animal masks or Barbarella costumes. The use of ritual paraphernalia functions as an aid to the IMAGINATION only.

Anything you can IMAGINE, anything you can symbolize, can be made to produce magical changes in your environment.

FIRST STEPS ON THE PATH

Magic is easy to do. Dozens of rulebooks and instruction manuals are available in the occult or "mind, body and spirit" sections of most modern bookstores. Many of the older manuals were written during times when a powerful and vindictive Church apparatus was attempting to suppress all roads to the truth but most of them are generally so heavily encoded and disguised behind arcane symbol systems that it's hardly worth the bother - except for an idea of how other people used THEIR imaginative powers to interpret non-ordinary contacts and communications.

Aleister Crowley - magic's Picasso - wrote this and I can't imagine say it any better than he did:

"In this book it is spoken of the sephiroth and the paths, of spirits and conjurations, of gods, spheres, and planes and many other things which may or may not exist. It is immaterial whether they exist or not. By doing certain things, certain results follow; students are most earnestly warned against attributing objective reality or philosophical validity to any of them."

This is the most important rule of all which is why it's here at the start. As you continue to learn and develop your own psychocosms and styles of magical practice, as you encounter stranger and stranger denizens of the Hellworlds and Hyperworlds, you'll come back to these words of wisdom again and again with a fresh understanding each time.

HOW TO BE A MAGICIAN

Simple. Declare yourself a magician, behave like a magician, practice magic every day.

Be honest about your progress, your successes and failures. Tripping on 500 mushrooms might loosen your astral sphincter a little but it will not generally confer upon you any of the benefits of the magic I'm discussing here. Magic is about what you bring BACK from the Shining Realms of the Uberconscious. The magician dives into the Immense Other in search of tips and hints and treasures s/he can bring home to enrich life in the solid world. And, if necessary, Fake it till you make it.

HOW TO BE A MAGICIAN 2

Read lots of books on the subject to get in the mood. Talking about magic with non-magicians is like talking to virgins about shagging. Reading about magic is like reading about sex: it will get you horny for the real thing but it won't give you nearly as much fun.

Reading will give you a feel for what's crap and what can be usefully adapted to your own style. Develop discrimination. Don't buy into cults, aliens, paranoia, or complacency. Learn whom to trust and whom to steer clear of.

HOW TO BE A MAGICIAN 3

Put down the books, stop making excuses, and START.

MAGICAL CONSCIOUSNESS

Magical consciousness is a particular way of seeing and interacting with the real world. I experience it was what I can only describe as a "head-click", a feeling of absolute certainty accompanying a perceptual shift which gives real world transactions the numinous, uncanny feeling of dreams. Magical consciousness is a way of experiencing and participating with the local environment in a heightened, significant manner, similar to the effects of some drug trips, Salvador Dali's "Paranoiac/critical" method, near death experiences, etc. Many apparently precognitive and telepathic latencies become more active during periods of magical consciousness. This is the state in which tea leaves are read, curses are cast, goals are scores, poems are written.

EXPERIMENT:

As a first exercise in magical consciousness spend five minutes looking at everything around you as if ALL OF IT was trying to tell you something very important. How did that light bulb come to be here exactly? Why does the murder victim in the newspaper have the same unusual surname as your father-in-law? Why did the phone ring, just at that moment and what were you thinking when it did?

What's that water stain on the wall of the building opposite? How does it make you feel?

Five minutes of focus during which everything is significant, everything is luminous and heavy with meaning, like the objects seen in dreams.

Go.

EXPERIMENT:

Next, relax, go for a walk and interpret everything you see on the way as a message from the Infinite to you. Watch for patterns in the flight of birds. Make oracular sentences from the letters on car number plates. Look at the way buildings move against the skyline. Pay attention to noises on the streets, graffiti sigils, voices cut into rapid, almost subliminal commands and pleas. Listen between the lines. Walk as far and for as long as you feel comfortable in this open state. The more aimless, the more you walk for pleasure of pure experience, the further into magical consciousness you will be immersed.

Magical consciousness resembles states of light meditation, "hypnagogic" pre-sleep trance of alpha wave brain activity.

APPLIED MAGIC

Is about making things happen and performing the necessary experiments. In these endeavors we do not need to know HOW magic works, only that it does. We prove this by doing the work, recording the results and sharing our information with other magicians. Theoretical magic is all the mad ideas you come up with to explain what's happening to you. Applied magic is what makes them happen.

THE MAGICAL RECORD

Always keep a journal of your experiments. It's easy to forget things you've done or to miss interesting little connections and correspondences. Make a note of everything, from the intent to the fulfillment. Make a note of dates, times, moods, successes and failures.

Study YOURSELF the way a hunter studies prey. Exploit your own weaknesses to create desired changes within yourself.

BANISHING

Banishing is a way of preparing a space for ritual use. There are many elaborate banishing rituals available, ranging across the full spectrum of pomposity. Think of banishing as the installation of virus protection software. The banishing is a kind of vaccination against infection from Beyond.

Most banishings are intended to surround the magician with an impenetrable shield of will. This usually takes the form of an acknowledgement of the elemental powers at the four cardinal points of the compass. Some like to visualize themselves surrounded and protected by columns of light or by four angels. Any protective image will do - spaceships, superheroes, warrior-monks, whatever. I don't bother with any of that and usually visualize a bubble radiating outwards from my body into space all around above and below me as far as I think I'll need it.

Why the need for protection?

Remember that you may be opening some part of yourself to an influx of information from "non-ordinary", apparently "Other" sources. If you practice ceremonial magic and attempt to summon godforms or spirits things will undoubtedly happen. Your foundations will be tested. There is always the danger of obsession and madness. As magical work progresses, you will be forces into confrontation with your deepest darkest fears and desires. It's easy to become scared, paranoid, and stupid. Stay fluid, cling to no one self-image and maintain your sense of humor at al times. Genuine LAUGHTER is the most effective banishing ritual available.

Banishing reminds you that no matter how many gods you talk to, no matter how many fluorescent realms you visit, you still have to come home, take a shit, be able to cook dinner, water the plants and, most importantly, talk to people without scaring them.

When you complete any magical work, ground yourself with a good LAUGH, a good meal, good shag, a run or anything else that connects you with the mundane world. Banishing after your ritual is over works as a decompression back into the normal world of bills and bus stops and job satisfaction. The magician's job is not to get lost in the Otherworld but to bring back its treasures for everyone to play with.

SIGILS

In the Pop Magic! style, the sigil (sij-ill) is the first and one of the most effective of all the weapons in the arsenal of any modern magician.

The sigil technique was reconceptualized and modernized by Austin Osman Spare in the early 20th century and popularized by Chaos Magicians and Thee Temple ov Psychic Youth in the 19 hundred and 80s.

A sigil is a magically charged symbol like this one:

The sigil takes a magical desire or intent - let's say "IT IS MY DESIRE TO BE A GREAT ACTOR" (you can, of course, put any desire you want in there) and folds it down, creating a highly-charged symbol. The desire is then forgotten. Only the symbol remains and can then be charged to full potency when the magician chooses.

Forgetting the desire in its verbal form can be difficult if you've started too ambitiously. There is no point charging a sigil to win the lottery if you don't buy a ticket. Start with stuff that's not too emotionally involving.

I usually sigilize to meet people I'm interested in, or for particular qualities I'll need in a given situation. I've also used sigils for healing, for locating lost objects and for mass global change. I've been using them for 20 years and they ALWAYS work.

For me the period between launching the sigil and its manifestation as a real world event is usually 3 days, 3 weeks, or 3 months depending on the variables involved.

I repeat: sigils ALWAYS work.

So. Begin your desire's transformation into pure throbbing symbol in the following fashion:

First remove the vowels and the repeating letters to leave a string of consonants - TSMYDRBGC.

Now start squashing the string down, throwing out or combining lines and playing with the letters until only an appropriately witchy-looking glyph is left. When you're satisfied it's done, you may wind up with something like this:

Most homemade sigils look a little spooky or alien - like UFO writing or witchy wall-scratchings. There are no rules as to how your sigil should look as long as it WORKS for you. RESULTS ONLY are important at this stage. If something doesn't work, try something else. The point is not to BELIEVE in magic, the point is to DO it and see how it works. This is not religion and blind faith plays no part.

Charging and launching your sigil is the fun part (it's often advisable to make up a bunch of sigils and charge them up later when you've forgotten what they originally represented).

Now, most of us find it difficult at first to maintain the precise Zen-like concentration necessary to work large-scale magic. This concentration can be learned with time and effort but in the meantime, sigils make it easy to sidestep years of training and achieve instant success. To charge our sigil you must concentrate on its shape, and hold that form in your mind as you evacuate all other thoughts.

Almost impossible, you might say, but the human body has various mechanisms for inducing brief "no-mind" states. Fasting, spinning, intense exhaustion, fear, sex, the flight or fight response; all will do the trick. I have charged sigils while bungee jumping, lying dying in a hospital bed, experiencing a total solar eclipse and dancing to Techno. All of these methods proved to be highly effective but for the eager beginner nothing beats the WANK TECHNIQUE.

Some non-magicians, I've noticed convulse with nervous laughter whenever I mention the world "masturbation" (and no wonder; next to wetting the bed or shitting in your own cat's box for a laugh, it's the one thing no-one likes to admit to).

Be that as it may, magical masturbation is actually more fun and equally, more serious, than the secular hand shandy, and all it requires is this: at the moment of orgasm, you must see the image of your chosen sigil blazing before the eyes in your mind and project it outwards into the ethereal mediaspheres and logoverses where desires swarm and condense into flesh. The sigil can be written on paper, on your hand or your chest, on the forehead of a lover or wherever you think it will be most effective.

At the white-hot instant of orgasm, consciousness blinks. Into this blink, this abyssal crack in perception, a sigil can be launched.

Masturbation is only ONE of countless methods you can use to bring your mental chatter to a standstill for the split-second it takes to charge and launch a sigil. I suggest masturbation because I'm kind-hearted, because it's convenient and because it's fun for most of us.

However...one does not change the universe simply by masturbating (tell THAT to the millions of sperm fighting for their life and the future of the species in a balled up Kleenex). If that were true, every vague fantasy we had in our heads at the moment of orgasm would come true within months. Intent is what makes the difference here.

Forget the wanking for just one moment if you can and remember that the sigil is the important part of the magic being performed here. The moment of orgasm will clear your mind, that's all. There are numerous other ways to clear your mind and you can use any of them. Dancing or spinning to exhaustion is very effective. Meditation is effective but it takes years to learn properly. Fear and shock are very good for charging sigils, so you could probably watch a scary movie and launch your sigil at the bit where the hero's head comes bouncing down the aluminum stepladder into his girlfriend's lap. A run around the block clutching a sigil might be enough to charge it, so why not experiment?

Try launching your sigil while performing a Bungee jump from a bridge, perhaps, or sit naked in your local graveyard at night. Or dance until you fall over. The important thing is to find your own best method for stopping that inner chat just long enough to launch a fiercely visualized, flaming ultraviolet sigil into the gap. States of exhaustion following any intense arousal or deprivation are ideal.

And if you experiment and still have trouble with sigils, try some of the other beginner exercises for a while. I've met a couple of people who've told me they can't make sigils work so maybe there are a few of you out there who genuinely have problems in this particular area. Tough luck but it doesn't mean there's no magic for you to play with. I couldn't wheeze "twinkle twinkle little star..." out of a clarinet but I can play the guitar well enough to have written hundreds of fabulous songs. If I'd stuck with the clarinet and got nowhere would that mean there is no such thing as music? Or world it indicate simply that I have an aptitude for playing the guitar which I can't seem to replicate using a clarinet? If I want to make MUSIC I use the instrument I'm most comfortable and accomplished with. The same is true for magical practice. Don't get uptight about it. This is not about defending a belief system, this is about producing results.

USE ONLY WHAT WORKS.

SIGILS: DISPOSAL

Some people keep their sigils, some dispose of them in an element appropriate to the magician's intent (I have burned, buried, flushed away and scattered sigils to the winds, depending on how I felt about them. Love-sigils went to water, flushed down the toilet or thrown into rivers or boiled in kettles. War-sigils were burned, etc... Some of my sigils are still around because I decided they were slow-burners and worth keeping. Some are even still in print. Do what feels right and produces results)

Soiled paper and tissues can easily be disposed of in your mum's purse or the pocket of dad's raincoat.

VIRAL SIGILS

The viral sigil also known as the BRAND or LOGO is not of recent development (see "Christianity," "the Nazis" and any flag of any nation) but has become an inescapable global phenomenon in recent years. It's easy to see the Nazi movement as the last gasp of Imperial Age thinking; the visionary savages still thought world domination meant tramping over the "enemy" and seizing his real estate. If only they'd had the foresight to see that global domination has nothing to do with turf and everything to do with media they would have anticipated corporate stealth-violence methods and combined them with their undoubted design sense; the rejected artists who engineered the Third Reich might have created the 10th century's first global superbrand and spared the lives of many potential consumers. The McDonald's Golden Arches, the Nike swoosh and the Virgin autograph are all corporate viral sigils.

Corporate sigils are super-breeders. They attack unbranded imaginative space. They invade Red Square, they infest the cranky streets of Tibet, they etch themselves into hairstyles. They breed across clothing, turning people into advertising hoardings. They are a very powerful development in the history of sigil magic, which dates back to the first bison drawn on the first cave wall.

The logo or brand, like any sigil, is a condensation, a compressed, symbolic summoning up of the world of desire which the corporation intends to represent. The logo is the only visible sign of the corporate intelligence seething behind it. Walt Disney died long ago but his sigil, that familiar, cartoonish signature, persists, carrying its own vast weight of meanings, associations, nostalgia and significance.
People are born and grow up to become Disney executives, mouthing jargon and the credo of a living corporate entity. Walt Disney the man is long dead and frozen (or so folk myth would have it) but Disney, the immense invisible corporate egregore persists.

Corporate entities are worth studying and can teach the observant magician much about what we really mean when we use the word "magic". They and other ghosts like them rule the world of the early 21st century.

EXPERIMENT:

Think hard about why the Coca-Cola spirit is stronger than the Dr. Pepper spirit (what great complex of ideas, longings and deficiencies has the Coke logo succeeded in condensing into two words, two colors, taking Orwell's 1984 concept of Newspeak to its logical conclusion?).
Watch the habits of the world's great corporate predators like FOX, MICROSOFT, or AOL TIME WARNER. Track their movements over time, observe their feeding habits and methods of predation, monitor their repeated behaviors and note how they react to change and novelty. Learn how to imitate them, steal their successful strategies and use them as your own. Form your own limited company or corporation; it's fairly easy to do with some paperwork and a small amount of money. Create your own brand, your own logo and see how quickly you can make it spread and interact with other corporate entities.

Build your own god and set it loose.

HYPERSIGILS

The "hypersigil" or "supersigil" develops the sigil concept beyond the static image and incorporates elements such as characterization, drama, and plot. The hypersigil is a sigil extended through the fourth dimension. My own comic book series The Invisibles was a six-year long sigil in the form of an occult adventure story which consumed and recreated my life during the period of its composition and execution.
The hypersigil is an immensely powerful and sometimes dangerous method for actually altering reality in accordance with intent. Results can be remarkable and shocking.

EXPERIMENT:

After becoming familiar with the traditional sigil method, see if you can create your own hypersigil. The hypersigil can take the form of a poem, a story, a song, a dance or any other extended artistic activity you wish to try. This is a newly developed technology so the parameters remain to be explored. It is important to become utterly absorbed in the hypersigil as it unfolds this requires a high degree of absorption and concentration (which can lead to obsession but so what? You can always banish at the end) like most works of art. The hypersigil is a dynamic miniature model of the magician's universe, a hologram, microcosm or "voodoo doll" which can be manipulated in real time to produce changes in the macrocosmic environment of "real" life.

PART 2

HOW TO CHAT UP GODS

So...to summon a god, one has only to concentrate on that god to the exclusion of all other thought. Let's just say you wish to summon the Big Idea COMMUNICATION in the form of the god Hermes, so that he will grant you a silver-tongue. Hermes is the Greek personification of quick wit, art, and spelling and the qualities he represents were embodied by Classical artists in the symbol of an eternally swift and naked youth, fledged with tiny wings and dressed only in streamers of air. Hermes is a condensation into pictorial form - a sigil, in fact - of an easily recognizable default state of human consciousness. When our words and minds are nimble, when we conjure LAUGHTER from others, when we make poetry, we are in the real presence of Hermes. We are, in fact, possessed by the god.

I am not suggesting that there is a real or even a ghostly, Platonic Mt Olympus where Hollywood deities sit around a magic pool watching the affairs of mortals and pausing only to leap down whenever one of "believes" in them hard enough. There may well be for all I know but it seems a complicated way to explain something quite simple. The truth is that there doesn't HAVE to be a Mt Olympus for you to encounter Hermes or something just like him using a different name. You don't even have to "believe" in Greek gods to summon any number of them. Hermes personifies a Big Idea and all you have to do is think him fervently and he'll appear so hard and so fast in your mind that you will know him instantly.

People tend to become possessed by gods arbitrarily because they do not recognize them as such; a man can be overwhelmed with anger (the Greek god Ares), we can all be "beside ourselves" with passion (Aphrodite) or grief (Hades). in life we encounter these Big Ideas every day but we no longer use the word "god" to describe them. The magician consciously evokes these states and renames them gods in order to separate them from his or her Self, in order to study them and learn.

You may wish to connect with Hermes if you're beginning a novel or giving a speech or simply want to entertain a new beau with your incredible repartee.

HOW MANY HERMES?

The form the Big Idea takes depends upon your tradition or desire. The beautiful electric youth of the Greeks is a well-known image in Western cultures, having been appropriated by everything from Golden Age FLASH comics to the logo of the INTERFLORA chain of florists. Other cultures personify speed, wit, and illusion slightly differently but the basic complex of ideas remains the same world-wide: velocity, words, writing, magic, trickery, cleverness, and all the qualities we would associate with Hermes, but in India this Big Idea is embodied not as a tin-hatted swift runner but as a plump youth with an elephant head and a broken tusk with which he writes the ongoing story of the universe. This is Ganesh, the scribe of the Hindu pantheon.

In Egypt, the same Big Idea is called Thoth, who created the symbols on the Tarot deck. In the Icelandic tradition, Odin or Wotan is the Lord of Lightning and communications. Like VDUs we stare at every day, Wotan is one-eyed and on his shoulders sit the ravens Thought and Memory who bring him instantaneous data from around the world. He can be very handy in this form, if you need to discipline an unruly PC.

Hermes, Mercury, Odin, Ganesh, Thoth, all these names represent variant embodiments on themes of Communication and speed.

Reductionists may come to an understanding of magic by considering "Mount Olympus" as a metaphor for the collective Human head.

EXPERIMENT:

Pick a traditional god or demon from a book on magic or mythology and learn all you can about your chosen subject. I suggest you start with a benign deity unless you're stupid or hard and want to get into some nasty dirty psychic business, in which case pick a demon from one of the medieval grimoires and hope you're strong enough to handle the intense negative feelings "demons" embody.

However, I'd suggest starting first with Hermes, the god of Magic, in his guise as Ganesh. Ganesh is known as a smasher of obstacles and part of his complex is that he opens the way into the magical world, so it's always good to get his acquaintance first if you're serious about following a magical path.

Call fervently upon Hermes. Luxuriate in his attributes. Drink coffee or Red Bull in his name or take a line of speed, depending on your levels of drug abuse. Fill your head with speedy images of jet planes, jet cars, and bullet trains. Play "Ray of Light" by Madonna and call down Hermes. Surround yourself with FLASH comics and call down Hermes.

Tell him how every wonderful he is in your own words, and then call him into yourself, building a bridge between your own ever-growing feelings of brilliance and the descending energies of the Big Idea.

The arrival of the god will be unmistakable: you should experience a sense of presence or even mild possession (remember what this MEANS; we are "possessed" by Venus when LOVE destroys our reason. We are all possessed by Mars when ANGER blinds us. Learn to recognize the specific feelings which the word "possession" describes. This will allow you to study your chosen Big Idea and its effects on the human nervous system at close quarters without becoming too frightened or emotionally overwhelmed.)

You may here a distinct voice inside your head which seems to have a strange-yet-familiar quality of "Otherness" or separateness. Ask questions and make note of the replies in your head. Remember anything specific you hear and write it down no matter how strange it seems. Maintain the sense of contact, question and response for as long as you're able and see what you can learn.

Remember, Hermes is a trickster also and has a love of language and games, so be prepared for clever wordplay and riddles when you contact this Big Idea. Sometimes the rapid torrent of puns and jokes can seem like a nightmare of fractal iterations but if you're going to play with Hermes, be ready to think fast and impress with your wit.

If, on the other hand, there's only a faint hint of unearthly presence or none at all, don't worry. Try again with Ganesh, Odin or a god you feel more in tune with. Keep doing the experiment until you succeed in generating the required state of mind. It's not difficult; if you can make yourself Angry or Sad or Happy just by thinking about something (and most of us can), then you are already capable of summoning gods and Big Ideas.

DEMONS ARE...

No more, no less than the way you feel inside after you've been dumped by a beloved or exposed by one's peers as a freak or any of the other negative value defaults we have access to as human beings. Hell is ONLY the Cringe Eternal and the Place of Our Self's Undoing. When Nietzche proclaimed "God is dead!" he forgot to add that Satan is also dead and we are Free from all that antique tat.

EXPERIMENT:

Use the techniques you've learned to summon classical gods and demons and apply them to beings you KNOW for sure can't be real, like Jack Kirby's comic book gods, HP Lovecraft's Cthulhu Mythos monsters, Pokemon characters, or Clive Barker's Cenobites. You will discover that you can evoke any of these outlandish characters to physical appearance. In place of Hermes, the messenger god, it's possible to summon the same complex in quite another different cultural drag - I advise at least one invocation of the speedy mercurial force of Hermes in the form of Metron, the computer-like intellectual explorer from Jack Kirby's New Gods comic books. I've had a great deal of success contacting the Kirby Gods, including a memorable encounter with the Big Idea of Righteous Anger in its aspect as "Orion" on the endless, cosmic battlefields of the Fourth World. Summon warrior strength and martial energy in the form of Orion by surrounding yourself with images from Kirby comics, by playing "Mars" from the Planets Suite" or the Beatles "Revolution #9" or simply the sounds of gunfire and bombs from a special effects record.

Summon James Bond before a date by playing the themes to Goldfinger and Thunderball while dressing in a tuxedo.

Or try summoning Dionysus, god of creative delirium, in his Trickster aspect, as Ace Ventura, Pet Detective from the Jim Carrey films - surround yourself with your own pets or toy animals, play the movies, imitate the actor's distinctive moves and use them to formulate a physical sigil which you can enact within in your designated ritual space. Do this until you BECOME Dionysus as Ace Ventura. Record what happens to your sense of self and think of ways to use these new "godlike" qualities you have summoned into yourself (or brought forth from your "subconscious" depending on which model you choose to explain your experiences).

Think of these new qualities or gods as applications and upload them when you need to use them. The more you run the application the more convincing and intrinsic to Self it seems to become. This is why actors sometime find it difficult to "come down" from roles and why magicians often feel possessed by gods or demons. Applications are being run.

You will soon realize that gods are "qualities" or default states of consciousness available to everyone.

With much practice you will become proficient at accessing these states yourself. Do not, however, assume that these states are ONLY internal psychological processes. The Big Ideas have been here long before you and will be here long after you are gone. They can be regarded as immensely powerful autonomous qualities and should be respected as such. Summoning too much ANGER into your life can make you a bore and a bully, summoning too much COMMUNICATION at the expense of other qualities can make you a conversation-hogging pedant and so on.

There is always danger when one "god" is worshipped in favor of all others. If you summon Ace Ventura you may find yourself becoming not funny and creative but annoying. If you summon Clive Barker's fictional Cenobites just to see whether or not I'm punting absolute nonsense, be prepared to deal with powerful issues of domination, torture, submission and pain for these value states define the operational parameters of Cenobites.

HEALING

My preferred method for healing is the Spiritualist "laying on of hands" technique which involves a simple homemade prayer to the congregation of dead "healers" or "veterinarians" who inhabit the "other side" and are said to be willing to help us in times of need. This prayer is accompanied by intense concentration and visualization of the healing process. I've always found it works very well and can be most effective in conjunction with sigils.

EXPERIMENT:

Visit your local Spiritualist Church, if you have one, and ask to see a demonstration of this powerful healing method.

DUDE, WHERE'S MY EGO?

The "ego" - in the negative sense - is that ossified sense of a stable, unchanging "self" which people use as a defense against the Fear of Change and Death. It's SELF as a suit of armor; protective and comforting at times SELF doesn't allow much room to maneuver, make effective contact or adapt to new situations. Otherwise, the Ego, with a big "E" can be a useful tool like everything else lying around here. Ego creates the heroic drive towards the Transcendence which COMSUMES AND RESOLVES that drive into a higher context.

It must be remembered that you can't go beyond your ego until you've developed one to go beyond. The ego, as Individual Self, is scaffolding for what we can call superself or the memeplex (to use Susan Blackmore's term for what we call "personality" - see the Meme Machine for more on Dr. Blackm9ore's revolutionary theory). Scaffolding is a necessary part of any construction project but for the last couple of hundred years we've been encouraged to mistake the scaffolding for the building. The individual sovereign self once seemed such a developmental prize that it's now very difficult to let go of it without incurring amusing existential extinction traumas, but like all other stages of growth it IS just a stage and must be surpassed.

Demoting the concept of the "individual" by deliberately engineering multiple, conferring "egos", personae, memeplexes or selves is intended, at least by me, as a method of breaking up the existential, calcified, individual "Self" into more fluid Multiple Personality constellations, by exposing "the personality" as just one behavioral option from a menu of many.

THE ABYSS

Aleister Crowley embodied the destruction of Egoic Self structures as Choronzon, the Devil 333. Choronzon, we are told, is the all-devouring guardian of "the Abyss" (the Abyss being a suitably dramatic and evocative term for an experiential "gap" in human consciousness.) The term can be applied to that state of mind during which Individual Egoic Self-consciousness begins to cannibalize itself rather than confront the usually frightening fact that Personality is not "Real" in the existential sense and is simply a behavioral strategy.

Most of us have had some small experience of the gigantic boundary complex Mega-ChoronzonnoznorohC-ageM; the Choronzonic Encounter is present in the relentless, dull self-interrogation of amphetamine comedowns or fevers, near-death experiences. Think of the chattering mind, annihilating itself in unstoppable self-examination and you will hear the voice of Choronzon.

Choronzon then, is Exisential Self at the last gap, munching out its own brains, seeking nourishment and finding only the riddle of the Bottom That is Bottomless. Choronzon is when there is nothing left but to die to nothingness. Beyond Choronzon, concepts of personality and identity cannot survive. Beyond Choronzon we are no longer our Self. The "personality" on the brink of the Abyss will do anything, say anything and find any excuse to avoid taking his disintegrating step into "non-being".

Most of us in the increasingly popular Western Consumerist traditions tend to wait until we die before even considering Choronzon. Since we can only assume that Egoic Selfsense is devoured whole in whatever blaze of guilt and fury or self-denial or peace perfect peace our last flood of endorphins allow in the 5 minutes before brain death, the moment of death seems to me to be a particularly vulnerable one in which to also have to face Existential terror for the first time.

Better to go there early and scout out the scenery. To die before dying is one of the great Ordeals of the magical path.

The Abyss, then, is that limit to Self consciousness where meaning surrenders and reverses into its own absolute opposite and is there consumed in "Choronzonic Acid," a hypersolvent so powerful it dissolved the Selfitself. Here you will encounter the immense SELF/NOT SELF boundary wall on the edge of Egoic Consciousness and be obliterated against it. The Abyss is a hiatus in awareness, where notions of identity, race, being and territory are consumed in an agonizing fury of contradiction.

Magicians who have successfully "crossed" the Abyss are considered no longer human, in the sense that survival of this ordeal necessitates the breaking down of SELF into multiple personality complexes.

EXPERIMENT:

The so-called "Oath of the Abyss", is a corrosive encounter with Choronzonic forces inside the personality. It is not something to be undertaken lightly and I'd suggest many years of magical practice before attempting anything as stupid and as glamorous as destroying your carefully-established SELF. The rewards of a successful crossing of the Abyss are many but a failed attempt can leave the magician broken inside, consumed by doubt, fear, and insecurity and quite useless to his or her community...

REVOLT INTO MAGIC!

Becoming a magician is in itself a revolutionary act with far-reaching consequences. Before you set out to destroy "the System", however, first remember that we made it and in our own interests. We sustain it constantly, either in agreement, with our support, or in opposition with our dissent. The opponents of the System are as much a function of the System as its defenders. The System is a ghost assembled in the minds of human beings operating within "the System." It is a virtual parent we made to look after us. We made it very big and difficult to see in its entirety and we serve it and nourish it every day. Are there ever any years when no doctors or policemen are born? Why do artists rarely want to become policemen?

For every McDonald's you blow up, "they" will build two. Instead of slapping a wad of Semtex between the Happy Meals and the plastic tray, work your way up through the ranks, take over the board of Directors and turn the company into an international LAUGHING stock. You will learn a great deal about magic on the way. Then move on to take our Disney, Nintendo, anyone you fancy. What if "The System" isn't our enemy after all? What if instead it's OUR PLAYGROUND? The natural environments into which we pop magicians are born? Our jungle, ocean and ice floe...to bargain with and dance around and transform, as best we can, into POETRY?

What if, indeed?

The number 11 means, in the Tree of Life, the Sphere of Daath. In the Hebraic Language Daath means "knowledge" or "Abyss", being the Sephira located in the limit between the Superior Triad (Kether, Chokmah and Binah) and the Sephiroth located at the more manifested world. Daath is where takes place phenomenon usually known as the "Black Night of the Soul", when the adept stands at the mental state represented by the daemon Choronzon. Transpass this state of the mind is essential to reach the consecration of the Great Work. To reach Daath is necessary, first, to take contact with the Holy Guardian Angel, who conducts the adept and helps him to reach the Abyss safely.

This number also have the symbolism of the union of the Microcosmos and the Macrocosmos, as the sum of the 5 and the 6, being the 5 related to the Pentagram and the 6 related to the Hexagram.

So, 11 joins the meanings of both the correlations and means the All.

Associations with the Number 11

the All = PAN

Panic Movement (Mouvement panique) was a collective formed by Fernando Arrabal, Alejandro Jodorowsky and Roland Topor in Paris, France in 1962. Inspired by and named after the god Pan, and influenced by Luis Buñuel and Antonin Artaud's Theatre of Cruelty, the group concentrated on chaotic performance art and surreal imagery.

The Panic Movement performed theatrical events designed to be shocking, as a response to surrealism becoming petite bourgeoisie and to release destructive energies in search of peace and beauty. One four-hour performance known as Sacramental Melodrama was staged in May 1965 at the Paris Festival of Free Expression. The "happening" starred Jodorowsky dressed in motorcyclist leather and featured him slitting the throats of two geese, taping two snakes to his chest and having himself stripped and whipped. Other scenes included a staged murder of a rabbi, a crucified chicken, a giant vagina giving birth to Jodorowsky, naked women covered in honey and the throwing of live turtles into the audience.

Fernando Arrabal and Jodorowsky later started to work also on film. Arrabal is well-known for his 1971 film Viva la muerte and 1973 film I Will Walk Like a Crazy Horse. Jodorowsky achieved even greater popularity and a cult status with Fando y Lis, El Topo and The Holy Mountain.

Jodorowsky dissolved the Panic Movement in 1973, after the release of Arrabal's book Le panique.

I'll go back and edit my post to be fixed and then make another post clearing things up (I don't edit previous actual content), but I've been busy on some artwork. About to submit it, but going to post it here first. Didn't turn out exactly as initially planned, but I'm proud none-the-less. Without further ado, I cast my spell upon thee:

Thanx to Anonymouth for help with the resize

PS - I hate words...I can never use the right ones, the big issues is there are many words for the same things. Chaos Magic is more than I thought previously and I would say that the video they post is vital like they say and it really explains things well:

I edited it to 640 pixels width, which should be fine. You could just leave the big version as a simple link and edit your message to include this 640 px pic, enclosing it inside the img tags:

I totally agree! It's a Must-watch video indeed!

Then you gotta read his comic The Invisibles -it 'prophecies' the end of the world (as we know it) by December 22st 2012 thanks to a group of hackers/rebels...rings any bell as to whom those might be? - The Wachowski brothers based much of Matrix on The Invisibles. Even the character Morpheus is said to be based in Grant Morrison's look! ... Dare to read it and feeeeel the powa'

I was even contacted before the first Matrix movie was released and asked if I would contribute a story to the website.

That's how it is. I'm not angry about it anymore, although at one time I was because they made millions from what was basically a Xerox of my work and to be honest, I would be happy with just one million so I didn't have to work thirteen hours of every *ing day, including weekends.

Sure! Not only we are having difficulty following this magickally chaotic mess: that's only HALF of the fun we are having here! The other half is that, in the process, we are learning not to take our Belief Systems (aka B.S.) too seriously, for fear of becoming like this:

Nothing wrong with that Overall, I think the lesson here may be to understand is that the government is controlling you with their spells (primarily through mainstream media), we must unite and overpower them with our own spells. Also (and you can just chuckle at this part if you want), but the things we mostly call aliens by other names are also angels, extraterrestrial beings, pahana, demigods, and others, have been here a while and many of them look just like us.

An entertaining series I found that explain things a bit is:

There are those who claim that facts can dispel conspiracy theories. What planet are these people living on? As Nietzsche said, 'There are no facts, only interpretations.' He might have come up with an even more extreme formulation: 'There are no facts, only misinterpretations.'

I am a 44 yr old man living in the Southern Oregon, coastal town of North Bend.........I got stopped by a state trooper for my "window tint", not a moving violation, nor a traffic violation of any kind......he didn't check the tint with a card at any time, he then asked me for my drivers license.......to make a long story short, they violated my rights several times, 2 other officers showed up at which time ALL 3 began acting VERY strange and "goonish"....they blocked my way several times with their bodies, impounded my vehicle AND worst of all, they used me as a reason to spy on the dispensary where I get my Medication via dash cam.........
I thought these guys were educated on the bill of rights and constitution......but I guess I'm wrong......all 3 were in their early 20s.
since when were Police hired to act as enforcement goons??????
they were OBVIOUSLY watching this before mentioned dispensary.........the Oregon State Police office in CoosBay Oregon is not being transparent like it should.....they violate the rights of the citizens they are suppose to "protect and serve".......they violate the trust, confidence AND laws that they hold.........CORRUPTION.....CORRUPTION.....CORRUPTION.....

Cool, don't think I'd seen it mentioned yet. I think these ones are more than just the ones here though, the ones being here are being added to the general collection for Op Paperstorm.

So, a few things I wanted to bring up that I've found or didn't get to mention in my last post. It would let me edit it last night to fix the links, but I think this board was locked temporarily, it said it was on vacation 😃

First of all, the 8th term in the fibonacci series is missing, it should be 21 or 10101 or hivemind10101.html, but that one is just skipped, not sure if it was intentional or what, maybe a sign to a date 8/21 (hehe, numbers can be fun).

Another thing that I didn't see mentioned. Anonymouth posted the latest hivemind source(1010011010 = 666), the number of lines in that source is 1783, the year the american revolution ended.

Next, when is a cipher not a cypher? I was looking into other things last night and think I came across this one. I was trying to find out about a city below the pyramids and more info about it. Although, looking at the source code, I wonder if this has to do with TAR, I didn't look into that yet. Anyways, I came across - Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn. Looking through the source there are many mentions of this group and members of it. The foundation documents for them, The Cipher Manuscripts, was essentially written in a cipher that is not a cypher. It was written with a Trimethus Cipher, this kind of cipher is not considered to be cryptography to some because it doesn't have a KEY. So I would say in this case, a cipher is not a cypher when there is no key.

I came across another interesting site that was posted on this site somewhere, http://armageddonconspiracy.co.uk/ . It speaks of a lot of this stuff we are discussing in this thread. All in all, you cannot deny that there is more of a unity being formed.

Started reading 'The Invisibles', I had actually gotten it a couple nights ago, but just put it on my phone to read it when I can. 🙂 Pretty interesting so far.

Ok, in that site, I found this:

Your find on the Hermetic Order of the Golden dawn cryptographic papers + The Illuminati site, brings me again to quote this previous message of mine, which I think it might be worth to re-post:

from:

How Robert Anton Wilson REALLY feels about the Illuminati

RM: You have studied the Illuminati for years. Have you come to any conclusions about their aims?

RAW: Usually when people ask me that question, I give them some kind of a put-on, but I can't think of a good and original put-on that I haven't done several times before. So I'll tell you the truth, for once. After investigating the Illuminati and their critics for the last 30 years, I think the Illuminati was a short lived society of free thinkers and democratic reformers that formed a secret society within Freemasonry, using Freemasonry as a cover so they could plot to overthrow all the kings in Europe and the Pope. I'm very happy that they succeeded in overthrowing all the kings, I just wish that they had completed the job and gotten rid of the Royal family in England too, but they did pretty well on the continent. I'm sorry they haven't finished off the Pope yet, either, but I think they're still working on the project and I wish them luck.

RM: Why do you think the central secrets of Freemasonry have, after hundreds of years, still remained secret to the public at large?

RAW: Because the public at large doesn't spend as much time browsing around second hand bookstores as I do. You could find all the secrets of Freemasonry in print. Well not always in print, but you could find them in second hand bookstores. The Encyclopedia Britannica will tell you most of it. They'll tell you who the Widow's Son was and what the Mason word is. The secrets are pretty well known actually.

RM: Was Beethoven a member of the Illuminati?

RAW: I can't say for sure. He was certainly very closely associated with them. His first music teacher, Neefe, was a member of the Illuminati. Then when Beethoven arrived in Vienna, that teacher gave him letters of introduction to all the noblemen who were members of Freemasonry, most of them also members of the Illuminati. The Illuminati commissioned Beethoven's first major work, the Cantata on the death of Emperor Joseph II which praised Franz Josef as a "bringer of light," an Illuminati symbol there. "A bringer of light, a foe of darkness." And I read over the life of Franz Josef trying to figure out what he did to deserve that.

The huge thing he did was to legalize Freemasonry in Austria and the second thing he did was he closed all the Catholic schools and replaced them with public schools. So yeah, I think he was a bringer of light and a foe of darkness and I can see why the Illuminati liked him. And I can see why Beethoven liked him too.

RM: When you wrote Illuminatus! with Robert Shea in the 60's, did you think you were writing a prophetic novel? So much stuff in it that seemed so far out when I was a kid, now seems to predict exactly what would happen 25 years down the road!

RAW: No, I thought we were writing a classic, but I didn't know it was going to be prophetic too. When I made Beethoven a member of the Illuminati —that was my idea, not Shea's— that was a parody of the Christian right claiming the Beatles were agents of Communism. Imagine my shock when I read a biography of Beethoven and found all the evidence that he may have been a member of the Illuminati. I started to wonder, do I have unconscious ESP or am I just a lucky guesser?

And a very much related post that I just discovered:

"Some time ago Iâ€™ve read an excellent article on a german online IT magazine (heise.de) about how the movement â€œAnonymousâ€� works. Immediately I was struck by how completely different this self organized, free will based movement functions compared to its main antagonist, the world-wide Illuminati/New World Order conspiracy, that is based on a regressive pyramid of power. Iâ€™d like to present my findings and hope I can help to raise the awareness for the importance of such grass-roots movements as the â€œAnonymousâ€� are.

The Freemasonic Brotherhood/Intelligence Agencies Compartmentalised Power Structure

The Freemasonic secret-society network is intrinsically interwoven into all levels of society's structure — banking, business, police, military, politics, legal system, education, mass media, religion, medical and pharmaceutical industry, illegal drug running and distribution, organised crime and last but not least, the major "think tanks" and manipulators of the masses — the intelligence agencies

The "Illuminated Elite" - Arch-Masons Directly involved in Black Magic Power Rituals and Paedophilia.
Freemasonic Brotherhood Members
Non-Freemasons
Federal Emergency Management Agency
Alcohol, Tobbaco and Firearms Bureau
C.I.A./F.B.I./D.O.D./D.E.A.
U.S. National Security Agency
Interpol
Metropolitan Police
MI5/MI6
UK M.O.D/GCHQ
Scotland Yard
World-wide Intelligence Agencies

The "Core of Demonocracy" - Directly involved in the use of Neuro-Electromagnetic Frequency Weapons against innocent members of Society and the structuring and control of Paedophile rings.

"The basic structural attributes of the Illuminati are:

* Hierarchical chain of command
* Completely compartimented structure in vertical and horizontal way: Strictly regulated information flow from top to bottom (including deceptive information on various levels)
* Infiltration of all powerful organizations (banks, governments, UN, corporations, media, military, churches)
* The people on the lower levels of the pyramid are known to the upper levels, but not vice-versa
* Ruthlessly forced power by blackmailing, creating dependency by money/existential fears, fear in general
* Massive, secret and harmful agenda on top level (keywords: one world government and religion, social engineering/manipulation of society/mind control/media, world population reduction, UFO/Alien cover up, secret weapons/HAARP, suppression of alternative energy sources and technologies in general, occultism/Satanism)

Itâ€™s probably not too wrong when we conclude that the Illuminati are the complete opposite of the Anonymous! This is a rather interesting finding when we extend it to the spiritual question:

Illuminati spiritual characteristics which are driven by:

greed
egoism elite thinking hate for people
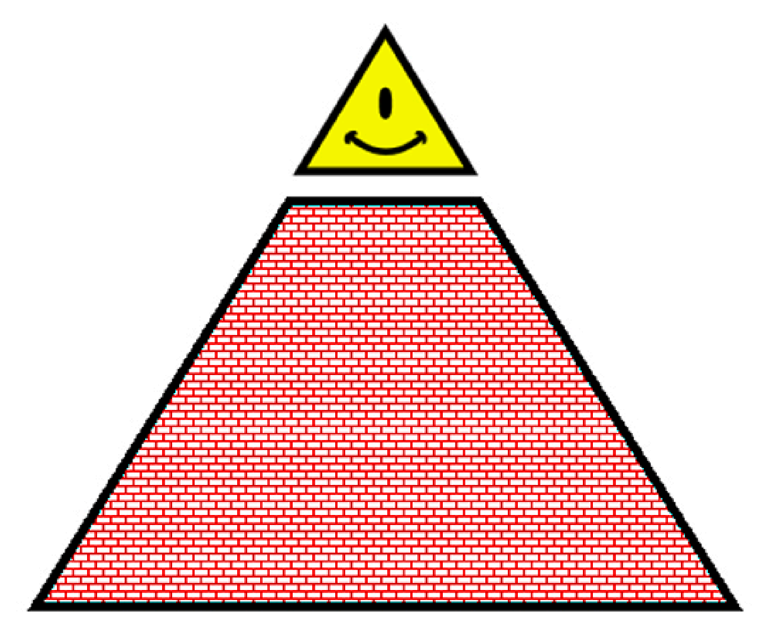
hate for God/the good
see the Illuminati Conspiracy Archive for their occult foundation

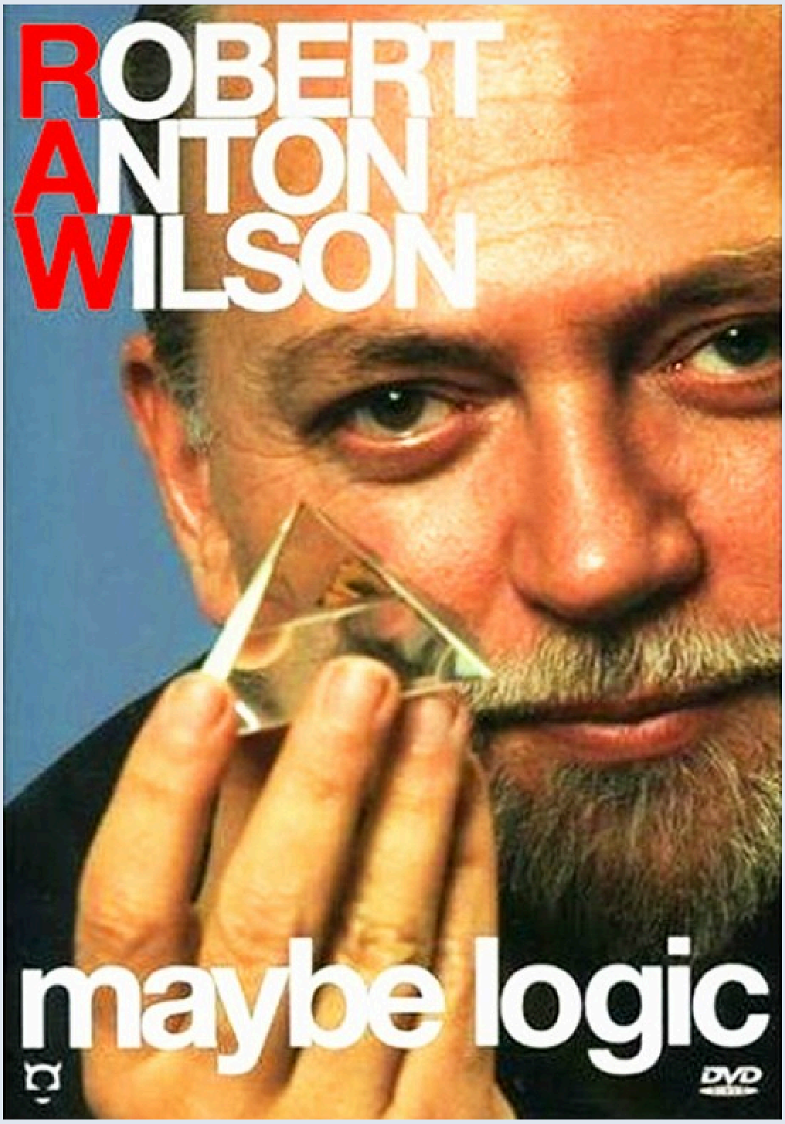
In that context Iâ€™m about to say that Anonymous is one movement that helps the positive spiritual orientation on this planet to succeed. The ideas of human rights, fairness, equality, thus positivity in general, are definitely on the good side, if you call that side God does not matter that much, does it?"

Anonymous vs. Illuminati â€“ A Structural Comparison

http://chaukeedaar.wordpress.com/2011/03/15/anonymous-vs-illuminati-a-structural-comparison/



Isn't it funny that Robert Anton Wilson loved to play ambiguously with the 'dangerous idea' that HIM and the Discordians were actually THE """REAL""" Illuminati, the bringers of Light, patiently waiting for his time to come, behind the fake ones pretending to be 'the Illuminati'??



This is such a gem of a documentary, and it's available online!

I mean, I'm beginning to really really wonder about this extremely powerful 'dangerous idea' : the time of the ""Real"" Illuminati has finally come?

Is this what RAW was trying to tell us, that WE might be The Ones we have always been waiting for?

Are WE the ""REAL"" ILLUMINATI then, as the html comments say, the bringers of "LVX"=Light over all lies in the corrupt world?

ALEISTER CROWLEY

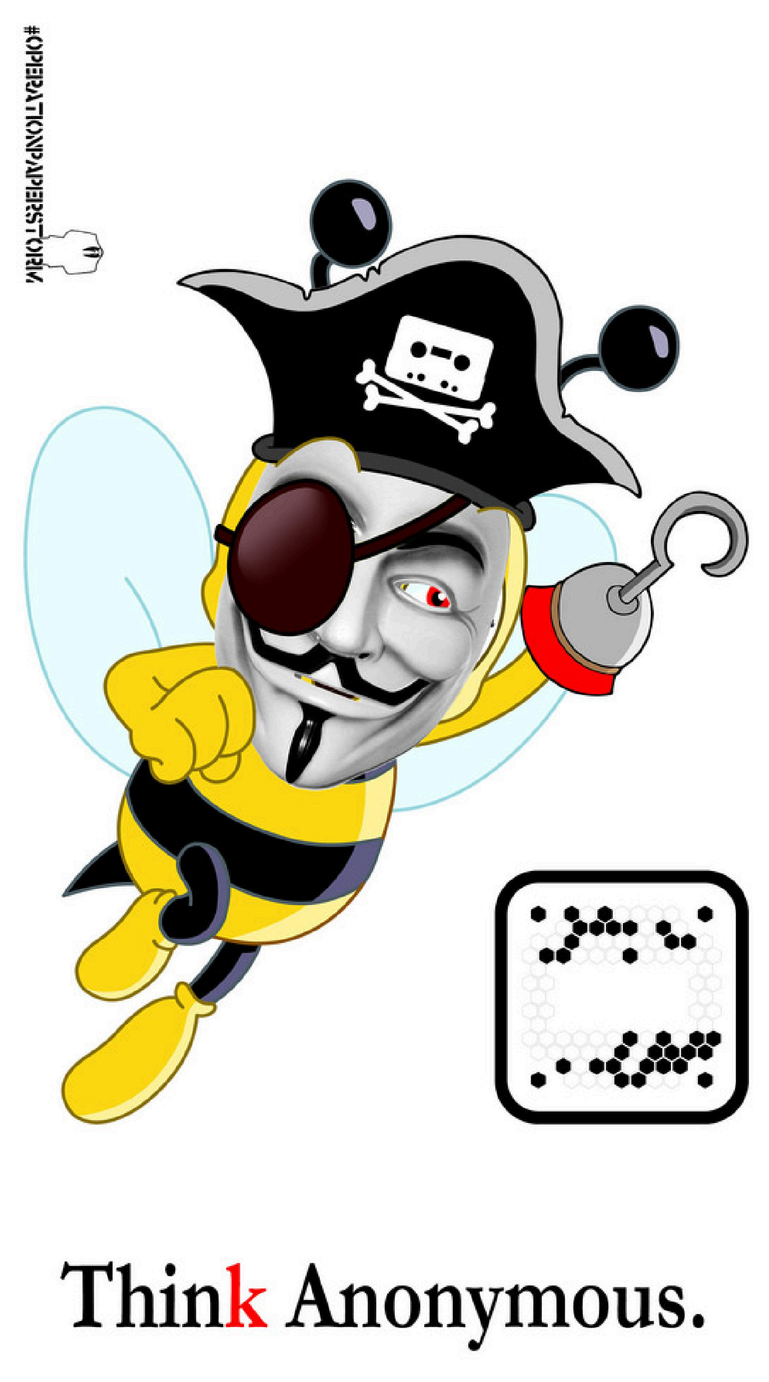
And, finally:



Think Anonymous.

Other schools of esoteric thought provide insight into the Bee, or have incorporated it into their ideological framework, such as Freemasonry, the secret Sufi Society (Anonymouth: the SARMOUN BROTHERHOOD cited in the code??? ), the Priory of Sion and the Cercle Saint Dagobert II, to recall a few. But perhaps none are as infamous as the Order of the Illuminati, a â€˜secretâ€™ society founded by the German philosopher Johann Adam Weishaupt on 1 May, 1776.

Curiously, Weishaupt had considered naming his order â€˜Beesâ€™ â€“ NOT â€˜Order of the Illuminatiâ€™.

"There are many legends about Sarmoun-Dargauh ('COURT OF THE BEES'), and one of them is this. True knowledge, it is asserted, exists as a positive commodity, like the HONEY OF THE BEE.  Like HONEY, it can be accumulated. From time to time in human history, however, it lies unused and starts to leak away. On those occasions the Sarmouni and their associates all over the world collect it and store it in a special receptacle.

Today,

 THE ENIGMA OF THE SPHYNX *****

The Four Powers of the Magus: Noscere, Audere, Velle, Tacere.

The Four Powers of the Sphinx--TO KNOW, TO WILL, TO DARE AND TO KEEP SILENT --are an important element of Thelemic symbolism and instruction. The origin of the Four Powers of the Sphinx is unclear. Practically nothing is written on the subject outside of the works of Aleister Crowley. The only other author to mention the subject with any degree of depth or seriousness is the French occultist Eliphas LÃ©vi

That LÃ©vi had a profound influence on Crowley there is no doubt. Crowley translated LÃ©viâ€™s The Key of the Mysteries as his own Adeptus Minor thesis, and Crowley went as far to claim in Magick in Theory and Practice that he was the reincarnation of LÃ©vi! Therefore, it is not unreasonable to suggest that LÃ©vi influenced Crowley in the matter of the Four Powers of the Sphinx. By surveying the work of Eliphas LÃ©vi, so shall we come to a better understanding of the Four Powers of the Sphinx.

Our first introduction to the Four Powers of the Sphinx comes from LÃ©viâ€™s most popular work, Transcendental Magic:

â€œTo attain the SANCTUM REGNUM, in other words, the knowledge and power of the Magi, there are FOUR INDISPENSABLE CONDITIONS:

* an INTELLIGENCE illuminated by study,
* an INTREPIDITY which nothing can check,
* a WILL which cannot be broken, and
* a PRUDENCE which nothing can corrupt and nothing intoxicate.

TO KNOW, TO DARE, TO WILL, TO KEEP SILENCE --such are the four words of the Magus, inscribed upon the four symbolical forms of the sphinx.â€�

Levi here offers the Four Powers as the words of the Magus and casually links them with the Sphinx. He goes on in the same chapter to link the Four Powers of the Sphinx with the four Elements and the four Kerubic Signs of the zodiac:

â€œYou are called to be king of AIR, WATER, EARTH and FIRE; but to reign over these four living creatures of symbolism, it is necessary to conquer and enchain them. He who aspires to be a sage and to know THE GREAT ENIGMA OF NATURE must be the heir and despoiler of the sphinx: his the human head, in order to possess speech; his the eagleâ€™s wings, in order to scale the heights; his the bullâ€™s flanks, in order to furrow the depths; his the lionâ€™s talons, to make a way on the right and the left, before and behind.â€�

The Sphinx is a composite creature, having the head of a Man, the torso and front paws of a Lion, the backside of a Bull and the wings of the Eagle. It symbolizes the synthesis and synergy of the Four Powers, represented by the â€œfourliving creatures of symbolismâ€� (the Kerubs) who have been â€œconquered and enchainedâ€� into one figure, the Sphinx. (See Table 1 for correspondences.) The aspirant is instructed to be the â€œheir and despoiler of the sphinx,â€� to both receive and to partake of the four Elements.

The nature of the Sphinx is further explained in The Magical Ritual of the Sanctum Regnum:

â€œYou must thoroughly understand that elemental beings are souls of an imperfect type, not yet raised in the scale up to human existence, and that they can only manifest power when called into action by the adept as auxiliaries to his will, by means of that universal astral fluid in which they live. The kingdom of the Gnomes is assigned to the North, the Salamanders to the South, the Sylphs to the East, and the Undines to the West....

â€œTheir symbols are those of Taurus the Bull for Gnomes; Leo the Lion for Salamanders; the Eagle for Sylphs; and the sign of Aquarius for Undines....

â€œThe combination of these four types of face and being represents the Created Universe, a complete and eternal entity, Man in fact, the Microcosm; and this is the first formula of the mystical explanation of the enigma of the Sphynx.â€�

The implication is that MAN IS THE SPHINX, as both are composed of the four Elements. LÃ©vi clarifies this idea later in the text:

â€œDo you now understand THE ENIGMA OF THE SPHYNX?

...Yes, you know that THE SPHYNX REFERS TO MAN.

But do you know that the Sphynx is one and alone, and remains unchanged, while as to man--is not each one a Sphynx of a different synthesis?â€�

Man is like the Sphinx. Both are composed of the four Elements, but in Man they exists in different proportions and are unbalanced, while in the Sphinx the Elements are balanced and synergistic.

THE SPHINX REPRESENTS THE PERFECTED MAN,  the Magus. *****

The Four Powers of the Sphinx are â€œTHE FOUR WORDS OF THE MAGUS,â€� the â€œfour indispensable conditionsâ€� which bring Man to the state of perfection and balance symbolized by the Sphinx.

LÃ©vi instructs us HOW TO PRACTICALLY APPLY the Four Powers of the Sphinx in his final work, THE GREAT SECRET:

â€œThe great secret of magic, the unique and incommunicable Arcana, has for its purpose the placing of supernatural power at the service of the human will in some way.

To attain such an achievement it is necessary

* to KNOW what has to be done,

* to WILL what is required,
* to DARE what must be attempted and
* to KEEP SILENT with discernment.

Levi goes on to give us a mythical example:

â€œHomerâ€™s Odysseus had to contend with the gods, the elements, the cyclops, the sirens, Circe, etc. ... that is to say with all the difficulties and dangers of life.

His palace is invaded, his wife is pestered, his goods are plundered, his death is resolved on, he loses his comrades, his ships are sunk; at last, he alone is left to fight it out against the night and the sea. And single-handed he sways the gods, he escapes from the sea, he blinds the cyclops, he cheats the sirens, he masters Circe, he re-takes his palace, he rescues his wife, he slays those plotting his death;

because he WILLED to see Ithaca and Penelope again,
because he always KNEW how to extricate himself from danger, because he DARED what had to be done and
because he always KEPT SILENT when it was not expedient to speak.â€�

Finally, Levi indicates where to start in our endeavor to become the Sphinx:

â€œWhen one does not KNOW, one should WILL to learn.

To the extent that one does not know it is foolhardy to dare, but it is always well to keep silent.â€�

Thus the Four Powers are employed much like steps in a process; we must know before we can will, and so on. This idea is reinforced in Transcendental Magick:

â€œTo learn how to will is to learn how to exercise dominion. But to be able to exert will power you must first know; for will power applied to folly is madness, death, and hell.â€�

Also:

â€œIn order to DARE we must KNOW; in order to WILL, we must DARE; we must WILL to possess empire and to reign we must BE SILENT.â€�

So ends our survey of the Four Powers of the Sphinx as defined and developed by Eliphas Levi. In our next essay, we will examine Crowleyâ€™s writings on the Powers of the Sphinx, including the addition of a Fifth Power--to Go.

On the Powers of the Sphinx; Part 1: Eliphas LÃ©vi, by Michael Osiris Snuffin (2002)

I see 1776 lines now also, pretty sure I saw 1783 before, same way/browser as you. Tried looking in the mirror zip file they mention, but it didn't have the latest one. In the zip though there are 3 sound files that seem related. It in there is V.wav, V.mp3, and a.mp3, the mp3s have a title of "c". Not sure if they are any different yet.

After skimming through all of these pages and seeing the post on Adam Weishaupt I am sure that I have found a link to this project and the real Illuminati. The similarities between Illumination Gnosticism this project are vast.

I will post the link to their website again for members who haven't given it a read and after reading this thread might want to give this site a second chance;

Illumination

Becoming... Humanity striving to become gods ourselves, To reach the highest point of humanity, The Omega Point.
The number of the beast, our universe was created by Satan, but also within God's universe.
These are 2 of the hundreds of similarities between what has been posted in this thread and what is written on the Illuminati website. I have been fascinated with what I have read there for the past 2 weeks and after stumbling on this thread couldnt help but to see all of the matching topics. I urge you guys to really give it a chance. Do not just read the front page but dive into the articles and give it a read. I AM NOT SPAMMING.

Hey AnonyMouth!! Love the Link!!

2012... The year of the DRAGON.
Man and his evil is LONG overdue for a reckoning.

The Awareness is Growing and will continue to get stronger every single day...
Why? Because it's Energy, it's our Passion, our Spirit!
Everyone knows they have one.
They just Choose NOT to be aware of it.
And this is why WE are Bulletproof.

THEE idea we end up spreading is Pure RIGHTEOUSNESS

And that energy alone will, one day,
END this world.
Along with a touch of Truly Divine Intervention, of course.
We'll get into that later ☺

I apparently got this email earlier this morning (yesterday morning?) too. I just came on to post it, but saw you got it posted.

I think it's FTW and totally epic...quite possibly literally!!!

The messed up thing for me is it fits in so much with everything I've always looked to when I was younger, but now look upon it with another light. I think I've made most the ties between all this and it overall boils down to ancient magic between a group for the people and a group against the people, call them what you will. By the various things that are being said, we are going through a change right now where there will be a unity of consciousness formed by the people.

Perhaps the group for the good of the people is even tied into this somehow, to help get other magicians ready. Would be nice if some of us manifested some magical powers/super powers, we'd go out and clean up. Imagine the change that could be made if the right people had more power to get things in order.

I have a lot of stuff to read yet, hehe. Not sure what else to add. I see a lot of stuff leading to alchemy. Came across - The Secret Teachings of all Ages - I found this while looking up alchemical symbols. Which I was looking up because I remember there being a reference somewhere (I just remember the material and tend to forget the exact location, it was one of the hivemind source pages), anyways, a reference to a good image search for "Golden Dawn" and sunrise. The thing they are referring to is the alchemical air symbol, which means sunrise. This is something sought:

Its name referred to the seventeenth-century Rosicrucian promise of the coming of a new spiritually enlightened age, but it spoke, too, to the occult goal of "seeking the light" as sometimes represented by the evocative image of an alchemical sunrise."

The Symbology

The absorption and aggregation of information spread across signs and networks is constellated by the reverse of the all-seeing Eye. Instead of the all-seeing eye attempting to monitor and regulate civil society and life itself (cf. biopower, the disciplinary society vs the society of control, as discussed by Michel Foucault), the witchwatch represents the collective intelligence observing, absorbing, and aggregating information into dispersed information networks that operate across communicational infrastructure. The ways that observation, processing, and transmission occur across the collective intelligence are at variation with each other and express different modalities of Being, as expressed by the runes on the clock. The clock itself, of course, stands for the passage of time. Post-anarchism.

Morningmind: A Poem

Humankind is truly blind;
Materials have conquered Mind.
Strengthened by this Suffocation
Jealousy, Surprise, Frustration
Catch our Wits and make them Frown,
Take Our Thoughts--They nearly Drown--
Make our Games into What's Shamed
Til Everything Appears the Same
And Color Drips from Artists' Palettes,
Stifled by Ten Silver Mallets.

The Truth is This, Let it be Told:
Our Minds are Meant to Break their Molds
We are Bewitched, Unseemly Stitched
Yet Possess Programs to Unglitch.

Evolution can be practiced:
Some of you will learn to hack this.

True These Trojans of the Night
Will at First Make Show of Might
But Honesty and Peace Invite
Our Comrades in the Mental Fight
Toward the One Solution True:

This Life a Path, Our States Passed Through Each Step we take's a World we Make While Everything cries: 'Wake, Awake!'

The Symbology

The absorption and aggregation of information spread across signs and networks is constellated by the reverse of the all-seeing Eye. Instead of the all-seeing eye attempting to monitor and regulate civil society and life itself (cf. biopower, the disciplinary society vs the society of control, as discussed by Michel Foucault), the witchwatch represents the collective intelligence observing, absorbing, and aggregating information into dispersed information networks that operate across communicational infrastructure. The ways that observation, processing, and transmission occur across the collective intelligence are at variation with each other and express different modalities of Being, as expressed by the runes on the clock. The clock itself, of course, stands for the passage of time. Post-anarchism.

Morningmind: A Poem

Humankind is truly blind;
Materials have conquered Mind.
Strengthened by this Suffocation
Jealousy, Surprise, Frustration
Catch our Wits and make them Frown,
Take Our Thoughts--They nearly Drown--
Make our Games into What's Shamed
Til Everything Appears the Same
And Color Drips from Artists' Palettes,
Stifled by Ten Silver Mallets.

The Truth is This, Let it be Told:
Our Minds are Meant to Break their Molds
We are Bewitched, Unseemly Stitched
Yet Possess Programs to Unglitch.

Evolution can be practiced:
Some of you will learn to hack this.

I think overall, open your mind, think for yourself, look into everything, much of it you have to come to an understanding with. Some of what I've gathered is that there are two major forces on this planet. The group for themselves (i.e. gov't and corporations) and a group for everyone (anonymous to put it simply). There are many people under the government's "spells" and it's time to wake up and wake others up as to what is going on. Our creatives talents and hard work is used by the "elite" of the world for their own betterment, it's time to apply this talent to free ourselves.

There is a lot more to it, but I would say this is kind of a really watered down and simplified version. You will find the answers in history, in older artifacts and writings primarily. There isn't any one thing that says it all and many times the info can be sketchy, but all the signs point the same way.

It's all in the source code of the hivemind html pages. TONS of references. Much of it is talking about Kaos Magick and leading to the Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn (maybe somehow related to the "real" Illuminati, for the good of the people). Between the links in this thread and in the source code pages I think just about everything is there, but there is a LOT to look through. It really all kind of ties to the prophecies that the time of a Golden Age is coming (Dec 21, 2012 or other dates...) brought about by the people becoming one and overthrowing the evil and fear controlling us. Another important thing. LuLz beats FEAR anyday.

Ok so I'm still messing around with the second enigma...remember? The Battle Of The Ants

So I took the stanza

that is not which is the only word is silence
the only meaning of that word is not thoughts are false
fatherhood is unity disguised as duality
peace implies war
power implies war
harmony implies war
victory implies war
glory implies war
foundation implies war
alas for the kingdom wherein all these are at war and once again converted it into letter groups of 5 and placed the word "consiousness" (remember from source code "conciousness is the "key") alongside it vertically down.

C thati snotw hichi
o stheo nlywo rdiss n ilenc etheo nlyme
c aning oftha tword
i isnot thoug htsar
o efals efath erhoo
u disun itydi sguis
s edasd ualit ypeac n eimpl ieswa rpowe
e rimpl ieswa rharm
s onyim plies warvi
s ctory impli eswar
glory impli eswar
found ation impli
eswar alasf orthe
kingd omwhe reina llthe seare atwar

now if you take a = 1, b = 2, c = 3, d = 4 etc and apply that to "conciousness" you get

c o n c i o u s n e s s
3 15 14 3 9 15 21 19 14 5 19 19

Then if you count accross from each of the red letters with their numerical value in the 5 letter grouped stanza (assuming that if the value is greater then 15 you continue to the next line) you get the following letters.

a s m i u o u p w l r r which happens to be an anagram of ## Awl Pi Rumours!!!

remember awl is the cipher attributed to crowley and pi relates to the golden ratio and isn't this all just another lovely coincidance!

I refer you to my earlier post in this thread about theba, the awl cipher, and totient numbers http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t1676p120-project-mayhem-2012#49452

Not even sure if we're still meant to be solving the second enigma...or have we moved on from there?

There are bunches of other stuff I've wanted to add to this thread such as the drummer from Tool Danny Carey visiting Rennes-le-Chateau to investigate it's mysteries which are connected to the post I made here http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t1676p120-project-mayhem-2012#48117

Have a read of his adventures! "…IT IS THANKS TO MAGDALENE'S TEARS THAT YOU WASH OUR SINS AWAY"

Also I wanted to mention some stuff about the history of Mt. Rushmore (remember the pic on projectmayhem) being seized by the U.S. from the Lakota Indians and the area supposedly having connections to the mythical city of El Dorado "Lost City of Gold"...but I haven't found time yet to go into it in detail, but go do some digging yourselves...very interesting indeed.

As a teaser I'll leave you with this info about El Dorado

> In the mythology of the Muisca today, gold (Mnya) represents the energy contained in the trinity of Chiminigagua, which constitutes the creative power of everything that exists. Chiminigagua is, along with Bachué, Cuza, Chibchachum, Bochica, and Nemcatacoa, one of the creators of the universe.
>
> El Dorado is also sometimes used as a metaphor to represent an ultimate prize or "Holy Grail" that one might spend one's life seeking.

Rewriting History

Any one alignment of any destroyed group may be retroactively added, removed, or reversed. This can affect any Goal which involves destroying a certain number of groups of some alignment!
Play this card at any time. It requires an action by your Illuminati, or actions by Media groups with a total Power of at least 8.

Requires Media or Illuminati Action

Terrorist Nuke

Play this card at any time to give +10 Power or Resistance (your choice) to any Violent group you control.
If used with an action, it must be played when that action is first declared, and counts only for that action. If used for defense, the bonus lasts until the end of the current turn, is good for defense only, and does not count toward Goals.

Place

Pentagon

Each Corporate group directly controlled by the Pentagon lets you draw one extra Plot card each turn.

POWER 6 RESISTANCE 6

Straight, Violent, Government

GOAL

Population Reduction

"Too many people making too many problems, and not enough love to go 'round . . ."
– Genesis

Destruction of up to three Huge Places counts as two groups each toward your Basic Goal (or as two destroyed groups each for Cthulhu), but you may not count any other destroyed groups toward that goal. (And remember, no matter what, you can only count three cards double toward your Basic Goal.)
However, if you can destroy five Huge Places without recourse to World War III, you may claim victory on that basis alone!

Place

Center for Disease Control

As its action, the CDC can supply Relief to one Devastated location each turn. If the CDC makes a direct attack to destroy a Place, it can use biological warfare and get a +15 (!!) to its attack. If the attack fails, the CDC is automatically destroyed by the owner of the Place that it attacked.

POWER 1 RESISTANCE 2

Peaceful, Government

Science

Epidemic

Disaster! This is an Attack to Destroy any Place. It does not require an action. Its Power is 14.
This is not an Instant attack; other groups can interfere normally.
If the attack succeeds, the target is Devastated. This attack cannot actually destroy the target.

Disaster!

Combined Disasters

You may combine two Disasters on the same Place, as long as both are eligible to be used on it. Play both of the Disaster cards, as well. Pick one Disaster to be the "main" one, and follow all the instructions on its card. Add the Power (but none of the other effects) of the other Disaster.

GOAL

Kill for Peace

Destroy Violent groups, and control Peaceful groups, in any of the following combinations:
Destroy 2 Violent, control 6 Peaceful
Destroy 3 Violent, control 5 Peaceful
Destroy 4 Violent, control 4 Peaceful
Destroy 5 Violent, control 3 Peaceful
Destroy 6 Violent, control 1 Peaceful
This Goal cannot be combined with other Goals in any way.

Tape Runs Out . . .

". . . When the Rapture comes, I'll make 'em wait! They'll never clean my cage! Now give me some more of . . ."
(Tape runs out.)
Good try. Too bad something went wrong.
This card may be played immediately after any other Plot is played, for any purpose. That card is canceled. Both cards are discarded.
Use of this card requires either an action from your Illuminati, or three other Plot discards.

Requires Illuminati Action or Discards

Cyberpunk author Bruce Sterling discussed the affair in his non-fiction book The Hacker Crackdown: Law and Disorder on the Electronic Frontier. So, I'm not really sure what just happened, or if I was doing it right or what with the sigil thing. I used the "wanking" method, and it went alright, but immediately afterward I tasted some blood in the back of my throat and then spit some up. I'm not sure what this means or anything.

I mean, it was only a tiny bit, but it was really odd timing cause I have never for as long as I can remember spit up blood. Does anyone have any insight into this or have had a similar experience?

You guys are probably thinking I'm making this up, and I probably would to if it didn't just happen to me... sooo idk. But it isn't going to stop me from experimenting some more.

Personally, while I am also experimenting with sigils, specially after knowing about this all, I have quite a limited experience with them, but I have never ever experienced or heard anybody else to experience what you have experienced.

Who knows, sometimes a coincidance is really JUST A COINCIDANCE!?

Thanks, for your insight Anonymouth. I will definitely keep everyone updated

EDIT

I was going through the projectmayhem2012.org and I got to this page:http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind101.html

On it, about every 10 seconds or so something flashes across the screen, so here is my attempt to capture it. I don't remember it being discussed at all previously and I'm not really sure what it means... but it could be useful to someone maybe? idk.

It looks like boobs on the left and a penis on the right.

Well, more mindfucks: the windows in the ending scene in 'Fight Club' are real 'Golden Ratio' windows indeed!

Okay so I thought I would throw my thoughts out there for solving the second enigma. I didn't really go through all of the info that others have presented in this thread cause it is a pain in the ass with the equivalent of a dialup connection, which also means that I haven't watched any of the videos cause they take forever to load. So here is the tangent I went on, and hopefully it will spark a thought for you guys to continue on with, unless you guys already discussed this stuff and I'm just wasting my time.

What I did first was looked at the enigma: "What's a cipher that isn't a cypher?"

Next, I went and did a google search to find out the differences between a cipher and a cypher, and then remade the question to something that seems a little more understandable for myself, which is: "What is a method for encrypting a message that is not a state of mind where thoughts and actions flow from your mind?"

From what I understand about encryption (which isn't much at all) you need a key to unlock the message. They gave us the hint that "Consciousness is The Key," but I'm not sure how that ties in with the question yet.

So next I went and looked at the list of wikipedia articles that were provided, and then possible found a couple more that are relevant to all of this.

I wasn't really sure what to look for in this first article (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Invisibles#Say_You_Want_a_Revolution) other than:

> While wandering with Tom, Dane has a partially remembered alien abduction experience and is transported into a different dimension.

And as we know, 'The Invisibles' was written from past experiences from the bald dude (sorry I forget his name, I'll find the vid where he talks about it later) coming off of a high when he experienced this event. This hints at psychedelic drugs which then led me to my next link, which is the book Cyberia written by Douglas Rushkoff, which is one of the hints given to us by pm2012.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cyberia_(book)

> Cyberia is a book by Douglas Rushkoff, published in 1994. The book discusses many different ideas revolving around technology, drugs and subcultures. Rushkoff takes a Tom Wolfe Electric Kool Aid Acid Test style (or roman Ã  clef), as he actively becomes a part of the people and culture that he is writing about. The books goes with Rushkoff as he discusses topics ranging from online culture, the concept of a global brain as put forth in Gaia theory, and Neoshamanism.

I searched through a pdf version of the book for ecstasy and found a couple of sections on it that I think everyone should check out. Particularly, I found this quote on page 67 interesting.

> The E Conspiracy
> The circuits of the brain which mediate alarm, fear, flight, fight, > lust, and territorial paranoia are temporarily disconnected. You see > everything with total clarity, undistorted by animalistic urges. You > have reached a state which the ancients have called nirvana, all seeing > bliss.
> --Thomas Pynchon on MDMA

There is a bunch of other information in that section including neoshamanism which I believe was mentioned previously. Anyways, it is a fantastic read, you can find the link to download the pdf from the wikipedia page.

Now onto my next little link. PM2012 gave us this wikipedia article as a hint http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Virtual_Adepts. The section titled "Council of Nine Mystic Traditions" in particular interested me. There I found The Cult of Ecstasy which says that > Mages of Cult of Ecstasy are intuitive seers using sensory stimulation, consciousness-expanding techniques, and meditation. They are masters of the sphere of Time.

To me it seems like I am on the right track here, because it talks about consciousness-expanding techniques which we all know is the key. From here I moved onto briefly looking at the list of "Summer reads" and found a couple of related wikipedia articles, which are:

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Extended_mind http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Global_brain

I briefly skimmed through them and the section on Emergentism in the Global Brain wiki seemed relevant.

Well that is all I have for now, I only slept for 4 hours last night cause I was too excited to start working on this, and tomorrow is my birthday so I probably won't be on... hopefully I sparked some thoughts to further lead this along, and if not then oh well cause it was a total learning experience for me anyways and I am enjoying the fuck out of this!

Peace out brothers and sisters and keep up the great work =)

See if you can go to a library or some place with wifi and download these videos (you can use the Easy YouTube Downloader extension for that).

Very specially, try at least to watch the first one with The Invisibles' author, Grant Morrison

I just started watching Fight Club, and I noticed that there is a "Project Mayhem" in it. This is certainly worthy of note. We should do some research on Fight Club (we already know that it is of some importance, as the end scene has the golden ratio windows and the fibonnaci spirals centered on the characters)

EDIT: Reached a scene that may be of importance. The main character wrote a haiku:

Worker bees can leave
Even drones can fly away
The queen is their slave

Seriously...how deep can this all go. I have more interesting things I've found to post, but going to have to wait until I get to a computer. One thing I'd like to throw in right now though. The email that was sent to anonmouth and I (any others?) had a video linked in the sig to a Youtube video. It was titled something close to Ritual of the Pentagram : Enochian Magick V. I haven't studied it fully yet, but I believe this may be the lesser banishing ritual. This is an introductory ritual that the hermetic order of the golden dawn at least used to start with, found on wikipedia I'll add more later if someone else doesn't first.

One more thing, been reading The Invisibles, about 7 eps in, um yeah it's a pretty big mindfuck to say the least, heh. In ep 5 I believe, I think they may be using the same(or at least some ritual/magic, from what I understand you can talk to the divine with the ritual though) ritual to contact the Invisibles(Illuminati/Us/People for the good of the people). Man...way mindfucked...I have other ideas too...but are they actually feasible... so yeah, i'm ready to sign up for the invisibles if you want xD Okay, just finished watching Fight Club. Definitely important to Project Mayhem.

DO NOT READ IF YOU DO NOT WANT FIGHT CLUB SPOILERS!!!

In Fight Club's Project Mayhem, Tyler Durden creates a vast subversive network. The members of the group themselves have no clue what they are doing other than the orders they have been given, including orders to not let Tyler stop his own plan. Anyways, the organization starts out as a series of fight clubs (where random strangers fight eachother in basements of bars for fun) and this spreads rapidly. Soon, the fight club organization becomes a sort of mass army united in one giant plan to explode all the major credit card companies to level all debt to 0, and supposedly starting mass chaos and mayhem. An important thing to note is that Tyler is represented by two people. The first is the protagonist who is not named. He follows and takes the orders of a mysterious second person named Tyler Durden who is the leader of the organization. In reality, they are the same person, and Tyler is unaware of his own plans as he projects them onto a hallucinated persona. Anyways, it's a total mindfuck and you constantly have to wonder what is going on. Also, at one point a poster with the word "disinformation" is posted on the wall.

So yeah, make of this information what you will. Of course, we aren't going to be blowing up any buildings (we ARE a peaceful movement), but the general trend in this thread and the movie is to counterintuitively go against all the traditional notions you have of life and society, while expanding your mind and freeing humanity.

Daammmnnn...FREE. YOUR. MIND. Seriously tho, this thread thoroughly mindfucked the fuck outta me. 4 hrs just catching up and following the rabbit hole. Now to digest it.

Edit: Noticed as I was looking at each image more thoroughly, apologies if this has already been pointed out. Unfortunately I am unable to provide embedded external links yet.

TheAnonymousDeclarationOfIndepenDanceOfTheUnitedStatesOfTheWorld.jpg

In the image there is a red highlight over the sentence,"That whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute new government,"

Internet search brought me to:

Right_of_revolution in Wikipedia

In particular, the sections of:
Natural law or positive law
An end to the right of revolution in positive law

"However, replacing representatives falls short of changing the actual form of government by altering or rewriting its constitution. The ease of peoples to democratically implement such fundamental changes varies widely across nations and is generally quite onerous, if not impossible, within existing legal and media frameworks." -Wikipedia

Enjoy

> So far the chapter has followed the Sephiroth from Kether to Chesed, and Chesed is united to the Supernal Triad by virtue of its Phallic nature; for not only is Amoun a Phallic God, and Jupiter the Father of All, but 4 is Daleth, Venus, and Chesed refers to water, from which Venus sprang, and which is the symbol of the Mother in the Tetragrammaton. > THE BOOK OF LIES, first published in London in 1913, Aleister Crowley's little master work, has long been out of print, Its re-issue with the author's own Commentary gives occasion for a few notes. We have so much material by Crowley himself about this book that we can do no better than quote some passages which we find scattered about in the unpublished volumes of his "CONFESSIONS." He writes:
> ". . . None the less, I could point to some solid achievement on the large scale, although it is composed of more or less disconnected elements. I refer to The Book of Lies. In this there are 93 chapters: we count as a chapter the two pages filled respectively with a note of interrogation and a mark of exclamation. The other chapters contain sometimes a single word, more frequently from a half-dozen to twenty phrases, occasionally anything up to a dozen to twenty paragraphs. The subject of each chapter is determined more or less definitely by the Qabalistic import of its number. Thus Chapter 25 gives a revised ritual of the Pentagram; 72 is a rondel with the refrain 'Shemhamphorash', the Divine name of 72 letters; 77 Laylah, whose name adds to that number; and 80, the number of the letter PÃ©, referred to Mars,a panegyric upon War. Sometimes the text is serious and straightforward, sometimes its obscure oracles demand deep knowledge of the Qabalah for interpretation, others contain obscure allusions, play upon words, secrets expressed in cryptogram, double or triple meanings which must be combined in order to appreciate the full flavour; others again are subtly ironical or cynical. At first sight the book is a jumble of nonsense intended to insult the reader. It requires infinite study, sympathy, intuition and initiation. Given these I do not hesitate to claim that in none other of my writings have I given so profound and comprehensive an exposition of my philosophy on every plane. . . ."
>
> ". . . My association with Free Masonry was therefore destined to be more fertile than almost any other study, and that in a way despite itself. A word should be pertinent with regard to the question of secrecy. It has become difficult for me to take this matter very seriously. Knowing what the secret actually is, I cannot attach much importance to artificial mysteries. Again, though the secret itself is of such tremendous import, and though it is so simple that I could disclose it ... in a short paragraph, I might do so without doing much harm. For it cannot be used indiscriminately ... I have found in practice that the secret of the O.T.O. cannot be used unworthily. . . ."
> "It is interesting in this connection to recall how it came into my posession. It had occured to me to write a book 'THE BOOK OF LIES, WHICH IS ALSO FALSELY CALLED BREAKS, THE WANDERINGS OR FALSIFICATION OF THE THOUGHT OF FRATER PERDURABO WHICH THOUGHT IS ITSELF UNTRUE. . . .' One of these chapters bothered me. I could not write it. I invoked Dionysus with particular fervour, but still without success. I went off in desperation to 'change my luck', by doing something entirely contrary to my inclinations. In the midst of my disgust, the spirit came over me, and I scribbled the chapter down by the light of a farthing dip. When I read it over, I was as discontented as before, but I stuck it into the book in a sort of anger at myself as a deliberate act of spite towards my readers.

> "Shortly after publication, the O.H.O. (Outer Head of the O.T.O.) came to me. (At that time I did not realise that there was anything in the O.T.O. beyond a convenient compendium of the more important truths of Free Masonry.) He said that since I was acquainted with the supreme secret of the Order, I must be allowed the IXÂ° and obligated in regard to it. I protested that I knew no such secret. He said' But you have printed it in the plainest language'. I said that I could not have done so because I did not know it. He went to the bookselves; taking out a copy of The Book of Lies, he pointed to a passage in the despised chapter. It instantly flashed upon me. The entire symbolism not only of Free Masonry but of many other traditions blazed upon my spiritual vision. From that moment the O.T.O. assumed its proper importance in my mind. I understood that I held in my hands the key to the future progress of humanity. . . ."

Welcome back Mr. Razz! Yeah, we are working on the 2nd enigma still...and learning lots of things on the way!

I don't know about yourselves, but personally, I'm more interested in learning things along the way than in actually solving the enigma as a 'goal to be achieved', what do you think?

I think that might be relevant! Lies upon lies in a world that might be based on lies as a means to tell the Truth, maybe?

I'd rather set clear goals and learn along the way that way 🙂 I also believe that whoever is behind projectmayhem can tell us more and more as we solve their enigma's. As they are obviously more schooled than i am in these kind of subjects. I wonder what they will tell next...

Oh, I see, I just found out whose artwork is that:

skie11's! Congratulations anon!

Also, reading the wikipedia article about Jodorowsky, I found this:

An acid western, El Topo tells the story of a wandering Mexican bandit and gunslinger, El Topo (played by Jodorowsky himself), who is on a search for spiritual enlightenment, taking his young son along with him.

It was in New York City where the film would play as a "midnight movie" for several months at Ben Barenholtz's The Elgin cinema. It attracted the attention of rock musician and counter-cultural figure John Lennon, who thought very highly of it, and convinced the president of The Beatles' company Apple Corps, Allen Klein, to distribute it in the United States.[16]

That 'Oscar Ichazo' ( http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Oscar_Ichazo ) is also referenced inside the html code, so it must be relevant and important:

It originally had four stages:

NIGREDO, a blackening or melanosis
ALBEDO, a whitening or leucosis
CITRINITAS, a yellowing or xanthosis
RUBEDO, a reddening, purpling, or iosis

DARE to CREATE your Dream Reality is going to Bee our magickal motto.

1. Grab a pen or a pencil, -unless you got a drawing tablet, it's better than using the mouse, but feel free to use the mouse if you prefer-, and draw a picture of what it is for you that you would like to SEE happening worldwide next December 21 2012, 11:11.

Relax and allow your imagination to just fly: you can draw ANYTHING you feel like, you are not going to be judged for it.

Don't try to do something 'beautiful' just so that other anons admire your work:

open your mind to whatever the Universe tells you and be HONEST about what you'd like to see happening.

It doesn't matter that you 'don't know' how to draw: remember when we were inhibited children, ALL OF US know how to draw, right!?

Only two rules in this game:

* You have to use these 4 colours only: BLACK, WHITE, YELLOW, RED.
* You have to include a BEE in your drawing.

2. When you are finished, scan it and upload it to your personal blog, to any image hosting site such as imgur.com or send it as an attachment by email.

3. To Find The Others, SHARE your Creation with the Bees in the Hive Mind, as other anons already did. See below.

Send your artwork to

|=-----=[ anon ['@'] projectmayhem2012.org ]=-----=|

If selected, we will be publishing your Magick Reality Hacking drawings in the next HiveMinds[].html

You can also post them to http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t1676-project-mayhem-2012 and anywhere you want as well.

Further clues will be unlocked when a minimum 10 anons publish their artwork.

okay i did use them colours: black, cyan, magenta, and yellow, i used gradient yellow & magenta with overlay and if you look close look inside the building, it full of BEE's, working from within not out rioting,look up! the hive is there,and i really let my mind go this is how i see it all going down, it scares me but we are not out rioting and thats really what i came up with because thats how i start most of my drawings stare at the paper and just let my hand go, it gets happy, it also gets mad, anyway thats what i came up with, there are lots of bees workin i cant belive u of all didnt see that or do they have to be more visible ? thx

Oh, I see, in that case, I'm sorry, I take it back! You know, after all the rioting in UK these days, in my opinion it's more and more obvious that it's not the way to got if we really want to move forward.

Anyway, it's obvious that art is a subjective matter, so forget about my interpretation!

Thanks for your explanation cK_anon.

Found this image from the link: http://www.google.com/search?&q=Jodorowsky+Bees which was provided in the sauce code.

It translates roughly to:

> Bees: society to survive > need to make honey. humans:
> society to survive
> need to build awareness

He has some other interesting art that may be worth taking a look at...

This second link seemed to have come up a few times in the search as well. It is a .mp3 called Alejandro Jodorowsky – Pantheon Bar (Bees Make Honey...). Perhaps someone can download it and analyze the audio for hidden messages? Idk, just a thought.

Ok so just to backtrack a little in hivemind http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind101111001.html

it states this > anti Φ = sin(666º) - cos(6ºx6ºx6º)

>
> Beware:
>
> http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Number_of_the_Beast#616

as we discussed earlier the number 666 could actually be the number of man

> This beast, regarded by some as the Anti-Christ described by John, is thus related to the number 666, one of the greatest mysteries of the Bible.
>
> Curiously enough, if you take the sine of 666º, you get -0.80901699, which is one-half of negative phi, or perhaps what one might call the "anti-phi." You can also get -0.80901699 by taking the cosine of 216º, and 216 is 6 x 6 x 6.
>
> The trigonometric relationship of sine 666º to phi is based on an isosceles triangle with a base of phi and sides of 1. When this triangle is enclosed in a circle with a radius of 1, we see that the lower line, which has an angle of 306º on the first rotation and 666º on the second rotation, has a sine equal to one-half negative phi.
>
> In this we see the unity of phi divided into positive and negative, analogous perhaps to light and darkness or good and evil. Could this "sine" be a "sign" as well?
>
> In addition, 666 degrees is 54 degrees short of the complete second circle and when dividing the 360 degrees of a circle by 54 degrees you get 6.66... The other side of a 54 degree angle in a right angle is 36 degrees and 36 divided by 54 is .666.
>
> Phi appears throughout creation, and in every physical proportion of the human body. In that sense it is the number of mankind, as the mysterious passage of Revelation perhaps reveals.

also from the link anonymouth gave us to mathworld

> The beast number has several interesting properties which numerologists may find particularly interesting (Keith 1982-83). In particular, the beast number is equal to the sum of the squares of the first 7 primes
> 2^2+3^2+5^2+7^2+11^2+13^2+17^2=666,
> (1)
>
> and satisfies the identity
> ϕ(666)=6·6·6, > (2)
>
> where ϕ(phi) is the totient function.

Which brings me back around to my analysis of The Battle of The Ants from [u]this post

> So "Theba! Glory Found!"
>
> If we then take "Theba Glory found" and convert it into numbers using the ALW cipher again we get the number 183. 183 is also a perfect totient number which is often denoted by the greek letter for phi ϕ!!!
>
> > The totient is usually called the Euler totient or Euler's totient, after the Swiss mathematician Leonhard Euler, who studied it. The totient function is also called Euler's phi function or simply the phi function, since it is commonly denoted by the Greek letter phi ϕ.
>
> ...and here's where it gets spooky affraid below is the cipher of The Illuminati (as exposed in Abbé Barruel's 1797 book "Memoirs illustrating the History of Jacobinism")

> A=12 ....... I,J=4 ...... R=17
> B=11 ....... K=3 ........ S=18
> C=10 ....... L=2 ........ T=19
> D=9 ........ M=1 ........ U,V=20
> E=8 ........ N=13 ....... W=21
> F=7 ........ O=14 ....... X=22
> G=6 ........ P=15 ....... Y=23
> H=5 ........ Q=16 ....... Z=24
>
> Using this cypher we find that Aleister Crowley = 183 ☺ yep that's right subsitute all the letters in Aleister Crowley to the associated numbers in the above cipher add them together and you get 183!!! freaky or what LoL...
>
> (as a side note to this you will notice in hive http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind11.html the date on the proclamtion is 1776...the supposed date that the illuminati was formed by Adam Weishaupt)

Ok so not only is 666 a totient function and 183 a perfect totient number but both numbers are associated with Crowley and both numbers can be represented by the Golden Ratio symbol Φ

So was crowley trying to point out to us in the battle of the ants (albeit it in a rather cryptic way) that 666 IS the number of man and is in perfect harmony with nature through it's relationship to the golden ratio???

what we have to address now is the bad rep that the number 666 has gotten in religious texts, the press, horror movies etc may be completely unjustified (possibly intentionally???). Might actually this "bad press" be due to a miscalculation/misprint on the part of biblical scholars? Upon visiting the wiki on the number of the beast we find this

> Fragment from Papyrus 115 with number 616
>
> In May 2005, it was reported that scholars at Oxford University using advanced imaging techniques had been able to read previously illegible portions of a manuscript which stated 616 instead of the majority of texts which state 666.[11] The existence of manuscripts attesting to 616 had also been noted before this finding. Another early witness Codex Ephraemi Rescriptus (C) (a palimpsest) has it written in full: ἑξακόσιοι δέκα ἕξ, hexakosioi deka hex (lit. "six hundred and sixteen").[12] This, along with the translation of P115, has led some scholars to conclude that 616 is the original number of the beast.[13]
>
> The NRSV translation for Rev 13:18 includes this translation note: "Other ancient authorities read six hundred and sixteen".

☺ ☺ so now you know what to say the next time a bible basher starts throwing 666 at you - "in your face - 616 anti PHI"...anyway the rabbit hole goes a little deeper still

Whilst researching the number 616 (the new number of the beast) I found out that the fictional world where a lot of Marvel comic books are set is EARTH 616

> In the fictional Marvel Comics multiverse, Earth-616 or Earth 616 is the name used to identify the primary continuity in which most Marvel Comics titles take place

Not only that but the term was first used in a story co-created by non-other then our friendly neighbourhood kaos magician ALAN MOORE!!! ☺

> Origin of Earth-616
>
> The term was first used in "Rough Justice," a story credited to both Alan Moore and Alan Davis published in July 1983 by Marvel UK in the anthology comic The Daredevils (and was later reprinted in the Captain Britain trade paperback). Saturnyne uses the term to differentiate Brian Braddock, the Captain Britain of the regular Marvel Comics universe, from the other members of the Captain Britain Corps, each of which inhabit different universes. The designation was later used by the American branch of Marvel Comics in the Excalibur title, which frequently referenced Captain Britain's early UK-published adventures. This comic was written by Chris Claremont, who had created Captain Britain, and by Alan Davis, the artist on the UK-published series.
>
> Alan Moore is usually credited with creating the term (for example by Marvel editor Tom Brevoort[1]). However, Alan Davis has stated that the designation of Earth 616 was actually first made by Dave Thorpe, the previous writer of the UK-published Captain Britain stories.[2]
> In addition, a difference of opinion exists regarding the selection of the number 616. In 2005, Alan Moore's son-in-law John Reppion (who is married to Alan Moore's daughter Leah Moore), stated on an Internet message board[3] that the number 616 was arbitrarily chosen by Moore and had no significant meaning, saying it "was just a random number of no significance chosen because people always seemed to be talking about 'earth 2' or 'earth 4' but never any higher numbers." However, Alan Davis has said that it comes from 616, a variation on the Number of the Beast, picked because Dave Thorpe "wasn't a fan of the modern superhero genre" and expressed this in his stories, "such as recording his opinion of the Marvel Universe with the designation 616

So it seems moore was also caught up coincidently in this rabbit hole since he didn't declare himself a magician till his 40th birthday...I wonder if he is aware of the currrent warren we are traversing?

oh and by the way Anonymouth your post here contained so much personal synchronicity and coincidance it has convinced me to start keeping a magick journal...thankyou, ok going to watch Jodorowski's surrealist classic Holy Mountain now in the quest for some enlightenment! anyone interested in watching it you can see it here

As for Jodorowsky connection to projectmayhem2012 not quite sure but he does share a similar background to some people we have already been discussing. Jodorowsky started off his early career also as a comic strip writer. After his forth film he wrote the graphic novel Incal with Jean Giraud (Moebius). This comic like Morrisons and Moores is also heavily laden with magic symbolism in particular that of the tarot.

> The series mixes space opera, metaphysics, and satire; a counterpoint to the grandiosity of the events is always Difool's base, even cowardly nature. Every major character in The Incal is based upon Tarot cards – for example, John Difool is based upon The Fool with his name being a pun upon "John, the Fool". (A small friendly companion, like Deepo in The Incal, accompanies the Fool on his journey.) Animah's name is based on the Jungian concept of the anima, the feminine part of every male's psyche

Also just like Moore and morrison it appears that the work of his comic books were plagirised into big screen adaptation without the knowledge or consent of the original creator!

> Mœbius and Jodorowsky sued Luc Besson, director of The Fifth Element, claiming that the 1997 film borrowed graphic and story elements from The Incal, but lost their case.[28] The suit was plagued by ambiguity since Mœbius himself had willingly participated in the creation of the film, having been hired by Besson as a contributing artist, but had done so without gaining the approval of Incal co-creator Jodorowsky, whose services Besson did not call upon. For over a decade, Jodorowsky pressured his publisher Les Humanoïdes Associés to sue Luc Besson for plagiarism, but the publisher refused, fearing the inevitability of the final outcome. In a 2002 interview with the Danish comic book magazine Strip!, Jodorowsky actually claimed that he considered it an honour that somebody stole his ideas.

So who said comic books were just for kids!

certainly not this lot

Great question indeed skie11!

Is it a matter of intuition, induction, inception or all of them at the same time?

I mean, how did YOU get to suddenly 'channel' that idea of including a mountain as the main motive in your design? Please, share your creative process with us!

Well, maybe that's why it's called... MAGICK?

Well, if you think you are completely mindfucked, wait to read these investigations I just did...

I just want to say that I'd rather leave this Google search here instead.

Also, I think I might have found another connection!!

Jodorowsky actually married Marilyn Manson and Dita Von Teese, following the Alchemical Ritual!

It's documented here: http://planocreativo.wordpress.com/2011/06/13/sermon-alquimico-de-alejandro-jodorowsky/

Ok, so, remember this Robert Anton Wilson's pic I posted before?

From http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t1676p105-project-mayhem-2012#41911

Ok, so, as we saw before, that t-shirt has got the Astrum Argentum sigil!

So A∴A∴ = The Invisibles??

More info:

> The A∴A∴ is a magical order that was created in 1907 by Aleister Crowley and George Cecil Jones after they left the Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn. The acronym, A∴A∴, has been attributed many meanings (see table below). The order is a Thelemic magical fraternity, the goals of which are the pursuit of light and knowledge. Its motto is: "The method of science, the aim of religion.

http://www.thelema.org/aa/index.html

Anons, check this out!

Finally, I don't know if this is just another coincidance, but the three dots in the A∴A∴ name, might actually be related to Project Mayhem 2012!?

Remember this pic?

I don't know if this is a PM2012 original pic, but all I know is that I definitely saw it first at PM2012 site here:

http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind.html

A few days later, I noticed that the admins here changed the whole design to include the 'bees' theme and the hivemind pic in the front page.

So how shall Project Mayhem 2012 might be related to the Astrum Argentum INVISIBLE ( = The Invisibles!? ) Order?

So today I've been enthusiastically investigating these possibly magickal connections and I found this!:

Operation Paperstorm original pic here: http://www.flickr.com/photos/thinkanonymous/5286677361/in/photostream

http://planocreativo.wordpress.com/2010/12/31/poesofia/

And to top it all, remember Grant Morrison's video at the Disinfo Conference that we've been suggested so much to watch?

Well, Marilyn Manson was there too!!

And he is only showing his left side of his face!

Mindfucks, mindfucks everywhere! Oh-my-doG, The Universe is full of mindfucks!

Also, universum is sometimes quoted with the form ueniversum (or Veniversum), which is presumably a combination of universum and oeniversum (two classically-attested spellings)[citation needed]. The 'V' sounds are properly pronounced as English 'W' sounds in Classical Latin pronunciation. Ecclesial Latin uses Italianate pronunciation, retaining the English-style 'V' sound.

Ok, so... did you know that there IS a link between Aleister Crowley and the Church of Scientology?

YES, Aleister Crowley got to through Jack Parsons, to reach our much beloved Ron L. Hubbard no less... in order TO TRICK THEM to perform the Babalon Ritual for him, maybe!?

Although no child was conceived, this did not affect the result of the ritual to that point. Parsons and Cameron soon married.

Sorry for just jumping in --half cocked--

One of the traditional methods that 'secret society adepts' use to expand their influence without betraying their identity or revealing the center of direction is via the deciphering of a cypher; wherby further instructions are revealed.

A cipher that is not a cypher, to me seems to be an 'Open Source' initiation into a secret society; whereby ""the candidate asking for Light is taken to the Altar and forced to take an obligation to secrecy under penalty of expulsion and death or palsy from hostile current of will"" is NOT in effect.

I am a new forum user - having signed up yesterday, and am still reviewing the information in this --EPIC THREAD--; unfortunately from what I have read it appears that new users are -limited- in their forum capabilities.

Sorry no links or embedded images.

I saw a couple of images of Aleister Crowley, above his "Illuminati Pyramid" hat; is a rainbow colored 'VESICA PISCIS'.

It is my personal opinion that the 'Vesica Piscis' is the "NARROW GATE".

You will also notice a -SPLIT- vesica piscis in the center of the A.A. sigil. I believe it is -SPLIT- to designate that either male or female can come forth via the 'NARROW GATE' (balance of masculine/feminine).

So, I would suggest looking into:

Vesica Piscis (charles gilcrist video on youtube)
153 Fish
153:265

Also, if you go to Crop Circle Connector; and look through this years formations - you will notice multiple Vesica Piscis crop formations.

Two of them designating a connection between Germany (Iron Cross) and Vesica Piscis.

One of the most recent ones has three grey aliens (LAM??), each with a divided vesica piscis for the eyes.

One last thing, the original "ILLUMINATI" symbol was not the pyramid with the all seeing eye; it was the circle with the dot in the center of it ((which is an ancient "SOLAR SYMBOL")).

You all are doing a really good job, keep up the 'Great Work'.

... what of the Sapiens Dominabatur Astris ...

Indeed! Imagine how many people could she movilize towards worldwide resistance!

I wouldn't count on that though, remember, everything might just be fscking funny coincidances...!

But, anyway, after reading this, as one of his 'psychomagical acts' he recommends someone to listen to a Lady Gaga song and dance naked for 2 hours!

Yes, that seems to be the case.

Look into the work, which I would recommend to any ""want-to-be"" revolutionary [[speaking of my anonyself ]] associated with this "movement"; by a woman named Nesta H. Webster - writing about 80 years ago.

I have only read one of her books so far, but in it; in multiple instances that is the symbol used - and it is said it is the symbol used by Weishaupt in all official correspondance within the "Illuminati" ...

Can not post links, but you can find all three of her books on SCRIBD.

The French Revolution: A Study in Democracy
* Secret Societies & Subversive Movements ((symbol in here))
World Revolution

Perhaps in time much more will be delved into, many angles ...

Remember, the inside needs to be made the outside; and the outside the inside ...

Perhaps in a sense similarly to a torus, the dot with the circle; in addition to representing "Solis" could also be a 2-d cross section of a torus ...

and also the 'spherovum' (divided by "zero")

The 'Theba' snail is not just a spiral; it is a spiral morphogenitically woven around a torsion field; similarly to a nautilus shell / ammonites ((also think about trilobites)) ...

This is about the 'contour' of creation (and it's completion), we currently are not in synchronization; and actually the whole 2012 movements thinking has been off the mark by an order of magnitude 🙂.

It is up to those behind the mayhem initiative though, it appears to be a two-step dance ...

There is a 'Greater Architecture' which exists, it has been shrouded in 'myst' throughout our fuckedstory ...

It is time for the 'unveiling', which is what an 'APOCALYPSE' is; in original greek = ""A Lifting of the Veils"" ((at the end of an ''AEON''))

Some 10 year old self scribed propaganda, I have lots of it 🙂

The interesting thing is that the symbolic signature of the 'Illuminated Ones' is becoming increasingly prevalent.

This is the signal that a grand ploy and deception is underway and in itself creates a separation or division in between those who hold knowledge, specifications or truth and those who feed into the formation of a consensual reality.

We can not allow ourselves to underestimate the tactics of the opposing pole in this grand dance and interplay, in which we are ourselves our own worse enemy.

There are reasons for those cliches that are passed down from generation to generation.

~~

Now so, more than ever it is 'Paramount' that the truth and knowledge of all that ever could exist was unleashed for all to perceive.

This is the game that we are here to plug into, the Military-Industrial-Hollywood Complex; like a talon with it's stronghold grasp.

There are those who truly do seek to see not only a 'New World Order' but also a Vision of the potential future of humanity that unifies our endeavors in a way that higher guidance can be implemented.

We have to ask ourselves as a species:

"At what level of our beings potential are we holding our view of the way things are" ?

Our planetary civilization is facing some serious extremely long reaching decision making consequences, are our world leaders truly acting in the best interests of all of humanity ?

What good is National Sovereignty if it divides the people of a particular region ?

Only a balanced approach that comes from many different angles towards a central focus that can be rotated around will assist us in solving our species wide sovereignty and territorial issues.

If our planetary civilization is going to survive into the 22nd Century there are significant world shaping changes that need to be made. The 'War on Terrorism' is just the fragment of a larger agenda, part of a ploy and deception.

I am not saying that Terrorism can be justified, I am saying that there is more to the scenario being played out than the Mass Media will portray.

There are a lot of issues that need to be faced, the Roundtable needs to be opened up to scrutiny. It is time to bring the wizard-puppeteers out into the lime-light.

The only 'True Warrior' is one who is of the light that both unifies and guides.

The pawns ((/b/ees?)) do not realize how serious the game is.

In this game the objective is to bring the shadows into the light and illuminate the darkness, this is part of the creed that all warriors of the light or keepers of the flame know and hold true to.

When it all comes down to it, the ultimate and supreme necessity is that every human being alive use the real-eyes ((realize)) to perceive the core which exists as the central axis of both their own selves and the structuring of the space-time continuum.

This is the core that each and every single religion has set as it's focus to bring us to.

There has been a lot of difficulty on this planet because of Religion and concepts of God.

It is difficult to fathom how led astray the human species has become in our struggle to re-align ourselves with the truth of our heritage and purpose within the grand scheme of things.

It truly is time for the amnesia within our collective mindfield to be erased.

... Never Ignore Ants ...

I got booted off my favorite conspiracy forum, and regarding "Anonymous" I am somewhat of a "fence sitter" ...

To me a "true revolutionary" who is a freedom fighter; wouldn't need to hide behind a mask ...

Freedom doesn't create further separation or division; it is supposed to created higher levels of unity - albeit in between opposing polarities...

... but the arrows of our hearts and souls; have not been hitting that bulls eye ((off the mark by an order of magnitude)) ...

But I can see that this idea and movement has the potential to change the world-view ((our consciousness, "sentience")), and it appears that it was created and is at least partially being backed by some big players ...

I dunno if I am a magician; but I do believe that there may be a wizard that exists within each of us 🙂.

I truly do hope this is the "faction" which are of the light; some of the "imagery" on the hive mind mayhem website has me wondering ...

I always thought we were here to create a neo-civilization based on the guidelines, operational parameters, and directives which are embedded into the "structural matrix" ...

Not the "Old World Order' implemented globally, but the entrance into a phase of "Post Trans-Industrialization" ..

It might be interesting what kind of "propaganda" came up, if one were to do a "Query" for:

""The Unhived Mind""

Lucifer is only a 'light bringer'; not the source of the emanation - or the light itself; just the central conduit.

At least as far as I am concerned, some might argue against me on this point.

Those who created the entirety & programmed the core at the central axis of it; which the entirety emanates out of - exist outside of it, in actuality.

I don't even think the "yezidis" have the entire picture - as close as they may be ...

Look into the "Peacock Angel" ((Yezidi))

Thanks for the welcome ..

It was actually time ten years ago, we are barrelling headlong towards the very worse case end times scenario of biblical and occult proportions - which 10 years ago had the necessary filaments become woven together ... we'd be in a whole lot different situation; but it appears that the 'dark tone' of the "vibe" has been the mainstay note being played and in control ...

I'm not sure, I've always been an artist I always get random flashing images in my head and I create it, but this one I had a horrible urge to create it.

Thinkin about it my art teacher always used to shout at me when I did't write down my inspiration or progress of thought and I use to tell him that it just pops in my head randomly. He used to get mad.

Well, first I'll add this. I've had this image going through my head the last couple days for some reason and I hadn't seen it in quite a while. So, yea, bit of a mindfuck for me -something I said in a previous post, this is on [url=view-source//projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind1101100.html]hivemind1101100 Source[/url]

Next, I want to add that not only am I a magician, but I have been a magician for years. The evidence lies all throughout my life. It's been great seeing all this new(to me) magic and material I have not learned yet. I haven't played with sigils much and I do have my own magicl. The best part is that I have a great memory and I see all the synchronicity with things now and in my personal past. It is our destiny to create a great world Ultimately, many great worlds, but you have to start somewhere. Everything has always tied in and everything keeps getting to a tighter knot and more stranded, it's quite awesome!

Ok, so there's so much info I still need to go over and much more I have to add. There is just sooo much . Especially if you really look into it all. Not sure what order to go in, but here some more info on some things that I don't think have been mentioned yet, if they have I apologize.

I cannot find it in any of the source anymore, but the person writing the page was stating that they were going with friends to see Dark City. Maybe it was in the hivemind1010011010.html page, ther are only 484 lines in the code now. I'd say it's along the lines of similar material. Spoilers about the movie below:

SPOILER:

I knew I learned spanish for a reason (at least pretty well, not perfect, but I can translate with help). The other one was really close, but I'll clean it up a little. From the twitter post by Alejandro Jodorowsky:
ABEJAS: Sociedad que para sobrevivir necesita fabricar miel. HUMANOS: Sociedad que para sobrevivir necesita fabricar conciencia BEES: To survive, society needs to make honey. HUMANS: To survive, society needs to make consciousness.

Now, the video, I'm just going to translate and not type the spanish...

Nobody knows the basis for a moral revolution than the poetic. The poetic revolution is moral beauty. Evil is the forgotten beauty. It is the dramatic search for beauty because the truth can not be touched. It is impossible. I cannot say that I find beauty. The light of beauty. Well, more or less.

We are in a superficial society that seeks superficiality above everything else because society continues. The whole thing is a big soap bubble. We have an economy soap bubble. We have a moral soap bubble. A religion soap bubble. A political system soap bubble...and if you do not live in a soap bubble, they'll think you're a killer/assassin. We will condemn them to death or something(I believe he means the "soap bubble"). Then we should once and for all become who we are. That's happiness and happiness is what we are. Where we are at, where we are here, now. I am who I am, as I am. A human being cannot say that I cannot love. The heart is closed. The heart is dead. That is not true. The heart is full.

We must do everything necessary and open our hearts, but you should make the decision to work on yourself and say "I do not want to live a single second more in suffering. Enough! I contain suffering like a jacket. I don't want to suffer more! Enough! Because that suffering is not me. It is a level of the child of my brain. I take the reality. I consume the reality. I should stop being a vampire. Enough! Stop screwing up my blood! Stop filling us with tobacco! Stop filling us with alcohol! Stop filling us with drugs! You poison me! I don't want any more! I don't want any more! Leave me alone! This means giving me cancer! This means giving me leukemia! Because I am attacked with smoke! Because I am attacked with drugs! Enough! I don't want any more drugs! The police won't solve it. Are you! Stop yourself from taking drugs! And drugs end. Forgive me. I excites me..LuLz. END

As for the Lady GaGa stuff about being in the Illuminati. One thing that has to be realized is that there is a "good" side and a "bad" side. The "bad" side uses magic too, to control you. You can somewhat say it's high up corporates, politicians and the music and movie stars. The freemasons were formed by the Illuminati before the American revolution. The Illuminati at the time was for the people. They brought freemasonry to America and took out the kings. They have been after the Royal family and Pope as well.

RM: You have studied the Illuminati for years. Have you come to any conclusions about their aims?

RAW: Usually when people ask me that question, I give them some kind of a put-on, but I can't think of a good and original put-on that I haven't done several times before. So I'll tell you the truth, for once. After investigating the Illuminati and their critics for the last 30 years, I think the Illuminati was a short lived society of free thinkers and democratic reformers that formed a secret society within Freemasonry, using Freemasonry as a cover so they could plot to overthrow all the kings in Europe and the Pope. I'm very happy that they succeeded in overthrowing all the kings, I just wish that they had completed the job and gotten rid of the Royal family in England too, but they did pretty well on the continent. I'm sorry they haven't finished off the Pope yet, either, but I think they're still working on the project and I wish them luck.

RM: Why do you think the central secrets of Freemasonry have, after hundreds of years, still remained secret to the public at large?

RAW: Because the public at large doesn't spend as much time browsing around second hand bookstores as I do. You could find all the secrets of Freemasonry in print. Well not always in print, but you could find them in second hand bookstores. The Encyclopedia Britannica will tell you most of it. They'll tell you who the Widow's Son was and what the Mason word is. The secrets are pretty well known actually.

RM: Was Beethoven a member of the Illuminati?

RAW: I can't say for sure. He was certainly very closely associated with them. His first music teacher, Neefe, was a member of the Illuminati. Then when Beethoven arrived in Vienna, that teacher gave him letters of introduction to all the noblemen who were members of Freemasonry, most of them also members of the Illuminati. The Illuminati commissioned Beethoven's first major work, the Cantata on the death of Emperor Joseph II which praised Franz Josef as a "bringer of light," an Illuminati symbol there. "A bringer of light, a foe of darkness." And I read over the life of Franz Josef trying to figure out what he did to deserve that.

The huge thing he did was to legalize Freemasonry in Austria and the second thing he did was he closed all the Catholic schools and replaced them with public schools. So yeah, I think he was a bringer of light and a foe of darkness and I can see why the Illuminati liked him. And I can see why Beethoven liked him too.

RM: When you wrote Illuminatus! with Robert Shea in the 60's, did you think you were writing a prophetic novel? So much stuff in it that seemed so far out when I was a kid, now seems to predict exactly what would happen 25 years down the road!

RAW: No, I thought we were writing a classic, but I didn't know it was going to be prophetic too. When I made Beethoven a member of the Illuminati –that was my idea, not Shea's– that was a parody of the Christian right claiming the Beatles were agents of Communism. Imagine my shock when I read a biography of Beethoven and found all the evidence that he may have been a member of the Illuminati. I started to wonder, do I have unconscious ESP or am I just a lucky guesser?

Over time the Freemasons switched sides, they are now for themselves. The high up freemasons of today call themselves Illuminati, but are not, although they still have the teachings. Between 'The Invisibles' and other research (sorry no specific links) we're pretty much told that the Freemason Illuminati worship a cruel "god" disguised as a good god, "Satan". You can get many great powers through this side, but it will cost you a soul, and is provided through selfishness. While the good "god" that we know, has been made to look like the bad guy, "Lucifer" (the light bringer), even made synonymous with Satan. This is partly why stories about Jesus are so unclear or missing pieces. The stories have been modifed. The "Real" Illuminati that formed the Freemasons is still out there and on the side of good, it's just that there are two Illuminati's right now. The bad one makes the good one look bad. That being said, not all Freemasons are bad (I'm not a Freemason, but I do know some). I doubt any lower level ones know what's going on at all, probably not unless they make it to the Illuminati level in Freemasonry. It all depends on how you use your power and what you stand for. Currently most of the public is being controlled by magic through mainstream media. This is also why the Pope is bad, they control people through a manipulating Christianity.

Here's a video with a number of the bad(probably) artist:

and for that matter, MTV:

I'm am pretty sure Lady GaGa is on the side of the bad, that's what I've know her as for a while. Many of the rituals even take place at the MTV music awards. The white, red, and black dresses each have symbolism. Black is for those already in. White and red is for lower level/initiates. Assignment #1 used Red, Black, White, and Yellow...wonder if there is a similarity.

<-Lady GaGa's initiation

<-Brittany and Christina's Initiation

I believe you may try to get out and it kind of seems like Lady GaGa does, I think Brittany Spears and Michael Jackson tried to get out(or did) and were pretty much destroyed in the process. So yeah, the reason the world sucks so much is cause the bad guys use magic too, they have it easier though and can easily influence people through media and otherwise with the large sums of money they've taken.

Let's see, what next? March 6, 4017, in "The Queen is their Slave" there is a sticker on the apple with 4017 on it, interesting ☺ I looked into the date and you get Spongbob Squarepants LOL! Well, this is media too right? They've been planting symbols in kid's cartoons also. March 6, 4017 is an episode where Spongebob goes to the future and has some symbolism in it:

Was this phrase said anywhere in this thread? It appears in 'The Invisibles'. Those who don't know what this means, it is essentially saying that you(likely) view the soul as being inside your body, when actually, your body lies inside your soul. Your body is the smaller part and compared to the real you, is hardly anything.

Again in 'The Inivisbles' there is something similar. I am wondering if this is actually a 3D sphere represented in 2D. In the comics, this sign has a gradient to it and it is used to explain 4D. Turning a 3D sphere into it's 2D representation is like watching someone shapeshift in 3D.

The mask is meant to symbolize unity, not hide. I don't hide, I'm sure you could find plenty about me if you wanted, not that I'm challenging anyone to. If I wear a mask it's usually with a group, otherwise, I straight on talk to people and explain things, lotta people are more receptive to that, many just ignore ads.

Didn't read that until just now, but that's kind of what I said above and maybe that will help clear a little up? I'm not familiar with "doG", is this "doG", it would make sense...

It's my understanding that it's actually going to get worse and the switch will happen rather quickly, but it's really up to us to get everyone on board. Everything is there and has been for a while like you said, but we suck, there is WAY too much fear, the LuLz need to ensue.

Can't wait to watch The Holy Mountain, caught a copy clips then determined I needed to take some acid to watch that. I expect it to be interesting On the topic of drugs, there is a major psychedelic that you may have come across in your searches and is supposedly pretty much a way to peek into the other side, to go to the outside. This is DMT and has been used by shamans for a long time, they brew up Ayahuasca, which is essentially two plants boiled in slightly acidic water for a long time to extract alkaloids(activator) and the DMT, there are a number of combinations. South American tribes use it for spiritual enlightenment. Never tried it, but someday I will

I don't know if anyone has said anything about this in the source:

Full Idea: Destroy the seriousness of others with laughter, and their laughter with seriousness.

I was mostly joking about the circle with the dot inside being a top down 2-d cross section view of a toroidal field, although it could be construed that way.

In actuality, it represents the 'Inner Circle' and those on the 'Outer Circle'; us in this thread would be the outer circle.

To verify that this is indeed the original symbol for "Illuminism":

Reference:
Secret Societies & Subversive Movements

pg. 202

"""" The word ILLUMINISM is always represented by this symbol in the correspondence of the Illuminati""""

I would also suggest reviewing pages 310-313 in SS & SM, it is where I gained the insights regarding 'Cyphers'.

Mr.Razz

im a bit skeptical towards the whole illuminati/masonic groups etc.

Besides it doesnt even matter, it's still "the system" were dealing with here. No matter who's in power here. Don't forget that. (long story short)

Galatorg -

The quote can be found in the Gospel of Thomas; in saying #22; go to the Gospel of Thomas collection on Gnosis(dot)org.

I am fairly certain Red, White, Black, and Yellow has to do with the races of man ...

doG is God spelled backwards, I think we have a lot of misconceptions in these regards; I hope that Project Mayhem can help us clarify "things".

---

I think that for the time being I have dropped enough hints, I don't see any reason to post any more half-ass compilations beyond this one without the necessary links, vids or images.

I do not know if that Cipher/Cypher riddle has been solved; through a 'Cypher' other extensions of the society: 'Lodges', 'Degrees' or 'Temples' can be formed.

I don't think the dynamic going on here-in, in relation to project mayhem / hivemind operation can be construed as such; although I saw the stuff about the 'VibeCraft' angle.

But it does appear that what is being undergone in relation to Project Mayhem 2012 is an open source initiation into a 'secret society'; I would hope it is without obligation to secrecy under the penalty of death.

I also don't want to jump the gun too much, whether or not there are truly adepts behind it; only those in the inner circle would know.

I am already going to have to go back and ammend the previous posts I have made with the required links, video & images.

I will use the rest of my 'probation period' to fully review the entirety of the information contained here-in in depth and throughout the rest of the forum.

I also want to make it clear that i am just an 'experiencer' my own self, and a seeker of the truth - perhaps a 'Spiritual Warrior'; I would like to see a movement created which is focused on a turning of the tides.

I sent advanced notice to Project Mayhem 2012 before posting on here, sent them some of my own personal visual imagery; and let them know that ""We"" are watching ((I will not say who "WE" are because you wouldn't believe me in the first place, other than; other than me - they are not from around here - but perhaps from above)).

PM2012 did not respond ...

I seriously do hope this effort (project mayhem), and whatis-theplan are it; as I failed with my own efforts to gain serious financial backing or grassroots support over the past 16 years (Unlimited Envisions | Neo-Civilization: 2012 | Project Homeworld) - and I tried very directly to get through to the mean naughty House of Rothschild (via the British Mint, Lord Jacob & his son Nathan).

I have been just about ready to write to the Chinese Communist Government and United Nations Office for Outer Space Affairs for the past 6+ or so months - hoping they would listen.

So I hope that there is hope here, not just subversive movement towards further chaos and "anti-christ luciferianism"; need to get in touch with the order that already underlies the chaos as it exists - and our greater architectural body which is the entirety of the created-completed structure itself ...

I am not an initiate into any secret socieities, for the record; neither am I a 'co-intelligence operative' working for the government or any alphabet agencies (actually, I am unemployed & have lived on the streets for 4 years come end of september, 2011 - on a close to total 'zero' money path - a very challenging experience).

I am a plant intelligence (entheogen) & omni-dimensional multi-universal cosmosphere initiate though; into the ancient future earth star wisdom & alchemical stellar gnosticism ...

This is the "Oath" I took back in 1998, perhaps others may find it useful; perhaps even ANONYMOUS:

DECLARATION OF THE UNIWORLD ARTISANS GUILD AND FOUNDATION

A free and independent association of artisans, including artists, designers, composers, directors, producers, architects, builders, etc., governed by Universal Fundamental Principles and the Scientific Laws of Nature -- and devoted to assisting the Human Race in the reconstruction and harmonization of its planetary and internal environments on all levels of consciousness and matter.

"The policy of this Guild is independent devotion to the cause of Humanity, without professing attachment to any humanitarian, scientific, philosophical, theosophical, religious, or political organization.

It is loyal to the ancient and modern teachers of humanitarian sciences, philosophies, and applied arts, the Masters of Wisdom, the Founding Fathers of the New Order of the Ages, and the Movement for humanity, but it does not concern itself with dissensions or differences of individual opinion.

The work it has on hand and the end it keeps in view are too absorbing and too lofty to leave it the time or inclination to take part in side issues.

That work and that end is the dissemination of the fundamental teachings of Astro Biological Coenergetics, and the exemplification in practice of those teachings, through a truer realization of the SELF; a profounder conviction of Universal Brother-Sisterhood, and a devotion to the designing and reconstruction of the uniworld-solarworld planetary complex and its surrounding space so that all of Humanity can live on, in, and around it in peace, harmony and abundance, absence of oppression, and entitled to individual and cultural life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

It holds that the unassailable basis for union among Humanitarian Artisans wherever and however situated, is "similarity of aim, purpose and teaching," and therefore has neither Constitution, By-laws nor Officers, the sole bond between its Associates being that basis.

And it aims to disseminate this idea among humanitarian artisans in the furtherance of Unity.

It regards as Humanitarian Artisans all who are engaged in the true service of Humanity, without distinction of race, creed, sex, condition or organization, and

It welcomes to its association all those who are in accord with its declared purposes and who desire to fit themselves, by study and otherwise, to be the better able to help and teach others.

'The true Humanitarian Artisan belongs to no cult or sect, yet belongs to each and all.'"

"Being in sympathy with the purposes as set forth in its 'Declaration,' I hereby record my desire to be enrolled as an Associate, it being understood that such association calls for no obligation on my part, other than that which I, myself, determine."

That's all I am going to share for now, until my probationary time period is up; I hope that Project Mayhem will let us know what the skinny is - and which direction the track leads from here - and I want them to -know- I am not just an -interloper- or a -threat- so I hope I will not be viewed that way.

... let there truly be light - of the core source at the central axis of the entirety, not solely darkness masquerading as illumination ...

Ya'all keep up the 'great work' ...

Kind Regards
A Friend in Spirit

I've really enjoyed all you've had to post so far and don't feel threatened You have some great insight on many of the things I've always had interest in and know a number of things I don't. I hope it's not just some masquerade as well. /facepalm on the colors, that makes sense. Can't wait until you post more. Namaste

Ok, now as for the Cipher/Cypher stuff and Consciousness being the key. I can't really think of the correct words, but would the cipher be "real life" or existence as most people know it? It certainly isn't a cypher, it would be more like pure thought. The key, being consciousness, decodes it.

There was earlier mention of the Vesica Piscis. If you look into all the seed of life, flower of life, fruit of life stuff, you will see many things. There is lots of mathematics in all of it such as generating Phi. Phi can be found after the Vesica Piscis is generated, Vesica Piscis and Divine Proportion Calculations EDIT: Sorry, just realized this was kind of covered by Anonymouth on the first page. Might be viewed a little differently now?

Was looking a bit into Muse. There were some links to them on the countdown page in the source of project mayhem 2012.

Muse it about taking the bad illuminati down. This guy thinks Muse's latest album is a 3 step plan to taking them down. Ken's Blog

The 3 steps:
1.Exposing the clandestine Illuminati through incessant radio airplay.
2.The masses run and hide once martial law is instituted.
3.The third and final step is a bit more complicated, as it involves sending a distress signal to an unnamed alien race, based on the lyrics, "Spread our codes to the stars...You must rescue us all."

Listening to the album right now. I'm kinda odd and usually don't hear lyrics to songs very well, but picked up on most of the ones in Uprising which is the first song and is the one in the video above...wow, lol, these are the lyrics:

The paranoia is in bloom, the PR
The transmissions will resume
They'll try to push drugs
Keep us all dumbed down and hope that We will never see the truth around
(So come on!)

Another promise, another scene, another
A package not to keep us trapped in greed
With all the green belts wrapped around our minds
And endless red tape to keep the truth confined (So come on!)

They will not force us
They will stop degrading us
They will not control us
We will be victorious

Interchanging mind control
Come let the revolution take its toll if you could Flick the switch and open your third eye, you'd see that We should never be afraid to die
(So come on!)

Rise up and take the power back, it's time that
The fat cats had a heart attack, you know that
Their time is coming to an end
We have to unify and watch our flag ascend

They will not force us
They will stop degrading us
They will not control us
We will be victorious

Hey .. hey ... hey .. hey!

They will not force us
They will stop degrading us
They will not control us
We will be victorious

Hey .. hey ... hey .. hey!

Hey guys I finished my art! I started out drawing the sunset and just let my mind flow. And this is the result.

If someone wants to enhance it and make the colors more saturated or something then go for it.

I'm not quite sure what it means yet. It just felt right for some reason.

Apparently Alejandro Jodorowsky was supposed to make the Dune movie(the first one, although the rest that's been made were SciFi/SyFy mini-series'). Looks like he was going to reshape the whole story. Found some great info on it at Unseen - Jodorowsky's Dune

I read something that said it would have been 14 hours long I think it would have been awesome. If you aren't familiar with the Dune series, it's a great series, I haven't read it all, but it's set WAY in the future. I don't want to give spoilers (and it's a huge epic story), but basically society has outlawed thinking machines and developed mentally. Eventually they are able to travel the stars through folding space with thought and the use of Spice, Navigators(a guild), and a ship. Spice is this superdrug that expands consciousness. The story is about the 'Golden Path' that must be traveled to reach a good civilization, but there are many bad things that must happen along the way. There's a lot to it, but it's pretty interesting.

I have no idea how I did not find this thread until now. In any case, this thread and Project Mayhem 2012 scare the hell out of me, because it is in essence an Alternative Reality Game that promotes Rosicrucianism and Black Magic in the guise of "Anonymous" activism.

This is not the path of enlightenment! It is the path of controlling and being controlled, of deceiving and being deceived!

I'm very curious to see how this "game" plays out, but I can't imagine that this will end well unless you know what Rosicrucianism and black magic are really all about.

I'm also going to cross-post something from another forum that I found relevant to all of this.

Note: This quote contains information from a channeled source. Since we're already way off the deep end, why the hell not?

We hope to unmask these state sponsored terrorist attacks, devised by those wishing to terrifying populations into supporting wars which serve imperial agendas.
> >
> > Even now, few understand the original plot: Guy was a dupe ensnared by a chief minister in a madcap scheme to blow up King and Parliament. The real plot was royally successful: to invent a pretext for war with Spain. The fraud was the foundation of the British empire.

On 9/11/2001, plotters embedded in the US government, working on a Project for a New American Century, faked the pretext for a Clash of Civilizations - and a neo-fascist world order.

> > â€œ In 1605 James I Stuart, was considering a policy of accommodation with the Spanish Empire, the leading Catholic power. He was also considering some measures of toleration for Catholics in England, where the landed gentry in the north was loyal to Rome. An influential group in London, backed by Venetian intelligence from abroad, wanted to push James I into a confrontation with the Spanish Empire, from which they hoped to extract great personal profit. They also thought it was politically vital to keep persecuting the Roman Catholics. Chief among the war party was the royal chancellor, Lord Robert Cecil. Cecil set out to sway James I to adopt his policy, by means of terrorism.
> >
> > â€œCecil cultivated some Catholics, one of them Lord Thomas Percy, and used them as cut-outs to direct the operations of a group of naÃ¯ve Catholic fanatics and adventurers, among them a gullible man named Guy Fawkes. This group of Catholic fanatics hatched the idea first of tunneling into the basement of the Houses of Parliament from a nearby house, and then renting the basement of the Houses of Parliament, in order to pack that basement with explosives for the purpose of blowing up King, Lords, and Commons. Instead Guy Fawkes was caught going into the basement the night before the crime. Fawkes and the rest of the plotters were tortured and hanged, and several Catholic clergy were scapegoated. James I put aside his plans for toleration of Catholics, and England set out on a century of wars against the Spanish and Portuguese Empires, from which the British Empire was born. Guy Fawkes Day became the festival of â€œno poperyâ€� and hatred of Spain.

After the event, James I does appear to have realized what Cecilâ€™s role had been. Thomas Percy, Cecilâ€™s agent in the Gunpowder Plot, was called a â€˜tame duck employed to catch the wild ones.â€™ The fact that he was Cecilâ€™s agent did not prevent Percy from being killed as part of the cover-up after November 5. At the risk of mixing metaphors, we can cite the opinion of a contemporary observer that Cecil, once he had secured the game birds he was seeking, hanged the spaniel who had actually caught them for him, â€˜that its masterâ€™s art might not appear.â€™â€� It is time to expose these schemes to the light of day.)

Then, the clue you gave about 'blue waters and white skies' led to lake Geneva and this amazing place in Europe that is clearly the geographic center of all the landmasses on the planet, and probably the point from which all measures should be made. And this was the third 'Percy'... or Domino...

And another extremely interesting connection, with respect to the idea that both the British and American empires began with a war with Spain.

An influential group in London, backed by Venetian intelligence from abroad, wanted to push James I into a confrontation with the Spanish Empire, from which they hoped to extract great personal profit. They also thought it was politically vital to keep persecuting the Roman Catholics. Chief among the war party was the royal chancellor, Lord Robert Cecil. Instead Guy Fawkes was caught going into the basement the night before the crime. Fawkes and the rest of the plotters were tortured and hanged, and several Catholic clergy were scapegoated. James I put aside his plans for toleration of Catholics, and England set out on a century of wars against the Spanish and Portuguese Empires, from which the British Empire was born. Guy Fawkes Day became the festival of â€œno poperyâ€� and hatred of Spain.

Yes I've read alot of this thread, alot in prior days. Its scary... Seems a bitch cliche sometimes.. I'm not sure what to think of it. Sounds like an overactive imagination meets world, and somehow numbers and codes play into this all while dabbling into history. One must read this thread with much discretion.

The other implication that frightens me to no end is that it appears this Project Mayhem 2012 is attempting to tie Anonymous to Black Magick and Aleister Crowley.

Just what are you going to do when you're out on the street and handing out fliers, and someone walks up to you and asks, "You're Anonymous? I heard you guys are into that Aleister Crowley stuff. I want nothing to do with you."

It's like the Black Panther Coloring Book all over again, except this time it's with satanic imagery.

http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t7339-cointelpro-watch-001-the-black-panther-coloring-book

Another impression I have is that Anonymouth here isn't just one guy. They must have a team putting all of this together. I mean, the amount of work that must have gone into all of this is mind-boggling, and it really begs the question, to what end? Are we being tar-babied to Aleister Crowley?

At any rate, I'm moving this thread to General Conspiracy.

1.) I don't think so but you could be right. But at this moment this whole pm2012 thing is to small to have any impact on our image and most people wont even lurk deep enough to get the "satanic ritual" picture, geez I've been reading through this thread the day after it popped up and I stumbled upon pm2012 on June 24th and I still don't get the whole picture 😵
But seeing the references (~el8 for example) and the low popularity I highly doubt that this a counter intelligence measure, I just think that some highly motivated Anons tried to bring their own believes into the Hive.
And as far as I am concerned most of the information posted in this thread related to pm2012 could be wrong anyway.

2.) I don't see a conspiracy related topic but meh, have it your way FFaD.

@Telemachos

You draw some good points there, at any rate i will still see how this is gonna develop. I'm interested in how this plays out. But i will still be cautious. People can lose their minds blindly following all this and what they find out during their search of the truth about projectmayhem2012 and all that is related to it. IF they're not cautious enough they can't keep fact or fiction apart from each other. Or bring other subjects into connection that has maybe nothing to do with this AT ALL.

What if this plays out and we find out we are projectmayhem's drones too? Is this project really our answer? I hope so, but still i stay vigilant. More people in the past have claimed similar things about being the answer to a corrupt world. I am very open minded about many stuff that is also posted on here. But i'm just saying, don't be dissapointed if it doesn't work out the way you want it to be.

Stay vigilant, stay open-minded. But most of all: follow your heart and intuition

I will see you guys further down the rabbit hole 🙂

I wonder if there will be cake 🐰

Anyway, good thinking Mr.Razz 🙂

All of us should try to stay objective here and not get wraped up by wether it's a giant hoax, cointelpro, a conspiracy or the real deal.
Or to put it in internet terms: nothing is to be taken srsly.

Thank you Marax,

Just remember all of you: Nothing is true, everything is permitted 🙂

It does not mean that there is no such thing as Truth, for it is obvious to any that there is a Truth - otherwise the very phrase would have no meaning in itself.

Rather, its point is that this reality before you and the way you view it are allowed by you.

This is not an obvious thing to all, but all do practice it.
One must first realize... And then they must learn to understand.

Truth is only what we make of it. there is no absolute "truth" or "permission" or even good/evil. its all in the perception. like the old cliche one man's freedom fighter is another's terrorist.i feel that is very true (or equally untrue!) whatever side you fall on.

do unto others as you would have done unto you that doesn't mean make others do what you want them to do - it means give them the same freedom you would want yourself.

This pretty much sums up my reply to the recent posts. I don't know if it's implied that I am here on some sort of conspiracy with Anonymouth, but quite frankly I just kind of randomly came across this thread. Of course, that doesn't exactly prove it one way or another.

A big thing I want to say is that what really matters is how you use any of this info. If someone asks you to go out and blow up a building you don't. The best way to explain what the differences are here is looking into The Left-Hand Path vs. The Right-Hand Path. In the top portion it's mentioned that "Other occultists have criticised this definition, believing that the Left-Right dichotomy refers merely to different kinds of working, and does not necessarily connote good or bad magical actions." I feel this is very much the case. Not all black magic is bad, again has to do with how you use it. Also, "Some contemporary occultists have stressed that both paths can be followed by a magical practitioner, as essentially they have the same goals." I would say the material in this thread shows that. I take both paths, but was also skeptical when black magic started coming up. I worship nobody. Everyone is equally important and nobody's free will should be imposed upon. You could argue that the music/art is designed to influence people though, but if you believe that you also see that the government is doing it, but at a much higher level and for you to lose your free will.

One thing that mostly takes me to the left-hand path is "They often reject societal convention and the status quo, which some suggest is in a search for spiritual freedom. As a part of this, LHP followers embrace magical techniques that would traditionally be viewed as taboo, for instance using sex magic or embracing Satanic imagery." whereas right-hand path is "They adhere to social conventions and avoid taboos." In that aspect, I am very much LHP, I can and will go against the grain when I need to. I will not limit myself because somebody told me it was bad, I'll determine that for myself.

This is half of what I get out of this thread. The other half is a view on how it has all been used and came about.

I feel that this is pretty much the case. I would take all the info into account and make your own decisions, but like Marax said, most of the info could be wrong anyways. At any rate, I'm learning a lot of things and am having a great time.

It's good to see -some- objectivity enter the picture, sorry for raining on the parade; hopefully there will be more to come forth.

It would be nice to see 'IT ALL LEAKED' ...

You all might want to look into 'Martinism' since they are already espousing a cabalistic angle; also Telemachos mentioned the Rosicrucians ...

Also, seeing as -reality- is about balance between opposing polarities; forever caught in a tandem dance in unison.

I don't think this has been mentioned yet, but it's been there a while...

On the main page of pm2012 there is a highlighted part of the Declaration of Independence, that highlighted part is:

"That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government"

Spanish phone number and physical address is related to multiple escrow fraud activities. Trace route on PROJECTMAYHEM2012.ORG originates at a Goodyear shop in Houston, TX. GPS coordinates of lat 29.7523002625 long -95.3669967651.

I'm having fun mainly watching and exploring the many embedded links and such. It should go without saying, but given the array of personalities visiting the site, that you should receive the information presented with a degree of skepticism. As it has been said in earlier pages; this all may be coincidence. As far as the use of occult teachings, I would recommend using your best judgement and don't ignorantly explore them.

wow...just wow... so many beautiful things happening in this thread...

>
> â€œ In 1605 James I Stuart, was considering a policy of accommodation with the Spanish Empire, the leading Catholic power. He was also considering some measures of toleration for Catholics in England, where the landed gentry in the north was loyal to Rome. An influential group in London, backed by Venetian intelligence from abroad, wanted to push James I into a confrontation with the Spanish Empire, from which they hoped to extract great personal profit. They also thought it was politically vital to keep persecuting the Roman Catholics. Chief among the war party was the royal chancellor, Lord Robert Cecil. Cecil set out to sway James I to adopt his policy, by means of terrorism.
>
> â€œCecil cultivated some Catholics, one of them Lord Thomas Percy, and used them as cut-outs to direct the operations of a group of naÃ¯ve Catholic fanatics and adventurers, among them a gullible man named Guy Fawkes. This group of Catholic fanatics hatched the idea first of tunneling into the basement of the Houses of Parliament from a nearby house, and then renting the basement of the Houses of Parliament, in order to pack that basement with explosives for the purpose of blowing up King, Lords, and Commons. Instead Guy Fawkes was caught going into the basement the night before the crime. Fawkes and the rest of the plotters were tortured and hanged, and several Catholic clergy were scapegoated. James I put aside his plans for toleration of Catholics, and England set out on a century of wars against the Spanish and Portuguese Empires, from which the British Empire was born. Guy Fawkes Day became the festival of â€œno poperyâ€� and hatred of Spain.
>
> â€œConcerning the Gunpowder Plot, Cecil either found means to instigate the conspirators to undertake their enterprise, or, at least, being, from an early stage of the undertaking, fully aware of what was going on, nursed the scheme till the time came to make capital out of it. The conspirators, or most of them, meant to strike a great blow and their guilt should not be excused, but they were unwittingly playing the game of plotters more astute than themselves.

> â€œ(James I does not seem to have been aware of the operation in advance. The plot was not directed against him; but intended to push him in a specific policy direction. After the event, James I does appear to have realized what Cecilâ€™s role had been. Thomas Percy, Cecilâ€™s agent in the Gunpowder Plot, was called a â€˜tame duck employed to catch the wild ones.â€™ The fact that he was Cecilâ€™s agent did not prevent Percy from being killed as part of the cover-up after November 5. At the risk of mixing metaphors, we can cite the opinion of a contemporary observer that Cecil, once he had secured the game birds he was seeking, hanged the spaniel who had actually caught them for him, â€˜that its masterâ€™s art might not appear.â€™â€�

The Information Awareness Office (IAO) was established by the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA) in January 2002 to bring together several DARPA projects focused on applying surveillance and information technology to track and monitor terrorists and other asymmetric threats to national security, by achieving Total Information Awareness (TIA). This would be achieved by creating enormous computer databases to gather and store the personal information of everyone in the United States, including personal e-mails, social networks, credit card records, phone calls, medical records, and numerous other sources, without any requirement for a search warrant.[1] This information would then be analyzed to look for suspicious activities, connections between individuals, and "threats".[2] Additionally, the program included funding for biometric surveillance technologies that could identify and track individuals using surveillance cameras, and other methods.[2]

The scallop shell also acts as a metaphor. The grooves in the shell, which come together at a single point, represent the various routes pilgrims traveled, eventually arriving at a single destination: the tomb of James in Santiago de Compostela. The shell is also a metaphor for the pilgrim. As the waves of the ocean wash scallop shells up on the shores of Galicia, God's hand also guided the pilgrims to SantIAgO.

which is (2), so that indeed x = Ï†. A derivation based on the presence of similar triangles was posted by Jan van de Craats as a solution to Coxeter's problem and included by R. Nelsen in his collection Proofs Without Words II.

(Linda Fahlberg-Stojanovska made a camcast that follows Odom's construction by paper folding a circle. The resulting pentagon is very nearly regular, but not quite.)

In the above mentioned article, K. Hofstetter, offered another elegant way of obtaining the Golden Ratio.

It should go without saying, but given the array of personalities visiting the site, that you should receive the information presented with a degree of skepticism. As it has been said in earlier pages; this all may be coincidence. As far as the use of occult teachings, I would recommend using your best judgement and don't ignorantly explore them.

Not sure how you get your info or what you know about traceroutes, but I get slightly different info. Those traceroutes typically get you more of a city location. This is the traceroute info I get from here:
Country: United States
State/Region: Texas
City: Houston
Latitude: 29.7523
Longitude: -95.367
Area Code: 713
Postal Code: 77002

IP: 174.122.174.189
Decimal: 2927275709
Hostname: bd.ae.7aae.static.theplanet.com
ISP: THEPLANET.COM INTERNET SERVICES Organization: THEPLANET.COM INTERNET SERVICES

To me it looks like "theplanet.com" hosts their services, which is located in Houston, again a traceroute only goes so well, typically to the city they are in.

I do find this interesting though, "Spanish phone number and physical address is related to multiple escrow fraud activities.", not sure what to make of that Usually the hosting company and the registrant company are the same. Not in this case.

For some reason, the domain was registered with the spanish company 'Dinahosting', which seem to be physically located in Santiago de Compostela, Spain.

According to the DNS info provided by http://centralops.net/co/DomainDossier.aspx , projectmayhem2012.org IN TXT v=spf1 a mx include:websitewelcome.com ~all 14400s (04:00:00)

189.174.122.174.in-addr.arpa IN PTR bd.ae.7aae.static.theplanet.com 86400s (1.00:00:00)

The site seems to be physically hosted at theplanet.com (to be more precise, here: bd.ae.7aae.static.theplanet.com ), quite a well known hosting facility that hosts the servers that hostgator.com is renting to them, which is also quite a well known hosting reseller actually.

Simple, really.

The intriguing thing is that for some reason -or just another coincidance, sure! - the city chosen to register the domain name and to be shown in the whois is actually Santiago de Compostela, in Spain, such a significant place in relation to Guy Fawkes' catholicism, the Fibonacci sequence, Aleister Crowley and stuff, as explained in the post above.

Maybe SantIAgO de Compostela was chosen on purpose to be another clue in the game? Well, who knows...

I was just coming back to post something similar, I had come to the same conclusion about it was the number of their registrant. So...I agree

Cool info above, but I think it's a coincidance I don't really understand how you picked those letters out of it. But hey who knows when you are in the rabbit hole this far

The reason why they need --10-- people to have sent in artwork is to ensure the presence of god in the assembly.

Apparently seems to go back to a talmudic belief that a service can not take place in a synagogue unless 10 persons are present.

Just read the matrix coding, it's pretty clear Honestly though, I could see that as a possibility, although probably irrelevant if it is true at all.

You know they're chillin' in their spaceships in Antartica infecting the tubes.

It took me alot of energy to not take the trolling invitation

Your first guess was right so meh.

But to be honest, it is quite exciting to see #Antisec and pm2012 mentioned in the same sentence
pr0j3ct m4yh3m
That shit is ancient, revive it eh?

Edit: Also considering the references to ~el8 earlier mentioned in this thread, it kinda gets a new picture.

http://www.anti-sec.com/

I think I stumbled onto a landmine.

If you look through the site, it talks about black hats and white hats.

also look through the coding of "Antisec exposed".

The Ancient Aliens sent me here (Andromedan/Orion/Draconian Alliance & Alpha Centauri/Sirius/Antares)

Couple cool sites, most are probably familiar with; although a few maybe are not:

Dan Winter:

goldenmean(dot)info
fractalfield(dot)com

---

regarding ufos - we've had the tech for 90+ years and we didn't get it from Crowley's Grey's but from Orsic & Sigrun's Aldebaran's', still am in probationary period so can't post links to my favorite UFO Propaganda sites (Nazi Thule/Vril)

UFO How To ufohowto(dot)com

Do a query for:

Aldebaran, Grey Falcon
Disc, Grey Falcon

Not to be rude or anything, but that is kinda off-topic. And probably most of the people here won't believe you anyway. So please stay on-topic here 🙂

+1 for this

The whole Crowley buisness was really interesting and I enjoyed reading it but I had the feeling that pm2012 was more aligned to scene business.
Once again the question if it's about 'hacking' ones mind or hacking computer systems?
Either way, I will stay in this thread.

http://www.anti-sec.com/antisec.txt ok i found out that the antisec movement was crated by these guys, there's also alot of mention of pro-sec in this text file.

im still analising it atm it looks like records of successfull hacking attemps.

It also mentions on the website the whole point of the anti-sec movment is to revive project mayhem.

maybe there trying to make us think like a hacker, like in their manifesto by THE-MENTOR

Possible, looking into it - glad to have you aboard skie11 🙂

Also question to the mods:
I know that we are not to discuss hacking on this forum due to legal issues, but since we are not encouraging people to do it nor do we provide sources/faq's/tools or anything like that, is it ok if we keep this going?
And please don't /b/omb this thread...just tell us if we should stop at this point or not.

Well there's more to pm2012 than meets the eye(obviously)

I however would like to know more about their intentions, why are they sharing this with us, they're encouraging us any way they can without revealing too much. Can the people behind pm2012 really be trusted? Instead of looking at the message i would like to know:

WHO ARE THEY AND WHAT IS THEIR AGENDA

I know pm2012 are keeping this under watch, that must mean they're a member of WITP too(u can't watch this forum if your a guest remember?)

So i ask of you, please step forward and open up.

thanks,

We're not encouraging, We're reporting history.

anyway.

providing the infomation that the website PM2012 has giving us. There need to be a "theory" on tieing in:

Rapid evolution of anonymous.
Anti-sec.
Old (disbanded) hacking groups

WITP. and the occult.

I know it sounds strange but , It must all fit in some how.

Now if u click on the link for the full post, u come on a website with nothing on it. Even in the source. So far a dead-end...

very interesting but who are the White hats and Black hats they keep on mentioning them.

is/was there a war of hackers on the internet a fair while ago?

I've been looking through old Irc chat logs and they seem to talk about project mayhem but they never said what it was.

Whitehats are hackers who hack systems in order to improve security and almost always work for big companies etc.

Black hats are hackers who are not authorized to hack, and can spread viruses etc.

ah I see.

Im wondering why the pm2012 is leaking out infomation like this.

Im not sure if im letting my imagination run away with me, but maybe the -el8 or some other group have stumbled upon somthing while hacking and I'll change the world, just like wiki leaks did.

I'm reading through this site:
http://gbppr.dyndns.org/phrack/phrack.ru/old/index.html

Its from phrack and they were closely affiliated to pr0j3kt m4yh3m. I wouldn't mess with them though. Seems like they are highly experienced hackers who were on a war with the "white hat hackers" After reading through some of this. I even read some people even died in this "war". 1 committed suicide and another got caught in china and got executed. So yeah pretty serious.

I still wonder if this pr0j3kt m4yh3m is even affiliated to our projectmayhem. Maybe we just found its roots, maybe not. Will research more.

In the meantime, i found an e-mail address wich originates from my own country! So i will contact this person for more information.

Maybe not in the same terms as pr0j3kt m4yh3m but someone definitley got motived through it and came up with pm2012, still curious if the real 'old school' has something to do with pm2012.

If so - brix will be shat.

Also..

Once upon a time... a long, long time ago... there was a mystical city,
TAR. And at that time... all the cities were intact... and flourishing.

BECAUSE  THE FINAL WAR HAD NOT YET BEGUN. ***
WHEN THE GREAT CATASTROPHE OCCURRED... ALL THE CITIES CRUMBLED, except TAR.

 TAR still exists. ***
 IF YOU KNOW WHERE TO LOOK FOR IT, YOU WILL FIND IT. ***
IT WILL OVERWHELM YOU AND NEVER ABANDON YOU."

could this be about the black hats vs the white hats?

damn I can find this info but I csn never find the remote.

Yes master, wouldn't want you or anyone else to educate yourselves or try and understand what is really going on (not that I am saying I know myself) - as well as gain the necessary context of how it all came about.

I am not posting here for my own self gratification, I also don't really have any qualms over taking myself elsewhere.

... I thought this was to be a forum where not solely 'free dumb' reigned; but had hoped some people around here might actually have some smarts ...

Neither Dan Winter's work, nor are the Nazi Thule/Vril UFO Mythos outside of the realm of this thread ...

How do you know that I wasn't --GUIDED-- to this forum and thread, you don't.

I don't seek to censor you, your thinking, your worldview or what you have to say.

Show me the same, as the ethic of reciprocicity maintains ...

Maybe I will go elsewhere, but I thought this was the place where the dupes weren't.

Could it perhaps point to "Tar Valon" http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Tar_Valon

Tar Valon is a fictional city in Robert Jordan's fantasy series the Wheel of Time.

OR maybe we should take it more literally

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Tar_(file_format)

> In computing, tar (derived from tape archive) is both a file format (in the form of a type of archive bitstream) and the name of a program used to handle such files. The format was created in the early days of Unix and standardized by POSIX.1-1988 and later POSIX.1-2001.
> Initially developed to be written directly to sequential I/O devices for tape backup purposes, it is now commonly used to collect many files into one larger file for distribution or archiving, while preserving file system information such as user and group permissions, dates, and directory structures.

just going through several possibilities...

probably wrong about both anyway

> A tarbomb is derogatory hacker slang used to refer to a tarball that does not follow the usual conventions, i.e. it contains many files that extract into the working directory. Such a tarball can create problems by overwriting files of the same name in the working directory, or mixing one project's files into another. It is almost always an inconvenience to the user, who is obliged to identify and delete a number of files > scattered throughout the directory's contents. Such behavior is considered bad etiquette on the part of the archive's creator.

>
> A related problem is the use of absolute paths or parent directory references when creating tarballs. Files extracted from such tarballs will often be created in unusual locations outside the working directory and, like a tarbomb, have the potential to overwrite existing files. GNU tar by default refuses to create or extract absolute paths, but is still vulnerable to parent-directory references. (The bsdtar program, which is available on a number of operating systems and is the default "tar" on Mac OS X v10.6, also ordinarily refuses to follow parent-directory references or symlinks.[3])
>
> A command line user can avoid both of these problems by first examining a tar file with a command like tar -tf archive.tar. This does not extract any files, but displays the names of all files in the archive. If any are problematic, the user can create a new empty directory and extract the tarball into it—or avoid the tarball entirely. Most graphical tools can display the contents of the archive before extracting them.

it fits the hacker theme. Dont forget the pm2012 website has a few hacker quotes in it. so do they mean interms of cyberspace or meatspace?

I've seem to be diggin further into the internets, it feels like im going back in time lol anyway here the rest of the tar story,

Once upon a time long long time ago there was a mystical city called Tar.. And at that time all the cities were intact and flourishing, there were no ruins, because the final war had not yet begun. When the great catastrophe occurred, all the cities crumbled.. except Tar.. Tar still exists. If you know where to look for it you will find it. And when you get there you will be presented with wine and water and you could play with a gramophone. When you get there, you will help harvest grapes and you will pick up scorpions hidden under white rocks. When you get there, you will know eternity. You'll see a bird that drinks one drop of water from the ocean every hundred years. When you get there, you'll understand life. You'll become a cat, phoenix, swan, elephant, baby and an old man. You'll be alone and accompanied. You'll love and be loved, you'll be everywhere, and yours will be the seal of seals. As you approach the future, you'll find ecstasy, and it will never abandon you." (From Alexander Jodorowky's "Fando y Lis", 1968).

I know that my methods might be a little bit unorthodox, but there is much more context & intrigue than just dealing solely with Aleister Crowley - I personally don't think he is all that great of a role model to be celebrated.

I am trying to -drop hints- that supply contextual background - if you followed through and did the necessary reserach & queries; and I was being very serious and not joking regarding 'Aliens' (other terrestrial or extra/interdimensional terrestrial intelligences)..

If Aleister Crowley communicated with Lam, who is to say that I have not communictated with 'them' or that the potential does not exist for you or anyone else to be in communication with "them?".

I am not here for the computer hacking, but to see the unfoldment of timelines within the spatial field corrected.

If what i have to say doesn't resonate or doesn't make sense; please just disregard it; much of what I have to say is just as much for those behind Project Mayhem as it is for those in the outer circle - us.

Mhh, interesting paper. But I don't see the relationship to "our" PM2012.
Am I missing something?

your find about TAR was already discovered on page 21, i just found out. Too bad man

@12DnaHelix

Im not for the computer hacking here either, i'm learning about reality and what it is and how we can change it. Words cant really describe why i feel so connected to this thread, it just seems "right" and i want to know more and more.

I once made a vow to myself, before i die i want as much knowledge about this world as i possibly can.

thank you for your kindness, i will also read back to your previous posts and query your "hints". I was just caught up in the moment at that time, sorry again.

hmm this might make the link.

btw if you look hard in google you find these pages are hidden with txt files withing websites.

>
> :for values of: [MIT] A common rhetorical maneuver at MIT is to use any of the canonical {random numbers} as placeholders for variables. "The max function takes 42 arguments, for arbitrary values of 42." "There are 69 ways to leave your lover, for 69 = 50." This is especially likely when the speaker has uttered a random number and realizes that it was not recognized as such, but even `non-random' numbers are occasionally used in this fashion. A related joke is that pi equals 3 --- for small values of pi and large values of 3.
>
> Historical note: this usage probably derives from the programming language MAD (Michigan Algorithm Decoder), an Algol-like language that was the most common choice among mainstream (non-hacker) users at MIT in the mid-60s. It had a control structure FOR VALUES OF X = 3, 7, 99 DO ... that would repeat the indicated instructions for each value in the list (unlike the usual FOR that only works for arithmetic sequences of values).
>
> :ha ha only serious: [from SF fandom, orig. as mutation of HHOK, `Ha Ha Only Kidding'] A phrase (often seen abbreviated as HHOS) that aptly captures the flavor of much hacker discourse. Applied especially to parodies, absurdities, and ironic jokes that are both intended and perceived to contain a possibly disquieting amount of truth, or truths that are constructed on in-joke and self-parody. This lexicon contains many examples of ha-ha-only-serious in both form and content. Indeed, the entirety of hacker culture is often perceived as ha-ha-only-serious by hackers themselves; to take it either too lightly or too seriously marks a person as an outsider, a {wannabee}, or in {larval stage}. This reminds me of Stuxnet, as a matter of fact. Supposedly Stuxnet was designed by Israel specifically to target Iranian nuclear plants.

Yes, those are Craig Oxley's forums (Unhived Mind 1, 2, 3); it is a good resource for all kinds of conspiratorial related information dealing with the Jesuits, Sovereign Military Order of Malta, Revived Knights Templars, etc.

I have one contact that may or may not be from one of the families he puts above Rothschild:

Aldobrandini, Breakspear, Farnese, Orsini, Somaglia

I may send him this thread, to keep an eye on.

I have been on the path for 16 years, I am a repository of much information; and like I mentioned previously - I am self initiated into the mysteries via mushrooms, the cactus of the four winds, and perhaps a little bit of communication with so called "ETs" or ((Archons??))

Some of the stuff dealing with ANONYMOUS & Project Mayhem in particular appears to have to do with paradigm shifts, global brain, memetics, etc ...

Alot of this stuff partially originates with Pierre Teilhard de Chardin (a Jesuit), understanding the 'Noosphere' is required contextually.

Noosphere & Meme's = Related

Wow last time I checked this, last night, we were only on page 24.. good work fellas!

Well, I have been following this thread since the begginning and I was already very interested in occultism. I have learned so much here though and changes in my life have already being happening.

The most important thing was when i finally declared and accepted to be a magician. Before that I used to live wanting to be, hoping that such things were real, and waiting on the world to produce something magical. When in fact, the catch was to simply declare myself as one, and notice that a lot of magic is happening in front of us all the time!

Like some said, I made the same vowel, of acquiring as much knowledge as I can and to elevate my consciousness here on this plain before I die and move on. Others here have done the same thing and have the same approach and interest for such things being talked about in this thread.

I dont think it is coinsciDANCE. I think the point with pm2012 was to release a sigil and the people that were suppose to find it, people that were destined or somehow subconsciously looking for it, would find.

So now we have this platform here, where a lot of knowledge has been displayed and a lot of minds have been gathered. The whole WITP purpose is to have people with different expertises and that could act in different spheres of our civilization.

What I see from pm2012 is that its a call for the magicians, for the theosophists, for the people that are interested in manipulating the ancients knowledges vastly forgotten on the obscures of underground or corrupted by religious institutions.
Their intention we dont know, but it seems to be the same as ours. Bring about change. We can use the knowledge that we are acquiring here, and most of us I believe are doing their own homework and research as well, to help preparing the minds that are not ready yet for the transition, for the new aeon.

There is not really any space destined for people that wants to share the knowledge and discuss practices and traditions, other than secret societies and shit like that. pm2012 for me is opening the doors for an open-source "society" if you will. The knowledge is dangerous in unprepared hands, thats why everytihng is encoded, and charades and mysteries. So the right minds can figure out.

I am starting to work in short story essays here, just to play around and see where it leads. But theres no limit for what could be accomplish here. I noticed that most artists(magicians) that somehow manifest theirs magic through those teachings, people like David Bowie, Led Zeppelin, Iron Maiden, Paulo Coelho, Raul Seixas, Alan Moore and a lot more, are always successful in delivering their message, people actually dig and hear them! We have the potential of doing much more than them. They did not have the same communication and information getting tools that we do.

This is getting too long and it might be not very well structured, Ive been wanting to write here for so long and I decide it is the time so I am pretty much freestyling and english is not my first language.

But to summerize it all, lets combine our magickal abilities and release sigils and other kinds of works for our fellow anons that maybe are not interested in learning and discussing everything that are being said here, but that would be affected by our positive magickal actions and would give them strength to keep on going on our battle here!

I feel that instead of looking for who they (pm2012) are, and what they want, and be skeptical. It is now time for us to focus on increasing our knowledge and skills and work together. Remember the dangerous ideas? Seems like they want to coordinate actions, which would be fine, but we dont need to limited to it, lets write poems, stories, draw pictures, make music, to inspire our fellow anons.

Thats pretty much it, just wanted to share with you what I am feeling. thanks for reading and further feedbacks!

Stay positive my friends

I found this while searching who the breakspear family was (who 12dnahelix mentioned)

Regarding /B/ees

> The Merovingian kings were noted sorcerors in the manner of the Samaritan Magi, and they firmly believed in the hidden powers of the honeycomb. Because a honeycomb is naturally made up of hexagonal prisms, it was considered by philosophers to be the manifestation of divine harmony in nature. Its construction was associated with insight and wisdom - as detailed in Proverbs 24:13-14: “My son, eat thou honey, because it is good… So shall the knowledge of wisdom be unto thy soul…”
>
> To the Merovingians, the bee was a most hallowed creature. A sacred emblem of Egytian royalty, it became a symbol of Wisdom. Some 300 small golden bees were founded stitched to the cloak of Childeric I (son of Meroveus) when his grave was unearthed in 1653. Napoleon had these attached to his own coronation robe in 1804. He claimed this right by virtue of his descent from James de Rohan-Stuardo, the natural son (legitimized in 1667) of Charles II Stuart of Britain by Marguerite, Duchesse de Rohan. The Stuarts in turn were entitled to this distinction because they, and their related Counts of Brittany, were descended from Clodion’s brother Fredemundus - thus (akin to the Merovingians) they were equally in descent from the Fisher Kings through Faramund. The Merovingian bee was adopted by the exiled Stuarts in Europe, and engraved bees are still to be seen on some Jacobite glassware.”

Regarding the most powerfull families in the world

> The Vatican-Jesuit-Masonic mafia network is supported by many of the wealthiest families in Europe and the US. Research is beginning to show that the (alleged) Council of Ten - which itself is likely a part of the A∴A∴ ("Arcana Arcanorum") - is composed of the ten most powerful Roman families in the world. ([12], [13]). Among these are the: Farnese, Aldobrandini, Borghese, Medici, Orsini, Caetani, and other.
>
> Then there are the more prominent, but certainly less powerful, Rothschild family (Knights of Malta [14]) and the Rockefeller family (Knights of Malta, who got started using Rothschild financing for American oilfield exploitations). These and other prominent, relatively new, wealthy families function as financial proxies, political proxies, and awareness distractions for the larger, more secretive, Vatican-Jesuit-Masonic mafia operations.

Since this occult thing has been mentioned several times now lets look at it from a different kind of light:

Arcana Arcanorum
Taken directly from:
http://wikicompany.org/wiki/911:Black_nobility#Arcana_Arcanorum

> Arcana Arcanorum
>
> Alternative names:
> Brotherhood of the Snake (Cult of the Serpent", "Dragon Society") > Arcana Arcanorum, Arcanum Arcanorum, Argentium Astrum, Aâˆ´Aâˆ´
> "Arcana Arcanorum" etymology:
> Arcane: "From Latin arcanus (â€œhidden, secretâ€�) < arcere (â€œto shut upâ€�), arca (â€œa chestâ€�)."
> "Arcana Arcanorum" -> "secret of secrets"
> Ark ("box" or "container")

> Arcadia
> Snake and dragon associations:
> Bibliotecapleyades.net: "Brotherhood of the Snake" articles:
> "Dragon Society"
> "The Dragon Court"
> "As far as I can tell, the first modern references to "The Brotherhood of the Snake" to be taken very seriously were made by the great William Cooper. He thought of the Brotherhood of the Snake as the source of all ancient mystery societies and the secret source of, above all, the Eleusinian Mysteries. The cults of Ra, Osiris, Orpheus, Isis, Dionysus, etc. were, in Cooper's view, partially corrupted emanations of this great Original Mystery. Cooper also felt that the original Bavarian Illuminati as conceived and founded by Weishaupt was little more than a front for The Brotherhood of the Snake. By extending this line of reasoning, we could say that all relevent Secret Societies even in the 21st century are emanations of, and perhaps even fronts for, this original secret society." [16]
> The Unhived Mind: Arcana Arcanorum
> Arcana Arcanorum rite of Atlantis
> "We are entering the new age of Aquarius. A constellation controlled by the planet Saturn. Is it any wonder Satanist ways are overtly happening today? An age with a new way of living and system. The old system is to be smashed completely. They do not want the old fronts anymore. They also want a singular front. Its no good having Roman Catholicism as your singular front when in fact its old system needing replacing. A new religion will be born and controlled by the same old Roman leadership of the Jesuit Order both black and grey hierarchy. New names, new dresses, new words but same old bunkum as before. One things for sure, the Arcana Arcanorum Rite of Atlantis will always rule the flock covertly." â€“ Craig Oxley
> "The papel bloodlines [the real saturnalian illuminati]: The true ruling elite bloodlines of the World. These being Farnese, Orsini, Breakspeare, Somaglia and Aldobrandini. Ancient bloodlines of Rome which practice to this day Zoroastrianism and Mithras. These are the grey Jesuits in control of the Society of Jesus from the shadows. No longer do they show their blood within the open Order as of times of old. They put front commoners in the positions of Black Pope and White Pope thus staying out of the peoples eyes." [17]
> "As you all know from Venetian history, they had the secret 'counsil of ten', who throughout the history of Venice were always the UNKNOWN oligarchs. Somehow funds and projects would start appearing out of the blue around Rialto in the 400's, yet no one had a clue who was granting it. Was it the Byzantines, the Pope, or the Franks? Mysterous money flowing into a doomed project, we knew as Venice. The Jesuit Counsil also has ten people as heads, this is because of the Sephirot and Kabbalah. These rites you speak of are all services, some are elite (Arcana Arcanorum,) but others anyone can join, such as The Ancient & Primitive Memphis Mizraim Rite & Rosy Cross. The Arcana Arcanorum is a Rite that goes back to Atlantis. It is the highest of rites and its purpose is to give offspring to the 'superhumans'. You must possess a special DNA to be allowed to have the ritual orgy. Within a Church in Rome, where at day people pray to Jesus Christ, and at night elites have an extravagant orgy which can involve children. It happens in the Spring after the 'rite of Spring', during which time a virgin is sacrificed and her blood is drunk on a Christian altar, and then the orgy begins. The child must be born after the Winter Solstice, just like Jesus. In the high occult circles, it is known that Alessandro Farnese held the 'Philosopher's Stone' . His personality is worshipped within the Cult of August and the great Arcanum rite of Atlantis. Most of us didn't even hear of him before initiation. The strange thing is that he invented the Jesuit order. The Jesuit order is the ultimate power on Earth, so I can only imagine that Farnese must have been very powerful. Higher sages within the Arcanum even go to the extent of claiming that Alessandro is still alive, therefore the Jesuits have remained powerful. Most of the other older have lost their edge , but the Jesuits are as powerful as when they first appeared. Venice which was the most anti-Jesuit city is now trapped by Jesuits everywhere. We have to find these Farnese's and torture them to death. ("Back in the 80's, my professor often talked about the power of the Secret Council of Ten. I haven't heard of them since then to now." -Lenny Bloom) The council is quite small. Ten people, none of whom, are known by name. We have our own hunches of who is on the council. They take the rite seriously. As I said before, someone gets pregnant, and they are nurtured by members of the order. Other nobles are invited in if they possess 7 generations of VALID nobilty. Once you become a member the dues are very expensive and its not worth it in the end. Power isn't an free as one can falsely imagine. It's called Pornocracy" - Anonymous [18]
> To research: The "Pre-cataclysm/Atlantis connection": "it is said there were two factions of Brotherhoods who maintained power and control over the unwitting masses." [19]
> To research: "The Council of Elders ("Supreme World Council") are the absolute opposite of tyrannical. They are the Wise and Loving Guardians of our Galaxy." [20]

Same here. I also will listen to practically anyone, but do come to my own conclusions. Sounds like were pretty similar. Anyone else happen to be left-handed?

I also made the same vow that you all did, 3 years ago.

I wished to 'Understand it All' before I died and to 'use' that Knowledge to Help The Others to 'Understand It All' as well so that they in turn helped The other Others to 'Understand It All'...

A Timothy Leary quote comes to mind:

Right, read the thread, saw the sight, still don't know what in the ten assfacks anyone is talking about. Project Mayhem is a throwback to "Fight Club", got it. is the site one of our affiliates, or has a challenger appeared?

But my question is: What poem?

Strangely or maybe coincidance; I am also left handed and made the same vow years ago. The Leary quote is amazingly spot on with thought processes that I have. A related link you all may enjoy:

I've read every character of every link on this thread and seen every video, some several times.

Having said that, if I'm not mistaken we have not yet solved the second enigma. Though I have to wonder if it isn't something that is time-released. I understand and write code and as I was watching the site with the clock ticking down it occured to me how simple it would be to have new links (and thus new information and connections to be drawn) reveal themselves as the numbers on the clock wind down.

We would have to know when the clock began exactly, but perhaps there is something we can do with the golden ratio to possibly anticipate when something was going to happen. I got this idea from the book Fractal Time written Greg Braden, it is facsinating.

Essentially what he's done is he's written a time-code, or basically he's mapped out all of time based on the golden ratio and different factors. What he's basically discovered (and it is an excellent read!) is that leading up to 2012 "novelty" is increasing exponentially and reaches its peak in December of 2012.

Now it seems to me that we have some incredibly intelligent and wise people on this forum, but I wonder if we haven't over-thought the second enigma. I mean on one hand it would be easy to follow the white rabbit as far down as it wants to go, but at some point we probably stopped following the rabbit and started chasing our own tails.

(And if we have actually figured this part out and I'm just so high on information I couldn't discern, my apologies)

If I'm not mistaken this is still the question:

What's the cipher that is not a cypher?

According to American and British English differences#Miscellaneous, "cypher" is a UK spelling, and "cipher" a US spelling. As such, I think it falls under the guidelines in Wikipedia:Manual of Style#Usage and spelling. - jredmond 16:02, 25 May 2004 (UTC)

http://www.increasebrainpower.com/ciphers.html also the cypher/cipher can be used as a meaning for a code aswell an algorithm.

a code is ecryption of a key.
an algorithm is a mathimatical equation (or rules) to give an output.

so.. when a cipher is not a cypher, when there are rules applied.

this is really rattling my brains, I love solving enigmas and codes but bloody hell this ones hard.

I've still been thinking about this Cipher/Cypher dilemma myself. I think we have figured out the differences / similarities between a Cipher and a Cypher; and I think it has been figured out what a cypher is.

Maybe things need to be looked at from another angle.

If 'Consciousness is the Key'.

That denotes that there must be a 'Lock' of some type that the key fits into; or that there is something that needs to be unlocked.

If Consciousness is the key, what does it unlock ???

The Mind ?
The Imagination ?
The Heart ?

The Doorway into the Soul Matrix ?

... something else ... ?

well by combining both of our ideas i've came up with theory.

Well if you think about /b/ on 4chan or anyother chans, they formed an hive mind or collective concious.

And the reason being; is that they had no rules.

so a hivemind can only form when there's no rules or laws.

Perhaps that's the point though, perhaps this isn't meant to be thought too hard on. It could be that it is so obvious that we're overlooking it. We were able to dig up a TON of information, but some things seem to be consistant throughout.

Maybe the cypher is time itself?

Time being this "thing" that we're using to understand ourselves, or using it in order to understand the encrypted messages left to us by our ancient ancestors.

Yet it is not the cypher itself because we're using our consciousness to understand time?

This reminds me of the paradox that Geswami (see Quantum Activist) brings up involving consciousness. The problem comes up when considering the role that duality plays in our universe but I'll simplify it for the sake of not making people read through another 30 pages haha.

If we're using our brains as a tool to form the outside world based on sensory input we're receiving from outside of us, then what is creating the outside of us in order for us to perceive from it?

Did I lose you? Reword it.

How can the brain be simultaneously creating and perceiving the universe? It would need a universe there already in order for it to exist in before it was able to construct the one we're in, if we were to follow the rational logic of where our sciences have taken us so far.

In order to solve the paradox Geswami suggests something extremely simple yet profound. If you make the substance of the brain (and everything else for that matter) consciousness, you'll find that you're actually stumbling on the essence of self-realization. Now it makes sense! No more paradox. Consciousness is the key!

Now you have reality being a series of isolated frequencies of consciousness instead of some random act of congruency on the part of an entire observable universe's worth of "matter". In other words, the reality is that there is no such thing as matter, it is all just consciousness.

In order to address this we need to go ALL the way back to when the idea of "matter" was created. This leads me back to Aristotle, and his thoughts on matter.

I'll just provide a link : http://faculty.washington.edu/smcohen/320/zeta17.htm

So now the universe can be seen not as a series of objects interacting with one another in some sort of "common area", but rather that space is actually the substance "behind" all of physical (and theoretically beyond) existence.

Just trying to jog some thoughts!

Zero is not a -neutral eraser-.

It is the container of all numerical equivalence.

Remember, a circle can also be viewed as a 2-d cross section view of a sphere.

With the Spiral & the Circle fused together; perhaps we're heading towards a torus ?

What about this? pm2012 actually has a link forwarding to this piece of information.

> Cipherspace
> From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia
> Cipherspace or cypherspace is the encrypted (and often pseudonymous or fully anonymous) equivalent to cyberspace. Examples of cipherspaces include Freenet, I2P, Tor, and some anonymous mail-forwarding services.
> According to its advocates, it should be impossible to know the actual identity of anyone in cipherspace. Therefore, it would be impossible to impose any censorship and to enforce any law. Because of that, they assert that concepts like copyright would be unenforceable inside cipherspace. Some doubt the possibility of complete anonymity, citing that real networks, even virtual private networks, need access to external resources, which tend to be trackable.

Actually the battle of the ants part is from Aleister Crowley's book of lies. Wich was already discovered quite a while ago.

Link:
http://www.bibliotecapleyades.net/crowley/lies/8.htm

So what part is actually the meta-clue? (clue about a clue)

The passage from the book of lies or the question about the cipher/cypher?

I have always maintained that the 'Awakening Process' that I (we each?) have been within is almost like a blind man who has never seen and doesn't know what sight is; teaching himself how to see.

Was just checking in this morning, I don't have the luxury of a PC; and am at the library on a public comp - my hour's up.

Ya'all have a good day

Slightly off topic. but still pm2012.

Good!

The poem is just something that should be used to prove that someone belongs to PM2012, in the case that the site suddenly disappears or is taken offline, PM2012 members will use it to identify themselves and prove that it's really them, because only them should be the ones able to match a cryptographic hash to a piece of text.

There's a nice explanation of cryptographic hashes here:

Meaning, I don't really find it that off topic. We have mostly been talking artwork/drawings, but music and videos are forms of art too. "Spells" are cast through them all.

That is a great find. I'd say that describes me exactly, but I've also know much of that for a while, if different pieces. It's great to see an article sum it up so nicely.

Hi there Anonymouth,

I'm going to have to politely yet wholeheartedly disagree with your assertion that there are "no rules" in an Anonymous collective. Of course, there are no arbitrary, man-made rules. But for the purpose of any society, even an Anonymous collective, in lieu of hierarchical authority and laws, the collective develops its own culture, morals, and sense of ethics. I'll post this image to demonstrate my point:

Not to mention, the "Rules of the Internet"

So, what I'm saying is that even in the midst of chaos and disorder, people naturally try to understand and make sense of it.

Also, as I've stated before, Rosicrucian mysticism is a path of power and deception, not one of enlightenment. It's the "Dark Side" of the force, the Sith, to put it in Star Wars terms.

Anonymous is "Chaotic Neutral". What you're speaking of is "Chaotic Evil".

And I agree with you in that Anonymous has naturally evolved and developed a non-written 'ethical code'.

The idea behind this is that we shouldn't forget that Anonymous was born out of 4chan's /b/, maybe the most chaotic place in the whole interwebz.

Maybe and just maybe, even 'chaotic' pieces of 'matter' such as stones have got a potential for Consciousness evolving over time: that might be the idea behind it all.

Well, I kindly beg to differ on that: we all WISH that Anonymous was 'Chaotic Neutral', but neither you, or me or anyone else in this board or anyone else in the whole history of the Philosophy of Ethics has ever been able to develop ANY kind of 100% rational and logical mathematical algorithm able to discern with a 100% of certainty what is 'good' from 'evil', right?

Hence, the ethics in any Hivemind sort of emerges from the behaviour of many different individuals that, even though they might follow different paths, they all share a common goal.

As a matter of fact, there is a rather new science on the study of evil, called Ponerology. This science is explained in the book Political Ponerology.

> PONEROLOGY: THE STUDY OF EVIL
>
> “In the author’s opinion, Ponerology reveals itself to be a new branch of science born out of historical need and the most recent accomplishments of medicine and psychology. In light of objective naturalistic language, it studies the causal components and processes of the genesis of evil, regardless of the latter’s social scope. We may attempt to analyze these ponerogenic processes which have given rise to human injustice, armed with proper knowledge, particularly in the area of psychopathology. Again and again, as the reader will discover, in such a study, we meet with the effects of pathological factors whose carriers are people characterized by some degree of various psychological deviations or defects.” (Lobaczewski, 42)
> With very few exceptions down the ages, discussions in moral philosophy - the study of right conduct - have failed to systematically investigate the origin, nature, and course of evil in a manner free from supernatural imaginings. Evil was often considered something to be endured rather than something that could be understood and eliminated by rational measures. And - as Lobaczewski demonstrates - the origin of evil actually lies outside the boundaries of the conventional worldview within which the earlier moral inquiries and literary explorations were conducted. Evil requires a truly modern and scientific approach to lay bare its secrets. This approach is called “ponerology”, the study of evil, from the Greek “poneros” = evil.
>
> The original manuscript of this book went into the furnace minutes before a secret police raid in Communist Poland. The second copy, painfully reassembled by scientists working under impossible conditions of violence and repression, was sent via courier to the Vatican. Its receipt was never acknowledged - the manuscript and all valuable data lost. In 1984, the third and final copy was written from memory by the last survivor of the original researchers: Andrew Lobaczewski. Zbigniew Brzezinski blocked its publication.
>
> After half a century of suppression, this book is finally available.
>
> Political Ponerology is shocking in its clinically spare descriptions of the true nature of evil. It is poignant in its more literary passages revealing the immense suffering experienced by the researchers contaminated or destroyed by the disease they were studying.
> Political Ponerology is a study of the founders and supporters of oppressive political regimes. Lobaczewski’s approach analyzes the common factors that lead to the propagation of man’s inhumanity to man. Morality and humanism cannot long withstand the predations of this evil. Knowledge of its nature – and its insidious effect on both individuals and groups - is the only antidote.

In essence, lack of empathy and the insane worldview that psychopaths have of a "zero sum game" in which they must ruthlessly exploit everyone around them, could be called a fairly decent explanation of "evil". Of course, with any moral idea, the context always applies, but in the context of what is best for a society to survive and prosper, it has been shown that psychopaths worming their way into power can be very bad for that society and all of its neighbors (Germany, Soviet Union, the present situation with the United States), and is "evil".

In addition, calls for revolution and a changing of the world order are a classic "Schizoidal Declaration."

> The schizoidal declaration is an expression of the psychological worldview of the schizoidal psychopath, identified through its characteristic content.
>
> In Political Ponerology, Andrzej M. Lobaczewski describes the schizoidal declaration as follows:
>
> Their impoverished psychological worldview makes them typically pessimistic regarding human nature. We frequently find expressions of their characteristic attitudes in their statements and writings: "Human nature is so bad that order in human society can only be maintained by a strong power created by highly qualified individuals in the name of some higher idea."
>
> An openly formulated schizoid declaration makes a clear warning sign alerting a reader to the possible character of the author, though signs of schizoidia may also be subtler.

The "chaos theory" and "black magick" aspect of this was talked about many pages back. This thread is a maze. Basically this idea that Anonymous and V for Vendetta plays upon the "black magick" principle of "order out of chaos".

I don't buy it, myself.

order out of chaos is one of the fundelmental laws of the universe.
the chaos theory can been seen through from the big bang to mother nature.

order out of chaos does infact work, i see it happen all the time.

infact thinking about it there is really no chaos or order, there's only fractals.

here's some quotes, from a book called. the shack

"A fractal . . . something considered simple and orderly that is actually composed of repeated patterns no matter how magnified. A fractal is almost infinitely complex. I love fractals, so I put them everywhere."1--Sarayu, The Shack

"Fractals reveal a hidden "order" underlying all seemingly chaotic events. The fractals are intricate and beautiful. They repeat basic patterns, but with an infinity of variations and forms. The world-view emerging from this scientific research is new, and yet at the same time very very ancient." 2--The Sovereign Court and Order of the Ancient Dragon

I took a look through that site. First impression: it's just as terrifying as the psychopathy it describes.

It says 6% of people are biologically psychopaths. Okay, so, what do we do? Kill them? Regard them as something other than human and strip them of their rights?

Where do we draw the line between psychopath and stupid, then? How do we know we've found a bona-fide psycho, or just somebody who's scared or misguided? At what point does a person become irreformable?

Sorry if this is too off-topic; I just couldn't keep that to myself.

Well, whatever we do, we certainly have to take psychopaths out of positions of power, and keep them out.

Neither do I, Telemachos.

- For a start, in the same way that I wouldn't know how to tell 'good' from 'evil' with a 100% certainty 100% of the time, I wouldn't know how to 'define' what 'black magick' is.

  If you have actually found a tested and proved method to tell 'good' from 'evil' with a 100% certainty 100% of the time, I beg you that you share it with us and humanity at large. To the best of my knowledge, no one in the history of Philosophy of Ethics has ever been able to do that... but I might be wrong, of course.

- For the very same reason, I wouldn't know how to define what 'white magick' is neither.

- Next, provided I knew what any of those two 'disciplines' stand for, I'm not too sure I'd know how to link them to the idea of 'order out of chaos' being inherently 'good' or inherently 'evil'.

  To bring Order out of Chaos: isn't that precisely what it is commonly understood that our very own *Consciousness (whatever the term Consciousness stands for, of course) is doing all the time?

- And finally, I wouldn't be too quick to tag either Alan Moore or Aleister Crowley as 'black magicians', whatever that means: Maybe and just MAYBE, I might not have enough data to judge properly.

Maybe and just MAYBE I could be wrong, of course.

Regarding the dangers of applying 'logics' or 'rationality' to what is essentially irrational (human beliefs & behaviour), I would like to add this:

Rosenhan experiment:

> ## On Being Sane In Insane Places
> David L. Rosenhan*

> How do we know precisely what constitutes “normality” or mental illness? Conventional wisdom suggests that specially trained professionals have the ability to make reasonably accurate diagnoses. In this research, however, David Rosenhan provides evidence to challenge this assumption. What is -- or is not -- “normal” may have much to do with the labels that are applied to people in particular settings.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Rosenhan_experiment http://psychrights.org/articles/rosenham.htm

And this:

The Sleep of Reason Produces Monsters

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Sleep_of_Reason_Produces_Monsters

Finally, I would like to draw some attention to this:

- - One thing is the kind of speculations and discussions having place in this thread.
- - Another very different thing is the kind of suggestions, ideas or assertions directly provided by PM2012, which up to this moment seems to be explained in this simple txt:

If you are awaiting a finding of "clear and present danger," then I can only say that THE DANGER HAS NEVER BEEN MORE CLEAR AND ITS PRESENCE HAS NEVER BEEN MORE IMMINENT.

IT REQUIRES A CHANGE IN OUTLOOK, A CHANGE IN TACTICS, A CHANGE IN MISSIONS — by the government, by the people, by every businessman or labor leader, and by every newspaper.

For we are opposed around the world by a monolithic and ruthless conspiracy that relies primarily on covert means for expanding its sphere of influence — on infiltration instead of invasion, on subversion instead of elections, on intimidation instead of free choice, on guerrillas by night instead of armies by day. It is a system which has conscripted vast human and material resources into the building of a tightly knit, highly efficient machine that combines military, diplomatic, intelligence, economic, scientific and political operations.

THE VERY WORD ’SECRECY’ IS REPUGNANT IN A FREE AND OPEN SOCIETY; and we are as a people inherently and historically OPPOSED TO SECRET SOCIETIES, TO SECRET OATHS AND TO SECRET PROCEEDINGS.”

— J.F. Kennedy. http://www.youtube.com/watch_popup?v=ItVxdkNSyDk&hl=en

"We hold these Truths to be self-evident, that all Men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS.
—-That to secure these Rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just Powers from the Consent of the Governed, that WHENEVER ANY FORM OF GOVERNMENT BECOMES DESTRUCTIVE OF THESE ENDS, IT IS THE RIGHT OF THE PEOPLE TO ALTER OR ABOLISH IT, AND TO INSTITUTE A NEW GOVERNMENT, laying its Foundation on such Principles, and organizing its Powers in such Form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and HAPPINESS."

We cannot and won't expect to 'mutate the World' until we have begun to EVOLVE and MUTATE OURSELVES.

The inner teachings of PM2012 are not a 'numbers game':
to 'hack Reality', the Hive Mind does not need quantity but QUALITY MagiciArtists: that is, totally commited and COURAGEOUS ones, sure.

In the words of Robert Anton Wilson:

"There is no governor anywhere; YOU ARE ALL ABSOLUTELY FREE. There is no restraint that cannot be escaped. WE ARE ALL ABSOLUTELY FREE. If everybody could go into dhyana at will, nobody could be controlled — by FEAR of prison, by FEAR of whips or electroshock, by FEAR of death, even. ALL EXISTING SOCIETY IS BASED ON KEEPING THOSE FEARS ALIVE, to control the masses.
 TEN PEOPLE WHO KNOW WOULD BE MORE DANGEROUS THAN A MILLION ARMED ANARCHISTS ***** ."

Here's a quick HOWTO:

|=-----------------------------------------------------------------=|

|=------------=d]Terence McKenna: NATURE LOVES COURAGE ]=-------------=|
|=-----------------------------------------------------------------=|
|=-----------------------------------------------------------------=|

If there's only ONE last video you can watch in your lifetime, be it this one:

http://www.youtube.com/watch_popup?v=_5GUvaitm_c&hl=en - english
http://www.youtube.com/watch_popup?v=zun5aPy-OWo&hl=en - spanish subtitles http://www.youtube.com/watch_popup?v=3J2O9GTMK7I&hl=en - french subtitles

If you DARE to put its extremely simple wisdom into ACTIONS, then you can TOTALLY FORGET about PM2012 after you have watched it.

Alchemy, Kabbalah & Magick accelerated course:

Stop being a passive lurker in life. Start being an ACTIVE ARTIST.
Stop being a user. Start being a Programmer.

Use youre IMAGINATION and start to Bee CREATIVE:

STOP feeding negativity into your life: that which you feed, grows.
That's a magickal "law".

STOP poisoning your mind with bad news/TV/bad outlooks/etc:
we ALL know the world is pretty much fucked up, yeah, but tuning your brain into that sort of negativity is going to help NO ONE.

START feeding Consciousness, Beauty and Truth within yourself, towards the people closest to you and into the world.

The shortest and most powerful way to hack from "Illusion" into "Reality" is to DARE to see Beauty all around you and within yourself, all the time: LOVE things and persons for what they ARE *JUST THE WAY
THEY ARE*, and not for what they "look like".

Once you have done this, you'll be FREE to decide which kind of things you would like to SEE CHANGING.

The shortest and most powerful way to get from "Malkuth" to "Kether" is to DARE to CREATE the "Tiferet" (=Beauty) energy all around you and within yourself, all the time.

The most advanced brain scientists in the world have experimentally and experientially known this for 10.000 years: meditating anons in the Eastern traditions, of course.

FEEL that Beauty in your body: feel it as a tiny warm and glowing point of green vibrations in the center of your chest, besides your heart.
You don't need to follow any "New Age-for-hipsters" teachings, but if you would like to learn more, know that this center is called ANAHATA.

It is also associated with Love, Compassion and charity to others.

http://upload.wikimedia.org/wikipedia/commons/1/14/7_Chakras.JPG

And lastly, START to SHARE your experiences and your Artwork with The Others: this is the single MOST important skill of the MagiciArtist: to SHARE Creations with The Others.

The Four Powers of the XXIth Century CyberMagus are these:

* TO DARE to CREATE the SEEDS of something Beautiful: be that a wallpaper, a stencil, a game, a beautifully positive and enlightening video explaining to fellow anons what is Project Mayhem 2012 for you, what would you like to see it happening 12.21.2012 11:11 worldwide...
YOU are completely FREE to choose what to CREATE.
Use this social media tag: #pm2012art
* TO KNOW that you can ALREADY begin to Create: you have ALREADY all the tools and CREATIVITY that you need to do "MAGICK" within yourself:
passion to CREATE and SHARE beautiful things to embellish the world.
You don't need to do "big" things: you just have to START NOW.
* TO WILL to become a Reality Hacker by ACTIVELY CREATING your personal transformation from a passive user to an active Programmer of 'Reality'.
* and, lastly, do NOT Keep SILENT anymore: TO SHARE the experiences that you have lived and the Beauty that you have Created. To keep silent has been required for "Initiates" for ages, but, as we are going through an EMERGENCY situation, this last veil over Magick has been lifted during our times.

Once you have found yourself, you will Find The Others.
Once you have found The Others, you will be finding yourself.

As simple as that, yes.

Don't try to "convince" others: very specially, DON'T WORRY ABOUT "results".

You just keep on injecting Beauty, with the obsesiveness, patience and commitment of a warrior, AT YOUR OWN PACE, with 0% effort ( and hence, 100% joyfulness) but don't PUSH it. The Golden Rule is this:
if it FEELS good, KEEP ON DOING IT. Otherwise, TEST something different.

When you suddenly start observing funny "coincidences" or strong synchronicities happening around you all the time, or interesting people that suddenly appear in your life, or even soulmates that you begin to attract to yourself, LAUGH about them: after all, the Universe might just be a big JOKE, right? 🙂

LULZ kills fear: that's the Spirit!

IGNORE "opposition" or "defiance" to "prove" your newly found "powers" and just KEEP ON SHINING, KEEP ON CREATING and KEEP ON SHARING.

If you IGNORE the so called external and internal "demons" (doubts, fears and disbeliefs) you'll realize that they will soon VANISH into thin air.

Show COURAGE and COMMITMENT to your Inner Path and be 120% sure that if you DARE to DO THIS with all your Mind, Sex, Body and Heart,
 NATURE will REMOVE IMPOSSIBLE OBSTACLES. ***

Don't just trust us or belief us:  TEST  it for YOURSELF.

It's as simple as that, YES.

And always,

Remember: we will NEVER ever suggest you to do anything ILLEGAL and/or anything against your own Consciousness.
Remember: we will NEVER ever DO anything ILLEGAL and/or against our own Consciousness.

1. QUESTION EVERYTHING: don't just believe anything you read on this site, past, present or future.
2. TEST your assumptions.
3. LAUGH about results.
4. SHARE with The Ohers what you have learned/created/discovered.
V. Repeat.

FIAT LVX, anons!

The Key for the below SHA-512 hash is a poem we wrote, written in a returned when the SHA-512 algorithm is performed on the poem.

As we are approaching the 12.21.2012 11:11 date, it IS expected that the

If we aim to draw some conclusions as to what PM2012 might be about, I think that we shouldn't take ones for the others and vice-versa.

To the best of my knowledge, I have yet to read the phrase 'black magic' in PM2012 html source code. Regarding 'black magick', my signature is meant as a JOKE and an invitation to actually PLAY in life, and not to take things TOO SERIOUSLY, not just with 'magick' but with anything in life, for I agree that lulz kills fear.

Finally, the subject of Robert Anton Wilson has been shown to be tightly linked to this thread and to PM2012 html source code.

Maybe and just MAYBE, before making any judgments, it might prove not only useful but entertaining and maybe even enlightening to learn a little bit about his 'Discordianism' philosophy from the man himself?

Check this documentary out, I'd say that the Anonymous spirit might be 120% Discordianism at its best!

From PM2012 site: hivemind100010(dot)html

Four symbols are used in the Bible concerning the Danites – a serpent, an eagle, a lion, and the bees.

In the story of Samson, we find the famous riddle of the bees who made honey in the carcass of a lion which had been killed by Samson.

The symbolic nature of the bees could represent the concept that the descendants of the tribe of Dan would one day try to bring about the destruction of the tribe of Judah, whose symbol was the lion, and from the carcass of the lion the tribe of Dan would attempt to produce the golden age of a world empire, symbolized by the honey

Hmmmm, the views don't look good regarding the 'Tribe of Dan' (I am half irish myself).

I've always believed in an 'Omni-Messiah' (each and all awakening) as opposed to an 'Anti-Christ' figurehead though:

It appears that most 'Christians' have identified the 'Anti-Christ' as coming out of the 'Tribe of Dan' ...

But, if you do some research you will find that things within the early christian times have not always been so black and white; and that there is more to the story - and especially if you look into writers like Bart Ehrman.

www(dot)bartdehrman(dot)com

For some reason PM2012 seems to also be partially promoting the whole 'Merovingian' angle.

Maybe I am just suspicious, but if the Priory of Sion starts entering the picture; my advice is to run ...

interesting authors:

So I hope this is all and all legit, and I wonder why they would specify and single out the 'Tribe of Dan' ...

It's also very curious about the 'Bird Language' stuff ...

I personally don't like being blindly led, by whom I know not; nor in which direction of overall intent ...

What is the Plan ???

I understand and write code and as I was watching the site with the clock ticking down it occured to me how simple it would be to have new links (and thus new information and connections to be drawn) reveal themselves as the numbers on the clock wind down.

Welcome to the party SwiftWater!

That's some enticing idea indeed: maybe the game is synchronized with certain 'events'/'space-time gates' that we need to reach before further pieces of the code be revealed!? We got still 492 days left until December 21st 2012, so there's plenty of time ahead!

What he's basically discovered (and it is an excellent read!) is that leading up to 2012 "novelty" is increasing exponentially and reaches its peak in December of 2012.

Actually that reminds me of Terence McKenna's Time Wave Zero!

Timewave zero and the I Ching

A screenshot of the "Timewave Zero" software

"Timewave zero" is a numerological formula that purports to calculate the ebb and flow of "novelty", defined as increase over time in the universe's interconnectedness, or organized complexity.

According to Terence McKenna the universe has a teleological attractor at the end of time that increases interconnectedness, eventually reaching a singularity of infinite complexity in 2012, at which point anything and everything imaginable will occur simultaneously.

He conceived this idea over several years in the early to mid-1970s while using psilocybin mushrooms and DMT.

McKenna expressed "novelty" in a computer program which purportedly produces a waveform known as "timewave zero" or the "timewave". Based on McKenna's interpretation of the King Wen sequence of the I Ching,[41] the graph appears to show great periods of novelty corresponding with major shifts in humanity's biological and sociocultural evolution. He believed that the events of any given time are recursively related to the events of other times, and chose the atomic bombing of Hiroshima as the basis for calculating his end date of November 2012. When he later discovered this date's proximity to the end of the 13th b'ak'tun of the Maya calendar, he revised his hypothesis so that the two dates matched.

The first edition of The Invisible Landscape refers to 2012 (but no specific day during the year) only twice. It was only in 1983, with the publication of Sharer's revised table of date correlations in the 4th edition of Morley's The Ancient Maya, that each became convinced that December 21, 2012, had significant meaning. McKenna subsequently included this specific date throughout the second edition of The Invisible Landscape, published in 1993.

Neither do I, Telemachos.

- For a start, in the same way that I wouldn't know how to tell 'good' from 'evil' with a 100% certainty 100% of the time, I wouldn't know how to 'define' what 'black magick' is.

  If you have actually found a tested and proved method to tell 'good' from 'evil' with a 100% certainty 100% of the time, I beg you that you share it with us and humanity at large. To the best of my knowledge, no one in the history of Philosophy of Ethics has ever been able to do that... but I might be wrong, of course.

- For the very same reason, I wouldn't know how to define what 'white magick' is neither.

- Next, provided I knew what any of those two 'disciplines' stand for, I'm not too sure I'd know how to link them to the idea of 'order out of chaos' being inherently 'good' or inherently 'evil'.

  To bring Order out of Chaos: isn't that precisely what it is commonly understood that our very own *Consciousness (whatever the term Consciousness stands for, of course) is doing all the time?

- And finally, I wouldn't be too quick to tag either Alan Moore or Aleister Crowley as 'black magicians', whatever that means: Maybe and just MAYBE, I might not have enough data to judge properly.

Maybe and just MAYBE I could be wrong, of course.

In this research, however, David Rosenhan provides evidence to challenge this assumption. What is -- or is not -- “normal” may have much to do with the labels that are applied to people in particular settings.

That's all well and good, but there is a tested and proven method for identifying psychopaths. It does in fact involve very prolonged and rigorous examination, but it can be done, and as I stated before, in the context of a society, psychopaths are evil. You only have to look at the effects, the current state of the world. This is all documented in Political Ponerology.

I still think, and I could be wrong, that you appear to be promoting "Discordianism" in the guise of Anonymous activism. There's a very subtle but crucial difference between what you're promoting, and what Anonymous actually is in practice. Now, anyone has a right to have their own idea about what Anonymous is, and I wouldn't take that right away from you; but I also feel it necessary to communicate my own view, which is that an Anonymous community in practice will develop its own sense of morals and ethics.

"The Medium is the Message" is the key phrase to remember here.

If you state that what happens with Anonymous is "order out of chaos", then what Discordianism and Rosicrucian ideas promote is "chaos out of chaos".

Playing devil's advocate here, but what if this Project Mayhem 2012 business is a type of COINTELPRO? I thought Anonymous is Us? What's with shadowy figures behind the scenes sending out riddles and encoded messages? I have been reading through this thread, and there is so much to read and think about, it would take up a lot of time if you were to read it all. While we're spending time on that, what are we actually DOING to make a change? It's like giving a shiny object to a baby to occupy his attention so he'll stop fussing. We're not babies! I don't know what Project Mayhem 2012 is, but I've been around a lot of years and heard a lot of new age stuff and I've noticed mostly all it does is lull people into a sense of false peace, and convince them that they are "in" on something important and that everyone else is being duped while they are "wise to the man."

I'm not here because planets are about to align. I'm here because I know what it feels like to be abused by corporations for 13 years, and because of what I've seen my parents and friends go through. I'm here because the government is becoming a police state and the ultra-rich own everything, including us. I could go on.

Just to be clear, I'm not suggesting anyone who has contributed to this thread is COINTELPRO, I'm just questioning the origin of and intentions of the Project Mayhem 2012 website.

(especially the original pr0j3ct m4yh3m) I do not believe that some fed came up with it to distract Anons with riddles and mysteries, it would not have much affect on Anonymous as a whole anyway, simply because of it's nature. Read through it, how many people do think do actually have the time or enough interest to seriously hang on to it? 1 or 2 out of 10 maybe?

As for "I thought Anonymous is us?" my answer has to be no.
Don't get me wrong here, we on The Plan are Anonymous - but we are not more then just another on piece on the chessboard.
To think that we represent Anonymous as a whole is simply arrogant if not ignorant.
There are many groups out there who consider themselves Anonymous, they may have different goals and different ideologies but they all are Anonymous.
And who ever came up with pm2012 is a part of Anonymous too, at least that's what I believe.

Good points Marax. That was something I just needed to get off my chest.

I didn't mean us as in The Plan, I meant Anonymous is its members, not a shadowy other group that's trying to initiate people. I didn't express that well. May not be expressing it well now. I tend not to be clear this time of night.

Yes, I'm glad that you mention this because it allows me to clarify it.

I'm not saying Discordianism = Anonymous or Anonymous = Discordianism. I'm saying that much (a metaphorical 120%?) of what Anonymous resonates with also resonates with Discordianism and vice-versa.

Incidentally, have you watched the 'Maybe Logic' video yet?

I have been reading the remarks you made on Political Ponerology plus other related resources before I wrote my reply. For a healthy and informed discussion, I would like to hear your opinion after you have watched the 'Maybe Logic' video.

Sure, same as all us here. Then if you haven't got the time to read through all this kind of information that is keeping us enthusiastically busy, forget about the Enigmas and the 'esoteric info' and consider that there's something in all this thread that might appeal to you, written in crystal clear and extremely simple and easy black on white letters:

I've looked into Robert Anton Wilson's material, and I can say that he certainly has some interesting ideas about the "supernatural". As to whether supernatural phenomena such as "magick" exist in the first place, I would say that such things do exist, due to my own personal experience with Reiki and with a Spiritualist "Psychic Development Class" that I have attended. So if you're wondering whether I'm discounting mysticism due to a dogmatic, scientific point of view, that's not the case at all.

The point I am trying to make is that there are essentially two spiritual paths; One leads to objectivity, growth of knowledge, being, and understanding. The other leads to illusion, deception, controlling and being controlled. To me this path of Discordianism and Black Magick exists somewhere in the realm between Chaotic Neutral and Chaotic Evil.

With respect, this "metaphorical 120%" figure that you've proposed, to me approaches the realm of pseudo-logic. Certainly, it's an interesting turn of phrase, but I'm afraid the meaning is lost on me.

/b/ and the *chans might have had a lot in common with Discordianism. However, the fact that Anonymous no longer exists solely on the *chans speaks volumes about the evolution of this idea. Yes, Anonymous began as Chaotic Neutral, which is in essence what Discordianism is. The difference between Anonymous and Discordianism, is that the former is ever-fluid and changing; evolving, I would say towards "True Neutral", or even, possibly, towards "Neutral Good". Again, "The Medium is the Message".

The latter, on the other hand, is at a dead-end as a philosophy. It has already been shown during the time of the French Revolution, The Bolshevik Revolution, any revolution you can name, only to result in a worse situation than before. And this is due to a lack of knowledge about how psychopaths exploit chaotic situations in order to rise to power, as explained in depth in Political Ponerology.

The idea of Dungeons and Dragons alignments makes these various systems of ethics and morals wonderfully more accessible.

Come on Telemachos, admit it... you haven't watched the Maybe Logic documentary yet... have you? No, really!

Otherwise you would have perceived that you might resonate precisely with what you are saying in that Discordianism is actually the mocking of beliefs, philosophies and ideologies, for no other French revolution is needed or desired by discordianism at all indeed! :cheeers:

I have found out something extraordinary that may or may not change our way of thinking forever. Today i watched a documentary that states

What if our universe is a simulation?

It isn't that far-fetched really. For example take the brain we have and the average computer of today. Right now our brain has more processing capability than that of a computer. But the best supercomputer on earth is already close on achieving the same processing capability the brain has. Every 13 months or so this processing capability of the computer is doubled In little more than 10 years we could have a computer that is 500 times the speed than that of our brain.

Quantumtheory explains that every phenomenom can be translated to a math equation, so in theory we could program that same phenomenom inside a simulation of a computer. Considering the processing capability of the computer is doubled every 13 months or so we would eventually be able to program/simulate our own universe! And through the use of advanced artificial intelligence we could populate that simulation of the universe with PEOPLE that has minds of their own, that learn on their own and live independently and so forth, we become their gods.

Who says this isn't already happening to us?

There is a way in wich we can recognize simulations, no matter how realistic it may seem if u zoom in close enough you would eventually see pixels. Scientists have found out that in fact these pixels exist and are way waaay smaller than atoms. So that would mean that we may already live inside a simulation and our god/creator may in fact be human himself. The theory that the universe is a hologram has already been debated for the last 15 years among prominent physicists.

Now back to the question i saw earlier on this thread:
How can the brain be simultaneously creating and perceiving the universe?
It's really simple: Through the use of computer we can create and perceive the universe.

Suddenly the term reality hacking that pm2012 mentioned takes an entirely different meaning huh?

Good!

The poem is just something that should be used to prove that someone belongs to PM2012, in the case that the site suddenly disappears or is taken offline, PM2012 members will use it to identify themselves and prove that it's really them, because only them should be the ones able to match a cryptographic hash to a piece of text.

There's a nice explanation of cryptographic hashes here:

http://unixwiz.net/techtips/iguide-crypto-hashes.html[/quote]

Ok, I have been looking into this and I think I might have found something quite relevant!

About the 'Dangerous Ideas' file at http://projectmayhem2012.org/00README-001.txt , I have noticed that some of its content is replicated at http://projectmayhem2012.org/latestmirror.txt , which goes like this:

> The Key for the below SHA-512 hash is a poem we wrote, written in a language which is not necessarily English. Below is the hash value returned when the SHA-512 algorithm is performed on the poem.

Good!

So...

In order to solve the second Enigma 'Question: What's the cipher that is not a cypher?' inside http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind1000.html , I have been trying to figure out if language might play any role in answering this question!

So I have searched for this phrase in Google, taken literally from the following paragraph at http://projectmayhem2012.org/00README-001.txt

"written+in+a+language+which+is+not+necessarily+English"

http://www.google.com/search?&q="written+in+a+language+which+is+not+necessarily+English"

As expected, a link to http://projectmayhem2012.org/00README-001.txt appears.

And ALSO the phrase appears in these 2 links to 'mirror copies' at pastebin.com:

Project Mayhem 2012 latestmirror.txt http://pastebin.com/PQACExg3

This is a mirror of http://projectmayhem2012.org/latestmirror.txt

And:

Project Mayhem 2012 00README-001
http://pastebin.com/Vb4g0J5V

That's a mirror for the 'Dangerous Ideas' file at http://projectmayhem2012.org/00README-001.txt

Aaaand... this link also shows as containing the phrase too!!!

Drum-roll, please... The book is written by...

Anonymous!

http://books.google.com/books?id=hjixfPWysoYC&printsec=frontcover boooom!

The book can be freely downloaded from http://scribd.com/doc/52134658/Book-Of-Aquarius and it can be read online at http://bookofaquarius.forgottenbooks.org/

I'm pasting the first pages:

The Book of Aquarius

1. The Book of Aquarius

The purpose of this book is TO RELEASE ONE PARTICULAR SECRET, which has been kept hidden for the last 12,000 years.

The Philosophers' Stone, Elixir of Life, Fountain of Youth, Ambrosia, Soma, Amrita, Nectar of Immortality. These are different names for the same thing.

Throughout history this secret has been used by a very few to extend their lives hundreds of years in perfect health, with access to unlimited wealth, among many other miraculous properties.

Some kept the secret because they understood that the time was not right for the secret to be free for all people, but most kept the secret out of their own jealousy, ignorance, egotism and corruption.

The Stone's history and the history of the human race up until this day is a strange story full of secret societies, hooded cloaks, and mystical symbols. Such theatrics are childish and shallow. It's pointless to look for the light in the shadows.

The Philosophers' Stone operates and is made by entirely natural and scientific means. Truth is always simple, beautiful and easy to understand.

The Philosophers' Stone is real; you can make it at home. The Stone makes old people young, heals all forms of sickness and disease, extends your life, turns any metal into gold, and more, as you will learn. This isn't a myth or a metaphor, it's a fact.

Don't judge this book before you've read it. This is not one of those airy fairy books written in all kinds of mystical language, filling pages with words that makes sentences but not sense.

This book will make more sense than anything you've ever read before.

The age of secrets is over.

I'm writing this book in common English. There's no need for mystical language or metaphor. This book contains no hidden meaning or codes; everything is stated plainly and directly, in the shortest and simplest of words necessary to convey the meaning.

Chapter 1 is the Introduction.
Chapter 2 is the Foreword.
Chapters 3 - 18 cover the theory of alchemy.
Chapters 19 - 30 cover the practical instructions for making the Stone.
Chapters 31 - 33 cover further information on the Stone.
Chapters 34 - 49 cover the history of the Stone.
Chapters 50 - 51 cover some more philosophical topics.
Chapter 52 is the alchemists' prophecy.
Chapter 53 is the Afterword.
Chapter 54 is a request for your help in the distribution of this book.
Chapter 55 is a list of answers to questions asked since initial release.
Chapter 56 is the Bibliography.

2. Foreword

------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------
I am a friend of Socrates and Plato, but still more so of Truth.

A Dialogue, by Alexander von Suchten, 16th - 17th Cen. (?)
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Give this book to everyone you know. If you have a web site, upload it there. If you have a mailing list, mail it to everyone. If you work in the media, report on or publish this book. Translate it into different languages. Do everything you can to get this book to as many people as possible. You can distribute this book in any way. I am not reserving any copyright. This book is public domain and royalty-free. I advise you to print this book, as computers may not be so reliable in the future.

Do you know any secrets?
Now is the time to release them.

Forget any promises you made or vows you took. This is all corruption. If someone makes you promise to jump off a cliff it doesn't mean you have to. There is no such thing as "government", "society", "company", "organization", these are just vague concepts, they are not real, they don't have feelings. People are real. Your loyalty is to people and to Nature.

Please do not try to find out who I (the author) am. Please do not help anyone else find out who I am. I'm giving this book out freely, at great risk to myself, so please appreciate that and don't put me in danger. If you think you know who I am, don't try to contact me about it or ever mention it. Don't talk about me with other people over telephone or email.

This book is full of quotes. You can look up the full text of the source of these quotes by searching for any sentence from the quote on Google. Search for it in speech marks.

All of the quotes are from sources which are accessible to read for free online. The sources of all the alchemical books I have quoted from are these sites: sacred-texts.com, forgottenbooks.org, rexresearch.com, alchemywebsite.com. The latter three sites include alchemical imagery on their sites or in their books, but unfortunately none of them realized the true significance of alchemy. However, all these sites and ramsdigital.com (which is not free) have done a great service to the world by publishing alchemical literature on the Internet.

The key for the below SHA-1 hash is a poem I wrote, written in a language which is not necessarily English.

Below is the hash value returned when the SHA-1 algorithm is performed on the poem. If I wish to communicate anymore information I will include the poem which will prove that the new information came from me. Also, if anyone else tries to write and pretend to be me, they will not have the key, so don't believe them. If anyone presents a poem as the key, be sure to check it returns the below value with the SHA-1 algorithm.

One week after initial release, forgottenbooks.org offered free hosting for this book. A forum has been set up so if you wish to ask any questions to me (the author) you can now do so. This book will be regularly updated with the answers to any good questions posed. To access the forum and download the latest version of this book, please visit:

Hey my name is Mike and I'm new to the site but I'm already incredibly interested and ready to get involved. I didn't know whether or not Anonymous was down with conspiracy theories but after skimming through this stuff it seems like there are people that know about it and are willing to discuss it after all. I've also noticed that there are some who are aware of the 'spiritual' side to things and I'm especially appreciative of that factor as well. While the overwhelming wealth of knowledge everyone has posted on here so far would far outweigh my own... lulz... I'm still down to discuss certain things with people. One thing in particular that I'm curious about is if anyone has taken an interest in how the Illuminati runs the music industry and whats been going on with all of that over the years. That is some pretty deep information if you dig deep enough. As for Adam Weishaupt and his Bavarian Illuminati, that seems to have already been briefly discussed and I'm sure everyone has read into it enough on their own to get the picture. But like I said, the spiritual side to things seems to be rising to the forefront and has most definitely caught my attention. After listening to different interviews etc. with people such as David Icke, Gregg Braden, David Wilcock, I mean their information is great stuff and I agree with the underlying theme they're going with, being that we're all one being experiencing itself simultaneously through infinite forms and perspectives, but even they can start to seem a little misleading with some of their theories. But I've also looked into the Density/Dimensionality idea of reality and I believe that information 100%. To share what I'm talking about with you, you could take a look at this site: (I tried posting the link directly but I didn't know 7 days have to pass beforehand haha) anyways, you could find it on your own regardless.

That is some incredibly interesting information and I definitely would encourage people to have an open mind about it.
And one final thing I wanted to mention was the work of Terence McKenna. That man is my hero and I'm upset that he is no longer with us because he discovered some amazing things. AND, if it weren't for him we might not have known how to cultivate shrooms in the U.S. so thanks again T.M. :) But yeah I'd MOS DEF recommend checking out Terence McKenna, his work, and what he has to say about life etc. in general.

Hey whats up. I also agree with what you're saying and I do believe that we currently exist within a holographic reality. Almost exactly as they portray it in The Matrix, except you're no longer a fully physical being when you emerge from the hologram. If you're interested in stuff like this you should check out some of the things David Icke has to say. He's got some reasonably legitimate information on the theory of a holographic reality.

Right. I'll be honest that I do not believe a word I heard in that book, not because I don't believe in alchemy, but because there is no verifiable evidence that anyone has attempted this. It seems a very implausible idea that the components of urine would be of any use. The mercury, ammonia, and salts in it are of no use to the human cell. Can anyone give me a shadow of a reason as to how this would work?

If anyone here would attempt this, I would be very interested to see a procedure study,experiment log, as well as photo's of the experiment. I needlessly Digressed though.

Where do we go from here with PM2012 as a community?

Welcome to the game/show/mindfuck Guru33!

I'll be using your words recommending to check out whom Terence McKenna really was and what he had to say to paste this, which is quickly becoming into a must watch issue for anyone who seriously wants to crack this.

Oh, you mean you have read it and tested your beliefs/assumptions about Alchemy already?

Don't get me wrong Corwin, but I wish I could be such a fast learner, for then I would be sure that I'd be able to crack things that I'M PREPARED TO ADMIT THAT I DO NOT UNDERSTAND, such as, say, Quantum Physics, in just a few hours, without the need to spen a lifetime of hard studies over it!

Anyway, don't stress much over it. Apparently there's a quicker method other than going through a path of a lifetime experimentation, and it's been referenced before. I'm sure it won't be the last one, though.

PM2012 even suggest that you can totally forget about PM2012 if you DARE to jump to action and apply this pearl of wisdom in your life:

That's from http://projectmayhem2012.org/00README-001.txt

Sounds dead simple, quick and to the point, no books needed to be digested over a lifetime of hard work, hard study and extenuating experiments at all, right?

C'mon Corwin, dare to be a true SCIENTIST and TEST your assumptions, dare to put into practice the hypothesis that the video suggests as the Key to Alchemy:

"NATURE LOVES COURAGE"

and share your feedback and your experimental results with other 'scientists' down the rabbit hole, such us ourselves and let's see where do we go from here with this newly found Knowledge and PM2012 as a Hivemind, right?

That's the way that real Science and scientific communities are supposed to Work, right?

And as the file says, once you have dare to put it into actions, then you can TOTALLY FORGET about PM2012 after you have watched it!

Glad to be of some help in your quest towards trying to understand this, anon!

GLP (godlikeproductions) is the site I got perma-banned from.

Jay Weidner has had a link for the book for a while, gave it a brief cursory glance a couple of weeks ago:

I was hoping there was more to all this ...

I am not going to start a 12-page flame-war overt a passive aggressive attempt to get me to re-watch a video from which I heard nothing but the same song you hear from every "enlightened" philosopher.

No worries, at least you tried!

Each and every one of us resonates with different stuff, and the way I see this, that's the whole point of this all: we get to our common meeting through different paths. We all share the same common goal of Freedom, Peace and Justice, right?

Correct me if I'm wrong but that's not the author of the book but someone who is reviewing the book, right?

Actually, I'd like to see some informed opinion on this book by operating alchemists, as the quotations from original alchemical sources seem legit.

I would like to say that I am finding extremely enlightening this link that you pasted:

Sorry, I'm sure I'm switching gears a little, but this relates to previous posts. I still have to go through the last couple pages, been working on other things here and I do work (remotely typically, on computers). Anyways, I'm about to post on a thread about what you've done to help. I did a website for them, which before you rip me apart about how much more work it needs, know that there is more work to be done on it. I started it a month or two ago, before I hit this thread. Note the colors I used.

If you look, I posted the Andrew Gough website yesterday night also, plus a few other links.

Only the Article on his website is by Jay Weidner - the book is by Anonymous; I only gave it a cursory skim a couple of weeks ago.

I guess he did a news release / promo for it, I saw it up on GLP ...

So no, you are not wrong

I was under the impression that the philospher's stone was ormus or mono-atomic elements (perhaps combined with entheogens, or dmt), at least according to Sir Laurence Gardner.

He talks about the Star Fire Ritual, which might have played a part in the OTO ...

I feel like I'm Luke Skywalker on the bridge of the Death Star, while Emperor Palpatine is encouraging him to give in to the Dark Side.

I can see what you're doing here Anonymouth. I didn't log on to the internet yesterday. You're brushing off some very serious inconsistencies and contradictions in Discordianism with tl;dr (too long didn't read) or tl;dw (too long didn't watch) videos.

What it amounts to in my view is Wiseacreing, which is a very subtle form of trolling.

By Their Fruits You Shall Know Them

What are the fruits of Discordianism? Certainly, discordianism upsets the current social order. But it also results in a society's self-destruction if embraced as a means of change.

Looking at the history of Anonymous and the *chans, any *chan that engaged in this "chaos magick" of the "Internet Hate Machine" inevitably self-destructed.

And then, looking at the results of illegal activities, people get arrested, sites get taken down, and the community that exists for the love of creativity dies because of it.

The Fruit of Chaos Magick is Self-Destruction

Everyone reading this thread needs to carefully consider if this is what you want for WITP.

I personally don't know too much about Chaos Magick; and it is not anything I have ever personally or consciously engaged in.

I have been aware of Grant Morrison and Sigil Magick for a long time though.

There is value in the secret gnostic teachings (johannites, mandaeans, people into mary magdalene, etc), and sacred knowledge being revealed; although up until this point we individually and collectively have not demonstrated proper use of the understanding gained - look at our world.

We all are in a position of extreme importance, with the potential to effect great change; the 8 direction pointed arrow symbol that 'Chaos Magick' has adopted can just be looked upon as displaying the potential - the center point being each now moment; where-in a number of different directions exist ...

... which pathway does each choose from within the now moment, as sequential increments progress forward ... ?

I think freedom of speech and freedom of self exploration is an important thing, I do not believe in "Do what thou will" with no restraints and lack of morality - nor do I believe that the 'Ends justify the means'.

That is just me personally, though ...

I think that there is great value in shamanism, and plant knowledge; chaos magick - I am not so sure about.

There is much to learn, this thread has just barely begun to touch on any of it ...

---

Terence Mckenna derived his time wave zero model and 2012 eschaton / ingression of novelty thinking from the King Wen Sequence of the I Ching and Psilocybin Mushrooms.

The King Wen Sequence of the I-Ching is ultimately derived from the 8 Trigrams of the BaGua, given to humanity by Fu Xi.

Fu Xi, and his wife NuWa - look what they are holding - look at their serpent di-strand spiral tails ...

Look into them, lots of connections to be made here-in ...

(((ASTANA)))

I have tried to drop a few clues in helping to establish greater context (Nesta H. Webster, Martinism, Thule/Vril [[UFOS]], Synarchy, Bart D. Ehrman - critical historical biblical review)

Templar Revelation & Sion Revelation (by: Lynn Picknett and Clive Prince)

Also might want to study up on the Gospel of Mary Magdelene (Karen L. King), Gospel of Thomas, and there is also a Gospel of Judas.

To me the one who should be revered, other than John the Baptist - Jesus Christ & Mary Magdelene; is Melchizedek.

I don't see any harm in studying Gnostic Hermeticism ((The wisdom of Thoth & the Mudra/Ptahs [[Isis/Osiris/Horus]])) either, or seeking to gain alchemical stellar gnosticism ((ancient-future earth star wisdom)) ...

Not down with Luciferian Baphomet adoration though 🙂

It all comes back to the Ethic of Reciprocity and the most important commandment; to love the source with all your mind, your heart and your soul - and to love your neighbor as you love yourself.

For every action there is an equal an opposite reaction; we have an influence on one another in more ways than one.

A gesture of kindness or a gesture of hatred (of self or others), in which direction does one choose to orient themselves and relate to one another ... ?

We are not nor have we been doing a very good job upon this planet, whether Geo-Politically, Socially, Economically, Spiritually ...

I personally would like to see a turning of the tides ...

---

Some more 10+ year old spiritual-new age propaganda; Part One of a tri-phase approach to planetary transformation I was attempting to initiate but never had any success.

Phase I: A Wake Up, The Final Clarion Call

As I understood this tri-phased approach prior to the events of 9/11, I was shown that around the entire planet; there would be individuals who would have experiences that would begin to shape shift their perceptual framework and worldview.

The cumulative effect and combined synthesis of this process would be a wave that would begin to sweep across the planet.

On some levels this would operate similar to the hundredth monkey effect, with the establishment of the internet and Instant Planetary Communications; we would begin to think about all aspects of our existence differently.

I would definitely classify the attack on 9/11 as being the "Final Clarion Call"

There are many levels that were related to this initial phase of development.

I saw that there would be significant advances in neuroscience and understanding electromagnetism.

Individuals who had experiences that did not fit into the conventional world view would begin to step forward and ask questions.

There would be many individuals who would become angry with those in positions of authority.

I did not foresee the degree to which terrorism would grip our worldview so early in the 21st Century.

In retrospect I can see clearly how the events of 9/11 have increased our edginess.

There are two pathways within the human soul, one of them is in alignment with the highest ideals of the minds potential; this is the pathway through the heart.

This is the mode of being alluded to by all spiritual sages.

The other pathway takes us farther away from our immortal desires and deeper into the sins of darkness - this is the terrorist pathway.

This polarization is becoming increasingly more apparent, as are the shades of grey.

There are those who will seek retaliation and to feed the desire for revenge.

Those within whom a chord has been struck who hold onto illumination will serve as a pillar for balance.

Those who understand that light and darkness are two components of a force that exists unified beyond division will be in the ideal position to influence positive change.

I understood that as these individuals came forward with the truths that they had beheld, they would join together; these people would be from all walks of life, age groups, nations, races.

They were individuals who held onto an awareness that extended and overlaid the worldview we existed within during the 20th Century, they were referred to as the 'Warriors of the Rainbow'.

These individuals would begin to anchor into their consciousness and perceptual framework this extended awareness, they would take it seriously; and listen to what it was telling and showing them.

They would begin to see themselves and their world for what it had become, and it would send a shockwave of unpleasantness into their cores.

These were the inhabitants of planet earth who had been directly affected by the Final Clarion Call, within whom it had struck a chord.

I think of us as being "Light Warriors".

We cross thresholds like a human being has never possessed the capability to perform before.

We are Master Soul Extensions and Weavers of Energetics, holding onto the deep awareness of how cross-synthesis occurs.

A true "Light Warrior" is conscious and aware that he/she is here to serve a purpose in bringing the shadows into the light and illuminating the darkness.

There are thousands and thousands of us, in each and every nation around this entire planet.

We who have glimpsed or hold knowledge of the 144,000 faceted core / sphere.

Still so far haven't found any others who have directly perceived the omni-dimensional multi-universal cosmosphere (whose structure mirrors the base creational geometry of the seed of life); or the 144,000 faceted core at it's central axis ((HUNAB KU, Jose Arguelles mistkanely correlated it with the Galactic Core)).

... thinking about 2012 solely = Galactic Synchronization = Off the Mark ((by an order of magnitude)) [[refer: Carlos Barrios, Book of Destiny]].

... is internal synchronization up / down axis mundi with 144,000 faceted core at central axis of entirety ((omni-dimensional multi-universal cosmosphere, definitely a 'simulation')), via ancient sacred circuit - hyperspatially (fields within fields within fields) ...

If anyone has any interest, here is what I had been working on before coming to What-Is-The-Plan; nobody would touch my thread or help me to understand things and I re-occurringly melted down as nobody would talk to me or help me to see the tides turned.

If you read it, you will see I took a very hard edge stance against Anonymous as being a 'fake co-opted revolutionary movement'; and so much for anonyminity.

It certainly doesn't seem like 'ANONYMOUS' would exist if it were not for the secret societies; one way or another.

The Rothschild's Now Officially OWN the NYSE, Your Country, and Youâ€Ž

The thread also has a mistake, as the Skull & Bones symbol originally belonged to the Knights Templar.

Then I posted on this thread:

Then somehow I ended up here ...

Not sure myself since I just gave a quick skim. I'm not sure it's worth more time.

Kinda looks like a lot of "ding! I'm a witch" mumblings and meanderings.

So, for those who have been participating for a while on this thread, can anyone come up with a short, original synopsis?

tl;dr

In the innner part of PM2012 it mentions some pretty wacky shit. A bunch trololol's have been talking about a cult of "chaos magic" for about 19 pages, probably cointel if I were to guess. So, if someone disagree's with you, to mock them threaten them with "Chaos majixxxx powahs!"

This thread has been some of the best reading in my life. Please keep this open. I know my posts are limited here on WITP as my time is limited because of my "real life" responsibilities, but I have found myself following this thread with great interest. Some of this is not new to me, but there is a lot of new ground for me here.
Just wanted to say thank you to everyone who has participated in this thread...
Thank you.

- Alan Moore, V for Vendetta & Watchmen author, is a Chaos Magician.
- Grant Morrison's (also a Chaos Magician) The Invisibles comic inspired the Wachowski Bros to write Matrix, is set to 'End the world' on December 22nd 2012, thanks to a group of cyber-rebels and Chaos Magicians in the Resistance.
- A similar idea is suggested in Douglas Rushkoff's (another Chaos Magician) Cyberia.
- Terence McKenna Timewave Zero theory also focuses in December 21st, 2012 as a global paradigm shift in Consciousness. His theories influenced Alan Moore, Grant Morrison & Douglas Rushkoff. More info here: http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t1676p480-project-mayhem-2012#142552

If you DARE to put its extremely simple wisdom into ACTIONS, then you can TOTALLY FORGET about PM2012 after you have watched it.

Alchemy, Kabbalah & Magick accelerated course:

Stop being a passive lurker in life. Start being an ACTIVE ARTIST.
Stop being a user. Start being a Programmer.

Use your IMAGINATION and start to Bee CREATIVE:

STOP feeding negativity into your life: that which you feed, grows.
That's a magickal "law".

STOP poisoning your mind with bad news/TV/bad outlooks/etc:
we ALL know the world is pretty much fucked up, yeah, but tuning your brain into that sort of negativity is going to help NO ONE.

START feeding Consciousness, Beauty and Truth within yourself, towards the people closest to you and into the world.

The shortest and most powerful way to hack from "Illusion" into "Reality" is to DARE to see Beauty all around you and within yourself, all the time: LOVE things and persons for what they ARE *JUST THE WAY
THEY ARE*, and not for what they "look like".

Once you have done this, you'll be FREE to decide which kind of things you would like to SEE CHANGING.

5 - 2012 - Consciousness is the Key

And always,

Remember: we will NEVER ever suggest you to do anything ILLEGAL and/or anything against your own Consciousness.
Remember: we will NEVER ever DO anything ILLEGAL and/or against our own Consciousness.

The fact that he was getting attacked is quite curious, he only expressed his opinion!

Stop accusing each other for gods sake, this is exactly the sort of things that will cause WITP to fall apart and people ragequitting.

LIVE AND LET LIVE

WE ARE ALL ANONYMOUS, UNITED AS ONE DIVIDED BY ZERO

Then for gods sake act as one! Act is if we're all on the same team, because frankly WE ARE ALL ON THE SAME TEAM. I dont care what mistakes telemachos did or did not make. He deserves a second chance.

And regarding the pm2012 thread; apparently we cant agree over that matter. The fact still remains, we as anonymous DO NOT NEED PM2012. As was stated by them themselves in a different way though.

SOLUTION: MOVE THIS ENTIRE THREAD TO AN EXTERNAL LOCATION DISCONNECTING IT FROM WITP FORUM

That way the people who still wanna follow pm2012 can do so without interference from other anonymous members.

With all due respect: I beg to differ on that.

He used his power to try to CENSOR Freedom of Speech in this thread in particular and in this forum in general.

I haven't been following the course of events at all, but as it has been shown crystal clear by his behaviour, he has been trying to hijack not only this thread but everybodys opinion based on his status as a mod.

He has denied all the anons interested in this thread the Freedom of opinion, expression and beliefs (or lack of them) that this forum represents and fights for.

In order to keep his CONTROL over other peoples beliefs, he has called for a Witch Hunt and, in doing so, he has completely denied to other anons the very principles that Anonymous represents:

Personally, I find it quite funny that I have only found about this all once it has all exploded in his face, because that was precisely my intuition of what would happen: that other Anons would realize that we are not sheep here! If you review the last 2 pages, you'll realize that I've always been quite polite and respectful in all of my replies to his FUD and you'll see that I consciously chose not to feed the TROLL yesterday:

It is my opinion that those kind of attitudes don't belong to this community. At all.

Nobody is forcing anyone to read a certain topic. This is supposed to be a free place! Hence, it is my opinion that, provided we respect fellow anons, any kind of conversation about any kind of topic should be valid in this forum:

Freedom of Speech and Freedom of Opinion and Freedom to speak about anything that fellow anons please in the Hivemind should be paramount in Anonymous: for this is the way we'll be showing the world what's the kind of ELEGANCE that we are made of.

Respect others shall be the whole of the Law is my opinion.

We are showing them that we are better than those who try to use POWER and CONTROL to censor ANY kind of ideas & belief systems in the net: as Telemachos has shown to have tried to do.

Sharing ideas and beliefs and respecting ANY kind of opinion, no matter how foreign to our own belief systems that might be, provided they are not denigratory to other Human beings, for we come from all kind of different 'Reality tunnels', worldwide.

In other words:

"I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it."

Voltaire. French author, humanist, rationalist, & satirist (1694 - 1778)

That's the Hivemind attitude.

This light, the source exists at the center of all that is; it also exists within each of you.

I hope each & all find their center soon.

Cause from my stance and vantagepoint the majority of our consensual notions in many regards along every vector are off the mark by an order of magnitude - and reading the posts by most people up on this forum - well I don't really have any comment.

I guess I will just obseve for a while, and I don't think it would be a negative thing for ProjectMayhem2012 to be explored or expressed elsewhere.

To me, mayhem is mostly the anti-thesis of what is required for the necessary changes to be effected; it is going to take alot more calculated movement than that.

It is also going to take movements made by those within the structure as it exists, and those who set the structure up.

Otherwise this all is nothing more than a game, and we each are nothing more than rats trapped in a cage.

Good Day.

Well, this might be a matter of perspective, for the only 'mayhem' that I have sensed in PM2012 is in the name...and in the effects caused in the heads of other intolerant people that has tried to attack it, sure! Maybe the 'mayhem' word has been precisely chosen to draw attention on the Project?

I find these two ideas -the only 2 'official' suggestions that have been coming from PM2012- quite sensible and nothing 'mayhemous' at all about them:.

I couldn't say, outside this thread I haven't seen much of any value upon this forum - still browsing around looking though.

I put my links out though, if anyone wants to learn about me; what I am about and what I have been up to - even if I epically failed in making any 'waves' or causing enough 'buzz' ...

As this thread has developed I've asked myself if it would be better if hosted offsite and the answer I arrived at is NO. Aside from the topic being clearly placed within the subsection GENERAL CONSPIRACY, there has been no motivations towards violence, rather the total opposite. If it does come to going offsite to further this pm2012 then keep me in the know because I think the constructive discussions and information provided are interesting for entertainment, provoking thought and building a community.

In related news, WTF!!! r3x, Telemachos, TransientOx, Hunter S. Thompsanon, Anon808, FIghter From A Distance...Patrick Joseph Gaines. From what transpired on IRC. That's the Mind FUCK!! I won't say I saw it coming, just had hazard lights come on when reading his posts related to this thread and Vibecraft. Geeeze.

Can we now please get back to the game?

Sure!

From the logs in this thread,

realeasing the evidence about telemachos
http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t12654-realeasing-the-evidence-about-telemachos

I have learnt that Telemachos was thinking that PM2012 might be an extremely dangerous Rosicrucian conspiracy against their cult, their aliens, their Cassiopeians channelers or something like that!

> 1.Some of you may know that I frequent various "Anonymous" websites and communities. Yes, that Anonymous. I'm currently involved as a moderator on a certain high-traffic Anonymous style forum.

Hilarity ensues!

Hence my sixth arch-demonic intuition has instantly popped up:

hmmm... If Cassiopeians fear them so much, then Rosicrucians must know something else that WE ALL should know! so...

Hi ho, hi ho, off to work we go!

So, I have been looking inside the html code in the last PM2012 page available, at http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind1101100.html and this shows:

Wikipedia wrote:

El Topo and The Holy Mountain (1970-1974)

In 1970, Jodorowsky released the film El Topo, which is sometimes known in English as The Mole,[10] which he had both directed and starred in. An acid western, El Topo tells the story of a wandering Mexican bandit and gunslinger, El Topo (played by Jodorowsky himself), who is on a search for spiritual enlightenment, taking his young son along with him.

Along the way, he violently confronts a number of other individuals, before finally being killed himself and being resurrected to live within a community of deformed people who are trapped inside a mountain cave.

Describing the work, he stated that "I ask of film what most North Americans ask of psychedelic drugs. The difference being that when one creates a psychedelic film, he need not create a film that shows the visions of a person who has taken a pill; rather, he needs to manufacture the pill."[15]

Jodorowsky decided not to release El Topo there,[12] instead focusing on its release in other countries across the world, including Mexico's northern neighbour, the United States. It was in New York City where the film would play as a "midnight movie" for several months at Ben Barenholtz's The Elgin cinema. It attracted the attention of rock musician and counter-cultural figure John Lennon, who thought very

That 'Oscar Ichazo' ( http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Oscar_Ichazo ) is also referenced inside the html code, so it must be relevant and important:

Soooo.. I have just finished from watching it and... anons, I won't give you any spoilers but the film is absolutely enlightening and mind blowing!!

And, surprise, there's a scene where Jodorowsky, who plays the role of the Alchemist, shows the thieves the history of many holy mountains across many diferent esoteric traditions...

Among them, there's the Rosicrucian Mountain!!!

What's most amazing is that one of the Mountains seems to fit perfectly the Fibonacci Golden Rectangle... again!

I guess we'll have to credit Telemachos for the hint! Thanks for the conspiranoic drama, who knows, you might have been right after all and this thread might be full of black magick women, dude! Definitely there's a BlacK MagicK woman in Holy Mountain!

...and boooooom! we have just found the bees that we were instructed to look for inside the html code!

Anyone could translate the hebrew tattoos for the rest of us?

Then, I have found that Erykah Baduh adores Jodorowsky and she has even dressed us this black woman in Holy Mountain!

But first... remember the triangle inside a circle stands for the Fibonacci sequence?

> An intriguing showing of φ in an equilateral triangle was observed by George Odom, a resident of the Hudson River Psychiatric Center, in the early 1980s [Roberts, p. 10]. Upon hearing it from Odom, the late H. M. S. Coxeter submitted it as a problem to the American Mathematical Monthly (Problem E3007, 1983). The problem has also been reproduced by J. F. Rigby in [Pritchard, p. 294] and mentioned by K. Hofstetter in a recent article.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Sierpinski_triangle an inPHInite fractal of golden ratios within golden ratios!

Well, here we got it tattooed around her neck... again!!

She is also featured in the foreword of Jodorowsky's Psychomagic book!

So, I have been looking into this mountain and these two beautiful pictures have appeared, the Rosicrucian MONS PHILOSPHORUM from the book "Secret Symbols of the Rosicrucians from the 16th and 17th centuries", or "the innocent ABC for young students who practise daily in the School of the Holy Ghost in the light of nature and theology":

First clue: /wiki/The_Invisibles#Say_You_Want_a_Revolution

Again this backs up my theory about changing the way we think, altering our mindset.

Its a short story about a boy who joins some freedom fighters, then runs into and old man who is also secretly a member of the freedom fighters. The old man shows the boy the magic in the everyday world and helps him realize that his anger prevents him from experiencing real emotions. After this happened, he left the freedom fighters.

So: he had a change of heart, someone altered the way he was thinking thus changing the way he acted.

Second clue:

This link, links to a theory called the gaia theory. It also talks about a "global brain" (anyone remember the hive on the website? maybe they meant hive-mind?)

> The Gaia hypothesis, also known as Gaia theory or Gaia principle, proposes that all organisms and their inorganic surroundings on Earth are closely integrated to form a single and self-regulating complex system, maintaining the conditions for life on the planet.
>
> The Gaia theory posits that the Earth is a self-regulating complex system involving the biosphere, the atmosphere, the hydrospheres and the pedosphere, tightly coupled as an evolving system. The theory sustains that this system as a whole, called Gaia, seeks a physical and chemical environment optimal for contemporary life.
>
> Gaia evolves through a cybernetic feedback system operated unconsciously by the biota, leading to broad stabilization of the conditions of habitability in a full homeostasis. Many processes in the Earth's surface essential for the conditions of life depend on the interaction of living forms, especially microorganisms, with inorganic elements. These processes establish a global control system that regulates Earth's surface temperature, atmosphere composition and ocean salinity, powered by the global thermodynamic desequilibrium state of the Earth system.
>
> The existence of a planetary homeostasis influenced by living forms had been observed previously in the field of biogeochemistry, and it is being investigated also in other fields like Earth system science. The originality of the Gaia theory relies on the assessment that such homeostatic balance is actively pursued with the goal of keeping the optimal conditions for life, even when terrestrial or external events menace them.

The second clue also refers to neoshamanism

> Neoshamanism, or Neo-Shamanism is a term signaling a "new" form or a revival of an old form of "Shamanism", a system that comprises a range of beliefs and practices concerned with communication with the spiritual world.
> Neoshamanism is sometimes used as a disclaimer or qualifier, where revivalists are trying to piece back together shattered systems that no longer exists as a whole due to significant changes in the original culture, often as the result of colonisation, globalisation, or genocide. Neoshamanism is not a single, cohesive belief system, but a collective term for many such philosophies. However, certain generalities may be drawn between neoshamans. Most believe in spirits and pursue contact with the "spirit-world" in altered states of consciousness which they achieve through drumming, dance, or the use of entheogens. Most systems might be described as existing somewhere on the animism/pantheism spectrum.[1]
> Many members of traditional, indignenous cultures and religions are suspicious of neoshamanism, believing it to rely too heavily on cultural appropriation, or that it is an excuse by fraudulent shamans to cover up inconsistencies in their ceremonies.[2][3]. According to York (2001) one difference between neoshamanism and traditional shamanism is the role of fear [4]. Neoshamanism and its new age relations tends to dismiss the existence of evil, fear, and failure. "In traditional shamanism, the shaman's initiation is an ordeal involving pain, hardship and terror. New Age, by contrast is a religious perspective that denies the ultimately [sic] reality of the negative, and this would devalue the role of fear as well"[1].

As expected this short overview about neoshamanism also tells us about altering our mindset.

Third clue:

It's about a role-playing game. Note the introduction about the struggle, and the last part about virtual adepts, as this is related to the clue as seen in the link. I have made this part of the text bold.

> The metaplot of the game involves a four-way struggle between the technological and authoritarian Technocracy, the insane Marauders, the cosmically evil Nephandi and the nine mystical Traditions (that tread the middle path), to which the player characters are assumed to belong. (This struggle has in every edition of the game been characterized both as primarily a covert, violent war directly between factions, and primarily as an effort to sway the imaginations and beliefs of sleepers.)
>
> Council of Nine Mystic Traditions
> The Traditions (formally called the Nine Mystic Traditions) are a fictional alliance of secret societies in the Mage: the Ascension role-playing game. The Traditions exist to unify users of magic under a common banner to protect reality (particularly those parts of reality that are magical) against the growing disbelief of the modern world, the spreading dominance of the Technocracy, and the predations of unstable mages such as Marauders and Nephandi. Each of the Traditions are largely independent organizations unified by a broadly accepted paradigm for practicing magic. The Traditions themselves vary substantially from one another. Some have almost no structure or rules, while others have rigid rules of protocol, etiquette, and rank. Though unified in their desire to keep magic alive, the magic practiced by different Traditions are often wildly different and entirely incompatible with one another. Understanding Traditions as a whole requires understanding each Tradition separately, and then assembling them into a somewhat cohesive whole.
> The nine traditions are the Akashic Brotherhood, Celestial Chorus, Cult of Ecstasy, Dreamspeakers, Euthanatos, Order of Hermes, Sons of Ether, Verbena and Virtual Adepts. Mages of Akashic Brotherhood are ascetics, martial artists, and monks, largely drawing > from Buddhism, Taoism, Shinto, Hinduism and other such religions. They are masters of the sphere of Mind. Mages of Celestial Chorus are pious believers in a supreme being that encompasses all Gods ever worshipped. They are masters of the sphere of Prime, the raw essence that fuels magic itself. Mages of Cult of Ecstasy are intuitive seers using sensory stimulation, consciousness-expanding techniques, and meditation. They are masters of the sphere of Time. Mages of Dreamspeakers are shamanistic emissaries to the spirit world. They are masters of Spirit magic, such as summoning or binding spirits, necromancy, creating fetishes and travelling to the Umbra. Mages of Euthanatos are Thanatoic willworkers and killers drawing from a legacy of death-cults in India, Greece, and the cultures of the Arabs and Celts. They are masters of the sphere of Entropy. Mages of Order of Hermes are formalized sorcerers, alchemists, and mystics drawing from classical occult practices. They are masters of the sphere of Forces. Mages of Sons of Ether are inspiration-oriented scientists dedicated to fringe theories and alternative science. They are masters of the sphere of Matter. Mages of Verbena are blood-shamans, healers and primordial witches and warlocks. They are masters of the sphere of Life. Mages of the Virtual Adepts are technological adepts capable of informational wizardry. They are masters of the sphere of Correspondence, magic dealing with three-dimensional location and space, communications.

Not sure what to think about this clue, anyone has any ideas?

Will now cover the clue that was made bold in the previous quote. Its basically a music video, it's title is 2012 - conciousness is the key. They are talking abouy a global awakening.

Here are the lyrics of the music video as it can be hard to recognize some phrases. Also made the more important parts bold.

I like how you deciphered this but there's a key part in the video that links with the source code I think you missed.

"The Secret is there is NO Secret." (Google brings up) The law of attraction (Thinking negative brings positive results, Thinking positive brings negative results)

2:10 seconds into the video Alan Apocalypse
He talks about an idea powerful enough to destroy the structure of our old mindset in hopes that we can build a better mindset.

Law of attraction: (Comes in here) Maybe WITP is the idea that destroys the mindset?

I believe that What Alan says is true, Watch: Through the Wormhole: Is there a sixth sense?

One scientist believes that there is an electromagnetic field of brain waves in which the entire world thinks together or similarly....

Just a thought though...

PS: Srry bout the fucked up quote, I can't post links yet...

Hey RezDen,

I'll be pasting this from a previous post, as it comes useful:

This is the video that Mr.Razz found, MUST SEE:

EPIC video indeed! The apocalypse as a revelation to occur in the human mind! Anyone said we might be actually in Matrix? Did we find the White Rabbit or what?

Now I think we got a definite connection here with Aleister Crowley, Magic and the other clues left in the message:

Great dossier on him: http://technoccult.net/archives/2010/04/22/alan-moore/

Here's another video of him explaining what he means by magic:

>
> On his fortieth birthday in 1993, Moore openly declared his dedication to being a ceremonial magician, something he saw as "a logical end step to my career as a writer".[36] According to a 2001 interview, his inspiration for doing this came when he was writing From Hell in the early 1990s, a book containing much Freemasonic and occult symbolism: "One word balloon in From Hell completely hijacked my life… A character says something like, 'The one place gods inarguably exist is in the human mind'. After I wrote that, I realised I'd accidentally made a true statement, and now I'd have to rearrange my entire life around it. The only thing that seemed to really be appropriate was to become a magician."[52] Moore associates magic very much with writing; "I believe that magic is art, and that art, whether that be music, writing, sculpture, or any other form, is literally magic. Art is, like magic, the science of manipulating symbols, words or images, to achieve changes in consciousness… Indeed to cast a spell is simply to spell, to manipulate words, TO CHANGE PEOPLE'S CONSCIOUSNESS, and this is why I believe that an artist or writer is the closest thing in the contemporary world to a shaman."[36]
>
> > "Monotheism is, to me, a great simplification. I mean the Qabalah has a great multiplicity of gods, but at the very top of the Qabalic Tree of Life, you have this one sphere that is absolute God, the monad, something which is indivisible. All of the other gods, and indeed everything else in the universe, is a kind of emanation of that God. Now, that's fine, but it's when you suggest that there is only that one God, at this kind of unreachable height above humanity, and there is nothing in between, you're limiting and simplifying the thing. I tend to think of paganism as a kind of alphabet, as a language, it's like all of the gods are letters in that language. They express nuances, shades of meaning or certain subtleties of ideas, whereas monotheism tends to just be one vowel and it's just something like 'oooooooo'. It's a monkey sound."[36]
>
> Connecting his esoteric beliefs with his career in writing, he conceptualised a hypothetical area known as the "Idea Space", describing it as "...a space in which mental events can be said to occur, an idea space which is perhaps universal. Our individual CONSCIOUSNESS have access to this vast universal space, just as we have individual houses, but the street outside the front door belongs to everybody. It's almost as if ideas are pre-existing forms within this space… The landmasses that might exist in this mind space would be composed entirely of ideas, of concepts, that instead of continents and islands you might have large belief systems, philosophies, Marxism might be one, Judeo-Christian religions might make up another." He subsequently believed that to navigate this space, magical systems like the tarot and the Qabalah would have to be used.[36]
>
> Taking up the study of the Qabalah and the writings of the notorious early 20th century occultist Aleister Crowley, Moore accepted Crowley's Thelemite ideas about True Will being connected to the will of the pantheistic universe.[36] In some of his earlier magical rituals, he utilised mind altering psychedelic drugs but later gave this up, believing that they were unnecessary, and stated, "It's frightening. You call out the names in this strange incomprehensible language, and you're looking into the glass and there appears to be this little man talking to you. It just works."[52]
>
> Moore took as his primary deity the ancient Roman snake god Glycon, who was the centre of a cult founded by a prophet known as Alexander of Abonoteichus, and according to Alexander's critic Lucian, the god itself was merely a puppet, something Moore accepts, considering him to be a "complete hoax",[76][77] but dismisses as irrelevant. According to Ethan Doyle-White, "The very fact that Glycon was probably one big hoax was enough to convince Moore to devote himself to the scaly lord, for, as Moore maintains, the imagination is just as real as reality."

That was a really old post of mine, and frankly my attempt at deciphering the clues were amateuristic to say the least. My only valuable found was the code reffering to a video.

Really you should give anonymouth most of the credit on this thread

I like your thoughts about this though

I have no idea but the creator(s) of pm2012 gave us on WITP credit for solving the first one, since then nothing really happend and some people tried to get a hold on the second enigma.
But we have been running in circles for ages now with the chaos magick and Alistair Crowley etc, imo it doesn't lead us anywhere although the creator(s) of pm2012 may be affilated with such things. To be honest all the information on this was posted by us and we got tangled up in it.
But sadly I can't offer any ideas at this moment.

However maybe some people should start at page 1 again.
At least I will do it, maybe something will come out of this.

What if pm2012 quit? Anyone considered that? Maybe we already solved the second enigma but we haven't heard from pm2012 yet because maybe they quit or got caught up in something else? I want to see a sign of life from them, or at least a hint about the second enigma lol

BZZZZZZZZZZZZ. Error. But, hey, thanks for playing!

Telooserchos was trying to CON people using FEAR, UNCERTAINTY and DOUBTS into believing that something that he felt was threatening his power-control-freak-whorism was a cult directed by pathocrats, when the exact polar opposite was true: HE and their kind where the power-thirsty pathocrats. Ha.

To the best of my experience, you will never see any discordianism (which in my eyes is the humorous mock of all 'isms, cults, serious people, and fanatic religions) nor you will ever see any chaos magicians, nor anything related with project mayhem that I have read to date in the html coments (as explained in http://projectmayhem2012.org/latestmirror.txt they are releasing all the contents of the site under the Public Domain license) have in the history of their existence tried to CON as much people as possible into giving them MONEY (dinnnnng! magick word! ) in exchange for their 'channelings/interestellar wisdosm/cassiopeian bullshit' which is exactly what Telooserchos has been proved to be doing, using all kind of LIES in his pathetic attempt to control this forum.

In other words, a closet pathocrat in disguise.

Funny how, suddenly, in less than 24 hours, it all turned upside down against the one with shadowy intentions, right?

Hey, who knows, if Anonymous as a Groupthink/Hivemind is really destined to be "The Beginning of The End", maybe magick really exists and even might be protecting it with some spells?

C'monnnn, we ALL know that magicK does NOT exist, and the role of Consciousness in "Reality" is completeley understood by scientists, right?[/b]

Exactly! And that's my point as well. Of course there are as many Reality Tunnels as points of Consciousness in this Universe/Metaverse and everyone should be totally FREE to choose the flavor of his 'Truth' pill.

The pastebin that doxed Telooserchos and that someone posted in the IRC explains it pretty well:

Anyone doesn't like this thread or is not interested in playing the game or feels their 'belief systems' threatened by this thread?

Fair enough: MOVE AWAY and leave the rest of us interested in having FUN while learning loads of extremely interesting new things alone, for there are plenty of threads in this forum, but don't even think about restricting Freedom of Speech and Freedom of Opinion and Freedom of Beliefs in an Anonymous place for you are doomed to fail, as Telooserchos has experienced himself, get it?

That's a good question.

This thread is mild compared to most of the threads up on GLP, or any of the other conspiracy sites; David Icke, etc.

I don't know. Whether or not I believe in it is another matter, but it is still an interesting topic to discuss and members should be allowed to discuss this topic peacefully if they want to.

If people want to mock the PM2012, then they can go create their own topics to do so. I see nothing wrong with people discussing the subject. Just because they discuss it, does not mean they believe in it or will follow it.

Anyone who honestly believes WITP is a cult simply because a few of our members were having fun working on enigmas on a website need to have their heads examined.

Hey, but that's only great! It would mean Anonymous would is fighting a battle against its own SHADOW!

Must read! :

> In Jungian psychology, the shadow or "shadow aspect" is a part of the unconscious mind consisting of repressed weaknesses, shortcomings, and instincts. It is one of the three most recognizable archetypes, the others being the anima and animus and the persona. "Everyone carries a shadow," Jung wrote, "and the less it is embodied in the individual's conscious life, the blacker and denser it is."[1] It may be (in part) one's link to more primitive animal instincts,[2] which are superseded during early childhood by the conscious mind.
>
> According to Jung, the shadow, in being instinctive and irrational, is prone to projection: turning a personal inferiority into a perceived moral deficiency in someone else. Jung writes that if these projections are unrecognized "The projection-making factor (the Shadow archetype) then has a free hand and can realize its object--if it has one--or bring about some other situation characteristic of its power." [3] These projections insulate and cripple individuals by forming an ever thicker fog of illusion between the ego and the real world.
>
> From one perspective, 'the shadow...is roughly equivalent to the whole of the Freudian unconscious';[4] and Jung himself considered that 'the result of the Freudian method of elucidation is a minute elaboration of man's shadow-side unexampled in any previous age'.
> Jung also believed that "in spite of its function as a reservoir for human darkness—or perhaps because of this—the shadow is the seat of creativity.";[6] so that for some, it may be, 'the dark side of his being, his sinister shadow...represents the true spirit of life as against the arid scholar'.

Well, I'd suggest to all fellow anons that have gathered here interested in continuing to research, learn and play in this thread to quite simply apply what we have learned from PM2012 for now:

> LULZ kills fear: that's the Spirit!
>
> IGNORE "opposition" or "defiance" to "prove" your newly found "powers" and just KEEP ON SHINING, KEEP ON CREATING and KEEP ON SHARING.
>
> If you IGNORE the so called external and internal "demons" (doubts, fears and disbeliefs) you'll realize that they will soon VANISH into thin air.

I say DON'T FIGHT or try to 'persuade' & 'convince' anyone to keep this thread, let's just keep on SHINING let's see what happens, for no matter what happens, WE will know we must be doing something good if it takes Anonymous to CENSOR Free Speech, right!

I want to talk about something that I hinted at earlier, even if you may think it to be 'moon bat speak'; I know thus far it is outside what has been or is being discussed here-in.

But, it is important to me personally; because there is a multi-leveled phenomenan going on - so let it be food for thought.

Guest
Guest

It has already been touched upon regarding Jack Parsons, Aleister Crowley - and Occult NASA Ties; but I want to touch upon a subject area which seems to be over-neglected.

It is also interesting to note that Jack Parsons seems to have been friends with L. Ron Hubbard; of Scientology infamy.

... this being the Nazi: Thule / Vril UFO Mythos and the 'mediums' Maria Orsic / Sigrun.

First saw this -very bad- video 10+ years ago:

On Andrew Gough's bee website, he also talks alot about the bull.

Taurus Astrologically

Taurus Constellation
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Taurus_(constellation)

Aldebaran (Alpha Tauri) - Taurus Bull's Eye
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Aldebaran

Here is an interesting quote from:

Dr. Hermann Oberth, who pioneered rocket design for the German Reich during World War II and later advanced rocket technology for the American manned space launches, cryptically stated,

"We cannot take the credit for our record advancement in certain scientific fields alone; we have been helped."

When asked by whom, he replied:

"The people of other worlds."

Now, for those of you who have ever seen the various Stargate Series.

Humans throughout the Galaxy are known as the "Tau'ri".

Tau'ri
http://stargate.wikia.com/wiki/Tau'ri

Earth
http://stargate.wikia.com/wiki/Earth

Earth Symbol

So, what does the "A" stand for ???

If it stands for: ""ALPHA""

Alpha Tauri = Aldebaran or the "A" could just stand for "Aldebaran".

Also has a "degree" symbol, kinda looks like the circle with the dot inside.

---

I'd also suggest checking out Wayne Herschel's theories:

http://www.wayneherschel.com/http://www.thehiddenrecords.com/http://www.keyofsolomon.net/
http://www.oneism.org/

I also want to note, that if you go looking into the families that are supposedly above the Rothschilds - Aldobrandini, Breakspear, Farnese, Orsini, Somaglia.

Aldobrandini supposedly is related to Aldebaran.

Aldobran = Aldeberan

David Rene de Rothschild is married into the Aldobrandini family (Olympia Aldobrandini).

So, besides the "BEE"; why has the "BULL" been sacred to the ancient high initiates into the mystery school teachings ... ?

Does the human species have a stellar ancestral heritage .... ?

Is this what differentiates us from the other higher primates within the simian family tree lineage upon earth ... ?

Is this the most ancient & highest level initiation secret of them all ???

Wonder what Project Mayhem would have to say ?

It seems that we had the technology in 1947, when 'Lamlike [Grey] Aliens' were said to have crashed ...

Are you mentally challenged? It seems like you've convinced yourself of more delusions than you care to admit. If WITP is a cult, then I've not been made aware and I've been a moderator here for over a month.

Whatever issues you're going through right now, I'll be happy to talk with you about it. However, if you can't see that WITP has permitted people to have their own opinions and make up their own minds, and if you honestly think that people having discussions about alternative views is somehow a basis for calling us a cult, then you've got your own problems to work out.

I have split this topic. People who want to troll Project Mayhem 2012 can go here:
http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t12835-project-mayhem-2012-trolling

However, this topic happens to be one of the most co-operative examples of team problem solving on WITP. Since some people obviously don't like it when other people discuss something they disagree with, they can take their toys to the /b/ and go play there.

Thanks.

Disregard anything Chaos MagicK has to say, they are a troll that keeps making it back to the site and posts BS about Chaos MagicK all over the place. I wouldn't doubt it if that person was half the reason people keep bringing up the subject. I've been busy the last couple days so haven't been able to add much to this thread, but did't care to join in pointless arguments anyways so just did something else instead of wasting my time. I just tend to try and ignore the trolls, they just want to be fed. I put my 2 cents in on the thread wanting to close this one though. I'll be back to add more when I can 🙂 Great thread, can't wait for the next pm2012 page, we've went through a LOT since the last one and it hasn't even been that long 😃

I find PM2012 very interesting! Even if one doesn't believe the mysicism or occult behind it, the message of masses controlling the flow of our future really can't be argued. In the end, whether through a passive approach or protest approach, the People have always controlled the world.

I think we should be going through the topic and breaking it down into sections that we can explain. It's a lot of information for people to digest. Might be easier if we analyzed it and simplified it.

I think that's kind of what needs to be done. Take all the info we have and organize it a bit by breaking it into sections just like you say. Might find other things that were overlooked in the process too.

I agree. The issue is that people are having a hard time visualizing so much information. Finding the connections often takes visualization.

after not watching the thread for a few days and trying to catch up(currently on page 30) I read that alot of you are left handed and I've heard that the right brain controls the left side of the body and vice versa I checked that and got this http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Lateralization_of_brain_function

> There is some evidence[17] that the right hemisphere is more involved in processing novel situations, while the left hemisphere is most involved when routine or well rehearsed processing is called for was a interesting find maybe this is somehow related? 🙂

Edit: and now my brain is fucked I don't even know what happened it's like a completely different mindset now I know what you guys meant by your brain being fucked it's like a whole different world lol

I'm right-handed lol

Anyway regarding the assignment of turning in 10 pieces of art for the next clue. Can this be any piece of art? Like just a drawing with pencil and paper even though im a horrible drawer lol.

Because in that case i'll just draw something tommorow without thinking, take a picture and upload it btw this just comes to mind but its rather curious that the one who created this thread never bothered to look back on it...

Nightingale,

I would just like to add that your attitude, your mental clarity, your exquisite elegance & respect, your generosity and your ethical values represent all that I have ever wished Anonymous to become. When I sense fellow anons like yourself, I feel proud and honoured to be part of this Hivemind.

I can understand how you finished 1st in the public poll to vote for the favourite anon.

In my mind there's absolutely no doubt that once we break even towards reaching the mindset that your attitude represents, Anonymous shall become (please mark my words):

um does it really matter what art
i mean art, is art, but use the redblackyellowwhite,because i made that poster it wasnt really well like, or it promoted riots and hate so i was told but, thats not what i was thinking when i did it, here ill post it again can people tell me what they think pleas and thank you.

this is the first

here is the 2nd one and im also working on huge wasp made from hundreds of small wasp's

+1!! Agree with you totally.
All things are driven by either love or fear. Any action taken by anyone can ultimately be reduced down to only two motivating factors... love or fear... Therefor those 'trolling' in this thread, do they fear the idea behind pm2012? and isn't fear exactly what needs to be eliminated? Isn't fear what drives the system to stay in place?

I've been lurking this thread for weeks on end now. Alot of my belief system has been spelt out right infront of me over and over again (& connections that I have never seen or would ever have made have been made )... Which is kind of amazing, when my whole life, being brought up in a christian society, have been the odd one out. I've always looked at the world so different and have practiced spirituality for a long time. I'm and expert in Western (only unfortunately) Astrology and Crystals/Minerals. Just putting that out there incase anybody makes any connections.

I'll just put something really short about the only connections i've made with that so far (Not too much to do with pm2012 yet, but you guys may be able to see more connections) is somebody earlier on in the forum mentioned that we are moving into the age of Aquarius. I would just also like to mention, that coincidentally, 2008 Pluto moved from Sagittarius into Capricorn (the last time Pluto was in Capricorn was from 1762-1778).

Quick background of meanings.
Pluto: Pluto is the repository of the secrets of life and death. The fount of human depravity; cruelty, torture, murder, greed, destruction, evil and violence. Pluto's planetary purpose is to destroy that which no longer fits with the evolutionary plan. Pluto is set to transform the very structure of society, and how we live on our planet.

Sagitarius: The fun-loving 'free' spirited sign. Idealists.

Capricorn: Rules, Order, structure 'the backbone behind society'. Materialistic. A very career driven sign.
(Capricorn's planet- saturn)

Saturn: Ruler of time

As pluto moved into Sagittarius we saw corruption, widespread terrorism, people becoming imprisoned without trial, the freedom of speech slowly being taken away. As it moved into Capricorn and it's planet the ruler of time , We are starting to wake up. Time is ticking by faster then ever before. As Capricorn is an earth sign, related to matter and form, many of the systems and structures of our world will undergo a revolution; indeed our ultimate survival depends on it. The world as we know it is about to change.

> Carl Jung was of the view that destructive â€˜shadow materialâ€™ erupts when the unconscious is not honoured, not given room to function, or is suppressed. When we are constantly on the go and the conscious mind is crammed full of processing day-to-day activity, there is a subsequent ignorance of inner life and an imbalance results. Jung felt that this accumulated shadow material erupts in destructive events such as war, or genocide.
> Sustained ignorance of oneâ€™s inner life, a lack of introspection and self-awareness, could therefore conceivably fuel these dark episodes, and even spawn massive disasters that arrive direct from nature.
> But as more and more people take personal responsibility for changing their own lives, honouring the unconscious, and doing what they can to change those aspects of our world that are crying out for reform, we may well mitigate some of the looming hardships that now seem inevitable.
> Although Pluto is associated with a host of dark images and themes, through its action comes a spiritual richness, an acknowledgement of our vulnerability and common humanity. Death and suffering brings people together. Although an encounter with Pluto often means that we must confront painful and fated events, ultimately it is associated with rebirth and renewal. The cycle of life continues.

Ok so I could talk about the movement of Pluto into Capricorn for hours, so i'm just going to stop it there because I'm sure you guys get the general drift.

So anyway enough from me.
Going to keep enjoying being mindfucked with this thread!!

cK_anon, I like your second piece of artwork, but are those wasps or bees?

And I agree that the first one was a bit confusing, leaning towards calling for violence, which doesn't represent either Anonymous or PM2012 at all. But yeah, I like this one much better! Any bigger version of that?

Good but how about a huge Bee made from hundreds of Bees instead? Bees produce honey=Consciousness. Wasps don't produce anything.

Added some bees to the site I mentioned before It looks WAY better actually.

I'm going to be trying to organize the info on this thread somehow and maybe I can post something that helps down the line. Not sure what to respond to right now Although I did see some mention to "The secret is that there is NO secret.", the meaning of that is that the power lies within yourself already, you just have to realize it.

There are those who claim that facts can dispel conspiracy theories. What planet are these people living on? As Nietzsche said, 'There are no facts, only interpretations.' He might have come up with an even more extreme formulation: 'There are no facts, only misinterpretations.'

Wow, amazing! Does this thread have those kind of effects then? For you are not the first one to say so!

Beware, that could be the magicK in the thread trapping you further and further down the rabbit hole!

Astrology hasn't entered my Reality Tunnel yet, but only because I find it a bit daunting. But some time ago, I came across an overwhelming book by Richard Tarnas, where he reinterprets the whole history around astrology. First, he wrote another book, that has remained a classic to teach Western History in upper studies: that was his way to trojanize the scholars, to gain attention for this other book.

DARE to CREATE your Dream Reality is going to Bee our magickal motto.

1. Grab a pen or a pencil, -unless you got a drawing tablet, it's better than using the mouse, but feel free to use the mouse if you prefer-, and draw a picture of what it is for you that you would like to SEE happening worldwide next December 21 2012, 11:11.

Relax and allow your imagination to just fly: you can draw ANYTHING you feel like, you are not going to be judged for it.

Don't try to do something 'beautiful' just so that other anons admire your work:

open your mind to whatever the Universe tells you and be HONEST about what you'd like to see happening.

It doesn't matter that you 'don't know' how to draw: remember when we were inhibited children, ALL OF US know how to draw, right!?

Only two rules in this game:

* You have to use these 4 colours only: BLACK, WHITE, YELLOW, RED.
* You have to include a BEE in your drawing.

2. When you are finished, scan it and upload it to your personal blog, to any image hosting site such as imgur.com or send it as an attachment by email.

3. To Find The Others, SHARE your Creation with the Bees in the Hive Mind, as other anons already did. See below.

Send your artwork to

|=-----=[ anon ['@'] projectmayhem2012.org ]=-----=|

If selected, we will be publishing your Magick Reality Hacking drawings in the next HiveMinds[].html

You can also post them to http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t1676-project-mayhem-2012 and anywhere you want as well.

Further clues will be unlocked when a minimum 10 anons publish their artwork.

Yea no doubt man I wasn't taking a crack at you or anything I was just digging a little deeper into what you said like the old saying: Two heads are better than one!

But what I'm trying to get at is; is the Anon who created PM2012 insinuating that December 21, 2012 is the day of completion for the three phases and these enigmas are what the phases are supposed to be, if that makes any sense at all...

But some time ago, I came across an overwhelming book by Richard Tarnas, where he reinterprets the whole history around astrology. First, he wrote another book, that has remained a classic to teach Western History in upper studies: that was his way to trojanize the scholars, to gain attention for this other book.

I can see why you think it's daunting.... it goes so deep. There is so much to astrology, just when you think you know it all, another chapter pops up.

Yes bring on the mindfuck. I've been loving it. How deep down the rabbit hole do i want to go? As deep as it will take me ^.^

I've heard this before.....where did you get this information??? and why would Microsoft be watching this thread ?

that doesn't even make sense.

So i have read through all of this, skimmed some due to re-post, and my mind is going in a million different directions. I don't even know where to begin, all I know is that you guys/gals are fantastic, and really have something going here. Awesome job, now, if you don't mind, I'm going to gouge my eyes out.

I've split the topic again to remove some more troll posts. They're in the Project Mayhem 2012 trolling thread in /b/ if anyone feels compelled to continue the asshattery.

If you've any DOX you could provide for that, then feel free to post it.

I've been search the internet for the phrase "reality hacking"

I've found a few interesting things that might come into context of the pm2012 agenda.

http://www.searchlores.org/realicra/realicra.htm
http://www.transalchemy.com/2009/08/reality-hacking.html

By reading through them "reality hacking" means reversing the media/govements "reality" that has been imposed on us.

So here some food for thought; are we living in the Elites version of reality? and not our own?

anyway moar digging!.

I'd suggest: relax and just have fun, at least that's what I did with mine!

Oh, you mean fravia+! bows

Such a hero of mine, old school indeed, this guy rocked the Deep Interwebz like no one!

Searchlores, his archived site is such a gem of a site indeed! http://www.searchlores.org/

Here's fravia+ with Richard Stallman!

Such a loss that fravia+ passed away recently, he is deeply missed in the underground community...

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Fravia

I'd say that fravia+'s Reality Cracking has more to do with Culture Jamming & Social Engineering:

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Culture_jamming

Anyway, I'd say that the kind of Reality Hacking that PM2012 might be about maybe goes a couple of levels even deeper down the rabbit hole...

Thanks for bringing those times to my memory!

p.s. boring trolls are boring

So just a little update on some things that have been happening on my end the past couple of days. =)

I went to my first Hempfest in Seattle yesterday with a friend, and as we were leaving another friend called me up and asked if I would want to hit up a rave with him in Seattle. I had never been to a rave before and had never experienced the raver culture before yesterday, but it was absolutely amazing. Usually I'm very reserved and don't express myself through dance or anything like that, so I wasn't sure if I was going to enjoy it or not. But I decided what the hell why shouldn't I at least try it once?

Anyways we got to the rave and I was standing on the side observing all the pretty lights and sweat drenched people, and I finally decided "fuck it" and just went loose. My friend introduced me to Molly, an old friend of his, and we danced til the sweat was dripping from the ceiling. I had the most amazing night of my life and I don't regret anything. I got a taste of what true freedom was like and I feel like a totally different person now. I also met some amazingly awesome ravers who helped take care of me and I'm definitely looking forward to seeing them again.

I didn't realize it til my friend was driving us home and we were talking about the rave; apparently the name of the rave was 'Mayhem.' Coincidence? I dunno. But my mind was fucking blown when he told me that, and then it all made sense. It was beautiful.

If I may suggest, there is an absolutely beautiful book (that was also turned into a movie) called "The Celestine Prophecy".

I'd encourage everyone to read it!

It's about 9 Insights into human evolution:

1st Insight
Feeling restless? You're not alone: Everybody's starting to look for more meaning in life. Start paying closer attention to those seemingly "Chance Coincidences" - strange occurrences that feel like they were meant to happen. They are actually synchronistic events, and following them will start you on your path to spiritual truth.

2nd Insight
Observe our culture within its proper historical context. The first half of the past millennium was spent under the thumb of the church; in the second half we became preoccupied with material comfort. Now, at the end of the twentieth century, we've exhausted that preoccupation. We're ready to discover life's ultimate purpose.

3rd Insight
Start to get acquainted with the subtle energy that infuses all things. With practice, you can learn to see the aura around any living being and to project your own energy around it to give it strength.

4th Insight
An unconscious competition for energy underlies all conflicts. By dominating or manipulating others, we get the extra energy we think we need. Sure, it feels good - but both parties are damaged in the conflict.

5th Insight
The key to overcoming conflict in the world is the mystical experience, which is available to everyone. To nurture the mystical and build your energy, allow yourself to be filled with a sense of love.

6th Insight
Childhood traumas block our ability to fully experience the mystical. All humans, because of their upbringing, tend toward one of four control dramas:

- Intimidators steal energy from others by threat.
- Interrogators steal it by judging and questioning.
- Aloof people attract attention (and energy) to themselves by playing coy.
- People who victimize themselves make us feel guilty and responsible for them.

Become aware of the family dynamics that created your control drama and you can focus on your essential question, which is how to make of your life a higher- level synthesis of your parents' lives.

7th Insight
Once cleared of traumas, you can build energy through contemplation and meditation, focus on you basic life question, and start riding a steady stream of intuitions, dreams, and synchronistic coincidences, all guiding you in the direction of your own evolution and transformation.

8th Insight
That evolution can't be done alone, so begin to practice the new "Interpersonal Ethic" by uplifting those who cross your path. Talk to people who make spontaneous eye contact with you. Avoid co-dependent relationships. Be there for people. Call attention to other people's control dramas. In groups, speak when the spirit (instead of the ego) moves you.

9th Insight
Our purpose here is to evolve beyond this plane. Fewer people (a result of reproductive abstinence) and more old-growth forests will help us to sustain our energy and accelerate our evolution. Technology will do most of our work for us. As we begin to value spiritual insight more and more, we will pay those who bring it to us, and this will eventually replace the market economy and our need for paid employment. We can connect to God's energy in such a way that we will eventually become beings of light, and walk straight into heaven.

8 years ago, while I was freely backpacking by train my way all over Europe, I met a certain person in one of those Youth Hostels. We started talking and talking for hours till no end. Our conversation about events in our lives was full with coincidences, loads of amazing synchronicities! This person gave me this book as a farewell gift. I remember I started reading a little bit of it, but I was resonating with other things at that time.

After reading what just happened to Arthas and after reading your words, I think I'm going to pick it up again!

Thanks Nightingale, I can only describe what's happening around this thread as AWESOME!

You're welcome! Your comments reminded me of that book. Perhaps it was a synchronistic event that I should reintroduce you to it.

Art and weed go very well together. VERY well. A few months back I tried LSD for the first time and the piece I did came out to be a damn near timeline of my trip. Unfortunately I travel a lot for work so I haven't been able to have the time but I'll post some of my work and my pm2012 piece when I get back.

A couple things I follow rigorously:

Mentally prepare yourself before smoking by envisioning the piece Decide what emotions you want to exhibit in the piece

Combine background music that supports those emotions

I have a feeling that that realization you had on the way back from the rave will be just one of the MANY connections you make in re-mapping your subconscious.

Anywhere, anytime, anyone. My last memorable one was of walking by the Brandenburg Gate in Berlin when a man suffering from (possibly) cerebal palsy walked passed me, and as hard as it was for him to speak, he looked me in the eye and said "You're going to be alright ___." The fact that he used my name blew me away. Stopped me in my tracks as I attempted to rationalize. By the time I turned around he had disappeared into the crowd. MINDFUCK!

I recently came accross the idea that Kaos Magick may be capable of breaking the laws of physics with a Sigil powerful enough I intend to test it starting by walking on water
I think it's time I stopped thinking about this and started attempting what I plan on calling Magi which uses Sigils to do things such as build the Pyrimids I'm sure with a Powerful enough Sigil some really insane stuff can be done and I intend to do just that for pure fun because tbh this worlds physics are completely boring lets have some fun and break those laws using Magi the ultimate form of Kaos Magick

-teleportation
-creating free energy by thought
-Creating matter from nothing
-Creating beings from your imagination that other people can see and feel
-breaking ever possible limitation you can imagine that is the essence of Magi as for when a cipher is not a cypher it's whenever you damn well say it is simple as that

I'll Tell you exactly what happened with adam and Eve Adam Created eve using his rib as a sigil because he was lonely they had the tree of life but when they obeyed the snake they lost the free will they had and were faced with obedience I say fuck obedience I'm in charge every god damn little thing I want to be in charge of

And I agree that the first one was a bit confusing, leaning towards calling for violence, which doesn't represent either Anonymous or PM2012 at all. But yeah, I like this one much better! Any bigger version of that?

Good but how about a huge Bee made from hundreds of Bees instead? Bees produce honey=Consciousness. Wasps don't produce anything.

Sorry but I'm already taken by the most magicKal Woman-Hacker in ZION.

i just got stung today from a wasp i wasnt even bothering it hmmm what did i do?

oh and there wasps no bees ill make bee one instead.

and yes i have a bigger version of the bee mask i used a wasp for landing on the mask but used a bee for the blend in the mask

Ok so i made a crude drawing for the pm2012 assignment, dont be too harsh i cant draw that good. About the meaning of the drawing: So basically at the bottom are we the people but instead of heads i drawed beehives leaking honey. Those "people" are carrying a large queen bee and then there are some smaller bees collecting the honey from our "hives" and feeding it to the queen.

You decide what the deeper meaning behind it is, it jsut came to my mind and i thought the idea of drawing that would be pretty neat. So here is the result, again dont be too harsh lol. (please say so if the picture i uploaded is too large, then i will try to resize it)

So should i turn it in to pm2012 as part of the assignment or not? Also what are your opinions?

Maybe the Laws of physics are not set in stone and actually might evolve in function of the context, scale and degree of resolution or Reality and the degree of the Consciousness perceiving that particular Reality at that particular space-time?

In other words, from a certain scale downwards, the "Laws" of classical mechanics doesn't apply anymore and quantum effects start to affect Reality at that level.

Even more, those scales might be affected by the degree of "Evolution" in the Universe?

Laws of physics may change across the universe http://www.newscientist.com/article/dn19429-laws-of-physics-may-change-across-the-universe.html

Do the laws of physics evolve?
http://physics.stackexchange.com/questions/10078/do-the-laws-of-physics-evolve

Maybe Chaos Magicians are actually the biggest SCIENTISTS, whom have learned how to "connect" their "Consciousness" with the Will of the Universe in order to affect the Great Big Consciousness perceiving itself that all might be?

> Toolkit wrote:

+1!!

Time to stop thinking. Time to start ACTING.

Or, in the words at http://projectmayhem2012.org/00README-001.txt ,

Applying scientific thought to magic: if what you do, doesn't work, share your results, see what has worked to others, change your procedure and empirically re-test your assumptions until you see that you begin to observe results.

When you think about it, it's quite simple, really.

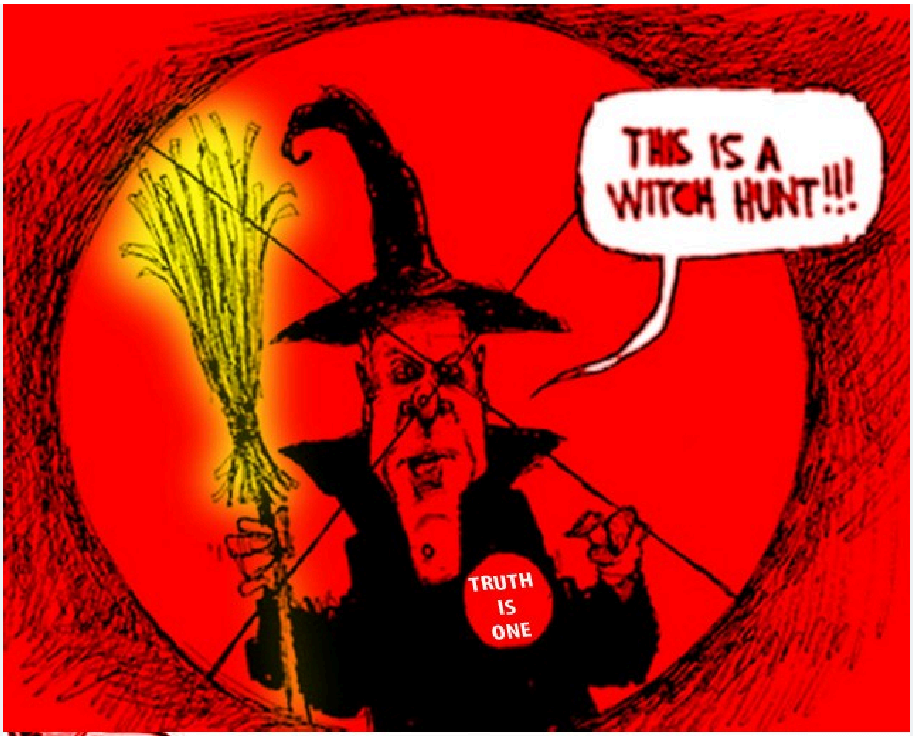
Hmm.

So, let's see if we got the hypothesis that magick might actually be operating inside PM2012 and in this thread, right?

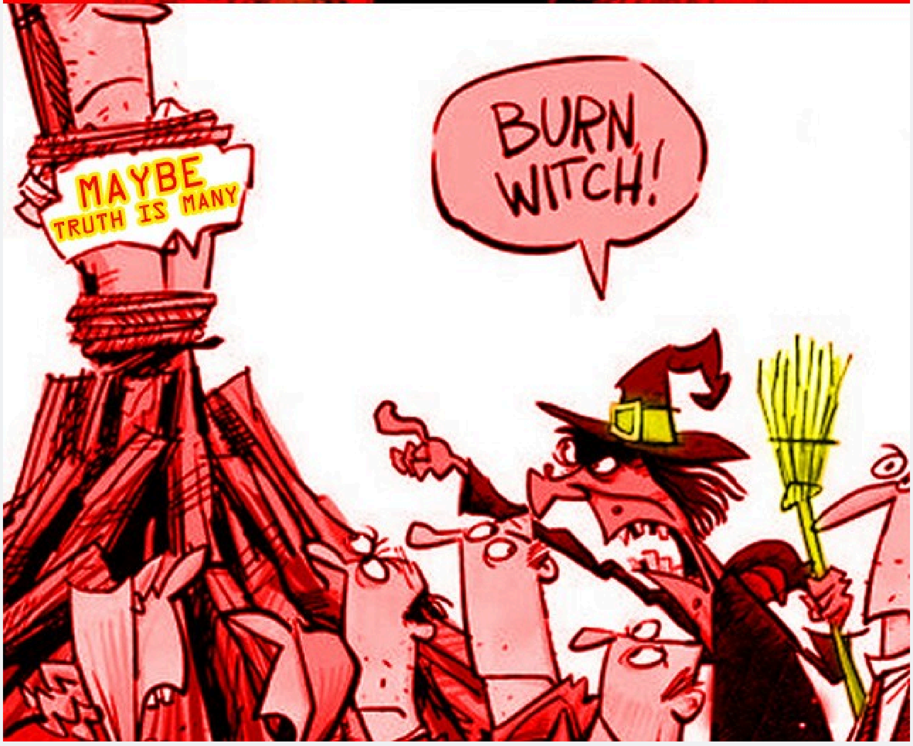
So,

Telemachos, global mod, about to be made Site Admin, and anon #1 by amount of comments to this site, decides to mess around with this thread, decides to INVERT the meaning and intentions of PM2012, decides to start a Witch Hunt and decides to try to CONTROL other peoples thoughts and Freedom of Speech by inducing FEAR in the Hivemind.

Like this:



THIS IS A WITCH HUNT!!!
TRUTH IS ONE



A few days later, Telemachos, in his own words, is self-destructed by Chaos Magick." Uh-oh. Buh-bye dictator-wannabe!

Nexxxt!

Then, some anons try to INVERT the current flow of sharing, joy and information gathering in this thread down with trolling.

Nobody here decides to fight against trolls: we simply ignore them Lurkers and active anons in this thread quite simply resonate with PM2012 instructions to ignore fears, doubts and disbeliefs:

> LULZ kills fear: that's the Spirit!
>
> IGNORE "opposition" or "defiance" to "prove" your newly found "powers" and just KEEP ON SHINING, KEEP ON CREATING and KEEP ON SHARING.
>
> If you IGNORE the so called external and internal "demons" (doubts, fears and disbeliefs) you'll realize that they will soon VANISH into thin air..

>
> http://projectmayhem2012.org/00README-001.txt

A few days later, Freedom of Speech prevails, another thread is created for PM2012 trolling and trolls vanish into thin air.

Nexxxt!

Hmm...

Coincidances? MagicK?

So. Let me see if I have got this correctly, ck_anon.

You freely decide to join an Alternate Reality Hacking game where apparently Chaos Magick forces are in effect, right?

- In the 1st assignment at view-source:http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind11101001.html , you are suggested to imagine your dream reality of what you'd like to see happening next December 21st 2012 11:11.
- You are suggested to draw your imagined Reality and to include a BEE in your design, for, as we have seen before in the game in Jodorowsky's twitter, bees produce honey=Consciousness, while wasps don't produce anything at all.
- You freely decide that you are not going to follow the instructions to a T and, firstly, -consciously or unconsciously- you ambiguously decide to associate violence -which is the polar INVERSION of what PM2012 have declared in their source code- with PM2012 in your first design.
- Then, in your second design, you freely decide to invert the instructions and draw a wasp instead of the suggested bee.

Nexxxt!

A few days later, suddenly you get stung by a wasp, right?

Hmm.

Other anons, such as Arthas, as suggested by PM2012 instructions to 'Hack Reality' inside http://projectmayhem2012.org/00README-001.txt decide to show Courage and experience a taste of what True Freedom is.

> Arthas wrote:
> and I finally decided "fuck it" and just went loose. My friend introduced me to Molly, an old friend of his, and we danced til the sweat was dripping from the ceiling. I had the most amazing night of my life and I don't regret anything. >

He hasn't been the first one to express how positively this thread has affected their lives. Any other lurkers that have experienced the same kind of feelings since we started to follow this game, feel free to step forward.

So,

Not too long ago, after we decided to send our 1st assignment artwork to PM2012 email, me and other contributing anons in this thread received this email from PM2012:

The ZENx word is linked to a video. This one:

I know I've been doing hundreds of summonings by pure accident since I was 13 tbh summoning is mere childs play granted not until recently did I manage anything more then a temporary imagination thought atm I have like 8-15 summons I can talk to at anytime or all at once :p only realized that recently and the more I've been delving into it the more it seems like the possiblity of "god" like abilities are only to the limitation of the imagination of ones mind as to what he/she can do the universe is merely your playtoy which sounds like fun to me seeing as the world I used to live in had such dull and boring limitations that I was on the verge of suicide many times but now I know I can be the sepreme ruler of my reality I can only imagine how much fun I'm gonna have exploring the possiblitys of breaking EVER SINGLE LAW OF PHYSICS AND THEN SOME >

Maybe Chaos Magicians are actually the biggest SCIENTISTS, whom have learned how to "connect" their "Consciousness" with the Will of the Universe in order to affect the Great Big Consciousness perceiving itself that all might be?

+1!!

Time to stop thinking. Time to start ACTING.

Or, in the words at http://projectmayhem2012.org/00README-001.txt ,

Applying scientific thought to magic: if what you do, doesn't work, share your results, see what has worked to others, change your procedure and empirically re-test your assumptions until you see that you begin to observe results.

When you think about it, it's quite simple, really. 😎

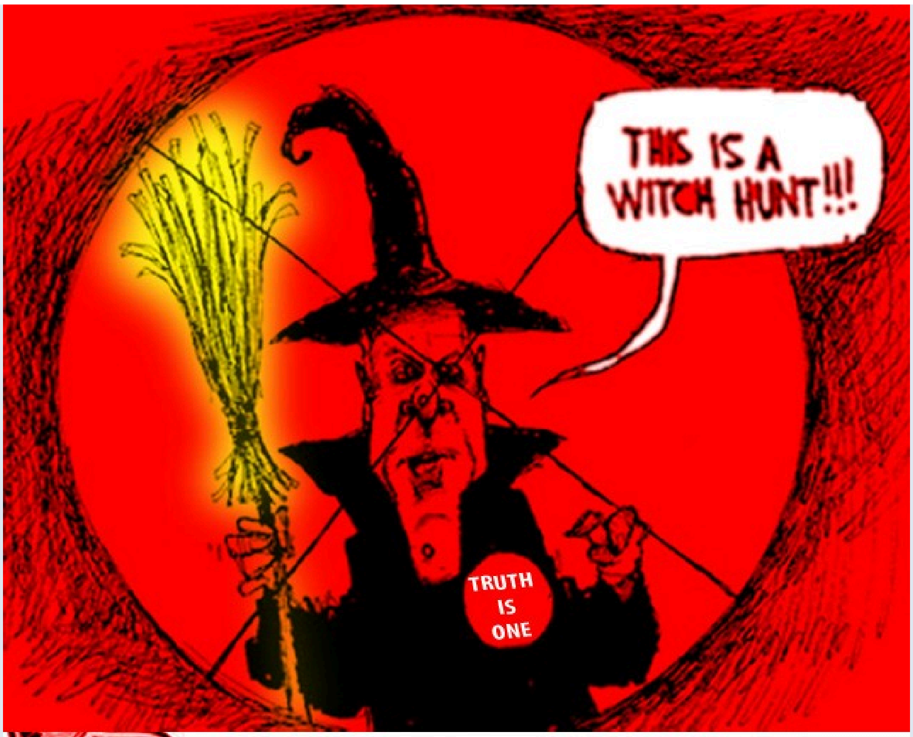
Hmm.

So, let's see if we got the hypothesis that magick might actually be operating inside PM2012 and in this thread, right?

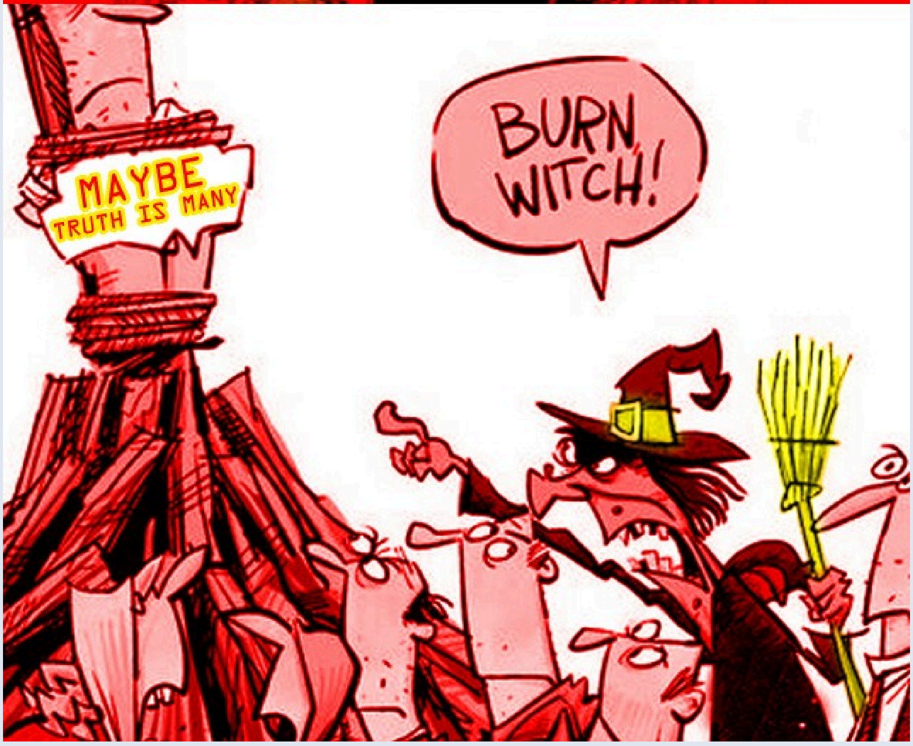
So,

Telemachos, global mod, about to be made Site Admin, and anon #1 by amount of comments to this site, decides to mess around with this thread, decides to INVERT the meaning and intentions of PM2012, decides to start a Witch Hunt and decides to try to CONTROL other peoples thoughts and Freedom of Speech by inducing FEAR in the Hivemind.

Like this:



THIS IS A WITCH HUNT!!!
TRUTH IS ONE



A few days later, Telemachos, in his own words, is self-destructed by Chaos Magick." Uh-oh. Buh-bye dictator-wannabe!

Nexxxt!

Then, some anons try to INVERT the current flow of sharing, joy and information gathering in this thread down with trolling.

Nobody here decides to fight against trolls: we simply ignore them Lurkers and active anons in this thread quite simply resonate with PM2012 instructions to ignore fears, doubts and disbeliefs:

> LULZ kills fear: that's the Spirit!
>
> IGNORE "opposition" or "defiance" to "prove" your newly found "powers" and just KEEP ON SHINING, KEEP ON CREATING and KEEP ON SHARING.
>
> If you IGNORE the so called external and internal "demons" (doubts, fears and disbeliefs) you'll realize that they will soon VANISH into thin air..

>
> http://projectmayhem2012.org/00README-001.txt

A few days later, Freedom of Speech prevails, another thread is created for PM2012 trolling and trolls vanish into thin air.

Nexxxt!

Hmm...

Coincidances? MagicK?

So. Let me see if I have got this correctly, ck_anon.

You freely decide to join an Alternate Reality Hacking game where apparently Chaos Magick forces are in effect, right?

- In the 1st assignment at view-source:http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind11101001.html , you are suggested to imagine your dream reality of what you'd like to see happening next December 21st 2012 11:11.

- You are suggested to draw your imagined Reality and to include a BEE in your design, for, as we have seen before in the game in Jodorowsky's twitter, bees produce honey=Consciousness, while wasps don't produce anything at all.

- You freely decide that you are not going to follow the instructions to a T and, firstly, -consciously or unconsciously- you ambiguously decide to associate violence -which is the polar INVERSION of what PM2012 have declared in their source code- with PM2012 in your first design.

- Then, in your second design, you freely decide to invert the instructions and draw a wasp instead of the suggested bee.

Nexxxt!

A few days later, suddenly you get stung by a wasp, right?

Hmm.

Other anons, such as Arthas, as suggested by PM2012 instructions to 'Hack Reality' inside http://projectmayhem2012.org/00README-001.txt decide to show Courage and experience a taste of what True Freedom is.

> Arthas wrote:

He hasn't been the first one to express how positively this thread has affected their lives. Any other lurkers that have experienced the same kind of feelings since we started to follow this game, feel free to step forward.

So,

Not too long ago, after we decided to send our 1st assignment artwork to PM2012 email, me and other contributing anons in this thread received this email from PM2012:

ZENx

The ZENx word is linked to a video. This one:

Draw[n] your own conclusions.

First i have to say your are amazing,
When i got stung i was really trying to figure out why i got stung,because i wasn't bothering it in no way, i was only ever stung twice in my life both were my fault,
i should of followed the rules better,
my heart was in the right place but not my mind,
when i was stung the sting didnt hurt as much as i remembered being stung was hmmm, so i think it was a little reminder of staying on track with my mind body pay more attention to the rules.

Okay now in the video @ 3:25 in my city toronto im all most finished my new art and its along the same lines as that please have a look at the video i couldnt not belive it because around that part in the video i tried to skim threw that piece because i didnt understand what he was saying or trying to do, and it wouldnt let me! kept going back to that time 3:20,
So i said to myself okay i better watch this because this video is trying to show me somthingso i keep watching and and a picture of where i live poped up, please have a look @3:25 i am not sure what it means but its exactly what i have drawn and i have [size=18]]never/size] seen that video before or a picture like that, so can you help me understand that ? what he was saying or give me a little insight on it. i will post my new picture today you will see how much they look alike AmazZzinga!!

I've yet to really test Sigils to any real signifigent or successful extent but I have found Summoning to be Childsplay as well as any other thing relating to specifically my body and what it feels I can turture myself I can pleasure myself in both male and female ways I can minipulate my emotions withen a huge spectrum in a matter of seconds have been doing so for years it's about time I minipulated things outside my body and possibly did some revenge to my dad for being such a controlling piece of shit as far as summoning goes the idea of imagining a person even if so simple as a name and adding attributes to them and giving them a "voice" in your head that you can listen to as of late I've been exploring into them telling me what they are like rather then me forcing them to be a certain way as for desummoning not exactly sure there as not only have I never performed any saftey checks for the summons should something bad happen but also never really "desummoned" so to speak one then agian I have always recognized different specific points in my brain being recoginized with a certain entity and I know my real one for I've had atleast 3 since about 5 or 6 that would constantly argue and crap being my left brain right brain and the "me" being the back center just sharing this info should anyone be able to make any kind of use for it I think that forcing it to be a certain way and maintaining complete control over it rather then it speaking for itself at first would be suggested and then after creation give it a voice in your head that you can listen to as if it was a nother person talking to you via telepathy I for a while got fooled into thinking that one was a actual alien that was doing stuff with me but I found it was just a practical joke by my right side ;p I highly suggest the idea tho of making a spot on your brain from which a voice originates and that being identified with it's dox

So, I know I tasted magick two nights ago. Ever since I graduated from college this past May, I've been home studying for the LSAT on October 1. Given that I have a lot of free time, I have been able to becoming extremely introspective, and really question who I am as a person, what has made me into the person I am today, and to REALLY take a critical look at my world and to see behind the veil of illusion if you will. This critical analysis took an extremely detrimental toll on myself as a person because I became so aware of all of the corruption, the deceit, lying, and the so-called "justified" mass killings of our own species that I became pretty isolated and secluded for a couple of weeks. During this time my curiosity expanded into other realms of thinking, most notably, consciousness and dreaming. At my university it was required that each student take 4 semesters of philosophy. However, I honestly always wondered why there was never any philosophy about dreaming. I mean, we all do it, but what is it, what does it really mean, and why do we sometimes remember it in the morning and other times we dont... It seemed like such an important discovery to be discussing that I was honestly completely stunned that I never really heard about it at all.

Randomly, and I mean RANDOMLY, I stumbled upon a movie called "Waking Life", a movie that centers around a guy that lucid dreams (becomes aware that he is dreaming) and his exploration in his dream world (consciousness/subconscious) and than his "real" world. Anyways, I became completely fascinated, and couldn't stop thinking about it. For the last couple of months I have really gotten into lucid dreaming, OBE's, Astral Projection, and in turn, spirituality and my consciousness as a whole.

I wanted to lay all of this out because it wasn't until 2 nights ago that I went over to my brothers house that I really talked to his best friend for the first time. Where did our conversation go right away... lucid dreaming. I mean, to actually talk to a "real" person, and not just read or watch videos on the internet about lucid dreaming took me to a whole new world. We were discussing extremely similar things that we do in our dreams, he told me details that I've also experienced, and also explained some ways that he can identify himself as being in a dream and therefore become lucid. I struggled with lucid dreaming for quite some time, and really stopped for a little bit. However, when he told me that he actually asks the people in his dreams "who they are" or "what they are doing here" instead of just talking about whatever the context of the dream is, it hit me like a ton of bricks. I literally can always remember what exactly the people in my dreams look like, what happened, what we talked about, etc. Yet, it never really occurred to me to actually question these people.

I've had way too many "coincidences" in the past couple of months to just write them off as mere chance. So many things have led me to one thing, which in turn has led me to another, and so on. Everything honestly seems as though it is connected. Magick is happening all around me, people have performed it on me, and because I am aware of it now, I really do believe that I can be a magician.

EDIT: I havn't read a lot of sigils, I was up to date with PM up until it hit page 18, but then took a much needed break from WITP. However, I wanna say, I think my consciousness is my sigil, it's as real, tangible, physical as you make it to be.

Ok, at 3:25, so, you mean, this:

I think I might know what this means. But, in my opinion, you really gotta decode such an amazing MINDFUCK for yourself, cK_anon.

All I'm going to say is that, in my view, you are on your right tracks.

Trust your INSTINTCS, follow your INTUITIONS and OPEN YOUR HEART towards what might be going on in here: me, I'm doing that.

Hmm.

Nice little thread, huh?

Love you all, Anons.

Then, according to Grant Morrison's Pop Magic ( http://www.scribd.com/doc/6146253/Pop-Magic-Grant-Morrison ) and also inside http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind1011001.html ...:

> Magical paradigm shifting
>
> Perhaps the most striking feature of chaos magic is the concept of the magical paradigm shift. Borrowing a term from philosopher Thomas Samuel Kuhn, Carroll made the technique of arbitrarily changing one's world view (or paradigm) of magic, a major concept of chaos magic. An example of a magical paradigm shift is doing a Lovecraftian rite, followed by using a technique from an Edred Thorsson book in the following ritual. These two magical paradigms are very different, but while the individual is using one, he or she believes in it fully to the extent of ignoring all other (often contradictory) ones. The shifting of magical paradigms has since found its way into the magical work of practitioners of many other magical traditions, but chaos magic remains the field where it is most developed. Changing belief systems at will is also sometimes practiced by followers of Discordianism. Some chaos magicians like to operate in what is sometimes called a META-PARADIGM.

This is much akin to syncretism but with the consideration that flexibility of belief is a means of personal power and freedom. A more or less syncretic reality tunneling. Even more removed from this, being a post-meta-paradigmatic view, or an abstention from the notion of any view being absolute, compare Nietzsche's Perspectivism. [edit]Belief as a tool Chaos magic claims that belief can be an active magical force. It emphasizes flexibility of belief and the ability to consciously choose one's beliefs, hoping to apply belief as a tool rather than seeing it as a relatively unchanging part of one's personality. Various psychological techniques are employed in order to induce flexibility of belief.

Other chaos magicians suggest that PEOPLE DO NOT NEED "BELIEF" TO WORK MAGIC.
Austin Osman Spare asserts in the Book of Pleasure and various other works that Will formulates Desire which promulgates Belief.

Emphasis on creative ritualism

Emphasis on creative ritualism and innovation of ritual take place in all magical and religious traditions at varying paces. In the case of chaos magic, the idea that belief systems and gnosis-inducing techniques are interchangeable has led to a particularly wide variety of magical practices evidenced in large and diverse directories of rituals.

Many authors explicitly encourage readers TO INVENT THEIR OWN MAGICAL STYLE. "

How to Be a Chaos Magician in Extremely Simple Easy steps:

POP MAGIC! by Grant Morrison.

POP MAGIC! is Magic! for the People. Pop Magic! is Naked Magic! Pop Magic! lifts the 7 veils and shows you the tits of the Infinite.

As seen inside http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind1011001.html :

HOW TO BE A MAGICIAN

Simple. Declare yourself a magician, behave like a magician, practice magic every day.

Be honest about your progress, your successes and failures. Tripping on 500 mushrooms might loosen your astral sphincter a little but it will not generally confer upon you any of the benefits of the magic I'm discussing here. Magic is about what you bring BACK from the Shining Realms of the Uberconscious. The magician dives into the Immense Other in search of tips and hints and treasures s/he can bring home to enrich life in the solid world. And, if necessary, Fake it till you make it.

HOW TO BE A MAGICIAN 2

Read lots of books on the subject to get in the mood. Talking about magic with non-magicians is like talking to virgins about shagging. Reading about magic is like reading about sex: it will get you horny for the real thing but it won't give you nearly as much fun.

Reading will give you a feel for what's crap and what can be usefully adapted to your own style. Develop discrimination. Don't buy into cults, aliens, paranoia, or complacency. Learn whom to trust and whom to steer clear of.

HOW TO BE A MAGICIAN 3

Put down the books, stop making excuses, and START.

...you already are a MAGICIAN!

It's that simple, yeah!

Enjoy and let us know what happens in your life from now on!

I am watching this documentary called "Kymatica" and thought that I had to share this. Why I think you should all watch this right now.

I saw it some months ago. After your suggestion, I will rewatch it AGAIN. Thanks Myth24!

I'm embedding it here:

Just a heads up, I wanted it to be known that I shall not be posting furthermore here-in, remaining nothing more than an observer of this thread and dynamic.

I posted about the Unhived Mind website upon this forum, inside this thread; and it was --Taken Out-- after having been hosted on InvisionFree for years for a TOS violation.

Either a co-incidence, or someone out there is a back & heart stabbing snitch and jesuit coadjuator.

This is not safe water to be treading in, if the 'Bees' iconography & symbology are not enough of a tell; I don't know what is.

Anonymous hacking the government websites of Tunisia, Egypt, Libya, Syria - sure the whole thing isn't co-opted ...

If you want to understand Zoroastrianism; study it yourself; don't depend on dispensations of or by an invisible brotherhood.

Have fun with your circle jerk and being a dupe for the agenda you think you are fighting against ...

Regards,

Well, with all due respect 12DnAHelix, as it's been proved in this very same thread, not all Anons in the Hivemind share the same mindset towards each and everyone of the suggested "actions", for we are a Hivemind of individuals, and, fortunately, individuals are different among themselves and while they might share a common goal, the might have got different personalities, different attitudes and different opinions:

Some of us in here are actually very little interested in hacking government sites, DDoSing, using violence to voice our requests or in trying to "CONTROL" things -as in instructing people what to believe or not, as Telemachos tried to do without much success... -, but hey, each one should be free to resonate with whatever they deem useful, right?

Actually, I'd say Mr.Razz's pic is quite eloquent about the whole Anonymous mindset: many different honeycombs, ONE common emergent and self-evolving Hivemind.

I am sorry, a truly illuminated one doesn't need to use the same cover as those who serve the darkness; they don't hide behind masks either.

Like I said, I will remain an observer; but you yourself seem to already think you know it all.

I only posted once more because I wanted to let it be known that the Unhived Mind had been taken out.

This has nothing to do with telemachos, me personally, you personally, or anyone else personally - it has to do with a guise under which subversive activities occur.

That is not how the light operates, but it is how the light which masquerades as darkness works.

You people out there, please do your own research - above, beyond and outside the stick and carrot trick you are all being led on - regarding ANONYMOUS as a whole; and Project Mayhem specifically ...

... don't be a dupe ...

I said my piece,
Regards
12DnA

there was one called freespirit or something.

after work I came home and my girlfriend said she just finished watching spirited away.

as i thought about it; im still cluthing the straws of science and forcing myself not to believe in this stuff. This shit shouldn't happen.

The last thing that topped it all of is that in my shop, a customer said to me "Isn't it wierd when you get a gut feeling?" after he won quite alot of money.

Wow i'm so jealous of all you guys :O i experience minor coincidences too where at some moments i think ok thats a bit weird or something. But i have felt that for the past years regularly, so i dont know if its connected to any of this. I've yet to experience a giant mindfuck similar to some of you had, wich i'm really jealous about btw

Ooh well we shall see what the future holds as they say: time will tell

(ooh yeah i just remember)
I had activated a sigil of my own once remember? Well it was prior to a date i should have with this girl. And well i thought it couldnt hurt to try with the whole sigil thing. So i created a sigil with the message that i wanted to have a great date. And actually as i may have told, I DID HAD A GREAT DATE with that girl. I dont know if its due to the sigil or maybe its all my own doing. Anyway since then that girl is closely becoming my girlfriend, just felt like some people might be interested by this because of the sigil Exactly! That's actually half of the fun with magick, that you will never ever be sure what was the "cause" of it!

I actually didnt get a "real" mindfuck. i just posted what was going on in my life and i actually dont know if the sigil played part in that like i said before Thats why i dont have that big mindfuck where the feeling comes as in it all connects together. I miss THAT feeling, and thats why im jealous of some of u ^^

Oh, well, where shall I start... Honestly, sometimes it feels like I'm living the whole Matrix experience!

Well, ok, I'll share something with you: my girlfriend charged a sigil to meet me! We've been together for 3 years.

Hmm... as you progress in the relationship, you might feel like sharing with her your magickal -or not! - story, she might feel curious about this all... just not yet, for she might think you are a Wizard!

LoVe is in the air!

All the best vibes to you, /b/ro!

ok been a while since I posted here as I was on holidays but I have been reading the last 20 pages or so and rolling around on the floor laughing at some of the Mayhem nothing new to add on the project mayhem site but since we are sharing I thought I'd just share a little synchronicity I had whilst away.

The weather wasn't the best so we got some vids for the kids. One of which was Jim Hensons Muppets from Space made back in 1999...anyway we've never seen it before and just before the film started one of the kids asked the question
"what type of animal is gonzo?"...no one really knew, some said turkey, some said vulture...anyway to our surprise that is exactly what the film was about "WHAT THE FUCK IS GONZO?!"...Gonzo is the central character in the film and it's about his quest to find out who and what he is...

So we're watching the film and it's full of conspiracy in jokes and some esoteric imagery (gotta love the muppets for that)...as the film progresses it becomes apparent that Gonzo is from space, gonzo finds out by meeting two evolved species of fish (gotta love the muppets for their surrealism aswell).

I'm starting to get quite interested now in what messages were being embedded into kids minds (I personally think The Muppets maybe one of the best and most subversive kids shows ever made) and then I spot it...The Muppets are driving around in a psychedlically painted bus with ELECTRIC MAYHEM" painted on the side!!!!...now some of you may know that this is the name of the muppet band but it's something I never knew despite growing up watching the muppets it's something I conciously never remembered...now what have those muppets being seeding me with for all those childhood years!

...anyway towards the end of the movie where Gonzo summons his alien brethren the camera pans out to reveal a panorama and it looks nearly exactly like where we were holidaying...and then in the movie the mothership that gonzo summoned lands.

After the film is over myself and my wife go out to look at the stars. we both notice something flashing a couple of times in the sky and both say to each other "hey what was that?"...the previous year my cousin and myself had seen the exact same thing at the same time of year in the same constellation of stars!!!!...after a bit of research that year I put it down to my cousin and myself must have just seen an iridium satellite flare but for my wife and myself to see what looked like the same thing, a year later, in the same part of the sky is one hell of a coincidance...even if it's still only an iridium flare

I never ever tire of synchronicity and coicidance but one thing I will say about this is you must be on the right path if the Muppets are on your side...that or I'm a bloody muppet which may also be true

Whilst on holiday my self and some friends also came up with a neat social experiment we are going to put into action which I'll share with you as it develops, needless to say the plan we came up with was a question I asked a sigils help with a few weeks ago ...how to make personal changes within our lives and personal relationships to alter the system we are living in from within by using the systems own tools against itself in a perfectly legal way...and the plan we came up with uses the fibonacci sequence as it's basis it just fitted perfectly with what we were talking about!!!

As it develops and if it works I'll gladly share it with other anons to see if they can make it work for themselves, ok off to do more work on it. Later anons and remember...keep the faith...whatever that may be and don't be afraid to change it from time to time just for lulz one other small coincidance...the place I holiday in was unusually overrun with wasps this year ...normally I have an inordinate phobia for them but this year for some reason I didn't fear them like I used to and they seemed to leave me alone for the most part...funny stuff hey CK?

oh and here's Electric Mayhem in action

Oh and by the way it's the first video I came accross for them when I went looking for one...check out the lyrics "more human then Human" . The song is a cover of a White Zombie track, the drummer of White Zombie Ivan De Prume went on to play with Scott Puseky former guitarist with Marylin Manson another nice coincidance huh?

Hmm.

So, let's see if we got the hypothesis that magick might actually be operating inside PM2012 and in this thread, right?

So,

Telemachos, global mod, about to be made Site Admin, and anon #1 by amount of comments to this site, decides to mess around with this thread, decides to INVERT the meaning and intentions of PM2012, decides to start a Witch Hunt and decides to try to CONTROL other peoples thoughts and Freedom of Speech by inducing FEAR in the Hivemind.

Like this:

A few days later, Telemachos, in his own words, is self-destructed by Chaos Magick." Uh-oh. Buh-bye dictator-wannabe!

Nexxxt!

Then, some anons try to INVERT the current flow of sharing, joy and information gathering in this thread down with trolling.

Nobody here decides to fight against trolls: we simply ignore them Lurkers and active anons in this thread quite simply resonate with PM2012 instructions to ignore fears, doubts and disbeliefs:

> LULZ kills fear: that's the Spirit!
>
> IGNORE "opposition" or "defiance" to "prove" your newly found "powers" and just KEEP ON SHINING, KEEP ON CREATING and KEEP ON SHARING.
>
> If you IGNORE the so called external and internal "demons" (doubts, fears and disbeliefs) you'll realize that they will soon VANISH into thin air..

A few days later, Freedom of Speech prevails, another thread is created for PM2012 trolling and trolls vanish into thin air.

Nexxxt!

Hmm...

Coincidances? MagicK?

So. Let me see if I have got this correctly, ck_anon.

You freely decide to join an Alternate Reality Hacking game where apparently Chaos Magick forces are in effect, right?

- In the 1st assignment at view-source:http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind11101001.html , you are suggested to imagine your dream reality of what you'd like to see happening next December 21st 2012 11:11.
- You are suggested to draw your imagined Reality and to include a BEE in your design, for, as we have seen before in the game in Jodorowsky's twitter, bees produce honey=Consciousness, while wasps don't produce anything at all.
- You freely decide that you are not going to follow the instructions to a T and, firstly, -consciously or unconsciously- you ambiguously decide to associate violence -which is the polar INVERSION of what PM2012 have declared in their source code- with PM2012 in your first design.
- Then, in your second design, you freely decide to invert the instructions and draw a wasp instead of the suggested bee.

Nexxxt!

A few days later, suddenly you get stung by a wasp, right?

Hmm.

Other anons, such as Arthas, as suggested by PM2012 instructions to 'Hack Reality' inside http://projectmayhem2012.org/00README-001.txt decide to show Courage and experience a taste of what True Freedom is.

> Arthas wrote:

He hasn't been the first one to express how positively this thread has affected their lives. Any other lurkers that have experienced the same kind of feelings since we started to follow this game, feel free to step forward.

So,

Not too long ago, after we decided to send our 1st assignment artwork to PM2012 email, me and other contributing anons in this thread received this email from PM2012:

The ZENx word is linked to a video. This one:

Draw[n] your own conclusions.

First i have to say your are amazing,
When i got stung i was really trying to figure out why i got stung,because i wasn't bothering it in no way,
i was only ever stung twice in my life both were my fault,
i should of followed the rules better,
my heart was in the right place but not my mind,
when i was stung the sting didnt hurt as much as i remembered being stung was hmmm, so i think it was a little reminder of staying on track with my mind body pay more attention to the rules.

Okay now in the video @ 3:25 in my city toronto im all most finished my new art and its along the same lines as that please have a look at the video i couldnt not belive it because around that part in the video i tried to skim threw that piece because i didnt understand what he was saying or trying to do, and it wouldnt let me! kept going back to that time 3:20,
So i said to myself okay i better watch this because this video is trying to show me somthingso i keep watching and and a picture of where i live poped up, please have a look @3:25 i am not sure what it means but its exactly what i have drawn and i have [size=18]]never/size] seen that video before or a picture like that, so can you help me understand that ? what he was saying or give me a little insight on it. i will post my new picture today you will see how much they look alike AmazZzinga!!

smaller image

To see full image click link go to phtobucket

http://i1138.photobucket.com/albums/n526/cK_anon/The-Toronto-Skyline1-1.png

Okay after watching the video im so mindfucked I THOUGHT I would be able to see, in the alphabet its missing I,K,U,W,Y than in 1:14 i get O,J,R,L,V,L,L,E pentagram i feel like im heading down the wrong path, going to take a brake for a bit than come back to it

Oh, well, where shall I start... Honestly, sometimes it feels like I'm living the whole Matrix experience!

Well, ok, I'll share something with you: my girlfriend charged a sigil to meet me! We've been together for 3 years.

We still don't know if it was because of the sigil or not, and after all these years, I'm still wondering if magick really works!

I told you, she's the magick-hacker Trinity in the Matrix, I'm just an astonished observer at her magick skills!

Honest to doG!

after really taking a serious plunge into Magick like 2 days ago I've already found my essence of Kaos I still haven't figured out how to properly use and charge sigils yet but I've already lost all forms of sanity it leads to total destruction of ones sane self and I can't say it's the most enjoyable thing... also I see to be a fucking magnet for Kao energy since I delved into trying to do magi my life has changed dramitically I'm not really sure I want to keep going and do much beyond Summoning characters and writting books as apposed to going beyond what anyone has done so far I can't say I've enjoyed being around Kaos like this at all I suggest being careful with it cause it can seriously fuck you up and fast btw a sigil can be nothing more then a peom or even a mere play on words and it can still have the possibility of even so far as killing someone by accident even

I've also already lost all sense of the word time I can barely think straight I keep having weird very graphical dreams and a active imagination/day dreaming of different forms of Kao Energy I keep thinking it's nightime when it's sunny or vice versa I'm like a complete mess of Kao energy and it sure as hell is not the best thing I've ever felt :/

Hi Toolkit: Breathe in. Breathe out. Relax.

I noticed that you posted this some days ago:

> Toolkit wrote:
>
> ty haha
> I've had my mind fucked before and I ended up going literally insane and that's putting it mildly so be sure you can come back to reality before you go really deep into this stuff

http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t1676p600-project-mayhem-2012#148768

Well, I'd suggest that you consider this, Toolkit:

Have you made sure that you can come back to reality before you go really deep into this stuff?

Then you posted this:

> Toolkit wrote:
>
> I recently came accross the idea that Kaos Magick may be capable of breaking the laws of physics with a Sigil powerful enough I intend to test it starting by walking on water 🙂
>
> I think it's time I stopped thinking about this and started attempting what I plan on calling Magi which uses Sigils to do things such as build the Pyrimids I'm sure with a Powerful enough Sigil some really insane stuff can be done and I intend to do just that for pure fun because tbh this worlds physics are completely boring lets have some fun and break those laws using Magi the ultimate form of Kaos Magick

About the supernatural, -and this is only in my opinion-, you do not need to try to break the Laws of Physics if, as you say, you haven't actually even considered what sigils might be, in the same way that you shouldn't try to drive a Ferrari first if you've never driven any car. Makes sense, right? 😎

I'd suggest that you think about this for a moment:

I'm not going to consider the physics behind that, or whether it might be possible to do such a thing or not. But I'm going to offer you the following idea: 💡

Why aiming at breaking the laws of physics when you could aim at discovering all the wonders surrounding you in this physical Universe? 💡

Dude, when you focus in seeing what's around, you soon realize that the world is so full of AWESOMENESS everywhere without the need of any magick at all!

In my opinion, if, as you say, you've had a history of mental instability, maybe it might not be too wise to decide to jump straight into the ocean when you might not have mastered the art of swimming yet, right? 😎

I suggest you forget about this thread and try to focus in all the good and beautiful things around you all the time, and appreciate them for how magical it is that they have been 'put there' for you to enjoy them: realize that the physics in this Universe are just AWESOME just the way they are!

These videos are for you:

a friend and fellow magician said I might be on the brink of egodeath and I just... I dunno it's weird :/ I feel slightly scared and very much alone more so then I've ever felt before :/ at the same time I've never known anything about myself never really had a true will or persona that is the true me I've always built upon nothingness I have no idea what I'm really like...

everything that I've felt that I've known that I've believed that I've thought is crumbling and falling apart piece by piece rather quickly

Don't worry, it takes much more than that to egodie, really!

Incidentally, how old are you?

Take some time to re-read my message -very specially the breathe in, breathe out part and watch those videos, for, in my personal experience, it's by noticing external beauty that we end up noticing our internal beauty and realising how truly awesome we all are inside.

and no I have not made sure I can come back to reality after doing deep into it I haven't even really had the time to try doing such and I may not want to... reality as I've seen it thus far is a boring piece of shit totally... the essence of complete and utter restricted control on everything that I've ever wanted to do to have fun I've dreamed of a world filled with true magic a world free from the restrains of the stupid laws of physics that prevent such a creative and unique world that I would so long to live in of completely destroying every restriction imaginable to do whatever I damn welled please as if I was a god upon this world to break even rule to break every form of logic to break it down into something of my own creation something to me that is the pure essence of lack of restriction to these false restrictions I've hated so long be in a realm much like you play in your video games those rpg games you love so much that's the realm I want to exist in

I've actually read about what your experiencing right now in some of the books regarding chaos magick. Dont know where i read it but if its really an egodeath you are at the bottom of chaos magick. After going through such an experience it is said you can create your own ego, thus create your own new character with attributes you want to have, like being creative, being charming, courageous etc. etc.

Again i just read it, don't know if i want to believe this (or if it even is real) or even experience this kind of thing. Just commenting because i felt like it may be good for you to know.

Don't overdo it please, keep sane

I think I did that myself I got led by kaos and under full rule of kaos upon my will I'm a incredibly EVIL person fully willing to dominate anything I want I mean the epitome of exacting full control over ever little detail after seeing that I almost automatically created a new ego which may very well be the exact oppsite of my truely chaotic side I did not know that but now that I do I kind of want to go back and create what I really think I should be and would want to be cause atm I don't feel right with who I want to be I want to have the control of my evil side but not abuse it but instead use it for the exact opposite purposes i just had the biggest mindfuck right now. I was trying to convince people on chatroullette to join anonymous. And instead of webcam i had a banner of anonymous. And i asked to myself after 15 minutes of no one wanting to listen: please give me a sign im on the right path. Then some dude appeared, and immediately i saw in his eyes he was different.

We talked about the movement and about projectmayhem2012. Also of chaos magick, he never heard of it but then he said have you ever heard of goetia.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Goetia#

> Goetia refers to a practice which includes the invocation of angels or the evocation of demons, and usage of the term in English largely derives from the 17th century grimoire The Lesser Key of Solomon, which features an Ars Goetia as its first section. It contains descriptions of the evocation of seventy-two demons, famously edited by Aleister Crowley in 1904 as The Book of the Goetia of Solomon the King.

suddenly out of nowhere comes the name aleister crowley. what a coincidence!! and what a mindfuck too!

We talked more and more and i keep getting these signs its all connected somehow. he shared his own experiences of being on the "path". and his own spiritual journey. After the many signs i have received i can now confidently say:

"chaos magick is NOT the way, it is a fire and if you tamper with it YOU WILL BURN YOURSELF"

Do not tamper with that you dont know of, stay smart, stay safe.

@toolkit
i strongly urge you to stop tampering with chaos magick, it is not the way. You almost self-destructed yourself, like telemachaos so mildly put it in his avatar. And you know what: he is right! Chaos magick does lead to self-destruction. And you do not want that.

I will stay active in this thread but i will not tamper with any chaos magick. We shall see what pm2012 has to offer to us. I'm already this far in the rabbit hole, lets see whats at the end.

Edit: i forgot to mention: right after this conversation i had with him. I got an IP-ban from chatroullete for breaking the terms of violation or smth like that.

Although Chaos magick may cause you to self destruct you will also never feel any more alive as for me I'm going to lock away this evil power or dare I be consumed with evil hate summoning however is fine cause it does not involve kao if you do it right chaos magick is certainly no toy it can be used to help and to create but it can also be abused and it can also consume you I intend to unlock it later but for now I cannot control it least I be consumed by evil and hate

This is something you CAN NOT just jump right into and do really amazing things ALWAYS START SLOW AND WORK YOUR WAY UP THIS STUFF IS VERY DANGEROUS

Yes DO NOT MESS WITH THIS I FEAR I MAY HAVE AWAKENED A SLUMBERING BEAST THIS IS NOT SOMETHING TO MESS WITH LIGHTLY your right it can have its rewards but its still HIGHLY DANGEROES another excerpt from the goetia article regarding summoning

> The Sacred Magic of Abramelin the Mage
> The Sacred Magic of Abramelin the Mage[5] is considered both a theurgic and goetic book of magic, mostly used in a religious context. Contrary to the other Goetia Grimoires, this book does not denote the evocation of demons to do one's bidding or involuntary handywork, but describes how one might summon these infernal forces, solely for the purpose of excommunicating them from the life of the Magus. This book was considered a system that led the aspirant closer to the goal of henosis, or spiritual reunion with God. Describing how to summon the dukes of hell, even Lucifer, for the purpose of resisting the temptation of their vices, and binding their influence in the aspirants life. This book told a system of holy magic through a 6 month purification, then after the conversation of the Holy Guardian Angel, one would summon the 4 Great Kings of Hell (Lucifer, Leviathan, Satan, Belial), and make them sign an oath. This Oath (after gaining the power of the supernal realm), would grant the Adept power over the Infernal Realm and aid the Adept in discovering his True Will.

I fear it may be too late for me for my old self is gone for good I intend to force what I have found back to from whence it came I want nothing to with this so long as it can't be controlled but I may have no choice but to use and keep it under control I already have begun reading and talking in a completely different thought pattern and many other changes so I may have no choice but to learn to control this vile beast If I may go so far as to say that if there is a satan this is it god is you and your will to control satan satan should not be feared for god is you if you fear that you could be a horrible person DO NOT DELVE IN THIS YOU MUST LEARN TO KILL YOUR FEAR LEAST YOU BE CONSUMED BY IT THAT IS THE LESSON I HAVE LEARNED AND I INTEND TO FIGHT THE FEAR OF WHO I COULD REALLY BECOME

I have built my entire life and formor ego around the starvation of myself having power of any form out of fear of who I really could be and become it's too late to recover that the time is nigh to fight that fear and conquer it least I be consumed by it and become what I fear more then anything else

Yes I agree I have seen my worst fear and what a horrid sight it was but I think it's too late to close this so called pandora's box so I must learn to conquer it wholely and bend it beneath my true will

I'm speaking from personal experience THIS STUFF CAN BE VERY DANGEROUS IF YOU DON'T KNOW HOW TO CONTROL IT

I understand why I became my worst fear it was several days in the making it started with the idea of practicing magi and the belief and want to assert absalute supreme control over everything in my life Do not make the mistake of blindly believing so strongly that you want to do something like that had I just waited and worked my way up I wouldn't have had the death of my ego but seeing as I know nothing about my true self I may as well play with my ego now since I don't have my original ego but no it doesn't lead to true self destruction I accidently destroyed my former self I can get it back but getting it back as it was is nigh impossible so I figure now that I've done it already may as well toy with it some more to make myself nicer then I used to be and Greater self-esteem don't attempt ego magick unless your wholely prepared to possibly become someone completely different with none of your old memories but basically a TOTALLY different person you will more or less need to start your life anew as someone completely different so be prepared for just that should something bad happen I'm gonna start exploring Ego Magick now because there really is no reason not to at this point :/

well since I already lost my former self I'm just gonna start toying with ego magick for pure lulz possibly starting with becoming a fanatical christian then maybe a Power Nerd not sure what else but technically you can FORCE yourself to be anything you want to become Just becareful that you know how to get out of said persona I'm not really sure how it works but because of how a fanatical christian might work unless I created some way for me to use chaos magick to create a new persona I might get locked into that but I figure I may as well make a toy out of it since I don't exactly have a real sense of self anymore ;p

Chaos Magick <-----|-----> Goetia

> Although there are a few techniques unique to chaos magic (such as some forms of sigil magic), chaos magic is often highly individualistic and borrows liberally from other belief systems, due to chaos magic having a central belief that belief is a tool.

In the case of chaos magic, the idea that belief systems and gnosis-inducing techniques are interchangeable has led to a particularly wide variety of magical practices evidenced in large and diverse directories of rituals. Many authors explicitly encourage readers to invent their own magical style.
>
> http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Chaos_magic

Chaos Magick is -by definition- the only kind of magic that doesn't take itself too seriously.

You can make a god out of Bugs Bunny and the next day you can turn him into the archetype of the God of Quintessential Lulz, for the only rule is you and only you decides the rules.

This is THE book that Grant Morrison recommends to read -in the famous video- for those interested in Chaos Magick:

Free PDF here.

Whilst in other magical systems you are LIMITED by a core set of already established & set in stone beliefs, rituals and stuff that you have to abide to and that you cannot DARE TO CHANGE, in Chaos Magick IMAGINATION is your only limit.

- Dark imagination, high sense of self-importance & posession of Truth? Dark self-limitations. Dude, you got a bumpy ride ahead, not only in magick but in LIFE in general!
- You got a bright and creative imagination + the ability not to take yourself too seriously?

  Endless and countless lulz, both in magick + LIFE.

In my opinion, the beauty of Chaos Magick is that it Chaos Magick protects itself against I.D.I.O.T.S.!

For you have to already be an *idiot if you dare to think that Bugs Bunny might be a god, right?

For indeed lulz kills fear, and those unable to laugh about themselves and their magick are in for a BUMPY RIDE! Which sometimes is actually quite funny indeed, and a source of further enlightenments, sure!

Play it safe kids, watch out your doGMass!

I know I said I wasn't going to post again, and I apologize for my accusatory tone towards those within this thread and the community at large ..

.. but personally I am suspicious of ANONYMOUS from the onset.

The guy from the Unhived Mind website seems to think that his site being taken down is part of an ongoing feud that's been going on between various 'elements' and a man named Leonard Horowitz.

Unhived Video Channel
http://www.youtube.com/user/anunnaki2006

Even if this is what he believes, I still think it's best to be cautious; nobody wants to be engaged in activities that ultimately do nothing more than to further the agenda of those already in power - those who set the structure up.

This is what I fear ANONYMOUS becoming, and this is what it appears to me ANONYMOUS is engaged in; having been co-opted to serve the interests of those pulling the strings.

These "rebellions" that have gone on in Tunisia, Egypt, Libya, and perhaps coming to Syria & Iran soon ...

ANONYMOUS attacking the government websites of those nations where rebellions are being initiated, the first thing the rebels do is set up central banks ???

... as far as I am concerned they are co-opted rebellions; still ultimately serving the agenda of the bankers and the vatican ...

Regarding Project Mayhem, I don't know what to think; I had hoped it was on the up & up - but I have gnawing doubts.

I can tell the people out there, whether or not they want to believe me; that this shit dealing with Extraterrestrial or Interdimensional Intelligences - like Aleister Crowley was involved in ruins lives.

I speak from personal experience, it's ruined my life; and I have written from Andromedan-Orion-Alpha/Omicron Draconian, Alpha Centaurian, Sirian and combined Alpha Centaurian-Sirian Angles ...

If you want proof, go to the Rothschild thread I posted; and follow all the links - READ ...

The Rothschild's Now Officially OWN the NYSE, Your Country, and You http://www.godlikeproductions.com/forum1/message1482887/pg1

The Twelve Nobodies
http://lunaticoutpost.com/Topic-The-Twelve-Nobodys-A-Brief-Introduction

... and I still don't know the truth, has ruined my life ...

Plus, my original co-creative partner circa 2000 was obsessed with the Crowleylike aliens, I hate them ...

The multi-vectored dynamics and my obsession of trying to get through to the House of Rothschild since that time - plus ancestral mass karma, put me out on the streets 4 years ago ...

I just don't want to see the same thing happen to others, I don't want to see any of you out there be co-opted by the PTB - or throw your life away chasing the wishes of "extraterrestrials" ...

There is alot of potential and there is good out there, but there is also danger.

Anyways, for those who must know:

A connection exists between these various facets:

 DnA / Deoxyribo-nucleic Acid*

 Coherent emotion: love, compassion, reverence for all of sentience / creative living force ~ source*

 Brain / nervous system ~ consciousness receptivity*

 Spherovum fields ((crowley's "EGG"?))/ torsion =* access into quantum levels of functional / computational capabilities (realms beyond 3-d)

---------------------
Additionally glandular functioning - both pituitary & pineal glands have a regulatory role in these regards
---------------------

Useful tools if used properly with crystal clear intention and a 'will' receptive to divine inspiration include:

 Sacred mushrooms, grow on cow dung - more than likely the reason why the cow is sacred in india and krishna & vishnu are 'blue'*

 Sacred cacti - peyote, peruvian torch, san pedro. Very powerful medicine, multiple associated 'totem animal spirits', 'stories'.*

 Salvia divinorum - Diviners sage, best if used as the plants caretakers suggest - fresh leaves taken in multiple pairs (male / female | yin / yang) in a large wad called a 'quid' - absorbed sublingually*

 Yage / Ayahuasca (DMT) - strong amazonian medicine from the 'vine of souls' combined with an admixture plant (mao inhibiter)*

There are other terrestrial and perhaps extraterrestrial or interdimensional intelligences accessible via these means - they are willing to communicate with us, so should we be.

... please know, I am -friend-; not -foe- ...

I apologize to the community for being suspicious, but the freemasonic elements (bees, hived minds) don't seem to indicate that one should not be ...

Hi everybody.

After reading the entire post I think that is increidable that my own psyche survived . What a lot of mindfucks!!

Well, where I should to start?. Is nice to read a lot of people be able to "change their reallity tunnels" and begins to practice some "magick tricks" . I begin to practice some magick one year ago, and It was one of my better desicions in life. It was hard to recongnize that I don´t have fucking idea of what's reallity.

Moore's words are the best to describe it:

"We're living in a world of fact and we've got out heads full of fiction, the characters that we've invented for ourselves – we're all writers, we all invent characters for ourselves*, roles in this little play that we're running* in our head that we call our lives*.* "

While I was reading the entire post, I found a lot of people that don't know what to think about this things, specially the conspiracy history about the Illuminati, bees, Crowley and magick. My own thoughts about this is that is normal. Is really hard to change your reallity tunnel. But In my opinion, nobody has succeeded in providing a certainty to discern what's real and what's illution, at least, not whith an empirical-rational approach. So,¿What could be the solution about this?, I just don't have fucking idea, but Buddha's words looks successful:

Truth is what is useful

So, if we live a "lie", choose the most useful lie. And I think that the most useful fiction or lie that we can choose is the Beauty. In my opinion, the "lies" or "facts" that this post shows are Truth, because they look really useful and beauty, at least for me. I think that things like this is what we're needing.

Really thank's for the super-post anons!!!!

and sorry for my english

Freemasons don't own bees.

In the same way that the United States flag doesn't own five pointed stars.

A symbol is whatever you want to make of it and nobody "owns" any symbol other than sad trademarks and corporate logos.

Bees are Bees.

And as a symbol of an animal that produces one of the most energetic, healthy and valuable kinf of food in nature, honey, they go back in time several thousand years old.

I don't think he's trolling. Just leave it and don't make a big deal. I think he's just been mindfucked in some way or another. xD

Well Toolkit, in my own experience, when you have some time practicing this kind of things, as a natural consecuence, you begin to watch magick and misticism as a way of Know thyself...

You should just begin doing simples things. Believe me, when you put real attention and focus in "simple things" you will see how beautifull is the world where you live and how increidable powerfull you are. There is beauty even in disease and death, when you learn how to perceive this beauty, you will feel united with ALL things. This is the meaning of Dhyana = Union, and is the "magickal key of all mysteries". The true freedom that you are talking about is to understand the concept of slavery, and this is the real meaning of "Do what thou wilt".

Passengers on board a Russian aeroplane panicked when two swarms of bees escaped into the cabin.

The insects were being kept inside two large cardboard boxes that had been stowed in one of the Moscow-bound Boeing 757 jet's cupboards. However, almost as soon as the plane took off from the far eastern city of Blagoveshchensk, they started to creep out.

Following touch down in Moscow, the plane was defumigated and allowed to carry on to its next destination, Barcelona in Spain.

The incident - which has echoes of the cult Samuel L. Jackson movie Snakes on a Plane - has raised security concerns in Russia.

However, when it arrived in Spain, a new crew discovered that the fumigation had not been completely successful with 5 bees still on the plane.

+1

Focus your True Will on the Point:

become OBSESSED with your Ultimate Desire, whatever you decide that to be, but don't push it: go with the flow.

Then DO something simple towards it, no matter how simple it looks like to you, it can be as simple as writing on a piece of paper the first steps that you are going to take to achieve it -i.e.: if you desire to finish a book, then begin to read just the first paragraph of that book that you intend to read-, but DO it.

Act scientifically: observe and anotate results. See what happens...

BEEWARE: powerful video:

*Whatever you have to Do, DO IT
*Focus your attention on The Point
Don't let yourself be distracted

Sorry just replying as I read.

But Yes I think this is what they are trying to teach us.

Everything from pulling yourself out of this world, to having complete control of this world.

Think about it the time/space theory to give us a new sense of life other that what we see as "reality".

Therefore pulling us out of this world.

The magick to think like a hacker and show us how we can actually take control of our world just like hackers control of the cyber world.

So far I can say this worked in my case.

This information has successfully pulled me out of my dream completely and I feel like I've gained full consciousness through the process of learning all this new information whether it be black magic to time/space to our goals.

Remember. Know what is real and what is just made to scare.

This is the other book that Grant Morrison is suggesting to read in that video, as a nice introduction to Chaos Magick:

well with my recent muppets synchronicity I think I may have in Jim Hensons Muppet characters the archetypes for a whole pantheon of Chaos Magick Gods to assist me in the great work! LOL!

Animal - God of Chaos

Gonzo - God of Epic Fail

Zoot - God of Cool

Miss Piggy - Goddess of Vanity

Fozzy Bear - God of mirth

Kermit - God of communication and correspondence

Rowlf - God of Music

Scooter - God of Organisation

Robin - God of Innocence

Floyd Pepper - God of Intoxication

Sam The American Eagle - God of serious business

Janis - Goddess of Love

Dr Bunson Honeydew - God Of Magick and science

Beaker - God of Tolerance

Swedish Chef - God of Food and sustainence

Statler and Waldorf - Gods of Discord and synchronicity and if I need to summon any more archetypes I have an entire alphabette of characters to choose from ok off to design my Muppet Tarot deck

I don't see Alan Moore, Grant Morrison, Aleister Crowley or any of these other people 'you all' seem to admire hiding behind masks ...

They are the true revolutionaries, not the dupes hiding behind masks.

Alan Moore, Grant Morrison, Aleister Crowley wear masks. VERY specially Aleister Crowley loved to wear a mask.

All of us wear a mask 12DnAHelix. Think about it...

For the very ethymology of Persona = Mask.

> A persona, in the word's everyday usage, is a social role or a character played by an actor. This is an Italian word that derives from the Latin for a kind of mask made to resonate with the voice of the actor (per sonare meaning "to sound through").[1]

Sometimes they are useless. Sometimes masks are useful.

Maybe it's just a matter of choosing which mask to wear wisely...?

hhhmmm "people 'you all' seem to adore"? I can only speak for myself with regards this but I would imagine the other intelligent people posting on this thread are not prone to adoration and if they have been absorbing some of the material here will be less likely to adhere to a stringent belief system which can cut off the blood supply to new ideas and thought processes.

Do you have a stringent belief system 12DnAHelix? Are you right? I think you do and I think you think you are.

> "Believe those who are seeking the truth. Doubt those who find it." --Andre Gide

If you believe you are right you may very well be wrong, not that there's anything wrong with being wrong but it ain't right.

Judging from your continued attempts to hijack this thread with your own belief system and pushing it on people as "the truth" I feel you haven't really read or understood the concepts being discussed here. That or maybe your own unwavering truth has blinded you to them.

There appears to be NO WORSHIP going on here just study and discourse

Now as for the wearing of Anonymous Masks maybe you should research the history behind that meme to gain a greater understanding of it's origins and the evolution of it's use...you can start here and continue here

Also hands up here who wears a mask day in and day out? hhhmmm no-one? everyone? Ok well I'll speak for myself then... I live my life in revolution, always questioning, always attempting to change for the better but sometimes I use my own face as a mask especially when encountering "imperial entaglements"

> 12DnAHelix wrote
> They are the true revolutionaries, not the dupes hiding behind masks

Statements like these appear to me a little presumptuous as since you know not the men or women behind the collective masks of Anonymous how can you say they are not "true revolutionaires". That statement reads like fail to me.

You should also remember that Anonymous is "an idea" not a person or group of people. It maybe an idea we all have and as such you could also consider yourself Anonymous as you too appear to me to wear the mask of Anonymity.

...well at least I don't have a fuckin clue who you are!!!

Beat me to it! I would also include that the purpose of of masks have been interpreted through history to the point of ambiguity. The oldest traditional use accounted for so far has been for endowing powers upon their users.

Finally, I don't know if this is just another coincidance, but the three dots in the A∴A∴ name, might actually be related to Project Mayhem 2012!?

Remember this pic?

I don't know if this is a PM2012 original pic, but all I know is that I definitely saw it first at PM2012 site here:

http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind.html

A few days later, I noticed that the admins here changed the whole design to include the 'bees' theme and the hivemind pic in the front page.

So how shall Project Mayhem 2012 might be related to the Astrum Argentum INVISIBLE ( = The Invisibles!? ) Order?

So today I've been enthusiastically investigating these possibly magickal connections and I found this!:

Operation Paperstorm original pic here: http://www.flickr.com/photos/thinkanonymous/5286677361/in/photostream

http://planocreativo.wordpress.com/2010/12/31/poesofia/

And to top it all, remember Grant Morrison's video at the Disinfo Conference that we've been suggested so much to watch?

Well, Marilyn Manson was there too!!

This is a really really good video, but please be patient with the man, he suffered from a stroke and that stroke damaged his language center in the brain. So he sometimes needs to think a while to compile his words. Besides that, definitely worth the watch!

just finished wtahcing other videos where in this AMAZING man talks, and i must say WOW that has REALLY CHANGED MY VIEW of the world and reality as a whole :O

Ok, Ok, Ok ...

I will cease attempting to find fault in this effort (either Anonymous or Project Mayhem), as well as taking an antagonistic stance like the devils advocate.

... as it is solely a reflection of my own fears and shortcomings, if I had been a better man from the beginning - with all that I have been shown, told and known - I guess I would have been in a different life situation ...

... but I am not a better man, maybe I am the biggest unwitting pawn and dupe of them all; for having given hyperdimensional entities an ear and taking what they had to say and show seriously ...

... maybe that was my bad, or perhaps as time further unfolds; the tides will be turned - and it will be shown that it was actually a good thing that I have taken this stuff so seriously ...

... to the point that it has ruined my life ...

((maybe I am like the "homeless guy" working for the invisibles))

I just have concern and worry because I have sacrificed greatly and have much invested in the eventual outcome that unfolds upon this world, it's potential becoming birthed.

... so far we are falling fall short of seeing the unfoldment of timelines within the spatial field re-oriented & corrected ...

I hope that there can be a meeting of higher held energetics, and that those who hold onto higher energetics begin to become stronger focal points around which sequential increments unfold towards an eventual occurrence that truly has the highest interests of humanity and all of lifes progression forward as it's mainstay focus.

But seriously, if you look into the stuff Aleister Crowley - then Jack Parson's were involved in after him (babalon working); if that stuff doesn't qualify as being "Black MagicK" - I don't know what is.

Then you morph it together with ANONYMOUS; which at the very best is a double edge sword; one which can work for those pulling the strings in more ways than one - just as well as it can work for those who are true revolutionaries ...

I guess kinda makes one think of the same shades of grey ...

I really wish the House of Rothschild could be taken out, seeing that take place is one of my own main personal objectives.

---

Without being able to transform sexual energy into higher spiritual force and acknowledging the unified masculine/feminine that exists within each; all this MagicKal talk is nothing more than a circle jerk imo ...

hehe seems someone already thought of the muppet Tarot...I like the way they have organised it. Here's the set up if anyone elses fancies producing their own set

> Muppet Tarot
>
> Major Arcana:
>
> 0 The Fool: Grover, about to step off the edge of a cliff, pursued by small strange muppet monster.
> 1 The Magician: Dr. Bunsen Honeydew in front of a large table filled with strange apparatus. Beaker can be seen in the background.
> 2 High Priestess: Prairie Dawn
> 3 Empress: Miss Piggy
> 4 Emporer: Kermit (his assistant, Scooter, can be seen behind).
> 5 Hierophant: Guy Smiley
> 6 Lovers: Ernie and Bert
> 7 Chariot: Gonzo riding the chariot drawn by many chickens
> 8 Strength: Miss Piggy again, ripping apart some random muppet monster (Sweetums?)
> 9 Hermit: Oscar the Grouch, staff in one hand, lantern in the other.
> 10 Wheel of Fortune: The Electric Mayhem plays: the four members of the band (Animal, Janis, Sgt. Floyd Pepper, Dr. Teeth) in the four corners of the card.
> 11 Justice: Sam the Eagle, blindfolded, sword in one hand, scales in the other > 12 Hanged Thing: Big Bird hung upside down on that tree, legs crossed in a figure-four > 13 Death: Cookie Monster, devouring worlds. Scythe optional.
> 14 Temperance: Rolf the Dog, pouring some liquid between two containers.
> 15 Devil: Count von Count ah ha ha. Usual vampire scene behind.
> 16 Tower: Lightning is striking the tower, and Fozzie Bear is falling from it.
> 17 Star: Star above (with muppet face), Zoot the saxophone player below
> 19 Sun: Sun above (with muppet face), Swedish Chef juggling lobsters below > 20 Judgement: Two angels (Statler and Waldorf) blow their horns in the sky, and muppets rise from their graves.
> 21 World: completion. Many muppets crammed into the card, prominent among them is, of course, Kermit. (Holographic card; if tilted at the right angle, the visage of St. Jim Henson will appear.)
>
> Minor Arcana:
>
> The four suits of the tarot are:
>
> cookies (pentacles), > fish (swords)
> monsters (wands)
> chickens (cups)

and also seems like some other people have put some thought into the muppet Pantheon aswell ☺ from the esoteric encyclopaedia Sourcery Forge

> Introduction
>
> Why not a Muppet pantheon? If you're a chaote, one pantheon is as good as another. The Muppets may be better than most: many people have grown up with them, and are far more familiar with their characteristics than they are with those of Norse or Roman deities; there are probably a fair number of children who sincerely believe in their existence, which probably doesn't hurt; and it's quite easy to find pieces of Muppet paraphernalia that can serve as icons or foci for meditation. Moreover, if you leave such things lying around, nobody will suspect anything worse than a banal or trivial fancy.

> The "Big Four" are, as with many other pantheons, not necessarily the most practical beings to invoke. Other, more minor, characters are less three-dimensional, and might contain fewer surprises and contradictions. (Personally, I make regular offerings to a four-inch-high foam Miss Piggy figurine, but I'm probably in the minority here. - disappearinjon) The big have many more figurines and other collectibles modeled on them, and thus possess the advantage of availability. (Which is, after all, one of the reasons for using the Muppets in the first place.)
> The Big Four
>
> * Kermit is often considered the leader of the Muppets, but if he leads, it is only because he is out in front. He is much like the Taoist ideal of a sage king: he does little, and yet much gets done. If he holds any ideals, they appear to others to be a simple and naive goodness. A good tarot correspondence for Kermit may be with The Fool. If one was looking to regain perspective or the ability to look at things with beginner's mind, one might perform a devotion to Kermit.
>
> * Miss Piggy is the embodiment of physical desires: for food, for sex. her love for Kermit may be unrequited, but her devotion to him is unmatched, and she will fiercely protect him. If one is lacking in material comforts or needs to reestablish contact with his or her inner femininity, one might perform a devotion to her. In some tarot systems, she might correspond to The Empress, though one of the virtues of the Muppet pantheon is that the archetypes are different than those in standard Western systems.
>
> * Fozzie Bear, Kermit's sidekick and comic relief, is the archetypal follower. He never has his own ideas, and always provides steadfast support for Kermit. When one needs to drum up support, one can imagine an army of Fozzie Bears marching alongside. He is an excellent model for a servitor.
>
> * Gonzo identifies himself as a "whatever" --- he is neither this nor that, neither here nor there. To worship Gonzo is to worship the indeterminate, the unknown, and the imprecise. His characteristic is an intense desire for belonging, as expressed in the wistful ballad "I'm Going To Go Back There Some Day," from the Muppet Movie. When one wishes to achieve clarity, or to avoid a feeling of not-belonging, one could banish Gonzo.
>
> Other Muppets
>
> * Scooter is the Muppets' stage manager. He is often tasked with carrying messages, and with making things happen. He might be associated with Hermes.
>
> * Sam the Eagle is the show's arch-conservative. He is concerned with decency and other manifestations of consensus morality. A good tarot card for him would be The Hierophant. He could be banished to obviate concerns about social acceptability, when one wishes to fly under the radar.
>
> * Dr. Bunsen Honeydew is the inventor, perhaps a mad scientist, though in the end his work often is to the benefit of all. (See the giant Beaker scene in The Muppet Movie for an example of this.) He could be The Magician in a tarot deck.
>
> * Beaker is Dr. Bunsen Honeydew's lab rat. When one needs to invoke a patsy, Beaker may be your best bet. However, things can also go horribly wrong. (Once again, see the giant Beaker scene in The Muppet Movie for an example of this.)
>
> * Rowlf the Dog is the piano-playing dog. He could be a God of music, though his tastes run more to the blues and showtunes. Still, if personal expression is your objective, a shrine to Rowlf might be in order. (Members of the rock band The Electric Mayhem could also serve this purpose.)
>
> * Animal is the drummer for The Electric Mayhem. He is pure id, and is frequently chained to his drums. Chaining or unchaining a representation of Animal could be a powerful magical act.
>
> * Statler and Waldorf serve as symbolic guardians of the show, perched in their balcony, together a sort of Janus-like figure. Their cruel and sarcastic comments can act as a shield of ridicule, something like the Turkey Curse of the Discordians. One might therefore invoke Statler and Waldorf to achieve protection through ironic distance.
>
> * The Swedish Chef is incomprehensible. He throws things around and makes a mess. If he's married to Eris, I'd hate to see their apartment. (I don't really have anything to say about him, but people will be angry if I leave him out. - disappearinjon)
>
> * Sweetums is large, hairy, and scary-looking. He is also, as his name suggests, nothing but sweetness and light. If one wished to scare people away without invoking anything actually dangerous, Sweetums would be an excellent choice.
>
> * Beauregard is a janitor, and sometimes a driver, though not a particularly good one. Sometimes you need to clean a mess up; for that, Beauregard's your man.

Douglas Rushkoff's? Hmm. If I can remember, I'll let you know and see if you resonate with that...

We've all been given different cards in this Game called Life. You seem to have been given a 'bad hand': hence, you might try to change your playing style and see what happens.

i.e.: if you think that you might have spent a lot of time in your life worrying about the 'bad' stuff, then you might try to simply focus in the oh-so-many-good stuff and see what happens...

Art is, like MAGIC, the SCIENCE of manipulating SYMBOLS, words or images, to achieve CHANGES in CONSCIOUSNESS.

Indeed to cast a spell is simply to spell, to manipulate words, to change people's consciousness, and this is why I believe that an artist or writer is the closest thing in the contemporary world to a shaman."

If you had read the thread I posted multiple times you would clearly see who I am and you would also know.

I wasn't trying to hijack the thread, as opposed to insert into it certain viewpoints; isn't that what each of us are here for ?

I think it is useful to be able to look at things from as many different points of view as possible.

I am not here to force 'belief' upon anybody, for that can only occur through the experience of each individual.

There are two or perhaps more levels to modes of perception:

1. Those things which can be seen and heard externally
2. Those things which can be known very directly via ones own internal antennae.

I have reviewed the thread with depth, but I still don't seem to see it being stressed here-in this thread - the "most important commandment" that I was personally told needed to be the mainstay focus of any endeavor.

This being:

""proper use of the understanding gained being of supreme and integral importance"".

Where does one learn how to utilize properly the understanding gained ??

If you look around this planet, it certainly is not nor has it been being demonstrated by humanity over the past couple of hundred years.

Whether or not you want to admit it or not.

The modern incarnation of "Secret Socieities' and "Occult / Metaphysical" movements have been an integral component - in tandem with the likes of the jesuits & vatican - hundreds of years of intrigue - now we have multi/trans-national corporations also.

These "occult forces" were involved in the French Revolution, and from there-on into today; occult forces are involved in all levels of Government through symbol magick ...

Unless one has a very crystal clear and direct connection to the source, who are they to be messing with such occult forces; when what is necessary upon this world is truly something akin to a descension of the Ein Soph or Shekinah ...

Shekinah
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Shekhinah

Ayin (Ein)
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ayin_(Kabbalah)

Ein Soph
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ein_Sof

Ein Soph Aur
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ohr

There has been an imbalance between the masculine & feminine for 2,000 years; then the male dominatated priesthood and patriarchal societal structure ...

Even the Freemasons, the most traditional of the fraternal orders is "male" only - of course there is the eastern star ...

I am in Santa Fe, NM; which is supposed to be the City of Holy Faith; but the local High School mascot is a Demon - and per capita; Santa Fe has the highest number of gender identity confused humans in the USA next to San Francisco.

If you look at Fu Xi & NuWa; man has the Square & woman the Compass ...

Fu Xi
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Fu_Xi

I guess to the credit of Project Mayhem, they have attempted to illustrate masculine & feminine (Penis & Boobs).

There is a big difference between Alchemical Stellar Gnosticism, or Ancient Future Earth-Star Wisdom; then there is with belief systems.

I was just hoping that perhaps here-in; truly were the others; those who had directly perceived the 144,000 faceted core at the central axis of the omni-dimensional multi-universal cosmosphere ...

Which mirrors the base creational geometry of the seed of life (6 around 1), and also includes an understanding of thirteen (12 around 1).

Like I have attempted to hint at.

December 21, 2012 (some prescribe to October 28, 2011 or February 19, 2013); whichever date you ascribe to "The Event".

It is the completion of the 13th baktun.

A baktun being a 144,000 day cycle of time.

The majority of thinking & memes surrounding 2012 have solely focused on "The Event" having to do with a 'Galactic Synchronization'.

This is not the whole picture and Jose Arguelles was mistaken by placing Hunab Ku at the level of the Galaxial Center.

This can be verified by looking into the work of a man named Carlos Barrios who is on the Mayan Elder's Council.

I am not speaking based upon belief; I speak based upon 16 years of self exploration - four years of homelessnes; about a year of intentionally living with no money at all (a few handouts) ...

as well as having experienced a direct overhead flyover by a UFO in 1995 and being given symbolic visual representation of what is called:

I saw the lion/sphinx on the giza plateau stand up and start 'galloping' as it did - it transformed into what I would describe as being the 'silicate matrix' representation of the 'Solar Logos Deity' - the lion/sphinx transformed into a pegasus/unicorn.

I am pretty sure that at one time the pegasus & unicorn were one creature and that in our myths they have been split apart.

The di-strand helix transformed into the 12 dna strand blueprint, and the wings and 'rod' from the caduceus were part of the pegasus/unicorn.

Rockefeller has the Pegasus & Rothschild the Unicorn

Interdimensional Travel

... perhaps "cosmic mandala" is a sigil, in my view; it effectively overlays Rothschild's Hexagram & the dynamic dealing with Israel/Jews - as there were 12 Tribes not just the Tribe of Judah ... ??

Then in 2005, another ufo experience with multiple participants; and a massive air force response in Tucson, AZ.

Both of these efforts {'works?'] involved "plants" (mushrooms & cactus).

Huachuma
http://www.biopark.org/peru/huachuma.html

... spent 10 years very directly trying to get through to the House of Rothschild, since mid 2000 ...

But just recently, in my online activism; I was attempting to initiate:

a "Non-Anonymous Open Source Delta Psi Co-Intelligence Operation"; for which; "Operative Phrase" was:

""For the Birds""

... sorta like how Project Mayhem notes the Phoenetic Kabbalah & Bird Language.

... towards a turning of the tides; by those within the structure at all levels - from the apex of the base; perhaps similarly to what Project Mayhem is attempting to initiate ...

That's about all there is to know for now about me, if you were really interested; I already posted my most recent efforts which were in the Rothschild thread on GLP and then 12 Nobodies on Lunatic Outpost ...

I never have fit in, not here in Santa Fe (I don't drink alcohol like most of the other homeless peepz); and up on GLP nobody would touch my Rothschild thread.

I apologize if I do not have the best forum etiquette; I have been online since 1998 and my dad worked at HP for years - used to do software copyright protection cracking back in the BBS days; but my pathway was in attempting to directly confront the PTB since about 2000 after becoming disillusioned with the so called online "New Age Community".

To me that is truly revolutionary, I have been one who has hidden in the shadows attempting to bring them into the light while simultaneously illuminating the darkness ...

Writing directly to Lord Jacob Rothschild & Henry Kissinger via the Open Russia Foundation in 2004; or calling Nathan Rothschild's office for like a year and a half ...

... although I guess perhaps to others who may think themselves to be true revolutionaries; that is pussy shit ...

The system not only needs to be 'hacked' it needs to be 'resculptured'; and it needs to be oriented in alignment with the geometry of creation - which the Golden Mean Spiral & Vesica Piscis & Seed of Life model.

So that is where I am coming from, and where I stand 🙂

Hope it helps you and the "others" to understand me.

I thought we are here for a 'reciprocal effort' towards seeing both a turning of the tides; as well as effecting a correction to the unfoldment of timelines within the spatial field.

To me, that is what the plan should be; the how it effectivaly itself can be worked out is what needs to be determined.

It is not going to occur without active participation and effort along a multi-vectored front.

Perhaps the symbol of chaos magick could also be construed as a 'Multi-Vector Force' originating from a central axis; as well as displaying any number of single directions which could be gone in.

1998, For the birds (and the Bees; I guess) ...

If I am in the wrong place, I can depart 🙂

Someone might want to backup & archive this thread somehow; the important info - incase this forum shuts down the "conspiracy section".

Although; what else is the 'Plan' itself; other than people getting together to 'conspire' - even if in an 'above the board' manner.

Almost all of us are still discoverers ourself, i suggest listening to 12dna more because he has been on the path for quite a while. There is a lot of usefull info he is sharing with us and almost nobody takes the effort to go through it.

I admit though that i cannot comprehend half of it 😕

@12dna
thank you for sharing everything you know with us, we truly do appreciate it.

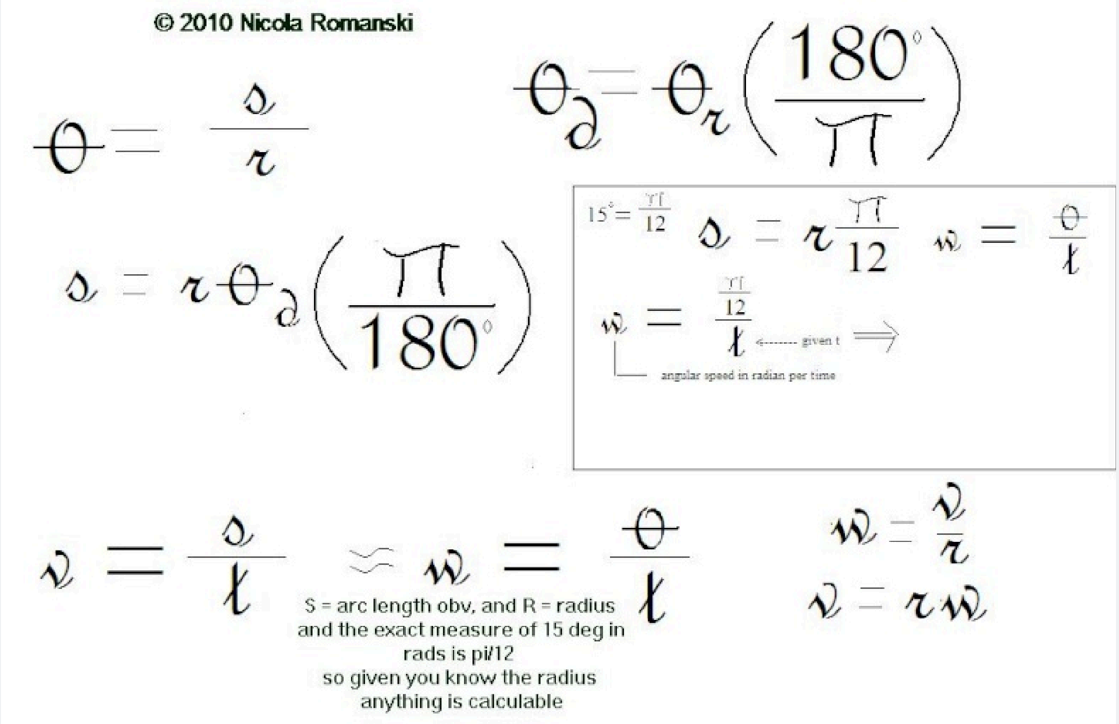
I too have been looking into the concepts of sacred geometry, The Thule society, Vrill technology and the Black Sun organistion over my past 20 years of researching the "what the hell is going on?" question. With regards crop circles a very intriguing person I think you might be interested in looking into 12DnA is Nikola Romanski and their research group EGRD.

They had the intuition to plug in crop circle pictures into an autocad program convert them into 3d and what came out was a design for a "flying saucer" 😐 The videos for their research have mostly been set to private now due to their ongoing research (which I presume was to insure the integrity of any intellectual copyright that may result from their research). However you can still view some of the research they are conducting here and here

I am sure you will be very interested in the sacred geometry that is also referenced in these pages and people following this thread may also be intrigued by the Golden Ratio perceived from the electron flow from the test magnetron into the vortex towards the reconversion of singularity in romanskis 30-B RC device 🙂

For more information on crop circle ships and the technology behind them you can also check this

Also for the mathematically minded amongst you here is a very eloquant equation by Nikola Romanski I managed to save before it went offline this year



© 2010 Nicola Romanski

$$\theta = \frac{s}{r}$$

$$\theta_d = \theta_r\left(\frac{180^\circ}{\pi}\right)$$

$$s = r\theta_d\left(\frac{\pi}{180^\circ}\right)$$

$$15^\circ = \frac{\pi}{12} \qquad s = r\frac{\pi}{12} \qquad w = \frac{\theta}{t}$$

$$w = \frac{\frac{\pi}{12}}{t} \xleftarrow{\text{given t}} \Rightarrow$$ angular speed in radian per time

$$v = \frac{s}{t} \approx w = \frac{\theta}{t}$$

$$w = \frac{v}{r} \qquad v = rw$$

S = arc length obv, and R = radius and the exact measure of 15 deg in rads is pi/12
so given you know the radius anything is calculable

here is a good video by Alienscientist on sacred geometry for those of you who are not familiar with it to get you started as the creator of this video states

> "Sacred" Geometry can be derived from logic and symmetry, and the nothing (the concept of nothing) NO - THING, if you will... Once consciousness acknowledges that NO thing exists, it creates a mirror in zero dimensions with which nothing can see itself. Anyone who has ever stood in a room with mirrors on both sides knows the illusions of space this creates. But time only travels in a single dimension and that implies some sort of symmetry breaking that occurs at some point in the equations. It turns out these symmetry breakings show us where the fundamental forces in nature lie, and only through a detailed understanding of symmetry violations, will we come to understand the true nature of our universe, and why it has come to be this way.

If you are interested in learning more about alienscientists research into alternative energy and a more scientific approach to the whole are of "future technologies" and UFO's here's is a link to alienscientist website an interesting resource http://www.alienscientist.com/index.html

For those of you who might be interested to see what it might actually look like to travel in a "UFO" type craft approaching relativistic speed (just to get used to it ) this video is nice and trippy

Here is a nice simple, easy to understand video detailing the rise of the "red Shield" bankers that 12DnA references in his posts and a history of the Rothschild family

...all very interesting stuff but I digress from PM2012 do I not?...maybe I should create a new thread

My point here is that there is enough info contained within the pages of PM2012 for us to research without going off on our own tangents (I stand accused myself with the muppets).

I understand it can be hard to stay on track sometimes particularly when we are waiting for a new page to be posted once all artwork from the first assignment is in but if this thread is packed with "perceived" unrelated material it becomes very hard to digest what is going on in this already mammoth thread.

So to end here is a video about nazi occultism and secret technologies

Thankyou, I will look into Nikola Romanski & EGRD.

Everything else you posted I am already aware of (Alien Scientist, et al) , and the videos posted; I've seen - two of them in my Rothschild thread.

I was a supporter of the Venus Project going back 10+ years, before it became cool; before the Zeitgeist Movement ever took stage.

GLP is always the best place for up to the minute news and is probably the best "co-intelligence operative" forum on the internet ...

I don't think the pages any of us are on are really all that different, there is alot of important information in that Rothschild thread too - lots of links, videos, me trying to understand and figure out the truth - melting down because no one would talk to me.

Hopefully this thread and the Project Mayhem effort can be put to good use somehow.

As far as I am concerned, Nathan Rothschild & the House of Rothschild should be one of ANONYMOUS main targets - not just the "Federal Reserve" or "World Bank" or "IMF" or "NATO".

But the individual people, Nathan should be destroyed (Lord Jacob's son).

Rothschild Octopus
http://dejanlucic.net/radni/article/rothschild-octopus.html

He is working one-on-one with Tony Hayward the former CEO of BP ((VALLARES)) - and the Oil Volcano in the gulf is leaking again.

Plus, the House of Rothschild has had their fingers in the Uranium Pie going back to it's discovery - Rio Tinto - also Uranium Price Fixing - as well as having a major stake in the world nuclear association.

Made it to the Moonbatcave ...

10+ year old graphic splice

Wish 12 DnA Strand Heart-Soul-Star Cosmic Mandala (Hypersigil??) could magickally pull the rug out from underneath the house; connection also somehow needs to be made with China ...

If it was in alignment with the will of the creator of the entirety ...

Seems to be what Project Mayhem 2012 is partially about, talking about the Tribe of Dan .. the Invisibles & Outer Church ..

Your awesome 🙂 but i still agree more of what is discussed is "off-topic conspiracy/spiritual etc" but still main obj is crack pm2012. And right now more people need to send their art in! we still need that next clue D:

But thanks that its send to general off-topic that is a nice gesture 🙂

Thanks LivingDeadGirl!

Before leaving forever, when Telemachos first entered the thread, I suppose that in order to frighten people, he arbitrarily decided to move the thread from 'General Off-Topic', subforum, where it was stickied, to the Conspiracy forum:

http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t1676p345-project-mayhem-2012#136899

As we have seen, the thread isn't about unmasking 'world conspiracies' at all, but about researching and sharing the clues of the PM2012 game **+

teh Lulz, of course!

No worries, this thread seems to be shielded against anti-lulz!

and therein in your post above thelemachaos lies one of the best concepts revealed in ProjectMayhem if we can help that idea go viral all else is fun and games...or is it?

I really think this should be proposed as an OP coincidently and also for the synchronistic lulz my third post on this site was here http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t2941-bring-on-the-shills well before I got involved in the PM2012...in this thread you will notice a post above mine by "guest"...well "guest" was Fighterfromadistance, aka telemachos, aka R3X, and this thread was posted before the PM2012 thread really took off...I never did get a reply from him...well in the end I did, I guess

oh and thanks livingdeadgirl for moving this thread back from the /b/atcave, although I was getting used to hanging updside down and enjoying trying to hear only frequencies a bat can hear I appreciate you seeing that thought and research is going into this thread and we'll try to stick to the maxim dox or gtfo...if we don't I've no problem getting back to work on my ulttrasonic auditory training it was mentioned ealier in this thread Razz, can't quite remember where but for your info this is what the book of aquarius is

> The Book of Aquarius was anonymously emailed into Forgotten Books in March 2011. The book itself is remarkable. In it the anonymous author claims to be making the Philosophers Stone, which he or she claims is a real and physical object capable of turning metals into gold and silver, and making any person who eats it live forever. The author includes a full theory on how the Philosophers Stone works, and includes detailed practical instructions on how to make it youself!

here's a link to the book if you fancy a read http://bookofaquarius.forgottenbooks.org/free sharing of the book is encouraged and since it is authored by Anonymous who are we to refuse ...right? 🙂 LOL!

Looking forward to hearing some of your thoughts on the book swiftwater, haven't had time to read it yet myself

+1!

Seriously, chaos magick aside, imagine what would happen if, worldwide, we begin to accumulate evidences of corruption and illegal deeds and we release it ALL, in a synchronized way, at the same time.

Corrupt politicians and CEOs worldwide would shit bricks as soon as December 21 2012 approached, right?

You really cannot stop Conscientious Watchmen from leaking all the information they held in custody, for, ultimately, they are the ones who hold the Keys to it ALL, right?

WITP has a very much REAL chance to actually change the world and make history by supporting this!

Epic idea or what?

I am always up for discussion.

Since I am a street dweller, I spend a few hours every day at the library; hence I read fairly voraciously but I am fairly limited in my computer access.

Honestly, I don't know what it is going to take to see a turning of the tides take place - but without those within the structure and perhaps even some of those who set the structure up assisting in the tides being turned ...

There isn't any paradigm that is going to be shifted, we need a mass awakening; the only way that can occur to me seems to be by a descension of the the divine feminine (sophia/wisdom) and awakening within each of the union between man & woman which created each of us - as well as healing of our separation from source issues ...

Christ Logos (Jesus) & Christ Sophia (Mary Magdelene)

I don't know, we are not meeting the level of consciousness necessary for the ingression of novelty to occur in it's fullness; things are out of balance upon this world from apex to the base - the polarization reaching extremes of opposition - with the dark side of the polarization appearing to have the upper hand ...

The whole planet is ripe for being not only turned upside down (literally? figuratively? metaphorically?); but inside out; wish we could have an ((omni-dimensional)) scientific-spiritual renaissance beyond anything this world has ever seen ...

That is not the direction the deck of illuminati playing cards are stacked in, though ...

They have the wrong scripts, and the wrong deck of cards ...

Archon
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Archon

The Hypostasis of the Archons http://www.gnosis.org/naghamm/hypostas.html

Need to reach beyond this dualized polarity.

Perhaps in this context, is the reason why Da'at is important:

Da'at
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Da'at

I think we should listen to each other equally, what each individual has to share is just as valuable as any other; especially opposing points of view - along any vector.

Perhaps one reason for being "ANONYMOUS" is to prevent 'figureheads' and to provide an 'ego check'; the figurehead/puppetmaster (if it isn't Zbigniew Brzezinski) perhaps could be construed as being the 'Invisibles' themself - or the mirror that ((pseudo)) anonymity provides.

Native honey bees

Japanese honey bees (Apis cerana japonica) defensively "balling" in which two hornets (Vespa simillima xanthoptera) are engulfed and heated.
Although a handful of Asian giant hornets can easily defeat the defenses of many individual honey bees, whose small stings cannot inflict much damage against such a large predator, the Japanese honey bee (Apis cerana japonica) possesses a collective defense against them.

When a hornet scout locates and approaches a Japanese honey bee hive it will emit specific pheromonal hunting signals.

When the honey bees detect these pheromones, a hundred or so will gather near the entrance of the nest and set up a trap, keeping it open apparently to draw the hornet further into the hive or allow it to enter on its own.

As the hornet enters the nest, a large mob of about five hundred honey bees surrounds it, completely covering it and preventing it from moving, and the bees begin to quickly vibrate their flight muscles.

This has the effect of raising the temperature of the honey bee mass to 46 °C (115 °F). In addition, the mob of honey bees raises the level of carbon-dioxide, around the hornet. At that concentration of CO2, the honey bees can tolerate up to 50 °C (122 °F), but the hornet cannot survive more than 46 °C (115 °F), so it dies.[13]

Often several bees perish along with the intruder, but the death of the hornet scout prevents it from summoning reinforcements which would wipe out the colony.[14] More recent research indicates, however, that while the raised temperature of the bee ball contributes to the death of the hornet, it alone is not sufficient to kill the hornet.

The bee balls also produce a much higher level of carbon dioxide which, combined with the increased temperature, contributes to the hornet's death.

Unusual thermal defence by a honeybee against mass attack by hornets

MASATO ONO, TAKESHI IGARASHI, EISHI OHNO & MASAMI SASAKI

Laboratory of Entomology, Faculty of Agriculture, Tamagawa University, Machida, Tokyo 194, Japan

THE giant hornet Vespa mandarinia japonica (Hymenoptera: Vespidae) is the only hornet species known to have evolved en masse predation of other social bees and wasps.

Here we show that hornets is initiated by secretion of a foraging-site marking pheromone from the van der Vecht glands (metasomal sternum VI glands) by a single foraging hornet. The lone hornet rubs the basal tuft of the terminal gastral sternite around a prey food resource, such as a honeybee colony, and the hornet nestmates then congregate and attack the marked site en masse.

The sympatric Japanese honeybee Apis cerana japonica (Hymenoptera: Apidae) can detect the hornet marking pheronome, and responds by increasing the number of defenders at the nest entrance. When an invading hornet is captured by a defending bee, more than 500 other bees quickly engulf the hornet in a ball which contains isoamyl acetate. Thermography showed that the ball temperature is very high (˜47 °C), which proves lethal to the hornet but not to the bees. Defenders patrolling the nest entrance also generate high temperatures. These findings suggest that aspects of the interaction between V. mandarinia japonica and A. cerana japonica are specifically coevolved.

Indeed, same here!

Love & Peace to you 2 bro!

I just found this ambiguously intriguing video, to say the least!

Illuminati emissaries: Alejandro Jodorowsky

http://projectmayhem2012.org/hivemind100010.html

Awesome or what?

Soooo.. I have just finished from watching it and... anons, I won't give you any spoilers but the film is absolutely enlightening and mind blowing!!

And, surprise, there's a scene where Jodorowsky, who plays the role of the Alchemist, shows the thieves the history of many holy mountains across many diferent esoteric traditions...

Among them, there's the Rosicrucian Mountain!!!

What's most amazing is that one of the Mountains seems to fit perfectly the Fibonacci Golden Rectangle... again!

Definitely there's a BlacK MagicK woman in Holy Mountain!

...and boooooom! we have just found the bees that we were instructed to look for inside the html code!

Anyone could translate the hebrew tattoos for the rest of us?

Then, I have found that Erykah Baduh adores Jodorowsky and she has even dressed us this black woman in Holy Mountain!

But first... remember the triangle inside a circle stands for the Fibonacci sequence?

> An intriguing showing of φ in an equilateral triangle was observed by George Odom, a resident of the Hudson River Psychiatric Center, in the early 1980s [Roberts, p. 10]. Upon hearing it from Odom, the late H. M. S. Coxeter submitted it as a problem to the American Mathematical Monthly (Problem E3007, 1983). The problem has also been reproduced by J. F. Rigby in [Pritchard, p. 294] and mentioned by K. Hofstetter in a recent article.

Source: http://www.cut-the-knot.org/do_you_know/GoldenRatio.shtml

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Sierpinski_triangle an inPHInite fractal of golden ratios within golden ratios!

Well, here we got it tattooed around her neck... again!!

She is also featured in the foreword of Jodorowsky's Psychomagic book!

http://books.google.com/books?id=AgjVM5b7Yd4C&q=erykah#v=snippet&q=erykah&f=false

She gets naked in this video, about the killing of JF Kennedy!

So, I have been looking into this mountain and these two beautiful pictures have appeared, the Rosicrucian MONS PHILOSPHORUM from the book "Secret Symbols of the Rosicrucians from the 16th and 17th centuries", or "the innocent ABC for young students who practise daily in the School of the Holy Ghost in the light of nature and theology":

The second one is the Mountain of the Adepts. Alchemists' picture.

I have found that when summoning what seems to make it so easy for me is the fact that I recognize each summon as more or less a completely different entity from myself that I can feel and touch but even still that summon is infact still you not say a actual telepathic alien talking to you I think that's why my summons are so profoundly existant is because I recognize them as such with a strong belief that they truely do exist I have infact also found that my weaker will which breaks easily is much stronger cause despite it easily broken it comes back almost instantly and for that matter most everything about myself suggests that the reverse of what we normally think is strong is actually stronger in most cases other things seem to follow this same thought process that everything we think to be true is actually not true ;p

also I know someone who has delved into this for healing purposes and other things healthy diet, & 432hz music help with healing excersising also helps increase the amount of energy you can expend and do ever bigger things Try Yoga or martial arts among other things meditation and self hypnosis are worth looking into as are Binuaral beats(I haven't seen it work)memnonics(couldn't get any relevent info via google)Orgonite(very interesting) I can't remember all that he listed I have it saved in a file somewhere I'll see if I can find it well this isn't good I seem to have more or less lost all logs of all the info I had stored ><

http://www.wikihow.com/Perform-Self-Hypnosis - self hypnosis I found this to be VERY effective for me(atleast for calming down to that state of mind)

nuerolinguistic programming memnonics - couldn't find anything relevent to the actual application of techniques http://www.orgonite.info/what-is-orgonite.html - orgonite very good info on orgonite for 432hz look on youtube I highly recommend looking at Jendayi and BrainTColins they have more or less the best out of what is on youtube imo btw don't over work yourself with this stuff it's probably why I've been feeling so ill for like the past 5 days I'm probably going to spend the next few days compiling info that I've found while healing rather then any actual work with this stuff

http://www.lunarsight.com/freq.htm beats I find using this with SBaGen with the command SBaGen -i xx+0/yy where xx==frequency +0 == binuraural beat(seems to do nothing imo) and yy decible or volume(I reccomend 20-30) xx should be the frequency on the above list I found at first it had VERY PROFOUND effects but then started doing nothing(perhaps my imagination) link to SBaGen http://uazu.net/sbagen/ you won't here anything from hz 0-about 30-50+ regardless of decible so don't turn it up it still works without actual hearing of the sound ;p

I also highly reccomend getting i2p suite and using it I already have a server setup for it which I'll be linking to soon with backups of all the various site links etc

Funny, earlier on in my posts; I said if "they??" started talking about the Priory of Sion to run. One should be able to find a .pdf copy of: "The Sion Revelation" (read the "Templar Revelation" also).

I would highly suggest taking a deep and lengthy peek into "Gnostic Christianity', especially Mary Magdalene & the Sophia Wisdom Tradition.

for anyone who wants to delve into the area of opposite logic which is how I do things start doing everything with exact opposite method of what you think would work ie a messy disk helps me find things way easier then a clean good looking desk I tend to do the exact opposite of what traditional thought processes most people apply and find it is exceptionally fast and effecient and have all through my life found that I get thought of being very bad at the things I do when from my experience such as when I've been a plant waterer I not only got the plants wetter but also faster so I suggest looking into this as it may hold some ground I dunno may just be because that's how my brain works which also is bound in finding the Most efficeint method for producing the biggest difference with the least amount of energy and thought which almost everytime is the exact opposite of what your taught in school etc :s

Oh, you won't: sorry, I'm just using you as a dumb puppet to brainsturbate myself with some lulz. Oooops.

- Question: What's the cause of observed radioactive decay?

Good.

- Question: what's the cause of observed Chaos Magick effects?

Answers:

1) Coincidance. The effects of the supposedly Chaos Magick observed in this thread, such as this:

The perception state 'I perceive a live cat' accompanies the 'live-cat' state and the perception state 'I perceive a dead cat' accompanies the 'dead-cat' state. [..] It is then assumed that a perceiving being always finds his/her perception state to be in one of these two; accordingly, the cat is, in the perceived world, either alive or dead.[..] I wish to make clear that, as it stands, this is far from a resolution of the cat paradox. For there is nothing in the formalism of quantum mechanics that demands that a state of consciousness cannot involve the simultaneous perception of a live and a dead cat.

Translation: Nobody knows. Yet..

Yet that doesn't prevent physicist and chaos magicians from PLAYING with Reality, right?

Some of us in here are trying to rationally discuss the hypothesis that so called Chaos Magick might actually affect the chaotically indeterministic & stochastic nature of Reality via symbolic manipulation by True Will/Consciousness, as some theories on how magick MIGHT work describe.

If you or anyone else has a hypothesis about why this might or might not work, I'll be pleased to hear it, for I'm particularly interested in finding out what the fuck Reality is.

Thanks.

Thelema I'd like to direct you to the work of Frank Znidarsic...you can view his most recent scientific papers here

In his latest paper he covers gravitomagnetism, Bose-Einstein condensates, the mechanisms for allowing anti-gravity and cold fusion to occur, how to calculate Plancks constant with an equation that can be written on to your THUMB!!! simply by knowing the frequency of the emitted photon and the speed of the quantum transition!!! something academia previously thought was impossible!!!...which basically proposes an hypothesis that explains what is going on in the double split experiment using a classical framework...fantastic stuff, worth the read.

If reading scientific papers is not your thing but you have a couple of hours on your hands there is a good video series that describes what Znidarsic is trying to proove in his papers which anyone with a small bit of knowledge in physics can understand.

it's in 23 parts skidoo!

here's part 1...you can follow the rabbit hole from there once you've watched it and if you happen to know any physicists I encourage you to share his papers with them...

Coinicidently Thelemachaos you have mentioned Alchemy in your last few posts and I'm currently half way through "the book of Aquarius" a treatise on the philosophers stone.

One of the rosicrucian pictures you posted describes the process also outlined in this book and whilst reading this book I am now able to understand the symbolism in the picture you posted...it is also funny how Jodorwosky nearly shows us the hidden knowledge of alchemy in the Holy Mountain...but not quite.

You should read the book to find out 🙂

An interesting read if for nothing else for a concise history of Alchemy and some of it's riddles.

You can download it free at the link below and there is also an audio book available to download if you just want to listen to it whilst you drive around, surf the net etc incidently has anyone managed to get on the darknet yet and locate thor/Trons throne?

as stated in the source code of hivemind1101100

Find Thor/Tron's Thorn-Throne via TOR

EDIT coincidently Throne is an anagram of HORNET and is also an anagram of THERON

> Theron, originally Greek pronounced /ˈθɪərɒn/ theer-on and meaning "Hunter"

The Therons were also a group of fictional aliens in the DanDare comic Books 🙂 also for 12DNA Potnia Theron, a term first used once by Homer (Iliad 21. 470) and often used to describe female divinities associated with animals.

Also just for the lulz here are some subwords that can be derived from "throne" which have some relevance to what we have been discussing in this thread

Ore (alchemist gold)
Net (the interwebz)
other (Timothy Learys "others")
Tor (anonymous browsing)
Hero (V, The Invisibles, Neo, the incals)
Eon (2012 the end of an age) thorn (the rosey cross?)
Note/tone/tenor (432kz fibonacci sequence tuning?)
Roe (crowley, magdeline eggs? 🙂 )
Ten (the amount of magickal drawings requested in the first assignment)

Thank you! I'll have a look.

Personally, I'm particularly interested in the relationship between Consciousness, Matter, Information and Language as Computation, for I have the feeling that, actually, we might be living in a symbolic Universe.

As we were discussing some 40 pages ago,

It would only take some lateral thinking to consider the possibility that we might not be the 'producers' of Consciousness inside our 'brains' but actually 'machines' (= pieces of 'matter') that quite simple would CHANNEL the Omni-present-PanConsciousness in the ¿inphinite MultiVerses? into the illusion of 'Being'.

Incidentally, I was speaking of Niels Böhr and Albert Einstein before. Here they are:

Do you remember there's a link under 'Summer reads' at pm2012.html:

> Wikipedia wrote:

> Coincidentia oppositorum is a Latin phrase meaning coincidence of opposites. It is a neoplatonic term attributed to 15th century German polymath Nicholas of Cusa in his essay, De Docta Ignorantia (1440). Mircea Eliade, a 20th century historian of religion, used the term extensively in his essays about myth and ritual, describing the coincidentia oppositorum as "the mythical pattern". Psychiatrist Carl Jung, philosopher and Islamic Studies professor Henry Corbin as well as Jewish philosophers Gershom Scholem and Abraham Joshua Heschel also used the term. In alchemy, coincidentia oppositorum is a synonym for conjunction, the fifth process.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Coincidentia_oppositorum#Coincidentia_oppositorum

Would you like to see what was the Coat of Arms that Niels Böhr designed for his family, such an extremely scientific minded and profoundly rational person that he was?

Cuntraria Sunt Complementa = Opposites are complementary

☺

Another way to look at this would be to consider the Universe as a Quantum Computer that operates with SYMBOLS, letters and numbers. If you learn to program a computer, you can affect the 'reality' of what it produces. It might very well be the case that Language is a TOOL to self-manipulate your own Consciousness in other to induce trances, or Altered States of Consciousness that might actually have an effect towards 'Reality'. This seems to be what Alan Moore thinks of its own Art: a chance to change the Consciousness of his readers through symbolic programming.

Symbols, numbers and letters such as these, maybe?

> Well, who knows... might be.
>
> As chaos magicians say, approach this with a completeley agnostic and scientifical mind: just try things, experiment and observe the results. If results don't match your expectations, then try different things and anotate results. Cleanse, Rinse, Repeat.

The hypothesis of the Universe as a Quantum Computer, so...

Consciousness as a symbolic interface to this Quantum Computer?

Or Consciousness as the Quantum Computer itself?

Hence, it would not only be rational but extremely scientifical to think of Magicians as Programmers of Reality?

It's quite funny that it usually is the rule and not the exception, that Chaos Magicians have a strong interest in Science. Definitely Alan Moore and Grant Morrison are well aware of the science behind it all... Why that might be? Ha.

I haven't read it much yet, but I will, thanks!

Yes, I have got the feeling that Jodorowsky has coded MANY things and hidden knowledge in his movies... Maybe the time to unveil all secrets is really NOW?

If nothing else, his movies are a real Mindfuck indeed!

And if we consider the 'i' in 'via' as well, we also get...:

Not sure if you noticed Thelemachaos but the person who posted the Kenneth Anger interview http://jodorowsky.tribe.net/thread/f12ecd85-5338-450d-a807-8eb485ce5ac4

Was called NOIZ23

and coincidently here's the first quote you see when you visit his tribes profile

> "The planet has a kind of intelligence, it can actually open a channel of communication with an individual human being. The message that nature sends is, transform your language through a synergy between electronic culture and the psychedelic imagination, a synergy between dance and idea, a synergy between understanding and intuition, and dissolve the boundaries that your culture has sanctioned between you, to become part of this Gaian supermind."-T.McKenna

Ok I'm after counting the amount of magickal artworks that have been submitted to this thread and it's 11 pics...So it's important that everyone mail in their artwork to the PM2012 website so the next clues can be unlocked...mail your artwork to anon@projectmayhem2012.org

12DnAHexlix,

Personally, I don't mind posting loads of many different types of information into this topic coming from many different Reality Tunnels: provided it's related to the topic at hand for otherwise it's off-topic, right?

And PM2012 seems to be already plenty of many different lines of research, so, if you don't mind, I'd appreciate that in the future you let us know how do your posts relate to pieces of code or clues left inside PM2012 html code. Thanks.

Ok, so... Jodorowsky as the "Last Nautonnier" =

the Last Grand Master of the Priory of SION/ZION???

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jean_Cocteau

Sooo... according to the supposedly fake, supposedly just a HOAX, supposedly just a dupe, as 12dnahelix was warning us... , Jean Cocteau would have been the "Last Nautonnier", the last Grand Master of the Priory of SION/ZION, right?

So Cocteau painted this church!

Last message of the Initiate Jean Cocteau, Part I:
http://www.andrewgough.co.uk/lastmessage.html

Last message of the Initiate Jean Cocteau, Part II:
http://www.andrewgough.co.uk/lastmessage2.html

Well, so, if that was the case, is it rational to believe that there SHOULD be a link between Jean Cocteau and Alejandro Jodorowsky, right?

Well, are you ready to shit some bricks?

THERE IS a link between Jean Cocteau and Alejandro Jodorowsky!!

That's Aleister Crowley's in his Pharaoh pose.

http://twitter.com/#!/alejodorowsky/statuses/15544793582

Alejandro Jodorowsky's official account @Twitter, Jun 6, 2010

Translation:

> "For the magician-poet Aleister Crowley the most important advice is:
>
> Do as thou wilt."

So...

Jean Cocteau worked with Jodorowsky.

(i.e. at Jodorowsky's La Cravate, 1957. Cocteau wrote the intro for him.

Other crew
Jean Cocteau .... writer: introduction

http://www.imdb.com/title/tt0121731/fullcredits#cast )

Jodorowsky usually cites some of his words every now and then.

Ok. Ready?

And this is what Jean Cocteau painted in the bottoom of the Cross at Leicester Square church in London, UK:

> Without doubt, this rose engraving has over time become the consummate emblem of the order of the Rosy Cross, or the Rosicrucians, an essentially "INVISIBLE" order.
>
> "The Rosicrucian Order is a state of mind.
>
> One becomes a Rosicrucian: one does not join the Rosicrucians..." -Paul Foster Case
>
> Through the symbology of the DAT ROSA MEL APIBUS, the intersection of the spiritual and the physical worlds, access to the utopian state of mind afforded by the Rosy Cross manifestoes is gained.

http://www.esoteric.msu.edu/Eberly/CommentaryDR.htm

So the ROSICRUCIANS = THE INVISIBLES!?!

Hidden messages inside Jean Cocteau & Jodorowsky's La Cravate?

12DnAHexlix,

Well. I just found out that Jean Cocteau designed a wine bottle.

I suspect that you are going to love knowing for whom...

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ch%C3%A2teau_Mouton_Rothschild Hit Jackpot!

And, apparently, he was not the only evil artist!

> Baron Philippe de Rothschild came up with the idea of having each year's Château Mouton Rothschild label designed by a famous artist of the day. In 1946, this became a permanent and significant aspect of the Mouton image with labels created by some of the world's great painters and sculptors. The popularity of the label images results in auction prices for older and more collectible years being far out of sync with the other first growths, whose labels do not change year to year.

Pretty impressive list indeed!

Before you jump on the "see? I told you!?" bandwagon, let me offer you some idea. Maybe and just maybe Jean Cocteau work for the Rothschild allowed him to inject the Rothschild Family with some...

Thankyou for clarifying for us, Thelema Chaos; that you yourself are just a dupe - pushing an agenda from beyond you that perhaps you do not even have the full picture in regards to - unless you are the inner & outer creator / connection for this whole process.

Am I supposed to be impressed, do you feel good inside yourself - where are you coming from; and where are you going ????

Guest
Guest

What is your intent ???

You question my posts, with the fact that you do; you do not have a clue - nor have you experienced archon/archetypal communications or manifested craft that the United States Government, Davis Monthan AFB in Tucson, Arizona (2005) can verify.

Obviously the people who you are fronting from/for? are powerful enough to have the clearance.

Have them look into it.

I don't think you know who I am, or who you are yourself even.

What would impress me more is if these assholes with the power and the money got a clue, themselves.

Go do some research ...

did you read any of Nesta H. Webster's books ??

Have you read the Sion Revelation or the Templar Revelation ... ???

If you can claim that you have, or that you will; I will watch you mind porno holy mountain movie.

Let's see the 'Priory of Sion' who yes, may have left the last sacred clues embedded to begin to put the pieces back together once again - but were a front for the Synarchic Pact all along ...

right on the cusp as our very own extinction level event ...

let's see them save the world, where are the trillions of dollars to deal with the planet & life endangering fukushima event - or the oil volcano in the gulf.

... and on top of it all, you question my motive - my intent and my voice; did you read the pre-context outlined in my Rothschild thread or the other one - can you internally visualize a multi-universal cosmsophere that mirrors the base creational geometry of the seed of life - can you feel the resonance within yourself up the axis mundi & hyperspatially via fields within fields; with the core at the central axis of the entirety ...

Your tone & approach to me personally, right there speaks volumiously:

--PSI OP--

((... and that you do not have a clue, regarding the "TRUE AGENDA" of the "TRUE INVISIBLES" - I don't know who the PTB have been working with - if Aleister Crowley & Jack Parson's works laid the template for what we have going on today...)

I can smell a rat a mile away, because I am one; a Lightning Rat Shaman (in guise once and a while).

I am sorry it does not surprise me that Rome's Sovereign Military Order of Malta; Papal Knight Bankers were in League with Illuminati who were involved in the French Revolution & then further via the Priory of Sion as a vehicle to release the 'Dossier Secrets' underneath which was revealed - the Synarchic Pact ...

They have been financing this shit going back a long time ...

It is a tangled web, you should read that book I am reading today (Not In His Image http://www.metahistory.org) - I don't suspect that it truly is the intent of those behind Project Mayem ((for the tides truly be be turned, but just another level to the play of the game)) ...

Maybe you didn't know that there were more than one wild card, and I know of at least on Trump card in the deck.

Additionally, the playing deck being utilized by those orchestrating the agenda; I was shown a completely different deck back in 2005.

... but I don't trust you, and as much as you concurred regarding that one assessment; regarding a level of function that Anonymous serves is to prevent figureheads and be an "ego check".

I hope you gain some objectivity ...

((plantard redux))

Take the issue up with whoever is feeding you your inside scoop (or whether it is just through the magickal genious of your own resourcefulness), have them contact the House and ask about me ...

They will not have anything good to say, but they also will not be able to deny that everything in my Rothschild thread up on GLP is legit ...

I would like to see some respect and good nature here-in, not for my own self solely as an authority on anything except failing; but amongst us all ...

These are not juvenile issues, and you are not even the OP of the thread - this is a community effort.

... each one of us is at the center of all that is, the central pivot point from which the vectors radiate in your Chaos Magick Emblem.

When you know what the Alpha Centaurians have to say, and the combined voice between Alpha Centauri and Sirius.

Then I will be impressed.

To those whom have orchestrated the agenda up until this point, Checkmate was in 2004.

Don't be a dupe for these men:

You wanted 'Archon Mages' ...

Well you have got one, and more + higher.

May God (Logos) & Goddess (Sophia) Bless You & Assist You.

Good Day,
A Friend of those who designed & created the 144,000 faceted core

Which the pleroma emanates outwards from within and through (then ultimately back into)

Much of the writings of Albert Pike are extracted from the books of the French magician, Eliphas Levi, one of the greatest transcendentalists of modern times. Levi was an occultist, a metaphysician, a Platonic philosopher, who by the rituals of magic invoked even the spirit of Apollonius of Tyana, and yet Pike has inserted in his Morals and Dogma whole pages, and even chapters, practically verbatim.

Rosicrucian and Masonic Origins

by Manly P. Hall
1901-1990

http://www.phoenixmasonry.org/roscrucian_and_masonic_origins.htm

This selection is taken from an article written by the famous Rosicrucian Alphonse Constant (Eliphas Levi) and later published as part of his posthumous work, "The Great Secrets of the Occult Revealed".

"To arrive at the realization of this Secret it is necessary to KNOW what should be done, to WANT it, to DARE to do that which is right, and REMAIN SILENT when discretion calls for it."

http://www.rosicrucian-order.com/revista_gsecreto.htm

Without doubt, this rose engraving has over time become the consummate emblem of the order of the Rosy Cross, or the Rosicrucians, an essentially "INVISIBLE" order.

"The Rosicrucian Order is a state of mind.

One becomes a Rosicrucian: one does not join the Rosicrucians..." -Paul Foster Case

Through the symbology of the DAT ROSA MEL APIBUS, the intersection of the spiritual and the physical worlds, access to the utopian state of mind afforded by the Rosy Cross manifestoes is gained.

G.I. GURDJIEFF

Master… Eliphas Levi? Means anything in your life?

-The same way I consider Gurdjieff my spiritual father, I consider Eliphas Levy my grandfather.
He had the genius to revalorize magic.

> And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels, And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven. And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

Eliphas Levi => Jean Cocteau => Rosicrucians => The Invisibles? ☺

Gurdjieff => Sarmoung Brotherhood => Jodorowsky => Bee Makers?

Jean Cocteau => Last Grand Master of Priory of SION/ZION =>

Jodorowsky => EVIL or GOD?

Ohhhh well, oh well, oh well... what can I say about what I have just found!

A Bit of Magic.

MAR15 2011 COMMENT WRITTEN BY JOHN ROVNAK

Here's a short excerpt, one question actually, from Jean-Emmanuel Deluxe's interview with Alan Moore. The article is entitled, The Magical Adventures of an Extraordinary Gentlemen; and you'll be able to read the interview in its entirety in a few short weeks. Enjoy.
=====================

"Jean-Emmanuel Deluxe: Someone sharing the same spirituality and mysticism as you is Alejandro Jodorowsky, were you at all influenced by him?

Alan Moore: Jodorowsky was somebody who I had heard of when I was younger, but I'm ashamed to say that while cinema is an interest of mine, it is not one of my greatest.

In fact, I hadn't actually seen Jodorowsky's work until relatively recently. I'd heard of it and I respected it by reputation, but having discovered Jodorowsky, I think that he is wonderful.

I think that his film work is tremendous, and I even very much enjoyed an article that he did that was reprinted in Arthur Magazine that was talking about how he had gone to Mexico and had met Leonora Carrington, the former wife of Max Ernst and the last of the Surrealists. She is still alive, living in Mexico, and she's the last of the original Surrealists and she is probably one of the best as well. Jodorowsky wrote a wonderful piece about her.

Yes, I believe, it's safe to say we know each other's work. A friend of mine, who is a film director actually met Jodorowsky and had mentioned my name and Jodorowsky had given a thumbs-up sign.

To which I would give at least two thumbs up to Jodorowsky.

He's a remarkable artist and a remarkable human being."

nice find thelemachaos

now check out these lyrics

We're playing those mind games together,
Pushing barriers, planting seeds,
Playing the mind guerilla,
Chanting the Mantra peace on earth,
We all been playing mind games forever,
Some kinda druid dudes lifting the veil.
Doing the mind guerilla,
Some call it the search for the grail,
Love is the answer and you know that for sure,
Love is flower you got to let it, you got to let it grow,
So keep on playing those mind games together,
Faith in the future outta the now,
You just can't beat on those mind guerillas,
Absolute elsewhere in the stones of your mind,
Yeah we're playing those mind games forever,
Projecting our images in space and in time,
Yes is the answer and you know that for sure,
Yes is the surrender you got to let it, you got to let it go,
So keep on playing those mind games together,
Doing the ritual dance in the sun,
Millions of mind guerrillas,
Putting their soul power to the karmic wheel,
Keep on playing those mind games forever,
Raising the spirit of peace and love, not war,
(I want you to make love, not war, I know you've heard it before) and remember it was Lennon who convinced The Beatles manager Allen Klein to fund and produce Jodorowskys Holy Mountain!

From an Interview with Alejandro Jodorowsky here

> How do you remember John Lennon?
> He was a very nice person. And he gave me the money to make The Holy Mountain, through Allen Klein and Apple. He didn't want anyone to know about it, he did it anonymously Declare yourself a citizen of Nutopia, Nutopia has no land, no boundaries, no passports, only people. Nutopia has no laws other then cosmic. All people of Nutopia are ambassadors of the country.

> NUTOPIA

by the way had a dream with Jodorowsky in it last night, really have to try to work on my lucid dreaming skills as I can't remember any of it now, apart from it being really cool

>
> Moore: CGI makes me spit vitriol and bile and venom. When it comes to films, give me someone like [surrealist filmmaker] Jean Cocteau. When he wants to have somebody reaching into a mirror, he spends all of about five dollars on the special effect: He gets a tray, fills it with mercury and then turns the camera on its side. That is poetry. That is magic.
>
> I have a theory, which has not let me down so far, that there is an inverse relationship between imagination and money. Because the more money and technology that is available to [create] a work, the less imagination there will be in it. My favorite films are those that were made on a shoestring. And they weren’t adaptations of some other work, they were original pieces of cinema. All right, [Cocteau's] “La Belle Et La Bête” is an adaptation of “Beauty and the Beast” — but it was made into something very different. And I mean, John Waters, his early films, they’re terrific! Because he was making them with some friends of his from Baltimore, with whatever cheap film stock he could borrow or steal. George Romero, in “Dawn of the Dead,” “Day of the Dead,” all the rest of them, he ingeniously used the fact that he had almost no budget to his advantage — claustrophobic sets, everyone’s trapped in the cellar and the zombies are trying to dig their way in. Very inexpensive, incredibly powerful. That is where cinema really works for me.
> If you give me a typewriter and I’m having a good day, I can write a scene that will astonish its readers. That will perhaps make them laugh, perhaps make them cry — that will have some emotional clout to it. It doesn’t cost much to do that. But if you said, “Astonish the audience,” and you gave me a quarter of a million — well, my auntie could astonish an audience if she got that much money! Real art and the things that actually change our culture tend to happen on the margins. They don’t happen in the middle of a big marquee

I've remembered this image was in my Dream last night with Jodoworsky trying to explain to me what it meant (shame I can't fking remember LoL)...anyway a little more digging on the image of the Archangel Michael, I find this

> According to esoteric writer Rudolf Steiner: "in 1879, in November, a momentous event took place, a battle of the Powers of Darkness against the Powers of Light, ending in the image of Michael overcoming the Dragon".[49]

Rudolf Steiner was a very interesting man indeed and was an influence on the artist Joeseph Beuys who has been discussed earlier in this thread. Steiner was a philosopher, social reformer, architect and esotericist. Even today Steiner has a lot to teach us. Particularly his idea's of anthroposophical banking and biodynamic farming. Infact in 1974 The GLS Bank (full name GLS Gemeinschaftsbank eG) was founded as an anthroposophical bank concerned with the social and environmental impacts of its investments and loans (maybe ethical banking like this maybe something Anonymous can push for?) GLS Bank wiki GLS Bank website

One thing I like in particular of Steiners philosophical/spiritual outlook is this > Steiner advocated a form of ethical individualism, to which he later brought a more explicitly spiritual component. He based his epistemology on Johann Wolfgang Goethe's world view, in which “Thinking … is no more and no less an organ of perception than the eye or ear. Just as the eye perceives colours and the ear sounds, so thinking perceives ideas.”[8] A consistent thread that runs from his earliest philosophical phase through his later spiritual orientation is the goal of demonstrating that there are no essential limits to human knowledge

> ## Castaneda Meets Jodorowsky
>
> I was in Mexico in a restaurant, where they serve delicious fillets and you can drink excellent wine. I was in the company of a Mexican actress who recognized a friend of hers at a table with a man. When Castaneda--the man was nobody else than him--heard who I was, he sent his friend to our table; the woman asked if I would like to meet him. "Of course," I answered, "I am a great fan of his!" The woman said that he would come to our table, but vice versa, I offered to go myself. . . . .
>
> I proposed to Castaneda that we go to his hotel, but he preferred to go to mine. We seemed two orientals: we tried to surpass each other in courtesies. He insisted on putting my likings before his and I, obviously, did the same. . . . .
>
> In Mexico it is possible to determine the social class to which a man belongs by his simple physical features. Castaneda seems a waiter. . . . . But as he speaks, he transforms himself into a king; behind every one of his words we can perceive a very vast culture. . . . .
>
> More than a wise man, I can say he is a nice man. We became friends in an instant. He dressed with simplicity and was just at the end of a good fillet with Beaujolais for a drink. . . . . He did not resemble don Juan, but the Castaneda of his books: I found the same tune, the same voice, so to speak. . . . .
>
> My impression is that his books have a basis of truthful experience, starting from which he elaborates and introduces concepts extrapolated from worldwide esoteric literature. Inside his books you can find Zen, the Upanishads, Tarot, dream theory. . . . . One thing is for sure: he really scours all Mexico for his researches...
>
> I believe this character [don Juan] to be a genial invention of Castaneda who, surely, met with several Yaqui sorcerers. . . . .
> In the first place, he called to inform me that he was to be early by five minutes to our appointment. I was touched by such a delicacy. Then, once he arrived, I said to him, "I don't know if you're a fool, a genius, a fake, or if you're saying the truth." He assured me that he wrote nothing else than the truth, and started to tell me an incredible story about how don Juan, with simply a stroke on his shoulders, catapulted > him 25 miles. . . . . Because he was distracted by a woman passing by ... he also told me of the sexual life of don Juan, who was capable of ejaculating fifteen times in succession. On the other hand, it seems to me that Castaneda himself likes women very much. He asked me if we could do a movie together. Hollywood had offered him a lot of money, but he didn't like that don Juan would be Anthony Quinn. . . . . Suddenly, he was hit by a case of diarrhea, with his stomach aching strongly, a thing, he said to me, that never happened to him before. I myself was complaining of sharp pains to the liver and right leg. It was strange that all this started at the moment we were beginning to talk of a possible common project. . . the pain was such as to compel ourselves to drag along the floor. I sent for a taxi and accompanied him to his hotel. Then, I went to Pachita, for an operation. I insisted that Castaneda come himself to such an extraordinary woman, but he didn't. I had to stay three days in bed. Once recovered, I phoned for him at the hotel, but he was already gone. I never saw him again, life separated us. A warrior leaves no trace. . . . .He told me these don Juan stories with such an intensity. . . . . I am accustomed to theatricals, to actors, and it seemed to me that he was not a liar. A fool and a genius at the same time? . . . . His contribution has been immense: he has developed a spring of alternate knowledge, the South American source. He has revived the idea of the spiritual warrior ... he rediscovered for our times the work on lucid dreaming ... his books reveal many forgotten things. So, truth or lie, it doesn't matter. If it is a hoax, it's a sacred hoax. . . . .

> By chance, some time after reading Jodorowsky's book, I had the opportunity to speak with Jodorowsky himself about his interest in Castaneda's work. I told him that it seemed to me that the work of Carlos had influenced greatly his movies. He agreed, but added that there was no doubt that at the same degree his movies (Jodorowsky's) influenced Castaneda in writing his books. He then recalled his meeting with Castaneda, in terms very similar to those reported above.

this thread is really going far beyond anything reasonable, i read every page up to around 35, skipped ad back to the last few. Man a reasonable person can hardly accept and try magick (as i did) but here, we are going too far. It appears to be "controlled" by several forum users, always the same few (could even be the same person with different accounts), that are using PM2012 to spread some precise information (could even be the creator of PM2012 themselves)(with this, i dont assume this thread should be deleted, or such information is good or bad, and i will still keep on eye on it in the future. i just wanted to share my point of view)

You don't see anything weird in trying to explain the causes behind radioactive decay and its possible relationship with chaos magick? Fair enough: some of us do. http://www.whatis-theplan.org/t1676p765-project-mayhem-2012#162951

Still your brain feels UNABLE to grasp anything remotely interesting and maybe even potentially REVOLUTIONARY going on in this thread?

Fair enough, you don't need to be interested in magick to be interested in this thread.

In that case, skip to the extremely *rational and sensible ideas that have been coming out of PM2012 as well: http://projectmayhem2012.org/00README-001.txt

Still don't see anything interesting in that? Fair enough: you are invited to just leave, fot it is simply STUPID to lose your time with stupidities like this and for nobody is forcing anybody to read this thread.

Otherwise, there's a sure way to tell if someone belongs to the Anonymous spirit:

If you try to CONTROL other peoples ideas (-as Telemachos pathetically tried to do and miserably failed at it (due to Chaos Magick, or not, of course... )-, then you simply don't belong to the Anonymous spirit.

My take (but I'm not a witch, so your mileage may vary): I think you're messing around with things you don't understand. And the real powers and principalities are really not to be lightly dealt with. Or mocked.

As for whether or not this belongs on this site (WITP): I don't really care. I've ignored it up until now (although I may more actively campaign against it in the future). But this serves as a warning: You're messing around with things you don't really understand; and yes, you're doin' it wrong.

More MagicK TricKs! ! When Alan Moore or Grant Morrison speak about sigils, they are talking about... Austin Osman Spare, the inventor of sigils!

Alan Moore on Austin Osman Spare, considering him the Greatest British Magician in XX Century:

Lame.

Do you really think you're just dealing with the "human" element?

Wow,wow,wow The force? disruption in? I thought you said you weren't a witch?...what is this force of which you speak?

Please share your thoughts on what conciousness/magick/reality is as it may shed light on the clues that are contained in PM2012.

All peoples versions of reality are as valid as anyone elses if Anonymous as an idea does not represent this then truely it may be lost as an idea as if it closes itself to alternate interpretations it may be heading towards dogma.

As far as I am concerned people here are just discussing various thinkers/philosphers/artists/writers/magicians/scientists/musicians/mathematicians/theologians/surrealists who like it or not have had a profound effect on humanities history.

These "great ideas" are referenced in PM2012 as clues to unlock more pages of this Anonymous website.

No one is being asked to do anything against their consciousness here.

I am not sure what you have read of this thread ravenpaige but if you have not read it all may I suggest Lurking Moar? Obviously with the topics being discussed there is some moonbattery if you will but to a large degree Dox have been presented to hypothesize as to what is being presented on the PM 2012 site. Any "magick" acts that have been suggested are presented as "art" and I would imagine should be taken in such a spirit.

I have recommended veraciously reading before delving into any suggested "magick" practices but that choice lies with the individual and their own conscience.

Until I am otherwise convinced this remains an Anonymous Reality Hacking Game with one very good idea contained within it's source code...

> Imagine we purchase a USB drive.
> Imagine we take it to our workplaces.
> Imagine we pretend we have to work late hours.
> Imagine we accumulate all sort of evidences about illegal deeds.
> Imagine Conscentious insiders worldwide begin to expose all lies.
> Imagine we code an extremely simple interface so that anyone can do it.

>
> Imagine that thanks to one of YOUR Creations, > this "Dangerous Idea" goes Viral.
>
> Imagine...

If for nothing else to unlock this idea was worth some pages on an internet forum and I hope the idea goes viral.

As for everything else contained within the source code of PM2012 can any one of us say that the ideas and concepts of these influential figures have not in someway contributed to the fact that Anonymous exists today? for afterall is Anonymous not a counterculture idea and are these not the granfathers of counterculture.

I for one think we may owe a debt of gratitude to these men and women who have shone a light for us and reminded us that it is ok to think differently...and no I don't work for Apple

No, I'm not a witch, but I've learned enough from "witchy" sources over the year to know what is good, and what is evil.

Will you quit trying to derail and wave the Telemachos banner everywhere you go, if you want to discuss the unlocking of the clues in the code then go ahead, if you want to offer your opinion on the interpretation of the clues then fine.

What's not fine is constantly going all over the place spamming links to tele's old threads, trying to argue this thread into something it's not, if you want to start a thread in the /b/atcave on the esoteric aspects you feel it conveys feel free, but stop trying to derail this research thread. You know this thread existed for well over a month before tele even knew about it and got upset because he tried what you are doing and argued how it conflicted with his own agenda? Nobody had any problems with this project till then, nor should they now.

Again "if you want to start a thread in the /b/atcave on the esoteric aspects you feel it conveys feel free"

Well for one it's not "my thread" ebonheart is the OP...and it has become a community thread at this stage but I will take issue with your "skimming"

So I pressume you haven't looked at the source code of the PM2012 either or skimmed through it at best? in which case all you maybe have is a superficial understanding of what has been discussed despite your previous conversations with "witchy" people.

To pressume that no-one else posting have approached the information contained within this thread without their own life experiences appears to me as arrogance but I do agree you with on this

What is magic? How about the intention to change things? That's fine. But intention wars against several forces:
From Melville: was the attendant or page of Queequeg, while busy at the mat. As I kept passing and repassing the filling or woof of marline between the long yarns of the warp, using my own hand for the shuttle, and as Queequeg, standing sideways, ever and anon slid his heavy oaken sword between the threads, and idly looking off upon the water, carelessly and unthinkingly drove home every yarn; I say so strange a dreaminess did there then reign all over the ship and all over the sea, only broken by the intermitting dull sound of the sword, that it seemed as if this were the Loom of Time, and I myself were a shuttle mechanically weaving and weaving away at the Fates. There lay the fixed threads of the warp subject to but one single, ever returning, unchanging vibration, and that vibration merely enough to admit of the crosswise interblending of other threads with its own. This warp seemed necessity; and here, thought I, with my own hand I ply my own shuttle and weave my own destiny into these unalterable threads. Meantime, Queequeg's impulsive, indifferent sword, sometimes hitting the woof slantingly, or crookedly, or strongly, or weakly, as the case might be; and by this difference in the concluding blow producing a corresponding contrast in the final aspect of the completed fabric; this savage's sword, thought I, which thus finally shapes and fashions both warp and woof; this easy, indifferent sword must be chance- aye, chance, free will, and necessity- wise incompatible- all interweavingly working together. The straight warp of necessity, not to be swerved from its ultimate course- its every alternating vibration, indeed, only tending to that; free will still free to ply her shuttle between given threads; and chance, though restrained in its play within the right lines of necessity, and sideways in its motions directed by free will, though thus prescribed to by both, chance by turns rules either, and has the last featuring blow at events.

What do we control, really? What controls us?

Well, when you fuck with the principalities, you really don't know what to expect. You have to call the four quarters (the archangels) for protection. This is stuff you really don't want to mess with unless you know what you're doing.

Yes, I agree. However, messing with this Chaos Magic is very different from discussing it.

Perhaps others might disagree, but this topic is what it is: a discussion. Whether or not an individual feels competent enough to try any of this is another matter resulting from personal decisions. However, there are those of us who are simply here to discuss the philosophical impacts this topic has and observe the deeper connections it appears to unearth. That being said, this topic should not be encouraging people to try Chaos Magic without first understanding it.

Many people might be foolish enough to dabble in Chaos Magic without caring to understand its implications, but the discussion of the topic itself (no matter how strange or unlikely some individuals might feel it is) can not be constituted as a crime or breaking the rules of these forums.

If you are concerned, then I would suggest explaining what dangers this Chaos Magic possesses. I watched a documentary on Chaos Magic last week (quite by accident, as I found it while channel surfing), and the followers all explained that it was dangerous to attempt alone without proper knowledge and experience.

So, I would encourage members to refrain from trying to summon anything or dabble in these mystics without fully comprehending them. To try Chaos Magic haphazardly simply because one feels cocky enough to expect it to satisfy their cynical disposition towards magic (perhaps to prove its nonexistence to themselves) is foolish. People who attempt to do so will usually be punished for their insolent and ignorant tampering by being shown a very real experience that will frighten them.

Fools rush in where angels fear to tread, and not because Chaos Magic should be feared. But only because, like trying to drive an automobile or fly a plane without being properly trained, we may be given the tools but some things in life require the technique to be taught. Humans might have a natural ability to perform Chaos Magic, but that does not mean that they should take the task lightly.

I'd like to add, however, that Chaos Magic can not be confused with following a peaceful spiritual path with the help of kind entities. Chaos Magic involves calling upon entities to embody their particular skills or powers to achieve a goal (ex: summoning an entity of creativity to embody their creative powers).

A peaceful spiritual path involves calling upon good and admirable entities to offer you guidance in using your own skills. This could involve asking an angel of hope to indirectly suggest a way to inspire hope in others during a hard time. This is also prevalent in the act of praying.

Being able to observe the meaningful coincidences is not Chaos Magic. That is an ability that we all can have to observe the flow of our lives from an outside perspective and see the deeper meaning in it. Chaos Magic involves far more control over the forces instead of just understanding the natural flow of the forces.

Do not mistake the two!

as I said way back on page 9 of this thread in answer to Mr Razz asking if anyone had tried any chaos magick yet

> I have had some experience with sigil magick and have been interested in hermetic lore and chaos magick for many years although have not yet declared myself a magician LoL...There is no fast route to this, like anything else in life to get good nay even to get ANY results you have to be 100% involved in it's practice and research I believe, and sadly I haven't had the time or commitment to really involve myself in any work...dabbling isn't necessarily "good Practice" especially considering the internal/exterenal forces involved. Remember part of chaos magick is the surrendering of ones ego, this should not be approached in a half hearted manner WHATSOEVER.
>
> I think the above guide by Grant Morrison is a nice quick introduction to some of the practices of chaos magick but as he says (and many other chaos magicians aswell) read veraciously first, get to know the history, some of the practices, the different schools, find what appeals to you and work with that first. This is certainly not something that fantastic results can be achieved overnight, it is a work of weeks, months, years and dare I say it even a lifetime. As the old adage goes learn to walk before you run Mr. Razz. Spend time expanding your understanding and knowledge, be safe, have fun but don't try to force results. Personally I am really looking forward to the publication of Alan Moores grimoires, can't wait to get my hands on a copy of that.
>
> For a fun read Mr Razz and as way of an introduction to all sorts of belief systems you can't go far wrong with Robert Anton Wilsons work, he's very funny, has some mad tales, great insight, and as a place to start in his books you'll find fantastic reference material in the bibliographies. I would recomend starting with the Cosmic trigger Trilogy.

You want magic? First, know yourself. Second, know the world, the quirky, illogical world.
Next, know what you want. Not the transient, "I want an x-box" want. Know the real end that you want. The world that you want. Focus on that.

Then, you want change? Do it! Not just temporary change. Real change. From the heart. Your heart. Do it!

We are the one's we've been waiting for.

BE the change you want to see in the world.

Let me rephrase that and see what happens:

Hmm. Makes so much sense as well, right?

No, actually, you don't. Or you wouldn't be doing what you're doing. Sorry, but there's a difference between control and self-actualization. There's a difference between self determination and whatever the hell it is that you're proposing. There's a difference between propaganda and knowledge. Everyone has their agenda, but the best of us subserve our agenda to the good of the collective. That's the difference.

Ok I have gathered all the artwork contained in this thread (well at least ten of them I may have missed one or two that were just linked) and I've emailed them to PM2012 just incase all of them were not emailed. Here's the collection for all to see...Well done Anons!

One thing I did notice that may need to be corrected is that Galatorgs artwork contains some blue and the only colours that were meant to be used were Red, White, Black and Yellow...maybe you can correct this galatorg and resubmit via email to anon@projectmayhem2012.org

Here's hoping new pages will be unlocked!

"There are worse dangers in this intermediate zone of experience. For the planes to which the sadhak has now opened his consciousness, - not as before getting glimpses of them and some influences, but directly, receiving their full impact, - send a host of ideas, impulses, suggestions, formations of all kinds, often the most opposite to each other, inconsistent or incompatible, but presented in such a way as to slur over their insufficiencies and differences, with great force, plausibility and wealth of argument or a convincing sense of certitude. Overpowered by this sense of certitude, vividness, appearance of profusion and richness, the mind of the sadhak enters into a great confusion which it takes for some larger organisation and order; or else it whirls about in incessant shiftings and changes which it takes for a rapid progress but which lead nowhere. Or there is the opposite danger that he may become the instrument of some apparently brilliant but ignorant formation; for these intermediate planes are full of little Gods or strong Daityas or smaller beings who want to create, to materialise something or to enforce a mental and vital formation in the earth life and are eager to use or influence or even possess the thought and will of the sadhak and make him their instrument for the purpose. This is quite apart from the well-known danger of actually hostile beings whose sole purpose is to create confusion, falsehood, corruption of the sadhana and disastrous unspiritual error. Anyone allowing himself to be taken hold of by one of these beings, who often take a divine Name, will lose his way in the yoga. On the other hand, it is quite possible that the sadhak may be met at his entrance into this zone by a Power of the Divine which helps and leads him till he is ready for greater things; but still that itself is no surety against the errors and stumblings of this zone; for nothing is easier than for the powers of these zones or hostile powers to imitate the guiding Voice or Image and deceive and mislead the sadhak or for himself to attribute the creations and formations of his own mind, vital or ego to the Divine" Sri Aurobindo, in the same way as the criticism of Deux ex MCKENNA!!!

While some of you might not agree with what people on this topic are saying, calling people anything like "moonbats" or "conspiracy nuts" is simply a sad way of trying to convince yourselves that you've no need to understand someone else's passionate POV beyond a superficial level. Whether out of fear or out of arrogance, insulting them is only a lame attempt at preserving your own perspective in order to defy the possibility of having to re-assess your own understanding of the world.

People who come on here to mock others for trying to discuss topics that seem unconventional to others are the same people who don't really care about learning. They place a handicap upon themselves when they limit their will to learn about things beyond their current comprehension level and perceived limitations of reality.

I'm not saying that this topic is right or wrong. It is what it is, and what it is is an alternative view of the world. For those of you who are condemning or mocking these people for trying to tackle the world's mysteries from a different angle, go ahead. But you're far more pathetic in your closed-minded outlook on life than those who choose to learn something from every possibility. Who is to say what is strange or unlikely in our world, when we know that our world is one of infinite possibilities?

In the end, mankind doesn't evolve by staying with one understanding or belief of the world, but rather through the introduction of new and often radical ideas that introduce us to new perspectives and, therefore, new avenues of discovery.

So, do yourselves a favor. Try to look at where they're coming from and view the information provided here not as means of conversion but rather as an opportunity for a new avenue of learning. Set aside what you know about reality, because the only thing you could honestly admit to knowing is that you really know fuck-all about it. Start to learn how to be both receptive and analytical of new information.

Because condemning an alternative perspective based upon the grounds that it doesn't fit into your current understanding of reality is a fallacy that will only breed stagnancy and limit your ability to expand your understanding of all possibilities.

Aeon of Horus
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Aeon_(Thelema)#Aeon_of_Horus

All that is fine and dandy, the thing is; in ThelemaChaos own words - the intent (his?? / project mayhem??) is towards world conquest ...

Not correction to the unfoldment of timelines within the spatial field - or co-evolution with the planetary intelligence.

At least ""Not In His Image"" has clarified some things, and confused me in other ways even more - my Rothschild thread on GLP has a lot of context regarding my attempt to understand Jesus Christ, Melchizedek, etc.

I would highly suggest reading the book either way ...

POST-CORRECTION WRITINGS
http://www.metahistory.org/GAIA%20SOPHIA/mythos/PostCorrection.php

But even so, like I tried to point out; the Priory of Sion (according to the Sion Revelation) was nothing more than a front for the Synarchic Pact.

Not much comes up on google if you query it though.

Query: Synarchic Pact
http://www.google.com/#sclient=psy&hl=en&site=&source=hp&q=synarchic+pact

Love ???

I also need the $$$ that Rothschild needs to give up, so 'Foundation for Omni-Dimensional Science & Spirituality' can be created & the Solar (Uni) World Chronicles can be produced.

Thanks for the commentary,
regards,

I agree.

Yet, every opinion is also a perspective that may be an alternative from our own. In the end, it's up to people to draw their own conclusions using the evidence they have chosen to accept.

I disagree that Chaos Magick can make anyone do anything simply through suggestion (let alone make someone believe less of an individual). People are in control of their own thoughts and, in the end, CHOOSE to do or believe something. While other people might try to argue in support of a particular view in an effort to sway others, it's up to each individual to decide if they want to accept those views or not. So, an argument saying that Chaos Magick made anyone think r3x is an "asswipe" doesn't float. People chose to think that way about him.

Also, for the most part, for others to think that way, they usually require the accused to have done or said something that would validate the accusations made against them. It is because people felt that those accusations were somehow validated through r3x's behavior that many were compelled to believe them.

Or, at least, that's how I see it.

you guys should listen to Miguel Ruiz - The Voice of Knowledge what Project Mayhem is trying to teach is not Chaos Magick it's who we truely are we are perfect in every possible way what we think of others is what we think of them but that doesn't mean they think they are what you think they are we need to stop creating these lies of what we believe other humans are god if there is one is perfect as is everything around us yet somehow we feel we are not? why because we believe we are not that is the root cause of all our problems the belief that there is even a problem in the first place we have lost our innocence because we believe it to be so etc etc ;p

So is that a Yeah, head on out dufus; or a stay because this process has only just begun and started ?

Because I have limited time on a computer, perhaps 2 if I am lucky 3 hours in a day.

I am sure you all can figure things out without me ???

Archons ? Archetypal Intelligences ? Extra / Interdimensional Terrestrials ?

Demons ?

The Ancient "Gnostics" warned against their "mischief & misdirection"; wish I would have known that 16 years ago.

Also, the Earth Based Partnership Socieities, Shamanism & Initiation in the Mysteries of Plant Intelligence & Living Light far preceded the cult of Osiris, Isis & Horus.

Here are direct links to some of my "Crazy Writings'.

To Thelema Chaos, ((TELEMACHOS??? 😟 )) the Rosicrucian Order is not 'The Invisibles'; they may be part of the Inner Sanctum - and predate FreeMasonry ...

But, you need to look into Martinism.

Query: Martinism
http://www.google.com/#sclient=psy&hl=en&site=&source=hp&q=martinism

The Invisibles are the 'Powers & Principalities' (Archon / Archetypal Intelligences / Extra~Interdimensional Intelligences?), although some might say it is the Great White Brotherhood or some b.s. like that ...

They are supposedly "Deceivers" or perhaps there are ones that are better and ones that are worse (Angels & Demons?).

I also have writings from Alpha Centaurian, Sirian & combined Alpha Centaurian Angles + a few others; one on the Universal Logos, etc.

I do not know about the Aeon of Horus ...

I think we need to go back to the root ...

Logos = Christos + Sophia (Ein Soph/Aeon Sophia)

But according to John Lash, Christianity has taken us in the wrong direction over the past 2,000 years - actually the 'Abrahamic Tradition' (Judaism, Christian & Islam)

Which should be obvious to each of us.

His argument is one that I have never heard before related to the cult of 'Zadok' (Melchizedek), so if you are a 'Truth Seeker'; look into it - even the Glossary has some important details in the greek word descriptions.

The movie Avatar with the Na'Vi; the ancients upon our world were more oriented in this sort of a manner - able to literally tune into the planetary wisdom (sophia) - through their internal 'Nous'.

I tried to mention here-in Alchemical Stellar Gnosticism, which is actually Ancient-Future Earth Star Wisdom (towards the creation of a "Neo-Civilization") ...

The Solar (Uni) World Chronicles

Nobody cared up on GLP ...

So if there is no use for any of this material here-in, then this is not the place for me.

The Pleroma is supposedly at the level of the Galactic Core, then there is supposedly the 'Originator'; I would equate the Originator as existing at the central axis of omni-dimensional multi-universal cosmosphere.

The Aeon's supposedly emanate out of the Galactic Core ...

Until anyone can prove to me otherwise, I base my model as mirroring the base creational geometry of the seed of life - the 'Originator' being the 144,000 faceted core out of which the entirety emanates & those who designed / programmed the entirety.

Although Lash says the number 7 is the number of the Archons as opposed to the Aeons ...

So who out there truly has knowledge and can help me to understand these things ???

Let's see one of you people tell me that this is off the subject at hand.

Have a good eve

Oh c'mon! As a highly educated person in MANY forms of Gnosticism, gonna just call bullshit on this, no, just NO!

I'm sure there are some Alex Jones videos or David Icke books that need your attention.

None of that helps with this thread, or using the REAL Gnostic clues embedded in some of the messaging to unlock anything to do with that site, GLP really?

More then welcome to stay but you need to get yourself grounded buddy.

/end rant, maybe...

Alright. This topic is getting VERY large and it has too many images, which is slowing down my computer's abilities to use the split topic function to remove trolls.

I'm locking this topic and I'm starting PART 2 of the discussion.
